CHATHAM, May 26.—The celebration here today, owing to a serious accident which occurred by the breaking down of the grand stand and a number of people being injured, was only a partial success. About four o'clock the grand stand, on which were seated about 400 persons, fell with a crash, and the occupants of the seats precipitated to the ground. The excitement and confusion was intense.

A quantity of jewellery, several valuable watches, and considerable money was lost by the affair. No very serious results are anticipated, and the injured parties are under proper treatment and doing well. This is the first accident of any moment which has ever marred the pleasure of the many Chatham celebrations, and the public have cause to be thankful that it did not result more seriously.

BITTER AND SWEET.—The juices of the bitter and sweet fruits are compounded together making Golden Fruit Bitters in an agreeable form the best tonic known.

A BAD CASE OF STARVATION.—To starve the lungs by a lack of vital food contained in pure air. If the lungs are obstructed by colds, remove the accumulated phlegm with the safe and pleasant throat and lung remedy, Hagyard's Yellow Oil.

IT IS NATURAL.—It is natural for some people to be bilious, being often a result of peculiar bilious temperment, which with high living too greecy food, indigestion from inactive liver, is the frequent cause. The remedy above all others, is Burdock Blood Bitters, It is highly curative for all biliary complaints, and far better than physic for inactive conditions of the bowels.

Another Victory.

A Startling important discovery was made when, after long and patient experiments, the combination of Nerviline was reached. A grand victory indeed, for the suffering have an ever ready, prompt, efficient, and cheap remedy at hand. Do you know that for 10 cents you can buy a trial bottle of Polson's Nerviline and test its great power over pain of every description? Polson's Nerviline cures chills, pain in the stomach, side and back, rheumatism; in fact all pain. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold. A few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10c., 50c. and $1 00. If your lungs are sore, chest or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. D. Tully.

THE FATE OF GENERAL GORDON.

THE last issue of the Weekly Times (London, Eng.,) which has reached us, gives numerous quotations from two Blue Books containing the telegrams sent to and received from Sir Evelyn Baring and General Gordon, from the beginning of the year up to the end of April, which have been recently laid before the Imperial House of Commons. The Times itself makes it the occasion of inditing perhaps the most powerfully critical editorial that it has yet issued. It says:—

"Her Majesty's Ministers, from some curious incapacity, seem to be unable to understand the importance which is everywhere but among a few fanatical partisans attached to the fate of General Gordon."

"For one who feels strongly about the lot of the unenfranchised labourer, scores are anxious as to the fate of a soldier who has gone forth single-handed."

"The theory of the virtual abandonment of General Gordon is up to this stage a story of national humiliation."

The telegrams themselves are exceedingly interesting. The following from Gordon to Sir E. Baring is very characteristic of the gallant Major-General:—

"KHARTOUM, April 8, 1884.

"I have telegraphed to Baker to make an appeal to British and American millionaires to give me £300,000 to engage 3,000 Turkish troops from the Sultan, and send them here. This would settle the Soudan and Mahdi forever; for my part I think you will agree with me.

"I do not see the fun of being caught here to walk about the streets as a Dervisch, with sandalled feet; not that (D. V.) I will ever be taken alive. It would be the climax of meanness after I had borrowed money from the people here, and called on them to sell their grain at a low price, &c., to go and abandon them without using every effort to relieve them, whether those efforts are diplomatically correct or not; and I feel sure, whatever you may feel diplomatically, I have your support—and that of every man professing himself a gentleman—in private.

"Nothing could be more meagre than your telegram, 'Osman Digma's followers have been dispersed.' Surely something more than this was required by me."

It seems, however, that the Government, spurred on by the Conservative Opposition, and by public opinion, are at last awaking to some activity. There are rumours of an important naval expedition to start from Cairo to Assouan; telegraphic communication has been restored beyond Dongola; a force under General Wolseley is to start for Berber in the autumn; and Lieut.-General Adye is to command the Khartoum expedition.

REVIEWS.

MANUAL FOR FURNITURE MEN.—The Industrial Publication Co. of 294 Broadway N. Y. has published a handy little volume of "Hints and Practical Information for Cabinet Makers, Upholsterers and Furniture Men Generally." Many of the miscellaneous receipts (carefully indexed) will be found useful not only to workers in wood, but also in the household when minor repairs and renovations are required.

The Largest Gun in America.

There was successfully cast, last week, at the South Boston Iron Works, in fulfilment of a contract with the United States government, the largest gun ever constructed in this country. When fully completed it will be about thirty feet in length, of twelve-inch rifle bore, and will weigh 212,000 pounds. The cost of the gun will be $28,000, or about one half the sum a steel gun would have cost. It is calculated to be able to throw a projectile a distance of six miles.

Was it Expensive or Not?

A Nashville man paid $800 for kissing a school-teacher. Well, it sounds high, brethren, $800, but if she was the right kind of a school-ma'am, with pink cheeks and a white apron, not so tall by a head and shoulders as the biggest boy in school, with brown eyes undecided whether to be roguish or serious, a mouth made for smiles, and her chin fastened on with dimples, just a ripple in her hair, a—a—er—a—and the Nashville man was deliberate about it and enjoyed it,—a—a-r—a—we're growing old now, but if things were about as above suggested, we don't know but the Nashville jury let him have it just a little under the ruling quotation. He ought to be willing to pay a thousand for it, anyhow.—B. W. Burdette,

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY

THE CELEBRATION OF THE ANNIVERSARY ON SATURDAY.

The Base Ball Match in the Morning—Athletic Sports in the Afternoon—Concert and Fireworks in the Evening.

The position of affairs in Peterborough regarding the celebration of the sixty-fifth anniversary of the birth of Her Majesty Queen Victoria is generally understood. In accordance with a petition presented to him, the Mayor proclaimed Monday, May 26th, a holiday, instead of the 24th, but the arrangements for the celebration on Saturday were so far advanced that those who had it in charge felt that they could not change the date. Accordingly, although the places of business were open, Saturday was in a large measure observed as a popular holiday. It might not be out of place to mention that the Princess Victoria became Queen of England on June 20th, 1837, and will therefore have ruled the Empire for forty-seven years on the 20th of next month.

The weather on Saturday was cool and cloudy. No rain fell during the day, and the weather was, therefore, very favourable for the celebration. There was a very large number of people in town in the afternoon.

THE FORENOON AMUSEMENTS.

In the forenoon a base ball match, quoit match and tug-of-war took place on the cricket ground between employees of the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company, and the Auburn Woollen Company. The Fire Brigade Band was present and enlivened the occasion with music.

The base ball match was a very interesting event. A number of the players were new to the game, but they played very well. The representatives of Auburn did good work, both with the bat and in the field, but they were defeated by the representatives of the foundry. The agreement was to play nine innings for each team, but the foundry men won the match by eight runs and an innings. Mr. W. Ruskins and Mr. H. Evans acted as umpires, and the scorers were Messrs. W. Somerville and D. Reeves. The following was the score:—

| Auburn. | | The Foundry. | |
|---|---|---|---|
| G. Britton, p | 2 | W. Breakenridge, p | 1 |
| M. Carter, c | 1 | W. Watson, c | 4 |
| J. Shearer, 1st b | 3 | W. McDowell, 1st b | 4 |
| M. Welsh, 2nd b | 2 | J. Reynolds, 2nd b | 3 |
| C. Billings, 3rd b | 1 | E. Sipe, 3rd b | 1 |
| W. Ainsley, r f | 0 | P. McCorkdale, r f | 2 |
| G. Davidson, l f | 0 | J. Trombly, l f | 2 |
| C. Dunn, c f | 2 | H. Robinson, c f | 1 |
| J. McAuliffe, s s | 1 | H. Galley, s s | 2 |
| | 12 | | 20 |

The quoit match was well contested and was won by the Auburn men by eight points. The score was as follows:—

| AUBURN. | | FOUNDRY. | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Turner | 13 | Rose | 25 |
| Queen | 28 | King | 9 |
| | 41 | | 33 |

The tug of war caused considerable excitement, as such a trial of strength always does. Those on the foundry end of the rope were J. Reynolds, J. Trombly, E. Pinch, D. Reeves, J. Kerr, Wm. Lynes, W. Hickey, J. French, W. Stenton and F. Thompson, and on the Auburn side W. Fleming, E. Lefay, M. Welsh, G. Pratley, M. Mulhearn, C. Dunn, J. Shearer, C. Billings, W. Ainsley and W. Kendry. The first pull was won by the foundry, and the second by Auburn. The third pull was also won by the foundry. The Auburn men, however, said that they were not all ready when the word to pull was given, and another trial was had, which was won by Auburn.

One very pleasant feature of these games was the friendly spirit exhibited by the representatives of two of our largest industries. Everything passed off quite satisfactorily, and was conducted in the most friendly spirit.

THE ATHLETIC SPORTS.

The athletic sports in the Drill Shed Grounds, under the management of Mr. E. W. Johnston, commenced at about two o'clock in the afternoon. There was a very large number of people in the grounds.

The judges were Messrs. F. A. Passmore, J. W. Smith and J. E. McIntyre (Secretary). Mr. Hugh McKinnon, of Belleville, was present during a portion of the afternoon and assisted in managing the events. The following is a list of the prize winners:—

BOYS RACE (under 12 years),—1st Adam Bell; 2nd, Jos. Sophy; 3rd, A. Thorndyke.

VAULTING WITH POLE.—1st, Thos. Sharp, 9ft. 4in.; 2nd, Robert Hunter.

100 YARDS RACE (men, amateur).—1st. P. Myles; 2nd, A. B. Rogers. This was a very close contest, as the two foremost come in side by side. The judges, however, decided that Myles struck the tape on the line first. Time, 11½ seconds.

QUARTER MILE RACE.—1st, G. A. Valleau; 2nd, P. Myles. Time, one minute.

ONE MILE RACE.—1st, W. Hazlitt; 2nd, J. Giroux. Time, 5.5½.

RUNNING HIGH LEAP.—1st, Thos. Sharpe, 4ft. 10in.; 2nd, R. Hunter.

TOSSING THE CABER.—This was a professional contest, and was won by E. W. Johnston.

THROWING HEAVY WEIGHT (professional).—1st, E. W. Johnston, 23ft. 7in.; 2nd, J. A Hewitt, 22ft. 10in. Duncan C. Ross gave an exhibition throw of 26ft. 4in.

TWO MILE WALK (amateur).—1st, W. Hazlitt; 2nd, W. Hartley.

HALF MILE RACE (amateur),—1st, G. A. Valleau; 2nd, A. B. Rogers.

THROWING 56LB. WEIGHT, HIGH.—This was a professional contest between E. W. Johnston and J. A. Hewitt, and was won by Johnston.

W. Hurst gave an exhibition of club swinging and of horizontal bar performances, receiving laud plaudits for both.

The next event called was a boxing and wrestling match (professional). The crowd, which had given great trouble during the afternoon by crowding into the ring, now surrounded the platform. Those who thus rushed in prevented others who obeyed the rules and remained outside from seeing. Mr. Johnston asked to have the ring cleared, and said if it was not he would declare the remainder of the programme off, and it was declared off. The sports came to an end at about five o'clock.

The Fire Brigade Band was also present in the afternoon and discoursed good music.

THE CONCERT AND FIREWORKS.

In the evening a promenade concert was held and a display of fireworks made in the drill shed and grounds, under the auspices of the Fire Brigade. There was a large attendance at the concert, and the display of fireworks was also witnessed by a large number of people. The music for the concert was furnished by the Fire Brigade Band, and they having prepared a programme especially for the occasion, the music was excellent.

The pyrotechnic display was a magnificent sight. For over an hour beautiful rockets were fired into the air, and the larger pieces were really grand, especially the "May 24th," the "Evening Star," "Firemen's dance," &c., and the "Good Night" was a very beautiful piece. Each of these was received with cheers. The whole display was a very creditable one.

A torchlight procession concluded the day's programme. The Fire Brigade, headed by their band, marched from the drill shed to Charlotte street, carrying torches and firing rockets into the air. The scene was a very brilliant one indeed.

The electric light attracted a great deal of attention from those who had not seen it on the evening previous. The drill shed and grounds were illuminated with it. There were twenty-five lights burning, at the following places:—Two in the drill shed, two in the drill shed grounds, one at Ormond & Walsh's, one at the Oriental Hotel, two at Faucher's Hotel, one at H. LeBrun's, three at T. Dolan & Co's, one at the Grand Central Hotel, one at the Little Windsor Hotel, one at M. McFadden's, one at Roddy's Hotel, one at R. W. Muncaster's, three at Hall, Innes & Co's, one in the centre of the street at the corner of George and Hunter streets, one at the Darcy House, one at Chamberlain's Hotel, and two in the Opera House.

24TH OF MAY AT KEENE

THE LAYING OF THE CORNER STONE OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The Ceremony Performed by the Masonic Grand Master—Members of the Fraternity Present from Different places, and a Large Number of People.

From Our Own Correspondent.

May 24th was a fine day. Crowds were arriving at Keene all the forenoon. About 1,500 people were present and about 150 Masons were in line. The following Grand Lodge officers were present:—

M W Bro. D. Spry, Barrie, .....G M.
R W " H. Murray, Hamilton...D G M.
" " J. J. Mason, Hamilton...G Sec.
" " H. B. F. Odell, Oshawa..D D G M, Ont.
" " A. McGinnis, Belleville..D D G M P E.
" " Wm. McCabe, Toronto..PDD G M Ont.
" " E. H. D. Hall, Peterboro'. " "

Dinner commenced at 12 o'clock, and by half past 2 over 400 had dined. The opening of the Grand Lodge was delayed until 2.30, because of the boat, etc., being late. However, the long looked for boat was seen in the distance, and a large number of people, with the Victoria Brass Band, marched to the wharf to welcome the visitors.

The Grand Lodge was then opened in ample form in the Town Hall. There were present:

M w Bro Daniel Spry.....G. Master.
R W " Hugh Murray.....D G M.
" " Wm. McCabe.....as G S W.
" " E. H. D. Hall ..... " G J W.
" " Kenward Mark ..... " G Chap.

" " B. Shortly..... " } G Stewards
" " R. Graham..... " }
" " — McCaw..... " }
" " — Wilson..... " }
" " Jno. Breckenridge..... " }
Bro. E. S. Wood..... " G Tyler.

There were also about 100 brethren from the adjacent lodges present.

The Grand Lodge being opened, the brethren formed in line, and headed by the Victoria Brass Band, marched to the site of the proposed church, which, having been reached, the procession halted, opened out, faced inwards, and the Grand Master, followed by the other officer passed through and ascended the platform.

Bro. K. Mark, as Grand Chaplain offered up prayer, and the Grand Secretary read the following scroll:—

"By the favour of Almighty God on the 24th day of May, 1884, Era of Masonry 5884, and in the Forty-eighth year of the reign of our Most Gracious Sovereign Victoria, By the Grace of God Empress of India, and Queen of Great Britain and Ireland, and of the Dominion of Canada; His Excellency the Most Hon. the Marquis of Lansdowne being Govenor-General of the Dominion of Canada, and the Hon. John Beverley Robinson Lieutenant-Govenor of the Province of Ontario; The Right Hon. Sir John Alexander Macdonald Premier of Canada; The Hon. Oliver Mowat Premier of Ontario; John Burnham, Esq., Member of the House of Commons of the Dominion of Canada; Thos. Biezard, Esq., Member of Legislative Assembly of Ontario; Jno. Lang, Esq., Reeve of the Township of Otonabee; The Rev. John M. King, D.D., Moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada; The Rev. Alexander Young, Moderator of the Synod of Toronto and Kingston; The Rev. Mr. Jamieson Moderator of the Presbytery of Peterborough; the Rev. Francis Andrews, minister of Keene and Westwood, Alexander Wood, John Miller, William Plunkett, Peter McNeil, James M. Drummond, and William J. Miller, Elders; Alexander Gillespie, David Moore, Jas. McNeil, Jno. Lang, David Henderson, Peter Comrie and Peter Drummond, Deacons; Richard Hope, Alexander Wood, George Read, William Drummond, Jno. Lang, W. J. Miller and Jas. McNeil, Building Committee; Gordon & Helliwell, Architects; Harper & Sons, Contractors.

"This corner stone of the Presbyterian Church was laid by W. M. Bro. Daniel Spry, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of A. F. & A. M. of Canada, assisted by the Grand Officers and a large concourse of the brethren, in accordance with the ceremonies and usages of the Order, whom may Almighty God ever protect and prosper."

The Grand Secretary then announced that in the glass bottle to be deposited in the cavity in the stone were placed the Scroll, a copy of the Presbyterian Record, The Presbyterian,—The Daily Mail,—The Daily Globe,—The Peterborough Review, Examiner and Times,—Norwood Register,—Canadian Craftsman,' and Queen's College Journal. Canadian coins of the denomination of 50, 25, 10, 5, and 1, cent pieces.

The Rev. Mr. Andrews, on behalf of the Building Committee, then presented the G. Master with a silver Trowel which bore the following inscription:—

"Presented to Mr. W. Bro. Daniel Spry, G. M., Grand Lodge A. F. and A. M. of Canada, by the Building Committee of the Presbyterian Church, Keene, Ont., on laying the corner stone of the above church, May 24th, 1884."

The M. W. the Grand Master having graciously acknowledged and accepted the gift, the cement was spread and the upper stone was lowered, with three halts, at which intervals the band played bars of the National Anthem.

When it had been guided into its proper place, the principal Grand Officers applied the plumb rule, level and square, and having reported that the stone was just, true and properly laid, the Grand Master struck the stone three times with the gavel and said:—

"Well made, truly laid, true and trusty. May this undertaking be conducted and completed by the craftsmen according to the grand plan, in peace, harmony, and brotherly love."

The stone was then strewn with corn, moistened with wine, and anointed with oil, and as he performed these ceremonies the Grand Master said:—

"I strew corn upon the stone as an emblem of plenty; I pour wine upon it as an emblem of cheerfulness, and I anoint it with oil as an emblem of comfort and consolation. May corn, wine and oil, and all the necessaries of life, abound among men, and may the blessing of the Supreme Architect of the Universe be upon this edifice and all connected with it."

The contractors were then entrusted with the tools and plans, with which to complete the building.

The Grand Master only made a few remarks, as the time was so very short.

The procession then reformed, and the brethren returned to the hall, and after the Grand Master had expressed his gratification at the day's proceedings the Grand Lodge was closed in ample form.

The G.M., D.G.M., G. Sec. and D.D.G.M., Ont. Dis., then left with the brethren from across the lake. R. W. Bro. McGinnis left on the evening train for Belleville.

A ten cent tea was held in the evening. The total receipts of the day amounted to about $400.

The playing of the V.B.B., under the leadership of Prof. A. Freeman, was very fine.

Rev. Mr. Andrews preached on Sunday on Christ, the Corner Stone of the Church, and endorsed the building of a new church very strongly.

THE DAILY EVENING REVIEW is delivered to subscribers at ten cents a week.

MAJORITY 93.

The rotten policy of a dying ministry at Ottawa.—Cornwall Freeholder (Ref.)

WHERE THEY WERE ASTRAY.

How could Liberals pretend that an increase of the tariff, for the purpose of protection, would relieve a depressed country when they did not believe it?—Brockville Recorder (Ref.)

BLAKE'S "BIG PUSH."

The Witness says that a considerable fund has been placed at the disposal of Mr. Blake for propagandism and organization. In fact, another "big push" is to be made.—London Free Press.

INFORMATION READY.

Mr. Biggar recently asked the Under Secretary of State for the Colonies, whether he would take means to have a statement furnished regarding the climate of Manitoba. In reply Mr. Ashley referred the honorable member to the Colonization Circular issued by the Colonial office, price sixpence, and the Handbook published by the Dominion Government, with map and photographs gratis.—Montreal Star.

SETTLING THE NORTHWEST.

When in the city lately, Mr. Andrew Allan, of the Allan Line, informed a Free Press representative that the outlook for a large immigration into the Dominion this year was exceedingly good. While the arrivals to Canada will be increased this year, when compared with the past season, Mr. Allan is of opinion that the emigration to the United States will be considerably reduced. One of the reasons he attributed to the interest manifested in the North-West by the people of the Old Country.—Ottawa Free Press.

AT a meeting of the Enniskymon Board of Ghardians, on April 22, a Sister of Mercy was elected to the office of matron. The Sisters of Mercy have been in charge of the hospital of the Enniskymon workhouse for the past two years.

ON St. Patrick's Day a train in which Mr. Davit was travelling to Tyrone, was fired at when passing Dungannon, and on April 24, a boy named Grimes was charged with the offence. Two witnesses indentified him with having fired the shot, but several others proved an alibi for him.

FARM AND GARDEN.

PLANTING.— While the principal portion of the garden should be planted between the 20th of May and the 1st of June, there are but few weeks from the first of April, to the first of August, that there are not some seeds that should be planted, if the garden is to be made to serve the family with the greatest variety, and best quality, of fruits and vegetables. While it is not safe to plant bean, cucumber, or melon seeds, until the last week in the month, if one has a warm sheltered garden, and also has the means to give slight protection on cold nights, a few of these may be planted early in the month, with a fair prospect of getting them fit for the table a little earlier; but early planted seeds of tender plants rarely yield as well as those planted after the weather becomes warm.

WEEDS.—Whatever the weather may be the weeds are sure to put in an appearance as soon as any plants of value begin to grow, in fact, as a rule, they manage to get a few days the start; the seed laying in the ground all winter, it is kept moist and ready to start into life as soon as the ground becomes a little warm; understanding this, the intelligent gardener is always on the watch ready to run the cultivator, or hand wheel hoe, over the ground the moment he can distinguish the weeds from the useful plants. The early garden needs cultivating only before the late garden is planted.

THE CUT WORM.—Among the creeping enemies of the garden the cut worm is the most difficult to manage. He does his work in the darkness of the night, and retires to his underground home as daylight appears. He is thus out of sight of the gardener, and out of the reach of the birds; his greatest enemy is a toad who delights to hop through the garden before the rising sun drives the worms to their homes, and snatch them up for his breakfast, being quite as delicious to him as is the cucumber to the worm. These worms can be caught and killed by getting up early in the morning and digging them out, but they can only be found after they have cut off some valuable plant, then early in the morning they will be found very near the surface, not far from the plant they have cut off.

MONDAY'S CELEBRATION

THE BOATING CLUB REGATTA ON THE WATERS OF THE LITTLE LAKE.

The Lacrosse Match Between the Peterborough and Barrie Clubs—The Home Club Victorious—An Excursion.

Monday, May 26th, having been proclaimed a holiday by the Mayor, was generally observed as such in town. The weather was very fine, in fact almost too warm for enjoyment. The programme for the day included a regatta on the Little Lake in the forenoon, and a lacrosse match in the afternoon.

THE REGATTA.

Owing to the liberality of Mr. Alex. Elliott, who presented a cup for a single scull race, the citizens were afforded an opportunity of witnessing a good forenoon's sport in the aquatic line, as this race led to others, eventually ending in a long and first-class programme of events. The gentlemen who acted as judges were Messrs. M. Millar and H. Rogers. Mr. E. B. Edwards acted as starter, while Mr. Alex. Elliott filled the position of referee. The first event was for which there were three entries, viz., Mercer, Geo. Stevenson and W Drury. When the word "go" was given, the three got off well together, Stevenson with a slight lead. Mercer, who has not had much practice (if any) since his race with Mr. J. E. McIntyre last summer, also laboured under the disadvantage of rowing in a new boat, the one presented to him by his many admirers in Peterborough. Notwithstanding these drawbacks, he rowed with all his old-time ardour. It was a decidedly pretty race between him and Stevenson on the home stretch, both boats being as nearly as possible even, until drawing to the close, Mercer forged ahead, and Stevenson, who had steered out of his course, ran into the Golden-Eye and, as was to be expected, upset. This mishap gave Drury an opportunity to gain second place, and he pulled steadily away until he passed the winning flags second to Mercer, but very considerably behind. Mercer is a very fine oarsman, and with proper care and good training would not only be one of the best amateurs in Canada, but, indeed, there is no reason why, ere long, he would not be a proper man to measure blades with any of the professionals, not even excepting the world's present champion—Hanlan. We say with proper care and training he might accomplish this, as Nature has given him every other advantage. He is a powerful young man, with a good shoulder and arm, and when rowing he pulls with the greatest apparent ease. Stevenson, who is a very young sculler, also shows up well though he is a much smaller man than his opponent. He pulled a plucky race and deserves credit for it.

THE SINGLE SCULL RACE

DOUBLE SCULL RACE.

There were four entries (or boats) for this race, viz.: F. Cox and W. Rutherford; W. Dayman and F. Karch; W. Kent and J. Fanning; M. Cottingham and J. Hawkins. Fanning and Kent were held back in the first heat, leaving three boats to contest for first place, after which they were to row another heat with a second crew. The boats got off well together and a very pretty race was witnessed. Cox and Rutherford won first place, with Karch and Dayman second. In the second heat the race between the Kent-Fanning and Cottingham-Hawkins' boats was exciting, as they rowed a very close race from start to finish. The first mentioned crew won after a hard struggle by about four lengths.

DOUBLE HUNTING CANOE RACE.

Their were four entries, viz.:—M. Cottingham and A. Stratton, F. Adams and —. Weller, J. Sherlock and W. Matthews, W. Rudkins and S. Wright. Sherlock and Matthews won first place, with Cottingham and Stratton a good second.

THE FOUR OARED RACE.

There was two entries:—Mercer, stroke, Stevenson, Karsh and Kent, in the one, and Hawkins, stroke, Cox, Fanning, and Cottingham, in the other boat. The two crews made a very good start, and from the start to finish rowed a good race. As was to be expected, Mercer's crew won, defeating their opponents by seven or eight lengths.

SINGLE CANOE RACE.

This was the last race on the programme, and it was left to Stratton and Sherlock to contest, as these two were the only entries. At the start Stratton made a spurt and took the lead. Sherlock, however, soon overhauled him, and to the turning boy perhaps had a slight lead. On the home stretch the two men paddled a pretty race, to use a turf phrase, being neck and neck. Stratton eventually won, as he forged slowly ahead when near the finish, thus winning after a hard struggle.

NOTES.

Mr. Alex. Elliott, who is a first-class oarsman, has purchashed a shell exactly the same as Mercer's. They were both built by Warren, of Toronto, and are on view at the boat house.

The City Band turned out in their nobby new uniform for the first time, and was present on the Golden-Eye. They both looked well and played well. The band is composed of nineteen members. The uniform is a dark blue with gold facings and red cuffs and collars. The caps match the other portions of the uniform, being dark with gold band and red and white plumes. The uniform was made by Mr. H. LeBrun, and is a credit to his establishment. The Messrs. Mills Bros. furnished the caps, and the whole uniform is very neat and attractive.

THE LACROSSE MATCH.

The lacrosse match between the Peterborough and Barrie Clubs took place in the afternoon. The members of the clubs assembled at the Oriental Hotel, and, headed by the City Band, marched over to the grounds. There was a large number of people present to witness the play, the number being estimated at about two thousand.

The Peterborough team appeared in their new uniform, and it is a neat dress. It consists of white hats, blue shirts, white trousers and blue stockings. They made a good appearance on the field.

Mr. H. P. Eckhardt, of Toronto, was chosen referee, and Messrs. A. Elliott, of Peterborough and Thos. Hazlitt, of Barrie, acted as umpires. The Peterborough Club was captained by Mr. W. A. Sanderson, and the Barrie Club by Mr. E. W. Johnston. The teams were composed as follows:—

| PETERBOROUGH. | | BARRIE. |
|---|---|---|
| J. Giroux | Gaol | Nicholson |
| Myles | Point | Butterfield |
| Reynolds | Cover Point | Lee |
| Tierney | Defence Field | Gunn |
| Scott | " " | Moore |
| Fortye | " " | Hill |
| Sheehy | Centre Field | McIntyre |
| Howden | Home Field | Burns |
| Rutherford | " " | Hartley |
| Kelly | " " | Lennox |
| Rudkins | 2nd home | Cutnbert |
| G Giroux | 1st home | Hornsby |

The ball was faced at about ten minutes after three o'clock by Sheehy and McIntyre. Sheehy secured the rubber, and it travelled about half way to the Barrie goal, when it was stopped and thrown near the Peterborough goal. A close call was made on the Peterborough flags, but the defence and the goal keeper where on the alert, and the rubber was soon flying to the opposite end of the field. A close call was made on the Barrie goal, but that club had a good defence, and the sphere was thrown out to centre field, from which it travelled on to the Peterborough side, only to be again returned. Thus the ball flew around, each side putting forth every effort, and the game was well contested by both teams. The spectators took a keen interest in the game, and good play was liberally appauded, the onlookers, although the home team were naturally the favourites, frequently applauding the visitors. Three times G. Giroux threw straight at the Barrie goal and the rubber went so close that many thought it was through, but still the play was continued. Finally Giroux dropped the ball in front of the Barrie flags and was put through by either Rudkins or Kelly. The first game was thus won for the home team in one hour and ten minutes after the ball was faced, but several times a few minutes were lost from various causes.

The second game was the shortest. At the beginning the ball was sent down near the Peterborough goal, but it was returned to the other end, and it remained in that vicinity until Giroux dropped it to Rudkins, who passed it between the flags. Time six minutes.

The third game lasted a little longer than the second. The Barrie team played a defence game nearly altogether this game, at one time there being not one of their players on the home side of centre field. Finally the game was won in the same manner as the other two by G. Giroux dropping the rubber to Rudkins. Time eighteen minutes. The Peterborough Club thus won the match by three straight games.

This is a good commencement of the season for the Peterborough Club. All the members of the team played exceedingly well. The old members of the first twelve showed that they were as reliable as ever, and the four new players—Myles, Kelly, Scott and Howden—played an exceedingly good game.

The Barrie boys played well, especially during the first game. Their defence was strong, and the Peterborough Home men had to work to get the ball past them. Moreover, they are a gentlemanly company of young men, and perhaps the Peterborough boys enjoyed their visit when off the field as much as they did the match.

After the match was concluded, each team gave three cheers for the other, and also for the Referee and the Queen, and the order of procession was then reformed and they returned to the town.

A MILE RACE.

In the interval between the first and second games of Lacrosse, a mile race was run by T. G. Kindred, of Peterborough, and W. Hazlitt, of Barrie, for a handsome silver cup given by the Lacrosse Club, P. Myles, acted as Referee. At the start Kindred at once took the lead, and kept it for a lap, but Hazlitt gained on him and passed him, winning the race. The cup was presented to the winner by Mr. J. Hackett on the field, and the winner, in accepting it, made a brief speech, in which he said that he had never been defeated in a mile race but once, and that was by Mr. Kindred in Peterborough last year.

A QUIET EVENING.

In the evening there was no "doings," and the occasional flight of a rocket, or the sound of fire-crackers, was about the only indication that it was the evening of a holiday. However, after the two days of excitement and sports, perhaps the people were well pleased to enjoy the evening quietly. The day passed off very pleasantly indeed.

THE EXCURSION.

The excursion to Toronto was a very pleasant affair. The train left the Peterborough station at 7.30 o'clock in the morning, with about three hundred passengers on board, and, going by Port Hope, arrived at Toronto at about twelve o'clock. The excursionists spent about six hours in seeing the city, and the train left on the return trip at six o'clock, arriving here at about eleven.

The month of May, with her abundant wealth
Of bees and blossoms, song and social health;
Her sunny days and fertilizing rain,
Returns with pledge of plenty once again;
On all the furrowed fields her blessings fall,
Partial to none, she smiles alike on all;
Her dewy breath with every rising morn.

Note the Change.

Rev. Mr. Munro's Bible Class in the Young Men's Christian Association decided last night to hold the class on Tuesday evenings instead of Monday so as to accommodate a number who wanted to attend the class but were prevented by other engagements.

Where was the Golden Lion?

Visitors to the great athletic sports on the Queen's birthday will please note that FAIR, VANEVERY & Co., at the Golden Lion, are showing unequalled value in Millinery, Mantles, Dress Goods, Prints, Lawn Muslins, Parasols, Hosiery, Gloves, in short one of the most extensive stocks in the above lines on George street. See our advertisement on programme, it is very interesting.

Smith's Market.

The Ross Combination.

A combination consisting of Duncan C. Ross, of Cleveland, Ohio, champion athlete, P. O'Donnell, "the strongest man in the world," Charles Lange, "champion of Ohio," and others, gave a performance in the Opera House on Saturday evening. There was quite a number in the rear seats, but the reserved seats must have been "reserved" for persons who neglected to attend. Ross and O'Donnell engaged in wrestling. Several other wrestling encounters took place between different men, and Lange and J. Moriarty engaged in sparring, as did also Lange and a man announced as Mr. Wilson, of Lancashire, England. On Monday afternoon O'Donnell took up a position on a ladder on the market square, from which a span of horses failed to remove him. The combination then proceeded to the Opera House, where a performance was announced to be given, but a very small number of persons followed them. Another effort was made in the evening, when there were no counter attractions, to fill the house, but the people did not appear to be in the humour to patronize such an entertainment, and the performance did not take place. The combination departed from town this morning.

IT isn't extravagant to claim that Zo-pe-sa is a sure cure for Dyspepsia and the Liver. It is a regular prescription of a doctor of large practice, and for these troubles it is as good as the doctor himself on the spot. Ask J. D. Tully.

JOHN R. VERT, Hamilton, says: "McGregor's Speedy Cure for dyspepsia and indigestion is cheap at 50 times the price asked for it. I am a commercial man and travel continually, and would no more think of leaving home without a bottle of McGregor's Speedy Cure in my valise than I would of leaving my team at home and going on foot." Free trial bottles at John McKee's drug store. Regular size fifty cents and one dollar.

WE believe the cause of the wonderful success of our Murray & Lanman's Florida Water may be found in the fact that the principal aim in its preparation has always been to give the simple natural perfume of flowers, without any chemical addition whatever, and to avoid, by all means, the great error of making a heavy, sickly, sweet perfume.

AFTER years of patient research and unremitting toil, Dr. Van Buren discovered in a little plant, growing on the hill-sides of his native land, medical virtues of a most positive kind! Careful experimentation has enabled him to formulate from its hidden sap a remedy that has no equal in permanently curing all forms of kidney disease, and which is now known all the world over as Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure.

IT is rumoured that both criminal and civil proceedings will be immediately taken against the ex-directors of the Exchange Bank by the depositors' committee for making false returns of the condition of the institution. Notice of a third call of twenty per cent. on their double liability has been given to the shareholders by the liquidators.

A New Principle.

The principle upon which Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor acts is entirely new. It does noes not sink deep into the flesh, thereby producing soreness, but acts directly upon the external covering of the corn, separates it from the under layer, removes the direct pressure from the pars, and at once effects a radical cure, without any pain or discomfort. Let those who are suffering from corns, yet sceptical of treatment, try it, and by the completeness of the cure they will be ready to recommend Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor to others.

The Weak and the Impure.

The merry little mountain brook, as it lightly dances over the rocks and sparkles in the sunshine on its way down to the river, is pure and clean. It is active; therefore it is healthy. It is vigorous; therefore it resists impurity.

But the sluggish pool, where the current is not strong enough to keep the water in motion, is stagnant and foul. Dirt and rubbish are thrown into it, and stay there. Impurities and vile odors make it a breeder of disease and an object to be avoided.

When the blood is strong, rich and red, and vigorously courses its accustomed rounds through arteries and veins, the system is hearty and healthy.

When the blood is thin and poor and weak, impurities and defilements creep into it, and it has no strength to cast them out. Then the system runs down.

Shaker Blood Syrup purifies and enriches the Blood; curing Scrofula, Cancer, Ulcers and skin and blood diseases of every description.

OH! how tired and weak I feel I dont believe I will ever get through the Spring house-cleaning? Oh yes you will if you take a bottle or two of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters to purify your blood and tone up the system. In large bottles 50 cents.

A Life Saving Present.

Mr. M. E. Allison, Hutchinson, Kan.: Saved his life by a simple trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, for Consumption, which caused him to procure a large bottle, that completely cured him, when Doctors, change of climate and everything else had failed. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Severe Coughs, and all Throat and Lung diseases, it is guaranteed to cure. Trial bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's drug store. Large size $1.00.

An Answer Wanted.

Can any one bring us a case of Kidney or Liver Complaint that Electric Bitters will not speedily cure? We say they can not, as thousands of cases already permanently cured and who are daily recommending Electric Bitters will prove. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Weak Back, or any urinary complaints quickly cured. They purify the blood, regulate the bowels, and act directly on the diseased parts. Every bottle guaranteed. ## Daily Evening Review

WEDNESDAY, MAY 28, 1884.

ELECTRIC LIGHT.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Absence from town prevented an earlier answer to "Another Ratepayer." This gentleman, who has endeavoured to reply to my letter has with unconscious truthfulness subscribed himself "another." Now for his replies, seriatim: I propose to enter into no lengthy disquisition, nor to palm off left-handed Scotch wit for argument. Is it any reason because fire burns sometimes to an unnecessary extent that the progressive unselfishness (?) of a family circle should imperil more lives for money's sake? This is the illogical inference of "Another." Many signboards, which our good magistrate ignominiously hauled down, were much more artistic and necessary than any electric light poles, and I again protest against George street being made a market for any man's lumber, to the detriment and danger of the community. "Another" says, "Electricity, if let alone, is harmless." So is dynamite, —what a mercy that we can "let it alone"! I said when "touched" the wires were the means of causing instant death, and I repeat it. Last summer, when in Buffalo, I saw one of the Electric Co's. men fall dead off a ladder upon which he had got to repair a lamp which did not give light. If "Another's" greed does not blind his reading faculty he knows it too. New York City was so enraged over the death of several firemen from their coming in contact with the wires that redressive measures were summurarily adopted. The necessity for threshing machines seems to have more than counterbalanced the dread of accidents but we do not wish people ignorant of the danger, to suffer from what is at best a needless luxury in this small town. To show the malicious fallacy of his argument on circular saws, with which it is quite apparent he is most familiar, it only remains to ask what municipality would allow them to be placed on the public streets so that people unaccustomed to their use should hazard their very lives. "Another" may be "in favor of progress," as he says, but it is hard to believe this, when rumour has it that he would have supported the waterworks if they had been taken from his dam, which is nothing but a sink, wholly unfilterable. They have saved the town, but neither elicited his sympathy nor averted his wrath. He is a Machiavellian demagogue, endeavoring to electric wire-pull a little. As regards cost, I have to answer: In response to enquiries, George A. Bisturck, of Toronto, agent of the largest electric light company in America, offered me a 25-light dynamo machine for $2,200. The purchase of wire and putting up of lamps and part of water power would cost $800 more at the very outside, and at 50 cents a night for each light we have a profit of 125 per cent. The bona fides of his offer of stock is so great that he uses an assumed name under it. Of course my chief argument is danger. Edison's inspector fell dead a short time ago from a mistake, as did also the inspector for New York City. To conclude, "the danger I have pointed out is only mythical," as are the saws he used as illustrative of his argument, I suppose. Consideration for other people becomes very insignificant where money is the aim. A typographical error made me say $100, whereas I wrote 100 per cent., which I have changed to the more accurate figure of 125 per cent. Thanking you, &c.,

A RATEPAYER.

A Startling important discovery was made when, after long and patient experiments, the combination of Nerviline was reached. A grand victory indeed, for the suffering have an ever ready, prompt, efficient, and cheap remedy at hand. Do you know that for 10 cents you can buy a trial bottle of Polson's Nerviline and test its great power over pain of every description? Polson's Nerviline cures chills, pain in the stomach, side and back, rheumatism; in fact all pain. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

MURDER IN TORONTO.

A Labourer Found Dead on the Pavement Early on Tuesday Morning.

A man of thirty-seven years of age was found weltering in a pool of blood early on Tuesday morning. The wound from which the blood was flowing fast was a deep one, situated in the neck below the right ear. When found, the poor fellow was unable to speak and sinking rapidly. He died some twenty minutes after having been discovered. The clue to the tragedy, if any such exists, is vague in the extreme. A man of the name of Clune states that he saw two men and a girl carry a third man out of a house in Edward street early on Tuesday morning, and deposit the body about a hundred yards from the front door.

Two men and a woman were arrested yesterday afternoon on suspicion of having murdered Samuel Kerr. Their names are John Falvey, Wm. Neil, and Mary Cross, all of whom reside at 148 and 150 Elizabeth street. They were lodged in the Agnes street police station. The first named of the prisoners is said to have quarrelled with the murdered man over a girl of the name of Fanny Johnson. Fanny Johnson herself says she has lived with the deceased as his wife for the last eight years.

An inquest was held in the evening, when the girl Frances Johnson stated that the name of the deceased was Samuel Kerr. Nothing of much importance was elicited from the witnesses of whom five were sworn, and the proceedings were adjourned till Wednesday evening.

THE COE-PARDEE JOB.

East Peterborough Lands Locked up—Settlement and Prospecting Impeded.

The following letter on a subject seriously affecting this county appears in the Mail:—

SIR,—I have seen your comments on the outrage committed by the Ontario Government, on Mr. Pardee, upon the people of this part of the Province. Considering the facts, as we know them here, you have put the case mildly. The statements of the Globe in reply are wide in the truth. We feel here that the whole affair is quite characteristic of the men who could come to the level of such men as McKim, Dowling and Cascaden. If we are rightly informed Coe & Co. have control of at least 100,000 acres in this county, and as much more in Peterborough county. Enquiry of our local member, A. F. Wood, Esq., brings the information that the return came down the last night of the session, that it was imperfect, having neither dates, prices, nor terms of sales (except of some sales in 1880), that about 55,000 acres were sold to Coe & Co., and 45,000 acres laid aside on their application, and that he is waiting on printed returns. But this is only in the Township of Tudor, Limerick, Wollaston, and Faraday. What about Lake, Dungannon, Chandos, Methuen, Cardiff, and Belmont, where we are informed as many more acres have been grabbed? It has stopped all prospecting—for why should parties explore to find that anything discovered belongs to Coe & Co. Settlement has ceased because Coe & Co. have all the lands fit to settle on. It is a gigantic swindle and fraud on the people's rights by the men who carried out the Algoma frauds, and who conspire with such men as McKim, Dowling, and Cascaden to commit frauds for the purpose of drawing away attention from their own shortcomings and wrongdoings. The only thing left for us is to get out of the country as soon as we can.

Yours, &c.,
ANTI-MONOPOLY.

Faraday, May 19, 1884.

ONTARIO AND THE C.P.R.

In discussions on the Pacific Railway question it has been by a portion of the Ontario press argued upon as if this particular road were of little benefit to the Province in any direct way, and as if the sum of the matter was that Ontario was taxed to build a railway for the good of Quebec and Manitoba chiefly. People who have been lazy enough to accept this most erroneous view of the situation may be astonished when told what a very large and important district of the premier province is actually traversed by the Canadian Pacific Railway. The authority for this is unimpeachable; it is to be found in an official publication prepared under instructions from the Ontario commissioner of crown lands, giving a description of the Algoma district and part of the Nipissing district, with information as to mining and lumbering resources and agricultural capabilities. Some six or seven weeks ago we gave a synopsis of this very interesting and timely official statement regarding the northern districts of Ontario, drawing particular attention to the fact that the Canadian Pacific railway was spoken of as the making of northern Ontario. "It requires no prophetic eye," says this official report, "to see that the construction of the Canadian Pacific railway will change the face of this country, and develope the agricultural and mineral resources." We should think it would. The extent of Canadian Pacific railway mileage on Ontario soil is somewhere away up among the big figures, far more, we fancy, than Ontario people generally have any idea of. But there is still something more to be said. It so happens that the northern portion of the Canadian Pacific mileage runs through the very far back section of Ontario—the very section which most needs a railway to develope its resources. Now, the Canadian Pacific railway is laying down the rails that will do this work most effectually, and yet there are people who talk as if Ontario has no interest in the Canadian Pacific Railway at all. Those who are astray on this point had better take a fresh look at the map. It will then probably dawn upon them that the Canadian Pacific is really a "big thing" for Ontario after all, inasmuch as it opens up a great northern region of this Province, which otherwise might have remained unopened long enough. Those who dispute this are referred to the Ontario Government report above mentioned—pages 47, 48, 49. The Canadian Pacific Railway, as a work for the development of northern Ontario, is a subject that has not yet received half the attention which its importance demands.—Toronto World (Ind. Ref.)

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold. A few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10c., 50c. and $1.00. If your lungs are sore, chest or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. D. Tully.

NEW YORK, May 27.—Jas. D. Fish last evening reiterated the assertion that he was innocent of any wrong doing. He declared he had not misappropriated a dollar, and that he was ruined and penniless. He may have been a stupendous fool but was not a robber. He had been most shamefully deceived by Ward, and was completely in the dark as to the rotten condition of the firm. Ward told him the Government contracts were secured through the special favour of General Grant, Senator Chaffee, President Arthur, and other persons high in political life, and that they were sharing the profits. A New Principle.

The principle upon which Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor acts is entirely new. It does not sink deep into the flesh, thereby producing soreness, but acts directly upon the external covering of the corn, separates it from the under layer, removes the direct pressure from the pars, and at once effects a radical cure; without any pain or discomfort. Let those who are suffering from corns, yet sceptical of treatment, try it, and by the completeness of the cure they will be ready to recommend Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor to others.

Can't Be Beaten.

It is a fact that Nerviline cannot be surpassed by any combination for the relief of pain. The reason is a good one. Nerviline contains the best, most powerful, and the latest discovered remedies. It is a magic pain cure. Rheumatism, stiff neck, cramps, neuralgia, colic, in fact all pain, internal, external, and local, are subdued in a few minutes. Go at once to Ormond & Walsh's drug store and get a trial bottle. It will only cost you 10 cents, and you can at a small cost test the great pain cure, Polson's Nerviline. Large bottles only 25 cts.

MR. BLAKE'S DOUBLE SHIELD.

If the Ottawa Free Press, or Mr. Blake for whom our contemporary undertakes a defence, had a good case, it would not be necessary for it to resort to misrepresentation and misquotation. The Free Press returning to the attack says:—

The Peterborough Review reiterates its statement that Mr. Blake in his speech on the Orange Incorporation Bill condemned free-masonry as "the fruitful mother of malignity, bitterness and strife." In proof of its assertion it quotes his remarks concerning secret political societies, but carefully omits to mention that in reply to a question of another member he stated that he did not intend these remarks to apply to Free-masonry."

In proof of our assertion that Mr. Blake condemned free-masonry we did not quote "his remarks concerning secret political societies," but we quoted from Hansard his slanderous abuse of all secret societies without exception, a subject upon which he expatiated to the extent of several columns of the official report. And so far from omitting to mention his subsequent disclaimer, the very gist of our complaint was that having uttered his abuse to please one portion of the electors, he disclaimed it application in the case of members of societies who remonstrated, in order to please other sections of the electors, thus being guilty of gross political dishonesty. And in furtherance of this double dealing, he gives at all events the assent of silence to two different versions of his speech, one of them, which was sent to us for editorial notice, being ticketed "A crushing blow to oath-bound secret societies." It is this dishonesty for which we chiefly blame the leader of the opposition and his apologists.

SLANDERERS SILENCED.

In the House of Commons and in committee last session, certain members, notably Mr. Mulock, Mr. Blake and Sir R. Cartwright, brought charges of dishonest and unprofessional conduct against Mr. J. A. Macdonell in relation to certain business that he had transacted for the Dominion of Canada.

Mr. Macdonell promptly denied the truth of these slanderous attacks, and challenged his professional brethern, especially Mr. Mulock, to bring the matter before the Benchers of the Ontario Law Society for investigation, or to brand themselves with cowardice and falsehood. Not content with this challenge, he himself applied officially to the Law Society for an enquiry into his conduct as to the matters in question.

It will be remembered that this is not a question merely of the amount of a lawyer's bill of costs. On that point we do not pretend to be judges, further than a general impression that lawyer's bills are almost invariably considered too large by those who have to pay them. The main point of the attack was that charges had been made for work never done, for arbitrations never held, and so forth. It was, in fact, an accusation of obtaining money under false pretenses.

The Benchers have met at Osgoode Hall and there has be no investigation of the charge so forcible brought in Parliament that Mr. Macdonell had absolutely defrauded the people of Canada. The reason of this is made plain by the secretary of the Law Society who writes to Mr. Macdonell that the Bench declined to deal with the matter, "no charge having been made by any person against Mr. Macdonell." These "gentlemen" could bring false charges against a professional brother in his absence, and when they were protected by Parliamentary privilege, but they dare not repeat their falsehoods where he could meet them face to face, and where proof instead of reckless assertion would have been necessary. They have thus proved themselves cowards as well as slanderers.

"NOMINEE LEGISLATORS."

In his speech at Toronto Sir R. Cartwright made some remarks upon the constitution of the Senate, which he said represents nobody, and is a mere partisan machine, at the disposal of absolutely one man. Of course this is not a truthful description of the position of the Upper House of our Parliament. But even if it were, the criticism is manifestly insincere. Having sold himself for office, Sir R. Cartwright some years ago attained the object of his ambition and obtained a portfolio in the Canadian Cabinet. He and his colleagues did not then object to a nominated senate, any more than did the Reform leaders while our Constitution was being framed. On the contrary, the Mackenzie Administration, including both Sir R. Cartwright and Mr. Blake, actually applied to the Imperial authorities for enlarged powers as to the appointment of Senators, so that they might be able to name a greater number. It is therefore obvious that Sir R. Cartwright's objection is not to the power of nominating Senators, but to the choice of the people of Canada, who have entrusted that power, with others, to his political opponents. He would like to nominate Senators, and plenty of them, himself, but he does not like Sir J. Macdonald and his colleagues to nominate them. That is one point upon which he differs from the people of Canada.

But if Sir R. Cartwright really objected to legislators being nominees, he might well consider his own case. He is actually the nominee and creature of one man, viz., Mr. Blake. With total disregard of the spirit of our Constitution, which requires that a member of the House of Commons should be the choice of one of the constituencies and should be responsible to it, Mr. Blake made a bargain with a member to resign his seat whenever called upon to make a vacancy for a nominee of Mr. Blake, the member thus holding his position at the beck of Mr. Blake and not being answerable to his constituents. After a time Mr. Blake finding himself at sea as to financial matters, wished to secure this seat for Sir R. Cartwright, who could not get returned at home. Many of the constituents naturally objected to having a defeated outsider thus thrust upon them, but at a party caucus they were so far whipped into the traces that a small majority decided in favour of the nominee of their party leader. So small indeed was the majority, that it only consisted of Mr. Blake, Mr. Mackenzie and another—we are not informed if Sir Richard Cartwright had a vote. It is obvious that without the presence, the pressure and the vote of Mr. Blake, even this scanty majority of three could not have been obtained, and Sir R. Cartwright would have been sent off, to appeal if he chose to the electors of his own neighborhood. As it is he sits in the House as the nominee and the creature of Mr. Blake, who is himself the chief of a party rejected repeatedly by the country.

It is more than whispered that Mr. Blake is contemplating a repetition of this manœuvre in favour of another of his former lieutenants, who also has been defeated at home, where he is too well known.

It will be seen that Sir Richard Cartwright was rather rash in his objections to nominee legislators, since he was anxious, when in power, to increase the right to nominate, and was content, when a rejected candidate himself, to become the mere nominee of a rejected chief.

FORESTRY EXHIBIT.

A Collection of Northwest Timber Sent to the Edinburgh Exhibition.

On a recent express train to Port Arthur was an extra baggage car containing one of the most interesting exhibits of the natural resources of the Northwest ever collected. The exhibit was destined for the World's Forestry Exposition which opens at Edinburgh, Scotland, on the 18th. of June. It comprised the following articals:

A portable house 12x15, furnished with the common furniture ordinarily used by the settler, also a rough stable roofed with slabs and a driving shed. A barb wire fence was also provided and the whole will be displayed in a similar manner to a prairie homestead. The furniture is of native manufacture and was supplied by Messrs. D. Scott & Co., the barb wire fence by Messrs. Mullholland & Bros. and the buildings were manufactured by the Northwest Lumber Co. from native timber.

The display of agricultural implements was prepared by Messrs. Harris Sons & Co., and consists of wagon, sleigh, plough, harrow and mower, finished in extra style. A pump made by a Winnipeg firm from native wood and a collection of the ordinary tools used on a farm, such as wheelbarrows, bucksaws, etc., formed part of the exhibit.

The most interesting part of the exhibit is a collection of native woods, comprising thirty-seven varieties, the principal of which are spruce, tamarac, white pine, poplar, birch, Norway or red pine, balm of gilead, balsam and elm, some of which were three feet in diameter and all sound. Samples of the some woods manufactured were sent.

The C. P. R. land department contributed a complete assortment of Rocky Mountain timber and also sent their usual exhibit.

The collection has been prepared by Mr. T. H. Carman, as managing director of the Northwest Lumber Co., under whose auspices it is being exhibited, and great credit is due to that gentleman, as the exhibit will have a strong effect to dispel the erroneous impression that has been spread abroad in the United Kingdom, that the Northwest is a treeless country.—Winnipeg Times.

Running the Lachine Rapids in the Dark.

Big John Canadian, the well known Caughnawaga pilot, ran the Lachine rapids along with seven other Indians at two o'clock one morning last week in a boat 22 feet long by four feet beam. Big John was delighted at the performance and says that this is the first time that the rapids have been run in the dark. The people of Caughnawaga attempted to dissuade John and his party from the enterprise, but John had the utmost confidence in his powers, knowing, as he states, every stone and current in the rapids.

The Ideal of a Model.

That model of journalistic ability and neatness, the Peterborough Review, has had its weekly edition enlarged lately so that it is now not only one of the largest but the most newsy and readable papers in the Dominion. Our namesake is our ideal of what a model newspaper should be. Its success is apparent; may it always continue so.—Madoc Review

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

A TRIMMING POLICY.

Those who watch the movements of political thought will not fail to observe that the leaders of the Liberal party are striving to catch the breeze of popular opinion and trim their sails according to it.—Ottawa Sun (Ind.)

WHY?

It is all very well now for Mr. Mackenzie to be made the subject of fulsome adulation, but if he was as deserving of the confidence of the "Reform" party as Sir Richard says, why was he supplanted in a manner that was as cruel as it was undeserved?—London Free Press.

AN N. P. BENEFIT.

The extent of the growth of the trade between the upper and lower provinces is nowhere better illustrated than at St. John, N. B., where the increase of railway business has necessitated the extension of the freight accommodation to dimensions far beyond anything that could have been anticipated some years ago.—Montreal Herald (Reform).

A CONVERT TO PROTECTION.

It seems fair that those who live and spend their money in Guelph should be given some advantage over those who live and spend their money elsewhere.—Guelph Mercury (Reform).

ANOTHER TWO-FACED SHIELD.

It is quite plain to cultivated minds like that of Sir Richard Cartwright that Mr. Blake may without offence say one thing as a lawyer and the direct opposite as a statesman.—Hamilton Spectator.

A NEW MARK TAPLEY.

Even if it be a fact that the Reform party is not strengthening its hold upon the popular mind, it is clear that the hold which the Conservative party has long had upon it is steadily weakening.—Port Hope Guide (Ref).

NOT COMMITTED.

It is something new to hear a fossilized Tory like Sir Richard Cartwright lifting up his voice in favour of Canadian independence, or anything that looks like Canadian independence, but it is abundantly evident that what he says on that subject in no way commits the Reform party, whose leader is an avowed imperial federationist. With Sir Richard pulling one way, and the leader of the party pulling another, it is clear that very little progress will be made in either direction.—Toronto Telegram (Indep).

THAT TERRIBLE N.P.

The Mail having playfully declared that the reformers have not yet held the National Policy responsible for the Wall Street crash, the London Advertiser hastens to supply the omission with the assertion that "There is little doubt that the spirit of selfishness engendered by a highly protective tariff in the United States had a great deal to do with bringing about the Wall Street crash." We may direct the attention of our contemporary to the fact that the Oriental Bank in London has failed in three weeks and caused the insolvency of many banking and mercantile firms. Is this difficulty also to be attributed to the National policy.—Montreal Gazette.

CHAPTER X.—CONTINUED.

She paused, but the only response was a deep groan, and Hannah shrouded her face in her arms.

"Hannah, did my mother ever injure you—ever harm you in any way?"

"Yes—she caused me to steal—and I shall hate her as long as I live. I was as honest as an angel, until she came that freezing night—so many years ago—and showed me by her efforts, her anxiety to get the paper—how valuable it was. Besides, it was on her account that my nephew went to destruction; and I was sure all the blame and suspicion would fall on her. It seemed so clear that she stole the paper. I knew Mr. Hargrove gave her a copy of it—and I only wanted to sell the paper itself to the old general in Europe—because I was poor, and had not money enough to stop work. I have not had a happy day since;—my conscience has tormented me. I have carried a mountain of lead upon my soul, day and night—and at last when Peleg came, and I was about to get my gold—the Lord interfered and took it out of my hands. Oh! it is an awful thing to shut your eyes and stop your ears and run down a steep place to meet the devil who is waiting at the bottom for you—and to feel yourself suddenly jerked back by something which you know Almighty God has sent to stop you? He sent that lightning to burn up the paper, and I feel that his curse will follow me to my grave."

"Not if you earnestly repent, and pray for His forgiveness."

Hannah raised her gray head, and gazed incredulously at the pale delicate face,—into the violet eyes that watched her with almost tender compassion.

"Oh, child! when our hands are tied, and we are so helpless we can't do any more mischief,—who believes in our repentance?"

"I do, Hannah;—and how much more merciful is God?"

"You don't mean that you would ever trust me—ever believe in me again?"

Her hand caught the white muslin dress, and her haggard, wrinkled face was full of eager supplication.

"Yes, Hannah, I would. I do not believe you will ever steal again. Suppose the lightning had struck you as well as the tree where you hid the stolen paper,—what do you think would have become of your poor, wicked soul? You intended to sell that paper to a person who hates my mother, and who would have used it to injure her, but she is in God's hands,—and you ought to be glad that this sin at least was prevented. In a few days you are going away, far out to the west, you say,—where we shall probably never see or hear from you again, unless you choose to write us. Until you are gone, I shall keep all this secret. Mrs. Lindsay never shall know anything about it, but if Mr. Hargrove believes my mother took that paper, it is my duty to her to tell him the truth;—and this I must do after you leave us. I promise he shall suspect nothing while you remain here. Can you ask me to do more than this for you?"

Hannah was crying passionately, and attempted no answer, save by drawing the girl closer to her, as if she wanted to take the slender figure in her brawny arms.

"I am sorry for you,—sorry for my dear mother,—sorry for myself. The storm came and put an end to the mischief you meant to do,—so let us be thankful. You say my mother has a copy, and it would have injured her if the original paper had been sold. Then you have harmed only yourself. Don't cry,—and don't say anything more. Let it all rest; I shall never speak to you again on the subject. Hannah, will you please help me back to the house? My foot pains me dreadfully,—and I begin to feel sick and faint."

In the mellow orange light that had climbed the sky, and was flooding the world with a mild glory, wherein the wan moon waned ghostly,—the old woman led the white figure towards the Parsonage. When they reached the little gate Regina grasped the supporting arm, and a deadly pallor overspread her features.

"Where are you, Hannah? I cannot see—"

The blue eyes closed—she tottered,—and as Hannah caught and bore her up a swift, heavy step on the gravel caused her to glance over her shoulder.

"What is the matter, Aunt Hannah? You look ill and frightened. Is that,—Minnie's child?"

"Hush!—our game is all up. For God's sake go away until seven o'clock—then I will explain. Don't make a noise, Peleg. I must get her into the house without waking any one. If Mr. Hargrove should see us, we are ruined."

As Hannah strode swiftly toward the glass door, bearing the slight form in her stout arms, the stranger pressed forward, eagerly scrutinizing the girl's face; but at this juncture Hero, barking violently, sprang down the walk, and the intruder hastily retreated to the churchyard, securing the gate after he passed through.

CHAPTER XI.

The steamer sailed promptly on the Thursday subsequent to Mrs. Lindsay's departure from the Parsonage, but she had been absent ten days, detained by the illness of a friend in Boston.

Impatiently her return was anticipated by every member of the household, and when a telegram announced that she might be expected on the following morning, general rejoicing succeeded the gloom which had hung chill and lowering over the diminished family circle. Under Hannah's faithful cautious treatment Regina had sufficiently recovered from the effects of the sprain to walk once more without much pain, though she still limped perceptibly; but a nameless, formless foreboding of some impending evil,—some baleful influence,—some grievous calamity hovering near, rendered her particularly anxious for Mrs. Lindsay's comforting presence.

The condition of the church, which was undergoing a complete renovation, as well as the repairing of the steeple, prevented the usual services, and this compulsory rest and leisure seemed singularly opportune for Mr. Hargrove, who had been quite indisposed and feeble for some days. His eyes, which had long resented the exaggerated taxation imposed upon them by years of study, had recently rebelled outright, and he spoke of the necessity of visiting New York to consult an eminent oculist, who, Mrs. Lindsay wrote, had gone to Canada, but would return in September, when he hoped to examine and undertake the treatment of her brother's eyes.

The Housewife.

A popular domestic journal for American homes, will be sent for one year free to every lady who will send at once the names and address of 10 married ladies, and 50 cents (no stamps taken). Best paper for either young or old housekeepers in existence. This offer is made only to secure names to whom to send sample copies, as we know every lady who once sees THE HOUSEWIFE will subscribe for it at once. Regular price $1 per year. Address, the HOUSEWIFE, Rochester, N. Y.

THE LADIES' COLUMN.

A LADY STENOGRAPHER.

A lady of Utica earns $7,000 to $8,000 a year as a stenographer. The New York World asks: "Shall she go back to the sweet and sacred domestic hearth and sew on buttons?"

OPEN EMBROIDERY.

A great deal of open embroidery in Irish point, in guipure, in antique lace patterns and in old English designs, is issued for trimming children's dresses, both of silk and white goods, and of these embroideries a very large assortment is shown.

SIMPLICITY IN FASHIONS.

In spite of the large importation of elaborate costumes composed of several costly fabrics, plainly made dresses all of one material, of good quality but with little trimming, are seen everywhere, and are mostly worn by women who are considered as authorities in matters of dress and fashion.

WOMEN AS TRAM-CAR CONDUCTRESSES.

In Valpariso, Chili, the street car conductors became cross grained for some reason, and did not give satisfaction. The company put young women in their places, and now there is hardly a vacant seat to be had in their cars. The women have proved an immense success.

THE COIFFURE.

The prettiest style at present of arranging the coiffure where the hair is worn high is to coil the locks from the back into a French twist, then at each side of the twist upon the crown of the head the hair is arranged in the shape of a figure 8, and pressed closely to the twist. A more dressy fashion shapes the hair close to the top of the twist into Japanese coils through which jewel-tipped pins are run.

ANOTHER VIEW OF EDUCATION FOR WOMEN.

Says a paper, speaking of the education of women: "Part of the drill for every school ought to be the reception, by a wife in an old dress, at a dinner of boiled beef and carrots, of an unlooked for guest, thoughtlessly brought home by a reckless husband."

HATS.

Ladies who have a liking for hats worn over the forehead will be glad to learn that the old favourite, the English walking hat, is likely to be revived this spring. The brim is about the same as of old. A hat that is certain from its jaunty appearance to find favour with young ladies, has a square crown and a wide brim, looped one side and faced with leaf brown velvet. Loops of velvet ribbon form a rosette in front of the crown, and two ostrich tips of the favourite beige tint fall gracefully at the side.

HIGHER EDUCATION FOR WOMEN.

In these days of hot discussions on the subject of higher education of women, the following sentence from Hannah Moore on the highest education of women—as we may call that which she so well defines—are interesting:—

I call education not what smothers a woman with accomplishments, but that which tends to consolidate a firm and regular system of character, that which tends to form a friend, a companion, and a wife. I call education not that which is made up of shreds and patches of useless arts, but that which inculcates principles, polishes tastes, regulates temper, cultivates reason, subdues passions, directs the feelings, habituates to reflections, and trains to self-denial—that which refers all actions, feelings, sentiments, tastes, and passions to the love and fear of God.

BELLEVILLE.

DROWNING ACCIDENT.—About 11 o'clock on Monday morning a boy about 8 years of age, son of Mr. Wm. Gordon Baker, fell into the river from a wall adjoining the upper bridge and was drowned. The body has not yet been recovered.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From our Own Correspondent.

TEA MEETING.—The Bible Christians of this place held their annual tea meeting on May 24th. Several speakers were present and the Church was crowded to its utmost capacity. After the speaking they all proceeded to the church shed, which was fitted up for the occasion, and where la sumptious tea was prepared by the ladies. The proceeds of the tea amounted to nearly $50.

VERY ILL.—We are very sorry to have to relate that our esteemed friend Robert Graham is now laying very ill with very little hopes of his recovery.

ENTERTAINMENT.—On the evening of May 24th, Mr. Clancy gave his very popular entertainment in the school house here. It consisted of illustrations of American scenery in the far west. Mr. Clancy intends giving us another entertainment in October, and it is hoped that he will have a full house.

T. V. C.—The works on the canal at Burleigh Falls are progressing favourably. A large scow loaded with coal passed through the canal here en route to the works. There are now about 50 men at work, but as soon as the water falls sufficiently to go on with the work, the force will be increased to about 300.

SCOTLAND.

DUNCAN M'NICOL, the well-known Bute poet, has published another volume of poems, entitled "Glen Fruin and Other Poems."

OWING to the scarcity of whalebone its price is still very high. A Dundee firm sold a quantity recently at £2,250 per ton.

THE new sacred cantata "Jesus of Nazareth" was given in Free St. John's Church, Dundee, by the choir on the 23rd April.

THE Lauderdale Agricultural Society held a show of bulls the other day, at which the entries were not numerous. The first prize was taken by Mr. Elliot, Chapelmains, and the second by Dr. Gibb, Boon.

ON the 23rd April two ladies, while out walking at Papdale, near Kirkwall water works, were attacked by three cows and seriously injured.

THE first of the Scotch sealing fleet, the "Jan Mayen," arrived at the Orkneys on the 30th of April. The Scotch vessels are reported as having been unsuccessful, but the Norwegians have had a prosperous season.

A LARGE quantity of silver plate was found in the Harelaw Dam on the 19th of April. The articles were found to belong to the bankrupt estate of a deceased Glasgow spirit merchant and had been placed in the dam by some one for "safe keeping."

AT Ayr on the 25th, April the Right Rev. W. S. Wilson, Bishop of Glasgow and Galloway was presented with a pastrol staff and Episcopal ring, in commemoration of the completion of his 15th year as bishop of the diocese.

AT a recent meeting of the ministers of Elgin attendance was called to the prevalence of profanity in the town, and it was agreed that a statement should be read from their various pulpits on the subject. This statement was read on April 27th from all the pulpits there.

THE reception of the French guests at Edinburgh has made an excellent impression. M. Fallieres, Minister of Education, in his speech at the congress of Scientific Societies, made a graceful allusion to it, as cementing the ties of old friendship between France and that noble land Scotland, "whose history was formerly so often connected with our own."

LOCAL NEWS

A Sporting Excursion.

A party of young men, consisting of Messrs. Charles McClelland, C. Clementi and G. Clementi, went north this morning to enjoy the sport of fishing at Burleigh.

Court of Revision.

The Court of Revision held its first session on Tuesday evening. There were present, Councillors Millar (Chairman), Davidson and Yelland. Eighteen appeals were disposed of, and the Court adjourned until Friday evening.

Missing.

A young man named W. McIndoe, of Cavan, has been missing since Sunday morning. He is about twenty four years of age, and wore a dark suit of clothes. He has a light moustache. His father was in town this morning making inquiries concerning him.

The Probabilities.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, counting from one o'clock this morning, as reported from the Toronto observatory, are as follows:—Fresh to strong north-easterly to northerly winds, fine, decidedly cooler weather.

Science and Prayer.

The Rev. Dr. McVicar, Principal of the Presbyterian College, Montreal, will deliver a lecture on Science and Prayer, on Friday, May 30th, at 8 p.m., at the George Street Methodist Church, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Paul's Church, in aid of the organ fund. Tickets, 25 Cents.

Luminous Paint.

Mr. J. A. Wilkinson has filed a caveat at Ottawa for a luminous paint, which, we understand, is especially suitable for buoys, and which will be a valuable article for mariners when it comes into general use. We are also informed that the testing of the material has been left in the hands of Mr. T. Rubidge, C. E., of the Trent Valley Canal survey.

Medical.

Dr. Fred. H. Sawyers, who lately was anted the license of the Royal College of hysicians, London, England, and who has been visiting the hospitals there and on the continent, is at present staying with his friends here. It is a pleasure indeed to chronicle the success of a Peterborough boy in being admitted a licentiate of the greatest medical institution in Great Britain, and we wish Dr. Sawers a most successful future.

An Interesting Match.

A matched game of pyramid pool was played on Tuesday evening by Mr. A. D. Faucher and Mr. E. H. Heugill, of Montreal, in Faucher's billiard parlour. There was a large number of persons present to witness the match, and it was a very interesting one. The first game was played very carefully, but it was won by Mr. Heugill. The second and third games were won by Mr. Faucher, and Mr. Heugill secured the fourth. Mr. Faucher won the fifth and Mr. Heugill the sixth, and the match was therefore an even one at the end of the sixth game. The seventh game was the deciding one, and it was a close one, but Mr. Faucher won it by two balls and he was thus the winner of the match. The billiard parlour was lighted by the electric light which proved to be first-class for the play. Mr. Faucher has also an electric lamp in the bar room.

Railway Notes.

The Globe of May 24th says that in conversation with Mr. Van Horne yesterday, a reporter learned that the opening of the Ontario & Quebec road was delayed by the noncompletion of the telegraph lines, but that this difficulty will be surmounted, and that shippers might be sure that the road would be open for freight business in less than two weeks from to-day. The ballasting of the road is nearly completed, and the stations will be ready for business during the coming week. Passenger business will be commenced as soon as a thorough inspection of the road has been completed. The rolling stock is now in the hands of the company, with the exception of the sleeping cars, which are being rapidly shipped from Dayton, Ohio, where they are being built. Everything will be completed in such a manner that when it is opened for passenger traffic it can rank from the first as a first-class line.

CRICKET MATCHES.

Peterborough and Lakefield, and Lakefield and Campbellford.

A cricket match was played at Lakefield on Monday between the club of that village and the Peterborough club, which resulted in a victory for the Peterborough club by two runs and eight wickets. On Saturday, May 24th, a match was played at Campbellford between the Lakefield and Campbellford clubs, which was won by the Lakefield club by thirty-nine runs.

Low Temperature.

Last night the Rev. V. Clementi's self-registering thermometer fell to 31°, being one degree below the freezing point.

Our Bands.

We have been asked when our bands are going to start their summer open-air concerts. The weather is now sufficiently warm to admit of both bands each playing in public one night a week—say the City Band on Monday and the Fire Brigade Band on Friday. The citizens, no doubt, expect music at least one night a week from each band, and we sincerely hope they will at once (they are always obliging) make a commencement for the season.

A Runaway.

On Tuesday afternoon, shortly before six o'clock, Mr. M. Quinlan's horse, which was being driven by a boy named McGarrity, ran away. The horse was turning on to Hunter street off George street when a brace gave way and the inside of the shafts fell down, which frightened the animal and caused it to run. The boy was thrown out of the buggy and his forehead struck the ground. He was slightly injured on the head, and also on one wrist and on both knees. The horse ran some distance before it was stopped, but it did itself little injury. The buggy was badly damaged.

Growth in Grace.

Growth in grace manifests itself by simplicity; that is, a greater naturalness of character. There will be more usefulness and less noise, more tenderness of conscience and less scrupulosity. There will be more peace, more humility. When the full corn is in the ear it bends down because it is full. The management of "Habiliment Hall" are not given to boasting, nothing but plain facts are submitted to the public from time to time for consideration, and these facts can be illustrated by paying a visit to the premier clothing house. When we say that our stock of tweeds, coatings, and gents' furnishings stands at the head of all competitors in Peterborough for quality and variety we speak within the truth, and parties in want of Spring and Summer clothing will study their own interests by paying this establishment a visit. ANDREW MCNEIL, Tailor and Clothier, George Sreet.

True Blues.

There will be a meeting of True Blues to-morrow evening.

Bodega.

Fine Spanish wines, Ports and Sherries drawn from the wood, at William Chamberlain's Restaurant.

Fresh Fish.

Trout, White Fish, Maskinonge, Black Bass and Finnan Haddies fresh at Carton Bros. grocery.

Only One Golden Lion.

Carpets and Lace Curtains. A very extensive display of these goods may be seen at FAIR, VANEVERY & Co's. sign of the Golden Lion.

P. B. C.

The date of the Boating Club concert has not yet been definitely fixed, but it is expected that Miss Clench will be able to come about the 1st of July.

Another Telephone.

Mr. D. Belleghem has found it necessary, owing to the large increase of business, to get a telephone put into his wareroom, so that he may communicate with his customers without their having the trouble of going to his place to find him. Those having hurried orders will be serving their own interests by calling him up.

The O. & Q. Buildings.

Mr. Hood, the contractor for the Ontario & Quebec station and freight sheds, is pushing matters on the shed. The station ground has been staked out by Mr. J. H. Barber and work has been commenced on it. Mr. H. Sherwood has the sub-contract for the mason work on the station. The western end of the station is staked close to the high water mark.

Smith's Market.

White Fish and Trout.

Tomatoes, Cucumbers, Radishes, Lettuce, Mint, Parsely, Rhubarb, Onions, Asparagus, Spinach, etc.

Strawberries, Pine Apples, Bananas, Oranges and Lemons.

Maple Sugar, Maple Syrup, Raspberry and Current Jams by the pound or case.

Strawberries and Fresh oysters received every other day.

Full line of everything fresh and nice for Saturday.

Tomato and cabbage plants.

Pencil Points.

—Cool winds.

—The cells were untenanted last night.

—There was a "blank record" at the Police Court this morning.

—There was an average attendance on the market this morning.

—The Duncan C. Ross combination gave a performance in Lindsay on Tuesday night.

—Capt. Atkins commanded at the Saved Army meeting last night. One prisoner of war was taken.

—A Salvation Army convert (from Lindsay) related his experience at the Saved army meeting on Tuesday night.

—A boy playing with fire nearly set fire to Mr. Smart's stable on McDonnell street on Tuesday afternoon. It was extinguished by water carried in pails.

NEWS OF GENERAL GORDON.

The Gallant General Safe and Sound—Only wants a Few Troops.

LONDON, May 27.—Sir Henry Gordon said to-day concerning his brother that the latest news received from General Gordon was that he had no fear as to his personal safety. He could leave Khartoum by a safe route any day, but would not until better Government in the Eastern Soudan had been established, and the safety of the inhabitants from the rebels assured. At the time of Gen. Gordon's news to Sir Henry he was engaged in a project against the slave trade in the Upper Congo. Gen. Gordon considered a large British expedition needless; he only wanted a few hundred English troops to co-operate with the gunboats after the rising of the Nile to clear the country of rebels from Berber to Khartoum.

OTTAWA.—A gentleman writes from Ottawa that after using three bottles of Golden Fruit Bitters he was completely cured of dyspepsia and indigestion.

THEY ALL DO IT.—Everybody uses Teaberry for the Teeth and Breath, the newest, brightest, coolest little toilet gem extant. Try a sample.

AFTER years of patient research and unremitting toil, Dr. Van-Buren discovered in a little plant, growing on the hill-sides of his native land, medical virtues of a most positive kind. Careful experimentation has enabled him to formulate from its hidden sap a remedy that has no equal in permanently curing all forms of kidney disease, and which is now known all the world over as Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure.

Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy.

A marvellous cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria, Canker mouth, and Headache. With each bottle there is an ingenious nasal Injector for the more successful treatment of these complaints without extra charge. Price 50 cts. Sold by J. D. Tully wholesale, retail agent.

THE President of the National Artillery Society has issued an appeal in England for £5,000 to enable the society to accept the invitation of the Canadian Government to compete in the contests at Quebec next September.

A Life Saving Present.

Mr. M. E. Allison, Hutchinson, Kan.: Saved his life by a simple trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, for Consumption, which caused him to procure a large bottle, that completely cured him, when Doctors, change of climate and everything else had failed. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Severe Coughs, and all Throat and Lung diseases, it is guaranteed to cure. Trial bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's drug store. Large size $1.00.

TEN men were placed on trial on Wednesday at St. Thomas charged with having taken part in the riot in this city on Good Friday. No evidence was offered in their defence, and the jury returned a verdict of guilty against seven of the accused, the remaining three being acquitted.

An Answer Wanted.

Can any one bring us a case of Kidney or Liver Complaint that Electric Bitters will not speedily cure? We say they can not, as thousands of cases already permanently cured and who are daily recommending Electric Bitters will prove. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Weak Back, or any urinary complaints quickly cured. They purify the blood, regulate the bowels, and act directly on the diseased parts. Every bottle guaranteed. For sale at 50c a bottle by Taylor and McDonald.

TAKE YOUR PRESCRIPTIONS and recipes to MORGAN'S Drug Store and have them accurately compounded to your satisfaction. Find MORGAN'S Drug Store.

IT isn't extravagant to claim that Zo-pe-sa is a sure cure for Dyspepsia and the Liver. It is a regular prescription of a doctor of large practice, and for these troubles it is as good as the doctor himself on the spot. Ask J. D. Tully.

OH! how tired and weak I feel I dont believe I will ever get through the Spring house-cleaning? Oh yes you will if you take a bottle or two of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters to purify your blood and tone up the system. In large bottles 50 cents.

NOT another Pill shall go down my throat again, said a citizen, "when I can get such a prompt and pleasant cure for my Bilious attacks, as Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters. It renders the Blood Pure and Cool and makes a splended Spring Medicine. Large Bottles 50 cents.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Taylor & Macdonald.

Why So? Ask the wholesale merchants who sell to the retailers, and the retailers who sell to the public. Such a disasterous Spring, such a late, chilly, flooded, bedraggled season, hasn't been known for years. Merchants generally havent bought extensively, as the couldn't see any chance to sell again, and so the whole trade has languished, and stacks of Spring Goods have accumulated, and grown larger, and still larger, for want of demand, until manufacturers and importers have become frightened.

The result may be seen in our store this week. We are actually able to offer, before the season has much more than fairly opened, a complete line of the FINEST AND MOST FASHIONABLE SPRING GOODS, at prices that would astonish you.

Visit our store to-day and every day next week, and we promise to show you goods at prices that was never before known in the history of the trade.

Every department is brimfull of goods, which must be sold and turned into money.

Pure Bred Poultry.
THE SUBSCRIBER is now prepared to dispose of SITTINGS OF EGGS from the following varieties of Poultry:—Plymouth Rocks, Houdans, Black Spanish, White Leghorns, Buff Cochin, Silver Grey Dorkings, Silver Spangled Hamburgs, Pekin Ducks and Bronze Turkeys.
All the above varieties were either first or second prize birds at the fall and winter exhibitions. I have also added since the exhibitions some very fine birds of different varieties to my stock. Having bred the greater part of the varieties for three years, I think I know what suits the country.
Every pains has been taken to keep the stock pure, by keeping the birds in different yards, therefore the public can rely on a good article, either in Eggs or Chicks, second to none but in price, any and all of the above varieties being offered at $1.50 per 13, or 26 for $2.50, excepting the Ducks and Turkeys.
Any orders for eggs must be accompanied with the price. I would be glad to fill a large order, if required, with different kinds.

UNIVERSITY APPOINTMENTS.

THE Globe, in what, from its position in the paper, we must assume to be an editorial, informs us of the fact that Mr. Alfred Baker, B. A. (sic), has been appointed successor to Mr. Vines as Dean of University College Residence. We do not object to information in editorial columns, even if we have been previously acquainted with the facts; what we wish particularly to animadvert upon is the statement that "as to the wisdom of the choice there can be no doubt." To us it appears a clinching argument to show the worthlessness of such a Minister of Education as the Hon. G. W. Ross, M. P. P. Mr. Baker may have had "long experience in connection with the University," but he has had absolutely none whatever in connexion with Residence; he may possess "good business habits," but he knows scarce anything of the deeper parts of college life; and which, we ask, of these qualifications are apt to fit a man more peculiarly for the task of governing University College Residence? The ideal Dean should be a young man—that he may better understand the temper of those he rules; a married man—that by some little entertaining he may come to know those with whom he is daily in contact; a liberally educated man—that he may be less apt to misunderstand the various tastes of the undergraduates; and, above all, a highly refined and cultured gentleman. We venture to assert that few will allow Mr. Alfred Baker, M. A., to possess the requirements of this ideal.

THE "VANCOUVER"

Arrival of the Monster New Dominion Liner at Montreal.

The Montreal Star says:—The new Dominion line steamship "Vancouver" arrived in port after her first trip across the Atlantic shortly after two o'clock on Monday. The new steamship, which is 5,700 tons register, 300 tons larger than the "Parisian," is built on very much the same lines as the "Sarnia" and "Oregon," of the same line. Like Lady Jane, the general appearance of the vessel is more massive than beautiful, display having been subordinated in the utmost degree to seaworthiness. She is built with a straight stern, is turtle-decked forward and aft, with a commodious promenade deck amidships, over the deck cabins, which, unlike those of the 'Parisian,' are extended to the sides of the vessel. She is shiprigged and has four masts and two funnels. As to passenger accommodation nothing superior if equal can be found in any other vessel of the Montreal fleet. Her saloon, which is amidships, is light and airy. The walls are fitted in polished bird's eye maple relieved with æsthetic painted designs and pillars en relief of white and gold and with rich gold capitals. The furniture is upholstered in crimson. A gallery open above the saloon contains a cozy ladies' saloon fitted with gorgeous furniture upholstered in a rich blue. The ship is illuminated throughout with the incandescent electric light, 40 of which illuminate the saloon. On her way up from Quebec, the "Vancouver" accomplished a run of 16 knots per hour. From the Mail we learn that this collossal steamship was thrown open to guests of the managing directors, Messrs. David Torrance & Co., on Thursday afternoon, when the vessel was illuminated all over by a myriad of electric lights. It was like passing through fairy-land to take a glance into the saloon, where were forty incandescent lamps in operation, and where an immense throng of ladies and gentlemen were collected at a most agreeable afternoon tea, most hospitably and grandly dispensed by the hosts. This entertainment was a new and most commendable departure from the former practice of steamship companies of giving inaugural banquets on board a new ship to gentlemen exclusively, and it is hoped it will be followed hereafter.

THE DERBY.

The Jockeys of the Winners—Excitement at the Finish—Stakes Divided—The Betting.

The race did not excite as great interest as usual, as many of the best horses took no part in it. The excitement at the finish as Harvester and St. Gatien (in whose name, by the way, by a typographical error, an l was substituted for a t) came in neck and neck. Rumours are afloat that Queen Adelaide, had her rider so wished, could have past under the wire ahead of Harvester with ease. St. Gatien was ridden by Wood, Harvester by Loates, and Queen Adelaide by Webb. The betting was 2 to 1 against Adelaide, 10 to 1 against St. Gatien, with Harvester not quoted. The stakes were divided between the owners of Gatien and Harvester.

NORWOOD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.—The 24th of May was celebrated in grand style here. On account of the beautiful weather a large crowd of people was in the village to witness the attractions of the day. The opening of the sports was a lacrosse match between the senior and junior clubs of the village. The junior club was allowed three goals to commence on, and although they were defeated, yet they showed that they were of the right material. A foot ball match then took place between the pupils of the high school and the lacrosse team, which lasted about an hour and thirty minutes, during which time neither side gained a victory, although the ball came very near passing through the goal several times, and it was evident that the high school boys had the best of it. On account of the time being up, the match could not be played out. Early in the afternoon the monstrous calithumpian procession emerged from the bowels of the earth and paraded the principal streets. Conspicious in the procession were the "Hastings Band," "The Negro Troupe," "The Country Dance" and "The Irish Wedding." The remainder of the day was spent in Caledonian games, etc. In the evening a promenade concert took place which was a grand success both financially and otherwise. The audience had the pleasure of hearing some of our leading singers, viz., Mrs. Chambers and Mrs. Bowman, of Peterborough, Mr. Wensley and Miss Fanning, of Belleville, besides some of our best local talent. An instrumental quartette by Messrs. Stickles, Harper, Dafoe and Pearce was loudly applauded. Thus was brought to a close one of the best celebrations ever held in Norwood.

LACROSSE.—The Norwood senior lacrosse boys defeated the Madoc team in 45 minutes, taking three games out of five on Monday 26th. The match was played in Madoc.

NEW STORE.—Mr. Lane of Trenton, has started a 7c. store in Buck Bros.' old stand, WEATHER.—There was a heavy frost on the night of the 27th. The weather still continues cold.

LECTURE.—Principal Grant, D.D., of Queen's University, Kingston, will deliver his celebrated and popular lecture entitled 'Two trips across the Rockies,' in the Presbyterian church, on Monday evening, June 2nd.

O. & Q. RAILWAY.—The O. & Q. Railway station is about done, and the telegraphic communication with the building will soon be completed, so that as soon as the station master is appointed, freight for the village and other places near by, will be brought in. Through freight trains are already running.

EXCOMMUNICATION.

PITTSBURG, May 28.—In the Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church to-day the report of the committee condemning the liquor traffic licensed by Government and providing for the excommunication of such Church members as deal in spifituous liquors and rent property to tavern-keepers was, after a heated debate unanimously adopted.

END OF THE FALL RIVER STRIKE.

FALL RIVER, May 28.—The spinners of the union mills returned to work at reduced wages this morning. Some of the border city mills strikers also returned. At Wampanoag, Chace and Slade mills the strikers offered to return if taken back in a body. The manufacturers will not agree to this.

LORD EUSTON AND HIS WIFE.

LONDON, May 28.—The Earl of Euston is about to apply for a divorce on the ground that the Countess has been guilty of adultery. The Countess' friends say no evidence can be produced against her, and that the Earl wishes for a divorce to enable him to marry an heiress.

THE FRANCO-CHINESE CONVENTION

PARIS, May 28.—The recent Franco-Chinese convention meets with but little favour in many quarters. Forty-seven petitions for the impeachment of Li Hung Chang have been sent to the Emperor. Li Hung has asked permission to retire from public life.

THE IRISH NATIONAL LEAGUE.

DUBLIN, May 28.—At a meeting of the Irish National League to-day Timothy Harrington, the secretary, mentioned the fact that whereas two or three years ago from one to two thousand pounds were received from America, they were now obliged to depend almost exclusively upon the funds contributed in Ireland.

MR. SARGENT.

BERLIN, May 28.—Mr. Sargent, the United States Minister, has returned to Berlin.

ENGLAND AND THE SOUDAN.

QUIET PREVAILING.

LONDON, May 27.—The Governor of Dongola telegraphs to Cairo that he has visited the disturbed districts and persuaded the people to remain quiet. The Governor engaged to pacify the entire Soudan if several thousand troops are sent him.

THE GOVERNOR OF DONGOLA.

Hussein Ben Khalifa Pasha, the Governor of Berber and Dongala, has rendered the English signal service in the Soudan. He is a son of the old Prince of the Ababdes. His father surrendered to Mehemet Ali, and received as a reward an estate situated in Upper Egypt. After the disaster of General Hicks, when the situation at Khartoum became critical, the Khedive appointed him Governor of Berber and Dongola, and made him a Pasha. Hussein Ben Khalifa then proceeded to Berber. There can be no doubt that the presence of Hussein Pasha had great influence, and procured a period of tranquility for the tribes of the Ababdes and the Bishareen. Indeed, it is chiefly due to Hussein Pasha that General Gordon found the Khartoum road open.

TRIBAL HOSTILITY TO THE MAHDI.

Messengers arrived at Suakin from Berber report that the Mahdi is prevented from leaving Kordofan owing to the hostility of several tribes.

A Dangerously Successful Hoax.

NORWALK, Conn., May 28.—A paper here published an article on Friday relative to a long run on one of the oldest banks in the town, which was intended as a joke, the article referring to a gravel bank. Scores of excited depositors rushed to the Norwalk Savings Bank and drew out $30,000 before the hoax was generally known.

DRYING LUMBER.

A new process for drying lumber in just now attracting attention. It is said to be the most effectual and economical method ever practiced. No kiln is necessary, although where a shop has one it can be utilized to an advantage. The process has the great advantage of keeping the surface of the lumber moist during the drying; this holds the pores open, obviates all tendency of cracking and leaves the albumen free to perform its functions. In ordinary kiln drying the albumen is injured or destroyed, and the surface dries first, thus sealing the juices inside, to escape eventually through cracks caused by the uneven expansion of the wood. Some readers may perhaps be surprised to learn that the process consists in surrounding the wood to be dried with common salt; but those who are acquainted with the peculiar power for extracting moisture which salt possesses will not be at all astonished at this novel and ingenious utilization of this power.—Builders' Journal

Another Log Story.

The Mobile, Ala., Register says: Recently, the 66 inch circular saw at Stoutz & Co.'s mill, running 800 revolutions per minute, struck something in a pine log, and flew into a number of piece, The engine was stopped, and an examination of the log showed that the saw had struck a six-inch iron shell in the tree, cutting off enough to show the powder inside. The slab and one plank had been sawed off, and thit was the third cut, showing how deep the shell was embedded. The log was cut from the land in the vicinity of Spanish Fort, and it is believed that this shell was fired into the tree during the terrific bombardment of that place during the late war. It was fortunate that the shell did not explode.

A New Principle.

The principle upon which Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor acts is entirely new. It does noes not sink deep into the flesh, thereby producing soreness, but acts directly upon the external covering of the corn, separates it from the under layer, removes the direct pressure from the pars, and at once effects a radical cure, without any pain or discomfort. Let those who are suffering from corns, yet sceptical of treatment, try it, and by the completeness of the cure they will be ready to recommend Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor to others.

Can't Be Beaten.

It is a fact that Nerviline cannot be surpassed by any combination for the relief of pain. The reason is a good one. Nerviline contains the best, most powerful, and the latest discovered remedies. It is a magic pain cure. Rheumatism, stiff neck, cramps, neuralgia, colic, in fact all pain, internal, external, and local, are subdued in a few minutes. Go at once to Ormond & Walsh's drug store and get a trial bottle. It will only cost you 10 cents, and you can at a small cost test the great pain cure, Polson's Nerviline. Large bottles only 25 cts.

FALLEN FLAT.

SIR R. CARTWRIGHT'S tentative suggestion of "Independence" as a new plank in the Reform platform, which is so shattered as urgently to need reconstruction, has fallen very flat. Not a single organ of the party of any importance has, as far as we have seen, even the coolest welcome, the faintest praise, to bestow upon it. The leading Reform journal, indeed, mentions that the suggestion affords food for reflection, but it very carefully abstains from giving to the anxiously expectant universe the result of its reflection on the subject. Others of the Reform press are less reticent, but afford no more encouragement to the idea, pointing out objections to its adoption, and difficulties that would accompany such a step. There seems to be a very general opinion, in which the majority even of Reformers concur, that Canada has practically all the benefits of self-government, and that she has besides the advantage of being an integral portion of the British Empire, with all its power and prestige at her back. As this country has grown it has become more and more free from any direct control or coercion from the mother country, and since this gradual process is going on so satisfactorily, there is no impatience to sever a connection which is not irksome, which is decidedly advantageous, and of which we are proud. The Reformers with nothing to reform, will have to look out for some other plank with which to repair their very dilapidated platform.

AN IMMIGRATION FIELD.

THE Globe having found that it has gone too far in decrying Canada as a field for immigration, has made an attempt to undo part of the mischief that it has wrought in its bitter partizanship. As is ever the case, our contemporary will find that it is far easier to do mischief than to counteract the evil, but still we must accept, with some approval, its repentance even at the eleventh hour.

This tardy abandonment of its former unpatriotic course has been evoked by enquiry from an intending immigrant in England, who naturally could not reconcile the accounts of prosperous settlers with the constant detraction of the Globe. The leading Reform journal was thus "cornered," and had either to contradict the impartial testimony of a host of practical men, or to retreat from its false position. It chose as the least evil to do the latter, though with somewhat bad grace.

The Globe dwells at some length upon the exceptional advantages that Ontario possesses as a place for farmers, with some means, to make their homes. But it is also said that the other of the older provinces share in these advantages, and the enormous quantity of fertile land in our prairies of the North-West are pointed out. We no longer read of Texas or Kansas or Dakotah as preferable localities for British settlement. The truth seems at last to have dawned upon the Globe even as to our much vilified land regulations, for it now truly says that "there land can easily be obtained at a price which, to the English farmer, must seem merely nominal, and on conditions which he would regard as exceedingly easy." Though the policy of pushing forward our great railway has been described in such opprobrious terms, the Globe now says that the "area of most fertile land is easily reached by rail or water and possesses ample facilities for sending their produce to market," and again we are told that "although fertile land can be found almost anywhere, propinquity to a railroad adds much to its value." Thus the opening up of our great North-West by the C. P. R. is fully justified by this unwilling witness.

Even the temporary depression of business is now allowed to be evanescent and not peculiar to Canada. We learn from the Globe that "owing to causes which operate in the United States and other countries as in Canada, there is this year a depression in business and a want of sufficient employment for mechanics, operatives of all kinds, and town labourers." And again we are told that "a number of these emigrants belonged to the class which are now wanted in Canada to-day, and that instead of finding the ready employment at high wages which they say was promised them, they cannot find employment at all, and are compelled to apply to the charitable societies for food and shelter. Neither in the United States nor in Canada can people of that class hope to do well until business revives." Thus it seems that any difficulty in finding employment is not due to our much abused fiscal policy, but to causes also prevailing in other countries.

Our contemporary states truly, as far as it goes, that "many men who began life in Canada as farm servants are themselves large land owners and prosperous farmers to-day, and all steady and industrious men of that class may with reasonable certainty calculate on becoming land owners at no distant period."

This is no doubt correct, but neither as to the past nor the future, need there be this restriction to "farm servants." Among our most prosperous farmers are men who were neither farm servants nor farmers when many years ago they settled upon wild land, some being mechanics or tradesmen, who in spite of having more to learn, have developed into successful, well-to-do farmers.

The encouragement that the Globe now gives to the settlement of the country is nothing more than is proper, and would not call for any special mention, but for the lamentable fact that hitherto it has seemed to act upon the principle that it was bound to place any obstacle in the way of the progress of Canada if thereby it could obstruct the policy of the Conservative statesmen, whom the people of Canada have chosen to conduct their affairs. It is only right to welcome those who repent of doing amiss, and therefore we congratulate the Globe on its turning over this new leaf.

MR. GLADSTONE'S SPEECH.

THE London (England) Times, writing editorially on the debate on the motion of censure, thus characterizes Mr. Gladstone's speech :—

"It was expected that the Prime Minister would have a statement to lay before the House and the country which, whether satisfactory or not, would, at any rate, embody a policy. For these expectations Mr. Gladstone himself was mainly responsible. He repeatedly refused during the past ten days to give a plain answer to questions on the subject of General Gordon's position, and of the means to be adopted for his relief, on the ground that it was proper to wait for the detailed statement he would have to make in the debate on the vote of Censure. He has now spoken, and it is hardly too much to say that the emptiness and the irrelevance of his speech filled the most faithful of his followers with consternation. The exuberance of debating power the aggressive energy of invective, which Mr. Gladstone displayed on this perhaps as much as on any former occasion, failed to conceal even from the friendliest eyes the hollowness of his case. The impression produced on the House of Commons was one of deep disappointment, and that feeling, we believe, will be still stronger out of doors. The Prime Minister too plainly does not understand what is expected of him. He plunges into subtleties of argument; he revels in denunciations of his opponents. But the "detailed statement" of the policy of the Ministry, which had been promised, and on which criticism and enquiry were bidden to wait, has dwindled down to a reassertion that the Government are responsible for the personal safety of Gen. Gordon. Since it is notorious that the Government have no means of communicating with Gen. Gordon, and since it is apparent that, even if messages could pass into Khartoum, words would not stand in the place of deeds. Mr. Gladstone's acknowledgment of responsibility seems to amount, practically, to no more than this, that if disaster should befall Gen. Gordon in his isolated position, Ministers themselves will be ready to confess that they deserve the severest penalty that can be exacted by Parliament. In such an event the country would probably take the matter out of the hands of Ministers without regard for confessions or regrets, so that the responsibility which Mr. Gladstone parades, as if it were a complete discharge of the national conscience, becomes ludicrously platonic."

FALL WHEAT.

The following are extracts form a summary of the reports of correspondents of the Bureau on the condition of Fall Wheat in the Province on the 15th May, as sent to us by Mr. A. Blue Secretary of the Ontario Bureau of Industries :—

"Reports recieved from over six hundred correspondents of the Bureau show that the condition of Fall Wheat in the Province is much more satisfactory than it was in May of last year. Yet it is not uniformly good, and there are some districts in which the outlook is somewhat gloomy. This is noticeably the case in the extreme ends of the Province—westward of the meridian of London, and eastward of Kingston. For the large middle district the accounts are on the whole favourable, and the weather of this month has caused a marked improvement to take place everywhere. Complete returns of the acreage under crop have not yet been received, but as far as they have been obtained they indicate an area twenty per cent. less than last year.

EAST MIDLAND DISTRICT.

In the East Midland counties the condition of the crop is rather varying. In Victoria the, opening of spring found the growth thin and delicate, and the frosts of April were so destructive as to leave only the prospect of a yield much below the average. Some fields in the southern portion of the county enjoying exceptional advantages in way of drainage and shelter, are looking strong and healthy, but elsewhere the outlook is anything but cheering, and on many farms from 25 to 50 per cent. of the wheat has been plowed up. In Peterborough, on the other hand, it appears to have more successfully withstood the frost, and gives promise of a fair average yield. As in other counties, the lateness of the sowing season gave no chance for good growth in the fall, but under the influence of the recent rains the plant is turning out much better than the conditions of a month ago seemed to warrant any hope for. In Hastings and Haliburton fall wheat is not so largely cultivated as in the other counties of this group, but where sown and properly attended to it is a fairly successful crop. No injury from insects is any where complained of. On the whole, present appearance do not give hope of an average crop in this district, though there is a possibility of a continuance of favourable weather producing such a change as to require a modification of this report for the better. The rule so frequently cited elsewhere has been equally realized here, that a successful crop is not so dependent upon the character of the soil as upon such controllable conditions as efficient drainage, summer fallowing, early sowing, shelter and careful husbandry. The greatest damage has been inflicted on soils which are low and undrained, or that are unprotected from the northern winds.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

ONE INSTANCE.

When the election agents of Mr. Pardee are caught asking in cipher telegrams for thousands of dollars to be spent in Algoma, people may well reason that such is the way everything is done by the Mowat Government.—London Free Press.

MOWAT'S PECK AND OTHERS.

There seems at present a perfect epidemic of dishonesty, especially among those who have for a long or shorter period passed for honest and honourable citizens, and who have on this account been placed in positions of trust and authority.—Toronto Globe.

UNMANLY JOURNALISM.

Sir Charles Tupper having ceased to be a member of the Dominion Government and withdrawn from Canadian politics, the Reform organ would act a much more manly part by ceasing to abuse him. He is not now a political opponent. On the contrary, as Canadian Commissioner he is the representative of the whole country, and it is not desirable that the people of England should be persuaded by one of our own public journals to believe that the man whom this country has sent to London to represent it is little better than a horse thief.—Toronto Telegram (Indep.)

GOOD BUT FRUITLESS ADVICE.

We should be pleased to see the Reform press doing its share in the way of drawing attention to the part which the Canadian Pacific Railway is destined to play in the development of Northern Ontario. And let it not be forgotten that the farther north and west Ontario's territorial rights are pushed, the more are Ontario's interests bound up with those of the Canadian Pacific. The fact that the Canadian Pacific is an Ontario road will probably be a revelation to many people, and a very needful revelation, too. —Toronto World (Indep. Ref.)

A HEAVY JOB.

The saddest thing the South Oxfordites ever yet engaged in will be the mournful and laborious effort to resurrect that defunct New Brunswick politician and condemned speaker of the house of commons, now resting upon the skeleton of George Brown's Globe.—Brantford Telegram.

A "GLOBE" VERSION.

This being so the Intelligencer ought, in duty to itself, to turn round and abuse the Government for not selling much more land to Mr. Coe than the 51,538 acres of land, worthless for agriculture, which have been sold.—Toronto Globe.

ANOTHER VERSION.

The truth is that neither Mr. Coe nor Mr. anybody else has bought an acre of land from the Ontario Government for one cent less than the price paid by ordinary settlers. Mr Coe, for the mining company, has purchased 100,000 acres at $1.00 per acre, the Government reserving the pine and cedar.—Picton Times (Reform.)

Canadian Timber in British Markets.

LIVERPOOL, May 1.—The arrivals from British North America during the past month have been two vessels, 906 tons, against none during the corresponding month last year, and the agregate tonnage from this date to all places in the years 1882-83, and 1884 has been 59,387, 45,016, 47,546 tons respectively. The import has been nominal, and the deliveries during the month have been generally satisfactory ; prices, however, do not improve, and stocks are sufficiently large to meet ordinary requirements until spring shipments come forward, which is very desirable should be on a moderate scale until the tone of the market has improved.

The deliveries of yellow pine timber has been double last year's during like month, but stocks are still heavy and price dull. Red pine, elm, and ash : sales have been nominal, and no change in value except as regards elm, which is dearer. Oak : there has been a large consumption, chiefly oak wagon scantling, and prices are a shade easier. Pine deals have moved off more freely ; the better qualities maintain their value, but the stock consists almost entirely of thirds, the prices of which are slightly lower. Staves are heavy in stock and prices lower.

The consumption of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia spruce and pine deals has been about an average for this time of year, but the stock is considerably in excess of last year's. There have been on arrivals, the late shipments from St. John having nearly all been diverted to other ports, otherwise there must have been a further decline here on the low prices now ruling; our market is weak, and it is very important that imports should be moderate for some time to come. Lower Port pine deals are low in value and seldom asked for. Birch continues in good demand, and prices are well maintained.—Farnworth and Jardine.

Pleuro-Pneumonia Among Cattle.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 27.—Inspector Arthur Hollick's report to the State Board of Health shows a shocking condition of matters at Blissville, Queen's county. In one place four or five hundred cattle were housed and fed on distillery swill, fattening for slaughter. One of them was diseased with pleuro-pneumonia. In another place there were five cases of acute pleuro-pneumonia in the stables, and three outside were just dying. They had been milked that morning, and the milk distributed to customers. In another stable out of 126 cows nine were diseased. Outside the city limits were several smaller dairies with about the same percentage of disease. The Brooklyn commissioner suspects when diseased cows are no longer able to furnish milk they are slaughtered and smuggled to New York and Brooklyn for food.

Another Falls Tragedy.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 27.—A stranger fell over the river bank this afternoon and was killed, having fallen a distance of 100 feet, striking on the rocks beneath. The police brought the body to the top of the precipice by means of ropes and placed it in the town building. He had letters in his pocket bearing the name of Wm. V. McDonald from his father, who lives in Brooklyn, N.Y., a letter from friends in New Orleans, $6 and a few cents in cash, also a ticket via the West Shore to New York.

The Finest Establishment.

We have long regarded the EVENING REVIEW, of Peterborough, as the best of dailies published outside the cities. Last week the WEEKLY REVIEW came to hand enlarged, and presenting an interesting description of their extensive office, we believe the finest country printing establishment in Canada.—Orillia Packet.

Answer this Question.

Why do so many people we see around us seem to prefer to suffer and be made miserable by Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Coming up of the Food, Yellow Skin, when for 75c. we will sell them Shiloh's Vitalizer, guaranteed to cure them. Sold by J. D. Tully.

Shaker Blood Syrup

Is designed to meet the wants of a large proportion of our people who are either too poor to employ a physician, or are too far removed to easily call one, and a still larger class who are not sick enough to require medical advice, and yet are out of sorts and need a medicine to build them up, give them an appetite purify their blood, and oil up the machinery of their bodies so that it will do its duty willingly. No other article takes hold of the system and hits exactly the spot like Shaker Blood Syrup. It works like magic, reaching every part or the human body through the blood, giving to all renewed life and energy.

My friend, you need not take our word. Ask your neighbor, who has just taken one bottle. He will tell you that "Its the best dollar I ever invested."

Shaker Syrup Company :

DEAR SIRS, — Although greatly prejudiced against patent medicines in general, I was induced, from the excellent reports I had heard of your Blood Syrup, to try a bottle, last December, for dyspepsia and general prostration, and I have received very gratifying results from its use. I am now using the second bottle, and consider it a very valuable remedy for indigestion and its attendant troubles.

Yours truly,
O. F. TWITCHELL,
Gorham, N.H.

A gentleman who has been suffering from the debility and languor peculiar to this season says: "Shaker Blood Syrup is putting new life right into me. I have gained ten pounds since I began to take it." Has taken two bottles.

LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

THE 24TH.

The anniversary of the Queen's Birthday was on Saturday last as anticipated quite generally observed as a holiday in Lakefield. No sports of any kind took place in Lakefield. Nothing doing was the general expression. Quite a number though not as large as usual attended the Church Anniversary Tea. The Free Masons went to Keene, a few went fishing, but the larger majority went to Peterborough to see the sights there. The streets of our usually quiet village presented an almost deserted appearance until the evening when some stir was made by people starting home and others going to the tea in the P. C. A. Hall. The energy of the people seems to be reserved for a grand time on Dominion day.

EXCURSIONS.

The Excursions by the Steamer Fairy to the Point and Steamer Cruiser to Stony Lake were not very largely attended on Saturday the 24th. The weather being rather gloomy and a little cool was not such as to induce people to seek boating for pleasure. There is no doubt that if the weather had been warm a much larger crowd would have patronized the boats. Better luck next time.

COURT OF REVISION.

The Lakefield Court of Revision was held in the Council Room on Monday last, the 26th inst. Members present, Messrs. Cox, McWilliams and Urquhart. Absent the Reeve and Councillor Moore. The court was organized and proceeded to try the appeals. Messrs. Hull and Eastland two of the appellants were present, and were partially successful. The other appellants not attending, each appeal was tried and assessment confirmed. The roll having been approved and confirmed as amended the court was closed. Very little interest was taken in the matter which in consequence was a tame affair.

CRICKET MATCH.

A cricket match was played on Monday, May 26th, between Peterborough and Lakefield clubs on the Lakefield Cricket Ground. The Lakefield eleven were badly beaten, Peterborough having some eight wickets to spare. On Saturday, the 24th, the village boys went to Campbellford, and were there more successful having won the game by 40 runs.

REPAIRS.

Mr. Charles Wynne has for the last few days been busy repairing the slide at Lakefield, readjusting booms, etc., preparing for the drives which are coming down from the back lakes, under the superintendance of Mr. John Dinwoodie of this place. These repairs were much needed, and will be the means of saving the rotten structure called the Lakefield dam from being swept away by the first jam which would be liable to form in the passing over of the first drive coming down until the new dam is built.

COLD SNAP.

Quite a cold wave passed this way on Tuesday and Wednesday, and for the time of years the weather was certainly quite cold. In Lakefield on Tuesday night ice was formed one fourth of an inch thick. It is feared that considerable damage will be done to the fruit crops.

SAVED ARMY.

The Saved Army meetings are still just as crowded as before and the general interest in the exercises just as intense. Quite a little flurry of excitement was caused this week by certain remarks which were made against one of the saved army. These remarks coming as it did from enemies not friends of the cause and having no foundation the excitement soon quieted down.

HASTINGS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.—The celebration of the Queen's Birthday was loyally, or disloyally (vide the proclamation), celebrated in Johnson's Grove on Saturday, and, in spite of the attractions in many neighbouring places, a large crowd, estimated at between 4,000 and 5,000 people, enjoyed themselves in sports, dancing, boat, canoe and horse racing. The inland dwellers taking special pleasure in the short river trips aboard the new and trim little steamer Beaver, which the Committee specially chartered for the occasion. Johnson's Grove is really a lovely place for anything of that sort in the way of picnics and holiday gatherings, as many of your readers in the two counties remember. The urbane proprietor has had it cleaned up and improved greatly since last year, so that "lovers can walk and woo in the dim twilight" to their palpitating heart's content. The Caledonian games were not so well contested as in former years. The young fellows are rather tired of them, so it would be well to have an entirely new programme another time, if the Committee will only see to it. During the horse race, the second horse, owned by Skimple, of Warkworth, came a tremendous cropper when near the finish, nevertheless the plucky rider, it is said, have received a bad shaking, caught his horse, mounted, and succeeded in getting second place before the third horse could take advantage of his mishap. Hynes, of Warkworth, took first prize.

RESULT OF THE COMBAT.—The wicked baker, whose doings were quoted in last week's paper, together with the baker's dozen of 13 pals, were all fined before Justice Huycke; and even now the surplus-loving grumblers are grieving because the assault, taking place outside of the corporation, the funds go to swell the Township of Percy coffers, the only bonanza being the constable's fees, which gave him spending money for the 24th.

FISHING.—The catch of fish in our beautiful river since the season opened has been extraordinary. One man, in a few hours, caught with his hook and line over 90 rock bass—beauties they were, and averaged 3½ lbs. each. Some large maskinonge have been captured with the troll, one fine fellow bringing 22½ lbs.

PIGS AS SWIMMERS.—What do you think of a pig running the slide here, swimming the rapids and landing safe and sound, as was the case the other day? This reminds us of two porcines, when the river was at its highest, escaped from the shanties in early spring and safely swam the swiftest part of the river below the bridge.

GRANGER'S EXCURSION.—A union picnic of the Warkworth and Hastings Granges is booked for the 11th June, when the Golden Eye will form the transport for the horny handed sons of toil, as politicians love to call them, who with matrons comely and maidens fair will, weather permitting, make a pleasant trip up the river and round the lake, taking in their different places, drink in fresh air and scenery which is not excelled even in Picturesque Canada, which might have done worse than admit the beautiful sketches which Nature offers to the willing artist.

ANOTHER PICNIC.—A large picnic is also billed for Burnley on the 18th June in aid of the building fund for a new R. C. Church, an interesting programme is being got up.

BURGLARS.—Our (sister) village of Warkworth has been visited by cracks, who, after robbing several safes in their artistic style, left in disgust, not getting over $70 from three places. It has made the residents here more wary; safes are not safe in their estimation, the house and cellar being preferred to Taylors' fire-proof for the time being. We have not heard of any effort being made to track these midnight marauders and knights of the jimmy.

HARVEY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

THE ROADS.—The roads in this township are at present in great need of repair. Some of hem are in a very ruinous condition. Particular reference may be made to the Lakehurst road, where it passes through Hall's Bridge. The old way having been taken up by the Trent Valley Navigation Co., a new road has been built around their works, but this road is really unfit for any traffic to pass over it. The Court of Revision, we are glad to learn, will be held on Monday, June 2nd, and we feel assured the members of our Council will consider the interest that should be taken in effecting a proper road for us through that village.

BEAR SHOT.—On Saturday morning last, May 24th, Mr. Coons was successful in shooting a large bear. Bruin was satisfying his breakfast appetite and regaling himself on the carcase of a horse, when Mr. Coons came upon him and shot him, thus depriving him of showing his carnivorous propensities towards feasting off some stray lamb. He was very large and weighed over 300 lbs.

24TH OF MAY.—Our picnic purposed to be held on the Queen's Birthday passed off more pleasantly than we anticipated. During the day the sky was cloudy, and showed signs of rain, but we were well pleased to see so many interest themselves in our gala day. We received visitors from Hall's Bridge and the 16th con. of Smith, whom we believe enjoyed themselves. The base ball match proved a failure, but the field sports were indulged in freely. The steady minded number in the crowd went home after tea, leaving the gay and frivolous young to "trip the light fantastic toe." Fair music was played by one of our amateur violinists, who performed his part admirably, discoursing sweet music to the measured step of the dancers.

HALIBURTON.

From Our Own Correspondent.

SCOW LAUNCHED.—Nothing of much interest has occurred here since my last communication. Mr. Irwin's steam scow has been launched and made a trial trip on our little lake, and will be ready for active service in a few days.

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.—Our Reeve did not receive the cable message from Her Majesty in time to postpone the celebration of the Queen's Birthday. We had, however, a very quiet day. The cricket club turned out in a lazy sort of way in the afternoon and played a match, Canadians against Old Country, in which, in accordance with moden precedent, the former were victorious.

IMPROVED.—Mr. Stewart has converted his house, one of the first built here, into a handsome commodious residence. I understand that he is prepared to accommodate a few families during the summer months. An establishment of this kind is much needed here. A number of families would have stayed here during the last few summers had there been any accommodation for them.

C. E. T. S.—A branch of the Haliburton C. of E. Temperance Society has been organized in Gilford.

SUBSTITUTE FOR MATCHES.

Countless accidents, as every one knows, arise from the use of matches. To obtain light without employing them, and so without danger of setting fire to things, an ingenious contrivance is now used by all the watchmen of paris in all the magazines where explosives or inflammable materials are kept. Any one may easily make a trial of it. Take an oblong vial of the whitest and clearest glass and put into it a piece of phosphorus about the size of a pea. Pour some olive oil, heated to the boiling point, upon the phosphorus fill the vial about one third full and cork it tightly. To use this novel light remove the cork, allow the air to enter the vial and than recork it. This empty space in the vial will become luminous, and the light obtained is equal to that of a lamp. When the light grows dim its power can be increased by taking out the cork and allowing a fresh supply of air to enter the vial. In winter it is sometimes necessary to heat the vial between the hands, in order to increase the fluidity of the oil. The apparatus thus made may be used six months—Builders' Journal.

A Remarkable Slab.

The London Timber Trades Journal says:—We have had our attention called to a most remarkable slab of wood lying at Messrs. Hoi & Sons' cabinet factory, Ebury Street, which we at first supposed to be African mahogany, but have since learned is from the Island of Borneo, in the China Seas. It was cut by the natives by means of small hatchets only, was found in the exterior jungles, where other similar logs are known to be, it strongly resembles African mahogany in color and texture, is of straight growth, remarkably hard, and consequently of great weight, and measures no less than 12 feet across. Admiral the Hon. Sir Henry Keppel informs us it was given to him by the Rajah of Sarawak, and he further states that, "being at the time in command of a line of battle ship, the Rodway, I had, of course, not much difficulty in bringing it home." We understand it is now the property of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, who has instructed Messrs. Holland & Sons to convert it into a table top. Undoubtedly this will be an object of great interest to many.

WE believe the cause of the wonderful success of our Murray & Lanman's Florida Water may be found in the fact that the principal aim in its preparation has always been to give the simple natural perfume of flowers, without any chemical addition whatever, and to avoid, by all means, the great error of making a heavy, sickly, sweet perfume.

"I wish to express my appreciation of the valuable qualities of

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

as a cough remedy.

"While with Churchill's army, just before the battle of Vicksburg, I contracted a severe cold, which terminated in a dangerous cough. I found no relief till on our march we came to a country store, where, on asking for some remedy, I was urged to try AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

"I did so, and was rapidly cured. Since then I have kept the PECTORAL constantly by me, for family use, and I have found it to be an invaluable remedy for throat and lung diseases. J. W. WHITLEY."

Thousands of testimonials certify to the prompt cure of all bronchial and lung affections, by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. Being very palatable, the youngest children take it readily.

LOCAL NEWS

Next Week.

The Town Council will meet on Monday night, a meeting of the Board of Education will be held on Tuesday night, and the June session of the County Court will commence on Tuesday.

The Double Scull Race.

The winning crews in the double scull race in the regatta on Monday—Messrs. F. G. Cox and W. Rutherford, and W. W. Kent and J. Fanning—will row the deciding heat on the Little Lake on Friday evening.

The Probabilities.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, counting from one o'clock this morning, as reported from the Toronto observatory, are as follows:—Moderate winds, mostly north to west; fine, slightly warmer weather.

St. Paul's Church.

We are requested to announce that Dr. Macvicar, Principal of the Presbyterian College, Montreal, will preach for Rev. Mr. Torrance in the Opera House next Sunday morning and evening. The evening service will commence at 6.45, fifteen minutes earlier than usual.

Science and Prayer.

The Rev. Dr. McVicar, Principal of the Presbyterian College, Montreal, will deliver a lecture on Science and Prayer, on Friday, May 30th, at 8 p.m., at the George Street Methodist Church, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Paul's Church, in aid of the organ fund. Tickets, 25 Cents.

Low Temperature.

Again last night there was a frost, the self-registering thermometer of the Rev. V. Clementi recording 31°. A degree below the freezing point on two successive nights is phenomenal and decidedly unpleasant at this season of the year. It is to be feared that such unusual cold may do some damage to vegetation, and especially to fruit.

Good Work Appreciated.

That the work of the REVIEW office is appreciated not only in this neighbourhood but also in distant localities, we often have very satisfactory proofs. We have at present just received an extensive order for printing and binding from Manitoba, while we have either in hand or just ready for delivery several other such orders for different towns in Ontario.

North Monaghan Reeveship.

The nomination of candidates for the Reeveship of North Monaghan took place at noon today. Mr. Wm. Robson was nominated by Mr. Christopher Leary, seconded by Mr. John Dobbin. Mr. Joseph Forster was nominated by Mr. R. A. Morrow, seconded by Mr. Thos. Armstrong. A poll was demanded, and the election will take place on Tuesday next.

Methodist Union.

On Sunday morning next, a special service will be held in the George Street Methodist Church, which will be attended by the congregation of that church, of the Charlotte St. Methodist and of Murray St. and Ashburnham B. C Churches. The Rev. J. Shaw, the Rev. Thos. Manning, B.A., the Rev. W. Joliffe and the Rev. J. W. Butcher are expected to be present and to deliver addresses. The music will be provided by a choir especially arranged for the occasion, and a competent committee has charge of this part of the services.

A Reduction for Six Months.

Mr. A. White, District Traffic Manager of the Midland Division of the Grand Trunk Railway, has issued a circular notifying the conductors and trainmen that a reduction of five per cent. had been made in their wages. The circular, which is dated May 23rd, reads as follows:—

"Owing to the very serious falling off in traffic receipts it has been found necessary to make a reduction of five per cent. upon the wages paid for a period of six months. This is a very unpleasant announcement to have to make, but there is no help for it, and as the employes of the main line and Great Western division have accepted the same we feel sure the employes of the Midland division will show an equal willingness to assist the company out of its present difficulties. The rating will not be altered from the present standing, but for six months, commencing May 1st, a reduction of five per cent will be made on the pay-roll."

COURT OF REVISION.

The following is a summary of the business transmitted by the Court of Revision on Tuesday evening:—

Wm. Brundrette appeared against an assessment on income. Appeal withdrawn and assessment confirmed.

Wm. Barlow, against assessment for a dog. No one appearing, the appeal was dismissed and the assessment confirmed.

Samuel Griffith, over assessment on real estate. N. Antrim, w. George, part 1; assessment confirmed. S. Antrim, w. George, part 3; reduced to $400. S. Antrim, w. George, part 3; reduced to $325.

Midland Railway of Canada, over assment on real estate. Assessment confirmed.

Frederick Heuback, wrongfully assessed for s. Dublin, s. George, part 1. Relieved, and the same assessed to the owner, Thomas Bradburn.

Marcello Mowry and John H. Mowry, wrongfully assessed. John Mowry relieved of statute labour and assessed as joint tenant with Marcello Mowry for s. McDonnell, w. George, part 8.

Noah T. Laplante, over assessment on income and real estate. No one appeared, and the assessment was confirmed.

John Carnegie and J. Hilliard Carnegie, over assessed on personal property. Several amounts struck off, and the Peterborough REVIEW Printing Company assessed instead.

Henry Snider, wrongfully assessed. Complaint withdrawn and assessment confirmed.

Henry Snider asking to be changed. The name of John McGregor struck off for s. Murray, w. George, part 19, and Henry Snider assessed as tenant.

James English, overassessed on real estate, n. Charlotte, w. George, part 3. Reduced to $1,100.

Samuel W. English, wrongfully assessed. Assessment confirmed.

George McComb, wrongfully assessed. Complaint withdrawn and assessment confirmed.

F. W. Heather, wrongfully assessed for market stall No. 3, owned by the Town of Peterborough. Name struck off.

John Brownlee relieved from s. Hunter, e. George, part 1, and the owners, R. Rowe and J. Stevenson assessed instead. John Brownlee assessed as tenant for n. Sherbrooke, w. George, part 8, instead of C. Kempt.

D. W. Dumble, assessment reduced by $400, and John E. Hammond assessed for B lots 5 and 6, part of block B.

There are eleven appeals to be considered on Friday night.

Only One Golden Lion.

Carpets and Lace Curtains. A very extensive display of these goods may be seen at FAIR, VANEVERY & Co's. sign of the Golden Lion.

Wedding Bells.

At two o'clock on Wednesday last Mr. Edward Parlow, of Iroquois, was united in marriage to Miss Clara Shaw, eldest daughter of the respected pastor of the George Street Methodist Church, of Peterborough. The wedding was at Moira Hall, the residence of the bride's father. A numerous assembly of friends from Toronto, Orillia, Iroquois, Peterborough, and other parts of Ontario was present. The bride, beautiful as the apple blossoms with which the air was redolent, and decked in all the mazy glory of silk lace and veil, which for the time envelopes the beauty of a bride and causes one to wonder if the flowers in the tiny basket borne in her hand are a separate creation, was supported on her left by her charming sisters Minnie and Emma Shaw, while the bridegroom was supported by Mr. Eaton and Mr. Armstrong, of Toronto. The bride's father, assisted by the Rev. J. B. Armstrong and the Rev. T. W. Jeffery, tied the golden knot in beautiful and solemn service. After the congratulations the wedding party spent a happy hour over the elegant refreshment tables, and only broke up in time to cast the slipper and shower the rice over the happy couple, who amidst tears and smiles left by the four o'clock train on their wedding tour.

"How to Take Care of a Husband."

Husband's would generally be a great deal better than they are were their wives to manage them better, but they spoil them in the cooking. Some use them as if they were bladders; they blow them up. And other's keep them almost constantly in hot water; while others, instead of cooking them properly, almost freeze them by the coolness of their own conjugal temperature; while others, again, smother them with hatred, contention and variance; and some actually put them in pickle, and keep them there all their lives. Most of these bad managing wives nearly always serve them up with neglect and tongue sauce. Now is it to be expected that husbands should be tender and well managed in this manner? Some husbands, we are aware, are not to be rendered endurable by any treatment, but there are very few that are not quite delicious when well preserved. The manner is as follows:—Get a large jar, called the jar of carefulness, (which, by the way all good wives have at hand). Being placed in it, set him near the fire of conjugal love; let the fire be pretty hot, but especially let it be clear. Above all, let the heart be regular and constant. Cover him well over with equal quantities of affection, kindness, submission and subjection. Keep plenty of these things by you, and be very attentive to supply the place of any that may waste by evaporation, or any other cause. Garnish with modest, becoming familiarity, and innocent pleasantry, and if you add kisses and other confections, accompany them with a certain amount of secrecy; and it would not be amiss to advise him to procure his clothing from ANDREW MCNEIL, Tailor and Clothier, George Street. Were all the wives in the County of Peterborough to preserve this plan the country would be quite metamorphosed, at all events there will be no harm in giving it a trial.

THE LADIES' COLUMN.

FANS.

Kan Si was the first lady who carried a fan. She lived in ages which are past and for the most part forgotten, and she was the daughter of a Chinese mandarin. Whoever saw a mandarin, even on a tea-chest, without his fan? In China and Japan every one has a fan; and there are fans of all sorts for everybody. The Japanese waves his fan at you when he meets you by way of greeting; and the beggar who solicits alms has the exceedingly small coin "made on purpose" for charity presented to him on the tip of the fan. In ancient times, among Greeks and Romans, fans seem to have been enormous; they were generally made of feathers, and carried by slaves over the heads of their masters and mistresses, to protect them from the sun and waved before them to stir the air. Catharine de Medici carried the first folding fan ever seen in France; and in the time of Louis XIV. the fan was a gorgeous thing, often covered with jewels, and worth a small fortune. In England they were the fashion in the time of Henry VIII. A fan set in diamonds was once given to Queen Elizabeth upon New Year's Day. The Mexican feather fans which Cortez had from Montazuma were marvels of beauty; and in Spain a large black fan is the favorite. It is said that the use of a fan is as carefully taught in that country as any other branch of education, and that by a well known code of signals a Spanish lady can carry on a long conversation with anybody, especially an admirer. The Japanese criminal of rank is politely executed by means of a fan. On being sentenced to death he is presented with a fan, which he must receive with a low bow, and as he bows, presto! the executioner draws his sword and cuts his head off. In fact, there is a fan for every occasion in Japan.

YOLANDE.

Readers of the well known novel which bears this title were often wont to discuss what was the correct pronunciation of the word. The controversy was many-sided, and some one, we believe, humorously pointed out six different ways of saying Yolandé. The name, however, occurs frequently in a modern widely known poet—Mr. A. C. Swinburne—one who is also remarkably well read in old French literature. In every instance it is found to be a dissyllable with the accent on the ultimate. Thus:—

"Felise and Yolande and Juliette," the latter half of a hexameter line in the fourth stanza of a Dedication, 1865.

"See there, Yolande writ broad; yet for all that."
—The Queen Mother, act 1, sc. 1, line 118

"Yolande—you know this damozel I mean."
—Ibid, act III, sc. 1 line 58.

"Yolande, this way; come nearer my fair child."
—Ibid.

"I think you called the woman—umph—Yolande."
—Ibid.

"You look near white with laughing much, Yolande."
—Ibid.

"I mean the virtuous damozel, Yolande."
—Ibid.

Canoeing.

The Deseronto correspondent of the Globe, writing on the 27th inst., on this subject, says:

"Four new canoes were added to the fleet of the Deseronto Canoe Club yesterday. They are very handsome crafts, being virtually decked canoes. They were built by the Ontario Canoe Co., Peterborough. One is entirely of cedar and is built after the 'juniper' fashion. The others are of cedar and basswood. They are rigged for sailing, and have the single bird's-eye thaple paddle, &c. Our club numbers 22, with new accessions each week. Many members of the club were out at an informal 'paddle' on the bay last evening."

OTTAWA.—A gentleman writes from Ottawa that after using three bottles of Golden Fruit Bitters he was completely cured of dyspepsia and indigestion.

THEY ALL DO IT.—Everybody uses Teaberry for the Teeth and Breath, the newest, brightest, coolest little toilet gem extant. Try a sample.

AFTER years of patient research and unremitting toil, Dr. Van Buren discovered in a little plant, growing on the hill-sides of his native land, medical virtues of a most positive kind. Careful experimentation has enabled him to formulate from its hidden sap a remedy that has no equal in permanently curing all forms of kidney disease, and which is now known all the world over as Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure.

Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy.

A marvelous cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria, Canker mouth, and Headache. With each bottle there is an ingenious nasal Injector for the more successful treatment of these complaints without extra charge. Price 50 cts. Sold by J. D. Tully wholesale, retail agent.

A Life Saving Present.

Mr. M. E. Allison, Hutchinson, Kan.: Saved his life by a simple trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which caused him to procure a large bottle, that completely cured him, when Doctors, change of climate and everything else had failed. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Severe Coughs, and all Throat and Lung diseases, it is guaranteed to cure. Trial bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's drug store. Large size $1.00.

THE statement regarding Minister Morton's reception of the Comte de Paris is alleged to be a distortion of the real facts. The Comte attended the American Minister's ball as an ex-officer of the United States army, having held a position on General McClelland's staff during the civil war.

An Answer Wanted.

Can any one bring us a case of Kidney or Liver Complaint that Electric Bitters will not speedily cure? We say they can not, as thousands of cases already permanently cured and who are daily recommending Electric Bitters will prove. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Weak Back, or any urinary complaints quickly cured. They purify the blood, regulate the bowels, and act directly on the diseased parts. Every bottle guaranteed. For sale at 50c a bottle by Taylor and McDonald.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain and cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

TAKE YOUR PRESCRIPTIONS and recipes to MORGAN'S Drug Store and have them accurately compounded to your satisfaction. Find MORGAN'S Drug Store.

IT isn't extravagant to claim that Zo-pe-sa is a sure cure for Dyspepsia and the Liver. It is a regular prescription of a doctor of large practice, and for these troubles it is as good as the doctor himself on the spot. Ask J. D. Tully.

OH! how tired and weak I feel I dont believe I will ever get through the Spring house-cleaning? Oh yes you will if you take a bottle or two of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters to purify your blood and tone up the system. In large bottles 50 cents.

NOT another Pill shall go down my throat again, said a citizen, "when I can get such a prompt and pleasant cure for my Bilious attacks, as Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters. It renders the Blood Pure and Cool and makes a splended Spring Medicine. Large Bottles 50 cents.

Buckien's Arnica Salve.

A BIG BREAK
IN PRICES
BY
GIROUX & SULLIVAN

Why So? Ask the wholesale merchants who sell to the retailers, and the retailers who sell to the public. Such a disasterous Spring, such a late, chilly, flooded, bedraggled season, hasn't been known for years. Merchants generally havent bought extensively, as the couldn't see any chance to sell again, and so the whole trade has languished, and stacks of Sprnig Goods have accumulated, and grown larger, and still larger, for want of demand, until manufacturers and importers have become frightened.

The result may be seen in our store this week. We are actually able to offer, before the season has much more than fairly opened, a complete line of the FINEST AND MOST FASHIONABLE SPRING GOODS, at prices that would astonish you.

Visit our store to-day and every day next week, and we promise to show you goods at prices that was never before known in the history of the trade.

Every department is brimfull of goods, which must be sold and turned into money.

Daily Evening Review
FRIDAY, MAY 30, 1884.

BELLEVILLE.

FROST.—The frost in this vicinity on Thursday night was so heavy that ice formed in stagnant water. Flowers were frozen in some localities, and the barley injured.

LINDSAY.

CUT IN TWO BY A LOCOMOTIVE WHEEL.—A man named John Cassen threw himself under the wheels of a locomotive on Thursday morning about seven o'clock, and was cut in two, expiring instantly. He had passed the night in the lock-up, where he had gone for shelter. He told the police officer his name, and said that he came from Windsor, and that he had been tramping around the country for the past three months. He had been observed walking up and down the track for some minutes, evidently waiting for the train going north. As the engine approached he deliberately threw himself across the rails.—Globe.

TORONTO.

POST OFFICE NEWS.—Last week the city letter-carriers delivered 112,019 letters and 33,489 newspapers. Of the letters, 3,747 were registered.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE RECEPTIONS.—The usual Thursday receptions at Government House will be discontinued until further notice.

NEW ARRIVALS.—About 250 immigrants ex steamship Lake Manitoba, arrived at the Union station on Wednesday night. Of these about sixty will remain in this province, the remainder going through to the North-West.

MORE TRAM CARS.—The Metropolitan Street Railway Company will apply again to the County Council at its June session for permission to lay down a track on Yonge street from the north city limit to the Eglington town hall.

RUN OVER BY A REEL.—The Berkeley street hose reel, while proceeding to a fire on Wednesday evening, ran over a little boy named Joseph Resley at the corner of King and Sherbourne streets. The little fellow had been riding on the back of a waggon, and on letting go his hold stopped in front of the reel, which was going at a rapid rate. The horse knocked the little fellow down, and one of the wheels went over his right arm, breaking it above the elbow. The boy was attended to in a neighboring drug store by Dr. Ross.

The Canadian Wheelmen's Association.

The Toronto Mail of Friday says:—The local committee of wheelmen appointed to make the arrangements for the annual meet here on Dominion Day of the Canadian Wheelmen's Association have fixed upon the following programme of races, subject to minor changes:—

1. One mile, green (open only to those who have never won a prize)—1st prize, watch; 2nd, automatic alarm.
2. Three miles, open to members of the Canadian Wheelmen's Association—1st gold medal, 2nd silver medal.
3. One mile, for the amateur championship of Canada—Gold medal.
4. Half mile, Without hands—1st, ball pedals; 2nd, long distance saddle.
5. Two miles, open to all amateurs—1st, gold medal; 2nd, silver cup; 3rd, hub lamp.
6. One mile, tricycle—Silver medal.
7. Five miles, for the amateur championship of Canada—Gold medal.
8. One mile, open to Toronto and Wanderers bicycle clubs—1st, T. H. Robinson medal; 2nd C. W. A. gold badge.
9. Obstacle race—1st, cyclometer, 2nd, C. W. A. gold badge.

The races will be on the Rosedale Athletic grounds, and will commence sharp at 3 p. m. The grand parade of the wheelmen will probably be formed on Clarence square on Brock street, opposite Wellington, at 1.30 p.m. From there the muster will proceed to King, along to and up Yonge, and along Gloucester street towards the iron bridge into Rosedale. Endeavours are being made to secure the old Toronto gymnasium on York street behind the Club Chambers as a place where visiting wheelmen may stack their machines.

Uncomfortably Close.

When an express train on the Midland was near Uxbridge on Thursday, a bullet struck a window in a coach and passed through the car, going out of a window on the opposite side. A gentleman who was sitting in the coach, with his hand up to his face, was struck on the finger by the ball. He was very little injured, but the ball was quite close enough. It is not known how the accident (for such it apparently was) occurred, but persons who handle firearms should be very careful.

SALLOW FACED GIRLS.—Why don't you improve your complexion? You can do so by using Golden Fruit Bitters and Pills. Sold by all druggists.

HOW TO MAKE A NEWSPAPER SUCCEED.

During our canvass of the city we have met with many proofs of kindness and sympathy in our enterprise. Some were unexpected, but all were assurances of the necessity for a new departure in journalism at Ottawa. But in no way was the interest taken in the sun more marked than in the advice given us as to what course we should take, what things we should advocate, what avoid. And now, in order that the difficulties of our position may not be overestimated, we will jot down the more important of the many views impressed upon us.

Stick to the independent platform.
Support the government.
Go in for annexation.
Let British connection be your motto.
Prohibition is the next great issue. Support it.
Oppose prohibition with all your might. It has failed wherever it has been tried.
Get the licensed victuallers on your side. Their support would be most powerful.
Joi. an influential church and secure the friendship of all the religious community.
Keep clear of all religious discussion.
Have nothing to do with the Agnostics.
Give us a big lot of sporting news.
Advocate a commercial union with the United States.
Pitch into everybody and everything.
Give the Government h——.
Show up the hypocrisy of the Grits.
Keep advertisements out of the local columns.
Nice readable selections are what is wanted, something with information in it.
Print a good story.
Avoid personalities.
Show up the evils of society and unmask the hypocrites.
Give the Devil his due (sic).
Keep an eye on the City Council.
Never mind quarrelling with other editors. Nobody cares which wins in such fights.
Get the women on your side.
Let the world see you are in earnest.
Look after the business.
Swear off.

With so many really sound and good, if somewhat contradictory, admonitions as to the way to make the Sun a success, we surely cannot go astray. Running a newspaper is, of course, a business which every man can do better than any other man.—Ottawa Sun.

Great Sale of Horses.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Dan Mace sold 22 horses by auction to-day for $13,352; among them was Hopeful, record 2.14¾, which brought $2,800, and was purchased by a Mr. Bush, of Minneapolis, Minn.—Mail.

Teacher's Convention.

The Teachers' convention for North and South Wellington, opened at Fergus on Wednesday with a large attendance. Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education, was present and addressed the convention during the afternoon and evening on the topics of education. The meeting continues on Thursday and to-day.

Irish National League in America.

NEW YORK, May 28.—At a meeting of the Municipal Council of the Irish National League here this evening, Dr. W. B. Wallace, member of the National Committee of seven, in an address urged that the policy hitherto pursued towards England by Irishmen in this country should be continued. To this end, he said, free trade should be opposed. He denounced the advocates of the dynamite policy as enemies of Ireland and traitors to their cause.

The Cincinnati Riots.

COLUMBUS, O., May 29.—The Court of Enquiry investigating the conduct of the officers of the 4th Regiment during the Cincinnati riots has reported that the colonel was guilty of incompetency and disobedience to orders, the lieutenant-colonel of leaving his command without orders, the adjutant of being absent without leave, and the other officers of similar offences. It recommends the disbanding of the regiment.

The Buffalo Strike.

BUFFALO, May 29.—There are few new developments in the strike of bricklayers and stonemasons. The strikers were greatly encouraged yesterday when a number of contractors known as "jobbers," sent for their bricklayers and masons and agreed to pay the rate they asked, $3.50 per day. None of these contractors are members of the Builders' Association. The members of the Builders' Association, it is understood, held a meeting last Saturday evening, and resolved not to pay the price demanded by the union. A clerk of one of the principal firms in the association says the action of these small contractors or jobbers will not induce the members of the association to pay the extra fifty cents.

The Imperialist Rupture.

PARIS, May 28.—An open quarrel now exists between Prince Jerome (Plon-Plon) and Prince Victor, his son. Prince Jerome expressed a wish that his son should make a tour of America and the East and abandon politics. Prince Victor having declined to respect the parental wishes a decided rupture occurred, the result of which is that father and son are living apart. Prince Victor has the assurance of an income of 40,000 francs a year, but he refuses to say whence it is derived. Figaro says the ex-Empress Eugenie, through a Bonapartist deputy, arranged for the separation between Plon-Plon and Prince Victor, giving the latter a liberal income, and has declared that she will bequeath him the greater part of her fortune in consideration of his rank and standing as successor to the Prince Imperial, passing altogether over the claims of Prince Jerome.

Another Victory.

A Startling important discovery was made when, after long and patient experiments, the combination of Nerviline was reached. A grand victory indeed, for the suffering have an ever ready, prompt, efficient, and cheap remedy at hand. Do you know that for 10 cents you can buy a trial bottle of Polson's Nerviline and test its great power over pain of every description? Polson's Nerviline cures chills, pain in the stomach, side and back, rheumatism; in fact all pain. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold. A few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10c., 50c. and $1.00. If your lungs are sore, chest or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. D. Tully.

LONDON, May 29.—Sir Bartle Frere is dead.

G. A. SALA'S LECTURE TOUR.

LONDON, May 29.—George Augustus Sala has contracted for a year's lecture tour in Australia and America.

THE FRENCH DYNAMITERS.

LONDON, May 29.—It is said damaging evidence has been obtained against the Frenchmen who were arrested at Dover with dynamite in their possession.

REBEL ATTACK ON SUAKIN.

CAIRO, May 28.—The rebels fired on Suakin for two hours yesterday. The forts and ships responded with twelve guns. The Egyptians deserted their posts.

KING JOHN OF ABYSINIA.

LONDON, May 29.—The delay on the part of King John of Abyssinia in meeting Admiral Hewett is attributed to the intrigues of the Italian's mission at Assab.

EL MAHDI'S DEFEAT DENIED.

CAIRO, May 28.—The report that El Mahdi's forces have been defeated at Darfour by the new Mahdi is not believed at Cairo.

SOCIETY OF AUTHORS.

LONDON, May 29.—Lord Tennyson has been elected president of the Society of Authors, formed chiefly for the purpose of effecting international copyright laws between England and America. Mr. Matthew Arnold is vice president of the association.

THE NEW MAHDI'S CLAIM.

CAIRO, May 28.—The new Mahdi claims the power of becoming invisible at will. Natives say El Mahdi recently sent soldiers to capture the new prophet, but when they had surrounded him he suddenly vanished in the air.

REVOLUTION CENTENARY.

PARIS, May 29.—The Government proposes to celebrate the centenary of the commencement of the French Revolution in 1789 in an imposing manner. It has also resolved upon making an especially brilliant exhibition to be held in Paris in 1889.

ANOTHER EGYPTIAN DIFFICULTY.

LONDON, May 29.—The Pall Mall Gazette declares that Earl Granville's request to Turkey to send 15,000 troops to the Soudan is more serious for the Cabinet than the scheme of multiple control. It is not clear how the Cabinet can repudiate Turkey's acceptance without insisting upon Lord Granville's resignation.

KASSALA COMPLETELY ISOLATED.

CAIRO, May 28.—Kassala is completely isolated. Three thousand Egyptian troops are there. Ammunition is plentiful, but the food supply is rapidly decreasing. Major Von Seckendorff is still a prisoner at El Obeid, and suffers terrible privations. It is asserted that a ransom would be accepted for him.

DUKE OF CAMBRIDGE.

LONDON, May 29.—When the Duke of Cambridge landed at Dover las evening a foreigner was observed acting in a suspicious manner, and was arrested. A revolver was found upon him. It is supposed that he intended to fire upon the Duke.

THE NILE RAPIDLY RISING.

CAIRO, May 29.—The Nile is rising rapidly, and it is expected Gen. Gordon's armed boats will be able to drive the rebels from the banks above and below Khartoum, and open communication with Berber and Cairo. A rumour prevails that the rebels have withdrawn from around Sneudy.

PRESS DISABILITIES IN SPAIN.

MADRID, May 29.—The Liberal press are indignant because the Government dissolved a meeting called to devise means for bettering the condition of the journalists now in prison awaiting trial.

VANDERBILT TO RETURN HOME.

LONDON, May 29.—Mr. Vanderbilt has left London for Paris. He will return on Monday, and start immediately for New York.

KRAZEWSKI'S SENTENCE.

LEIPSIC, May 26.—Krazewski, recently convicted of treason, was sent to the fortress of Magdebourg to-day. Prince Radziwill heads the list of signers to a private memorial to the Emperor William asking that Krazewski be pardoned.

FRANCE AND THE VATICAN.

PARIS, May 26.—Negotiations are pending between France and the Vatican for the nomination of French cardinals at the next consitory. The Vatican is disposed to accede to the wishes of France on condition that the French Government restores the grants to the church suppressed last year.

U. S. Revenue Collections.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The collections of internal revenue during the first ten months of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1884, amount to $99,164,000, a decrease of $19,908,000 from the collections of the corresponding period of the previous fiscal year. The principal decrease was on tobacco, $13,220,000; on banks and bankers, $3,742,000. There was an increase of $12,460,000 from collections on spirits.

Bass' English Ale.

Another large shipment of Bass' Ale, October brewing, just arrived at W. Chamberlain's Restaurant. Imported direct.

OTTAWA.—A gentleman writes from Ottawa that after using three bottles of Golden Fruit Bitters he was completely cured of dyspepsia and indigestion.

THEY ALL DO IT.—Everybody uses Teaberry for the Teeth and Breath, the newest, brightest, coolest little toilet gem extant. Try a sample.

A New Principle.

The principle upon which Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor acts is entirely new. It does noes not sink deep into the flesh, thereby producing soreness, but acts directly upon the external covering of the corn, separates it from the under layer, removes the direct pressure from the pars, and at once effects a radical cure, without any pain or discomfort. Let those who are suffering from corns, yet sceptical of treatment, try it, and by the completeness of the cure they will be ready to recommend Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor to others.

Can't Be Beaten.

It is a fact that Nerviline cannot be surpassed by any combination for the relief of pain. The reason is a good one. Nerviline contains the best, most powerful, and the latest discovered remedies. It is a magic pain cure. Rheumatism, stiff neck, cramps, neuralgia, colic, in fact all pain, internal, external, and local, are subdued in a few minutes. Go at once to Ormond & Walsh's drug store and get a trial bottle. It will only cost you 10 cents, and you can at a small cost test the great pain cure, Polson's Nerviline. Large bottles only 25 cts.

MR. BLAKE'S DUPLICITY.

As endeavours are being made to throw a doubt upon Mr. Blake's position in regard to secret societies, we may repeat that we have in our office, open to the inspection of those interested, the two pamphlets circulated in Mr. Blake's behalf, and with his silent approval, giving the two different versions of his speech, one to be circulated among the enemies of the societies, and the other among their friends. They may be compared with the official report in Hansard to show which is the genuine version, and which is so doctored as to give some ground for the quibbling of a special pleading advocate.

BIRDS OF A FEATHER.

It will be remembered that last session Mr. Mowat was unable to see that S. S. Peck was an unfit person to be raised to the Bench or maintained there, because he had misappropriated money entrusted to him as Treasurer of the County of Haliburton. Mr. Mowat is consistent in so far as his own acts are in accordance with his doctrine. Peck was entrusted by the County of Haliburton, with its funds that he might apply them for its purposes, but instead of doing so he dishonestly applied them for his own. Mr. Mowat, Peck's friend and patron, has been similarly entrusted by the Province of Ontario with the control of its public lands, among other property, that he might administer them for the benefit of the Province, but instead of doing so he has used them for his own benefit by placing them at the disposal of his friend Mr. Coe, to the detriment of the Province as checking legitimate settlement.

This is how the matter stands as far as can be gathered from present information. If full justice is not done to Mr. Mowat it is owing to another fault of his. He has wilfully concealed the facts in three different ways: he has disregarded the order of the House by delaying the returns till the last hour of the session, by then presenting them in a designedly incomplete state, and by neglecting up to this date to have even this incomplete return printed and circulated as ordered. Such unjustifiable concealment of the business of the country, after its publication is ordered, is in itself tantamount to a confession of guilt.

DISINTERESTED MOTIVES.

In his speech at Toronto Sir Richard Cartwright gave an account of his sudden political conversion, but he omitted to read the following letter penned by him when Sir Francis Hincks instead of [illegible] was made Finance Minister in succession to Sir Alexander Galt. To supply this omission we give the letter as follows:—

KINGSTON, Oct. 12, 1869.

MY DEAR SIR JOHN,—I notice with great regret that Sir F. Hincks has been gazetted. From the tenor of my former note on the subject you will probably not be surprised to learn that I fear I cannot support that gentleman. Of course, as in duty bound, I will wait your explanation of the grounds of this appointment, but it is so unlikely that they will be such as to enable me to concur in it, that I think it only fair to notify you at once that I should inform you that HOWEVER WELL DISPOSED I WAS OR AM TOWARDS YOURSELF AND THE REST OF YOUR COLLEAGUES, I CANNOT FEEL THE SAME CONFIDENCE AS HERETOFORE IN AN ADMINISTRATION IN WHICH SIR FRANCIS HINCKS HOLDS OFFICE. So far as you are concerned I do not suppose one supporter more or less matters much just now, and so far as I myself am concerned I am thoroughly alive to the gravity of the step I am taking, but this is a matter in which I have no option.

"Yours very sincerely,

"RICHARD J. CARTWRIGHT."

Sir Richard Cartwright, with that modesty which characterizes him, drew a comparison between himself and Mr. Gladstone, among others. It is true that Mr. Gladstone was at one time Finance Minister of the British Islands, and that from a Conservative he became a Liberal, but we never heard that the change occurred because he was disappointed in obtaining the Ministry of Finance from his old allies, or because as the price of his honor his new friends gave him the coveted portfolio.

THE WICKED PARTNERS.

Ah! we thought so. It was not Mr. Blake who argued, as a politician, that the award to Messrs. Shields & Co. on account of section B was all wrong, and argued, as a lawyer, for the consideration of $1,000 that it was all right. To say say so is, in the chaste and eloquent language of the Toronto Globe, "falsehood of the very worst and malignant kind." No; it was not Mr. Blake; it was the wicked partners who did this evil thing. Mr. Blake is a member of the law firm of Blake, Kerr, Lash & Cassells. Mr. Blake as an individual believes Shields & Co. not entitled to damages. The wicked partners were willing to argue, for a consideration of a thousand dollars that they were. Surely Mr. Blake was not responsible for that.

It is an old story that of the temperance lecturer who carried around with him a wicked partner to get drunk and furnish a frightful example of the evils of intemperance. The law firm named does business in a similar way. Mr. Lash, the wicked partner, argues for giving Shields & Co. the money, and no doubt the legal effort is largely instrumental in convincing the arbitrators that the money ought to be paid. There is your faightful example. Then Mr. Blake, the good partner, turns up the whites of his eyes and lifts his pious hands in amazement because such wicked things can be done without bringing down upon a guilty land the lightnings of eternal justice.

Of course, it must be "falsehood of the very worst and malignant kind" to intimate that Mr. Blake is in any way responsible for the acts of his wicked partners. The coloured brother found in his neighbor's smoke-house complained that it was too bad a man could not seek a retired place for prayer without having his motives suspected. It is so in the case of Mr. Blake. It is really too bad that his firm cannot accept a retainer to advocate what he calls robbery, without some malicious Tory insinuating that he is partly responsible. But we have before had evidence that political rancour can carry men to extraordinary lengths. When Mr. Blake invited the Hon. E. B. Wood to "speak now," and Mr. Wood was shortly afterward raised to the bench, there are people dishonest enough to insinuate that Mr. Blake had been guilty of bribery. When Mr. Blake gave his friend Moore a letter to Mr. Mackenzie, and Moore got a contract at much higher prices than his competitors offered to take, the same malicious people hinted at corruption. When Mr. Mackenzie became Premier, and Mr. Blake's feebleness of health stood in the way of rendering efficient support, contemptible hints of jealousy and disappointed ambition were thrown out. When Mr. Mackenzie was turned out of the leadership and Mr. Blake took his place, abandoned wretches were not wanting to whisper that dirty and selfish political intrigue was at the bottom of it; and when the complete restoration of Mr. Blake's health immediately followed, these same Tories most maliciously winked at each other and thrust their mendacious tongues into their brazen cheeks. It imposible to say to what lengths the spirit of detraction will not carry those abandoned men Why if Mr. Blake were to sek the retirement and coolness of a neighbor's smoke-house for the purpose of prayer, there would not be wanting libelous and profane wretches to hint that he was capable of stealing bacon.

Such is the rancorous feeling—such the vindictive and unmeasured licentiousness which the Globe now rises to rebuke. Mr. Blake is a pure and simple-minded man; and it is his misfortune, not his fault that he is afflicted with wicked partners. There have been in this age few more noble, more touching or more instructive sights than that of Sir Richard Cartwright hurling anathemas at the Government for paying that money to Shields & Co., while the good Mr. Blake sat by murmuring gentle approval of the condemnation, softly chinking meanwhile his share of the dollars his wicked partners had earned.—Hamilton Spectator.

THE RAILWAY STEAM WHISTLE.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—I regret to have to trouble you again so soon on the above named subject, but as we were awakened at two o'clock this morning by the steam-whistle of an incoming train, I must ask you to reproduce in your columns the following brief article which appeared in yesterday's issue of the Toronto Mail:—

The Mail of Thursday says that Toronto, and doubtless other cities, are soon to be delivered from the intolerable nuisance of railway whistling, which makes night and day hideous. The committee of the Privy Council yesterday gave the railways entering Toronto one month to see what plan they could devise to reduce the whistling to a minimum, and if the railways could come to no agreement the committee will take the matter in hand and deal with it.

Now, sir, if in investigating this "intolerable nuisance" the railway companies are put to some additional trouble and expense they will have "no one but themselves to blame," and they will experience but little sympathy from the public at large, for they have persistently and contemptuously ignored the many loud complaints that have so frequently been made on the subject both by the people and the press.

It is evident that the railway managers either nave no control over their engine drivers, or, if they have such control, that they refuse to exert it, but we gather from the above extract that they will find ere long that strong as they may deem themselves they will be compelled to succumb to a power stronger than their own, namely, that of the Dominion Parliament.

SEIZURE OF NETS.—Mr. F. G. M. Fraser, Overseer of Fisheries, seized 1,200 lbs. of trap and bag nets on the 8th May at Victoria Harbour, shipped from Kingston, supposed to be owned by an American fish firm in Cape Vincent, N.Y. These nets were to be used on the Georgian Bay.

THE WOOLLEN MILL.—The plan of the woollen mill has been slightly changed. The engine and boiler house, instead of being partly veneered and partly solid, the walls are to be of solid brick, and Mr. McKay is allowing the contractor, Mr. West, $200 for making the alteration. Mr. McKay says that the difference in his insurance will make up the $200 in five years.—Free Press.

Bishop Cleary.

KINGSTON, May 28.—The death of Mrs. Lyttleton, Bishop Cleary's only sister, occurred at her home in Limerick, Ireland, on the night of the 14th inst. The Bishop arrived in Limerick a couple of days before her death, and had the consolation of being with her during her short illness and reciting the prayers of the Church at her grave. His Lordship has the sympathy of his people in his recent sorrow. Owing to the death of his sister the Bishop will not leave Ireland till the 5th, or perhaps the 12th, prox.

THE TORONTO MURDER.

The Police Apparently on the Right Track—Important Evidence.

The inquest on the body of Samuel Curr was resumed on Wednesday night at the Police Court before coroner Dr. Johnston. No evidence of any importance was elicited until a deaf mute of the name of George B. Bronfield was called. He stated in writing that he lived at 134 Chestnut street. About a quarter to four o'clock on Tuesday morning he saw three men and a woman on the sidewalk opposite No. 118 Edward street. Two of the men were quarrelling and fighting. One of the two men then struck the other on the neck, on the left side, causing him to fall on the sidewalk. Witness saw these men from his house. He then went to his bed and lay down and smoked for a time. After a few minutes he again went to the window, and saw two men help a third along the street to the spot where deceased was found dying by Mitchell. He thought the man was drunk, and that the others were leading him because he could not walk. The woman, who was about 25 or 28 years of age, left the men and went along Edward street to Centre street. The two men went along Edward street and then north on Elizabeth street. Witness then went to bed again, thinking that the supposed drunken man had been left in the street. He did not know of the murder till the ambulance arrived. The young woman wore a flat bonnet trimmed with black and she had a black bonnet and print dress. Witness did not describe the men. When the men were quarrelling they were just opposite the window of his room. The woman defended the murdered man; he was struck in the face or neck. Witness proceeded—I cannot positively identify any of the parties, their appearance seems changed; I think I recognize a middle-aged man.

Witness was then told in writing to go through the court and point out the man he meant. Amid breathless excitement he stepped from the witness dock, and walking calmly through the court, he stopped opposite the prisoner Falvey, and laid a hand on his shoulder.

Examination continued—I do not know the name of the man I have picked out. When I looked through the bedroom window the second time I saw this man place the murdered man against the fence with his head down, and lift him over the fence at the spot where the body was found. I cannot identify any of the women in court as the woman I saw. I fancy I recognize the male prisoner by his height and back shape, but the men were so quick gone that I had not time to get a good look. The girl Hattie Jeffery (then in court) is most like the woman I saw in regard to the hat she wears. The man like the prisoner struck the murdered man.

The enquiry was adjourned until Tuesday night.

CHAPTER XI.—CONTINUED.

During Thursday morning, the minister lay upon his library sofa, while Regina read aloud for several hours, but in the afternoon, receiving a summons to attend a sick man belonging to his church, he persisted in walking to a distant part of the town, to discharge what he considered a clerical obligation.

In vain Regina protested, assuring him that the heat and fatigue would completely prostrate him. He only smiled, patted her head, and said cheerfully as he put on his hat:

"Is the little girl wiser than her guardian? And has she not yet learned that a pastor's duty knows neither heat nor cold,—neither fatigue, nor bodily weaknesses?"

"I am so glad Mrs. Lindsay will come to-morrow. She can keep you at home, and make you take care of yourself."

Holding his sleeve, she followed him to the front door, and detained him a moment, to fasten in the button-hole of his coat a tuberose and sprig of heliotrope, his favourite flowers.

"Thank you, my dear. You have learned all af Elise's pretty petting tricks, and some day you will be, I hope, just such a noble, tender-hearted woman. While I am gone, look after the young guineas; I have not seen them since yesterday. I shall not stay very long."

He walked away, and she went out among the various pets in the poultry yard.

About sunset, Regina rolled the large easy chair out on the varandah at the west of the library, and placing a table in front of it, busied herself in arranging the pastor's evening meal. It consisted of white home-made lightbread, a pineapple of golden butter, deftly shaped and printed by her own slender hands,—a glass bowl filled with honey from the home hives,—honey that resembled molten amber in cells of snow,—a tiny pyramid of baked apples, and a goblet of iced milk.

Upon a spotless square of damask daintily fringed, she placed the supper, and in the center a crystal vase filled with beautiful Cloth of Gold and Prince Albert roses, among which royal crimson and and white carnations held up their stately heads, and exhaled marvellous fragrance. Upon the snowy napkin beside the solitary plate, she left a Grand Duke jasmine lying on the heart of a rose-geranium leaf.

"Has he come?" asked Hannah, throwing wide the venetian blinds.

"Not yet; but he must be here very soon."

"Well, I am going to milk. Dapple has been lowing these ten minutes, to let me know I am behind time. I waited to see if a cup of tea would be wanted, but it is getting late. If he should ask for it, the kettle is boiling, and I guess you can make it in a minute. I have lighted the lamp and turned it down low."

She went toward the cattle-shed, swinging her copper milk pail, which was burnished to a degree of ruddy glory beantiful to contemplate; and which alas! is rarely seen in this age of new fashions, and new-fashioned utensils.

"Come, Hero, let us go and meet the master."

But Regina had not left the verandah before Mr. Hargrove came slowly towards the easy chair, walking wearily she thought, as if spent with fatigue.

"How tired you are! Give me your hat and cane."

"Yes dear, very tired. I had something like vertigo, accompanied by severe palpitation as I came home, and was obliged to sit on the road-side till it passed."

"Let me send for Dr. Melville."

"You silly soft-souled young pigeon! These attacks are not dangerous,—merely annoying while they last."

"Perhaps a cup of tea will strengthen you?"

"Thank, you dear, but I believe I'll prefer some cool water."

She brought a tumbler of iced water, and a stool which she placed beneath his feet.

"How delicious! worth all the tea in China! all the wine in Spain."

He handed back the empty glass, and sank down in his comfortable chair

"How did you find Mr. Needham?"

"Much worse than when I saw him last. He had another hemorrhage to-day, and is evidently sinking. I should not be surprised if I were recalled before to-morrow, for his poor wife is almost frantic and wished me to remain all night; but I knew you were lonely here."

The exertion of speaking wearied him, and he laid his head back, and closed his eyes.

"Won't you eat your supper? It will help you; and your milk is already iced."

"I will try after a while, when I have rested a little. My child you are very good to anticipate my wants. I noticed all you have done for me, and the flowers are lovely; so deliciously sweet too."

He opened his eyes, took the Grand Duke, smelled it, smiled and stroked her hand which rested on the arm of his chair.

Mr. Hargrove sat so still, that Regina hoped he had fallen asleep, but very soon he said:

"My dear you need not fan me."

"I hoped you were sleeping, and that a nap would refresh you."

He took her hand, pressed it gently, and said with the grave tenderness peculiar to him:

"What a thoughtful good little nurse you are? Almost as watchful and patient as Elise. Have you had your supper?"

"All that I want,—some bread and milk. Hero and I ate our supper before you came. Shall I bring your slippers?"

"Thank you—I believe not. Before long I will go to sleep. Regina, open the organ, and play something soft and holy,—with the Tremulant. Sing me that dear old 'Protect us through the coming night,' which my Douglass loves so well."

"I wish I could, but you know, Sir, it is a Quartett, and beside—I should never get through my part; it reminds me so painfully of the last time we all sang it."

"Well then, my little girl, something else; Oh that I had wings like a dove. To-night I am almost like a weary child, and only need a lullaby to hush me to sleep. Go, dear, and sing me to rest."

Reluctantly she obeyed, brightening the library lamp, and sat down before the cabinet organ, which had been brought over to the parsonage for safe keeping, while the church was being repaired. As she pulled out the stops, Hannah touched her.

"Has he finished his supper? Can I move the dishes and table?"

"Not yet. He is too tired just now so eat."

"Then I will wait here. To tell you the truth, I have a queer feeling that scares me,—makes my flesh creep. While I was straining the milk just now, a screech-owl flew on the top of the dairy, and its awful death-warning almost froze the blood in my veins. How I do wish Miss Elise was here! I hope it is not a sign of a railroad accident to her,—or that the vessel is lost that carried her boy!"

"Hush—you superstitious old Hannah! I often heard that screech-owl, and it is only hunting for mice. Mrs. Lindsay will come to-morrow."

Her fingers wandered over the keys, and in a sweet pure and remarkably clear voice she sang; "Oh that I had wings." With great earnestness and pathos she rendered the final "to be at rest,"—lingering long on the "Amen."

Then she began one of Mozart's symphonies, and from it glided away into favourite selections from Rossini's "Moise."

Of the flight of time, she had taken no cognizance, and as she closed the organ and rose, she heard the clock striking nine, and saw that Hannah was nodding in a corner of the sofa.

FARM AND GARDEN.

SUMMER FOOD FOR PIGS.—One of the very best sorts of summer food to give healthy, rapid growth to pigs, and put them in excellent condition, to be followed up for fattening as soon as corn begins to ripen, is peas and oats sown together.

THE LIMIT OF CULTIVATION.—Cultivate only as much land as you can manure well if your land is thin and poor. Remember that experience of all good farmers is conclusive on this point:—That one acre of ground thoroughly pulverized and well manured will produce more than two acres only half prepared.

DESTROYING SHEEP TICKS.—On this subject a correspondent of the Country Gentleman says: "I see several inquiries for a remedy to kill ticks on sheep. Tobacco dust has proved a very cheap and reliable remedy, and is attended with the best success. People generally dislike wetting the wool in cold weather, and this is much more simple and easier in practice. Wholesale dealers buy many hogsheads of Havana tobacco. After they have used all they can for every purpose in the trade there remains a gritty dust of no use to them whatever. They will give anyone all he needs. Ten pounds will be sufficient for one hundred sheep. Have an attendant catch a lamb and lay it on one side on a box two feet or so high, for ease in working. The other man will open the wool with one hand, while with the other he sprinkles in a trifle of the dust in four rows the entire length of the sheep from head to tail. Put one row, not on top of back, but say six or seven inches each side from the backbone, and the other two rows on the sides near where the legs leave the body. You will be agreeably surprised in a few days to find that the ticks over the entire body of the sheep are all dead in or near those lines of tobacco dust. One application has been all that was needed each year. I would like some one troubled with ticks to try it and report. It has always been very effectual."

HOW TO BUILD A SILO.—The first silos, as we have seen, were simple pits dug in the ground, and the soil thrown out was used to cover and protect the ensilage. In many soils these pits served but a temporary purpose; and the next step in their development was a lining of masonry to give the pits a permanent character. From the difficulty of keeping the water out of these pits, in many localities, silos of masonry were made above ground, and these at first were massive and expensive. The next step in advance, which quite naturally followed, was, to substitute a moveable cover of boards, with weights to give the required pressure, for the cover of earth which had been used in the less perfect form of the silo. As an air-tight inclosure was found to be the essential condition in the construction of a silo, lighter walls were made as a matter of economy, with good results, and even frames of timber, lined with boards or planks, were substituted for the more expensive structures, with complete success. A balloon-frame of scantling, of suitable size, covered on the outside with matched boards, and lined on the inside with two thicknesses of one-inch match boards, with a layer of tarred paper between them, thus securing a practically air-tight inclosure surrounded by a dead-air space as a protection against frost, is, in the opinion of the writer, the best and cheapest form of construction. If the boards and timbers are saturated with hot coal-tar, which can readily be done with trifling expense, the durability of the silo will be very much increased. From the fact that wood is not so good a conductor of heat as walls of masonry, it will be seen from what follows, that wooden silos may have an important advantage over any others in preserving the ensilage, which, in connection with the saving of expense in their construction, must have an influence in bringing them into general use.—Popular Science Monthly.

TIMELY HINTS.—Moments are precious. Forward all along the line! Let the roller precede and the harrow follow immediately after the planter on the corn ground. Watch the horses' shoulders. Keep the collars well oiled. Sow rye and corn for green fodder. It would be well to overhaul machinery for harvest, if opportunity can be had. Give the brood mare moderate exercise. Gentle work will benefit her and the coming colt. Turn the stock upon pasture. Be careful about hooven. For the first few days leave the cattle on clover for only a short time each day, and don't turn them on the clover while it is wet with dew. Keep rock salt where the cattle can get at it. Supply the hogs with an occasional feast of charcoal and ashes. Give the horses some bitter bark, wild cherry is good. The cattle will be thankful for a bunch of hay if they are upon pasture. Make liberal use of the curry comb and brush. Wean the lambs, if the grass is good, and give them a little extra feed. Don't pasture the meadow. No land will make both good pasture and good meadow. See that the animals get pure water. Surface water is rarely fit at this season. Cultivate the young orchard. Straighten up inclining trees and tie them to stakes. Mulch around the roots of currants. Be good to the young chicks. Keep the young turkeys penned up in the morning till the dew is off. Keep the manure cleaned out of the poultry house. Keep this well white-washed. Put sulphur in the nests of hatching hens. Look out for bugs and insects. Use liquid manure in the garden. Plant melons, squashes cucumbers and pumpkins. Plant pole beans, and bush beans for a succession. Now is the time to sow the winter cabbage. Sow lettuce for a succession. Plant musk and water melons. Keed them away from squashes and pumpkins. They do best in a light soil. Stir new peas for a succession. Plant peppers. Put out the sweet potatoes if the ground is warm. Keep up the succession of radishes. They may be put in borders around the beds. Sow late tomatoes in a sheltered border. Transplant the early ones started in the hot-bed and cold frame. Water frequently and shade lightly for a few days after transplanting. Turnips may be sown for a succession. If there are "fleas" in the patch dust with lime while the dew is on. Shear the sheep. Mark lambs. Put the poultry under the cherry and plum trees. Young chicks and turkeys in the garden will do no harm and much good, but keep their mothers. Finish smoking the pork. See that the cellar is clean and pure. Go to bed early and get up early. Rapid work gives more hours for sleep. Use your brains. Plan, and work and win.—Rural New Yorker.

"I wish to express my appreciation of the valuable qualities of

as a cough remedy.

"While with Churchill's army, just before the battle of Vicksburg, I contracted a severe cold, which terminated in a dangerous cough. I found no relief till on our march we came to a country store, where, on asking for some remedy, I was urged to try AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

"I did so, and was rapidly cured. Since then I have kept the PECTORAL constantly by me, for family use, and I have found it to be an invaluable remedy for throat and lung diseases. J. W. WHITLEY."

Thousands of testimonials certify to the prompt cure of all bronchial and lung affections, by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. Being very palatable, the youngest children take it readily.

LOCAL NEWS

Baseball Club.

A meeting of the Silver Star base ball club will be held at 8.30 o'clock this evening at Faucher's Hotel.

Right You Are.

The Cobourg Sentinel-Star says:—

"Peterborough had seventeen electric lights started in its streets last Friday night. Our sister town has a good deal of go-a-headitive. ness about her."

Lecture To-Night.

Our readers should bear in mind that the Rev. Dr. McVicar, Principal of the Presbyterian College, Montreal, will deliver a lecture on "Science and Prayer," at the George Street Methodist Church this evening, at 8 o'clock.

Still Lower Temperature.

On Thursday night the unseasonable cold was not only continued but was even intensified. The self-registering thermometer of the Rev. V. Clementi recorded 28½°, or no less than three degrees and a half below the freezing point.

A Lacrosse Match.

The Junior twelve of the Lacrosse Club have received and accepted an invitation to play a match at Hastings on Thursday, June 5th. They will go down on the afternoon train and return the same evening.

The Probabilities.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, counting from one o'clock this morning, as reported from the Toronto observatory, are as follows:—Moderate to fresh winds, mostly westerly; fair weather; rising temperature.

Nipped by the Frost.

The flower garden at the station of the Midland Division of the Grand Trunk had been carefully attended to this spring, as usual, and was looking well indeed, but the frost on Thursday night seriously affected its good appearance by blighting a number of the flowers and plants.

For the Lumber Firms.

The exodus of laborers was increased this morning by the departure of thirteen men for Rat Portage, they having been engaged by Mr. J. McCannon to work for the lumbering concern with which Mr. Hugh Sutherland, M. P., is connected. Ten men, engaged by Mr. T. Cavanagh for a lumbering firm, also departed for Midland.

Board of Health.

The Board of Health held its first meeting on Thursday evening. There were present—His Worship Mayor Cox, Councillors Allen, Rutherford, Hartley and Green, and Messrs. A. McNeil, Richard Hall and C. Stapleton. Mr. Andrew McNeil was elected Chairman, and Mr. Charles D. Macdonald, Town Clerk, is by law Secretary of the Board. The Board adjourned until Thursday evening, June 5th.

Men for the C. P. R.

Mr. Robert Moore, who has been in Peterborough for some days hiring men to work on the Canadian Pacific Railway, on the north shore of Lake Superior, departed for the scene of operations this morning. He took about one hundred men with him, many of them having been engaged on the Ontario and Quebec and other works in this vicinity. He found it difficult to secure this number of men, and only that he set energetically about it he would not have done so.

For the North-West.

Mr. J. E. Nicholls, General Agent of the of the North-West Transportation Company has taken a party of a hundred working men to Jack Fish bay, a point on the north shore of Lake Superior, to work on the construction of the C.P.R. They go by the Grand Trunk to Sarnia, and thence by the N.W. Transportation Company's fine steamer, the United Empire. It reflects great credit upon the ability and energy as an agent of Mr. Nicholls that he should have secured the transportation of this large body of men from the keen competitors with whom he had to contend.

Bodega.

Fine Spanish wines, Ports and Sherries drawn from the wood, at William Chamberlain's Restaurant.

Personal.

Mr. J. Simonds, of Odensburg, travelling agent of the Grand Trunk, and Mr. J. W. Tate, Toronto, agent for the Collingwood line of steamers, were in town on Thursday.

A Fine Beverage.

Dowe's India Pale Ale, the best ale made in Canada, on draught at the Little Windsor Hotel, the proprietor of which is sole agent for Peterborough.

Among the Places of Interest.

Conspicuous among the places of interest which the rising city of Peterborough can boast of is the "Golden Lion" Dry Goods Store. Situated in the centre and on the best side of George street, and noted for formidably prominent signs, strangers can hardly fail to have their attention drawn to this the finest and most eligible business stand in the "Plate Glass City." It is within easy access to the principal hotels, banks and Post Office, and only one block away from the Market Square. There is something business-like about the place which cannot fail to leave an impression on passers-by and tempt customers inside. With large heavy plate glass show windows, and elegant goods to adorn them, and a massive golden lion sign over the door, Messrs. Fair, VanEvery & Co. are doubtless among the best known dry goods merchants in the Midland district.—Notes from a Traveller.

Pencil Points.

—Frost last night.

—A blank at the Police Court this morning.

—This is amazing weather for the month of May.

—The Port Hope Times urges the Council of that town to hold its meeting in the afternoon.

—Two bankrupt pedestrians were accommodated with lodgings in the cells last night.

—The Saved Army has attacked Bethany. Two engagements each week will take place in that village.

—The Saved Army Trumpet this week contains two songs written by Peterborough soldiers—one by Mr. W. G. Philips, and the other by "C. L. S."

—The Chief of Police has received a circular offering $1,000 reward for the arrest of Charles H. Hincley, who embezzled a large amount of money from the West Side Bank, New York.

—The Street Inspector is having some bad spots in the sidewalk on George street repaired. The piece of walk from the corner of Aylmer street to the crossing leading to the Midland station would bear a little repairing.

Ontario's Health.

The official report of the health of Ontario for the week ending Saturday, May 17th, says: Diseases of the respiratory organs, though not noticeably less than the previous week, still show that the period of their steady decline has set in. Pneumonia, however, seems to remain unusually prevalent. Neuralgia and Rheumatism have both noticeably decreased with the bright weather, markedly free from barometric changes. Special mention need not be made of the prevailing fevers. Intermittent practically retains the prevalence of last week; but enteric has fallen out of the list of twenty most prevalent diseases. Amongst the contagious zymotics there is none showing any marked prevalence except mumps. Whooping cough still continues to maintain much the same position it has held during the last three months; and scarlatina appears within the list of prevalent diseases. Nothing new regarding smallpox has to be reported other than that the disease seems to have become practically extinct in all the several centres it which it has been present during a whole or part of the last two months. The necessity for active measures by medical men and local Boards of Health at the outbreak of this disease, has been so well illustrated by recent occurrences that it is hoped the lesson will be taken advantage of by those most directly concerned. The six most prevalent diseases in the district in which Peterborough is included are as follows:—Bronchitis 10.8, neuralgia 10.3, pneumonia 8.8, diarrhœa 7.7, mumps 7.2, anæmia 6.2.

"How to Take Care of a Husband."

Husband's would generally be a great deal better than they are were their wives to manage them better, but they spoil them in the cooking. Some use them as if they were bladders; they blow them up. And other's keep them almost constantly in hot water; while others, instead of cooking them properly, almost freeze them by the coolness of their own conjugal temperature; while others, again, smother them with hatred, contention and variance; and some actually put them in pickle, and keep them there all their lives. Most of them underdoing wives nearly always serve them up with neglect and tongue sauce. Now is it to be expected that husbands should be tender and well managed in this manner? Some husbands, we are aware, are not to be rendered endurable by any treatment, but there are very few that are not quite delicious when well preserved. The manner is as follows:—Get a large jar, called the jar of carefulness, (which, by the way all good wives have at hand). Being placed in it, set him near the fire of conjugal love; let the fire be pretty hot, but especially let it be clear. Above all, let the heart be regular and constant. Cover him well over with equal quantities of affection, kindness, submission and subjection. Keep plenty of these things by you, and be very attentive to supply the place of any that may waste by evaporation, or any other cause. Garnish with modest, becoming familiarity, and innocent pleasantry, and if you add kisses and other confections, accompany them with a certain amount of secrecy; and it would not be amiss to advise him to procure his clothing from ANDREW MCNEIL, Tailor and Clothier, George Street. Were all the wives in the County of Peterborough to preserve this plan the country would be quite metamorphosed, at all events there will be no harm in giving it a trial.

THERE is now no doubt of an open quarrel between Prince Jerome (Plon-Plon) and Prince Victor. The Paris Figaro says it has been promoted by a Bonapartist deputy at the instance of ex-Empress Eugenie, who wishes the claims of Plon-Plon to be passed over in favor of Prince Victor as successor to the late Prince Imperial. It is stated that she has given the Prince a liberal income and has declared that she will bequeath him the greater portion of her fortune

AFTER years of patient research and unremitting toil, Dr. Van Buren discovered in a little plant, growing on the hill-sides of his native land, medical virtues of a most positive kind. So found by the Author, whose experience for 23 years is such as probably never before fell to the lot of any physician. 300 pages, bound in beautiful French muslin, embossed covers, full gilt, guaranteed to be a finer work in every sense—mechanical, literary and professional than any other work sold in this country for $2.50, or the money will be refunded in every instance. Price only $1.00 by mail, post-paid. Illustrative sample 6 cents. Send now. Gold medal awarded the author by the National Medical Association, to the officers of which he refers.

This book should be read by the young for instruction, and the afflicted for relief. It will benefit all.—London Lancet.

There is no member of society to whom this book will not be useful, whether youth, parent, guardian, instructor or clergyman.—Argonaut.

Address the Peabody Medical Institute, or Dr. W. H. Parker, No. 4 Bulfinch Street, Boston, Mass., who may be consulted on all diseases requiring skill and experience. Chronic and obstinate diseases that have baffled the skill of all other physicians a specialty. Such treated successfully without an instance of failure. HEAL THYSELF

Why So? Ask the wholesale merchants who sell to the retailers, and the retailers who sell to the public. Such a disasterous Spring, such a late, chilly, flooded, bedraggled season, hasn't been known for years. Merchants generally havent bought extensively, as the couldn't see any chance to sell again, and so the whole trade has languished, and stacks of Spring Goods have accumulated, and grown larger, and still larger, for want of demand, until manufacturers and importers have become frightened.

The result may be seen in our store this week. We are actually able to offer, before the season has much more than fairly opened, a complete line of the FINEST AND MOST FASHIONABLE SPRING GOODS, at prices that would astonish you.

☞ Visit our store to-day and every day next week, and we promise to show you goods at prices that was never before known in the history of the trade.

SATURDAY, MAY 31, 1884.

DYNAMITE IN LONDON.

Explosion in Scotland Yard and Pall Mall—Intense Excitement.

A special cable message to the Mail announces that on Friday night at a time when the streets were crowded with pedestrians, two explosions—believed to have been perpetrated by dynamiters—took place in London, one in front of the Carlton Club in Pall Mall and the other in Scotland Yard. Apparently no deaths occurred, but many were injured and the excitement was intense. No clue to the outrage, thus boldly planned in the centre of London, has, it appears, been thus far discovered. The excitement in the evening among the public was at fever heat. Special editions of the Standard and Echo were issued, giving all the known details of the explosions, and the people were maddened by the thought that no life is safe if such outrages are possible in the heart of the metropolis,

WALL STREET NEWS.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The stock market was up again this morning. The only serious obstacle to a general advance was New York Central, which was weak all day long. The bears appear to have singled it out for special attack. The rest of the market was inclined to cut loose from the New York Central and advance upon its own account. Gould stocks were strong and Pacific Mail took a sharp rise. There were a good many investment orders to-day from abroad which helped the market's stability. Few rumours, if any, are current, and the general market is uninfluenced by any special or extraneous consideration. The general situation seems to be improving, as the banks are daily gaining ground, two important factors being the weakness of sterling exchange and the influx of money to this centre. In a few cases it is not unlikely that further liquidation and shrinkage will take place; but in a majority of instances it is difficult to find reasons for a further decline, though perhaps the high jump of prices which began on Monday was not fully warranted by the facts of the case.—Mail.

Just opened out this day, an extensive range of Nobby Ties, just the thing for the present season. Andrew McNeil's.

The Small-Pox Epidemic.

LONDON, May 30.—There is great danger of a small-pox panic. The disease has become alarmingly prevalent, and its spread cannot be checked. Its appearance last November in mild form created but little uneasiness, but it has been spreading through the metropolis ever since, and is making headway into the provinces. In the Hackney district, a northern district of the city, there are over one thousand cases. The district has been black-flagged and isolated as far as it can. Alarm is so great in some cases as to cause uneasiness. On Tuesday night, about midnight, some of the bodies of the dead were being carted away, when a large crowd, terrified at the frequency of the dead-waggons' visits, assembled and threatened violence, but were restrained by the police who escorted the vans. A movement is on foot for the purpose of larger hospital accommodation for the victims of the dreadful scourge. It is estimated that in addition to £50,000 already spent in procuring isolated buildings and fittings, with accommodations, a further sum of from £150,000 to £200,000 will be necessary.

Large Sales of C. P. R. Lands.

The Montreal correspondent of the Mail, writing under date May 30th, says that the sale of North West lands this year to settlers by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company surpasses any former period in the history of the territory. During the present month the number of acres disposed of aggregated 65,000, against 1,600 acres in the corresponding month of last year, or 33,000 acres in the whole year of 1883. Every month since the beginning of the present year the sales of land have wonderfully increased. The rate was arranged at from $2.50 to $7.50 per acre. The progress in the North West, notwithstanding the insane outcry that was raised there, is perfectly astounding.

Gen. Luard's Successor.

The Globe has the following cable despatch from London:—Col. Middleton has been appointed to succeed Gen. Luard in the command of the Canadian militia, and will sail for Canada in June.

SALLOW FACED GIRLS.—Why don't you improve your complexion? You can do so by using Golden Fruit Bitters and Pills. Sold by all druggists.

OMEMEE.

12TH OF JULY.—At the district meeting held in the Orange hall, Omemee, on Saturday, it was decided to celebrate the coming anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne in this village.

STAKED.—On the 24th of May Mr. S. Grandy's grey mare was badly staked while jumping over a picket fence. The poor animal was caught in such a position that it could not be released till Mr. Grandy sawed the fence down.

BURST.—On the 24th of May morning, early, the large cannon, which has been a native of the commons for many years, exploded with a tremendous roar, pieces weighing upwards of fifty pounds being thrown high in the air. The fourth firing proved too much for its strength. No lives lost.—Herald.

COBOURG.

NARROW ESCAPE.—On Saturday afternoon, as a young lad named Coulter, was playing on the raft at the harbor, he fell in and would have been drowned but for the timely arrival of a young man from one of the piers, who dived in and rescued him as he was going down for the last time.

CATTLE SHIPMENT.—A large number of fat cattle and sheep were shipped from here last week for export by Mr. Wm. Johnston, of Wicklow. They were all fine specimens of stock, some of them exceptionally so.

GETTING WARM.—On Monday night the fire alarms sounded, there being no less than three blazes going on at the time. One was in a frame building owned by Mr. Payne on John street, but a few pails of water stopped the fire; No. 2 was in a barn north of the station, which was destroyed; number three took place in the country, in a north-east direction from the town, the particulars of which we have not learned. The two former are supposed to be cases of incendiarism.—Sentinel-Star.

LINDSAY.

THE "FIELD OF GLORY."—A new volunteer company is to be organized in Lindsay, or rather the old Kendall company is to be revived and Lindsay made its headquarters by Capt. Wallace. Here is a chance for many of our young men to distinguish themselves on the "field of glory."

ST. ANDREW'S.—The Presbytery of Lindsay at the meeting held in Beaverton on Tuesday of this week sustained the call from St. Andrew's church, Lindsay, to Rev. Daniel Mctavish, M. A. The ordination and induction services will be held in the church on Tuesday, 17th June, at half past two o'clock.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—A serious accident occurred on Saturday afternoon on the Victoria Railway track along Victoria avenue. A horse belonging to Mr A. Campbell and driven by a young man named Hoadley started to come down alongside the track as the Victoria train was moving out. The horse either becoming frightened or a line breaking made the animal unmanageable and it ran full tilt on the engine, which of course though travelling at a slow rate of speed soon so mutilated it that it had to be killed. Three of its legs were broken and other injuries sustained. The wagon was also badly used up and Mr. Hoadly received a severe cut on the head. A young lad riding in wagon at the time escaped by jumping before the engine struck them. The horse was an exceptionally good one and the loss to Mr. Campbell will be considerable.—Warden.

Workingmen, see those good Duck Pants you can get for 75 cents a pair at Turnbull's.

CAMPBELLFORD.

A DEAD STALLION.—The large Clyde stallion which Mr. D. Adams imported from Scotland last year, died of inflamation the early part of this week. The animal was valued at $2,000.

CHEESE SHIPMENT.—On Saturday there were nearly 21,000 pounds of cheese shipped from the Grand Junction station here. It represented the produce of six factories of this locality, and was consigned to Belleville for further shipment.

BODY RECOVERED.—The body of the unfortunate young lad Montgomery, son of Mr. S. Montgomery, of Campbellford, who was drowned in the Trent last fall, was found one day last week within a short distance of the spot where he sank. It was taken from the water and immediately buried.

STOCKING A TROUT POND.—Mr. T. Bluts, proprietor of the Windsor Hotel, lately received 10,000 trout fry from Mr. Wilmot of the Government hatchery at Newcastle, and placed them in a trout pond in Cramahe township, which he has rented for a number of years. He deposited 8,000 in the same place last year. He has also put some in a creek in the western part of Seymour for the sake of experiment to ascertain if they will live and thrive.

GONE ELSEWHERE.—Mr. A. P. Jones, who has lived in Campbellford several years, and who has identified himself with the sale of trees, has gained some notoriety by leaving the place before settling his accounts. His indebtedness in the aggregate is large, and his creditors are numerous. One of them made a seizure on Jones's household goods to atone for a bill amounting to upwards of $100. It is much to be feared that Mr. Jones will not return to make matters right with those who are mourning over misplaced confidence now.—Herald.

Another Victory.

A Startling important discovery was made when, after long and patient experiments, the combination of Nerviline was reached. A grand victory indeed, for the suffering have an ever ready, prompt, efficient, and cheap remedy at hand. Do you know that for 10 cents you can buy a trial bottle of Polson's Nerviline and test its great power over pain of every description? Polson's Nerviline cures chills, pain in the stomach, side and back, rheumatism; in fact all pain. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold. A few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10c., 50c. and $1 00. If your lungs are sore, chest or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J D. Tully.

A BAD CASE OF STARVATION.—To starve the lungs by a lack of vital food contained in pure air. If the lungs are obstructed by colds, remove the accumulated phlegm with the safe and pleasant throat and lung remedy, Hagyard's Yellow Oil.

THE OAKS.

LONDON, May 30.—The race for the Oaks Stakes at Epsom to-day was won by Busybody, with Superba second, and Queen Adelaide third. Busybody was ridden by Cannon, Superba by Archer, Queen Adelaide by Webb.

AMERICAN PICTURES IN PARIS.

PARIS, May 30.—A noisy faction of the jury of the Paris salon has hooted down and prevented every attempt of the judges to consider merits of American pictures.

ROCHEFORT ATTACKS GRANT.

PARIS, May 30.—M. Rochefort continues to make violent attacks upon General Grant in the Intransigeant. It is reported his reason for this is that Grant refused to receive him when he passed through America.

AMERICAN.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

HARRISBURG, O., May 30.—Clara and Lulu Snyder, aged 16 and 14, were struck by lightning while standing at the window on Tuesday evening. One was killed and the other cannot recover. The mother of the children was badly injured.

Chicago Republican Convention.

CHICAGO, May 29.—There was a greater influx of delegates and gentlemen prominent in the Republican party councils this morning than any previous day. Hotel lobbies are beginning to assume an air of great activity. No solid State delegation has yet arrived, and none are expected before to-morrow. The delegates now here are mainly from the South. A few New York and Pennsylvania delegates have come in advance of the main body. The sub-committee of the National Committee is holding almost continuous sessions, arranging for seating the delegates and other convention details, to be reported to the full committee on Saturday. Logan's headquarters are open. Arthur's and Blaine's will be ready to-morrow.

Blaines headquarters were opened at the Grand Pacific hotel this evening. It is announced Arthur's headquarters will be opened at various places in the morning. The hotel lobbies this evening present a rather quiet appearance. The members of the national sub-committees are working with closed doors allotting tickets.

PHILADELPHIA, May 29.—A Washington correspondent says all the Pensylvanians have been trying to get Cameron to declare himself for Blaine or Arthur or some other prominent candidate, and to use his influence with the State delegates to Chicago, but he refuses. He says he is going to support to the utmost of his power the man that the convention nominates, no matter who he may be.

NEW YORK, May 29.—The vanguard of the Arthur men left for Chicago to-day.

The most Recherche Styles, in Men's Furnishings, at the most moderate prices, can be found at Andrew McNeil's.

Smith's Market,

White Fish and Trout.

Tomatoes, Cucumbers, Radishes, Lettuce, Mint, Parsely, Rhubarb, Onions, Asparagus, Spinach, etc.

Strawberries, Pine Apples, Bananas, Oranges and Lemons.

Maple Sugar, Maple Syrup, Raspberry and Current Jams by the pound or case.

Strawberries and Fresh oysters received every other day.

Full line of everything fresh and nice for Saturday.

Tomato and cabbage plants.

Bass' English Ale.

Another large shipment of Bass' Ale, October brewing, just arrived at W. Chamberlain's Restaurant. Imported direct.

OTTAWA.—A gentleman writes from Ottawa that after using three bottles of Golden Fruit Bitters he was completely cured of dyspepsia and indigestion.

THEY ALL DO IT.—Everybody uses Teaberry for the Teeth and Breath, the newest, brightest, coolest little toilet gem extant. Try a sample.

DANGER SIGNALS.—Reader, if you are troubled with pain, weakness, weariness and a dragging feeling in the small of the back, with thick, high colored—slimy urine, then you have alarming signals of danger, and should resort to Burdock Blood Bitters, the grand kidney regulator and blood and cleansing tonic.

A RUN FOR THE DOCTOR Is generally the first thing in case of any injury, but a doctor cannot always respond to the call. If you have Hagyard's Yellow Oil at hand, you have a reliable remedy for all wounds, injuries and pain. It has saved life when even doctors had abandoned hope. Keep it ready for use.

IT IS NATURAL.—It is natural for some people to be bilious, being often a result of peculiar bilious temperment, which with high living too greecy food, indigestion from inactive liver, is the frequent cause. The remedy above all others, is Burdock Blood Bitters, It is highly curative for all biliary complaints, and far better than physic for inactive conditions of the bowels.

A New Principle.

The principle upon which Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor acts is entirely new. It does noes not sink deep into the flesh, thereby producing soreness, but acts directly upon the external covering of the corn, separates it from the under layer, removes the direct pressure from the pars, and at once effects a radical cure, without any pain or discomfort. Let those who are suffering from corns, yet sceptical of treatment, try it, and by the completeness of the cure they will be ready to recommend Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor to others.

Can't Be Beaten.

It is a fact that Nerviline cannot be surpassed by any combination for the relief of pain. The reason is a good one. Nerviline contains the best, most powerful, and the latest discovered remedies. It is a magic pain cure. Rheumatism, stiff neck, cramps, neuralgia, colic, in fact all pain, internal, external, and local, are subdued in a few minutes. Go at once to Ormond & Walsh's drug store and get a trial bottle. It will only cost you 10 cents, and you can at a small cost test the great pain cure, Polson's Nerviline, Large bottles only 25cts.

A CHAPTER OF OUR HISTORY.

THE Montreal Star asks :—

"Where need one look for the true account of the Pacific scandal?"

If our contemporary really wishes to investigate this subject and in its character of an independent journal would favor the public with its views upon it, we may suggest that if unwilling to rely upon the party press upon either side, it might perhaps attach more credit to the accounts of our historians, Dent, Withrow, Tuttle, &c., &c. Should it think that these writers may also be imbued somewhat with political or local prejudices, there is nothing to be done but to await the more impartial verdict of later historians, unless, indeed, the Star is willing to do now what they will have to do, that is to consult carefully and thoroughly the original documents. Such an impartial investigator would no doubt weigh the original charges as brought by Mr. Huntington, and would see how far they had to be abandoned, or were borne out by the facts subsequently elicited. He would carefully read and consider the voluminous statements made in writing by Mr. McMullen on the one side and Sir Hugh Allen on the other; the documents showing the negotiations with the Ministry; the railway charter and the conditions upon which it was granted, with the personel of the first directors, the arrangements as to the chairmanship, the precautions against foreign control of the stock, and so forth; the evidence before the Commission, and any other documents throwing light upon the subject. He would also no doubt consider the character and objects of those bringing charges or giving evidence, so as to allow the proper amount of credence to their statements; he would give due consideration to the fact of certain witnesses declining to give evidence when called upon to do so in a solemn and legitimate manner. In relation to the undoubted fact that large sums of money were obtained for election purposes by members of Ministry from one of the railway directors, and the assertion that this was done to counteract the larger expenditure by the other political party, he would have to turn to the records of our Courts to see what proof there was of excessive expenditure for elections, and by whom it was made. In considering this point he would of course recur to the statements of Sir Hugh Allan, and his explanations of how, when and where, to suppose or oppose whom, he expended the large sums of money that he professed to have laid out, the greater portion of which is not accounted for by his contributions to Conservative election funds. He would thoroughly investigate all these and perhaps other sources of information.

This has certainly not been done thoroughly as yet. It will undoubtedly have to be done some day by whoever would write an impartial and fair history of Canada. We do not expect the Star, notwithstanding its question, to undertake such a laborious task. We sincerely wish it would, for we are sure that a conscientious and painstaking investigator, though he would not be able to clear all the actors in these events from blame, would apportion it as was deserved, and would relieve Canada from the odium undeservedly brought upon her by reckless assertions or craftily devised charges made to serve personal and political ends without warrant of fact. Some day justice will be done to all concerned, and the sooner that day comes the better.

INTER-PROVINCIAL TRADE.

IN a long and scurrilous article attacking the Dominion administration and its policy, the London Advertiser asks :—

"Has inter-provincial trade been encouraged or developed?"

We will give as an answer a quotation from the Montreal Herald, as follows :—

"The extent of the growth of the trade between the upper and lower provinces, is nowhere better illustrated than at St. John, N.B., where the increase of railway business has necessitated the extension of the freight accommodation to dimensions far beyond anything that could have been anticipated some years ago."

SCIENCE AND PRAYER.

A Lecture Delivered by the Rev. Dr. McVicar, Principal of the Presbyterian College, Montreal.

Peterborough may be congratulated upon having had an opportunity of hearing the Rev. Dr. McVicar speak publicly on a subject with which he is peculiarly fitted to deal. Dr. McVicar's course of study, and his general line of thought are known to all to whom his name is familiar. It is unnecessary, therefore, to say more than that he was listened to with much attention by a fairly large audience which assembled in the George Street Methodist Church on Friday evening to hear his exposition of the antagonism alleged to exist between Science and Prayer. Whether or not the eminent divine rose to the high expectations in which doubtless his hearers had indulged is, of course, a question for the individual. At all events he lucidly expounded and upheld the doctrine of the efficacy of prayer.

The Rev. Mr. Shaw having gracefully introduced the lecturer, Dr. McVicar plunged at once into his subject. He began by pointing out the basis upon which all belief in prayer was founded; since Christ Himself had said "All things whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer believing, ye shall receive," we were bound to expect answers to our prayers. There were, however, he went on to show, certain limits imposed by revelation itself to the extent and character of our precatory exercises. Prayer, for example was never intended to do away with the necessity for using legitimate means for the attainment of any right object. This is taught us in the command to Moses, "Say unto the Children of Israel that they go forward." Again, science has shown us that stagnant pools generate miasma, that pestiferous germs induce disease. To contend against these our first duty is to conform our conduct to the divine will as shown us in the physical universe. Belief in prayer also was a necessary concomitant, since without this it was degraded into a mere form.

Proceeding from this short introduction to take up the various objections that had been urged against the efficacy of prayer, the lecturer took the opportunity of first pointing out that an objection qua an objection was not necessarily fatal to truth. "The fact is," he remarked, "there is no truth without an objection, and it is folly to abandon any position on account of objections. Knowledge is finite, ignorance infinite. There is an agnosticism in this sense which is wholly scriptural. The unknowable far transcends the known, and this is true in every department of science."

From this he proceeded to examine the objections which have been urged against the validity of prayer, and

First, that it is needless. This, the speaker remarked, was the creed of many who tried to educate themselves into skepticism. He narrated the case of a man who declared he had found it to be a matter of indifference whether he went to his daily business with or without prayer, and pointed out that, since in religion self-deception was a most prevalent error, the so-called ineffectual prayer might not have fulfilled the necessary conditions of disinterestedness, faith and such like. The inference was, not that prayer was needless or useless, but that God was too wise to be deceived by empty forms. Again, if prayer was needless why should it have been enjoined? Why should Christ have demanded it? How is it we find it intuitive, as intuitive as one's belief in a future state, in right and wrong, beliefs of which it is as impossible to rid ourselves as it is to rid physical phenomena of time and space. Man never was without a natural disposition to cry for help to a Superior Being. Even skeptics in unusual peril have not resisted the natural impulse to pray. God also is our Father; we are dependent on Him since we are neither superior to Him nor self-sufficient, therefore we may turn to Him with the full assurance that He hears us.

Secondly, that the logic of statistics shows prayer to be useless; that pious individuals were no better than their neighbors either mentally or physically; that insurance companies made no difference between them, etc., etc. In answer it was urged that it was impossible to sum up spiritual benefits, to tabulate great moral realities—as impossible as to compute culture by a sum in addition, or music and art by a yard-stick. But, he asserted, prayerful people were superior. This question was really a question of Christianity versus Paganism, and at this point the lecturer eloquently gave his verdict for the former,

Thirdly, that prayer fails when tested by the experimental methods of science. The lecturer here narrated the history of the famous proposition which appeared in the Contemporary Review that a test of prayer should be made by having two wards in an hospital with the same diseases and the same treatment, for one of which prayers should be offered, but not for the other. He pointed out the impossibility of such a task, since accuracy was absolutely unattainable, "besides which," he proceeded, "who is authorized to engage that God will be a party to this nice little experiment?"

Fourthly, that answers to prayer are wholly incompatible with the uniformity of natural law. Against this was urged that laws were merely inferences; that laws were secondary to the Law-giver, that that Law-giver had infinite resources, that He was not hampered by the laws of his own creating, to which he was superior, since He was "God over all, blessed for ever."

Fifthly, that answers to prayer are incredible since they involve miracles. In answer to this it was argued that the answers were in accordance with the Divine will, a fact which, although restricting us in prayers in temporal benefits, allowed us full scope in our requests for spiritual grace; that miracles were not violations of law, for that a miracle was "a special work of God, aside from His usual modes of working, performed through the instrumentality of one commissioned to speak in His name." The lecturer forcibly pointed out also that it was "extravagant to say that God, who was infinite in resources, could not go aside from His ordinary method of working without contradicting Himself, that in creating the world He had left Himself free to listen to the wants of His people, that He was by no means handicapped."

Sixthly, that since men it was contended had been imposed upon by pretended miracles we could place no confidence in prayer. The simple answer to this was that since we did not abandon any of the institutions of civilized life—such as banks, because of occasional frauds, neither should we do so in the case of prayer, and that the testimony of Christ and the Apostles was overwhelmingly in its favour. In conclusion, the lecturer declared that his creed was summed up in the words with which he had opened his address:—"All things whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer believing, ye shall receive."

A vote of thanks was moved and seconded in felicitous terms by Dr. Fife and Sheriff Hall and the audience was dismissed with the benediction.

Nine Men Killed in a Railway Tunnel.

LIGONIER, Pa., May 29.—The scaffolding in the tunnel of the South Pensylvania Railroad fell to-day. Nine men were instantly killed and eleven wounded. There are slight hopes of their recovery. A large force was excavating the tunnel a hundred feet from the main entrance when a heavy scaffolding gave way and crashed down upon the men. The names of the victims are unknown. They were principally Italians. The bodies have all been recovered. Great excitement prevails at the scene of the disaster.

The Frost and the Fruit.

BUFFALO, May 29.—The damage in Niagara county by last night's frost is over $5,000. It is not believed the fruit suffered. Reports from contiguous counties say serious damage is done to the tomato plants, potatoes, and other growing garden stuff. At Dansville the thermometer registered five degrees below the freezing point last night. The apple and small fruit crop is seriously injured, if not entirely destroyed. Vineyards and graperies in the valley were badly cut, while many of those high on the hill side received but little injury.

Trying to Get Rid of a Husband.

BROOKLYN, May 29.—On Monday the wife of Patrick Daniels made application to the Board of Commissioners of Charities and Correction to have her husband sent to an insane asylum. She produced the necessary certificate signed by Dr. Joseph Creamer who is attached to the board. On being questioned the woman said Cream er had mad no examination of her husband. Dr. Newman, her physician, had told her that only he and Creamer could give her a certificate. She paid $20 for it. The commissioners made an investigation and ascertained that Daniels was perfectly sane. Creamers resignation was thereupon demanded. Daniels says his wife has not properly conducted herself. Her cousin, who recently came from Ireland, is the cause of the trouble.

Shaker Blood Syrup

Is designed to meet the wants of a large proportion of our people who are either too poor to employ a physician, or are too far removed to easily call one, and a still larger class who are not sick enough to require medical advice, and yet are out of sorts and need a medicine to build them up, give them an appetite purify their blood, and oil up the machinery of their bodies so that it will do its duty willingly. CHAPTER XI.—CONTINUED.

The moon had sunk so low that its light had been diminished, but the reflection from the library lamp prevented total darkness. Mr. Hargrove had not moved from the posture in which she had left him, and she said very softly:

"Are you asleep?"

He made no answer, and unwilling to arouse him, she sat down on the step to wait until he finished his nap.

Watching the white fire of constellations burning in the vault above her, Regina wondered whether it were a fair night far out at sea,—if the same glittering stellar clusters swung above the deck of the noble vessel that had been for many days upon the ocean,—or if the storm fiend held cyclone carnival upon the distant Atlantic?

Her thoughts wandered towards the future, that terra incognita which Mr. Lindsay's vague words:—"there are trials ahead of you," had peopled with dread yet intangible phantoms, whose spectral shadows, solemnly presageful, hovered over even the present. Why was her own history a sealed volume,—her father a mystery,—her mother a wanderer in foreign lands?

From this most unprofitable train of reflection she was gradually recalled by the restless, singular behaviour of her dog. He had been lying near the table, with his head on his paws, but rose, whined,—came close to his mistress and caught her sleeve between his teeth,—his usual mode of attracting her attention.

"What is it, Hero? Are you hungry?"

He barked, ran to the easy chair, rubbed his nose against the pastor's hand,—came back whining to Regina,—and finally returning to the chair, sat down, bent his head to the pastor's feet, and uttered a prolonged and dismal howl.

An undefinable horror made the girl spring towards the chair.

The sleeper had not moved, and stooping over she put her hand on his forehead. The cold damp touch terrified her, and with a cry of, "Hannah! O Hannah!" she darted into the library and seized the lamp. By its light held close to the quiet figure, she saw that the eyes were closed as in slumber, and the lips half parted, as though in dreaming he had smiled; but the features were rigid, the hands stiff and cold, and she could feel no flutter in the wrists or temples.

"Oh my God! he is dead!" screamed Hannah, wringing her hands, and uttering a succession of shrieks; while like a statue of despair the girl stood, staring almost vacantly at the white, placid face of the dead. At last, shuddering from head to foot, she exclaimed:

"Run for Dr. Melville! Run, Hannah! you can go faster now than I could."

"What is the use? He is dead! Stone dead!"

"Perhaps not—he may revive. O Hannah! why don't you go?"

"Leave you alone in the house,—with a corpse?"

"Run—run! Tell the doctor to hurry. He may do something."

As the old servant disappeared, Regina fell on her knees, and seizing the right hand, carried it to her lips; then began to chafe it violently between her own trembling palms.

"O Lord—spare him a little while! Spare him till his sister comes!"

She rushed into the library, procured some brandy which was kept in the medicine chest, and with the aid of a spoon tried to force some down his throat, and pouring the brandy on her handkerchief she rubbed his face and the hand she had already chafed. In the left he tightly held the jasmine, as when he spoke to her last, and she shrank from touching those fingers.

Finding no change in the fixed white face she took off his shoes and rubbed his feet with mustard, but no effect encouraged her, and finally she sat praying silently,—holding the feet tenderly against her heart.

Had he died while she sang, and was his spirit already with God, when she repeated the words,—"Far away in the regions of the blest?" When she came on tiptoe and asked "Are you asleep?"—was he indeed verily "Asleep in Jesus?" While she waited, fearful of disturbing his slumber, was his released and rejoicing soul nearing the pearly battlements of the City of Rest—led by God's most pitying and tender Angel,—loving yet silent death?

"O Land! O Land!
For all the broken-hearted,
The mildest herald by our fate allotted—
Beckons, and with inverted torch doth stand,
To lead us with a gentle hand
Into the land of the great departed—
Into the silent Land."

When the solemn silence that hung like a pall over the Parsonage was broken by the hurried tread of many feet, and the confused sound of strange voices, Regina seemed to be aroused from some horrible lethargy, and gazed despairingly at the doctor.

"It is too late. You can't do anything for him now," she said, clinging to his feet, as an attempt was made to lift them from her lap.

"He must have been dead several hours, answered Dr. Melville.

"None but God and the angels know when he died. I thought he had gone to sleep; and so indeed he had."

Hannah had spread the alarm while searching for the doctor, and very soon Mr. Hargrove's personal friends and some of the members of his congregation thronged the library, into which the body of the minister had been removed.

An hour afterward,—Dr. Melville having searched for the girl all over the house, found her crouched on the steps leading down to the flower garden. She sat with her arm around Hero's neck, and her head bowed against him. Seating himself beside her, the physician said:

"Poor child, this is an awful ordeal for you, and in Dr. Hargrove's death you have lost a friend, whom the whole world cannot replace. He was the noblest man, the purest Christian I ever knew,—and if the church has a hundred pastors in future, none will ever equal him. He married me, he baptized my children, and when I buried my wife,—his voice brought me the most comfort, the——"

His tone faltered, and a brief silence ensued.

"Regina, I wish you would tell me as nearly as you can how he seemed to-day, and how it all happened. I could get nothing satisfactory out of old Hannah."

She described the occurence of the morning, his debility and entire lack of appetite, and the long walk in the afternoon, followed by the attack of vertigo and palpitation, to which he alluded after his return. When she concluded her recital of the last terrible scene in the melancholy drama, Dr. Melville sighed, and said:

"It has ended just as I feared and predicted. His heart has been affected for some time, and not a month ago I urged him to give up his pulpit work for a while at least, and try rest and change of air. But he answered that he considered his work imperative, and when he died it would be with the harness on. He would not permit me to allude to the subject in the presence of his family, because he told me he did not wish to alarm his sister, who is so devoted to him, or render the parting with his nephew more painful, by adding apprehensions concerning his health. I fear his grief at the loss of Douglass has hastened the end."

"When Mrs. Lindsay comes to-morrow, it will kill her," groaned Regina, whose soul seemed to grow sick as she thought of the devoted fond sister, and the anguish that awaited her already bruised and aching heart.

"No, sorrow does not kill people—else the race would become extinct."

"It has killed Mr. Hargrove."

"Not sorrow, but the disease which sorrow may have aggravated."

"Mrs. Lndsay would not go to India with her son, because she said she could not leave her brother whose sight was failing, and who needed her most. Now she has lost both. Oh! I wish I could run away to-morrow, somewhere, anywhere—out of the sight of her misery!"

"Some one must meet her at the train, and prepare her for the sad news. My dear child you would be the best person for that melancholy task."

"I? Never! I would cut off my tongue before it should stab her heart with such awful news! Are people ever prepared for trouble like this?"

"Well, somebody must do it; but like you I am not brave enough to meet her with the tidings. When it is necessary I can amputate limbs, and do a great many apparently cruel things,—but when it comes to breaking such bad news as this—I am a nervous coward. Mr. Campbell is a kind, tender hearted friend of the family, and I will request him to take a carriage and meet her to-morrow. Poor thing! what a welcome home!"

Soon after he left her, she heard the whistle of the night express, which arrived simultaneously with the departure of the outward train bound south, and she knew that it was eleven o'clock.

Hannah was in the kitchen talking with Esau the sexton, and when several gentlemen who offered to remain until morning, came out on the verandah—leaving the blinds of the library windows wide open—Regina rose and stole away to escape their observation.

Although walking swiftly, she caught sight of the table in the middle of the room, and of a mass of white drapery, on which the lamplight fell with a ghostly lustre. Twelve hours before, she had sat there, reading to the faithful kind friend whose affectionate gaze rested all the while upon her; now stiff and icy he was sleeping his last sleep in the same spot,—and his soul? Safely resting after the feverish toil and strife of Time, amid the palms of Eternal Peace.

Anxious to avoid those who sat within, keeping sad watch, the unhaspy girl went around to the front entrance, and sank down on the lowest step, burying her face in her hands.

The library was merely a continuation of the hall that ran east and west, through the centre of the house, and though comparatively remote from the front door, was immediately opposite, and from the sight of that room, Regina shrank instinctively.

Too much stunned and shocked to weep, she became so absorbed by thoughts of to-morrow's mournful mission, that she failed to notice the roll of wheels along the street, or the quick rattle of the gate latch. The sound of rapid footsteps and the rustle of drapery on the pebbled walk, finally arrested her attention, and rising she would have moved aside but a hand seized her arm.

"What is the matter? How is my brother?"

"Oh—Mrs. Lindsay!"

"Something must have happened. I had such a presentiment of trouble at home, that I could not wait till to-morrow. I came on the night express. Why is the house all lighted up? Is Peyton ill?"

Trembling from head to foot, she waited an instant, but Regina only crouched and groaned, and Mrs. Lindsay sprang up the steps. As she reached the door, the light in the library revealed the shrouded table—the rigid figure resting thereon—and a piercing wail broke the silence of death.

"Merciful God!—not my Peyton?"

Thrusting her fingers in her ears, Regina fled down the walk, out of the yard, anywhere to escape the sound and sight of that broken-hearted women whose cry was indeed de profundis.

"Console if you will, I can bear it;
'Tis a well-meant alms of breath;
But not all the preaching since Adam
Has made Death other than Death."

EDINBURGH FORESTRY EXHIBITION.

In the Quebec Legislature, on the 24th of May, Mr. Owens brought up in the House on Saturday the question of the representation of the Province of Quebec at the International Forestry Exhibition, which is to be held in Edinburgh next autumn. During the last session of the House of Commons an attempt was made by Mr. White to induce the Federal Government to take action in the matter but the Premier said that as the forests were not under the control of the Dominion Government they did not feel called upon to send either an exhibit or a representative to the exhibition. The Provinces would have to look after the matter themselves. Mr. Lynch, in reply to Mr. Owens' question, said that he had also impressed the importance of some action being taken upon the Federal Ministers while on a visit to Ottawa last winter, but had met with the same reply. In consequence of the Dominion refusing to aid the project, it is not probable that any Province, with the exception of New Brunswick, will send specimens of native wood to the exhibition. Quebec will certainly not send an exhibit, as Mr. Lynch said that in the condition in which our finances were at present, it would be impossible to send as full and complete a collection as our resources merited, and it was much better to have no exhibit than a poor and incomplete one. The provinces may, however, send a representative to examine into the methods of preserving forests and growing trees, and Mr. Lynch said that if the Hon. H. G. Joly would accept the position, the Government would be proud and happy to send him to Edinburgh as the representative of the Province of Quebec.

"I wish to express my appreciation of the valuable qualities of

as a cough remedy.

"While with Churchill's army, just before the battle of Vicksburg, I contracted a severe cold, which terminated in a dangerous cough. I found no relief till on our march we came to a country store, where, on asking for some remedy, I was urged to try AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

"I did so, and was rapidly cured. Since then I have kept the PECTORAL constantly by me, for family use, and I have found it to be an invaluable remedy for throat and lung diseases. J. W. WHITLEY."

LOCAL NEWS

Pasture.

Good pasture for a few horses can be obtained by applying to E. Brown, at the Little Windsor hotel.

And Will be Greater.

The Bobcaygeon Independent says:—

"Peterborough is the spot where you get it. Peterborough, in the language of the stable, has taken the bit in her mouth, and is cutting out her own pace, regardless of consequence. The electric light company is a brilliant success, and the street car company is coming on. It is a great town, is Peterborough."

Personal.

The Beaverton Express, in reporting the concert of the Beaverton Lacrosse Club, thus refers to a Peterborough amateur:—

"The plays which were rendered were much appreciated. Mr. W. A. Dixon is a host in himself, and his character of 'Toodles' would do credit to a professional."

Base Ball.

A meeting of the Silver Star Base Ball Club was held on Friday evening, at which it was decided to send a challenge to the Lindsay club to play a match on Thursday, June 12th. A committee was authorized to procure suits for the team. It will be a neat looking uniform.

The Probabilities.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, counting from one o'clock this morning, as reported from the Toronto observatory, are as follows:—Moderate to fresh south to south-west winds; fine warmer weather.

For Style, Quality and moderate prices, inspect the extensive range of GENTS' FURNISHINGS at Andrew McNeil.

Cricket Match.

A cricket match will be played on the Cricket Ground, Ashburnham, on June 21st, between the Toronto and Peterborough Club. The Toronto Club is one of the leading clubs of the Province, and an interesting match may therefore be expected.

Tea Meeting.

Remember the Tea Meeting and Apron Sale under the auspices of St. Luke's Ladies' Aid Society, to be held at the Town Hall, Ashburnham, on Wednesday, June 4th. Sale of useful articles at low prices from 4 p. m. Tea served from 6 to 8 p.m. Tickets, 25 cents.

The Driving Park.

Mr. M. Connors has secured the contract for building the race track in the driving park, and is engaged in carrying out the contract. The track will, no doubt, be largely patronized as soon as it is prepared, as it will be a pleasant place for a pleasure drive, as well as a good race track for a race.

Lacrosse.

At a meeting of the Lacrosse Club held on Friday night a motion was passed tendering the thanks of the Club to those who assisted at their concert. It was decided to send a challenge to the Beaverton Club to play a match here inside of two weeks. The Club have also under consideration the advisability of running an excursion to Orillia on July 1st.

Our Canoes Again.

The Calgary, N.W.T., Herald of May 21st says:—

"Last train brought in a very neat little centre-board skiff, named Ripple, manufactured by Wharin, the veteran boatbuilder, who built Hanlan's favourite gigs. It was addressed to Rev. Robt. Young, Calgary. Beside the skiff stood two Peterborough canoes, addressed to Mr. Wm. Ogilvie, D.L.S. We understand they are to be used on the waters of Great Slave Lake."

For the North-west Shore.

Mr. T. B. Tate, travelling agent of the Collingwood Lake Superior Line, secured this week transportation for 78 working men to Jack Fish Bay, on the north shore of Lake Superior, to work on the C. P. R. They go to Sarnia and thence by steamer Campana. Peterborough seems to supply other parts of Ontario with very energetic and successful officials.

THE SLUGGERS IN TORONTO.

An Exciting Contest—Lange and O'Donnell Arrested—Moriarty Takes "Leg Bail."

The Duncan C. Ross combination gave a performance in Albert Hall, Toronto, on Thursday night, and the result showed that, however strong O'Donnell might be when a team of horses were pulling at him, he could easily be "pulled" by the police. After briefly mentioning some wrestling encounters, the Mail gives an account of the "set to" which led to the finale. Jack Moriarty stepped forward to win his $25 in the event of his being able to stand before Lange, of Cleveland, for four rounds. Lange is a tall, muscular athlete, and formed quite a contrast to the light and nimble Moriarty. Time was called and the two stepped forward. Moriarty commenced hostilities, and let out at Lange in a manner which seemed to daze the stranger from Cleveland. At the end of the first round, Moriarty had decidedly the best of the fight, and when time was called in the second round, he had lost none of his gained ground. Lange now seemed to waken up, and it was evidently dawning on him that there was more than weight of body wanted to knock his opponent out. He tried hard to get at his man, but Moriarty began to get wary and resorted to "clinching" to save his money. Lange got excited at the yells of the crowd and flung Moriarty heavily on the stage, regardless of the fact that the match was under Marquis of Queensberry rules. The referee tried in vain to stop them, and Detective Brown and a posse of police mounted the stage to put an end to the fight, but just then "Time" was called, and the men went to their respective corners. Detective Brown cautioned the men, the referee explained the rules, and Moriarty, although almost done up, toed the mark gamely for the last round. This was a mere slugging match for Lange; all Moriarty's wind had gone, and, though knocked down again and again, he still struggled gamely to rise. At the close the referee decided that Moriarty had been knocked out, and the work of the police began. Moriarty ran off half dressed, and was out of the hall before Brown and his men realized their position. Two youthful and ardent members of the force started in pursuit, but failed to reach the street in time. Lange and O'Donnell, his second, were arrested and held in $1,500 bail to appear on Saturday. Ross is loud in his denunciation of the police, and sent his local paper, the Cleveland Leader, a long account. Bail was at first refused, but a special order was obtained from the Mayor, and Lange and O'Donnell were no doubt much relieved to find that they were to enjoy a comfortable night's rest after the excitement and labour of the evening.

Among the Places of Interest.

Conspicuous among the places of interest which the rising city of Peterborough can boast of is the "Golden Lion" Dry Goods Store. Situated in the centre and on the best side of George street, and noted for formidably prominent signs, strangers can hardly fail to have their attention drawn to this the finest and most eligible business stand in the "Plate Glass City." It is within easy access to the principal hotels, banks and Post Office, and only one block away from the Market Square. There is something business-like about the place, which cannot fail to leave an impression on passers-by and tempt customers inside. With large heavy plate glass show windows, and elegant goods to adorn them, and a massive golden lion sign over the door, Messrs. Fair, VanEvery & Co. are doubtless among the best known dry goods merchants in the Midland district.—Notes from a Traveller.

The Double Scull Race.

There not having been time to row the deciding heat in the double scull race at the regatta on Monday, May 26th, it was rowed on Friday night. The contestants were F. G. Cox and W. Rutherford in one boat, and W. Kent and James Fanning in the other. Messrs. John McClelland and W. Ross acted as Judges. Kent and Fanning won the toss and chose the inside course. At the start Kent and Fanning led by a little, but the race down was very close, the boats being about even. At the turning buoy they were still close together, but Cox and Rutherford got straightened out on the return first and held a slight lead over half way back. When drawing near the winning line they crossed into the other boat's course, which delayed both boats somewhat, but getting into proper waters again a good race was rowed to the finish. Kent and Fanning, however, pulled ahead, and won by about a boat length clear. There was quite a number on the shore and on the lake to witness the contest.

Trout, White Fish, Maskinonge, Black Bass and Finnan Haddies fresh at Carton Bros. grocery.

A Painful Fall.

A son of Mr. Wm. Rogers, who resides in Ashburnham, received painful injuries and came near being drowned by falling from a tree this forenoon. He climbed up a tree, the branches of which overhung the river, looking for a bird's nest, and, his hold giving way, he fell into the water. His head struck on a stone, inflicting a severe wound, and his shoulder was also injured. A couple of smaller boys, who were with the unfortunate lad, screamed lustily, and the boy's mother heard their cries and rescued the lad from the water. Dr. Pigeon attended to his injuries.

Just opened out this day, New Tweeds, New Trouserings, New Worsteds, and New Furnishings, at Andrew McNeil's, Tailor and Clothier, George Street.

Pencil Points.

—Warmer.

—A blank at the Police Court.

—There was a good attendance on the market this morning. The price of butter was a little lower.

—The merchants are all anxious to have the streets watered, but none appears anxious to have the water taken from a hydrant in front of his door.

—Two penniless peregrinators reposed in the cells last evening.

—The Norwood Register is improving. We highly approve of several of the selections in this week's issue.

—Mr. J. Harry Wyatt was present at the Saved Army meeting on Friday night. He left this morning for Port Perry again.

—The Lindsay Town Council voted $100 towards celebrating the Queen's birthday, but now, when the celebration is over, the Mayor refuses to sign the cheque. Is Sir Richard Cartwright's independence speech bearing fruit already?

—The Lindsay Post grows hilarious over a typographical error in the REVIEW, but will the "snip" of the Post inform us how a suit can be made without being sewed?

—A lacrosse match was played this morning between the Young Shamrocks and Victorias, two junior clubs of the town, and was won by the Young Shamrocks by three games to one.

A Life Saving Present.

Mr. M. E. Allison, Hutchinson, Kan.: Saved his life by a simple trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, for Consumption, which caused him to procure a large bottle, that completely cured him, when Doctors, change of climate and everything else had failed. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Severe Coughs, and all Throat and Lung diseases, it is guaranteed to cure. Trial bottles free at Taylor & McDonald's drug store. Large size $1.00.

An Answer Wanted.

Can any one bring us a case of Kidney or Liver Complaint that Electric Bitters will not speedily cure? We say they can not, as thousands of cases already permanently cured and who are daily recommending Electric Bitters will prove. Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Weak Back, or any urinary complaints quickly cured. They purify the blood, regulate the bowels, and act directly on the diseased parts. Every bottle guaranteed. For sale at 50c a bottle by Taylor and McDonald.

NOT another Pill shall go down my throat again, said a citizen, "when I can get such a prompt and pleasant cure for my Bilious attacks, as Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters. It renders the Blood Pure and Cool and makes a splended Spring Medicine. Large Bottles 50 cents.

AFTER years of patient research and unremitting toil, Dr. Van Buren discovered in a little plant, growing on the hill-sides of his native land, medical virtues of a most positive kind. Careful experimentation has enabled him to formulate from its hidden sap a remedy that has no equal in permanently curing all forms of kidney disease, and which is now known all the world over as Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Taylor & Macdonald.

Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy.

A marvellous cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria, Canker mouth, and Headache. With each bottle there is an ingenious nasal Injector for the more successful treatment of these complaints without extra charge. Price 50 cts. Sold by J. D. Tully wholesale, retail agent.

A HANDY SURGEON.—As a dressing for all manner of flesh wounds there is nothing better than Hagyard's Yellow Oil. It cleanses, allays pain, subdues inflammation and heals without a scar or stiffness of the parts injured. It is equally valuable as a pain remedy for internal use.

DON'T BE GIDDY.—Many people are troubled with giddiness or dizziness, which is generally a sign of disordered digestion or unequal circulation. Burdock Blood Bitters restores the digestive powers, promotes a healthy circulation of the vital fluids, allays nervous irritation, thus curing headache and giddiness.

Ladies, go to Turnbull's for your Black Silk and Lisle Thread Hose. They are extra good value.

PARTICULAR NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Regarding Pumps!

Over seventeen years ago I commenced the Manufacture of PUMPS in Peterborough, and I take this opportunity of thanking the inhabitants of the town and surrounding country for the very liberal patronage they have accorded me during that time. It has always been my aim to produce and introduce all good improvements in Pumps, and I now desire to call attention to my

NEW PATENT

Model Force and Lift Pump

which this cut represents. I believe it to be the BEST COMBINED PUMP IN THE WORLD. It differs from all others in having the sectional stock or head, with its many advantages, and its firm and durable means of holding the attachments. The intermittent or detachable packing is only used in actual forcing, and it is at all other times (say 95 per cent. of the service of the pump), unfreezable and unwearable.

THE HOSE COUPLING

is very convenient and effective. It can be adjusted in a few seconds, thus quickly changing an ordinary service pump into a Force Pump.

The great advantage to the purchaser is that he possesses a first-class Lift Pump and a good Force pump in one, for the same price as is often asked for an ordinary pump.

All orders promptly attended to, by mail or otherwise, and repairing done on the shortest notice.

We, the undersigned, having examined Mr. H. Owens' New Model Force Pump, take pleasure in stating that we consider it a great improvement on pumps formerly in use. Its our opinion it is one of the best pumps ever introduced to the public, being quickly turned into a pump for fire protection. It is powerful, durable, convenient and easy to work, and it gives us pleasure to recommend it as a first-class article in every way.

WM. H. LAW, RICHA"D HALL, WM. BRADBURN, T. BRADBURN, WILLIAM LOGAN, GEORGE HILLIARD, WM. HAMILTON, J. STEVENSON, WILLIAM MORGAN,

P.S.—Mr. Bradburn liked the Pump so well that he ordered three to replace the cone pump now in use.

Why So? Ask the wholesale merchants who sell to the retailers, and the retailers who sell to the public. Such a disasterous Spring, such a late, chilly, flooded, bedraggled season, hasn't been known for years. Merchants generally have'nt bought extensively, as they couldn't see any chance to sell again, and so the whole trade has languished, and stacks of Spring Goods have accumulated, and grown larger, and still larger, for want of demand, until manufacturers and importers have become frightened.

The result may be seen in our store this week. We are actually able to offer, before the season has much more than fairly opened, a complete line of the FINEST AND MOST FASHIONABLE SPRING GOODS, at prices that would astonish you.

Visit our store to-day and every day next week, and we promise to show you goods at prices that was never before known in the history of the trade.

Every department is brimfull of goods, which must be sold and turned into money.

LACROSSE IN TORONTO.

First Championship Match of the Year—Toronto v. Montreal—Toronto Wins.

On Saturday afternoon the Torontos met the Montrealers on the Rosedale Athletic Grounds, Toronto, for the first championship match of the year. The public seemed to have had an intuition as to the results—favoring, as they did, the home team. Their expectations proved to be correct, for the Torontos eventually won the match by three games to one. The following is a summary of the games:—

First game.....Torontos, 2 mins.
Second game.....Montrealers, 10 secs.
Third game.....Torontos, 28 mins.
Fourth game.....Torontos, 10 mins.

POLICE COURT.

AN ORPHANED VAGRANT.

MONDAY, June 2.—"Daniel Burgess," said Magistrate, in a stern tone, "there is a serious charge against you." Constable Adams had charged him with being a vagrant. "It is very hard," said the prisoner, "to charge a man with being a vagrant who was reared in this county. I came to this county, sir, with Peter Robinson in 1825, when I was ten years old. I was left without father or mother, sir, and I came into town to go into business, with $1,100, and bought a house for myself—" "You have no objection to going up the hill?" said the Magistrate interrupting him. "Well, no, sir, but I would like to be able to get out now and then to do a day's labor at light work." "You and gaoler for that," the Magistrate said. "Six months at hard labor."

ABUSIVE LANGUAGE.

J. Sproule was charged by Gideon Vassan with having used insulting language. He pleaded guilty and was fined $2 and costs.

AN INCORRIGIBLE BOY.

William Donnelly, a boy nine years of age, was charged with having stolen $2.50 on May 16th. This boy has for some time been giving his friends trouble. Last winter he got several pairs of skates at hardware stores, and also procured groceries, having them charged to different men, by calling himself a son of the man he wished them charged to. He has also left home at different times and stayed away for days, causing his mother, who is ill, no small amount of anxiety. The Magistrate, after hearing the evidence, sentenced him to five years in the Reformatory at Penetanguishene.

A Guelph Sensation.

GUELPH, May 31.—Considerable excitement was created in the city to-night by the arrest of Mr. C. Kirk, boot and shoe merchant, on a charge of incendiarism. The facts of the case were:—On Friday evening, after Guy & Husband's dry goods store was closed and the clerks gone, one of the partners had occasion to go upstairs, and detecting an odor as of burning coal oil he went to the third flat, where smoke was seen coming through the floor. He at once got assistance, and the floor was torn up when it was discovered that the fire had smothered itself for want of air. A quantity of rags saturated with coal oil were found close to the brick which separates Mr. Kirk's shoe store from the one in which the fire was discovered. This morning fuller investigation was made, and on taking up the floor on Mr. Kirk's side of the wall it was seen that a small hole had been bored through the wall and only recently filled up, as the mortar was quite fresh. This gave a decidedly suspicious look to things, and the chief of police was consulted, and to-night Mr. Kirk was placed under arrest on suspicion. Mr. Kirk is well known to the boot and shoe trade in Montreal and Toronto. Himself and wife live over the store, and although circumstances point to him as being implicated, there is a general feeling of doubt as to his being guilty of the charge.—Mail.

Can't Be Beaten.

It is a fact that Nerviline cannot be surpassed by any combination for the relief of pain. The reason is a good one. Nerviline contains the best, most powerful, and the latest discovered remedies. It is a magic pain cure. Rheumatism, stiff neck, cramps, neuralgia, colic, in fact all pain, internal, external, and local, are subdued in a few minutes. Go at once to Ormond & Walsh's drug store and get a trial bottle. It will only cost you 10 cents, and you can at a small cost test the great pain cure, Polson's Nerviline. Large bottles only 25 cts.

LARGE SALES OF LAND.

65,000 Acres Sold in the North-West in April —Wonderful Progress.

No better proof of the manner in which the Great Northwest is being filled up can be found than the enormous sales which are taking place of the lands of the Canadian Pacific Railway. A short time ago it was shown that from the commencement of 1884 up to the end of April the sales had been by several thousand acres far in advance of the same period of last year. The Secretary of the Company, Mr. Charles Drinkwater, is now in receipt of the actual sales during the month of May, which aggregate nearly 65,000 acres. For the same period last year the sales only amounted to 1,600 acres, whilst the total sales for last year were 33,000 acres, or just about half the amount sold in April last. The prices realized ranged from $2.50 to 7.50 an acre, or, taking an average of $3, would net nearly $200,000 for that month alone. Hon. Donald A. Smith, who has just returned from England, reports that the interest in Canada is unabated there, the stock of the C.P.R. is be rapidly absorbed by English investors who are taking advantage of the present low quotations, and that in a very short time the stock will cease to be manipulated up and down as heretofore by speculators upon the New York market.

Messrs. Stephen and Abbott sail for Canada on Saturday to attend the adjourned annual meeting to be held on the 14th prox.

Tracklaying on the C. P. R. construction has been resumed at the summit of the Rockies. The terminus for receiving material will shortly be removed to Summit Lake, four or five miles further west than the prrsent terminus.—Montreal Star (Indep.)

LORD RANDOLPH CHURCHILL'S DEBUT.

Having some money and a pretty, ambitious American wife, Lord Randolph next wished to go into parliament. Here, too, events were propitious. The quiet, sleepy old borough of Woodstock (where young Rosamond was discovered, and the jealous queen with unpitying eyes sent her fair young rival to her doom) belonged to the Marlborough interest, and Churchill got its 1,159 Tory votes and thus he become a member of partiament in March, 1874, when he was twenty six years old. I happened to be in the gallery of the Commons the day, or rather the evening, Lord Randolph Churchill made his maiden speech. Mr. Gladstone had attacked the Indian policy of Disraeli, who had not yet been made Earl of Beaconsfield. The great liberal leader was never in better vein than on that occasion, and he slashed right and left in the most savage way. It was about the time that the Queen was being made Empress of India, and this gave the opposition an opportunity which finally ended in their rival's overthrow. No one seemed ready to answer Mr. Gladstone's attack, and there was the usual subdued murmur which happens when a deliberate body does not quite know what next to do. All at once a boyish-looking young fellow, whom I had remarked before, took off his hat, arose and began to speak. He looked extremely slight and youthful, and everyone supposed it would be the usual thing with a debutant—a few words disconnected, some halting and indecision, and then a breakdown and an utter failure. To attack Gladstone! Why, it was Apollo attacking great Jove. So everyone took a comfortable seat and got ready to laugh, But the time for laugher did not seem to come. With perfect coolness, and the aplomb of Capt. Hawtree himself, the youthful speaker answered the principal statements of Mr. Gladstone. Then suddenly changing his style and argument, he began a defence of the conservative policy and its leader. Just then, clad in an evening dress and with a primrose in his buttonhole, Disraeli came into the room with an air of inscrutable impassiveness that covered his features like a mask. He listened an instant and an appearance of interest came into his face. Churchill went on, and when he wound up with a brilliant peroration the English parliament perceived that the Conservative side had an addition that would be valuable, and the house rang with delighted cheers. Next morning he was famous and since then there has been no laughing when Churchill began to speak.—Washington Capital.

Dynamite in Sandwich Gaol.

DETROIT, May 30.—It is stated that last Tuesday Gaoler Sparks, of Sandwich gaol, discovered in a straw tick in one of the cells two glycerine cartridges and enough dynamite to blow up the whole building. It appears that, on account of the men a ward being so crowded, it was found necessary to obtain an extra bed from the matron. During the late Gaoler Leech's time, a notorious woman named Kate Smoats was among the prisoners, who let down a corset steel to Greenwood and Phipps, to be used by them in sawing the prison bars. She was afterwards sent to the Mercer reformatory, but it appears that the straw tick which had been last used by her was the one sent into the male ward on Monday, and in the tick the explosives mentioned and two new files were found. Gaoler Sparks has lately been keeping a very strict watch over John McCarthy, one of the men recently confined on a charge of attempted burglary in Windsor, who has evidently laid different plans to escape, and who had some spoons and other articles in his cell. In consequence he was continually moved from one ward to another, and must have had some inkling from some source of what was in this bed, as his movements on its being brought in aroused the gaoler's suspicions and led to the search.

Grand Trunk Traffic Receipts.

The Grand Trunk weekly traffic report for the week ending May 24th, shows the total receipts from passengers, mails and express to be $117,834, and from freight and live stock $190,619, making a total of $308,453. The receipts for the corresponding week in 1883 were $346,760, which shows a decrease of $38,307 for the week of 1884. The aggregate for 21 weeks is $6,396,630, which is $781,869 less than for the corresponding period last year.

REPORTED CAPTURE OF BERBER.

CAIRO, June 1.—Rumours have reached Suakin that Berber has fallen, and that Osman Digma has collected 3,000 men and 4 guns. It is further rumoured that he intends to attack Suakin soon.

A ROYAL MARRIAGE PROJECT.

VIENNA, June 1.—It is reported that Prince William of Prussia during his visit to St. Petersburg arranged a project for a marriage between Princess Sophia Dorothea, granddaughter of the Emperor, and the Czarovitch.

ANTI-ORANGE DEMONSTRATION.

DUBLIN, June 1.—The Irish authorities have prohibited the Nationalist counter Orange demonstration announced to take place to-morrow.

A ROYAL GIFT.

LONDON, June 1.—A suit of pearls, owned by the late Lady Otho Fitzgerald, has been privately bought by Queen Victoria for £40,000. They are intended as a present for Princess Beatrice.

THE POPE AND FREEMASONRY.

ROME, June 1.—An encyclical letter from the Pope was read in the Catholic churches throughout England to-day warning the people against joining secret societies under pain of excommunication. The letter says that Freemasonry at its inception was probably merely a friendly society, but if so it asks where was the necessity for the blind obedience demanded of its votaries.

FATAL BALLOON ACCIDENT.

PARIS, June 1.—The car of a captive balloon at Lille containing twenty persons became detached to-day and fell over a hundred feet. Three of the occupants of the car were killed and the remainder severely injured. The car was built to carry only ten persons. The ascent was made to view a horse race.

LARGE STABLES BURNED.

GLASGOW, June 1.—The stables of the Glasgow Tramways Company at Anderston, near Glasgow, were burned on Saturday night. Two hundred horses were burned to death.

THE DYNAMITE EXPLOSIONS.

LONDON, June 1.—A special cable to the Mail says that the results of to-day's investigations by the London police have made it almost certain that the Nelson monument in Trafalgar square was the main objective point of the miscreants who planned the dynamite explosions of last Friday night. The police now announce the thory that the dynamiters aimed to concentrate public excitement about the square in order to obtain a clear field for operations elsewhere.

FRENCH AMNESTIES.

PARIS, June 1.—The Cri du Peuple says numerous amnesties, including those of Louise Michel, the Communists, and Prince Krapotkine, will be granted on July 14, the anniversary of the destruction of the bastile.

THE SUEZ CANAL.

PARIS, June 1.—A technical commission on the Suez canal to discuss the question whether a second canal, parallel with the present one, shall be built or the present canal enlarged will soon be appointed. It will consist of eight French and six other engineers.

FORTESCUE v. GARMOYLE.

LONDON, June 1.—It is reported that the breach of promise suit brought by Miss Finney alias Fortescue, the actress, against Lord Garmoyle, son of Earl Cairns, has been stricken out of the list of causes.

NATIONALISTS' MEETINGS.

DUBLIN, June 1.—A large meeting of Nationalists was held at Mullingar to-day. Messrs. Healy, Dawson, and Kenny were present. At a banquet this evening Messrs. Sullivan and Harrington, members of Parliament, were each presented with a purse of three hundred and fifty pounds. Nationalist meetings were also held outside the town of Newry, despite the fact that a proclamation had been issued prohibiting such gatherings. Five hundred policemen and two troops of lancers were drafted from Dublin to prevent disturbance. Great excitement prevailed in and about Newry. Messrs. Bigger and O'Brien addressed the people as they were leaving church, advising them to come to terms with the landlords in order to secure farms. A letter was received in Dublin yesterday, stating that two dynamiters started from London, intending to blow up the public buildings if the meetings were stopped.

Animals and their Products.

The Monetary Times gives the following account of our export of animals and their products:—

| Article. | Fiscal year '82. Quantity. | Fiscal year '83. Quantity. | Value. |

The Americans bought most of our horses, the English most of our horned cattle, sheep and swine, as well as our dead meats. For poultry and eggs we had no considerable customer except the States. England took as usual the bulk of our cheese and butter; the United States our hides, skins and wool. About 100,000 pounds of wool was sent by British Columbia to Great Britain. $20,284,000 is the figure realized from animals and their produce last year.

OTTAWA.—A gentleman writes from Ottawa that after using three bottles of Golden Fruit Bitters he was completely cured of dyspepsia and indigestion.

The Greatest Healing Compound

is prepared of carbolic acid, vaseline and cerate called McGregor & Parke's Carbolic Cerate. It will cure any sore, cut burn or bruise when all other preparations fail. Call at John McKee's drug store and get a package. Twenty-five cents is all it costs.

A New Principle.

The principle upon which Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor acts is entirely new. It does noes not sink deep into the flesh, thereby producing soreness, but acts directly upon the external covering of the corn, separates it from the under layer, removes the direct pressure from the pars, and at once effects a radical cure, without any pain or discomfort. Let those who are suffering from corns, yet sceptical of treatment, try it, and by the completeness of the cure they will be ready to recommend Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor to others.

REPUDIATION.

THE Ottawa Free Press, with a truly "Liberal" disregard of other people's rights, has come out straight in favour of repudiation. It advocates cutting off the perpetual pensions given to Marlborough and Penn, and their descendents, without any compensation. Now it may be that the price paid for the victory at Blenheim and the settlement of Pennsylvania was excessive, but the bargain, if foolish, was made and should be carried out. It would be quite as justifiable to repudiate that portion of the public debt that was incurred to pay the salary of the first Duke of Marlborough in order to save the interest on it, as to confiscate the pension because the yearly payment is considered onerous. Either payment can be terminated by paying its fair value, and any other method would be simple robbery. And leaving aside the question of honesty, a nation cannot afford to indulge in repudiation.

WANT OF HARMONY.

THE leading Reform journal does not like our remarks upon the Senate and upon Sir Richard Cartwright's abuse of it. The Globe asserts that the Upper House of our Canadian Parliament is a nullity, where it is not a nuisance, and adds:—

"In either case it needs to be either abolished or brought into harmony with the spirit of the age."

The plain truth is that the Globe's quarrel with the Senate is because the Senators are in harmony with the spirit of the age, and with the views of the people of Canada, while they are not in harmony with the Globe and its friends, the rejected of the people, the politicians who were ignominiously dismissed because they did not understand the needs of the country. The Globe would be delighted with the Senate if it were out of harmony with the majority of the people of Canada, and were in harmony with the minority.

WHICH HORN TO CHOOSE.

WE are not among the number of those who think it fair to assail a political opponent, because being a lawyer as well as a politician, he gives his professional services to some one who is also opposed to us. Several leading Conservatives have lately been attacked by Reform journals because they appeared for Conservative clients, but we are content to leave such unworthy tactics to our opponents. We must, however refer to the foolish defence by which the Globe is injuring the cause of Mr. Blake, our reason for doing so being the unjustifiable nature of the position that is taken. Our contemporary repeatedly likens the case of Mr. Blake's firm pushing the claim of the contractors for section B. to the case of a lawyer defending a criminal. This is a totally false assumption. As we understand the matter a lawyer is at liberty and is even bound to defend the worst criminal, because it is in the public interest that no man should be condemned till he is proved guilty, or till any mitigating circumstances are shown in his favour. But a lawyer, we take it, is not justified, and indeed is as dishonest as his client, when he endeavours to enforce a dishonest claim. Now, in this instance Mr. Blake and his friends are proclaiming that the claim of the contractors or section B. is dishonest, fraudulent and corrupt, at the very same time that Mr. Blake's firm is not defending anybody from attack, but pushing a claim thus stigmatized. This want of consistency it is quite fair to point out, for Mr. Blake must be dishonest in one capacity or the other. If he believes what he says of this claim as a politician, he should as a lawyer leave a firm whose members are, in his opinion, acting participants in a swindling operation. If he does not believe what he says, but is only pretending to do so that he may falsely calumniate his more successful political opponents, it is quite unnecessary to specifiy the nature of his conduct.

REVIEWS.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE.—The opening paper of Harper for June is a very interesting description of "Biarritz" by Lucy C. Lillie, aided by the pencil of E. C. Reinhart, who do justice to the Basque inhabitants and the floating population of health and pleasure seekers. A very different scene is grimy "Sheffield" with its industries and local peculiarities, as described by W. H. Rideing and profusely illustrated. Again we are taken by J. A. Butler to the "North Shore" of Lake Superior, a region of especial interest now with its boundary question and C.P.R. construction, but which must always be attractive from the romantic grandeur of the scenery so ably depicted by Charles Graham. "The New York Custom House" is the theme of Dr. Wheatley, who describes lucidly its multifarious details. W. M. Dickson contributes some reminiscences of "Abraham Lincoln at Cincinnati," a subject which has additional interest from the approach of another Presidential election. Col. Higginson gives another striking page from the earlier history of the United States, "The Great Westward March," under President John Quincy Adams, which throws a light upon the similar recent progress in Canada. J. E. Cook gives the story of "Grace Sherwood, the Virginia Witch," a superstition popularly supposed to be more peculiar to New England. The serial novel, "Judith Shakespeare," by William Black, is becoming more exciting, and an illustration of a striking episode forms the frontispiece of the number. The other continuous tale, E. P. Roe's "Nature's Serial Story," is as charming as ever, and some of the cuts are exquisite. Some lively short tales, exceptionally good verses, and the ever welcome editorial miscellanies complete an admirable number. It is certainly a most promising commencement of the new volume of Harper.

MELVILLE, THE ARCTIC EXPLORER.—We have received for notice a pamphlet containing some strictures on part of the evidence in the case of Mr. Geo. W. Melville, Chief Engineer, U. S. N. The author, Mr. J. H. Capel, of this town, writes with the full knowledge of one personally connected with the points at issue, and makes out a strong case of hardship inflicted upon this celebrated explorer, so widely known as the chief engineer of the ill-fated "Jeannette," lost during an exploration in the Arctic Ocean.

BELLEVILLE.

FROST.—There was a heavy frost on Thursday night, which it is feared did damage to vegetation.

NEW DOCK.—Messrs. Downey & Preston are building a new dock around their lower elevator.

SLEEPERS.—The Rathburn Company who have the contract of supplying the Grand Trunk with ties, are hauling out a large quantity out of the bay on the Grand Junction dock ready for use.—Ontario.

BOBCAYGEON.

FISHERY LAWS.—It is gratifying to find that one of the fishery warders performed his duties during the close season. Mr. F. Crandell, the warder of Sturgeon Lake, caught George Perrin, Josiah Perrin, Robert Henderson, Benjamin Knight and Sandford Switzer spearing fish on May 3rd. They were brought before Mr. Geo. Cochrane, the fishery overseer, on Wednesday, at the Sturgeon Point Hotel. As there was some doubt about the identity of Switzer he was dismissed with a caution. The other four were each fined $12, and the costs amounted to $15.50. The fish they caught on the evening of their arrest, and which were confiscated, cost them $7 each. The fines amounted to $63.60, of which $48 goes to the Department of Marine and Fisheries. This is a wholesome example and it is a pity the law was not more strictly enforced over our lakes.—Independent.

TORONTO.

EXCHANGING TIME.—Time was exchanged on Friday night between the observatory here and Montreal, Quebec and St. John's. The chronograph recently placed in the clock room is now used and gives very satisfactory results. It measures to the tenth of a second.

THE MILITARY CAMP.—In compliance with the request of Mr. W. B. McMurrich, chairman of the Executive Committee Semi-Centennial celebration the Minister of Militia has countermanded the date for the formation of the military camp for this district. Instead therefore of the 16th June being the date for the various corps to go into camp they will not assemble here till the 21st. This will give them an opportunity of participating in the review during the Semi-Centennial.

BUSINESS TROUBLES.—Mr. R. Bothwell, fancy goods merchant, Yonge street, assigned in trust on Friday morning to Mr. Paul Campbell. The liabilities are estimated at about $15,000, and the assets are said to be slightly in advance of that sum. The causes of the failure are attributed to bad debts and the unfavourable influence on the business, of the hard winter and backward spring. It was reported on Friday afternoon that Barber & Co., wholesale woollens, Jordan street, were in difficulties.—Mail.

The Montreal Ice Palace.

A writer to the Witness sends the following translation of a Russian letter:—

"13th February, 1884.

"Promenade in the Zoological Gardens.—Yesterday, 12th February, in the Moscow Zoological Gardens a promenade was held which attracted a large mass of the public. There was special interest in the races on the ice for prizes—distance two versts for adults and one verst for boys, and afterward in the so-called Bavarian race, in sledges, distance three versts. In front of the ice castle, constructed, as is stated on the bill, in accordance with the type of building erected in Montreal, Canada, all the time remained a crowd of the interested admiring this really original structure."

The Pocahontas Mine Disaster.

CHICAGO, May 30.—The committee appointed to investigate the Pocahontas mine explosion submitted their report at the meeting of the American Institute of Miners yesterday. They say dust floating into the chambers was among the causes leading to the disaster. The ignorance of the underbosses in having unimportant doors tended while the main door was left fastened open during the night was another contributing cause. The subordinates were not only careless, but failed to follow the rules of the company in reporting such a state of affairs. Powder was also carelessly used in blasting. The causes named were harmless singly, but combined were sufficient to cause the explosion.

An Important Judgment.

The Montreal Correspondent of the Mail says:—An important judgment has been given by the Court of Appeal here as to the liability of the City Passenger Railway Company for damages a person sustains through a vehicle he is driving being upset and complainant himself or his property injured throught the obstruction of the iron rails on the streets. Two years ago a brewer's dray was upset at the turn from Notre Dame street into Place d'Armes by the wheels getting into a crevice in the track. The driver, named Parker, was thrown some twenty feet with great force and seriously injured, being an invalid for a long time after. He entered an action for damages against the company, and obtained a verdict in the Superior Court for $2,500 and costs. The owners of the beer sued for its loss and got a judgment likewise for $190 as claimed. The defendant company appealed, and four judges out of five, the president of the court, Chief Justice Dorion, dissenting—reversed the decisions of the lower court. The judgment laid down the principle that the company could not be held responsible for accidents occurring on its track where it was constructed under the authority of and in accordance with the law, and where there was no defect in the construction or default in the maintenance attributable to the company, that the tracks were laid as a public convenience under the authority of the statute, and that persons must suffer any little inconvenience in crossing them. In other words that no damages could arise out of accidents caused by a lawful obstruction in the streets. This decision will be a saving of thousands of dollars to the company, as it will prevent harassing lawsuits against it hereafter.

Sudden Fall of a Cotton Warehouse

BALTIMORE, Md., May 30.—The weight of cotton stored in Hooper's building, in this city, caused it to collapse this afternoon. When the front of the building fell in three or four persons were in the counting-room, four in the shipping office, and at least fifteen or twenty in front of the structure. Men were immediately set to work removing the debris in order to get the people out. The body of Mortimer H. Linthicum, cashier of the house, was found packed in between several barrels; it was impossible to reach him. A man named Kelly and a coloured boy were also found among the ruins. Eight bodies so far have been recovered.

Up to seven o'clock no more bodies had been recovered. Edward Bower, a coloured porter of the firm, is known to be in the wreck, as well as Gildea Hock and Kenneth McLea, employes of the firm, occupying a second story room. The building was erected twenty five years ago, and was supposed to be one of the most substantial in the city. On which story the break occurred is not known; all are down from the front to within forty feet of the rear. The ground on which the building stood was filled in, having been the river shore. The foundation is said to have settled and caused the calamity.

Land Grant to the N. W. C. Railway.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Mail writes that the government have granted to the North-West Central Railway Company 6,400 acres per mile for about 400 miles from Melbourne, for some other point on the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, to Battleford. The road will pess through or adjacent to about twenty colonization companies, and consequently it will run through a country fairly well settled, and aid in making the colonization companies a success. For a hundred miles or more the country is now so well settled that it is claimed the road would pay as soon as built. In illustration of this it may be mentioned that in about a month's time seven hundred farmers petitioned for this line. Mr. Beaty, M. P., president of the company, now here, has received a cablegram that a syndicate in England proposes to take up the road and will deposit a million dollars as a guarantee to obtain the necessary funds to complete the road. Matters are in a fair way for the construction of the road. It is proposed to build, if possible, 120 miles as fast as it can be contracted for.

Grant and Ward.

NEW YORK, May 30.—Ferdinand Ward was visited in gaol to-day by his counsel. Replying to a question, Ward said:—"The responsibility of General Grant and John D. Fish in the firm of Grant & Ward was the same as my own." The receiver of the Marine Bank says he is as yet ignorant of the true condition of the Bank. Not half of the lability items have been gone over. He says there will be interesting revelations when the investigation is concluded.

Bound to go Ahead.

ZIBA'S LIE.

Pray who was Ziba? I hear some ask,
And what if he told a lie?
In modern language it is not rare,
'Tis common to falsify.

Well, Ziba his master falsified
To the King, who evil thought
For a time, of one he much esteemed,
But the truth to the light was brought.

How many fond friendship's sundered ties,
With many a bleeding heart,
Are caused by the falsifying tongue
Acting a treacherous Ziba's part.

Let us seek the light that the Scripture throws
On this evil so great, and heed
Its teachings that so the power of Truth
Be impressed on each word and deed.

Isiah says that when truth is fallen,
In the street, that equity
Cannot enter there, and rampant runs
All forms of iniquity.

Another says that 'like bended bows
Are their tongues in telling lies,
From evil to evil such proceed
As the swift-winged arrow flies.'

'Yea, in their heart they have framed deceit
While speaking the flattering word,
Privily seek their neighbour's hurt,
Such know not me, saith the Lord.

'Thou shalt not raise or receive a false
Report against any one,
Nor triumph when by thy artful tongue
Thou hast narm to thy neighbour done.'

Yea 'the one who witness false doth bear,
And one who soweth discord,
His brethren 'mong; with the lying tongue
Are things I hate,' saith the Lord.

'The lip of truth shall established be,
But whatever maketh a lie,'
Can't have a sight to the tree of life
But dying shall ever die.

'One thing,' saith the Prophet, 'thou must do,
That is ever the truth to speak,'
'To one another lie not,' says Paul,
'For an upright spirit seek.'

And who is the one who shall abide
In thy tabernacle, Lord?
He who in his heart doth speak the truth
And useth no backbiting word.

There are jesting lies and business lies,
That the buyer and seller tell,
Lies that are told with harmful intent,
And a-la-mode lies as well.

But lying, whatever the object be,
Is highly sinful, and those
Who practice such, saith the Word of God,
Shall suffer eternal woes.

God's truth requires in the heart much need
Of all the Spirit's aid,
Them into all truth to guide, that so
It's principles be obey'd.

CHAPTER XII.

A dreary sunless December day had drawn to a close, prematurely darkened by a slow drizzling rain, that brought the gloom of early night, where sunset splendours should have lingered, and deepened the sombre desolation that mantled the Parsonage. In anticipation of the arrival of the new minister, who was expected the ensuingweek, the furniture had been removed and sold, the books carefully packed and temporarily stored at the warehouse of a friend, and even the wearing apparel of the occupants had been despatched to the railway depot, and checked for transmission by the night express.

The melancholy preparations for departure were completed, friends had paid their final visits, and only Esau the sexton waited with his lantern, to lock up the deserted house, and take charge of the keys.

To the girl who had really never knowd any other home, (save the quiet convent courts), this Parsonage was the dearest spot she had yet learned to love; and with profound sorrow she now prepared to bid adieu forever to the haven where her happiest years had passed like a rosy dream.

"Mrs. Lindsay, I do not wish to be wicked or rebellious, but it seems very hard that I must leave this dear, quiet home, and be separated from you and Mr. Lindsay, whom I dearly love,—and go and live in a city,—with that cold, hard, harsh, stern man, of whom I am so very much afraid. He may mean well, but he has such unkind ways of showing it. You have no idea how dreadful the future looks to me."

She spoke drearily, and in the fitful flashes of the firelight the young face looked unnaturally stern.

Mrs. Lindsay tightened her arm around the erect slender figure, and gently stroked back the hair from her temples.

"My dear, you paint your future guardian too grimly. Mr. Palma is very reserved, rather haughty, and probably stern, but notwithstanding has a noble character, I am told, and certainly appears much interested in, and kindly disposed towards, you."

"I suppose there are wicked ways and wicked people everywhere, and it is not the fashion or the sinfulness that I am afraid of in New York, but the loneliness I anticipate, I dread being shut up between brick walls—no flowers, no grass, no cows—no birds—no chickens—none of the things I care for most."

For some time neither spoke. Mrs. Lindsay wept, the girl only groaned in spirit; and at length she said suddenly—like one nerved for some painful task:

"When we separate at the Depot, you to take one train and I another—we may never meet again in this world, and I must say something to you which I could mention to no one else. There is a cloud hanging over me. I have always lived in its cold shadow, even here where there is, or was, so much to make me happy—and this mystery renders me unwilling to go into the world of curious, harsh people, who will wonder and question. I know that Orme is not my real name, but am forbidden to ask for information until I am grown. I have full faith in my mother—I must believe that all she has done is right—no matter how strange things seem; but on one point I must be satisfied. Is my mother's name Minnie?"

"I cannot tell you, for it was the only secret dear Peyton ever kept from me. In speaking of her he always called her Mrs. Orme."

"Do you know anything about the loss of a valuable paper, once in Mr. Hargrove's possession?"

"A great many years ago, before you came to live with us, some one entered this room, opened the secret drawer of Peyton's writing desk, and carried off a tin box containing some important papers."

"And suspicion rested on my mother?"

"My darling girl, who could have been so cruel as to distress you with such matters No one—"

Regina interrupted her, with an impatient motion of her hand:

"Please answer my question. Truth is better than kindness—is more to me than sympathy. Did not you and Mr. Hargrove believe that mother took—stole that box."

"Peyton never admitted to me that he suspected her, though some circumstances seemed to connect the disappearance of the papers with her visit here the night they were carried off. He accused no one."

Regina was deeply moved, and her whole face quivered as she answered:

"Oh! how good—how truly charitable he was! I wonder if in all the wide borders of America there are any more like him? If I could only have told him the facts and satisfied him that my mother was innocent. But I waited until Hannah could get away in peace and before she was ready to start—God had called him home. In heaven, of course, he knows it all now. I promised Hannah to tell no one but him, and to defer the explanation until she was safe—entirely beyond the reach of his displeasure; but since you suspected my mother, it is right that I should justify her in your estimation."

Very succintly she narrated what had occurred on the evening of the storm—and the incidents of the ensuing morning when she followed Hannah to the churchyard. As she concluded an expression of relief and pleasure succeeded that of astonishment which had rested on Mrs. Lindsay's worn and faded face.

"I am heartily glad that at last the truth has been discovered, and that it fully exonerates your mother from all connection with the theft, for I confess the circumstances prejudiced me against her. Let us be encouraged, my dear little girl, to believe that, in due time, all the other mysteries will be quite as satisfactorily cleared up."

"I can't afford to doubt it; if I did,—I should not be able—"

She paused, while an increasing pallor overspread her features.

"That is right, dear, believe in her. We should drink and live upon faith in our mothers—as we did their milk that nourished us. When children lose faith in their mothers—God pity both! Did you learn from Hannah the character of the paper?"

"How could I question a servant concerning my mother's secrets? I only learned that Mr. Hargrove had given to my mother a copy of that which was burned by the lightning."

"In writing to her, did you mention the facts?"

"I have not as yet. I doubted whether I ought to allude to the subject, lest she should think I was intruding upon her confidence."

"Dismiss that fear, and in your next letter acquaint her fully with all you learned from poor Hannah; it may materially involve her interest or welfare. Now Regina I am about to say something which you must not misinterpret, for my purpose is to comfort you, to strengthen your confidence in your mother. I do not know her real name, I never heard your father's mentioned, but this I do know, dear Peyton told me that in this room he performed the marriage ceremony that made them husband and wife. Why such profound secrecy was necessary, your poor mother will some day explain to you. Until then, be patient."

"Thank you, Mrs. Lindsay. It does comfort me to know that Mr. Hargrove was the minister who married them. Of course it is no secret to you, that my mother is an actress? I discovered it accidentally, for you know the papers were never left in my way. But one day last June, at the Sabbath-school Festival, Mrs. Potter gave me a Boston paper, containing an article marked with ink, which she said she wished me to read, because it would edify a Sunday-school pupil. It was a letter from Italy, describing one of the theatres there, where Mme. Odille Orme was playing 'Medea.' I cut out the letter, gave it to Mr. Hargrove, and asked him if it meant my mother. He told me it did, and advised me to enclose it to her when I wrote. But I could not. I burned it. Since then I have been more anxious to become a musician, so that before long I can relieve mother from the necessity of working on the stage."

"It was wickedly malicious in Mrs. Prudence to wound you; and we were all so anxious to shield you from every misgiving on your mother's account. Individually I must confess I am opposed to theatres and actresses, for I am the widow of a minister and have an inherited and carefully educated prejudice against all such things; but while I acknowledge this fact, I dare not assert that some who pass their lives before the footlights, may not be quite as conscientious and upright as I certainly try to be.

"The world has not your charity, but let it do its worst. Come what may, my mother is still my own mother but God will hold the scales and see that justice is done."

The fire burned low, and in its dull flicker, the shadows flickered; while the rising wind sobbed and wailed, mournful as a coranach around the desolate old house, whence so many generations had glided in the sheltering bosom of the adjoining necropolis.

Across the solemn gloomy stillness, ran the sharp shivering sound of the door-bell, and when the jarring had ceased, Esau entered with his lantern in his hand.

"The carriage is at the gate. The schedule was changed last week, and the driver says it is nearly train time. Give me the satchels and basket"

Slowly the two figures followed the lantern-bearer down the dim bare hall, and the sound of the departing footsteps echoed strangely, dismally through the empty forsaken house. At the door both paused and looked back into the darkness that seemed like a vast tomb, swallowing everything, engulfing all the happy hallowed past.

But Regina imagined that in the dusky library, by the wan flicker of the dying fire, she could trace the spectral outline of a white-draped table, and of a tall prostrate form bearing a Grand Duke jasmine in its icy hand. Shuddering violently, she wrapped her shawl around her and sprang down the steps, into the drizzling rain; while Mrs. Lindsay slowly followed, weeping silently.

"Were it mine I would close the shutters,
Like lids when the life is fled,
And the funeral fire should wind it,
This corpse of a home that is dead."

KILL THE BLUES, eat the best, sleep sound, keep away headache, keep your liver active, digest your food, make good blood, be cheerful all day by keeping a bottle of Zopesa in your room, and take a dose twice a week. Ask of J. D. Tully.

IT IS SO PLEASANT.—It is so certain and easy in its action. It invigorates the nerve, brain, and muscle. Zopesa does these things simply by giving active digestion, and regulating the stomach and liver. Ask J. D. Tully.

REPORTS received state that the recent frosts have caused extensive damage to fruit, vegetables, and grain in this Province and Quebec, fruit and garden plants being destroyed in many places. The States of New York, Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Ohio have also suffered severely.

WE believe the cause of the wonderful success of our Murray & Lanman's Florida Water may be found in the fact that the principal aim in its preparation has always been to give the simple natural perfume of flowers, without any chemical addition whatever, and to avoid, by all means, the great error of making a heavy, sickly, sweet perfume.

THE SADDEST OF SAD SIGHTS.—The grey hairs of age being brought with sorrow to the grave, is now, becoming rarer every year as the use of Cingalese Hair Restorer becomes more general. By its use the scanty locks of age become thick and luxuriant as ever. Sold by J. D. Tully.

Popularity at home is not always the best test of merit, but we point proudly to the fact that no other medicine has won for itself such universal approbation in its own city, state, and country, and among all people, as

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

The following letter from one of our best-known Massachusetts Druggists should be of interest to every sufferer:—

RHEUMATISM. "Eight years ago I had an attack of Rheumatism, so severe that I could not move from the bed, or dress, without help. I tried several remedies without much if any relief, until I took AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, by the use of two bottles of which I was completely cured. Have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, and it still retains its wonderful popularity. The many notable cures it has effected in this vicinity convince me that it is the best blood medicine ever offered to the public. E. F. HARRIS."
River St., Buckland, Mass., May 13, 1882.

SALT RHEUM. GEORGE ANDREWS, overseer in the Lowell Carpet Corporation, was for over twenty years before his removal to Lowell afflicted with Salt Rheum in its worst form. Its ulcerations actually covered more than half the surface of his body and limbs. He was entirely cured by AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. See certificate in Ayer's Almanac for 1883.

A prime lot of cattle, twenty-five head, were weighed on the market scales to-day. They were from Dr. Kincaid's stock farm and were purchased by Mr. James Howden.

A Good Appointment.

The Canada Gazette of Saturday contains the following announcement:—

"Henry Hall Smith, Esq., Barrister at Law to be Inspector of Dominion Land Agencies and a Member of the Land Board in the Northwest Land Territories."

Tea Meeting.

Remember the Tea Meeting and Apron Sale under the auspices of St. Luke's Ladies' Aid Society, to be held at the Town Hall, Ashburnham, on Wednesday, June 4th. Sale of useful articles at low prices from 4 p. m. Tea served from 6 to 8 p.m. Tickets, 25 cents.

Vital Statistics.

The numbes of births, marriages and deaths registered with the Division Registrar for the town of Peterborough for the month of May, were as follows:—

| Marriages | 10 |
| Deaths | 14 |

Fell Into the Creek.

On Sunday evening a little girl, who was playing on the bridge over the creek on Brock street, fell into the water. She cried for help, and a lady who lives near by came to her assistance. As the child floated down the lady caught her and rescued her from the water.

Parish Church Work.

The Orillia Packet says:—

"The Ashburnham Parish Church Work for April is a temperance number, and contains an extract of the sermon preached by the Incumbent on the first Sunday in Lent, and many particulars regarding the local branches of the C.E.T.S., which numbered 213 members in March, and the Rev. Mr. Bradshaw informs us that more have since joined."

The Streets.

The members of the Street and Bridge Committee are out on their annual tour of inspection. They will, no doubt, find many places needing attention, but it would be an act that would meet with general approval if they would report in favour of laying a tidewalk on Crescent street, leading to the cemetery.

The Probabilities.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, counting from one o'clock this morning, as reported from the Toronto observatory, are as follows:—Variable winds, generally fair warm weather, with local showers or thunder-storms. Cool at night.

Our Fire Protection.

The fire brigade was called out shortly after two o'clock this afternoon to give an exhibition with the waterworks. Mr. James Hinde, of Liverpool, Eng., and Mr. Wm. Tatley, of Montreal, agents of the Royal Insurance Company, of Liverpool, were in town and wished to be able to form an idea of our means of protecting the business portion of the town from the ravages of fire. The firemen turned out promptly and in less than five minutes had one stream playing, and in seven minutes three branches were in full play. After watching the streams for a time the insurance officials expressed themselves as being well satisfied with the waterworks. They also paid a visit to the fire hall.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

THE UNION OF THE FOUR BODIES CAME INTO EFFECT ON SUNDAY.

The Event Celebrated by Special Service in the George Street Church.—Addresses by Clergymen.

Methodist union has been talked of in Canada for some time now. The religious papers and the newspapers have been discussing the subject, and Quarterly Boards, District Meetings and Conferences have been agitated over it for some time. The discussion was not in vain, however, for on Sunday, June 1st, the union became a fact, and the Methodist Church of Canada, the Bible Christian Church, Methodist Episcopal Church and Primitive Methodist Church are now united in one body.

Special services were held on Sunday, in the Methodist churches—some persons, pleased with the union and thinking the event a happy one, called them "marriage services," as the four churches were then married or united. The Methodists of Peterborough and Ashburnham—or those who were formerly Methodists and Bible Christians—held a united service in the George Street Church, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon. There was a large congregation present, and the Rev. John Shaw, the Rev. J. W. Butcher and the Rev. T. Manning, B.A., were seated on the platform. The Rev. Mr. Manning conducted the opening services.

The choir sang as an anthem, "Te Deum Laudamus." The choir was, like the congregation, composed of members from the four churches, and was conducted by Mr. F. W. Miller, leader of the George Street Methodist Street choir. The anthem was rendered in an excellent manner, and the musical portion of the service was good throughout. Prof. Heathfield presided at the organ.

The Rev. Mr. SHAW said that they all knew for what special reason they were assembled. The union that took effect that morning was satisfactory to an overwhelming majority of the various churches, and it had found favor with the outside world. He regretted the unavoidable absence of the Rev. W. Jolliffe, who was attending conference. He then read the 12th chapter of Romans.

A hymn was sung, after which,

The Rev. Mr. MANNING addressed the assemblage. He said he could congratulate the Methodist churches of this country on the union that day consummated. Apart from the questions of inconvenience or expense, there were considerations connected with the union that should make all true hearts glad. He supposed that the time was coming when a common ground would be found upon which all the Christian churches would unite, and he would be glad if he lived to see that realized. The domestic happiness and universal peace of the land depended largely upon the church. Every question in political matters that had a moral bearing, or every moral question that had a political bearing, was a legitimate subject to discuss in the pulpit. A man must be wise to talk wisely on such subjects. He could not talk wisely without being wise, he could not be wise without being learned, and he could not be learned unless there were places to obtain the education. This was being recognized. They had been united, under the providence of God, to go forth with the other churches to Christianize the world. The country was being divided into two classes—those who feared God and those who did not. He would welcome the day when all ministers would stand side by side to oppose everything evil. A man who was busy attending to his business did not have the same wide outlook of church affairs as the Ministers who were engaged in church work, and it was well for the people not to question what was done too much. They should be united, and spread abroad all knowledge, and the prayer that God would make them a blessing to the country such as they never had before.

The Rev. Mr. BUTCHER read the 23rd and 24th verses of Psalm cxviii:—"This is the Lord's doing; it is marvellous in our eyes. This is the day which the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it." These words originally, referred to Christ, but he thought them very applicable to the gathering and the union. He thought that in the union movement they could see the hand of the Most High. A few months ago things looked dark, and difficulties appeared which to many seemed impossible to be overcome, but the Lord was with them. The Shekinah or divine glory rested upon their meetings, and the difficulties vanished. The basis of union was perfect beyond what they could have expected, and he was glad that there had been opposition to it, for that opposition had assisted in perfecting the basis of the union. That day they met in God's presence to record His superior providence, to acknowledge the hand of God in the union movement and to praise Him. He would "rejoice and be glad," but with the feeling of joy other feelings were mingled in his heart. He had been a minister for forty-two years, and he naturally had a strong attachment for the people among whom he had labored. Still, the union was above that. The division of the Methodist Church had long grieved him. The hearts of ministers had been melted on account of collisions between the different branches, but God had seen their tears and heard their words. They were now one church. They all went out of their past relation and met upon one common platform, united under God and in the spirit of the Lord Jesus Christ in one united Methodist Church. A multitude of members did not give power to reach the unconverted, and he urged upon them the importance of consecrating themselves to God.

The Rev. Mr. SHAW said that he rejoiced to see this day. Early in his religious life he resolved not to indulge in bigotry, and he rejoiced in the prosperity of all Christians. He did not see how any one could be a Christian and not be glad to see people converted. There was a work for each church to do, and one church could not convert the world. Many had their preferences, and he sympathized with them, but it had always seemed to him that people who sang the same hymns, preached the same doctrines, and prayed in the same spirit, should be united. He rejoiced because he believed the hand of God had been in this matter. The union had been opposed, but good men could be mistaken. He had been connected with the movement from its conception. He would never forget the time when the crucial point was passed in the union committee. God was not more present on the day of Pentecost than he was there. Prejudices melted like snow before the sun. The result so far had been happy, and under the influence of the Spirit of God the difficulties to come would also be easily met. These results had been reached without any serious agitation. Men had written strongly but not angrily, and they had been willing to be convinced. The church now included ten annual conferences and one general conference, in which the laity were represented. The four uniting bodies brought in 1,633 ministers. They had 169,803 members, and, allowing four adherents addition al for each member, they had 1,079,000 adherents. They had an army of 175,932 Sunday school scholars, and 18,330 of these were members of the Church. The Sunday schools had raised $63,359 during the past year for all purposes. These statistics were not as full as the facts would warrant, but they would give some idea of the strength of the new church. The possibilities before them were exceedingly grand in regard to moral reform. No parliament in the country could afford to oppose such a body. When they were ranged alongside of their Presbyterian friends, who had a common zeal in moral questions, he augured for the future of the Dominion a glorious development of moral influences. The two great questions affecting the moral and commercial prosperity of the country were Sabbath observance and temperance reform. Regarding the evangelistic outlook of the new church much might be said. The Church to-day possessed the old-time power. It might not make as much stir, but the reasons were plain. Wesley could not make as much stir in Cornwall now, because the people have changed much, and the people in this country have made rapid strides in education, commercial wealth and social changes. But would anyone say that the quality of the people's faith had deteriorated? There was more faith in the Methodist Church to-day than at any other time. Many revivals had taken place, and it would seem as if Heaven was placing the broad seal of approval in what they had done. It was their duty to promote the spirit of union. A man was worse than an infidel who did not like his own home best, but he loved the whole Methodist Church, as it had done much for him. In accomplishing this union sacrifices had been made on all hands. The rights of the layity had been carefully guarded. The new church opened its doors wide. So long as a man repented, renounced his sins and desired to serve God, and made his life conform to that desire, it would take him in. There was a place for every one to work in. By Christian words and soft answers they should soften any asperities or put down any questions that might arise. The outlook was encouraging beyond description. In this town there had been no spirit of opposition to the union. Men might have their own views, but they surrendered them for the sake of the union, as did many who favoured them from the first. He trusted that in Peterborough they would live in harmony together. He was sorry that he would not have the privilege of meeting with them more frequently in their united capacity, but he would rejoice to hear of their prosperity. He hoped that they would make a complete union of the two churches that formerly existed in this town, and prayed that God would abundantly bless them.

Mrs. Chambers and Mr. Porteous sang a beautiful duet, "In the Cross of Christ I Glory," the doxology was sung and the Rev. Mr. Butcher pronounced the benediction.

The members of the church remained after the dismissal and partook of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper, and then spent some minutes together in getting acquainted with each other.

Among the Places of Interest.

Conspicuous among the places of interest which the rising city of Peterborough can boast of is the "Golden Lion" Dry Goods Store. Situated in the centre and on the best side of George street, and noted for formidably prominent signs, strangers can hardly fail to have their attention drawn to this the finest and most eligible business stand in the "Plate Glass City." It is within easy access to the principal hotels, banks and Post Office, and only one block away from the Market Square. There is something business-like about the place which cannot fail to leave an impression on passers-by and tempt customers inside. With large heavy plate glass show windows, and elegant goods to adorn them, and a massive golden lion sign over the door, Messrs. Fair, VanEvery & Co. are doubtless among the best known dry goods merchants in the Midland district.—Notes from a Traveller.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

TO REMOVE MILDEW.—Mildew may be removed by dipping the stained parts into butter milk, and putting them into the sun.

TO REMOVE GREASE.—To take grease out of velvet, pour a little turpentine over the spot, then rub briskly with a piece of dry flannel.

TO POLISH GLASS.—To polish windows or mirrors, simply breathe on them and then rub lightly with soft newspaper.

TO RESTORE CRUSHED VELVET.—To restore crushed velvet hold it over the spout of the steam kettle and let it steam well, then comb up the nap.

THE CARE OF KID BOOTS.—Kid boots may be kept soft and free from cracks by rubbing them once a week with a little pure glycerine or castor oil.

A DRESSING FOR CABBAGE.—Excellent dressing for chopped cabbage is made by heating a small cup of vinegar with a lump of butter or a well-beaten egg; salt and peper to suit your taste. Pour while hot over the cabbage.

BANANAS IN ICES.—Bananas make a delicious addition to ice cream. Slice thin and stir in just as the cream is beginning to freeze, or served with it without freezing they are nice. They should be cut up and set on ice for an hour before serving.

BRIGHTENING TINS.—To keep tins bright, take a small lump of washing soda, dissolve in water and add a little sand, then rub the tins briskly with it, using newspaper instead of a cloth. Polish off dry with dry newspaper. It is said that there is something in the printer's ink that aids in polishing.

STOVE CLEANING.—An old newspaper is an excellent thing to keep a stove clean. Whenever anything is by accident spilled over upon the stove, instead of trying to clean it with a cloth or brush, take a bit of paper and remove it quickly, and use a little more paper to rub the stove bright, and then burn them. It is a much quicker, neater and more convenient way.

HOW TO COOK SPINACH.—Spinach makes an excellent dish if cooked in this way. Wash in several waters, boil till tender, then rub it through a colander. Put a lump of butter in the frying pan, and then put the spinach in; salt it well. When it is very hot add two or three tablespoonfuls of cream. Spread on buttered toast, cut in thin slices, or serve as a garnish with fowls, or with spring lamb.

HOW TO ROAST A SADDLE OF MUTTON.—First skin it, leaving the skin whole to roast it with; then skewer the skin on again; then split the tail down and turn each piece around with a sheep's kidney in the centre; these are to be well skewered to keep them in their proper places; then hang it before a clear, brisk fire and roast it an hour and a half; then take off the skin and dredge the saddle thickly with flour. Place it again to the fire and let it roast until the flour is turned the colour of honey; then take up the mutton and put an ounce of butter in a hot perforated spoon, and let it drip all over the frothing; then make the gravy as in leg of mutton.

Nor another Pill shall go down my throat again, said a citizen, "when I can get such a prompt and pleasant cure for my Bilious attacks, as Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters. It renders the Blood Pure and Cool and makes a splendid Spring Medicine. Large Bottles 50 cents.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Taylor & Macdonald.

Never Give Up.

If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility disordered blood, weak constitution, headache or any disease of a bilious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Taylor and McDonald.

Opposition is anticipated to the proposed erection of a new central school in Kingston, it being asserted that the school population is decreasing.

Cured Free.

Any reader troubled with dyspepsia, costiveness, headache, liver complaint, etc., should call at John Mckee's drug store and secure a free trial bottle of McGregor's Speedy Cure at once, which will convince you of the merits of the medicine. It cures permanently where all other medicines have failed. As a blood purifier it has no equal. Remember it costs nothing to try it. Regular size fifty cents and one dollar.

Why So? Ask the wholesale merchants who sell to the retailers, and the retailers who sell to the public. Such a disasterous Spring, such a late, chilly, flooded, bedraggled season, hasn't been known for years. Merchants generally have'nt bought extensively, as they couldn't see any chance to sell again, and so the whole trade has languished, and stacks of Spring Goods have accumulated, and grown larger, and still larger, for want of demand, until manufacturers and importers have become frightened.

The result may be seen in our store this week. We are actually able to offer, before the season has much more than fairly opened, a complete line of the FINEST AND MOST FASHIONABLE SPRING GOODS, at prices that would astonish you.

Visit our store to-day and every day next week, and we promise to show you goods at prices that was never before known in the history of the trade.

Every department is brimfull of goods, which must be sold and turned into money.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

AN ILL BIRD,

Mr. Blake said of Kansas, not that it was a better country than the North West, but that it was better governed.—Toronto Globe.

A STRANGE NEGLECT.

"Possibly, nobody in the Globe office has read Sir Richard's speech as far as the Independence paragraph."—Toronto Mail. It certainly does look like it.—Ottawa Free Press (Reform)

THE CHAMPION CROAKER.

The champion big frog is now on exhibition at Mr. Harry Piper's "Zoo," at Toronto. The frog is to be called Sir Richard Cartwright, because it is the biggest croaker in Canada.—Hamilton Spectator.

EVER THUS.

The Winnipeg Times twits the Government organ of that city on the fact that it has never expressed a desire for the succes of Mr. Norquay's mission to Ottawa. It has never said that it would be rejoiced to see the demands of the Province granted, but has continually, from day to day and from week to week, talked of failure as likely to be the result. "Twas ever thus" with the Grits.—London Free Press.

STILL DISSATISFIED

Mr. Blake was not satisfied until he became leader of the party—until Mr Mackenzie was ungratefully thrown aside by his friends, who trusted that they had found a leader whose brilliancy would carry everything before it. The very opposite has been the case, and to-day the Grits are a great deal more dissatisfied with the brilliant Blake than in 1874, when they were displeased with the faithful old man who had once, by his own practical good sense and untiring exertions, led them to a decisive victory.—Welland Telegraph.

GOOD ADVICE.

Before trading off our present system of Government for a new one, we should first make the best that could be made of the old one.—Hamilton Times (Reform).

ADMITTING THEIR ERROR.

Well, then, what now appears? Why, that the policy of Mr. Mackenzie and his colleagues, while in office, is vindicated by the very party which kicked him out of the leadership. As the Whig says, there are no apologies to offer for what they did. Mackenzie must fairly chuckle over the way in which he has brought the Grits to an acknowledgment of their error in kicking him out.—London Free Press.

CANAL COMPETITION.

There are some kinds of temporary competition which it is not possible to meet. Some shippers have recently been carrying grain across the Atlantic for nothing. Here competition would be impossible or ruinous folly. Is it possible to compete with people who carry grain from Chicago to Buffalo for two cents a bushel? This is the question that has to be answered. Would the abolition of Canadian canal tolls enable our forwarders to overcome a competition of this kind and to turn the traffic from the Erie canal to the St. Lawrence.—Monetary Times.

McCarthy Act in Manitoba.

WINNIPEG, June 2.—The licenses under the McCarthy Act came into force to-day. Both Provincial and Dominion licenses were issued. The Provincial Act is to be altered to conform with the McCarthy Act. All saloons were closed yesterday.

Never Tired.

The Peterborough weekly REVIEW has been enlarged to a seven-column eight-page paper, and is now the largest weekly Journal in Canada. It is an excellent paper, and is never tired of making improvements to keep up with the times.—Oshawa Vindicator.

Can't Be Beaten.

It is a fact that Nerviline cannot be surpassed by any combination for the relief of pain. The reason is a good one. Nerviline contains the best, most powerful, and the latest discovered remedies. It is a magic pain cure. Rheumatism, stiff neck, cramps, neuralgia, colic, in fact all pain, internal, external, and local, are subdued in a few minutes. Go at once to Ormond & Walsh's drug store and get a trial bottle. It will only cost you 10 cents, and you can at a small cost test the great pain cure, Polson's Nerviline. Large bottles only 25cts.

WINNIPEG NOTES.

NEW CHURCHES.—Two new churches are to be dedicated in this city shortly—Holy Trinity and Knox.

FIRST BATCH OF LOGS.—The first lot of logs from Minnesota, for Sprague & Co., arrived via the Red River last week.

M. & N. W. RAILWAY.—It has not yet been decided whether the M. & N. W. Railway will build one hundred miles addition to the railway this summer.

FEES ON AGENCIES.—It is proposed to levy a license fee of $100 on employment agencies, and a by-law will be introduced into the council next Monday to that effect.

THE CITY HALL.—The foundation of the new city hall is now up to the level at which it had been intended to start the stonework. It is generally considered a solid piece of masonry.—Winnipeg Times.

TORONTO.

REGISTRAR'S RETURNS.—There were registered at the City hall during the past two weeks 103 births, 36 marriages, and 75 deaths.

REAL ESTATE SALES.—At Messrs. Oliver, Coate & Co's auction mart Saturday, the following properties were disposed of:—The grist mill and mill privilege, with 20 acres of land, known as 'York Mills' (Hogg's Hollow), together with a brick dwelling and store, situated five miles from Toronto, on Yonge street, sold to Mr. J. Underwood for $3,700.

THE MURDER.—It is said that a clue has been found to the murder of Samuel Curr. A woman of the name of Esther Hawker states that the deceased tried to gain admittance into No. 118, Edward street, and that on being refused he became noisy. Mrs. Jeffrey, the proprietress, then ordered him to leave, and, opening the door, drove the point of a pair of scissors into his neck, causing a wound which resulted in his death.

ROBBED AND NEARLY MURDERED.—Mr. John Goddard, a well-known stonemason and contractor, residing at No. 50 Princess street, while returning home from the post office on Friday night last, was attacked by two ruffians within a few yards of his own door and robbed of the sum of $124 in bills and a small quantity of silver. His assailants, who had evidently been shadowing him, came up quietly from behind and before he was aware of their presence a terrific blow from a bar of iron in the hands of one of them laid him senseless on the sidewalk.

TO HIDE HER SHAME.—About a month ago a young woman, daughter of a respectable farmer living near this city, ran away from home and came to Toronto. Every effort to discover her whereabouts proved unsuccessful, and her father gave her up for lost. She had loved "not wisely but too well," and had come here to hide her shame. She secured employment as a domestic, and up to Sunday performed her duties satisfactorily. Shortly after breakfast she dressed and went out to wander she knew not where. Without home or friends, the poor girl walked for hours, and about half-past seven took refuge in the vestibule of an unoccupied house, 92 Peter street. A Mrs. McGrath, who was passing, heard the poor girl's moans, and on opening the door discovered her condition and hastened off to call assistance. Dr. Davidson was called, and shortly after his arrival the girl became a mother. The doctor had her removed to the hospital as quickly as possible. Before leaving for the hospital the girl told her sad story to Constable McRae, and it is hoped the man who is the cause of all her trouble will be called to account.—Mail.

Hanlan in Australia.

The race which Hanlan won so narrowly from Laycock on the Paramatta river in Australia on the 22nd of May seems to have been rather suddenly arranged. Hanlan, according to the original agreement, was to row Beach instead of Laycock, but a difficulty, however, arose over the stakes, in consequence of Beach refusing to row on the Nepean river, Beach stating that he was willing to meet Hanlan at any time, provided the race was rowed on the Parramatta river. Mr. Hunt stated that in his understanding with Beach nothing was said about any particular caurse, and to this Beacn replied, "I won't take $5,000 and row Hanlan on the Nepean." Beach was selected to row Hanlan because in a race between Beach and Trickett on the Parramatta river, April 3, Beach easily defeated his opponent.

Ferdinand Ward.

NEW YORK, may 31.—Ferdinand Ward left Ludlow street gaol this morning in company with the deputy sheriff, and visited his lawyer's office, where he remained a considerable time afterwards being taken back to his quarters in gaol.

Ferdinand Ward said yesterday he would at the proper time try to prove that some of the statements made by J. D. Fish before the referee were incorrect. Fish's memory had failed him on some points.

Lawn Tennis.

From the Canadian Sportsman we learn that at Manchester, Eng., recently, a tennis match was played between Heathcote, the English amateur, and Thomas Pettitt, the American champion, with the following result: First set, Heathcote, six games to four. Second set, Pettitt, six games to three. Third set, Pettitt, six games to none. Fourth set, Pettitt, six games to two. Thus the American representative was the victor by three sets to one.

Exportation of Cattle.

MONTREAL, June 2.—The Allan steamship Buonos Ayrean, Quebec for Glasgow, via Liverpool, arrived at Glasgow on Sunday, and landed her live stock shipment of 551 oxen in good order, with the exception of seven which died on the passage.

"Hub" Cough Cure, 25 Cents.

Prescription of a Boston physician, dispensed years by a Boston Druggist. One dose will cure any ordinary cough. It acts almost magically Ask J. D. Tully for a 25 cent bottle of Hub Cough Cure.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successfu Cough Medicine we have ever sold. A few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10c., 50c. and $1 00. OUTRAGE BY MOONLIGHTERS.

CORK, June 2.—John Creed, farmer, was shot dead last night near Mill street by Moonlighters. Two other persons were wounded.

SOUDAN REBELS SUBMITTING.

CAIRO, June 2.—The Governor of Dongola telegraphs that the rebels northward of Berber have completely submitted to his authority. The prospects at Kassala are much brighter. The rebels continue their night attacks upon Suakin, but the Egyptian troops are behaving well. The rebel attacks yesterday evening were repulsed and the rebels compelled to retire, leaving five killed and five wounded behind them.

JAMES STEPHENS SPEAKS.

PARIS, June 2.—James Stephens regards the explosions as a dastardly outrage. He says no true friend of Ireland had any part in bringing them about.

BISMARCK AND KRAZEWSKI.

BERLIN, June 2.—Prince Bismarck opposes the pardoning of Krazewski, recently convicted at Leipsic of treason, on the ground that when the Polish party desired to show sympathy for Germany, Krazewski acted as a spy in favour of France. He was, Bismarck declares, playing the double game of Polish patriot and Russo-French emissary.

AMERICAN.

ENO TO BE EXTRADITED.

NEW YORK, June 2.—An officer has left for Montreal to assist in the extradition of Eno, the ex-bank president, who refuses to cross the line voluntarily. The young priest with Eno at the time of his arrest was Rev. Father T. J. Ducroif, of St. Levis Church, this city, who intimated he had rooms in Eno's house. It is supposed Eno took refuge in the clergyman's house when he escaped from his own, prior to the journey to Canada.

THE BRITISH MINISTER.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—The British Minister to the United States, accompanied by his daughters and their governess, will leave Washington in July for a trip through the British provinces.

THANKS FROM PARNELL.

CHICAGO, June 2.—Alex. Sullivan, President of the Irish National League of America, to-day received a letter from Parnell thanking the Irish-Americans for their generous gifts to assist Irish candidates for Parliament. He says he cannot be present at the National convention in August.

THE CHICAGO CONVENTION.

CHICAGO, June 2.—The situation this morning is very much simplified. All the delegates are now here. Negotiations which were carried forward yesterday make it clear that the adherents of Arthur, Blaine, Edmonds, Sherman, Logan and Hawley have made a fair measure of their strength, and deem that the present aspect of the fight warrants them in standing by their men. The most ardent supporters of Arthur and Blaine do not claim for them a majority of the convention. The highest figure mentioned for Blaine is 338, for Arthur 325. Conservative advocates for each put the figures for both under 300. This is necessary in view of the stand taken by the Edmunds, Logan and Sherman men.

Arthur and Blaine.

The Arthur and Blaine managers appear to recognize the condition of affairs, but confidently claim they will show sufficient strength apart from that given Edmunds to carry the day. While the actual strength of Blaine and Arthur has baffled close observation, the impression prevails that the Connecticut delegates will go to Edmunds in the case of an early break.

An Astonishing and Deplorable Blunder

LONDON, June 2.—The article by Mr. Gladstone in the current number of the Fortnightly Review is simply signed "G." The Times published a leading article attributing it to Mr Gladstone. The Pall Mall Gazette declares that the Times has committed an astonishing an deplorable blunder.

Sons of England.

OTTAWA, June 2.—A charter has been applied for to the Toronto Grand Lodge for the formation in this city of a lodge of the Sons of England. It is to be composed of Englishmen, their descendants, and Welshmen.

"A" and "B" Batteries.

It is stated that "A" and "B" Batteries the first of which is stationed at Quebec and the latter at Kingston, will exchange stations in September.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate,

EXCELLENT RESULTS.

Dr. J. L. Willis, Eliot, Me., says: "Horsford's Acid Phosphate gives most excellent results."

A Card.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. Fluid Lightning

Is the only instantaneous relief for neuralgia, headache, toothache, etc. Rubbing a few drops briskly is all that is needed. No taking nauseous medicine for weeks, but one minute's application removes all pain and will prove the great value of Fluid Lightning. Twenty-five cents per bottle at John McKee's drug store.

OTTAWA.—A gentleman writes from Ottawa that after using three bottles of Golden Fruit Bitters he was completely cured of dyspepsia and indigestion.

THEY ALL DO IT.—Everybody uses Teaberry for the Teeth and Breath, the newest, brightest, coolest little toilet gem extant. Try a sample.

CURE FOR DEAFNESS.—As numerous testimonials will show, there is no more reliable cure for deafness than Hagyard's Yellow Oil. It is also the best remedy for earache, sore throat croup, rheumatism, and for pains and lameness generally. Used externally and internally

OH! how tired and weak I feel I dont believe I will ever get through the Spring house-cleaning? Oh yes you will if you take a bottle or two of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters to purify your blood and tone up the system. In large bottles 50 cents.

IMPORTANT CHANGES.—There are two periods in the life of every female when the system undergoes great changes. First, the change from childhood to womanhood; next, that of womanhood to old age. These are the critical changes of life, and the system should be nourished and regulated by that matchless tonic, Burdock Blood Bitters. It is invaluable to all diseases peculiar to females.

RIGHT AT LAST.

We are called upon to give Mr. Mowat praise for his departure for England to argue the Boundary Question before the Privy Council, and for his painstaking industry in preparing the case.

We are very happy to give the Attorney-General credit for this very proper step, and for his efforts to make it effectual. We hope that he will be successful in his mission, and that he will obtain for Ontario her full rights by an authoritative and final settlement of the question in the highest court of the realm.

Nothing but approval indeed can be given to Mr. Mowat for thus bringing this vexed question to the proper quarter for a valid decision. Having seen at length his error in so long and persistently opposing this legal procedure,—having at last been convinced that the policy of the Conservative Opposition of Ontario was correct,—he is quite right to adopt it for his guidance. We congratulate him upon his conversion, and upon his being led into the right course.

We do not even feel disposed to be too critical upon his long persistence in a faulty course, now that he has so tardily abandoned it, for it may have been an err of judgment, which, though lamentable, is not criminal. But it is impossible to be so lenient with Mr. Mowat as to another aspect of this matter. The fact that for years he has vilified the Canadian Parliament, the Dominion Administration, and the Ontario Opposition, for advocating the very course which he is now adopting as the correct one, cannot be excused. That he has sedulously stirred up sectional rivalries, and has endeavored to make political capital by denouncing as robbers those whose course he is now compelled to sanction by adopting it, not only deserves grave censure, but unavoidably excites a strong suspicion that he was not honest in his previous contention, but was acting then, as now, merely from motives of expediency for his only personal advantage without regard to truth or justice, or to the true interests of Ontario.

It is, however, satisfactory to know that now at length we will soon obtain our full rights with an indefeasible title.

THE STREAMS BILL.

The publication of the full judgment of the Privy Council in the appeal case of Caldwell v. McLaren is calling forth a flood of nonsense from some of the Reform organs. One unfounded assertion is that Sir John Macdonald has thereby been proved mistaken in constitutional law. There is a double absurdity in this, for in the first place Sir John Macdonald has not been shown to be wrong at all, and in the next place the judgment had nothing to do with constitutional law, but simply with the interpretation of a loosely drawn and, as it appears, unjust statute. On the other hand Mr. Mowat is shown to be wrong in his law, for the decision of the Privy Council shows that it was unnecessary for him to interfere on behalf of his friend and supporter, Caldwell, as the statute gave him all that he asked.

Either through ignorance or malevolence an attempt is made by the Reform critics to connect this judgment with the exercise of the veto power on the iniquitous Streams Bill. The two matters are really quite distinct. Mr. Mowat and his supporters committed several gross wrongs by their legislation. They interfered with the law courts in a pending case very improperly, unless Mr. Mowat is to be looked upon as a court of appeal from the Supreme Court of Canada. They interfered retrospectively and for political motives with the then existing law, for the judicial interpretation of an obscure statute is the law of the country till it is set aside by a higher court, as now in this case by the Privy Council. They perpetrated a gross injustice by giving one man the fruits of another's labours and expenditure, without proper compensation, for the Privy Council only decided what was the law, not what was justice, while admitting the hardship and injustice of the application of it. For those reasons the veto power was very righteously exercised, being granted to the central authority of our Dominion to meet such cases.

Another stupid contention of some of the Reform journals is that the recognition of the rights of property of those making such improvements would enable them to deny other lumbermen access to their mills and render valueless whole tracts of forest. Our law provides an effectual remedy in such cases, a fact to which the Privy Council refers in its judgment. Our statutes allow the formation of a company with power to purchase such improvements at a fair valuation, as in the parallel case of railroads, and to charge just tolls to all using them. Any five men can unite to exercise this right, so that it is fallacious to assert that one man can control a stream and monopolize it against others interested. Mr. Caldwell, however, preferred to use Mr. McLaren's costly improvements without sharing in the cost. It appears that he has the letter of the law but not justice in his favour.

AMERICAN CERAMIC ART.

Poets have sometimes taken for their theme the rivalry in love which occasionally exists between mother and daughter. It is a painful subject, and of limited application, but, being true to nature, is therefore strictly within the domain of that kind of sentimental fiction which deals, whether in verse or prose, with the moral problems of human life. In more than one such poem both mother and daughter are represented as beautiful and attractive; and the younger woman is made to complain of the elder, that, having had and enjoyed her youth and its fruition, she ought not to stand in the light of the younger and less experienced generation. Most strangely, England and America, mother and daughter, seem as if they were destined to realise something like this personal rivalry—substituting the commercial arts in place of the affections. The United States are, it would appear, endeavouring to wrest the attentions of the world from the parent nation, and trying to charm away her former admirers. They learn from us, and it must be owned in some matters improve upon our instruction. Their illustrated periodicals are ahead of ours in printing and pictures; they produce playing-cards—"tinny"—to perfection; and now, so it is said, are likely to beat our glazed earthenware out of the field. How does this come about? Some twenty years ago America had no school of wood-engraving worth mentioning. Indeed, she was in the habit of importing every playing-card used from the Atlantic to the Pacific; and down to the present decade her earthenware industry could not pretend to cope with our own. Having no native school of wood-engraving, what America did was to import from England the very finest wood-engraver whom this country has produced since the revival of the art by Thomas Bewick, in the latter half of the eighteenth century. The United States offered that accomplished artist, who was also a man of letters, more money and greater consideration than he obtained, or was ever likely to obtain, here. Our loss was his and their gain, and the example of his splendid work spreading far and wide through a new and rich country has led to the happiest results for them. The same thing happened with the playing-card business, and, it will be remembered, with the watch trade as well. We who, so to speak, taught them the trick of producing the best goods in the market, now import playing cards of their manufacture, just as the Swiss trade returns bear witness to the native enterprise of Switzerland in the perfection of cheap watchmaking. Does some such open secret lie at the bottom of the threatened American earthenware rivalry with Great Britain? If so, our capitalists and employers of artistic labour are to blame; if not, there is no reason why Staffordshire should not beat any State in the Union. In this case the mother, in the plentitude of her strength and beauty, must not yield her power of pleasing and pride of place; or, to adopt an American colloquialism, "take a back seat."—Daily Telegraph (London, Eng.)

ALLANDALE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

LARGE FUNERAL.—The funeral of the late Jane Carter took place on Saturday, May 31st. Upwards of one hundred vehicles accompanied the remains from the residence of her father, Mr. Wm. Carter, Otonabee, to the Fife Cemetery. The Rev. J. Tozeland conducted the religious services.

I. O. G. T.—The temple, lately organized by the Rev. J. Shaw, still reports "progress," eleven candidates having been received last Saturday evening, with six more propositions for next night of meeting.

LOOK AFTER THEM.—Since we are favored with two sets of license laws, an opportunity is now afforded to either party, or both, to shew their zeal, as law officers, and look after delinquents, or to manifest an interest in the welfare of those who have paid them for a certain monopoly (be it right or wrong), and protect their business from illegal dealers. Now, gentlemen, take the telescope from the blind eye and really be Inspectors. See to those places where the liquor is sold without license, and that with impunity. Do you know of none? Has no notice of such been given in the past year? Perhaps not!

METHODISM.—June 1st, being the day appointed by Government when the act incorporating the now united Methodist bodies should take effect, the Rev. J. Zoreland, pastor of the Keene circuit, gave, on that date, a synopsis of the rise of Methodism and the origin, etc., of the different branches that are now one by said act. It was well and carefully prepared, full of information and delivered in such a manner as to secure the interest and unremitting attention of the congregation for the space of an hour.

FENELON FALLS.

FOUND.—The body of Joseph Anthony, the French Canadian who drowned himself in the river at this village on the 23rd of April, was found on Sunday below Green & Ellis' mill. Having been in the water over five weeks, it was swollen and distigured almost past recognition, and the few who saw it say it was a hideous and revolting spectacle. It was placed in a coffin and taken at night to Victoria Road, for interment in the Catholic burying-ground there.

SINGULAR ACCIDENT.—During the forenoon recess on Friday of last week Mr. Cundell, the school teacher at Cameron, was playing ball with some of his scholars, and while he and a youth named Pratt were running as fast as they could from opposite directions to catch a ball that had been knocked high into the air, they collided with such violence that both were badly hurt, Mr. Cundell being cut so severely over the eye that Dr. Wilson, of Fenelon Falls, had to be sent for to dress the wound. Both were badly bruised and shaken, and Pratt had the cap of one of his knees partly displaced, besides being struck so hard in the face that his nose bled copiously.—Gazette.

Shaker Blood Syrup

Is designed to meet the wants of a large proportion of our people who are either too poor to employ a physician, or are too far removed to easily call one, and a still larger class who are not sick enough to require medical advice, and yet are out of sorts and need a medicine to build them up, give them an appetite purify their blood, and oil up the machinery of their bodies so that it will do its duty willingly. No other article takes hold of the system and hits exactly the spot like Shaker Blood Syrup. It works like magic, reaching every part of the human body through the blood, giving to all renewed life and energy.

My friend, you need not take our word. Ask your neighbor, who has just taken one bottle. He will tell you that "It is the best dollar I ever invested."

Shaker Syrup Company:

DEAR SIRS,—Although greatly prejudiced against patent medicines in general, I was induced, from the excellent reports I had heard of your Blood Syrup, to try a bottle, last December, for dyspepsia and general prostration, and I have received very gratifying results from its use. I am now using the second bottle, and consider it a very valuable remedy for indigestion and its attendant troubles.

Yours truly,
O. F. TWITCHELL,
Gorham, N.H.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?—Scrofula is so called from the Latin scrofa, a pig, from the supposition that the disease came from eating swine's flesh. It is often inherited from parents, and leads to abscesses, ulcerous sores, debility, King's evil and consumption. The case of the Rev. Wm. Stout, of Wiarton, who suffered 23 years from scrofulous abcesses, is one of the most remarkable on record. Burdock Blood Bitters cured him after the best medical skill had failed.

The following letter from one of our best-known Massachusetts Druggists should be of interest to every sufferer:—

RHEUMATISM. "Eight years ago I had an attack of Rheumatism, so severe that I could not move from the bed, or dress, without help. I tried several remedies without much if any relief, until I took AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, by the use of two bottles of which I was completely cured. Have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, and it still retains its wonderful popularity. The many notable cures it has effected in this vicinity convince me that it is the best blood medicine ever offered to the public. E. F. HARRIS."

The Great French Lotion for Beautifying the Face.

It conceals the evidence of age. One application will make the most stubborn ly red and rough hands beautifully soft and white. Remember that "MAY DEW" is not a paint or powder that fills up the pores of the skin, and that is injurious to the skin, but a new and great discovery, a vegetable liquid, that causes the cheek to glow with health, the neck, arms and hands to rival the Lily in whiteness. Impossible to detect in the beauty it confers any artificial character. It cures Greasy Skin, Freckles, Wrinkles, Pimples, Black Heads, Crow's Feet, Blotches, Face Grubs, Sun Burn, Tan, Ringworms, Chapped Hands, Sore or Chapped Lips, Barber's Itch, Tetter, etc. It frees the pores, oil glands, and tubes from the injurious effects of powders and cosmetic washes. By its use all redness and roughness are prevented; it beautifies the skin, and will make it soft, smooth and white; imparting a delicious softness, producing a perfectly healthy, natural, and youthful appearance. The best face lotion that the world ever produced. We will send "A LARGE BOTTLE" to any address on receipt of price $1. When ordering mention this paper.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

The following communication was read from the Board of Health :—

To the Mayor and Town Council :

GENTLEMEN,—At a meeting of the Board of Health held on May 28th, it was decided to recommend that the Council appoint a medical health officer at a salary of $200 per annum, two sanitary officers at salaries of $50 each and a secretary at a salary of $25.

They also recommend that Dr. John Clarke be appointed medical health officer and Constables Pidgeon and Adams sanitary inspectors.

And that the secretary be empowered to procure the necessary blanks for efficiently carrying out the provisions of the Act.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

ANDREW MCNEIL,
Chairman.

Peterborough, June 2, 1884.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Councillor DAVIDSON read the report of the Finance Committee recommending the payment of an account for $11.10 from the Times Printing Co.—Adopted.

STREETS AND BRIDGES.

Councillor CAHILL said that he had a long report and one that would cost some money, too, if it was adopted. He then read the following report of the Street and Bridge Committee :—

To the Mayor and Town Council :—

GENTLEMEN,—The Street and Bridge Committee beg leave to report that they have this day made a survey of the streets and recommend that the several improvements named below be carried out. Your Committee have noted with pleasure the large improvements that are in progress through the town. Everywhere new buildings are in course of erection, old ones are being enlarged and improved, and the spirit of improvement has extended to the streets, several persons having boulevarded and otherwise beautified the streets in front of their properties.

1. George street, north from Brock, to be gravelled and otherwise improved as may be found necessary, and the north side of the same street to be filled up north of Smith street.

2. Water street to be gravelled from Cemetery street to Hilliard's mill and repaired, when required from Cemetery street to Smith street.

3. Cemetery street—A two plank sidewalk to be put down from Water street to the Cemetery gate, also to repair sidewalk on Water street as far north as necessary.

4. Smith street—Build a narrow sidewalk from George to Water streets, also cut down the hill near Stewart street, the excavation to be deposited near the Midland Railway as may be required.

5. Antrim street—The sidewalk on the north side to be rebuilt from George street to the foot of the hill.

6. Edinburgh street—A new sidewalk to be built on north side, east from George to connect with present walk.

7. London street—Rebuild sidewalk on north side from George to Aylmer streets, also Water street from George street to the railway.

8. Dublin street—Sidewalk to be repaired between Aylmer and Union streets.

9. Aylmer street—Rebuild sidewalk for some distance north from railway, deepen water-table south from the railway to the bridge at Lund's, and rebuild and enlarge the bridge.

10. Rubidge street—To be water-tabled between Dublin and Edinburgh streets.

11. London street—To be water-tabled near Downey street and filled up at the bridge. Rebuild sidewalk on the same street from Downey to Reid and from Stewart to Rubidge streets.

12. Downey street—Present culvert to be extended to Edinburgh street.

13. Dublin street—Some necessary repairs to be made at the bridge near Downey street.

14. McDonnell street—Necessary repairs to be made at the bridge near Downey street.

15. Gilchrist street—To be water-tabled north from McDonnell street.

16. Park street, at the intersection of McDonnell street, water-tabled from the Midland railway to the creek.

17. Weller street—Build crossing at Mr. Gladman's and a sidewalk to the next house west of Mr. Gladman's.

18. Boundary Line—The culvert near Mr. Campbell's to be rebuilt and cost charged against work on boundary.

19. Gilmour street—To be gravelled where found necessary.

20. Aylmer street—Rebuild sidewalk from Simcoe to Hunter on both sides, also on the north side from Hunter to Brock.

21. Hunter street—To be gravelled from George street to the iron bridge.

22. Sherbrooke street—A crossing to be built near the creek.

23. Rink street—To be graded between George and Aylmer streets.

24. Perry street—To be graded from Aylmer to George streets, and George street to be gravelled from Perry to Lake street.

25. Weir street—To be graded from Water street as far east as it is built upon.

26. Park street—The bridge at the southern boundary to be rebuilt, providing the adjoining municipality pay half, also water-table Park street from the boundary to the railway and build culvert from Romaine street.

27. Lake street—To be water-tabled and an underground drain made from a point west of George street to the lake.

28. Perry street—A sidewalk to be built on the south side from the Midland Railway to Stewart street.

29. Rubidge street—To be water-tabled from Dalhousie to Sherbrooke street.

30. Dalhousie street—To be water-tabled from Stewart to Park street and a culvert built across Park street.

31. Rubidge street—To be water-tabled from Charlotte to King streets.

32. Stewart street—To be water-tabled from Charlotte to Sherbrooke street; a sidewalk to be built on the west side from King to Sherbrooke street, also a sidewalk on the south side of Sherbrooke to Rubidge street.

33. Bethune street—To be water-tabled from King to Dalhousie street; also a sidewalk for a short distance south from Dalhousie street.

34. Aylmer street—To be water-tabled from Sherbrooke to Dalhousie street.

35. Chamberlain street—To be graded west from O. & Q. Railway and a proper culvert provided to carry off the water.

36. Albert street—Sidewalk to be repaired or rebuilt where necessary.

Your Committee would point out that the large quantity of gravel could be procured by grading down Dalhousie street east from George to the river. Your Committee recommend that any portion of the above work may be performed by contract or otherwise, as may be deemed expedient, and that the Town Engineer may be employed to strike grades when necessary.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

THOMAS CAHILL,
Chairman.

Peterborough, June 2nd, 1884.

Councillor MENZIES said he would like to ask what the whole amount of this work would cost?

Councillor CAHILL thought it quite safe to say that the cost would be under $4,000.

Councillor RUTHERFORD believed it would not be more than $1,000

The MAYOR thought it would be nearer $8,000,

Councillor HARTLEY said the Committee had found this work necessary. When the people were improving the town in their private capacity, the streets should not be allowed to become impassible.

Councillor MILLAR said that he was around with the Committee on their tour, and he thought that nothing was recommended to be done that was not necessary.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said he was satisfied that the cost of the work would not be more than $2,000. If he thought it would cost $4,000 he would oppose it, as about $2,000 had already been expended on the streets this year.

Councillor CAHILL said that the work might not cost $4,000. He was surprised on going around to see the large amount of improvement going on throughout the town, and the streets should be kept in good condition.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said that something more substantial would soon have to be adopted on the streets.

Councillor MENZIES hoped that all the Wards would be treated alike this year, and that much work would be done by contract.

Councillor ALLEN approved of doing work by contract.

The report was adopted.

CHARITY COMMITTEE.

Councillor GREEN read the report of the Charity Committee, stating that in the case of Isabella Drummond they could not recommend that anything be done, as she had wealthy relatives and money had been left for her maintenance.

AN AMENDMENT.

A By-law was introduced to amend the By-law No. 469, which gave the Grand Trunk Railway permission to lay a siding on Bethune street. The amendment made more specific arrangements for arbitration as to the amount of injury done to any property, and bound the property owners to appoint an arbitrator within ten days after receiving notice.

The By-law was passed through its several stages.

SANITARY OFFICERS.

The report of the Board of Health was again taken up, and Councillor RUTHERFORD moved the adoption of its recommendations.

Councillor MENZIES urged that perhaps a medical officer might be obtained at a smaller salary. He moved the report be referred to the Committee on Appointments.

Councillor DAVIDSON said that this was a different matter from other appointments. The duties of the officer, according to the Act of the Legislation, were very onerous.

MR. ANDREW MCNEIL, chairman of the Board of Health, was heard and said that the medical health officer supplied the medical practitioners with blanks and they had to report to him any cases of infectious disease. He then had a notice posted up that there was such a disease in the house, and he had to see that the house was thoroughly disinfected. He had also to examine drains, &c., and test drinking water. His duties were many, and if he fulfilled them he would earn the salary of $200.

Councillor CAHILL said that the town physician had offered to perform the duties of the health officer for a small advance on his salary, and the police constables had been appointed sanitary inspectors.

Councillor CAHILL moved in amendment, seconded by Councillor YELLAND,—That the town physician be appointed medical health officer at an advance on his salary of $75, and that the assistant constables be required to do the duties of the sanitary officers.

After considerable discussion the amendment was put and lost, and the report was adopted on the following division :—

YEAS.—Councillors Davidson, Green, Allen, Millar, Rutherford, Kendry and Hartley.—7.

NAYS.—Councillors Cahill, Kelly, Yelland and Menzies.—4.

Councillor HARTLEY moved, seconded by Councillor KENDRY,—That George Hilliard be appointed a member of Board of Health, vice Richard Hall, who declined to act.

Councillor ALLEN moved in amendment, seconded by Councillor DAVIDSON,—That Mr. W. H. Moore be appointed.

The amendment was lost and the original motion was adopted.

THE COLLECTOR'S ROLL.

Councillor CAHILL said he wished to urge the necessity of getting the collector's roll ready at as early a date as possible.

Councillor MENZIES said that the roll could not be prepared until the Court of Revision was through, but that would be soon.

The MAYOR said that the adoption of councillor Cahill's suggestion would save the town money.

LAW SUITS.

The MAYOR in answer to Councillor Green, said that he had received a letter from Mrs. Costello's solicitor informing them that a suit would be entered for injury received on the street, and he had sent it to the town solicitor.

Mr. E. H. D. HALL said that he had received a letter from Mr. Edwards asking them to delay until the Council met.

The MAYOR also said that he had received papers in regard to a suit brought against the town by Mr. Laplante, which he had also sent to the town solicitor.

STREET WATERING.

Councillor RUTHERFORD said that the new watering cart would be ready in a week, and he wished for instructions. The Waterworks Company were liberal with the water, as they were willing for the Committee to pay for it what they thought proper. He moved, seconded by Councillor GREEN,—That the Fire, Water and Gas Committee have the power to put on the second cart to water the streets for one month, to water as much ground as possible.

After some discussion the motion was carried.

ACTING CHAIRMAN OF FINANCE.

Councillor CAHILL moved,—That Councillor Menzies be authorized to sign cheques during the absence of Councillor Davidson, Chairman of the Finance Committee.

DEBENTURES.

Mr. J. STEVENSON, Chairman of the Town Trust Commissioners, was heard and explained the position of the Council in regard to the debentures of the town falling due.

Councillor CAHILL moved, seconded by Councillor MILLAR, that the Mayor and Clerk be authorized to issue debentures for $2,500, bearing interest at 5 per cent., to meet the debentures falling due, as required by Commissioners of the Town Trust.—Carried.

A BAD CROSSING.

Councillor CAHILL moved, seconded by Councillor RUTHERFORD,—That the Clerk be instructed to communicate with the Grand Trunk Railway authorities requiring them to at once make proper approaches to their road at the intersection of Park and McDonnell streets.—Carried.

WOLFE STREET.

Mr. N. T. LAPLANTE was heard, and said that he had entered a suit to quash the by-law closing Wolfe street, and he understood the town was opposing him. He thought that the Council should protect him, instead of opposing him.

The MAYOR said that he had received notice of the suit and he had sent the paper to the town solicitor. He could not wait for instructions from the Council, as if the case had not been attended to at once, it would have gone against them by default.

After further discussion, the subject dropped and the Council adjourned for four weeks.

IT IS SO PLEASANT.—It is so certain and easy in its action. It invigorates the nerve, brain, and muscle. Zopesa does these things simply by giving active digestion, and regulating the stomach and liver. Ask J. D. Tully.

THE SADDEST OF SAD SIGHTS.—The grey hairs of age being brought with sorrow to the grave, is now, becoming rarer every year as the use of Cingalese Hair Restorer becomes more general. By its use the scanty locks of age become thick and luxuriant as ever. Sold by J. D. Tully.

FRADULENT TRANSACTIONS.—There are many frauds perpetuated in medicine, and many advertised remedies worse than useless. Not so with Hagyard's Yellow Oil. It remains as ever the best internal and external medicine for all pain, soreness and injuries with which human flesh is afflicted.

WE believe the cause of the wonderful success of our Murray & Lanman's Florida Water may be found in the fact that the principal aim in its preparation has always been to give the simple natural perfume of flowers, without any chemical addition whatever, and to avoid, by all means, the great error of making a heavy, sickly, sweet perfume.

THE EFFECTS OF WHISKEY.—The effects of whiskey are always evil, and those who feed upon alcoholic stimulants, vainly endeavoring to cure coughs and consumption, but nurse a viper. Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam is a remedy that is always reliable for all throat, bronchial ad lung troubles, and never does harm to any one.

Daily Evening Review

TUESDAY, JUNE 3, 1884.

LOCAL NEWS

Police News.

There was a clean sheet at the Court this morning and the cells were empty last night.

A Flood of Light.

The Whitby Gazette says that "Peterborough is inundated with electric light."

A Serenade.

The City Band on Monday night serenaded Mr. James McNamara, who recently forsook the ways of single miserableness and joined the ranks of the Benedicts.

The Probabilities.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, counting from one o'clock this morning, as reported from the Toronto observatory, are as follows:—Variable winds, generally fair continued warm weather, with a few local showers in Western Ontario.

The Bands.

In reference to the communication in another column from Mr. F. W. Miller, it is to be hoped that the Municipal Councils will make such arrangements as will meet the views of the bands, in order that the townspeople may have the privilege of enjoying music furnished by them in the evenings during the summer.

Personal.

We have just seen a copy of an Imperial Government Gazette containing the appointment of the Hon. C. Clementi-Smith, C.M.G., to the governorship of the Straits Settlements, during the absence of Sir F. A. Weld in Europe. We also learn that Major M. Clementi, of the Bengal Lancers, has been promoted to the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel. Both the above named gentlemen are nephews of the Rev. V. Clementi.

Death of Mr. R. H. Dennistoun.

With deep regret we learn that Mr. Robert H. Dennistoun, who went to St. Gabriel, Mex., a short time ago for the benefit of his health, died at Kansas on Sunday night when on his way home. Much sympathy will be felt for his relations thus again so sadly bereaved, and for his widow, who not long ago also lost her father. Mr. Dennistoun was universally respected, and his death at such an early age will be regretted by very many.

For Style, Quality and moderate prices, inspect the extensive range of GENTS' FURNISHINGS at Andrew McNeil.

A Serious Accident.

Mr. Charles Pearson, of Smith, met with a somewhat serious accident on Monday afternoon. He and Mr. James Bickle were driving down Murray street, and in turning at the corner of Aylmer street, where there is an incline in the road, the buggy upset, throwing the occupants out. Pearson was thrown violently to the ground and his head was injured, while he received other slight injuries. Dr. Clarke, who was summoned, found him suffering from concussion of the brain. This morning he was slightly better, and was removed to his home. His companion escaped with slight injuries.

Another Base Ball Club.

The interest in the game of baseball has certainly been revived in Peterborough, as, in addition to the Silver Star club recently organized, another club was organized on Monday night at a meeting held for that purpose in the Peterborough House. The name adopted for the organization was the Peterborough Base Ball Club, and the following officers (all employed by the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company) were elected:—

HONORARY PRESIDENT—Andrew McFarlane.
PRESIDENT—Richard Reeves.
VICE-PRESIDENT—Thomas Doris.
CAPTAIN—Wm. Watson.
SECRETARY—Wm. McDowell.
TREASURER—Wm. Hickey.

The Club starts with a membership of 37, and includes some good players. It was resolved to procure uniforms for the players at once.

We keep the largest, choicest and best assorted range of Men's Furnishing Goods in Peterborough at Andrew McNeil's.

COUNTY COURT.

The June Session—His Honor Judge Dean on the Bench.

The June session of the County Court for the County of Peterborough, opened this afternoon, His Honor Judge Dean, of Lindsay, presiding. There were two criminal cases set down for hearing, one for larceny and one for threatening violence. Nine civil cases were entered, seven with jury and two non-jury cases.

The legal profession was represented by Messrs. C. A. Weller, County-Attorney, D. W. Dumble, E. B. Edwards, J. O'Meara, Jas. Henry C. W. Sawers, W. A. Stratton, R. E. Wood, E. H. D. Hall, A. P. Poussette and W. H. Biggar, Belleville.

THE GRAND JURY.

The Grand Jury was composed as follows:—

JAMES MCKIBBON, Foreman.

|---|---|
| V. Best | Geo. Esson |
| S. Clydesdale | A. Fife |
| Wm. Corniel | S. Fife |
| P. Costello | George Johnston |
| D. F. Crowly | M. J. Johnston |
| W. Cox, sr. | M. Landerkin |
| H. Carveth | Wm. Lancaster |
| A. Douglas | Wm. Lane |
| P. Dougherty | John L. Madill |
| Jas. Davidson | Jas. Sody |
| Robt. Stockdale | Cornelius Young |
| | Chas. Wynn. |

HIS HONOR, in addressing the Grand Jury, said that he regretted that it was necessary for him to appear here on this occasion. They had all heard of the sad bereavement which had prevented His Honor Judge Dennistoun from presiding. He would have their sympathy, as well as that of the whole community, among whom the learned Judge and his son were so widely known and respected. There was very little for them to do, although there was rather more than was usual in this county. A party would be accused of attempting to assault his wife. He explained the nature of assault, as understood in law, and also larceny. They had the right to visit the gaol and public buildings, and much good had heretofore been done in this way by Grand Juries.

The Grand Jury then retired.

Board of Education.

A regular meeting of the Board of Education will be held at the Board Room at 7.45 o'clock this evening.

A Challenge.

Messrs. Cottingham and Hawkins desire to challenge Messrs. Kent and Fanning for one mile double scull race for two gold medals, the race to be rowed any time within three weeks.

Notice.

Until further notice the members of the Silver Star Base Ball Club will meet for practice on the grounds directly south of Elias Burnham's residence. A good turnout every evening is requested by order, Thos. Spencer, secretary.

Tea Meeting.

Remember the Tea Meeting and Apron Sale under the auspices of St. Luke's Ladies' Aid Society, to be held at the Town Hall, Ashburnham, on Wednesday, June 4th. Sale of useful articles at low prices from 4 p. m. Tea served from 6 to 8 p.m. Tickets, 25 cents.

Another Addition.

The ground was broken on Monday for another addition to Mr. A. W. Brodie's woollen mill. It will be a fire-proof brick building, twenty-five by forty-seven feet, situated between the factory and the office, and will be used for a picking room. Mr. Brodie received another consignment of machinery this week from Messrs. Goldie & McCullough, of Galt.

A Centenarian.

On Monday Mr. Daniel Sheehan, of Douro, who has seen a century and four years of life in this world, was in town to draw his pension as a retired school teacher. Mr. Sheehan is a native of Ireland, but has resided in this country the greater part of his life, and labored for many years in the township in which he now resides in his capacity as an instructor of youth.

Junior Lacrosse.

Three members of the Victoria junior lacrosse club visited this office to-day and stated that the information furnished us regarding their match on Saturday with the Young Shamrocks was incorrect, as only two games were played and each club secured one. If we find that the boys of the junior clubs give us incorrect information we will have to refuse to give any account of their matches.

A Fire.

Shortly before one o'clock to-day, fire was discovered in Mr. R. B. Lundy's tannery on Brock street. The alarm was sounded and the firemen turned out promptly, but before they arrived the flames were almost extinguished. However, a stream was thrown on the fire taken from the hydrant on Aylmer street, which entirely extinguished it. A portion of the roof and of the wall of a frame addition on the north side of the tannery was burned. The fire is supposed to have originated from a barrel in which meat was cured.

Among the Places of Interest.

Conspicuous among the places of interest which the rising city of Peterborough can boast of is the "Golden Lion" Dry Goods Store. Situated in the centre and on the best side of George street, and noted for formidably prominent signs, strangers can hardly fail to have their attention drawn to this the finest and most eligible business stand in the "Plate Glass City." It is within easy access to the principal hotels, banks and Post Office, and only one block away from the Market Square. There is something business-like about the place which cannot fail to leave an impression on passers-by and tempt customers inside. With large heavy plate glass show windows, and elegant goods to adorn them, and a massive golden lion sign over the door, Messrs. Fair, VanEvery & Co. are doubtless among the best known dry goods merchants in the Midland district.—Notes from a Traveller.

MUSIC IN THE PARK.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—A few days ago I noticed an item in the REVIEW in reference to the Fire Brigade Band (I will leave the City Band to speak for themselves), playing in the Court House park this summer. In answer I beg to state that the Band are, as usual, ready to do their share in this particular, and will be only too glad to comply with the wish of the public, providing they are met half way. The County Council will soon be in session, and it will be necessary for some one to appear before this body and ask their consent to the park being thrown open to the public. There has never been sufficient light for the members to read music with anything like comfort, and this is another matter that some of our music-loving citizens should look after. Of course it is expected that the newly organized City Band will also do for the public what the Fire Brigade Band are willing to do, viz., play on a certain evening every week during the season, as it is a town institution and receiving support as such. When the above arrangements are complied with the Fire Brigade Band will be ready to do what lies in their power to afford enjoyment for promenaders and the citizens generally.

In conclusion, Mr. Editor, I also wish to say that there is not the least danger of the band losing my services as leader. It is true that I have been offered a much larger salary elsewhere to leave Peterborough than I at present receive, but in this case I am like Mr. O. Mowat, for "Millar won't go," and the public will have better music from the F.B.B. this summer than ever.

Thanking you for your space, I am,
Respectfully yours,
F. W. MILLAR,
June 3, 1884. Bandmaster, F.B.B.

Fresh Fish.

Trout, White Fish, Maskinonge, Black Bass and Finnan Haddies fresh at Carton Bros. grocery.

Bodega.

Fine Spanish wines, Ports and Sherries drawn from the wood, at William Chamberlain's Restaurant.

Bass' English Ale.

Another large shipment of Bass' Ale, October brewing, just arrived at W. Chamberlain's Restaurant. Imported direct.

Just opened out this day, an extensive range of Nobby Ties, just the thing for the present season. Andrew McNeil's.

A Fine Beverage.

Dowe's India Pale Ale, the best ale made in Canada, on draught at the Little Windsor Hotel, the proprietor of which is sole agent for Peterborough.

SCOTLAND.

THE creditors of Doble & Co., shipbuilders, Govan, will receive a dividend on the 23rd June.

THERE is a good demand for summer lodgings at most of the Clyde coast towns and villages.

THE annual show of auricula in connection with the Paisley Florists' Society took place on the 3rd May.

AT the instance of the Trout Preservation Association 35,000 fry have been deposited in the streams flowing into Loch Ard.

A GOLDEN eagle, measuring 7 feet 6 inches from tip to tip of wings, has been shot by Mr. Dykes, gamekeeper, Lochlomondshire.

THE first terrier show held in Scotland was opened on the 8th May at Greenock.

THE Edinburgh Town Council has voted 100 guineas to the prize fund of the Highland and Agricultural Society's Centenary Show.

THE Red House Home for destitute boys at Musselburgh, having been altered and enlarged, was re opened on the 10th May.

AN arrangement has been come to whereby the registered office of the South of Scotland Chamber of Commerce shall be at Hawick and Galashiels alternately.

WHAT LIES BEYOND!

What lies beyond the sunset tide,
Where tinted shadows gleam?
Where gold and crimson softly glow,
Like some enchanted stream?

What lies beyond those gilded depths—
That soft mysterious light,
Fast ushering in, with paling brow,
The wondrous starlit night?

What lies beyond those starry realms—
That darkly-purple dome?
We feel in all its splendor rests
A bright, celestial Home.

A sunny clime, where zephyrs breathe
A fragrance and perfume
O'er waving fields of living green,
And purple flower to bloom.

A Home where happy myriads sing
One grand melodious psalm,
Before the Everlasting King,
Before His Blessed Lamb.

Oh! may we meet with those we love,
Sweet shadow-land of peace,
Around that great white throne above
Where praises never cease.

There untold joys forever bless
The poor world-weary heart,
There outstretched hands will fondly grasp
Our own, no more to part.

Sweet sunset, through thy rosy mist,
Methinks I see afar
Those everlasting hills of light,
The Saviour's glorious star.

BACKACHE, stitches in the side, inflation and soreness of the bowels, are symptoms of a disordered state of the digestive and assimilative organs, which can be promptly and thoroughly corrected by the use of Ayer's Catartic Pills. As dinner pils, and as aids to digestion they have no equal. They cure constipation.

THE SECRET OUT.—The secret of beauty has been at last revealed. Without good health, pure blood and a fair clear skin none can possess good looks. What is more repulsive than pimples, blotches and a sallow or pasty complexion? Burdock Blood Bitters reveal the fact that all can gain pure blood and freedom from the repulsive diseases of the skin that result from impurities.

A New Principle.

The principle upon which Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor acts is entirely new. It does noes not sink deep into the flesh, thereby producing soreness, but acts directly upon the external covering of the corn, separates it from the under layer, removes the direct pressure from the pars, and at once effects a radical cure, without any pain or discomfort. Let those who are suffering from corns, yet sceptical of treatment, try it, and by the completeness of the cure they will be ready to recommend Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor to others.

Why So? Ask the wholesale merchants who sell to the retailers, and the retailers who sell to the public. Such a disasterous Spring, such a late, chilly, flooded, bedraggled season, hasn't been known for years. Merchants generally have'nt bought extensively, as they couldn't see any chance to sell again, and so the whole trade has languished, and stacks of Spring Goods have accumulated, and grown larger, and still larger, for want of demand, until manufacturers and importers have become frightened.

The result may be seen in our store this week. We are actually able to offer, before the season has much more than fairly opened, a complete line of the FINEST AND MOST FASHIONABLE SPRING GOODS, at prices that would astonish you.

Visit our store to-day and every day next week, and we promise to show you goods at prices that was never before known in the history of the trade.

Every department is brimfull of goods, which must be sold and turned into money.

Daily Evening Review

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 4, 1884.

BLUNDERING CRITICS.

"Reform journals being unable to make any successful attack upon the general policy of the Dominion Cabinet, are driven to carping at petty details, and even for that purpose they usually have to invent their facts. They are now jibing at the asserted employment of Mr. Mahon as counsel on behalf of the Dominion before the Privy Council in the Boundary case, because it has been said that he did not do justice to the Dominion case before the arbitrators. If this were so, it is possible that it would have been a good choice, for he might, like many other men, have learnt something from his own failure, and his knowledge of the case might have made him useful as junior counsel. The fact, however, is that Mr. Mahon does not represent the Dominion; he has been retained by the Province of Manitoba, and the interests of Canada have been entrusted to other counsel.

LINDSAY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

BREAKING THE FISHING LAWS.—Mr. George Cochrane, of Lakefield, fishing overseer for this district, arrived here on Wednesday last by the morning train and took the steamer to Sturgeon Point and when he found an old friend (formerly correspondent of Youngs Point, for the Peterborough REVIEW), who was asked by Mr. Cochrane to be clerk of the court, which was held at the Sturgeon Point hotel. The following parties were caught in the act of spearing by Mr. F. Crandell, one of his deputies, they had seven fish in their possession, which were along with their other gearing confiscated, the names of the parties are George Perrin, Isaiah Perrin, Robert Henderson, Benjamin Waight, and Sandford Suitfor, the two former pleaded guilty, the others elected to be tried, after a patient trial which lasted over two hours, the first four were fined twelve dollars each and costs. Suitfor got off scot free having got the benefit of some doubt as to his identity. Mr. Cochrane addressed the court at some length, and explained to all how very strict the law now is, and although unpleasant to him to fine parties, he was bound to carry out the law strictly. His next visit will be in the fall, so poachers look out, twenty dollars and costs will be the next call. Some people have an idea that all the fines go into the pockets of Mr. Cochrane, it is not the case, as all the moneys have to be accounted for to the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

BELLEVILLE.

PARALYZED.—Mr. Andrew Guydon, a well-known lumberer, was struck with paralysis on Saturday and is in a critical condition.

VITAL STATISTICS.—The vital statistics of the city of Belleville for May were 17 births, 4 marriags, and 13 deaths.

THE ASSAULT CASE.—Mrs. Lizzie Hawley, of Belleville, who was assaulted by Frank Howell on the 26th May is in a dangerous condition. Howell has disappeared.

London's Absconding Treasurer.

LONDON, Ont., June 2.—The amount of the defalcations of Jos. Atkinson, the absconding treasurer of the Commercial Travellers' Association, have been found to amount to 3,200. He had been systematically stealing for some time, and covered the thefts by altering figures in the bank books.

New School of Cavalry.

OTTAWA, May 31.—The formation of a Shool of Cavalry has been authorized, dating from 21st December, 1883, to consist of one troop of cavalry, to be known as the "Cavalry School Corps." Headquarters at Quebec until further orders.—Globe.

A Fine Beverage.

Dowe's India Pale Ale, the best ale made in Canada, on draught at the Little Windsor Hotel, the proprietor of which is sole agent for Peterborough.

Can't Be Beaten.

It is a fact that Nerviline cannot be surpassed by any combination for the relief of pain. The reason is a good one. Nerviline contains the best, most powerful, and the latest discovered remedies. It is a magic pain cure. Rheumatism, stiff neck, cramps, neuralgia, colic, in fact all pain, internal, external, and local, are subdued in a few minutes. Go at once to Ormond & Walsh's drug store and get a trial bottle. It will only cost you 10 cents, and you can at a small cost test the great pain cure, Poison's Nerviline. Large bottles only 25cts.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

LOSING CASTE RAPIDLY.

In one short week the Globe has lost caste to a greater extent than it has since George Brown's death.—St. Thomas Journal, (Ref.)

RULE OR RUIN.

The one chance of preserving the Confederacy, restoring confidence, and creating a Canadian patriotism, lies in the early overthrow of the party now in power.—Toronto Globe.

WHO ARE THE OSTRICHES?

Sir Richard is evidently of opinion that nothing is to be gained by sticking our heads in the sand like an ostrich, in the belief that what we do not see does not exist.—London Advertiser, (Ref.)

RECIPROCITY.

The Globe has endeavoured to make a party question of the agitation for a renewal of reciprocity, and it charges the Dominion Government with hostility to the movement. Nothing could be further from the truth.—Montreal Gazette.

A SMALL LOSS.

The Globe has lost its opinions, and like little Bo-Peep and her sheep, of nursery fame, doesn't know where to find them. Might we suggest that an advertisement in the Globe, at one cent a word, would possibly lead to the discovery of the lost, strayed or stolen opinions. Considering their value, only a small reward need be offered.—St. Thomas Journal, (Reform).

MIXED METAPHORS.

In speaking of Mayor Boswell and the police promotions it (the Globe) intimates "that the Mayor is too anxious to cover up his tracks, but they are alike too transparent to be swallowed by intelligent people without a grimace." It is to be hoped that the Mayor's tracks, which the people are expected to swallow, are not very large ones.—Toronto Telegram.

ONE WEAK POINT.

The weak point in the policy of the Ontario Government seems to be the management of the Crown Lands Department.—Renfrew Mercury, (Reform).

THE C. P. R. MAILS.

The time my come, when the Australian and China mails may all go by way of British Columbia. The completion of the C. P. R. will work a revolution in more ways than one.—London Free Press.

SEVERELY REPROVED.

We own that we think it peculiarly objectionable in an ex-Finance Minister to choose the very time when the Minister of Finance is about to place a large loan on the London money market to give utterance to such disparaging remarks on the financial condition of the Dominion. As if to make matters as bad as possible for the Minister, Sir Richard Cartwright has publicly proposed to his adherents to turn our attention to preparing ourselves for the duties of independence.—Journal of Commerce, (Financial).

JUDGING BY THEMSELVES.

Sir Richard Cartwright said in the course of his recent speech at Toronto "the public are, I believe, to a great extent ignorant of the affairs of their own country." This utterance is somewhat after the fashion of the Globe, which declared the farmers to be "a pack of fools." That opinion was expressed just after the great defeat of 1878. Recently, the same Reform organ stated that "the public could be made to believe anything." The sentiments running through those remarks is evidently one of contempt for the intelligence and information possessed by the public at large.—London Free Press.

NORTH-WEST NOTES.

MORRIS PETITIONS.—A petition is to be presented to the Government from residents of Morris, asking to have the county buildings erected there.

BAPTIST CONFERENCE.—The annual Baptist conference of the Northwest will be held in Winnipeg shortly.

LOSS TO THE M. & N. Y. RY.—The M. & N. Y. Ry. have had large quantities of cordwood burnt along their line recently.

THE RED RIVER.—The water in the Red River has risen five feet at Moorhead, Minn., the river men expect a slight raise in Winnipeg in a few days in consequence.

DISCOVERY OF COAL.—A despatch from Gladstone says that the report of coal being discovered there is sheer bombast, unless it is at the station for the use of engines.

DEMAND FOR REAL ESTATE.—Real estate men report an active demand for farm lands, and a number of farms have changed hands recently in the older settled portions of the province at good prices.

IMMIGRANTS.—The train from Port Arthur arrived lately with a large number of immigrants. About seventy-five also arrived by the train from the south.

INDIAN RELICS.—A number of Indian relics comprising specimans of pottery, and a stone tomahauk and war club head, found on the farm of Wm. Truithwaite, St. Andrew's, have been given to the new Museum of the Department of Agriculture.

ELEVATORS, GRIST MILL AND COAL YARDS.—General Superintendent Egan, Assistant Superintendent Murray, and Chief Dispatcher Timmerman were at Indian Head and with Major Bell viewed the grounds for the side track for elevators, grist mill and coal yards recently. Its construction is to begin at once.

OATMEAL MILL.—Nairn, the coal merchant merchant of Toronto, was in Winnipeg with the object of erecting an oatmeal mill of a large capacity. Manitoba oatmeal has a good name in Ontario, and it is thought the industry will become a large one. The farmers, however, have sown very few oats this year on account of the low prices last season, confining their operations to wheat and flax, consequently there will not be many oats to market.

"Hub" Cough Cure, 25 Cents.

Prescription of a Boston physician, dispensed years by a Boston Druggist. One dose will cure any ordinary cough. It acts almost magically Ask J. D. Tully for a 25 cent bottle of Hub Cough Cure.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successfu Cough Medicine we have ever sold. A few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10c., 50c. and $1.00. If your lungs are sore, chest or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. D. Tully.

SALLOW FACED GIRLS. Why don't you improve your complexion? You can do so by using Golden Fruit Bitters and Pills. Sold by all druggists.

FRANCO-ANNAM TREATY.

PARIS, June 3.—The Emperor of Annam has expressed his acceptance of the principle of the proposed treaty with France.

JUSTIFYING DYNAMITE OUTRAGES.

PARIS, June 3.—The Matin publishes a letter signed by Irishmen residing in Paris, justifying the London outrages. They say they have no other means to combat England, and insist that Ireland is fighting for independence.

THE EMPEROR WILLIAM.

BERLIN, June 3.—Emperor William says the last great work of his reign is to establish Germany's social policy. Her colonial policy will be the duty and glory of his son.

THE NEW STAATSRATH.

BERLIN, June 3.—The Emperor William has signed an ordinance decreeing the Crown Prince Frederick William president and Prince Bismarck vice-president of the Staatsrath.

THE WAR IN TONQUIN.

PARIS, June 3.—Millot attacked and occupied Turtquong yesterday. The enemy only offered a feeble resistence.

FATAL RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

LONDON, June 3.—The train from Salisbury was precipitated down an embankment to-day near Cremore. Five persons were killed and thirty others injured.

EARTHQUAKE IN KISHM.

LONDON, June 3.—News has just been received here that there was a violent earthquake on May 19 on the Island of Khism, near the mouth of the Persian Gulf. Twelve villages were destroyed, 200 persons killed, and many wounded.

[Kishm or Kishma, known to the ancients as Oaracta, is the largest island in the Persian Gulf, near its entrance, fifteen miles south-west of Ormus, and surrounded by many smaller islands. It is seventy miles long and has an average breadth of twelve miles. Its estimated population is 5,000, chiefly Arabs. The island belongs to the Imain of Mushat.

ELECTION RIOTS IN AUSTRIA.

VIENNA, June 3.—A serious electoral riot occurred in Klansenberg to-day. There were many acts of violence, including stone throwing. Sixty persons were injured.

WALL STREET NEWS.

The correspondent of the Mail writes that the stock market on Monday morning was somewhat depressed, one cause being the report that the Reading road would default upon its fixed charges as well as upon its New Jersey Central dividends due to-day. Consequently all the coal shares fell off, but the report that the Reading was meeting its obligations caused a sharp rally. It is believed, however, that the road will not be able to meet July demands, and that a receiver will be appointed. It is understood that some of the directors of the New York Central met to day to arrange for a meeting of the full board some day this week to declare the quarterly dividend, which will be 2 per cent. It is said that the whole east bound business has not been so good as usual during the quarter. West bound business has been very heavy.

OUR CANALS AND PORTS.

THE Montreal Gazette severely censures the Hamilton Spectator for opposing the proposed abolition of canal tolls, on the grounds that such a step would diminish the revenue without much benefit to the trade of Montreal, and that it would raise the price of wheat in Chicago at the cost of the farmers of Canada.

We are not disposed to join either of our contemporaries in their extreme advocacy of their respective views. We agree with the Gazette that anything that will aid in building up the trade of Montreal as a shipping port is to the advantage of Canada as a whole, and that it would be expedient to secure such a result even if some sacrifice had to be made with that end. On the other hand we agree with the Spectator that it is unfortunate that Canada should be called upon to bear immense burdens for the construction, enlargement, and maintenance of canals, which seem to be chiefly effectual in building up ports of the United States instead of our own.

If the abolition of canal tolls is necessary to retain the Montreal shipping trade, the tolls must go, even at the expense of a considerable loss of revenue. But, if possible, such a plan should be devised as would not simply aid New York by making the Welland Canal free while leaving the Erie Canal to reap the benefit, but would make free the route to our own ports only, so that our costly canals would be feeders for Canadian seaports.

The point, however, which we feel specially called upon to notice is the allusion made to the Trent Valley Navigation by the Montreal Gazette, in the controversy with the Hamilton Spectator. The Gazette claims that if the Spectator's arguments were correct it should oppose the opening of the Trent Valley Route by the expenditure of public money. We would respectfully submit that our Montreal contemporary strangely overlooks a very important difference between the two cases. The Welland Canal, which has cost Canada such enormous sums, has helped greatly to build up foreign ports. It has apparently, by transport being diverted through the Erie Canal, done more for the advantage of New York as a seaport than for Montreal. Not so with the Trent Valley Navigation. When the route through the centre of Ontario is completed it must necessarily benefit our Canadian ports, and not those of the United States. From its situation and from the fact of its being devoted to barge navigation, instead of facilitating the diversion of transport through the Erie Canal it will decidedly check that diversion, which will be almost impossible for freights going by our inland route. When once the produce of our North-Western Territories or of the North-West States of the Union, is placed on barges at the Georgian Bay terminus of the Trent Valley Navigation, there will be no need and no inducement to break cargo until the same barges reach our own ports on the St. Lawrence. The barges could not well cross Lake Ontario to the Erie Canal, while transhipment into other vessels and then again into barges would be too costly. On the other hand the barges could safely run down the St. Lawrence and its canals to Montreal. It must be remembered also that, were the Trent Canal opened for traffic, the distance between Montreal and Midland on the Georgian Bay is rather less than between New York and Buffalo, while Midland is nearer Chicago, Duluth, &c., by the whole of the present route through Lake St. Clair and River and Lake Erie. The Trent Route also, although of the same general character as the Erie Canal route, is in every way superior to the latter for the transport of the very freight which the Erie route, despite all efforts to the contrary, still manages to secure for New York.

The people of Montreal, if they studied the matter, would see that the completion of the Trent Valley Navigation would be the best possible means of building up its port. The cost, too, would be so insignificant as compared with the result to be obtained, that the people of Canada, even those not directly interested, might well be content to submit to so trifling a burden for the benefit of important interests of the Dominion and therefore of the whole community.

TOWN IMPROVEMENTS.

EVIDENCES OF PROGRESS AND PROSPERITY IN PETERBOROUGH.

A Glance at the Way the Borough is Growing in Importance as a Business and Manufacturing Centre.

Several of our contemporaries in neighboring towns have referred lately to the manner in which Peterborough is advancing, one remarking that this town had a "good deal of go-aheaditiveness about her," and another declaring that it was "a great town." The poet has said that "distance lends enchantment to the view," but in this case the facts show that our contemporaries referred to have not got too large an idea of the progress made in Peterborough, as there are evidences of progress and prosperity on every hand, and a glance at them, even though a brief one, will not be uninteresting.

It is important that every town and city should have ample and Peterborough is this year gaining an important advantage in this regard. The construction of the Ontario and Quebec Railway was felt to be a want, and in a month more it will be opened for traffic of all kinds. This will place the town in communication with parts of the country heretofore almost inaccessable to us, as well as placing us on a great through line. Considerable business is done by our merchants with people living in townships west—as in Cavan—and they will have easier access to the town, which will be a corresponding advantage to our business men. The completion of the Omemee branch of the Midland system was an advantage, and the fact of that system becoming part of the Grand Trunk Railway, also places the town on the other great Canadian through line.

RAILWAY ACCOMMODATION.

OUR INLAND NAVIGATION

is also being improved, and the work of constructing the Trent Valley Canal is steadily progressing. At the town, the work of dredging the harbor is one of no little importance, and while the town is now situated on the two great railway lines of the Dominion, and has direct railway communication with the chief cities, and with the North-West by the Midland Railway and the Georgian Bay and by the Canada Pacific Railway, the day is drawing near when it will also have water communication with the Canadian territories in the North-West by the Trent Valley Canal.

But more rapid means of communication than the railway affords is required by business men, and it is supplied. Besides the telegraph line of the Great Northwestern Company, the now affords vocal communication with our neighboring towns, the capital of the Province and other cities, and the town will also have the advantage of the second telegraph line, that of the Canada Pacific Railway.

Narrowing the scope of our vision a little, many internal evidences of progress are seen. One of the latest of these is and with pardonable pride it might be stated that Peterborough is the only town in Canada that has yet adopted the electric light. It is furnished by a local company, composed of local capitalists and business men, who have entered into the enterprise with every prospect of advantage to the town, and to themselves as being citizens of the town and also as a business enterprise.

Adequate fire protection is also essential to the prosperity of every town, and in this particular progress has been made. The construction of affords better means of protecting the business portion of the town from the flames, and the system has been extended this year. The waterworks also afford another example of the enterprise and energy of our citizens, as the company is composed of citizens of the town, who gave evidence of their confidence in its future, and of their desire to further its interests, by entering into this enterprise. The benefit of the waterworks is not confined entirely to fire protection, as they afford motive power for mechanical purposes and furnish pure water for domestic use.

MANUFACTURING INDUSTRIES.

When so much is done to provide means for, and assist in, carrying on business, it is quite evident that the trade of the town must be in a healthy condition. It is now a fact acknowledged by all, that a town, to prosper, must have manufacturing industries—that commerce alone, without the aid of the factory and the mechanic, will not make a thriving town or city.

A reference, therefore, to the additions to the manufacturing industries of Peterborough will be in place under this heading. At the present time an addition to the number of is being made by the erection of a three story building on the Ashburnham side of the river, at the end of the Hunter street bridge. This building is being erected by Mr. Wm. Faint for a woollen mill. Mr. A. W. Brodie, in addition to recent large extensions, and the large amount of new machinery put into his factory last year and the year previous, is at present erecting another brick addition, and is receiving further consignments of machinery. Mr. E. B. Wilson's woollen mill on Hunter street was also built and equipped last year, and is running steadily, besides which there are the Auburn Woollen Mills, one of the largest factories in the Dominion, doing a flourishing business, with the smaller Blythe Mills working away under its shadow.

MACHINE SHOPS.

Work has been begun on the rebuilding and an enlargement of Mr. Whyte's foundry and machine shop on McDonnell street, and this work will be energetically pushed forward. The business of Mr. Wm. Hamilton's machine shops had increased to such an extent that recently a company, known as the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company, was incorporated to take charge of the business, and although large additions were made to the shops two years ago, further enlargements are contemplated. The Central Iron Works and other shops are doing a lively business.

AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENTS

manufactured in Peterborough are known far and wide. The mowers, reapers, rakes, threshing-machines, ploughs, &c., manufactured by Mr. Peter Hamilton, the threshing-machines and other implements made by Mr. Mowry, Mr. Forsythe's fanning mills, and Messrs. Whyte & Co.'s ploughs, &c., have a wide reputation, while very few implements used in agriculture are brought into this market from outside manufactories. Mr. Forsythe a short time ago entered into enlarged premises, as did also the Messrs. McKee Bros., manufacturers of parlour furniture frames, and they are doing a good business. Among other industries in Peterborough might be mentioned Mr. Geo. Mathews' pork packing house on George street, the pulp mill on Dickson's race, on the Ashburnham side of the river, and Mr. Irwin's large tin shop on Louis street. Several manufacturing establishments have been within a year or two, among which are Mr. Fitzgerald's carriage factory (now owned by Messrs. Porter Bros.), Messrs. Fitzgerald & Stanger's carriage factory and Mr. A. Comstock's furniture factory, while Mr. G. W. Hall's confectionery and buiscuit factory has been re-established in more commodious premises.

RECENTLY ESTABLISHED

REBUILT

GRAIN STOREHOUSES.

Last fall a new storehouse for grain was built by Mr. James Stevenson in the yard at the Midland Railway freight shed, and a short time previously the same gentleman enlarged greatly a storehouse on Bethune street and transformed it into an elevator. Peterborough possesses an excellent grain market, and its advantages are so generally known that producers come a long distance to sell here, sometimes from within a short distance of other towns. The increasing business done in the grain trade rendered more accommodation necessary, resulting in the building of these storehouses. Better facilities for have also been offered by the extensive improvements made in several of the grist mills of the town within the past year. Mr. Hilliard introduced a quantity of new machinery into his grist mill, including a patent process system; Mr. Rogers' mill was largely improved, and the gradual reduction process adopted, and Mr. Hall's mill underwent extensive alterations and improvements, while the other grist mills—Mr. Denne's and Mr. Clegg's—continue to do a good business. Mr. Hazlitt's saw mill was also recently improved by the addition of a large amount of new machinery.

GRINDING THE GRAIN

Another evidence of the progress and prosperity of the town is the amount of which has been made within a short time and is now going on. This includes additions built to many stores, the rearrangement of premises with a view to making them more commodious and convenient, and the refurnishing and refitting of places of business. Many stores on George street and other business streets have been thus enlarged and improved within a short time. Several of the hotels have also been greatly improved, and those necessary adjuncts to all kinds of business, the banks, have kept up with the spirit of improvement by changes made in their premises.

IMPROVEMENT IN BUSINESS PLACES

The increasing importance of Peterborough is also shown by the establishment of the in the town. This is a branch of Dr. Barnardo's English Homes, and, besides being a distributing home for orphan children of the mother country, it will afford a refuge for orphan children of our own land. Workmen are at present engaged in preparing the home for the reception of the children.

THE PLACES OF WORSHIP.

While the requirements of business and the manufacturing interest of the town are receiving so much attention, the places for religious worship are not neglected. St. Peter's Cathedral and St. Paul's Church are now being greatly enlarged and otherwise improved, while recently St. John's Church was almost rebuilt and the Charlotte Street Methodist Church was considerably enlarged.

BUILDING OPERATIONS

in general are brisk this year. Many fine buildings were erected during the last few years, and this season again the hammer and trowel are actively engaged, while at the same time there are no uninhabited houses in the town.

THE REVIEW.

The press of Peterborough have advanced with the town, and, we believe, have assisted materially in its advancement. Important additions have been made to the plant of the REVIEW this year, and the weekly edition has been enlarged and otherwise improved, and is now one of the largest weekly papers in the Dominion. The DAILY EVENING REVIEW has also outgrown the size at which it first appeared, and is growing in popular favor.

BEAUTIFYING THE TOWN.

Perhaps under this head we might again refer to the electric light, but it is not the new means of illumination we wish particularly to refer to. Many of the citizens have shown a commendable zeal in adorning the town by setting out shade trees, boulevarding the streets and in other ways. The Town Council has also taken a step towards opening a public park by planting trees around the grounds known as the agricultural grounds and adopting a resolution to have the present fence removed. The are also being steadily improved in appearance. The Little Lake Cemetery—one of the finest to be seen anywhere—is advancing towards perfection, and good work has been done in the Roman Catholic cemetery.

CEMETERIES

THE DRIVING PARK.

A few enterprising gentlemen have combined to provide a driving park for the town, and the work of preparing the track and making other necessary preparations is at the present time going on.

THE FUTURE.

We have not been able, in this article, to go into many particulars, and many things might have been included under this head that were necessarily omitted, but enough has been said to show conclusively that Peterborough is advancing rapidly. That it will continue to progress is evident. The facilities for carrying on business will be even better after this year, and the town has many natural advantages. It is situated in a good section of the country, and it has magnificent water power, as there are two streams of water flowing through it. The water power afforded by the Otonabee river is unexcelled, and, while several new factories have recently been erected on its shores, there is room for many more. The improvements made last year on the race from Dickson's dam to Hunter street provides splendid power, and the situation is well adapted for manufactories.

"Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter." Peterborough has a "good deal of go-aheaditiveness about her," she has advanced rapidly, is still growing, has many advantages, is "a great town," and will soon be a flourishing city. So mote it be.

Change in Niagara Diocese.

At the meeting of the Synod of the Diocese of Niagara, opening to-morrow, Bishop Fuller, who is advanced in years and becoming feeble, will ask for the appointment of a co-adjutor to assist him. If not granted this assistance he will resign. Among those spoken of as possible successors are Rev. James Carmichael, Dean of Montreal, formerly rector of Hamilton Church of the Ascension, Rev. Canon Dumoulin, rector of St. James; Archdeacon Dixon, of Guelph; and Rev. Arthur Baldwin, of All Saints, in Toronto.

New Work by Sanford Fleming.

The Great French Lotion for Beautifying the Face.

It conceals the evidence of age. One application will make the most stubboraly red and rough hands beautifully soft and white. Remember that "MAY DEW" is not a paint or powder that fills up the pores of the skin, and that is injurious to the skin, but a new and great discovery, a vegetable liquid, that causes the cheek to glow with health, the neck, arms and hands to rival the Lily in whiteness. Impossible to detect in the beauty it confers any artificial character. It cures Greasy Skin, Freckles, Wrinkles, Pimples, Black Heads, Crow's Feet, Blotches, Face Grubs, Sun Burn, Tan, Ringworms, Chapped Hands, Sore or Chapped Lips, Barber's Itch, Tetter, etc. It frees the pores, oil glands, and tubes from the injurious effects of powders and cosmetic washes. By its use all redness and roughness are prevented; it beautifies the skin, and will make it soft, smooth and white; imparting a delicious softness, producing a perfectly healthy, natural, and youthful appearance. The best face lotion that the world ever produced. We will send "A LARGE BOTTLE" to any address on receipt of price $1. When ordering mention this paper.

CHAPTER XIII.

The snow was falling fast next morning, when with a long hoarse shriek the locomotive dashed into New York, and drew up to the platform, where a crowd of human beings and equipages of every description had assembled to greet the arrival of the train.

The din of voices, ringing of bells, whistle of engines, and all the varied notes of that Babel diapason, that so utterly bewilders the stranger stranded on the bustling streets of busy Gotham, fell upon Regina's ears with the startling force of novelty.

Gazing curiously down from her window, at the sea of faces, Regina made no attempt to leave her seat until the courteous conductor to whose care Mrs. Lindsay had consigned her, touched her arm to arrest her attention.

"You are Miss Orme, I believe, and here is a gentleman who came to meet you."

Turning quickly, with the expectation of seeing Mr. Palma, she found herself in the presence of an elegantly dressed young gentleman, not more than twenty-two or three years old, who wore ample hay-coloured whiskers brushed in English style, after the similitude of the fins of a fish or the wings of a bat. A long moustache of the same colour dropped over a mouth feminine in mould, and as he lifted his brown fur cap and bowed, she saw that his light hair was parted in the middle of his head.

He handed her a card on which was printed: "Elliott Roscoe."

"Regina Orme, I presume. My cousin, Mr. Palma, desired me to meet you at the train, and see you safely to his house, as he is not in the city. I guess you had a tiresome trip; you look worn-out. Have you the checks for your baggage?"

She handed them to him, took her satchel, and followed him out of the car, through the dense throng, to a conpe,

"Where is Mr. Palma?"

"He was unexpectedly called to Philadephia two days ago on urgent business. Do you know him?"

"I have not seen him for several years."

She turned away, fixing her attention upon the various objects of interest that flitted by, they rolled rapidly along one of the principle streets. The young gentleman who in no respect resembled Mr. Palma, found it exceedingly pleasant to study the fair, delicate face beside him, and not a detail of her dress, from the shape of be hat, to the fit of her kid gloves escaped his critical inspection.

As the carriage entered Fifth Avenue, and drew up before one of the handsome brown-stone front mansions, that stretch like palatial walls—for miles along that most regal and magnificent of American streets, Mr. Roscoe handed his companion out, and rang the bell.

The door opened, and Regina was ushered in, and conducted by Mr. Roscoe into the sitting-room, where a blazing coal-fire lent pleasant warmth and a ruddy glow to the elegantly furnished apartment.

"Terry, tell the ladeis we have come."

The servant disappeared, and holding his hands over the fire, Mr. Roscoe said:

"I believe you are a stranger to all but my cousin; yet you are probably aware that his step-mother and her daughter reside with him."

Before she could reply, the door suddenly opened wide, as if moved by an impatient hand, and a middle-aged lady dressed in black silk that rustled proudly at every step, advanced toward Regina. Involuntarily the girl shivered, as if an icy East wind had blown down upon her.

"Mrs. Palma, I have brought this young lady safely, and transfer her to your care. This is Regina Orme."

"Miss Orme has arrived on a cold day, and looks if she realized it."

She put out her hand, barely touched the fingers of the stranger, and her keen, probing, inquisitorial eyes of palest grey wandered searchingly over the face and figure; while her haughty tone was chill as the damp breath of a vault.

Catching sight of Hero, she started back, and exclaimed with undisguised displeasure:

"What! a dog in my sitting room? Who brought that animal here?"

Regina laid a protecting hand on the head of her favourite, and said timidly, in a voice that faltered from embarrassment:

"It is my dog, Please, Madam, allow me to keep him: he will disturb no one: shall give no trouble."

"Impossible! Dogs are my pet aversion. I would not even allow my daughter to accept a a lovely Italian greyhound, which Count Fagdalini sent her on her last birthday. That huge brute there, would give me hysterics before dinner time."

"Then you shall not see him. I will keep him always out of sight; be shall never annoy you."

Something in her quiet tone attracted attention, and as the lady and gentleman turned to look at her, both noticed a brilliant flush on her cheek, a peculiar sparkling dancing in her eyes.

Passing her arm through the handle of her satchel, she put both her hands upon Hero's silver collar.

"Hattie will show you to your room, Miss Orme, and if you need anything call upon her for it. Farley take that dog away, and do not let me see him again."

The blunt but kind-hearted coachman, looked irresolute, glancing first at his mistress, and then pityingly at the girl. As he advanced to obey, Regina said in a quiet but clear and decisive tone:

"Don't you touch him. He is mine, and no one shall take him from me. Come Hero: we will find a place somewhere; New York is large enough to hold us both. Good-by, Mr. Roscoe. Good-day, Mrs. Palma."

She walked toward the door, leading Hero, who rubbed his head caressingly against her.

"Where are you going?" cried Mr. Roscoe, catching her arm.

"Anywhere—away from this house," she answered very quietly.

"But Mr. Palma is your guardian! He will be dreadfully displeased."

Mrs. Palma was sorely perplexed, and though she trembled with excess of anger and chagrin, a politic regard for her own future welfare, which was contingent upon the maintenance of peaceful relations with her step-son, impelled her to concede what otherwise she would never have yielded. Stepping forward she said with undisguised scorn:

"If this is a sample of his ward's temper, I fear Erle has assumed guardianship of Tartary. This is Erle Palma's house, not mine—else I should not hesitate a moment; but under the circumstances I shall insist upon this girl remaining here at least until his return, which must be very soon."

"Let us try and compromise. Suppose you trust your pet to me for a few days, until matters can be settled? I like dogs, and promise to take good care of yours, and feed him on game and chicken soup."

He attempted to put his hand on the collar, but Hero, who seemed to comprehend that he was a casus belli, growled and showed his teeth.

"Thank you, sir, but we have only each other now. Mrs. Palma, I do not wish to annoy or disturb you in any way, and as I love my dog very much—and you have no room for him, I would much rather go away and leave you in peace. Please, Mr. Roscoe, let me pass."

"I can fix things to suit all round—if Madam ill permit," said the coachman.

"Well, Farley—what is your proposition?"

His mistress was biting her lip, from mortification and ill-concealed rage.

"I will make a kennel in the corner of the carriage-house, where he can be chained up, and yet have room to stretch himself; and the young miss can feed him, and see him as often as she likes."

"Very well. Attend to it at once. I hope Miss Orme is satisfied?"

"No—I do not wish to give so much trouble to you all."

"Oh, Miss! it is no trouble worth speaking of; and if you will trust me I will see that no harm happens to him."

"Thank you very much. I will trust you. Be kind to him, and let me come and see him after awhile. I don't wish him ever to come into the house again."

"The baggage-man has brought the trunks," said Terry.

"Have them taken upstairs. Would you like to go to your room, Miss Orme."

"It you please, Madam."

"Then I must bid you good-bye," said Mr. Roscoe, holding out his hand.

"Do you not live here?"

"Oh, no! I am only a student in my cousin's law office—but come here very often. I hope the dog-war is amicably settled; but if hostilities are reopened, and you ever make up your mind to give Hero away, please remember that I am first candidate for his ownership."

"I would almost as soon think of giving away my head. Good-bye, sir."

As she turned to follow the servant out of the room, she ran against a young lady, who hastily entered, singing a bar from "Traviata."

"Bless me! I beg your pardon. "This is——"

"Miss Orme;—Erle's ward."

"Miss Orme does not appear supremely happy at the prospect of sojourning with us, beneath this hospitable roof. Mamma, I understand you have had a regular Austerlitz battle over that magnificent dog I met in the hall—and alas! victory perched upon the standard of the invading enemy! Cheer up, mamma! there is a patent medicine just advertised in the Herald that hunts down, worries, and stranglee hydrophobia."

YOUNG'S POINT.

From our Own Correspondent.

OBIT.—On Friday, May 30, Robt. Graham, of this part, whose illness we spoke of last week, passed away. For a couple of weeks he lay on a bed of sickness, and disease seems to have baffled our most skillful physicians. In losing our respected friend we have lost a kind father and an industrious neighbour, and one who was always ready to do what he could for his fellow men. He leaves a wife and family of six to mourn his departure, and the sympathy of the whole community is with them in this their time of trouble. He died at the early age of 46, and his remains were borne to their last resting place on Saturday afternoon last by a large cortege of people.

DRIVES.—Bryan Mulhern, in the employ of the Rathbun Co., arrived here last night with a large drive. The steamer Fairy is now towing another drive for them on Stony Lake, which will be here in a few days if wind and weather are favourable.

CROPS.—The crops in this section look remarkably well, especially hay and fall wheat.

He asserts that the artisans and working classes throughout the country are at this moment better fed and clothed and sheltered than in any former period within our knowledge or recollection.

Trent Valley Canal.

The great necessity of the immediate construction of this artery towards the commerce of Canada, may be seen in the fact that Chicago is now shipping grain down the Mississippi and by Philadelphia, for the same rate as by the Grand Trunk and by New York. The shortening of the route some 500 miles by the Trent Valley Canal over New York route and many miles more over the Philadelphia route would give Montreal the control of the grain trade of the North-West. It is to be hoped our commercial centres will be able to look at it in its true light, and lend their influence in urging its immediate construction. Montreal people are asking to have the tolls on the canals removed to give them equal chance with New York in competing for the Chicago grain trade. This is another urgent reason for the construction of the Trent Valley Canal.—Trenton Courier.

This team will play a practice match with the first twelve of the club this evening.

Feathered Visitors.

Within the last few days a number of strange birds—apparently in every respect foreign—have made their appearance in this neighbourhood, and have been the cause of various comments as to what species they belong. To-day a couple of gentlemen observed one of them in a tree opposite the residence of Mr. W. Cluxton, and noted the peculiar shape and still more peculiar chirp or sound that this visitor emitted from its feathered throat. It is apparently about six inches in length, with a small head, and a bill or beak that would put any woodpecker to shame, and is about the colour of a sparrow. The bird keeps up an almost incessant whistle, and the peculiarity of this strange noise is perhaps the cause of its arrival being noticed, so perhaps some one well versed in ornithology will keep a watch for them, and if possible tell us something concerning their visit and prevent, perhaps, some people fancying them "a bird of ill omen."

A BRAKEMAN KILLED!

JOHN CLEGG RUN OVER BY A CAR AND FATALLY INJURED.

The Accident Occurs on Charlotte Street in the Town—The Fatal Frog the Cause—Arrival of His Mother.

The dangerous nature of railway work, particularly the work of the brakeman, received another sad exemplification this morning when John Clegg, a brakeman o the Midland Division of the Grand Trunk Railway, received injuries which resulted in his death.

The unfortunate young man was braking on the train which arrives here from the south at 8.30 in the morning, of which Mr. Steen is conductor and Mr. T. Mimms driver. The train arrived this morning at 8.45 o'clock, and the engine was doing some "making up" work at the station.

Clegg went between the cars near the Charlotte street crossing to manipulate the coupling, and he walked a few steps backwards between the cars, not thinking of danger. His right foot caught in the frog at the switch, and before he could extricate it the car was upon him. He threw himself out, the wheel of an empty flat car caught his ankle, crushing it fearfully, and passing on, ran over his abdomen.

The engine was stopped as quickly as it could be done, and the unfortunate man was conveyed to his boarding house, Mr. A. Stutt's, on Charlotte street.

Dr. King was summoned, and, after examining his injuries, expressed the opinion that they would prove fatal. He found that Mr. Clegg was suffering from internal injuries, besides the injury to his right ankle, and there was no perceptible pulsation at the wrists.

The unfortunate man never rallied after the accident, which occurred at about 9.30 o'clock, although he remained conscious. He lingered about two hours and was then relieved from his sufferings by death.

Mr. Clegg was about twenty-five years of age. He was an industrious young man, and was much respected and a favorite with the other trainmen and his companions.

Mrs. Clegg, the mother of the victim of the accident, who resides in Port Hope, was telegraphed to. She arrived on the noon train, but too late to see her son alive. She is an elderly lady, and was overcome with grief when she learned of the accident. Mr. James Clegg, a firement on an engine on the same line, is a brother of the deceased.

CHEESE FAIR.

The First Fortnightly Meeting of the Season—Purchasers from Neighboring Towns.

The first of a series of fortnightly cheese fairs to be held in the Council Chamber during the present season, took place on Tuesday afternoon. About 35 persons interested in the cheese industry were present.

The cheese offered by the Peterborough factories was bought by Mr. J. R. Brower, of Belleville, who gave 9⅝ cents per pound. The produce of the factories nearer Lindsay was purchased by Mr. John Flavelle, of Lindsay, who gave 9½ cents per pound.

One Peterborough factory, that at South Dummer, refused to accept the offer, preferring to hold for an increase.

The cheese was all purchased subject to inspection, and will probably be shipped within a week.

The following factories were represented :—

| Factories. | Boxes. |
|---|---|
| Keene | 148 |
| Wacminster | 150 |
| Myrtle | 60 |
| South Douro | 66 |
| Trewern | 165 |
| Lily Lake | 20 |
| Selwyn | 74 |
| Normanhurst | 58 |
| Glenthorn | 57 |
| Otonabee Union | 28 |
| South Dummer | 135 |
| North Ops | 40 |
| Downeyville | 109 |
| Star | 87 |
| South Ops | 55 |
| Bobcaygeon | 90 |
| Total | 1342 |

The last four factories were those whose produce, 341 boxes, was bought by Mr. Flavelle, and the first eleven factories, 866 boxes, by Mr. Brower, leaving South Dummer's 135 boxes unsold.

The next cheese fair will be held in the Council Chamber, on Tuesday, June 17th, at two o'clock p.m.

Fresh Fish.

Trout, White Fish, Maskinonge, Black Bass and Finnan Haddies fresh at Carton Bros. grocery.

Bodega.

Fine Spanish wines, Ports and Sherries drawn from the wood, at William Chamberlain's Restaurant.

Bass' English Ale.

Another large shipment of Bass' Ale, October brewing, just arrived at W. Chamberlain's Restaurant. Imported direct.

The Probabilities.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, counting from one o'clock this morning, as reported from the Toronto observatory, are as follows :—Light, variable winds, fine warm weather.

To Toronto and Penetang.

Mr. John English, Provincial Bailiff, arrived here on Tuesday and relieved Mr. Nesbitt, gaoler, of the charge of three prisoners who had been confined in the County prison. John Boyd, who was sentenced to six montes imprisonment for larceny, and James Wilfred, who was given the same period for vagrancy, were taken to the Central Prison in Toronto, and Wm. Donnelly was taken to the Reformatory at Penetanguishene, where he has to serve five years.

THE A.O.U.W. IN SESSION

MEETING AT TORONTO OF THE SUPREME LODGE OF THE ORDER.

Objects and Progress of the Ancient Order of United Workmen—The Disputable Calumnies of the Body by Mr. Blake.

The Supreme Lodge of the Ancient Order of United Workmen is now in session at Toronto. Though founded in the United States, the Order has made such progress in Canada, especially in Ontario, that this year our provincial capital has been chosen as the place of meeting.

GROWTH OF THE ORDER.

The first lodge was initiated at St. Thomas in April 1877. In February, 1879, there were in the Dominion 18 lodges, with a membership of 400. In 1880 the figures were 55 lodges, 1,150 members ; 1881, 107 lodges, 3,200 members ; 1882, 160 lodges, 4,700 members ; 1883, 192 lodges, 6,084 members. Last February the annual report made at the session of the Grand Lodge of the Dominion held in Guelph showed that there were 216 lodges, with a total membership of 7,467. There are now 223 lodges, with a membership of about 9,000, the increase being now at the rate of 250 members per month.

A SECRET SOCIETY.

The report in the Toronto Globe thus defines the nature and objects of the Order :—

The A.O.U.W., is a secret society, that is to say its meetings are held in lodges in which secret signs, grips, and more or less mystical paraphernalia and impressive ceremonies prevail and endeavour is made by these and other social means to cultivate and extend a feeling of fraternity among its members, to care for the sick and to lend a helping hand to the unfortunate, but as indicated above the chief feature and the the most important to a majority of the members is the beneficiary or co-operative insurance department.

VILIFIED BY MR. BLAKE.

It will be seen from this description that the Ancient Order of United Workmen is one among others, of the secret societies so grossly calumniated by Mr. Blake in the House of Commons, when he was endeavouring to gain the favour of one portion of the electorate by slandering another portion. It is one of the societies of which the leader of the Dominion opposition falsely said :—

"These things are to be dealt with on general principles, and I maintain that secrecy is in itself a bad thing ; and if benevolent societies are benevolent, they are benevolent in spite of and not because of this element of secrecy."

And again Mr. Blake says :—

"I say that State recognition ought not to be given to secret societies. You cannot tell what sort of tyranny may be exercised by them. It is in the nature of these societies to become tyrannical, and despotic. Openness and public discussion are the great guarantees of order, freedom, fairness and moderation. It is in private gatherings of men all of one tune, all of one thought, all of one opinion, that bitterness and misrepresentation and malignity revel and hold high carnival,"

Again the Reform leader said :—

"But we have no right, because we have no necessity to engage in secret societies, which, as I have said, are the frightful (fruitful ?) mother of malignity, misrepresentation and bigotry.

We quote these general denunciations and slanders of all secret societies without exception or restriction from the official report in Hansard, and from the precisely similar version circulated in addition by myriads in Mr. Blake's behalf where it may suit the views of some electors.

It is true that Mr. Blake has since published another version, for circulation among friends of these societies to gain favour with them, but still the correct and calumnious version is being circulated without his protest, among those hostile to the societies.

An Excursion.

An excursion from the northern stations on the Midland Division of the Grand Trunk Railway arrived here at about 12.30 o'clock to-day. The excursion was run under the auspices of the members of the Orange Order at Cannington. The train left Beaverton at 7 o'clock in the morning, and the number of excursionists was augmented at Cannington, Woodville and other stations along the line. The party numbered about 300 persons. They had a pleasant run down. After arriving at their destination the excursionists sought refreshments, and then proceeded to view the town and the sights it contains.

Pencil Points.

—Very warm. Did you know it ?

—Police court, blank ; police cells, blanker.

—There was a fair attendance on the market this morning. The price of oats dropped a little, to 35 cents.

—Mr. E. C. Hill has had a new bill board put up on Charlotte street, on the corner of George street.

—The County Court is still in session. The grand jurors were relieved from attendance before noon.

—Tuesday was the day on which the June fair was to be held. A number of self-binding rakers were exhibited on the market and inspected by a large number of persons.

FLINT'S Tooth Powder, the peerless dentrifice now being introduced in this vicinity by J. D. Tully, druggist, is a preparation for the teeth of which everybody speaks with enthusiasm. Large size 25 cents.

PHOSPHATINE, a name which to every intelligent mind, professional or otherwise, is a key to its composition. No safer, purer, more palatable and more effective compound has ever been offered in cases of nervous exhaustion and pulmonary consumption. For sale by all druggists.

A Great Discovery

That is daily bringing joy to the homes of thousands by saving many of their dear ones from an early grave, truly is Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, hay fever, loss of voice, tickling in the throat, pain in side and chest, or any disease of the throat and lungs, a positive cure guaranteed. Trial bottles free at Taylor and McDonald's drug store. Large size $1.

The Greatest Healing Compound

is prepared of carbolic acid, vaseline and cerate called McGregor & Parke's Carbolic Cerate. It will cure any sore, cut burn or bruise when all other prparations fail. Call at John McKee's drug store and get a package. Twenty-five cents is all it costs.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Taylor & Macdonald.

Never Give Up.

If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility disordered blood, weak constitution, headache or any disease of a bilious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow ; you will be inspired with new life ; strength and activity will return ; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Taylor and McDonald.

Cured Free.

Any reader troubled with dyspepsia, costiveness, headache, liver complaint, etc., should call at John Mckee's drug store and secure a free trial bottle of McGregor's Speedy Cure at once, which will convince you of the merits of the medicine. It cures permanently where all other medicines have failed. As a blood purifier it has no equal. Remember it costs nothing to try it. Regular size fifty cents and one dollar.

Not another Pill shall go down my throat again, said a citizen, "when I can get such a prompt and pleasant cure for my Bilious attacks, as Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters. It renders the Blood Pure and Cool and makes a splended Spring Medicine. Large Bottles 50 cents.

A New Principle.

The principle upon which Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor acts is entirely new. It does noes not sink deep into the flesh, thereby producing soreness, but acts directly upon the external covering of the corn, separates it from the under layer, removes the direct pressure from the pars, and at once effects a radical cure, without any pain or discomfort. Let those who are suffering from corns, yet sceptical of treatment, try it, and by the completeness of the cure they will be ready to recommend Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor to others.

Why So? Ask the wholesale merchants who sell to the retailers, and the retailers who sell to the public. Such a disasterous Spring, such a late, chilly, flooded, bedraggled season, hasn't been known for years. Merchants generally have'nt bought extensively, as they couldn't see any chance to sell again, and so the whole trade has languished, and stacks of Spring Goods have accumulated, and grown larger, and still larger, for want of demand, until manufacturers and importers have become frightened.

The result may be seen in our store this week. We are actually able to offer, before the season has much more than fairly opened, a complete line of the FINEST AND MOST FASHIONABLE SPRING GOODS, at prices that would astonish you.

Visit our store to-day and every day next week, and we promise to show you goods at prices that was never before known in the history of the trade.

THE FATAL "FROG."
To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—Another life has been lost by the fixture called a "frog" by railway men; another unfortunate brakeman hurled into eternity with, you may say, scarcely a moment's warning; another home has been made desolate by the loss of a kind brother and companion; another mother's heart has been set to bleed afresh by the deplorable loss of her affectionate and beloved son; and the public have again been horror-struck with the awful intelligence that "another poor brakeman" had been sent on his long journey through the instrumentality of this terrible "frog." Time and again the press throughout the length and breadth of the land, are called upon to chronicle the death of a father or son by a railway accident, and not unfrequently from the latter cause. In our own town, within the last four or five years, there have been railway accidents of more or less magnitude; accidents, some of which have made households dreary, and left a small flame burning in the "wood-box of friendship" that will not be extinguished. With all these stern facts before us can not some remedy be suggested, (we know everything cannot be perfect), but is it not possible to do away in a manner with this death-trap? What is to prevent its being covered up in such a manner as to not only prevent such disastrous results if one happens to get caught in it, but to make it absolutely impossible for a human foot to get into it at all? What an amount of mortal anguish and mental torture the family of the unfortunate man would have been spared if that "frog" had not been where it was on Wednesday? What would have been the consequence if it had been covered with a plate of some kind? That young man, with his long life before him, and perhaps with many bright prospects and found resolutions cherished up in his heart would be alive and, let us hope, well. But no, the thing was there waiting for its victim, and if it had not so happened that the unfortunate Clegg was to be the one for its death-grip to fasten on, it is not at all improbable that another would have been caught in his place. Railway accidents, so far as possible, are to be avoided by every available means, and it is surely possible to remedy this last, but not least, serious and fatal grievance.

Respectfully yours,
RATEPAYER.
Peterborough, June 4; 1884.

THE BARRIE L. C.
To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—I have read with considerable surprise and disgust the scurrilous attack made on the Barrie Lacrosse Club by a correspondent of the Lindsay Post. It is a somewhat hopeless task to attempt to render ineffectual any such disreputable report, but I write simply to give an unqualified denial to the slander, in case those who read should construe silence into acquiescence. It is understood by every person that any party of young gentlemen, no matter how well conducted each individually may be, when travelling as a club will enjoy themselves to the fullest possible extent, and be as cheerful as their good spirits and youthful vigour will allow, but to the annoyance or discomfort of no one. Such was the conduct of the Barrie Lacrosse Club as can be vouched for by every person who travelled on the same train, notwithstanding the contemptible statements by the correspondent of the Lindsay Post. It is entirely unnecessary to go into particulars it will suffice to say that it is far beneath the dignity of a gentleman or a club with the unstained record of the Barrie Lacrosse Club to deign to notice the vile slander, it is unworthy of the contempt of either.

I can only refer any one who may have read the foul statement to the unanimous report of the manner and conduct of the Barrie Lacrosse Club by the Peterborough papers. It was considered best to reply through the Peterborough papers.

Yours respectfully,
AN EYE WITNESS.
Barrie, June 3rd, 1884.

Can't Be Beaten.

It is a fact that Nerviline cannot be surpassed by any combination for the relief of pain. The reason is a good one. Nerviline contains the best, most powerful, and the latest discovered remedies. It is a magic pain cure. Rheumatism, stiff neck, cramps, neuralgia, colic, in fact all pain, internal, external, and local, are subdued in a few minutes. Go at once to Ormond & Walsh's drug store and get a trial bottle. It will only cost you 10 cents, and you can at a small cost test the great pain cure, Polson's Nerviline. Large bottles only 25 cts.

THE CANAL TOLLS.
Reduction of fifty per Cent—The Harbour Commissioners Reduce the Dues.

The official announcement of the Government action reducing the canal tolls fifty per cent. was communicated to the secretary of the Montreal Corn Exchange Association in the following letter received yesterday morning:—

OTTAWA, May 31st, 1884.

SIR,—By direction of the Acting Minister of the Department of Railways and Canals, who wishes intimation to be given you at the earliest possible moment, I have to inform you that a copy has been received of an order-in council passed on the 21st instant with reference to the question of the abolition of tolls on Canadian canals, brought up by a recent delegation from those interested in the matter visiting Ottawa for the purpose of presenting their views.

The said order expresses the opinion of the government that it would be neither expedient nor proper to adopt a new policy of the total abolition of tolls without the authority of parliament. In order, however, to meet the views of shippers and forwarders concerned, the said order authorizes the reduction, for the present season of navigation only, of the existing tolls from twenty cents to ten cents a ton on wheat, Indian corn, oats, barley and rye, shipped for Montreal or any other Canadian port east of Montreal.

I am, sir,
Your obedient servant,
A. P. BRADLEY,
Secretary.

At the regular weekly meeting held on Monday afternoon the Harbour Commissioners, it is understood, adopted a resolution reducing the harbour dues on grain for the present season only from 7½ to 1 cent per ton, subject to the approval of the government.—Montreal Gazette.

EXTRAORDINARY TRAGEDY.
Two Young Girls, a Boy and a Woman Found Dead in a Creek.

PLEASANTON, Kas., June 3.—The body of a girl, aged about 16, with the head completely severed from the body, was found in Sugar creek, five miles from here, yesterday. The stream was searched, when the bodies of two children were discovered, a girl of 11 and a boy of 6. In a neighboring thicket was the mutilated body of a woman, hidden under the bush, covered with logs. The affair is shrowded in a great mystery.

LAKEFIELD.
From Our Own Correspondent.

FORESTERS.—Robt. Graham, High Messenger, John Clarin and Dr. Bell, delegates from Court Lakefield, No. 43, C. O. F., leave for Toronto on Tuesday morning next, to attend the annual meeting of the High Court, to be held in that city.

UNLAWFUL FISHING.—Fishing Overseer Cochrane, fined four poachers in the western part of the county $65 for spearing fish.

A DRIVE.—Messrs. Ullyott and Saddler's drive carried away most of the Government boom at the dam here, on Friday last.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Sanders and family left for Moose Jaw, N. W. T., on Friday last.

SAVED ARMY—There was some heavy firing at the Saved Army on Sunday evening. The enemy stood it well.

T. V. C.—Several large scows laden with lumber, coal, &c., were shipped to Burleigh Falls for the Trent Valley works.

STOP THEM.—It is reported that hounds are allowed to run in the township of Burleigh. Deer are getting scarce. Where is the game inspector?

A GOOD SALE.—Mr. R. Strickland's sale of furniture took place on Tuesday, conducted by Mr. C. Stapleton. The bidding was lively and good prices were obtained. The sale netted over $1,500.

L. O. L.—The District meeting of the L.O.L. will meet at 8 p.m., on Tuesday, June 10th, in the Orange Hall, Lakefield.

BELLEVILLE.
PROBABLY FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday afternoon while Edward O'Donnell was driving a team of horses attached to a roller on the farm of Mr. John Gilbert in Sidney, the horses ran away and the roller passed over O'Donnele's body, breaking some if his ribs and inflicting other injuries of so serious a character that his death will probably result.

THE WHEEL.
Up-hill riding in Peterborough seem to be rather hard on the backbone—of the machine we mean, not by any means af the rider.

The Lieutenant-Governor has accepted the patronage of the Toronto Bicycle Club.

The first tandem tricycle race ever ridden in America came off at Boston on Friday, and was won easily by A. Whitaker and R. F. Stahl in 3 mins. 33½ secs. The tandem bicycle, which consists of two large bicycle wheels joined together by a long rod, is said to be particularly good on the road.

A 20 mile bicycle match between R. Howel, of Coventry, and Fred Lees, of Sheffield, for £50, was run off at Belgrave Road grounds, Leicester, England, on Saturday, May 17. The race was very slow till the sixth mile was covered, when Howell, who was leading, suddenly eased up, and Lees, who was close behind, ran into him and was pitched off his machine. Howell at once went off like a shot, and by the time Lees had remounted had gained a hundred yards. He kept his advantage to the finish, winning in 1 hour 12 mins. 55 seconds. Lees claimed a foul, and the referee ordered them to ride over again the following Saturday.

"Hub" Cough Cure, 25 Cents.

Prescription of a Boston physician, dispensed years by a Boston Druggist. One dose will cure any ordinary cough. It acts almost magically. Ask J. D. Tully for a 25 cent bottle of Hub Cough Cure.

THEY ALL DO IT.—Everybody uses Teaberry for the Teeth and Breath, the newest, brightest, coolest little toilet gem extant. Try a sample.

CURE FOR DEAFNESS.—As numerous testimonials will show, there is no more reliable cure for deafness than Hagyard's Yellow Oil. It is also the best remedy for earache, sore throat croup, rheumatism, and for pains and lameness generally. Used externally and internally

SALLOW FACED GIRLS.—Why don't you improve your complexion? You can do so by using Golden Fruit Bitters and Pills. Sold by all druggists.

ORANGE DEMONSTRATIONS.

DUBLIN, June 4.—The Government has decided not to permit counter-demonstrations on the part of Orangemen to be held at the same time and place as Nationalist meetings. It will not intefere with counter-demonstrations provided they are held at such times and places as will not bring the hostile bodies into collision. The decision exasperates the Loyalists in the north of Ireland, and indignation meetings will probably be held. The Express says the Government has unconditionally surrendered to the party of sedition. The Freeman's Journal congratulates the Government on its action.

ACCIDENT TO LORD DUFERIN.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 4.—The horses attached to a carriage in which Lord Dufferin, the British Ambassador, was riding last evening took fright, and became unmanageable, dashed through the crowded streets. Lord Dufferin jumped from the vehicle while it was at full speed, and was thrown to the ground, but fortunately escaped serious injury. The carriage was smashed before the horses were stopped, and several pedestrians were injured by being run over or struck.

THE EX-KHEDIVE THRASHED.

PARIS, June 4.—A man supposed to be a discharged employe attacked ex-Khedive Ismail Pasha at the Palais Royal gardens to-day and gave him a severe beating.

THE NILE EXPEDITION.

LONDON, June 4.—It is reported that the Grand Vizier has informed Lord Dufferin that the expedition up the Nile is impossible unless England advance part of the funds to meet expenses.

AMERICAN DYNAMITE FUNDS.

LONDON, June 4.—Earl Granville is preparing a note to Washington in relation to the collection of conspiracy funds within the jurisdiction of the United States.

AQUARIUM BURNED.

LONDON, June 4.—The East London Aquarium at Bishopsgate was burned this morning. Some wild animals were removed, others shot, and some burned. Among the latter were lions, bears, jackals and monkeys. The roaring of the burning beasts was terrible. The curiosities of Marwood, the hangman, were consumed.

ANOTHER DYNAMITE OUTRAGE.

PARIS, June 4.—Dynamiters in Paris declare the authors of the explosions have escaped from England, and are in perfect safety. Another outrage, which it is believed will be more successful, has been planned. A secret meeting of dynamiters will shortly be held.

RECIPROCITY.

IN some unpatriotic quarters there is an attempt to embarrass the Canadian Government by asserting that the Macdonald Administration is placing obstacles in the way of the adoption of reciprocity with the United States. These critics display either gross ignorance, or still worse dishonesty. The Conservative Ministry at Ottawa, truly representing Canada in this, as in other respects, takes the position that, having made the necessary advances towards reciprocity, it is now patiently awaiting the acceptance of the United States. The Administration has years ago asked for and received power to admit free any natural products that Congress may place upon the free list. Thus Canada has made a standing offer of reciprocity, and it is ready for the acceptance of our neighbours at any time.

CONFEDERATION A SUCCESS.

THE Globe asks editorially :—

"Why has the confederation experiment been a comparative failure?"

This is by no means a difficult question to answer. The confederation of the scattered Province of British North America into the Dominion of Canada has passed the experimental stage, and far from being a failure has proved successful beyond all reasonable expectation. To admit it to be even a "comparative failure,' we must compare it with perfection, which is not an attribute of human institutions. As compared with any other country the progress of Canada is unexampled.

As compared with what might have been, if Canada falls short in some degree, it is the work of the Globe and its friends. Except for a brief period, when they assisted to bring about confederation, they have persistently opposed to the utmost of their power the welding of the Provinces into one homogeneous country. In the very article which it heads with the question we have quoted, the Globe gloats with traitorous glee over the asserted rivalry and sectional jealousies between the Provinces, feelings which it has always endeavored to foment. In the very adjoining article it does its best to stir up Manitoba to press further and further demands upon Canada as a whole, though if the Dominion Administration yielded, the other Province would at once be assured that they were being robbed. So the Globe and its friends reviled the people of Quebec as robbers of Canada, and burdens upon Ontario and the other Provinces, though this did not prevent the disgraceful offer to the Quebec members by the leading Reform journal, in the name of the leader of the Reform party, of a wholesale bribe, if they would sell their votes for it. In the same manner every Province in turn has been spurred on to demand more, and then accused of receiving bribes at the cost of the other Provinces.

So, too, with the projects of our able administrators to unite and bind together the Dominion. The great railway planned to connect the several Provinces was by the devices and opposition of "Reformers" delayed for years, and it still has their unappeasable hostility. The National Policy, of which one great aim was to foster interprovincial trade, and prevent each section of Canada from continuing to give to other countries the profits of supplying it with food, clothing and other requirements, experienced a similar virulent but vain opposition. Thus also it was with all other means that were adopted to promote the union and progress of our country.

Confederation has been a success, not a failure, but it is in spite of the efforts of the Globe and its friends.

An Important Interview.

PARIS, June 2.—An interview took place on Saturday between the Prince of Wales and Premier Ferry on the subject of the recent dynamite outrages in London, which, it is strongly suspected, were planned and executed by Fenians using France as the base of operations. The proposed Fenian Conference in Paris was also alluded to, and an understanding arrived at as to the course which should be pursued by the French authorities relative to the matter.

THE DAILY EVENING REVIEW is delivered to subscribers at ten cents a week.

REVIEWS.

OUTING.—The fourth volume of Outing and the Wheelman shows progressive improvement in this charming periodical. No longer restricted in the same degree as before to the interests of the bicyclist, it now has for its wide field "all out-of-doors." Touring, shooting and fishing, yachting, canoeing and other open air recreations are treated in a delightful manner, and the fiction is of an appropriate character. The illustrations are of that high character to which we are accustomed in the best American magazines. We must call special attention to a paper in the April number, "Grindstone Island and its Surrounding," in which is described the site of the A. C. A. camp, among the Thousand Islands, for this year. There is full information as to the locality and means of access to it, rendered very clear by means of an admirable little chart. The numerous members of the A. C. A. in this neighborhood should send to the publishers, "The Wheelman Co., 175 Tremont street, Boston," for the April number, but we warn them that the probable consequence will be their feeling constrained to write speedily again with their yearly subscription.

THE MANHATTAN.—The current number of Manhattan has for its frontispiece a beautiful engraving from a drawing by C. M. McIlhenney, illustrating some verses on "Spring," by W. G. Clark. "An American Studio in Florence" that of H. R. Newman, is the theme of H. B. Forman. There is a letter by Ruskin, expressing a high opinion of the artist and some admirable illustrations. E. Ingersoll has a second paper on "The Gunnison Country," his graphic pen and the graver combining to do justice to this romantic region. There are some "Retrospection of the American Stage," by John Bernard, with portraits from old engravings. Literary subjects are generally a feature of Manhattan, and this number is no exception. J. Heard shows with great perspicuity "Why Women should Study Shakespeare," and Miss Kate Rowland has an appreciative paper on "The Brownings," especially dealing upon their reciprocal influence on each other's work. Edgar Fawcett brings his serial novel "Tinkling Cymbals" to a characteristic conclusion. "Trajan" the powerful anonymous novel, the opening chapters of which have attracted much attention, still grows in interest. There are one or two bright little tales, and several poems of merit, some of those under the head of "Salmagundi" being very humorous. Some "Recent Literature" is reviewed, and in "Town Talk" some welcome information is given as to "Obermann," the test of culture in the celebrated spurious letter ascribed to Matthew Arnold. We must not omit to give well-deserved praise to the beautiful and artistic cover designed by Francis Lathrop, which makes the exterior of Manhattan as attractive as its contents.

OUR NORTHERN WATERS.—We have received a copy of a Report presented to the Winnipeg Board of Trade regarding the Hudson's Bay and Strait, being a statement of their resources in minerals, fisheries, timber, furs, game and other products; also notes on the navigation of these waters, together with historical events and meteorological and climatic data, by Charles N. Bell, Vice-President of Manitoba Historical and Scientific Society. In this remarkably well printed little pamphlet Mr. Bell certainly manages to fulfill, as far as his space permits him, the expectations his somewhat pretentions title excites. It is embellished with three excellent maps, and gives evidences throughout of the utmost care and untiring zeal in the collection of statistics. The author begins with an historical sketch of the discovery of the Bay, but soon descends to most practical details, such as the navigation of the Strait, sailing ships vs. steamers, winds and currents, fogs, temperature, whaling, etc. He quotes largely and prudently, marshals his facts with commendable precision, and, on the whole, gives us a very large mass of highly interesting and instructive information. The work itself is so condensed that it is impossible to give typical extracts, the conclusion, however, we give in full:—

"We have, in the very heart of our Dominion an immense inland sea which never freezes, it is connected with the Atlantic Ocean by a wide passage which never freezes over, and is open for navigation for at least five or six months, if not during the whole year. This great body of salt water has emptying into it a large number of rivers, many of them navigable for large river steamers for long distances inland, they are well-stocked with the finest edible fish, and in some places their banks are clothed with timber, much of which is valuable for export. The islands of the Bay, and many localities on the mainland are rich in mineral-bearing rocks and forms of coal.

The northern waters are frequented by schools of whales, which are already affording a bountiful harvest to the enterprising whalers. At all points in the great bay, porpoises abound, which supply hides and oil. Furs are obtained from the full list of fur-bearing animals frequenting the adjacent country. Large game supports, in a great measure, the Indian population. Feathered game is so plentiful that at a single post, 36,000 geese are killed in the autumn, as the year's supply. Vegetables are raised at all the forts in the southern part, and at some of those in the north. Horses, cattle, etc., are kept and an abundance of fodder is found for them. At least three harbors are frequented by ships, and for 274 years sailing vessels of all descriptions, from the pinnace of 20 tons to the 74 gun man-of-war, have anchored in them after passing through the strait and across the bay. British regular troops and immigrants have sailed through these waters and landed at these harbours.

Should we not, as Canadians, anxious for the full developement of the great natural resources of our country, take what nature offers us so freely, and make use of her beautiful gifts?"

The book is published by authority of the Winnipeg Board of trade.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

NOT TO BE SATISFIED.

As we anticipated, the Liberals of the Northwest, and for that matter, the Liberals of Canada, are greatly dissatisfied with the concessions made to Manitoba by the Dominion Government.—Montreal Gazette.

MIND AND MOTIVE PALTRY.

Sir Richard Cartwright is not nearly as anxious to see Canada independent as he is to see Sir John Macdonald turned out of office and the Liberals sent for. Sir Richard never forgave Sir John for passing him over and making Sir Francis Hincks Finance Minister instead. He never will.—Toronto Telegram, (Ind).

CHANGED FOR THE WORSE.

The suffering, timorous attitude of the Globe towards the important topics touched upon in Sir Richard Cartwright's speech is in striking contrast to the robust virility which, with all its faults, characterized that paper in the regime of the Browns.—Telegram (Indep.).

HOW PATRIOTIC!

The Hamilton Times says it does not care a flip whether Canadian grain goes by way of Montreal or New York. Of course not; and the Grits care just about equally whether we buy all our manufactures from other countries or make and mend for ourselves. It's all one to them; but if there is any difference they will give it to the others.—London Free Press.

BLUE BLOOD RILED.

If one comes to enquire, how it is, and why it was, that so much "blue-blood" is now running concurrently with the less remarkable kind of fluid, it will be found that the reason is of a personal kind. It had its origin at the time that Sir F. Hincks was taken into the Government. Sir Richard felt aggrieved at this, and expressed his conclusions to the head of the Government at that time. In so doing he did not find any fault with Sir John or his general policy; but the fact that Sir Francis was occupying a position to which he aspired caused him to become that "substantial Reformer," which it is boasted he now is.—London Free Press.

A Note of Warning to Suffering Hunanity.

We feel that we would be wanting in the duty that we owe to humanity if we did not sound a note of warning in regard to the use of mercury and other poisonous minerals in the treatment of blood and skin diseases. If the reader could see the horrible suffering, the awful wrecks of human health and happiness, shown by our correspondence with those who have been dosed with these mineral poisons, he would shudder with horror. Arsenic, mercury, antimony, and iodide of potassium, are some of the remedies most ordinarily used for these diseases, and they are all poison. Do not take these poisons. They might dry up your disease for a few days, but it will surely return, and with it you will have mercurial rheumatism, which may bring you years of torture. Shaker Blood Syrup will invigorate you and build you up, and force all poison out through the pores of your skin, and cure you sound and well.

SHAKER BLOOD SYRUP

cures completely scrofula, syphilis, rheumatism, cancer, catarrh, and skin and blood diseases of every description. Sold everywhere, $1 a bottle, or six for $5.

IF you have failed to be benefitted by other catarrh remedies, try Dr. Starr's Catarrh Conqueror it has received universal endorsement. J. D. Tully will supply you. Price 50 cents.

IMPORTANT CHANGES.—There are two periods in the life of every female when the system undergoes great changes. First, the change from childhood to womanhood; next, that of womanhood to old age. These are the critical changes of life, and the system should be nourished and regulated by that matchless tonic, Burdock Blood Bitters. It is invaluable to all diseases peculiar to females.

THE SECRET OUT.—The secret of beauty has been at last revealed. Without good health, pure blood and a fair clear skin none can possess good looks. What is more repulsive than pimples, blotches and a sallow or pasty complexion? Burdock Blood Bitters reveal the fact that all can gain pure blood and freedom from the repulsive diseases of the skin that result from impurities.

Another Victory.

A Startling important discovery was made when, after long and patient experiments, the combination of Nerviline was reached. A grand victory indeed, for the suffering have an ever ready, prompt, efficient, and cheap remedy at hand. Do you know that for 10 cents you can buy a trial bottle of Polson's Nerviline and test its great power over pain of every description? Polson's Nerviline cures chills, pain in the stomach, side and back, rheumatism; in fact all pain. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning? The signal perhaps of the approach of that more terrible disease Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50 cts., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough It never fails. This explains why more than a million bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup or whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest use Shiloh's porous plaster. Sold by J. D. Tully.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN Hair Renewer.

Seldom does a popular remedy win such a strong hold upon the public confidence as has HALL'S HAIR RENEWER. The cases in which it has accomplished a complete restoration of color to the hair, and vigorous health to the scalp, are innumerable.

Old people like it for its wonderful power to restore to their whitening locks their original color and beauty. Middle-aged people like it because it prevents them from getting bald, keeps dandruff away, and makes the hair grow thick and strong. Young ladies like it as a dressing because it gives the hair a beautiful glossy lustre, and enables them to dress it in whatever form they wish. Thus it is the favorite of all, and it has become so simply because it disappoints no one.

HASTINGS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

CORONER'S INQUEST.—The body of the man, Charles Ellis, who was drowned some weeks ago in Rice Lake whilst returning from Keene to Robt. Hogg's, Alnwick, with seed grain, was found by Smoke, an Indian, on Thursday last, near Oaks Landing, a short distance from here. The "Crowner" being notified made his maiden inquest since his commission. The post mortem chiefly consisted in finding how many pants the deceased had on, the number three being sworn to; two pocket books, a knife and 15 cents being found among the three. As the deceased was a sober man the verdict was not "Two much water with his whiskey" but "found drown-dead." An obituary notice in our village paper winds up pathetically thus. "The eye misses its accustomed sights, the ear its sounds, and the heart everything. The child engroses all, and the void caused by the removal is never wholly filled." Shades of Murray and Johnson! where are ye?

NEARLY DROWNED.—Mr. Jas. Fife's young son was nearly drowned in the locks last Saturday, and would have lost his life but for Dr. Coughlin, who dragged him out.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Whitehead, manager of the Huden cotton mills, and formerly a resident of Hastings, paid a flying visit to old friends last Friday and was cordially received.

ASSESSMENT.—A Court of Revision was held here last week. Everything was amicably settled.

LACROSSE.—"The Trents," as the Lacrosse Club here dub themselves, are to receive their "baptism of fire" at the hands of the Peterborough junior twelve to-day (Thursday). The former have all their experience to gain yet, but are cheerfully willing to give and take and learn into the bargain. We will see.

KEENE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

DEATHS.—Miss J. Carter, daughter of Mr. Jas. Carter, died on Wednesday night May 28 at Dr. Harrison's, where she had been on a visit. On Thursday one of Mr. Peter Comrie's children died of scarlet fever and a second one on Friday.

ROADS.—The roads are receiving their annual supply of gravel.

MASONIC.—A large party of Masons left by steamer Dora for Roseneath, to visit North Star Lodge on Tuesday last. All had a pleasant time, and reached Keene on the return trip early on Wednesday morning. Captain White was as usual in the best of spirits, keeping the party laughing the whole way over. Captain White has recently rebuilt his boat, putting in a new engine and a cabin, and this, with his obliging manners ought to secure him a large share of the custom during this season.

EXCURSION.—The second grand annual excursion of the Victoria Brass Band, of Keene, will be held on Saturday, June 14th, to Gore's Landing per steamer Beavis. Arrangements have been made for dinner etc., the same as last year. The committee are leaving no stone unturned (so to speak) to make this a grand success in every way. A scow and first class quadrille band for dancing will be on hand. Every one should turn out and help the band.

REPORTERS. One of the papers got the report of May the 24th badly mixed up, causing a great deal of laughter here.

ORANGE.—Keene lodge meets on Thursday of next week. Important work.

HARVEY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

REVISION COURT.—The Council met in the Town Hall, Lakehurst, on Monday last, June 2nd. All the members present. Mr. James Hicks, Reeve, in the chair, Messrs. Shaw, Flynn, McIlmoyl, and Ingram, Councillors. Several appeals were made by ratepayers:—1, Mr. James Purdy petitioned to have the 18th concession of this township opened out for a road.—Granted. 2. Joseph Finley appealed against the assessment of his property as being too high.—No action was taken. 3. Council appealed to Thomas Shouldice in favour of Timothy Croly, for a right of way through Shouldice's land. Shouldice requested $10 to be paid him as a remuneration, but after a lively discussion $2 was voted for one year, during which time the Council would consider the possibility of opening the concession line to Mr. Croly's property. It was decided that Gammon's salad be transferred from non-resident to resident roll, and F. J. Bell assessed for it. By consent of the Council the Reeve was authorized to draw orders on the township treasurer in favor of the following named parties for the respective sums due them:—

|---|---|
| Mrs. Margaret Oliver, for two day's sessional allowance for husband (the ex-reeve) | $ 4 00 |
| J. G. Edwards, stone hammer for Gerrard | 2 40 |
| Chas. Griffin, firewood and cleaning of town hall | 1 00 |
| John Elliott, cleaning of town hall | 1 00 |
| James Richmond salary as assessor and postage | 40 66 |
| Wm. Irwin, salary as collector of rates | 60 00 |
| Wm. Bennett, erecting bridge across Squaw river | 35 00 |
| Thomas Shouldice, to amount for right of way | 2 00 |
| | $146 00 |

Five hundred dollars was levied for road purposes, to be expended as follows: On north side of lake, $212.50; Smith side of lake, $212.50; along the government road, $75. The Council then adjourned, to meet on the first Monday in August at the Clerk's office, on the north shore of Pigeon Lake.

SCHOOL REPORT.—The following is a report of the proficiencies of the pupils, in their several classes, for the month of May, Wm. Stone, teacher, S.S. No. 3, Harvey:

Fourth class 1st Isabel Renwick, 2nd Maggie Chase.

Third class, sr., 1st James Weir, 2nd Archie Wilson, 3rd Christina Wilson.

Third class, jr.—1st Henry Elliott, 2nd Maggie Weir, 3rd Crawford Hunt.

Second class, sr.—1st Fred. Johnston, 2nd Martha Adams, 3rd Robert Renwick.

Second class, jr.—1st John Weir, 2nd Ellen Weir, 3rd Alice Record.

Part 2nd class—1st Alvin Johnston, 2nd, Jenny Coons, 3rd James Crapp.

Part 1, class A—1st Willie Smith.
Part 1, class B—1st Lizzie Weir.
Part 1, class C—1st Edward Irwin.

Number of pupils, registered on roll, 55, average attendance, 42.

THE NEW SECTION.—The ratepayers of S. S. No. 8 of this township met at Mr. Hicks' on May 31st, for the purpose of electing trustees and choosing a site for a school. Messrs. Ward, Chase and Tedford were appointed trustees, and a plot of ground on Mr. Hick's lot was decided upon as being the best situation for a school house. We wish them every success as a new section, although obliged to bid farewell to their assistance in our behalf.

FROSTS.—Two very heavy frosts visited our section on Wednesday and Thursday nights successively. Great damage was done to the clover, and the barley also was greatly injured. We hope Jack has bidden us farewell till he comes again in his proper season.

SABBATH DESECRATION.—Some esteemed nurseryman from Peterborough had taken a number of orders in this vicinity for fruit trees. The would-be diligent fruit tree agent succeeded in arriving here with his load, and began delivering them on the Sabbath. He used precaution in not visiting those whom he thought Christianized, but imposed on some kind friend to act for him next morning. In alluding to the instance we mention no name, but ask that dear friend to study the fourth commandment more carefully to himself. Besides, remember we regard "sacred law" also.

PUBLIC OFFENCE.—Some youths entered the school house of section 3 on Sunday last, with the purpose of having a good time. They amused themselves by writing vulgar sentences on the blackboard, and offending in other ways, in a sense harmless, yet such as would incur a heavy penalty.

THE LIBERAL CONSERVATIVE PLATFORM

The Hamilton Spectator describes so lucidly and so fully in accord with our news the policy of the great Liberal Conservative party of Canada, that we cannot refrain from reproducing its words:—

"The Spectator to day holds to the principles then established as the creed of the party. It proposes with all its might to defend confederation of the Provinces, that substantial unity through which alone Canadians can ever become a nation. It proposes to cherish and defend British connection, because without it the Provinces would inevitably drift apart and fall of their high destiny. It proposes to advocate "government of the people, for the people, by people," because Canada can never be anything but democratic. It proposes to advocate the construction of such great national works as are essential to the unity and prosperity of the country. It proposes to advocate and defend protection to home industry, because it is desirable to build up and establish manufactures here, to give employment to Canadian labor and capital, and find, so far as may be, a home market for Canadian products. It proposes to support the authority of the Dominion Parliament over all matters of national consequence, carefully defending those exclusive rights and privileges conferred upon the Provinces by the British North America Act. The policy of our opponents is obstructive and destructive. They hate the union and will destroy it if ever they have the power. They hate British connection, and will sever it if they can. Their hostility to the Intercolonial and the Pacific railways has been changeless, because these are links which hold the union together. They are also doing their best to injure and destroy those great industries on which so much of the prosperity of the country rests."

PRODUCTION OF MAPLE SUGAR.

At the last day's sitting of the American Forestry Congress, which recently held its annual meeting at Washington, Dr. Franklin B. Hough, of the forestry division, department of agriculture, read a very interesting paper on the production of maple sugar in the United States and Canada, and exhibited a coloured map to represent the relative amount produced by counties as reported by the census of 1880, for the United States and by that of 1880-81 for Canada. It is thus reported to the Montreal Gazette; The paper described the various species of maple and other trees affording a sap capable of making sugar—the season, the conditions that favour or hinder success, the primitive methods, and those most approved in modern practice, and statistics from national and state censuses for a long period. The map shows that Vermont, and a broad extent of adjacent territory in the Province of Quebec, afforded the greatest amount of maple sugar; other sections of the country showing a high rate such as certain counties in Northern and South-western New York, the mountains of South-Western Pennsylvania, Northern Ohio, and the north-western part of the lower peninsula of Michigan. The highest rates of production in the world, are found in Portage and Georgia counties in Northern Ohio. Within three miles of Garrettsville, Ohio, there are 111 sugar camps, containing 86,380 trees, or an average of 778 trees each. The largest camp has 3,000 trees, and the smallest 200. In 1883 over 900 tons of maple sugar and 950,000 gallons of syrup were made on the "Western Reserve" in Ohio, the sugar selling at an average price of 10 cents per lb. and the syrup at 80 cents per gallon. The value of "forestry" there at least so far as relates to the maple is well understood, and as much care is taken of these trees as of their choicest fruit trees. In tapping, one three-eighths hole is made in each tree, tin buckets are used, and the most approved evaporators, made of tin or galvanized iron, are used, some being able to evaporate ten barrels in an hour. The secret of success consists in the greatest neatness, and boiling as soon as the sap can be gathered. Dr. Hough remarked that this was a business that allowed of vast development, and that with a choice article the market could scarcely be over-supplied. He mentioned his own experience on a small scale in Lowville, N.Y., where from about 64 trees he got about 300 pounds a year. The trees within his memory were less than 6 inches in diameter; now the smallest is about 20 inches, and the largest 28. We can only quote from his eleborate percentage tables the total results. In the United States the amount of sugar and syrup made (allowing 8 pounds to the gallon) amounted to the following:—In 1840, 33,508,809 lbs.; in 1866, 52,898,275 lbs; in 1870, 35,812,101 lbs., and in 1880, 50,944,475 lbs. In Canada 3,699,858 lbs. were reported in 1843 in the upper province. Since then it has been as follows:—

| | 1850-51. | 1860-61. |
|---|---|---|
| Ontario | 2,212,580 | 6,970,619 |
| Quebec | 6,057,532 | 7,334,147 |

THERE were forty-two coloured delegates in the Methodist General Conference, one Hindu, Ram Chandra Bose, one Eurasian, and missionaries from India, China and Italy. The coloured men made a fine appearance, some of them being able and interesting speakers.

WE believe the cause of the wonderful success of our Murray & Lanman's Florida Water may be found in the fact that the principal aim in its preparation has always been to give the simple natural perfume of flowers, without any chemical addition whatever, and to avoid, by all means, the great error of making a heavy, sickly, sweet perfume.

FRADULENT TRANSACTIONS.—There are many frauds perpetuated in medicine, and many advertised remedies worse than useless. Not so with Hagyard's Yellow Oil. It remains as ever the best internal and external medicine for all pain, soreness and injuries with which human flesh is afflicted.

THE National Republican Convention at Chicago opened for business on Tuesday. Mr. Lynch, a coloured delegate from Mississippi, was elected temporary chairman over Clayton by a small majority.

THE EFFECTS OF WHISKEY.—The effects of whiskey are always evil, and those who feed upon alcoholic stimulants, vainly endeavoring to cure coughs and consumption, but nurse a viper. Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam is a remedy that is always reliable for all throat, bronchial ad lung troubles, and never does harm to any one.

A NEW YORK merchant, who was found in the street on Monday night in a terribly injured condition, alleges that his wounds were inflicted by a policeman because he refused to move on. His injuries are expected to result fatally.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?—Scrofula is so called from the Latin scrofa, a pig, from the supposition that the disease came from eating swine's flesh. It is often inherited from parents, and leads to abscesses, ulcerous sores, debility, King's evil and consumption. The case of the Rev. Wm. Stout, of Wharton, who suffered 23 years from scrofulous abcesses, is one of the most remarkable on record. Burdock Blood Bitters cured him after the best medical skill had failed.

Pimples and Blotches.

Call at John McKee's drug store and get a package of McGregor and Parke's Carbolic Cerate. It is composed of vaseline carbolic acid and cerate, and has never failed to remove pimples, blotches, ulcerated sores, rough skin it cures when all others fail. Try it.

A New Principle.

The principle upon which Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor acts is entirely new. It does noes not sink deep into the flesh, thereby producing soreness, but acts directly upon the external covering of the corn, separates it from the under layer, removes the direct pressure from the pars, and at once effects a radical cure, without any pain or discomfort. Let those who are suffering from corns, yet sceptical of treatment, try it, and by the completeness of the cure they will be ready to recommend Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor to others.

Itching Piles—Symptoms and Cure.

The symptoms are moisture, like perspiration, intense itching, increased by scratching, very distressing, particularly at night, seems as if pin-worms were crawling above the parts affected. If allowed to continue very serious results may follow. "SWAYNE'S OINTMENT" is a pleasant, sure cure. Also for tetter, itch, salt rheum, scald head, erysipelas, barber's itch, blotches, all scaly, crusty skin diseases. Sent by mail for 50 cents; 3 boxes, $1.25 (in stamps) Adpress DR. # "MAY DEW"

The Great French Lotion for Beautifying the Face.

It conceals the evidence of age. One application will make the most stubbornly red and rough hands beautifully soft and white. Remember that "MAY DEW" is not a paint or powder that fills up the pores of the skin, and that is injurious to the skin, but a new and great discovery, a vegetable liquid, that causes the cheek to glow with health, the neck, arms and hands to rival the Lily in whiteness. Impossible to detect in the beauty it confers any artificial character. It cures Greasy Skin, Freckles, Wrinkles, Pimples, Black Heads, Crow's Feet, Blotches, Face Grubs, Sun Burn, Tan, Ringworms, Chapped Hands, Sore or Chapped Lips, Barber's Itch, Tetter, etc. It frees the pores, oil glands, and tubes from the injurious effects of powders and cosmetic washes. By its use all redness and roughness are prevented; it beautifies the skin, and will make it soft, smooth and white; imparting a delicious softness, producing a perfectly healthy, natural, and youthful appearance. The best face lotion that the world ever produced. We will send "A LARGE BOTTLE" to any address on receipt of price $1. When ordering mention this paper.

Daily Evening Review

THURSDAY, JUNE 5, 1884.

LOCAL NEWS

The Cricket Club.

The regular monthly meeting of the Cricket Club will be held on Thursday evening at 7.30, at the Oriental.

Eye, Ear and Throat.

Dr. Ryerson will be at the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, on Saturday, June 14, for consultation on Eye, Ear and Throat cases.

The Probabilities.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, counting from one o'clock this morning, as reported from the Toronto observatory, are as follows:—Light to moderate, variable winds, fine warm weather, and this refers to the whole of Canada.

C. E. T. S.

At the meeting of the St. Luke's Temperance Society held on Tuesday evening a good programme was provided for entertainment, in which the following took part:—Miss Orde Mr. G. J. Early, Miss Smith, and Mr. W. A. Kelsey. The Society purpose having an excursion some time during the latter end of the present month.

For Style, Quality and moderate prices, inspect the extensive range of GENTS' FURNISHINGS at Andrew McNeil.

Midway Picnic.

Those who attended the picnic held on former years under the auspices of the Ennismore Roman Catholic Church will be pleased to learn the date on which the picnic is to be held this year, namely, on Thursday, June 19th, midway between the Queen's Birthday and Dominion Day. It will be held on the Chemong Lake Park Grounds. The programme of sports will be similar to last year's, and ample preparations are being made to make this picnic as great a success as the previous ones. All who attend will be certain of a day of pleasure.

The A. C. A. Camps.

Outing and the Wheelman for April, in an account of the camp selected for the A. C. A. meet this year in the Thousand Islands, says:—"Last season the success of the Stony Lake (Canada) meet, which was characterized by good management and abundant hospitality on the part of the Canadians, led to the hope that the meet of '84 might occur upon the frontier. Many of the New Yorkers and New Englanders returning from Stony Lake, passed through the Thousand Islands and camped there en route, and a few remained some weeks and learning its charms urged the region as a future cruising centre. * * * The camp of '84 will be held upon Delaney's Point, within pistol shot of the national boundary line,—making it essentially an international affair."

A Baseless Slander.

Some Reform journals, with their usual disregard for truth or the reputation of honest men who may be politically opposed to them, have been calumniating Col. W. N. Kennedy, formerly of Peterborough but now of Winnipeg, and his new regiment, by falsely asserting that the Dominion authorities dared not trust them with arms, on account of their doubtful loyalty. We read in the Winnipeg Times:—

"Lt.-Col Kennedy has received an order from the militia authorities at Ottawa to obtain the arms and accoutrements necessary to equip the 90th Batt. of Rifles. The uniforms, which were delayed by the manufacturers, will also be here in a few days, and a big parade will be given on the 1st of July."

Journalistic.

The Hamilton Spectator celebrates its removal to its magnificent new premises by giving a full description of every department of its extensive business. It also has an interesting account of the history of the paper, including the proprietorship of Messrs. Thomas and Richard White, who did their share towards building up the Hamilton Spectator, as they did previously with the Peterborough REVIEW, and subsequently with the Montreal Gazette. We look upon the Spectator as holding a distinguished position among the few in the foremost rank of Canadian newspapers. There is no journal that has done more for the Conservative party, and consequently for the country at large, than the Spectator, with its intelligent and zealous but independent support of the Conservative policy.

COUNTY COURT.

The June Session—His Honor Judge Dean on the Bench.

GRAND JURY PRESENTMENT.

On Wednesday at about twelve o'clock the Grand Jury came into the Court Room and made the following presentment:—

We, the Grand Jurors at the present session, would beg to congratulate the County on the few cases that have come before us. We would further state that we have visited the gaol and found everything clean and orderly in every respect.

In common with Your Honor, and, as we believe, with the community at large, we desire to express our sincere sympathy for Judge Dennistoun in the sad bereavement which has lately befallen him.

JAMES MCKIBBIN,
Foreman.

HIS HONOR, in reply to the presentment, said that he believed the country was getting better—that the amount of crime committed was diminishing—and by the time that some of the younger members of the bar present were as old and venerable as himself and the County Attorney there would be none at all. The value of a Court of Justice should not be judged alone by the number of convictions, as much crime was prevented by the knowledge that punishment would follow. He again expressed his sympathy with the honored Judge of this County in his affliction, and paid a tribute to the abilities and character of the late R. H. Dennistoun. The Grand Jury were then discharged from attendance on the Court.

DELINE VS. RUTHERFORD.—An action on account, the amount being disputed. Verdict for $148 and costs.—Mr. C. W. Sawers for plaintiff and Messrs. Hatton & Wood for defendant.

TAYLOR VS. PETERBOROUGH PULP CO.—Action of replevin to recover possession of a safe. The plaintiffs had sold the safe to one Richardson, on the instalment plan, from whom it was purchased by Usborne & Co. The safe was sold by the Sheriff under execution to the defendants. The question was whether a landlord's notice to a sheriff was sufficient to constitute the sheriff a bailiff of the landlord to sell goods of a stranger on the premises. Judgment reserved.—Mr. C. W. Sawers for plaintiffs, and Messrs. Poussette & Roger for defendants.

ST. CHARLES VS. DALY.—An action of replevin to recover possession of an omnibus which the plaintiff claimed as his. The plaintiff bought the 'bus from the former proprietors of the Grand Central Hotel, believing that they owned it, and paid for it. In the course of a few weeks the plaintiff claimed the 'bus, and claimed that it had only been rented. The case turned on some points of law. Judgment reserved.—Mr. E. H. D. Hall for plaintiff and Messrs. Dumble & Henry for defendant.

QUEEN VS. RITCHIE. — Alexander Ritchie pleaded not guilty to a charge of resisting a constable, but was found guilty. He was also charged with assaulting, his wife and with assaulting Joseph Megaby, to which charges he pleaded guilty. He was sentenced to imprisonment in gaol for one year.—Mr. C. A. Weller, County Attorney, for the prosecution, and Mr. J. O'Meara for the prisoner.

QUEEN VS. CRONAN.—John Cronan was tried on a charge of stealing two pigs, the property of Joshua Saunders. Mr. C. A. Weller appeared for the prosecution and Mr. J. O'Meara for the prisoner. The evidence for the defence showed that Cronan had bought the pigs claimed by Saunders from Mr. G. W. Hall, and that he had them before Saunders lost his. The Judge directed the jury to find a verdict of not guilty, which they did without leaving their seats. The Judge, is discharging the prisoner, said that not a shadow of suspicion rested on his character, and that it was a case of "mistaken identity," and remarked that when a person claimed property where there was a liability of a mistake it would be much better to bring a civil suit.

LIGHTBOUR VS. MILBURN.—Stands, at the request of defence.—Mr. E. H. D. Hall for plaintiff, and Mr. R. E. Wood for defendant.

LOCHART VS. BRADBURN.—Action on account. Verdict for plaintiff for $149.80. — Messrs. Dumble & Henry for plaintiffs, and Mr. G. Edmison for defendant.

MORRISON VS. SCRIBNER.—Action on promissory note. Verdict for plaintiff for $224.29.—Messrs. Dumble & Henry for plaintiff.

CULLEN VS. SCRIBNER.—Action on promissory note. Verdict for $222.54 for plaintiff.—Messrs. Dumble & Henry for plaintiff.

MORRISON VS. CROUGH.—Action for replevin. Verdict for plaintiff by consent.—Messrs. Dumble & Henry for plaintiff, and Mr. J. O'Meara for defendant.

RUTHERFORD VS. KERR.—This case stands till next court, as the parties were not ready.—Mr. E. B. Edwards for plaintiff, and Mr. W. Curry, of Millbrook, for defendant.

Bass' English Ale.

Another large shipment of Bass' Ale, October brewing, just arrived at W. Chamberlain's Restaurant. Imported direct.

A Speedy Clearance.

During the month of June, Messrs. Fairweather & Co. will offer their large stock of dry goods, millinery, house furnishings, &c., for sale at greatly reduced prices, in order to effect a speedy clearance of the whole stock. The entire stock will be sold without reserve, and the sale will therefore afford a good opportunity to purchase goods cheaply.

P. B. C.

A regatta under the auspices of the Peterborough Boating Club will be held on the Little Lake on the evening of Thursday, June 19th. Four four-oared crews are entered, composed as follows:—J. Hawkins, stroke, R. Tate, R. W. Muncaster and T. McNaughton; J. Fanning, stroke, J. Stone, F. Karch and F. Henry; V. Eastwood, stroke, W. Matthews, J. Dolan and Peter Henry; and M. Cottingham, stroke, W. Lech, Geo. Schofield and James Sheehy. A meeting of the club will be held this evening.

Just opened out this day, an extensive range of Nobby Ties, just the thing for the present season. Andrew McNeil's.

Open-Air Music.

The City Band will give an open-air concert on the Market Square to-morrow evening.

Fresh Fish.

Trout, White Fish, Maskinonge, Black Bass and Finnan Haddies fresh at Carton Bros. grocery.

Bodega.

Fine Spanish wines, Ports and Sherries drawn from the wood, at William Chamberlain's, Restaurant.

Summer Resort.

Mr. A. D. Faucher is having the hotel at Hale's Bridge fitted up and furnished for a summer hotel. It will be a fine hotel when the work is completed, which will be in a few days.

The Unfortunate Brakeman.

The funeral of Mr. John Clegg, the brakeman who was killed by the accident on Wednesday, took place to-day. The body was taken to the Centreville station for interment.

Station Burned.

By telephone from Lindsay we learn that the old Victoria Junction station at that town was burned on Wednesday night. The fire took place at 10 o'clock. No business had been done at this station for some time.

Cricket.

An interesting cricket match is to be played to-morrow (Friday) on the Ashburnham Grounds, between the Cobourg and Peterborough Clubs. The Cobourg team is the best on the frontier between Toronto and Montreal, and a good day's play may be expected. Wickets pitched at 10 o'clock.

Tea Meeting.

A very pleasant and successful tea meeting and apron sale was held in the Town Hall, Ashburnham, on Wednesday afternoon and evening, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Luke's Church. There was a very good attendance at the sale, which commenced at 4 o'clock, and a large number sat down to a well supplied table at 6 o'clock. The articles sold were made by the ladies, and were a good evidence of their industry, taste and desire to assist the church. A very pleasant evening was spent by those who attended, and the financial result was good.

Pencil Points.

—One tramp in the cells last night.

—The Silver Star Base Ball Club has received a challenge from the Toronto Club.

—Lieut. Pengelly, of Campbellford, was at the Saved Army meeting on Wednesday night. One prisoner of war was secured.

—The excursionists from Beaverton, &c., left the Midland station on the return trip at six o'clock on Wednesday evening.

—Mr. G. W. Morgan has had a telephone placed in his drug store, and his store is now connected with the telephone system.

—The police on Wednesday night impounded two cows and a horse. The latter (tell it not in No. 3!) belonged to a Councillor, an ardent advocate of the Cow By-law.

—A junior twelve of the Lacrosse Club went to Hastings on the 2 o'clock train to play a match with the club of that village.

The Toronto Murder.

The inquest on the death of Samuel Curr was continued before Coroner Arthur Jukes Johnson on Tuesday. No evidence of any very conclusive character was elicited. Two witnesses were examined at length, both going to show that the deceased had applied for admittance to 118 Edward street at an early hour on the morning of his decease; that there had been an altercation between him and Mrs. Jeffrey, the proprietress; and that, after being ordered away by the latter, he had left. Whether or not it was during this altercation that the death-blow was received was not determined. The inquest was postponed till Friday evening.

John C. Eno.

John C. Eno was taken before the Magistrate at Quebec on Tuesday morning on the second warrant, but neither side being ready to proceed the case was adjourned until this morning, Eno still remaining at the hotel in charge of an officer. An application was made on Tuesday in Montreal, to the Court of Queen's Bench on an order to examine the depositions on which the warrant of arrest was granted, but permission was refused. Legal opinion is very strong that Eno cannot be extradited.—Mail.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

The Statute to be Rigidly Enforced—Slaughter Houses and Hogs Must Go.

The second meeting of The Board of Health was held on Thursday evening, June 5th. There were present—Mr. Andrew McNeil, Chairman, and Messrs. Stapleton, Allen, Rutherford, Paterson, Green and Hartley. Dr. Clarke and constables Adams and Pidgeon were also present.

A communication from P. Connal & Co., complaining of a nuisance in the rear of their premises, was received and referred to the Sanitary Inspectors, they to report to the Medical Health Officer.

THE OFFICERS.

The Secretary reported that the Council had appointed Dr. Clarke Medical Health Officer at a salary of $200, and Constables Adams and Pidgeon as Sanitary Inspectors at $50 each, and also that the Secretary had been instructed to procure the necessary blanks, etc.

SLAUGHTER HOUSE AND HOGS.

Mr. RUTHERFORD moved, seconded by Mr. HARTLEY.—That the Sanitary Inspectors report at the next meeting regarding the condition of all the slaughter houses in the town, and take steps to enforce the clause regarding pigs.—Carried.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

Mr. RUTHERFORD moved, Seconded by Mr. PATERSON,—That the Secretary get out bills giving notice to the Public that the Health Act is to be strictly enforced on and after the 16th of June.—Carried.

THE OFFICER'S SUPPLIES.

Mr. RUTHERFORD moved, seconded by Mr. GREEN,—That the Medical Health Officer be supplied with the necessary blanks, forms, placards and books, for the proper discharge of his duties.—Carried.

DISPOSAL OF REFUSE.

Mr. PATERSON moved, seconded by Mr. ALLEN.—That the Inspector secure as soon as possible a suitable place for the disposal of refuse.—Carried.

The Board adjourned to meet again at the call of the Chairman.

Fresh Fish.

Trout, White Fish, Maskinonge, Black Bass and Finnan Haddies fresh at Carton Bros. grocery.

The Probabilities.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, counting from one o'clock this morning, as reported from the Toronto observatory, are as follows:—Light to moderate winds, generally fair, continued warm weather.

Idyl Wild Hunting Lodge.

This beautiful summer resort on Rice Lake has been thoroughly renovated; the rooms supplied with new furniture, spring matrasses on all the beds, and everything to enable the weary fisherman to indulge in a good night's rest. It is placed under the able management of Mr. and Mrs. Franh Arkels, both of whom have had considerable experience in hotel business. The bar will be superintended by the celebrated lacrosse player Dick Kelly, who will serve his friends with the best of liquid refreshments. A daily boat will run from Peterborough allowing those desirous of a few hours of good fishing to return the same day. Parties from Cobourg and along the line of the line of the Grand Trunk will reach these great fishing grounds via Cobourg railway. As these waters have been protected for several years the lake is full of fish. Arrangements are being made for a grand celebration on the 1st July, when cups will be offered for the champion scullers and paddlers. A $200 cup will be competed for by lacrosse clubs, to be called the Idyl Wild Champion Lacrosse Cup. The club winning it three times to hold it. A ball will be held in the pavillion. Arrangements will be made from all points to carry passengers at one fare.

WHAT IS A BILLIARD TABLE?

A Case Similar to, Yet Different from, a Recent Peterborough Case.

The Montreal Witness says that a curious case came before the Recorder yesterday afternoon. An execution had been made at the instance of the city on the goods of John Vincellette, hotelkeeper, St. Joseph street, for not taking out a license for a billiard table, which he kept on his premises, and Mr. Vincellette objected to the seizure. Mr. Vincellette's case was that the table in question was not a billiard, but a pool table, and that no license was necessary. Mr. Ehler, Assistant City Attorney, appeared for the Corporation, claimed that there was no difference in the tables as to name, but merely in the arrangement between the parties using the table, as to the game they were going to play. Also the Act under which the Corporation were authorized to pass the by-law mentioned, "billiard or any other table," so that in any case Mr. Vincellette was entitled to take out a license. Mr. Ethier, agent for Messrs. Samuel May & Co., billiard table manufacturers, gave evidence in support of the Corporation, stating that "billiard" was the term for all such tables. Other experts also gave similar evidence. His honor took the case en delibere.

A Narrow Escape.

The servant girl of Mrs. J. Z. Rogers had narrow escape of her life this morning. While lighting the fire, the flames somehow came in contact with her dress and she was very severely burned. Her cries aroused the other inmates and they smothered the flames with blankets. Though suffering considerably she is in no danger.

New Ocean Steamer.

The new ocean steamer America, of the National Line, has made her first trip. We were shown a telegram received by Mr. C. Cameron, agent for the line, stating that the trip from Liverpool to New York was made in six days, fifteen hours and forty-one minutes. She was in charge of Capt. Grace, who enjoys the distinction of having made one hundred round voyages in one steamer without experiencing a casuality.

The Late Mr. R. H. Dennistoun.

A large number of people took the opportunity on Thursday afternoon of showing their esteem for the late Mr. R. H. Dennistoun and their respect for his family and relatives by attending his funeral. The members of the Peterborough Legal Society were present in a body to do honour to the deceased, who had himself belonged to that association. From the many sentiments of sorrow and condolence expressed, it was evident that the loss of Mr. Dennistoun is one that will be long enduring and far reaching.

Pencil Points.

—Two tramps in the cells last night.

—A Hallelujah wedding is talked of in Saved Army circles.

—The City Band will give an open-air concert on the Market Square to-night.

—A cricket match is being played on the Ashburnham Cricket Ground to-day by the Peterborough and Cobourg clubs.

—Capt. Munt and a number of soldiers of the Saved Army go to Lakefield to-night to bid farewell to Mr. R. Strickland.

—Messrs. Hugh Ryan and Hugh D. Lumsden arrived on Thursday night from the west. They proceeded east on the Ontario & Quebec this morning, accompanied by Mr. J. H. Barber.

Among the Places of Interest.

Conspicuous among the places of interest which the rising city of Peterborough can boast of is the "Golden Lion" Dry Goods Store. Situated in the centre and on the best side of George street, and noted for formidably prominent signs, strangers can hardly fail to have their attention drawn to this the finest and most eligible business stand in the "Plate Glass City." It is within easy access to the principal hotels, banks and Post Office, and only one block away from the Market Square. There is something business-like about the place which cannot fail to leave an impression on passers-by and tempt customers inside. With large plate glass show windows, and elegant goods to adorn them, and a massive golden lion sign over the door, Messrs. Fair, VanEvery & Co. are doubtless among the best known dry goods merchants in the Midland district.—Notes from a Traveller.

Can't Be Beaten.

It is a fact that Nerviline cannot be surpassed by any combination for the relief of pain. The reason is a good one. Nerviline contains the best, most powerful, and the latest discovered remedies. It is a magic pain cure. Rheumatism, stiff neck, cramps, neuralgia, colic, in fact all pain, internal, external, and local, are subdued in a few minutes. Go at once to Ormond & Walsh's drug store and get a trial bottle. It will only cost you 10 cents, and you can at a small cost test the great pain cure, Polson's Nerviline. Large bottles only 25 cts.

Itching Piles—Symptoms and Cure.

The symptoms are moisture, like perspiration, intense itching, increased by scratching, very distressing, particularly at night, seems as if pin-worms were crawling above the parts affected. If allowed to continue very serious results may follow. "SWAYNE'S OINTMENT" is a pleasant, sure cure. Ontario's Health.

We take from the official report of th health of Ontario for the week ending Saturday, May 24th, the following:—An examination of the district reports, as well as the total number of diseases reported, shows that there has been a noticeable falling off in many of so-called acute diseases. This, with the continuance to a considerable extent of diseases of a more chronic character, makes of course the percentage of prevalence of the latter high. We see, for instance, anæmia and neuralgia appearing in each of the ten districts, the interest of their proximity in area of prevalence being made greater by the close relationships of the two in regard to general debility as promoting both. The noticeable prevalence of smallpox in epidemic form in England, and especially in the Hackney district of London, causes with reason much apprehension lest it should become prevalent in Canada, introduced, as it has been in a number of instances, since the influx of immigrants began. The existence of it in one or two neighborhoods at present ought to make the importance of thorough vaccination more evident to all persons, professional and non-professional, of the community. All known cases at present in existence in this Province are strictly isolated. The six most prevalent diseases in the district in which Peterborough is included are as follows:—Neuralgia 9.5, mumps 9.5, anæmia 7.7, consumption 6.8, pneumonia 6.8, bronchitis 6.

SPEAKERS AND SPEAKERS.

THE Globe should undoubtedly be an authority on the subject of purchasing Speakers. Besides other exceptional means of information, it is the chief organ of a party that has made the practice of buying Speakers a political device to which it always resorts. It supported Messrs. Blake and Mackenzie, when they purchased Speaker Scott, among others whose corruption was necessary for the overthrow of Mr. J. Sandfield Macdonald. It supported Messrs. Mackenzie and Blake when they hired Speaker Anglin with the money of the people of Canada, under the false pretence that it was for work which he did not and could not do, but in reality to pay him for his political support; it even supported these leaders when they disgraced themselves and the House by forcing Speaker Anglin back into the chair after he has been turned out of the House on account of this corruption. It supported Mr. Joly when he hired Speaker Turcotte, with his casting vote as the only available majority to keep a usurping Administration in power. Since Confederation no Reform Administration has been founded for the Dominion or either of its two most important Provinces, without the purchase of a Speaker being part of the programme.

It is very evident then that the Globe should be an "expert" on the subject of hired Speakers. But there is always the danger with "experts" that they acquire a tendency to see causes of suspicion where there is really no ground for it, as the keeper of a mad-house is inclined to find a trace of insanity in everybody. In the same way the Globe is naturally hardly able to conceive the idea of a Speaker who is not venal. With this monomania urging it on, the Globe some time ago slandered Speaker Kirkpatrick by accusing him of corruption because a manufacturing company with which he had the enterprise to connect himself, was doing some work for the Government as the lowest tenderer, a slander which was condemned even by Reformers who knew the facts. And now the Globe is again abusing Speaker Kirkpatrick with scurilous language, talking of penitentiaries and so forth, because that gentleman has connected himself with another company to promote the progress of Canada.

If Mr. Kirkpatrick were a Speaker of the venal type, with which alone the Globe is intimately acquainted, he would deserve the contempt of the country, and it would be no good answer to charges against him, that others had been as bad; but Mr. Kirkpatrick is an honorable and enterprising gentleman, a pure and impartial Speaker, as is allowed by every honest Reformer. We point out the venality of Globe Speakers, not in order to draw any comparison, but to show that the fact of the Globe having venal Speakers on the brain is the cause of its insane and unfounded attacks upon the Canadian First Commoner. The only other possible explanation is that the Globe desires to drag him down to its own debased level, and wishing to be charitable, we prefer the theory of monomania and hallucination.

Grand Orange Lodge.

At the session of the Grand Orange Lodge of British North America, in London, on Wenesday, the following officers were elected:—

Col. Middleton's Aide-de-Camp.

OTTAWA, June 4.—It is said that Lieut. H. E. Wise, of the Scottish Rifles, will be appointed aide-de-camp to Col. Middleton, who receives the local rank of Major-General upon his arrival in Canada to assume the command of the Canadian militia. Lieut. Wise is a son of Mr. F. A. Wise, of this city.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

IMPROVING ITS FOUNDER.

Our Montreal contemporary should remember that one of the Globe's present objects in life is to get rid as fast as possible of all knowledge and memory of George Brown.—Mail.

AN INIQUITOUS JOB.

The iniquity of the Coe job is so apparent that some even of the Grit organs, unable to condone it, have spoken out in condemnation of it. The Renfrew Mercury, a staunch supporter of the Mowat Government, and the editor of which was long a resident of Madoc, has the following significant comments upon it.—Belleville Intelligencer.

DISAPPOINTED INDEED.

Everyone will acknowledge that there is a feeling of "disappointment and anxiety," but it is among the members of the Reform party. They are disappointed at not getting into power before this, and they are anxious to know whether there is any chance of there being able to do so again.—Mail.

BITTER POLITICIANS.

There can be little doubt that the general feeling of the people of Manitoba is in favor of accepting the concessions made by the Dominion Government, though there is naturally some dissension of opinion as to whether the condition making the settlement a final one should not be wiped out. Those who agree with Mr. Greenway and his organ in this city in describing the Government's reply to our demands "an insult" are very few in numbers and are nearly all to be found within the ranks of bitter Grit politicians.—Winnipeg Times.

IT TURNED OUT TRUE.

What Sir John Macdonald Told the Kingston Deputation Has Come to Pass.

The Kingston News says:

"When the Kingston deputation waited on Sir John Macdonald two weeks ago, in relation to the removal of the canal tolls, he stated that when the tolls were removed on a former occasion the ocean rates were increased, so that the desired effect was not obtained. He feared that if the Government granted the request of the deputation the steamship owners would adopt the same course they did in the past. The following statement of a leading Montreal grain shipper, as printed in the Witness, proves that Sir John's fears have been realized:—'Yesterday it was announced that the tolls had been reduced one half, and that the wharfage dues on grain in the harbour were to be reduced in order to enable the St. Lawrence route to compete with the Erie route for the grain traffic between the west and Europe. And what is the result of this reduction? The simple result is that to-day when we asked freight brokers and agents for ocean rates we find that they have immediately advanced them, thus doing away completely with the advantage which the reduction on inland freight rates was to secure the Canadian route. Yesterday the rate from Montreal to Liverpool was one shilling and sixpence per quarter, and to-day the steamship agents are demanding two shillings. You see how it is; it is a game of grab. There is no reason at all, so far as I know, why rates should advance. The rate from New York to Liverpool is three-half-pence per bushel, or just one shilling per quarter, or sixpence cheaper than via Montreal, and yet to-day the Montreal steamship companies have put up rates sixpence more, and they are now just double the New York rate. That is the way it works.'"

OUR BANDS.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—In answer to Bandmaster Miller's letter of the 3rd inst., in reference to the music in the park, there are one or two things in which I quite agree with Mr. Miller, viz., that some one should appear before the County Council and ask permission for the park being thrown open to the public, and also that sufficient light by some means be given to the members to read music.

Then Mr. M. goes on to say that it is to be expected that the newly-organized City Band will also do for the public what the F. B. B. are willing do, viz., play on a certain night every week, as it is a town institution. To this we don't object, but Mr. M. ought not to forget that we are not receiving the same benefit as the F. B. B., as we have got to find our own hall, light, &c., with the only guarantee of $50 per year, when the F. B. B. has everything in that shape free of charge, with a guarantee of $100 from the Town Council, and $75 from the Government, and still not satisfied, but asking for $50 more from the Town Council. Now, Mr. Miller, as all Englishmen are noted to be, is hoggish; remember there are more Englishmen bandmen in town than you, and to be put on an equal footing you ought to play twice to our once; but we won't ask it.

In reference to Mr. M.'s concluding remarks, I myself was offered a large salary by the same party, viz., a cranky book agent, but, like Mr. Miller and Mowat, I said no. In conclusion I may say it is our intention to play on the market square to-night, and either in the park or beside the Post-office some night next week, and continue doing so as long as the weather permits. I won't promise you better music than ever you had, but we will do our best. Allow me, Mr. Editor, on behalf of the members of the City Band, to return our sincere thanks to the public of Peterborough and neighborhood for their liberal and generous patronage since our commencement.

Signed on behalf of the City Band,
J. T. BRYDON,
Secretary.

Peterborough, June 6.

NORTH-WEST NOTES.

VALUABLE SETTLERS FOR REGINA.—Mr. Edward Fisher, a retired English gentleman, of London, with his wife, five children and two servants arrived to-day by the Port Arthur train. They will spend a day in Winnipeg, and proceed to their new home in Assiniboia. Mr. Fisher brings with him nine tons of freight, consisting of household effects, etc. He is a gentlemen of large means and will be a valuable acquisition to the North-West. This is the first of a number of wealthy old country families which will be settled in the North-West this year, through the instrumentality of Mr. G. R. Pugsley, who during his eight months' stay in England did good work for Canada.

BELLEVILLE.

FERRY BURNED.—The Ferry boat Prince Edward, owned by Capt. John Jellet, which plied between Belleville and Prince Edward County, was burned on Tuesday night. She was insured for $5,000 and was valued at $6,000.

Exportation of Cattle.

The export of live cattle from Canada to England assumed unusually large proportions last month. Twenty-five steamers left the port of Montreal carrying 9,114 head of cattle, of which one-half went to Liverpool and the remainder to Glasgow, London and Bristol. In 1877 the shipments for the whole year amounted only to 6,940 head, or considerably less than that of last month.—Mail.

Firing into a Court House.

BALTIMORE, June 1.—Three shots were fired through the window of the Court of Common pleas, at Baltimore on Saturday. Judge Fisher was on the bench, and Hon. Wm. Pinkney Whyte and Col. Frank Ward were trying a case. The police are investigating.

A Note of Warning to Suffering Hunanity.

We feel that we would be wanting in the duty that we owe to humanity if we did not sound a note of warning in regard to the use of mercury and other poisonous minerals in the treatment of blood and skin diseases. If the reader could see the horrible suffering, the awful wrecks of human health and happiness, shown by our correspondence with those who have been dosed with these mineral poisons, he would shudder with horror. Arsenic, mercury, antimony, and iodide of potassium, are some of the remedies most ordinarily used for these diseases, and they are all poison. Do not take these poisons. They might dry up your disease for a few days, but it will surely return, and with it you will have mercurial rheumatism, which may bring you years of torture. Shaker Blood Syrup will invigorate you and build you up, and force all poison out through the pores of your skin, and cure you sound and well.

SHAKER BLOOD SYRUP

cures completely scrofula, syphilis, rheumatism, cancer, catarrh, and skin and blood diseases of every description. Sold everywhere, $1 a bottle, or six for $5.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN Hair Renewer.

Seldom does a popular remedy win such a strong hold upon the public confidence as has HALL'S HAIR RENEWER. The cases in which it has accomplished a complete restoration of color to the hair, and vigorous health to the scalp, are innumerable.

Old people like it for its wonderful power to restore to their whitening locks their original color and beauty. Middle-aged people like it because it prevents them from getting bald, keeps dandruff away, and makes the hair grow thick and strong. Young ladies like it as a dressing because it gives the hair a beautiful glossy lustre, and enables them to dress it in whatever form they wish. Thus it is the favorite of all, and it has become so simply because it disappoints no one.

CHAPTER XIII CONTINUED.

Olga Neville was twenty-two, tall, finely formed, rather handsome, with unusually bright, reddish, hazel eyes, and a profusion of tawny hair, which nine persons in ten would unhesitatingly have pronounced red, but which she persistently asserted was of exactly the classic shade of ruddy gold that the Borgia gave to Bembo. Her features were large and somewhat irregular in contour, but her complexion was brilliant, her carriage very graceful, and though one might safely predict that at some distant day she would prove "fair, fat and forty," her full figure had not yet transgressed the laws of symmetry.

As the door of the sitting-room closed she put her large white hands on her mother's shoulders, shook her a little, and kissed her on the cheek.

"Do, Mamma, let us have fair play, or I shall desert to the enemy. It was not right to open your batteries on that little thing before she got well into position and established her line.

"I wish, Olga, that you were a better judge of common sense, and of the courtesy due to my opinions. I can tell you we are likely to see trouble enough with this high-tempered girl added to the family circle."

"Why, she has not Lucretia-coloured tresses, like my own lovely spun-gold? I thought her hair looked very black."

"I will warrant it is not half as black as her disposition. She looked absolutely diabolical when she pretended to march out into the world, playing the role of injured, persecuted innocence."

"Now, Mamma! She is decidedly the prettiest piece of diabolism I ever saw. Elliot, what do you think of her?"

"That some day she will be a most astonishing beauty. Can you recollect that lovely green and white cameo pin set with diamonds that Tiffany had last spring? Ned Bartlett bought it for his wife the day they started to Saratoga. Well, this girl is exactly like that exquisite white cameo head. Olga, what are you laughing at?"

"I am anticipating the sport in store for me when her will and Erle Palma's come in conflict. Won't the sparks fly! We shall have a domestic shower of meteors to enliven our daily dull routine!"

"Now, Mamma, if you do not hoist a white flag, as far as that poor girl is concerned, I shall certainly ask your wary step-son to give her a sprig of phryxa from Mount Brixaba. Do you understand, Elliott?"

"Of course not. I rarely no understand you when you begin your spiteful challenges. Now, Olga, I always preserve an unarmed neutrality, so do let me alone."

"Olga, you vex me beyond endurance. Put on your furs at once; it is time to go to the Studio. Elliott, will you ride down with us and look at the portrait?"

The trunks had been brought up, and after lowering the curtain of the window that looked down on the beautiful Avenue, Hattie said:—

"Will you have tea, coffee or chocolate?"

"Neither, I thank you."

"Have you had any breakfast?"

"I do not want any."

"It is no trouble, Miss, to get what you like."

Regina only shook her head and proceeded to take off her hat and wrappings.

"Are you an orphan?" queried Hattie, her heart warming towards a stranger who avoided giving trouble.

"No, but my mother is in—is too far for me to go to her."

"Then you ar'n't here on charity?"

"Charity! No, indeed! Mr. Palma is my guardian until I go to my mother."

"Well, Miss, try to be contented. Miss Olga has a kinder heart than her mother, and though she has a bitter tongue and rough ways she will befriend you."

Her heart was heavy, her head ached; her soul rose in rebellion against the cold selfishness and discourtesy that had characterized her reception by the inmates of her guardian's house.

From the thought of Mr. Palma's return she could borrow no pleasant auguries, rather additional gloom and apprehension; and his absence had really been the sole redeeming circumstance that marked her arrival in New York.

There came a quick low tap at the door, but she neither heard nor heeded it, and started when a warm hand removed those that covered her face.

"Just as I expected, you are having a good cry all to yourself. No—your eyes are dry and bright as stars. I daresay you have set us all down as a family of brutes; as more cruel than the Piutes or Modocs—as stony-hearted as Solomon, when he ordered the poor little baby to be cut in half and divided between its mothers. But there is so little justice left in the world, that I imagine each individual would do well to contribute a moiety to the awful slender public stock. Suppose you pay tithes to the extent of counting me out of this nest of prosecutors? Thank heaven! I am not a Palma! My soul does not work like the piston of a steam-engine—is not regulated by a gauge-cock and safety valve to prevent all explosions—to keep the even, steady, decorous, profitable tenor of its sternly politic way. I am a Neville. I am simply Olga Neville, almost twenty-three, and quite willing to help you if possible. Shall we enter into an alliance—offensive and defensive?"

Looking up into her face, Regina wondered how far she might trust that apparently frank open countenance and Olga smiled and added:

"You are a cunning fledgling, not to be caught with chaff. Have they sent you anything to eat?"

"I declined having anything. My head aches."

"Then do as I tell you, and you will soon feel relieved. There is a bathroom on this floor. Ring for Hattie, and tell her you want a good hot bath. When you have taken it, lie down and go to sleep. One word before I go. Do not try to be hard on Mamma. Poor Mamma! she married among these Palmas, and very soon from force of habit, and association, she grew politic, cautious—finally she also froze—and has never quite thawed again. Take your bath and go to sleep—and dream good-natured things about Mamma."

She nodded, smiled pleasantly, and glided away as noiselessly as she came, leaving Regina perplexed, and nowise encouraged with reference to the stern cold character of her guardian.

CHAPTER XIV.

Led by poppy-wreathed wands, through those fabled ivory gates that open into the enchanted realms of dreams, the weary girl forgot her woes and found blessed re-union with the absent dear ones, whose loss had so beclouded the morning of her life.

When after many hours she awoke, it was night. A faint light trembled in one of the globes of the gas chandelier, and a blanket had been laid over her. Starting up, she saw a figure sitting at the window, apparently watching what passed on in the street below.

"I hope you feel refreshed. I can testify that you have slept as soundly as the youths whom Decius put to bed some time since near Ephesus."

Olga rose, turned on the gas that flamed up instantly, and showed her elaborately dress in evening toilette. Her shoulders and arms—rounded and pearly white—were bare save the shining tracery of jewels in necklace and bracelets, and in the long train of blue silk that flowed over the carpet, she looked even taller than in the morning walking suit.

As Regina gazed admiringly at her, Olga came closer, and stood under the gaslight.

"A penny for your thoughts! Am I handsome? Somebody says only 'only fools and children tell the truth.' Tell me Regina, don't you feel inclined to fall at my feet and worship me?"

"Not in the least. But I do think you are very handsome, and your dress is quite lovely. Are you going to a party or a ball?"

"To a 'Reception,' where the people will be crowded like sardines, where my puffs will be mashed as flat as buckwheat cakes, and my train will go home with various gentlemen, clinging in scraps to their boot-heels!"

"Do you not enjoy going into society?"

"Cela depend! You are an unsophisticated little package of innocent rusticity, and have yet to learn:

"Society is now one polished horde,
Formed of two mighty tribes,
The Bores, the Bored!"

"Yes, of course; I know it was a brazen image, heated red hot, in whose arms children were placed by idolatrous heathen parents."

"No such thing! that is a foolish obsolete Rabbinical myth. Hearken to the solemn truth that underlies that fable; Moloch reigns here, in far more pomp and splendour than the Ammonites ever dreamed of. Crowned and sceptred, he is now called 'Wealth and Fashion,' holds daily festivals and nightly orgies, where salads, boned turkeys, charlotte russe, creams, ices, champagne-julep, and persicot call the multitude to worship; and there while the stirring notes of Strauss ring above the sighs and groans of the heroic victims, fathers and mothers bring their sons and daughters bravely decked in broadcloth and satin, white kid and diamonds, and offer them in sacrifice; and Moloch clasps, scorches, blackens all! Wide wonderful blue eyes—how shocked you look!"

Olga laughed lightly, shook out the fringed ends of her broad white silk sash, and took a rapid glance in the mirror of the bureau, to see the effect.

"Regina, don't begin city life by a system of starvation that would do infinite credit to a Thebaid anchorite. Eat abundantly. Take generous care of your body, for spiritual famine is inevitably ahead of you. Yonder on the table, carefully covered, is your dinner. Do you hear that bell? It is a signal to attend the festival of Milcom.—Oh Mammon! behold I come."

She moved toward the door and said from the threshold:

"I say unto you—eat. Good night."

TREE PLANTING.

Following the example of some of the American States, the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec have severally designated a day, in the spring of each year, called Arbor Day, for tree-planting. There is of course no particular day in the year that is best for the transplanting of every kind of tree. All trees will grow best when they are beginning to bud—when they are in the full vigor of life—and different trees reach this stage at times that vary as much as two or three weeks. Any Arbor Day which the legislature may suggest is not, therefore, the best day for transplanting every kind of tree; it may be late for some, suitable for others and early for such as bud latest. This fact should be borne in mind in tree planting. It is well to designate a day arbor day, for it calls attention to a work which it is desirable to do. Nevertheless the work should be done at the time most suitable for it. A tree transplanted in full leaf would almost certainly die; the evaporation through the leaves being more than the roots, in their new home, would be likely to be able to supply. Let arbor day be observed, by all means, but let not other days which will be more suitable for the planting of some trees be neglected. The main use of an Arbor Day is the tendency it has as a reminder of the performance of a duty which might not otherwise be thought of. Quebec made a good start last year; Ontario depended too much upon the unaided letter of the law. But we shall doubtless learn to do these things with the aid of Mr. Phipps, in the best way, in time. After the trees have been planted, their growth may depend entirely on their being watered, for a while, the first season, especially if the soil and season be dry.

Some of the American States try to interest school children in tree-planting; an achievement which might seem to be accomplished, when it was not, by the interest they took in the inevitable holiday. If children could be taught to respect trees, so far as not wantonly or thoughtlessly to injure them, a great point would be gained; for next to drought, if not more than drought, the street urchin, as an enemy to trees without malice in his heart, is to be feared.

One of the most interesting things in connection with tree planting, is the extension by artificial means, of the natural range of the growth of trees. The change is generally to a colder and more severe climate. In Toronto, three kinds of magnolias are grown in the open air, one of which will attain a height of some 40 feet. This is exclusive of the Liriodendron, which is a native though seldom seen in its wild state, much west of Hamilton; occasionally it is to be found near the southern corner of Georgian Bay. The introduction of rare kinds is generally a slow process. Magnolias have been grown in Toronto, for some thirty years; yet so seldom are they seen that the newspapers but last year, spoke of one, on College street, as if it had been the first of its kind. The rarest tree grown here is, perhaps, the Gingo tree (Salisburia adi antifolio) of which it is doubtful if there be, out of doors, more than one specimen; yet that this native of China and Japan, which is never seen in Europe, we believe, south of the Mediterranean, thrives here, is a fact to be borne in mind. The aristolochia has be found difficult to reproduce; all attempts in hot-houses, have so far as we know, failed; yet accident has given us proof that it can be put into a condition to germinate and has germinated, after being a whole winter under ice. The seeds fell on a spot on which every winter, ice, from melting snow and falling rain, forms to the depth of several inches. Having been under this ice in the winter of 1883-4, some seeds germinated, and the plants are now in the possession of the writer; one plant of this native of the south was allowed to remain under ice, a second winter, and it commences the spring in perfectly healthy state. The Custard Apple grows naturally as far north as Niagara, and its artificial reproduction here is not impossible. The Tulip tree, before mentioned, few take the trouble to grow, though it can scarcely be said to be out of its latitude here. Over the merits of the Ailanthus it is possible to dispute; but when placed at a distance from the dwelling, where the objectionable odor of the male tree from which the female is with characteristic gallantry presumed to be free cannot offend, its long lanceolate leaves give an oriental touch to the landscape. The dwarf chestnut, and the buckeye, another and beautiful variety of chestnut, can be grown here without difficulty; but seldom is either of them seen.—Monetary Times.

"MAY DEW"

The Great French Lotion for Beautifying the Face.

It conceals the evidence of age. One application will make the most stubboraly red and rough hands beautifully soft and white. Remember that "MAY DEW" is not a paint or powder that fills up the pores of the skin, and that is injurious to the skin, but a new and great discovery, a vegetable liquid, that causes the cheek to glow with health, the neck, arms and hands to rival the Lily in whiteness. Impossible to detect in the beauty it confers any artificial character. It cures Greasy Skin, Freckles, Wrinkles, Pimples, Black Heads, Crow's Feet, Blotches, Face Grubs, Sun Burn, Tan, Ringworms, Chapped Hands, Sore or Chapped Lips, Barber's Itch, Totter, etc. It frees the pores, oil glands, and tubes from the injurious effects of powders and cosmetic washes. By its use all redness and roughness are prevented; it beautifies the skin, and will make it soft, smooth and white; imparting a delicious softness, producing a perfectly healthy, natural, and youthful appearance. The best face lotion that the world ever produced. We will send "A LARGE BOTTLE" to any address on receipt of price $1. When ordering mention this paper.

LOCAL NEWS

The Separate Schools.

The number of pupils on the registers of the Separate Schools in the town of Peterborough, for the month of May, was 515, and the average attendance during the same month was 445.

Base Ball and Lacrosse Badges

Printed at the REVIEW office in pretty and appropriate designs, on silk or satin ribbon any color required, with cuts and other embellishments.

Nuisance Ground.

The Sanitary Inspectors of the Board of Health have not let any grass grow under their feet. This morning they procured a nuisance ground for depositing all filth and garbage. It is owned by Mr. May, at the sand pits, near the Roman Catholic Cemetery. The pits are already dug and ready for the reception of offal, etc. The owner will be glad to afford any information and assist in covering up the deposits.

A Good Investment.

We note that the Bell Telephone Co. of Canada, which owns all the existing Telephone business in the Dominion at a cost so far of about one million two hundred thousand dollars, has just made an issue of First Mortgage Bonds, the proceeds to be used in a still further extension of its business. These Bonds, to the extent of $100,000, are offered to the public at a rate to pay the purchaser seven per cent. interest, and it would appear to be well worth while for any one having money to invest, from $100 upwards, to obtain particulars from the Company's local agent or from Messrs. Osler & Hammond, Stock Brokers, Toronto.

Forty Years Old.

To-day is the fortieth anniversary of the Young Men's Christian Association. On the sixth of June, 1844, the first association was organized by George Williams in his bedroom at the dry goods establishment in which he was employed in London, Eng. One of the first converts of this association, it is said, was the junior partner of the firm, Mr. Hitchcock. He subsequently became leading partner, and the firm is now Hitchcock, Williams & Co., of St. Paul's Churchyard. Mr. Hitchcock having died, the founder of the association is now at the head of the large establishment. The parent association has enlarged its borders greatly in the forty years, and its headquarters are now Exeter Hall, bought a few years ago, costing $250,000. There are at present 37 associations in London and its suburbs, employing 48 secretaries. In the four decades of its history the association has spread all over the world, till there are now more than 2,500 Young Men's Christian Associations, Canada has the honor of taking the lead in inaugurating them on this side the Atlantic, the first association in America having been organized in Montreal on November 19th, 1851. Boston comes second, the date of their organization being December 22nd, 1851. The first association building in America was owned by the Chicago Y. M. C. A. and was dedicated in September 1867. This building was burnt down four months after its dedication, but another one was immediately erected, which also was burnt in the great fire of October, 1861. The noted evangelist, Mr. D. L. Moody, had charge of the work of this association while they occupied this second building. The third building erected still stands. Following the example of Chicago most of the large cities on this continent (as well as many of the towns) have erected buildings of their own, those in New York and Philadelphia costing half a million dollars each, while others are worth from $100,000 to $250,000. The associations in Canada owning buildings are Halifax, St. John, Charlottetown, P.E.I., Quebec, Montreal, Toronto, London, Guelph, Brantford, Port Hope and Cobourg. The Ottawa association has just purchased a site and are putting up a building. To this list our go-ahead town of Peterborough should soon be added.

LACROSSE MATCH AT HASTINGS.

As the Old Cocks Crow the Young Ones Learn.

About a dozen inhabitants of Peterborough, including a few ladies, accompanied the junior twelve of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club to Hastings on Thursday afternoon, to witness the first match played by our boys and the Trent Club of that village, which resulted in a victory for the visitors, who took three straight games.

The train left the Midland station at 2 p.m., and arrived at Hastings at 3.15, where a delegation of the Trents were waiting to receive the Peterborough exponents of our national game. As the game was to commence at 4 o'clock, the boys lost no time in repairing to the Clarendon House, where the genial host, Mr. Smith, placed spacious dressing rooms at their disposal.

In a short time the cardinal and black jerseys and grey knickerbockers were donned, and thus attired the boys, accompanied by their adversaries, who wore a pretty uniform of cardinal jerseys and navy blue knicks, marched to the field, which is situated across the river, a short distance from the village. It was twenty minutes past four when the rival teams took up their positions as follows:—

| Trent. | | Peterborough. |
|---|---|---|
| A Buller | Goal | J. Coughlin |
| G. Hill | Point | E. Rogers |
| J. B. Ward | Cover Point | S. Heaps |
| J. Berry | Defence Field | J. Shevlin |
| P. Howard | Field | A. Rogers |
| J. Myles | Centre Field | J. Carveth |
| J. Conlon | Home Field | R. Begley |
| E. Brough | " " | S. Wright |
| W. Nelson | " " | D. Deyell |
| H. Fowlds | " " | P. Moscripp |
| A. McFaul | 2nd Home | W. Morrow |
| G. Haul | 1st Home | G. Myers |
| George Brentan | Field Captain | J. Sheehy |

J. McKelvy, of Norwood, acted as umpire for the Hastings Club, and G. S. Perks filled the bill for Peterborough. Mr. Fred. Brennan, of Norwood, was chosen referee, and showed himself to be the right man in the right place. It was boiling hot, as one of the five or six hundred spectators remarked, when the men knelt in centre field to face the ball. Jack Carveth secured it, and in less than no time the Hastings defence were called upon to show what they were made of. Hill was the first man to make a bid for the rubber in that quarter, and being the only bidder it was knocked down to him. He did not seem to appreciate it, however, for in an attempt to make a run down as far as centre he lost it to Sam Wright, who tipped it over to Dave Deyell. Dave thought that the ground was too rough to show any running, so he politely dropped it nice and high on the goal. Billy Morrow secured it, and sent it flying on the Trent flags. It went a little high, and Berry, who was behind the goal at the time, captured it, and by a beautiful long throw gave our "Ross McKenzie" to see that he had to stand on his pins. Jim stood on them, and was the next possessor of the sphere, and sent it in close proximity once more on the flags of the Trents. A scrimmage took place in front of them, and the ball, much to the relief of Butler, leaked out as far as Pete Moscripp, who threw it straight up in the air. When it came down Bob Begley reached after it, and once more Butler was called on, but this time he was doomed. The ball lit on Morrow's cross who dropped it like a hot potato square in front of the goal, and Harry Myers being there swiped it through. Time 10 minutes.

This short game did not seem to alarm the Trents in the least, they played in good, honest, "up and up" style, and there was no such a thing as six or seven goal keepers, as is sometimes see on our grounds in Peterborough. After a resting spell of about five minutes, and changing positions, the centres knelt once more. Jack was successful again and after a fine run hurled the ball with vengeance on the enemy's flags. The ball was thrown too low, and, striking a rock—yes, a rock—bounced back as far as centre field, which was at that time well represented by players of both teams. They all joined in in a chorus, as it were, and for a few minutes, Jack Shevlin, Alf Rogers, Sam Heaps and Sam Wright, of the Peterboroughs, had all their hands full in entertaining Wards, Howard, Myles and Jack Conlon, of the Trents. It would be very hard to tell who was who during the scuffle. The ball was kicked, swiped, stood upon and sat upon, in good style, and would have been there for perhaps ten minutes had not Ned Rogers walked out from his position and poked it out to Braugh, of the Trents, who was patiently waiting to take a shot at Jim Caughlin. He got in a throw, which was well stopped by "Squealer," who threw it about a hundred yards into a farm adjoining the grounds. It was five minutes before the ball was found and faced off. This time Dave Deyell secured the advantage in facing with Pat Howard, and Begley, who was close by, was the heir. He did not have time to get in his throw, so closely was he checked by Nelson, who tossed the ball to Archie McFaul. Archie ran down as far as he liked and sent the ball swiftly on the Peterborough flags. Ned Rogers made a good stop, and, being closely pressed by Fowlds, passed it to Jim Coughlin. Jim was a little slow this time in throwing, and McFaul, noticing it, ran in to check his stick. He made a good check, but in doing so he received a hard knock on the right eye. He took it good naturedly, however, and played on like a man. The next man that figured conspicuously with the rubber was Harry Myers, who, after making a good run around behind the flags, sent a nice drop to Billy Morrow, who coolly passed it through the flags. Time 20 minutes.

The third game was much the same as the second, except at the outset, Myles got it at the face this time and the ball was sent towards the Peterborough Flags. It did not remain there very long, however, and, as before, was in the hands of our home players, who after a series of drops, were doing just as they liked with it. Once or twice it went down as far as centre, only to be retured to the Hastings defence. The play went on in this way and was getting rather monotonous. Billy Morrow threw down his hat and meant business. He got the ball behind the flags, tipped it gently to Harry Myles who took his shot, Mr. Perks, the umpire, raised his hands, and that settled it. Time 19 minutes. The two teams then collected in centre of of the field and exchanged the usual cheers in a hearty manner. They then marched to the "Clarendon" once more and were entertained at supper by the Hastings boys. Mr. G. S. Perks thanked the "Trents" on behalf of the Peterborough players for the manner in which they had been used both on the field and in the village, and concluded a neat speech by proposing the health of the Trents. This toast was responded to by Mr. A.M. Patton, President of the Trent Club, who paid a very nice compliment to the Peterborough players. He hoped that the return match would be productive of better success to the Trents, and referred to the game in a very pleasant manner. Mr. Fred Brennan was the next speaker and concluded an eloquent speech by extending an invitation to both teams to take part in a Lacrosse tournament to be held in Norwood at an early date. The crowd then adjourned to the parlour, where songs were the order of the evening. At 8.30 the boys boarded the Peterborough bound train and on leaving were given three rousing cheers by the Trents and about a hundred others who assembled to give them a send off. They arrived home at 9.40 in high spirits, not only over their victory on the field, but over the kind manner in which they were treated by their opponents, and look forward with pleasure to their return match with the boys from Hastings.

The Midland.

An inspection was made this week of the line of the Midland Division of the Grand Trunk Railway by officials of the road. The party consisted of Messrs: E. P. Hannaford, Chief Engineer of the Grand Trunk; A. White, District Traffic Manager, J. G. Macklin, Division Engineer; W. B. Ferguson, Division Superintendent; R. Tivey Bridge Inspector, and J. A. Cheer, Road Master. They went north to Midland on Wednesday, to Haliburton on Thursday, and arrived here again this morning. They came from Omemee over the Missing Link. This line will be again opened on Monday, June 16th.

Personal.

The funeral of the late Alfred Lough, of Lindsay, on Wednesday, was very well attended, showing the high estimation in which the deceased gentlemen was held in the community. He was buried by the J. B. Hall Lodge of A. F. & A. M., of which the deceased was a member and a past W. M.

Mr. G. L. Fair, brother of Mr. Robt. Fair, (of Fair, VanEvery & Co.), sails on Saturday, per Steamer Circassian, on a visit to Great Britain and Ireland, in company with the Rev. Mr. Johnston, of Fraserville.

We note with much pleasure the success of Mr. Joseph L. Gilmour in obtaining fourth place in first-class honors in classics in the third year examinations in Arts, recently held at the University of Toronto.

Mr. A. Stevenson has, we are much gratified to learn, taken the degree of Bachelor of Arts before the University of Toronto. He has also distinguished himself by his successful competition in meteorology, carrying off the prize with ease.

The Port Hope Times says:—

"Mr. and Mrs. Wm. VanEvery left yesterday for Peterborough, to take up their residence there permanently. A large circle of friends will greatly miss both, and their interesting family. Mrs. VanEvery has only recovered a short time from a severe illness, and we trust the change will have a good effect. The growing demands of his Peterborough business necessitated Mr. VanEvery's removal, and in conjunction with a large number of our citizens, we wish him the utmost success in his new field of labor."

A Music Teacher's Crime.

QUAKER CITY, Ohio, june 4.—A year ago Mrs. Noble, a wealthy widow, was married to John Evans, a travelling music teacher. Evans seduced Mrs. Evans' daughter and sent her to Dr. Strutters, who performed a criminal operation, under which the girl died. Strutters has been arrested, but Evans has disappeared.

John C. Eno.

Eno was again brought before the Police Court at Quebec on Wednesday morning, but owing to the unexplained absence of Detective Fahey, the principle witness, the case was adjourned till to-day. United States Deputy Marshal Holmes satisfied that from his own knowledge the amount which the prisoner was charged with having appropriated reached three million dollars.

Ontario Model Farm.

SOUTH QUEBEC, June 3.—Prof. Brown arrived at Quebec yesterday with one hundred and five head of cattle and sheep for the Ontario Experimental farm. They represent eighteen distinct breeds, and many of the animals are of rare merit, being first prize-takers at the principal shows of Britain. The Times, of England, and other papers have given high praise to the selection.

OTTAWA.—A gentleman writes from Ottawa that after using three bottles of Golden Fruit Bitters he was completely cured of dyspepsia and indigestion.

THE manager of the Madrid Progreso was arrested for publishing an article on tyranny, which was considered by the ministry as an incitement to civil war. The culprit laughing in his sleeve, refused to divulge the name of the writer, and was sent to prison, where he would probably be now had not the Government suddenly found that the article was an extract from Macaulay.

PHOSPHATINE, a name which to every intelligent mind, professional or otherwise, is a key to its composition. No safer, purer, more palatable and more effective compound has ever been offered in cases of nervous exhaustion and pulmonary consumption. For sale by all druggists.

THE official announcement of the Government's decision on the question of abolishing the canal tolls was received in Montreal yesterday. Commercial men of that city generally express dissatisfaction at the reduction offered, and talk of sending another deputation to Ottawa upon the subject.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning? The signal perhaps of the approach of that more terrible disease Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50 cts., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough it never fails. This explains why more than a million bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup or whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest use Shiloh's porous plaster. Sold by J. D. Tully.

McDONNELL AND BLAKE.

The Charges Against the Ex-Vice-Chancellor Investigated.

The Committee on Discipline of the Law Society held an investigation in Toronto into the charges preferred by Mr. J. A. Macdonnell against the Hon. S. H. Blake, Q.C. The charge arose out of an incident that occurred at the assizes in Peterborough in the fall of 1883. Messrs. C. A. Weller, A. P. Poussette, G. M. Roger, and D. W. Dumble, of this town, were examined on Friday. Those we have spoken to are reticent about the matter, as they wish to learn the result when the Committee reports. However, we take the following regarding the case from the Toronto World:—

The investigation into the charges prefered by John Greenfield Macdonell against S. H. Blake, Q.C., was continued yesterday at Osgoode Hall before a committee of the benchers, of whom Mr. Hoskin, Q.C., is chairman and Dr. L. Smith, James M. Maclennan, Adam Hudspeth and J. K. Kerr are members. It is hard to ascertain just what was done at the meetings, but it is known that at the first one Mr. Macdonell protested against what he called the indecency of Mr. Kerr, a partner of Mr. Blake's, sitting on the committee, Mr. Kerr was not present yesterday, when Mr. Blake was subjected to a two hours' cross examination by Mr. Macdonell. Mr. Blake appears for himself. The master of chancery of Peterborough, Mr. Dumble and Mr. Roger, both of the Peterborough bar, were also before the committee yesterday. Mr. Dumble was told by the committee that they had no power to compel him to give evidence, and he replied that he would only give evidence if they had power to compel it, and as they had admitted that they had not that power he would not take the stand. Mr. Roger testified that he had seen Mr. Blake take his (Mr. Dumble's) brief in the court, out of which the charge arises. He said that Mr. Blake's argument did not last more than three minutes and that the court had apparently made up its mind at the conclusion of Mr. Dumble's argument, and that he did not consider that Mr. Blake had rendered any service whatever to Mr. Dumble. He said that he was surprised at Mr. Blake's action, because he knew of an agreement which had been entered into between Mr. Poussette and Mr. Dumble, that no outside counsel should be employed, but that they would hold their own briefs. The master-in-chancery testified that Mr. Blake's argument was not five minutes long. Mr. Blake admitted in his examination, so it is said, that Mr. Dumble had told him in the morning that he had seen his client, Morison, and that he (Morison) had told him that he would not allow him to retain Mr. Blake. He said that he had not been made aware of the arrangements between Mr. Dumble and Mr. Poussette with regard to the employment of outside counsel. No decision has yet been given. Mr. Macdonell wants to make out that Mr. Blake did an unprofessional act in taking part in the suit, and charging $50 for his services."

Good Harvest Prospects Around Galt.

GALT, June 5.—The present state of the grain crops in this neighbourhood indicates a good harvest of fall wheat, a very small proportion being wintered killed, probably not exceeding one per cent, and a full average crop is expected. Spring seeding is decidely favourable. Present appearances of all spring crops are splendid.

The Guelph Incendiarism Case.

GUELPH, June 5.—Mr. C. Kirk, the boot and shoe merchant, charged with incendiarism, and whose case occupied the attention of the Police Court all day yesterday and part of to-day, was committed to stand his trial. He will appear before Judge Drew on Monday next. He was admitted to bail in $800.

A Clue to the Missouri Tragedy.

PLEASANTON, Mo., June 5.—The murdered family found near here has been identified as that of John Anderson, an improvident farmer. Lewis Wampler, who was riding in the waggon with the family, is probably the murderer. An officer is after him. It is thought Anderson has also been killed, but his body has not been found. It is said the Andersons had a knowledge of some crime committed by Wampler.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Blaine Nominated for President and Logan for Vice-President.

CHICAGO, June 6.—The convention was called to order at 11.20. The first ballot was at once proceeded with, the result showing that Blaine led with 332½, Arthur being next with 278, and the remaining nominees being a long way in the rear, none reaching three figures, while Gen. Sherman stood last with 2. At 12.20 the next ballot was taken, showing a gain of 16½ for Blaine and a loss of 2 for Arthur, all the others showing slight losses except Gen. Sherman, who still retains his couplet. The third ballot gave 375 for Blaine and 275 for Arthur. At 2.30 p.m. a motion to adjourn till 7.30 p.m. was put and lost by a vote of 455 to 366, the Blaine men offering the most determined resistance. The announcement of the vote was received with great cheering and waving of hats and handkerchiefs. Foraker then moved that Blaine be be nominated by acclamation. Roosevelt, of New York, demanded the call of the roll. Intense excitement prevailed, amid which Foraker withdrew his motion to save time and the fourth ballot started, resulting in 544 for Blaine, and 207 for Arthur.

The vote was received with great enthusiasm, the band playing and cannon booming. The outside streets around the hall were filled with people instantly, and even before the last figures were pronounced the vast audience arose and broke out into another mad demonstration of enthusism. Cheers resounded, the band struck up an inspiring air, hats and handkerchiefs and national flags were waved. The large square banner from Kansas was carried through the hall, promising large majorities in that state for Blaine, and with its two uprights capped with new brooms. The stuffed eagle from Colorado was also carried around in procession. The roar of artillery outside was heard commingling with the louder roar of voices inside, and amid great enthusiasm the nomination was made unanimous.

On resuming, Logan was nominated for Vice-President, and received the solid vote of all the States excepting New York, which cast one for Foraker and six for Gresham. At 9.55 the convention adjourned sine die.

HOW BLAINE WAS NOMINATED.

Upon the call of Maine by the Clerk of the convention it seemed as if the entire assembly arose, and amid a roar of applause, mingled with cries of Blaine, commenced a scene such as can be witnessed only in a national convention. The delegates from California mounted on chairs hoisted their white hats on canes and waved them about in response to an ocean of handkerchiefs waved by ladies in the gallery and on the platform seats. One genius conceived the idea of opening his umbrella and immediately fifty umbrellas were up an waved about, presenting a novel sight. Meanwhile the immense crowd of admirers of Blaine were shouting in one immense neverending shout, something like the roar of a tempest, now swelling and now sinking. The band came to the aid of the shouters and thudered, and although five minutes had passed the enthusiasm of the Blainiters knew no end, and the roar of their applause still continued. At last the president, who had been looking with interest upon the scene before him, seized his gavel and gave some raps therewith. The crowd was silent for a moment; then, regardless of the chairman's rapping, again burst out in another shout in honor of their condidate. Quiet was finally restored and the chairman introduced Judge West, of Ohio, who moved the nomination of the Hon. James S. Blaine, of Maine.

The announcement was received with another outburst of applause. The large national flag was taken by a visitor from the front of the platform and waved amid tremendous cheering. Subsequently upon the pole was placed a helmet formed of carnations and roses with a long white plume, which was hoisted from the press table. The helmet was the gift of some young ladies of Chicago. Tremendous acclamation greeted this suggestion of the plumed knight of four years ago.

SUMMARY OF THE VOTING.

Following are the summaries of the respective ballots with the numbers for each candidate:—

| | First ballot. | Second ballot. | Third ballot. | Fourth ballot |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Blaine | 352½ | 349 | 375 | 574 |
| Arthur | 278 | 276 | 274 | 207 |
| Edmunds | 93 | 85 | 69 | 41 |
| Logan | 63½ | 61 | 53 | 7 |
| John Sherman | 30 | 28 | 25 | -- |
| Lincoln | 4 | 4 | 8 | 2 |
| Gen. Serman | 2 | 2 | 2 | 2 |
| Hawley | 12 | 13 | 13 | 15 |

On the first ballot Blaine was 73½ votes from a nomination. On the last he had a majority of 272 over the total vote for all the other candidates, or 132 more votes than were actually necessary to his nomination.

Locusts in Vera Cruz.

Locusts are causing much damage in the State of Vera Cruz. The coffee, tobacco and sugar crop are threatened. They come from Yucatan, and will probably extend north through the State of Tamaulipas into Texas, or as far as the heat of the climate permits.

CANAL TOLLS.

SOME Reform journals are keeping up their attacks upon the Dominion Government, for discriminating, as they falsely assert, in favour of the wheat growers of the United States against those of Canada. It is alleged that this is being done by lowering the tolls on the Welland Canal and the St. Lawrence Canals to 10 cents, and maintaining the tolls on the St. Lawrence Canals alone at 15 cents. The truth is that the tolls on the St. Lawrence Canals have been reduced to 7½ cents, or 2½ cents less than the charge for the whole series of canals including the Welland. This fact, however, will not prevent some of the Reform journals from continuing to circulate the incorrect statement in the hope of thereby prejudicing against the Dominion Government some farmers who may not see the true account.

WELCOME EVIDENCE.

IN discussing "India's Competition in Wheat Growing" the Ottawa Free Press makes an admission, which coming from a free trader, is very valuable. Our contemporary says editorially:—

"The population of India is not only increasing at enormous strides and in greater proportion than her increased production of food; but the manufacturing industries are being developed. India is now supplying many articles by home manufacture for which she formerly depended upon Great Britain. This means that the wealth of the natives will increase and with the increased wealth, must come a greater purchasing power in the matter of food."

This is precisely what the advocates of the National Policy have argued, amid jeers and laughter from their opponents, on two very important points. We have held, and we are glad that the Free Press is now converted to the ame opinion, that the wealth of the people of a country will increase when it supplies itself with articles by home manufacture instead of being dependant upon other countries for them. We have also held, and again we rejoice in the accession of the Free Press, that even where the agriculturalist is not directly benefitted, he must share largely in the advantages derived from home manufacturing, since the increased wealth thus arising must mean a greater purchasing power in the matter of food, and a greater number of mouths to fill close to the farm. These were precisely the two chief objects which the National Policy was intended to secure—it has secured them largely and the improvement is still going on. In India it is true that the necessary protection is afforded by cheap labour and heavy freights, so that protective duties, though demanded, are not so urgent. So, too, Canadian manufacturers were formerly protected to a great extent by the results of the civil war and its attendant effect upon prices in the neighboring republic.

Our National Policy is a statesmantike measure to give artifically similar advantages to the manufacturing and the agricultural industries of Canada, in fact to the whole Dominion.

Canadian Representation.

The names of the gentlemen, clerical and lay, who represent the Presbyterian Church in Canada at the General Alliance of Churches holding the Presbyterian system, to be held in Belfast, beginning the 24th day of June, are the following:—

Clerical.—Dr. King, Principal Cavan, Dr. MacVicar, Dr. Cochrane, Dr. Burns, Rev. M. Burrows, Dr. Matthews, and Rev. A. B. McKay.

Lay.—James Croil, Hon. D. Laird, Thos. Kirkland, Dr. Gelkie, R. Kilgour, Wm. Kerr, Rev. M. Fleck, and Rev. L. H. Jordon.

John C. Eno.

The Eno case came before the court again on Thursday at Quebec. On the strength of a telegram saying that Detective Fahey had been summoned for Friday morning before the grand jury of Montreal, and could not be present to give evidence, the Crown asked for a further adjournment. After a spirited discussion the judge ruled that no further proceedings should be taken without an opportunity being given of cross-examining the detective. He therefore remanded the prisoner without bail until Friday morning.—Mail.

GLADSTONE AND GORDON.

"Punch's" View of the Egyptian Policy of the Government.

No. 1 (Precis of correspondence dated March last). British Government to British hero—Danger imminent that the Mahdi overrunning the Soudan in great force will invade the Delta and involve us in serious complications. Hear that you are the man to get us out of the scrape. Will you take full powers and start at once? British hero to British Government—Done! I'm off.

No. 2 (Later) British Government to Britith hero—Io triumphe! Your promptitude, energy and really remarkable spirit have been beyond all praise. Managing the whole thing, too, with one camel! Doesn't even touch the estimates! Capital! The effect, too, you have produced is electric. Almost saved us! Fact! We're nearly out of our hobble. British hero to British Government—Glad to hear it.

No 3 (a little later). British Government to British hero—Safe as anything. Graham has managed it all to a T. Glorious! Everybody satisfied. How are you? British hero to British Government—Comfortable, but surrounded.

No. 4 (still later). British Government to British hero—Glad to hear your are comfortable. We are very. Everything quite swimming! clear majority of 130. Sorry to hear, though, you are surrounded, because people will ask nasty questions about it. Fact is, you never should have gone out. All your own doing you know. But do tell us if you really mind being left to get back how you can? British hero to British Government—Mind it?—not in the least. Why should I?

No. 5 (latest). British Government to British hero—Just so! Why should you? We knew what you would say. But pray don't mind us. Come home, of course, when ever you like! British hero to British Government—Thanks. You're too kind!

No. 6 (supplement as yet unanswered). British Government to British hero—Not at all. Don't mention it!

(N.B.—For still further particulars wait the march of events.)

NORTH-WEST NOTES.

NEW POTATOES.—New potatoes are in the Winnipeg market.

C.P.R. SIDE TRACKS.—The C.P.R. will commence laying the side track to the elevator and grist mill at Indian Head next week.

DOMINION EXPRESS CO.—The Dominion Express Co. have extended their service to the end of the track and have opened offices at Laggan and Silver City.

POWDER MAGAZINE.—The work on the new powder magazine at Fort Osborne is progressing rapidly. It is a solid looking structure, the outer walls being very thick.

MUCH WANTED RAIN.—Advices from Indian Head states that the long looked for rain has come at last. It rained hard for three hours. The farmers are happy, and the crops are looking fine.

IMMIGRANTS IN QU'APPELLE VALLEY.—Mr. L. O. Armstrong, who has just returned from placing colonists he recently accompanied west, reports them well settled and contented in the Qu'Appelle Valley. The weather was fine and enabled the newcomers to get in considerable crop. He left yesterday afternoon via Port Arthur for Quebec to meet other parties which he intends bringing west to settle between Virden and Qu'Appelle.

TUNNELS ON THE C.P.R. EAST.—The work on the tunnels on the C.P.R. east is progressing rapidly. The first is situated on the 36th mile from Nipigon and is 420 feet long. They expect to get daylight through it by the 20th of July. The second tunnel, on the 37th mile, is 250 feet in length, and will be completed by the middle of August. Both cuttings are through substantial red granite, and will prove successful pieces of work in every particular.—Winnipeg Times.

MIDLAND.

HOUSE BURNED.—Mr. George Stewart's house on Snake Island, about four miles south east of Mink Island, was destroyed by fire on Thursday. He lost everything.

EXCITING CHASE.—Last week the train hands had a little excitement near Alma. A deer took to the track in front of the train and kept ahead of it for about a mile and a half. The sound of the whistle caused the deer to leave the track and enter the woods.—Free Press.

BELLEVILLE.

SLIGHT FIRE.—There was a small blaze in a building in Flint and Holton's mill yard on Wednesday. Damage slight.

There is nothing ladies are so particular about as the fit of their mantle or dolman. Those leaving their orders at Turnbull's are sure to be suited.

Mysterious Suicide of a Young Lady.

QUEBEC, June 5.—Yesterday evening a young lady named McFarlane engaged a carter to drive her to the falls of Montmorency On arrival there she ordered the carter to stable his horse at Bureau's, as she intended making a stay in the vicinity of the falls. After waiting an hour and a half the carter became alarmed and informed Mr. Bureau of the circumstances, whereupon a thorough search was made. The only thing found was Miss McFarlane's bonnet and cape, which were found on a rock directly above the falls. It is supposed that she committed suicide by entering the river above the falls, and was carried over the boiling surf. She has suffered from rheumatism and heart disease for several years. A thorough search was kept up all last night and to-day, but the body has not been recovered.

An Important Invention.

DETROIT, June 5.—Mark F. Parish and S. J. Munn, of Niles, Mich., have succeeded in nearly perfecting an electrical railway signal, by which collisions between trains will be absolutely impossible. Numerous experiments have been made by the parties in the presence of railroad officials, members of the press, and others. Everything worked to the satisfaction of all parties. These gentlemen say they will have no trouble operating the telephone betwee trains upon the same circuit, for the instant another train comes on the circuit is formed, and the bell in the cab of each engine will ring, the same as any telephone connection. It also enables trainmen to communicate with stations each way in case of an accident.

A Seventy Thousand Dollar Fire.

MONTREAL, June 5.—Ewing's coffee mills on James street were burned down this morning. Loss, $60,000; insured in Guardian for $13,000 British Commercial $3,000, London and Lancashire $3,000, London, Liverpool, and Globe $5,000, Phœnix $6,000, Norwich Union and National of Ireland $2,500 each, Royal Canadian $5,000, and Citizens $2,000.

The cigar factory of Courtean Bros., which occupied the top flat, was totally destroyed. Loss, $10,000. The Royal Canadian had reinsured $2,500 of its $5,000 policy in the fire insurance company.

Women at the Toronto Examination.

Eight women were successful in passing examinations or obtaining honours in the recent examinations in Arts of the University of Toronto. One obtained a double scholarship in the second year; one obtained the prize for English verse; and four passed the third year.

Central Ontario Railway.

PICTON, June 5.—The track of the Central Ontario railway was last week completed to the Coe Hill mine in Wolliston, and the first train of iron ore from Coe Hill arrived at Trenton on Monday last. The main line of this railway is now one hundred and four miles in length from Picton to the mine, with branches and sidings one hundred and twelve miles in all.

Another Victory.

A Startling Important discovery was made when, after long and patient experiments, the combination of Nerviline was reached. A grand victory indeed, for the suffering have an ever ready, prompt, efficient, and cheap remedy at hand. Do you know that for 10 cents you can buy a trial bottle of Polson's Nerviline and test its great power over pain of every description? Polson's Nerviline cures chills, pain in the stomach, side and back, rheumatism; in fact all pain. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

The Woman's Physician.

A common sense medical work for ladies only. Fully answers all questions which modesty prevents asking a male physician. Gives causes and symptoms of all diseases of the sex, with positive cure for each in plain language, written by ladies who have made these diseases a life study. A plain talk in delicate language which every woman, young and old, should read. It is recommended by many eminent lady physicians as a safe guide for the sex. Handsomely bound and illustrated. Sent postpaid for $1.00. Address the ROCHESTER PUBLISHING CO., 32, 33 & 35½ Osburn Block, Rochester, N.Y.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?—Scrofula is so called from the Latin scrofa, a pig, from the supposition that the disease came from eating swine's flesh. It is often inherited from parents, and leads to abscesses, ulcerous sores, debility, king's evil and consumption. The case of the Rev. Wm. Stout, of Wiarton, who suffered 23 years from scrofulous abcesses, is one of the most remarkable on record. Burdock Blood Bitters cured him after the best medical skill had failed.

Seldom does a popular remedy win such a strong hold upon the public confidence as has HALL'S HAIR RENEWER. The cases in which it has accomplished a complete restoration of color to the hair, and vigorous health to the scalp, are innumerable.

Old people like it for its wonderful power to restore to their whitening locks their original color and beauty. Middle-aged people like it because it prevents them from getting bald, keeps dandruff away, and makes the hair grow thick and strong. Young ladies like it as a dressing because it gives the hair a beautiful glossy lustre, and enables them to dress it in whatever form they wish. Thus it is the favorite of all, and it has become so simply because it disappoints no one.

EVERY-DAY PHILOSOPHY.

When weariness with life my spirit fills,
When deep disgust consumes me with my lot,
I draw some store of comfort from the ills
I haven't got.

To find that fortune at your coming flies,
To be bankrupt in health, in fame, in purse,
Is bad enough; but, i philosophize,
It might be worse.

Incessantly we make a great ado,
The mouth of misery is wide agape;
But happier we, I fancy, if we knew
What we escape.

The common woes of life are bad enough,
Misfortunes fall as easy as the dew,
And still for every morning steak that's tough,
There might be two.

This one is sick; his wayward fate cries out
Against the leech, the calomel, the bed,
O inconsiderate person, cease to pout—
You might be dead.

And this one hath the mitten; he has wooed;
Vainly, alack, his wooing it has sped,
Well—even in this there's comfort, rightly viewed—
He might be wed!

And here is one who whines; he all is swept Away in panic; he has had to "fail,"
He should, I think, be cheerful that he's kept
Safe out of jail.

But late I lost a twenty-dollar bill—
And did I wring my hands that I had blundered?
Not I, indeed!—I'm very thankful still
'Twas not a hundred.

Sooth, should I e'er capsize when walks are bad,
And my good clavicle involve in wreck,
Serenely I should say—How very glad
It's not my neck.

O trust me—better not to make ado
At the few miseries of our common lot.
There's millions of 'em—if we only knew!—
We haven't got.

—J. F. E., in The Manhattan.

INFELICE.

By AUGUSTA J. EVANS WILSON

Author of "St. Elmo," "Beulah," "Micaria,"

CHAPTER XIII CONTINUED.

Refreshed by her sound sleep Regina bathed her face, rearranged her hair, and ate the dinner, which, although cold, was very temptingly prepared. When Hattie came to carry down the silver tray containing the delicate green and golden china dishes, she complimented the stranger upon the improvement in her appearance, adding:—

"Miss Olga directed me to show you the house and anything you might like to look at, so I lighted the parlours and reception room, and the library always has a fire and the gas burning. Can I go?"

"Certainly, I am not afraid; and when I get sleepy I will come up and go to bed. When will Mrs. Palma and Miss Neville come home?"

"Not before midnight, if then."

She explained to Regina how to elevate and extinguish the gas, and the two went down to the sitting-room, whence Hattie soon disappeared.

Four spacious lines of book shelves, with glass doors bearing silver handles, girded the sides of the room, and the walls were painted in imitation of the Pompeian style; while the corners of the ceilings held lovely frescos of the seasons and in the centre was a zodiac.

Filled with wonder and delight the girl glided across the shining mosaic floor, gazing now at the glowing garlands and winged figures on the walls, and now at the elegantly bound books, whose gilded titles gleamed through the plate glass.

She had read of such rooms in "St. Martin's Summer," a volume Mrs. Lindsay never tired of quoting, but this exquisite reality transcended all her previous flights of imagination, and approaching the bright coal fire she basked in the genial glow—in the atmosphere of taste, culture and rare luxury.

What treasures of knowledge were contained in this beautiful, quiet, brilliant room?

An oval table immediately under the gas-globes, held a China stand filled with cigars, and seeing several books lying near, she took up one.

It was Gustave Dore's "Wandering Jew," and throwing herself down on the rug, she propped her head with one hand, while the other slowly turned the leaves, and she examined the wonderful illustrations. She was vaguely conscious that the clock struck ten, but paid little attention to the flight of time, and after awhile she closed the book, drew the cushion before the desk, to the rug in front of the fire, laid her head on it, and, soothed by the warmth and perfect repose of the room, fell asleep.

Soon after the door opened wider, and Mr. Palma entered, and walked half-way down the room ere he perceived the recumbent figure. He paused, then advanced on tiptoe and stood by the hearth, warming his hands and looking down on the sleeper.

With the careless grace of a child, innocent of the art of attitudinizing, she had made herself thoroughly comfortable; and as the light streamed full upon her, all the marvellous beauty of the delicate face, and the perfect modelling of the small hands and feet were clearly revealed.

Studying the face and form, and rigidly testing both by the fastidious canons that often rendered him hypercritical, Mr. Palma could find no flaw in contour or in coloring, save that the complexion was too dazzlingly white; lacking the rosy tinge which youth and health are wont to impart.

Standing upon his own hearth, a man of magnificent stature and almost haughty bearing, Erle Palma looked quite forty, though in reality younger; and the stern expression, the cautious reticence which had long been habitual, seemed to have hardened his regular handsome features.

He wondered how the parents of such a child could entrust her to the guardianship of strangers; and whether it would be possible for her to carry her peculiar look of holy purity—safely into the cloudy Beyond—of woman hood?

While he pondered, the clock struck, and Regina awoke.

At sight of that tall stately figure, looming like a black statute between her and the glow of the grate, she sprang first into a sitting posture, then to her feet.

He made no effort to assist her, only watched every movement, and when she stood beside him he held out his hand.

"Will your conscience allow you to say; 'My Guardian I am glad to see you?'"

She was silent.

"That is right, little girl. Be perfectly truthful, and some day we may be friends. Sit down."

He handed her a chair and rolling forward one of the deep cushioned seats, made himself comfortable in its soft luxurious latitude.

"What do you think of New York?"

"It seems a vast human sea, in which I could easily loose myself, and be neither missed nor found."

Her gaze wandered to the fire, and she was silent.

"Be so good as to look at me, when I speak to you. Mrs. Palma appeared quite harsh to you to-day?"

"I have made no complaint against your mother."

"Pardon me—Mrs. Palma—my father's wife—if you please. Tell me the particulars of your reception here."

The beautiful face turned pleadingly to him.

"You must excuse me, Sir. I have nothing to tell you."

"And if I will not excuse you?"

She folded her hands together and compressed her lips.

"Then I have some things to tell you. I am acquainted with all that occurred to-day."

"I thought you were in Philadelphia? How could you know?"

"Roscoe told me everything, and I have questioned Farley, who has not taken your vow of silence. Mrs. Palma has some prejudices, which, as far as is compatible with reason, a due sense of courtesy constrains me to respect; and as I have invited her to officiate as mistress of my establishment, it is eminently proper that I should consult her opinions, and encourage no rebellion against her domestic regulations. One of her sternest mandates—inexorable as Mede and Persian statutes—prohibits dogs. Now what do you expect of me?"

FARM AND GARDEN.

WEEDS.—Prevent your crops from being devoured by the growth of weeds, first by securing labor enough or by planting less in area, so that you may adopt the cheap mode of killing these intruders before they reach the surface of mellow soil.

MANURE.—Save manure by not allowing anything to waste, and prevent liquid fertility from running off for want of absorbents or of compost heaps to receive it. Many farmers who would be very sorry to have fifty dollars in bills stolen from them allow a hundred and fifty dollars' worth of enriching materials to escape and and waste.

RAISING CALVES.—Never allow calves to get stunted. Always keep them growing. This is the whole secret of raising calves. One of the best farmers in New England writes that last spring calves are not as large and thrifty as fall calves, although fed grain all winter. They didn't do well the first three months of their lives which explains their lack of thrift since.

HOW TO KEEP HOGS.—Hogs have the reputation of being the filthiest animals upon the farm. This depends very much upon how they have been brought up. Usually it is the fault of the man, and not of the hog. Give them a chance to keep clean, and they will be sure to make the most of it. It is a fact, also, that a cleanly kept hog will do better than by the common method of keeping in dirty pens.

CORN SEED.—Prof. Budd, of the Iowa Agricultural College, reports that seed corn tests there continue to show there is no good seed which was gathered after the 20th of November last. He instances the case of a man at Bloomfield who saved 200 bushels for seed about the 20th November of early Godrich corn, planted on the 20th April. The sample seemed unusually sound and perfect, yet when tested under more favorable circumstances than ever can occur in the open field, only 46 grains grew out of 75. Even when dried by fire heat they have found no good seed gathered after November 15th. Of a fine sample of two-year old corn from Monona county 38 out of 50 grains grew. Only the corn gathered early and dried by fire heat has germinated in a regular and perfect way.

REARING CALVES.—Calves allowed to run at large with their dams take their food at short intervals, and therefore little at a time; or even if they take it from the cow twice a day, they are much longer in getting their fill and get it the right temperature and in a more natural way. When they are fed from the pail they take it very fast and very little saliva is mixed with it to prepare it for digestion. The intervals between feedings are frequently fourteen hours, and if the calf gets a large quantity of milk not at the right temperature, and swallowing it in a few moments, no wonder it has indigestion or some other trouble. The only wonder is that so many live through that are fed in this way. A better plan, and which has been tried by many with good results, it is to feed the calf three times a day, giving only the same milk that would be fed in the other way, and never to overfeed. Excessive feeding after a long fast has a very injurious effect on all animals, and especially young ones, and if it does not kill them outright, will weaken their digestion and do them permanent injury.

A Child Burned to Death.

RIPLEY, June 5.—While Mr. John McKay a farmer living about a mile from this village, and his wife were in the village this morning their eldest daughter, aged between nine and ten years, undertook to light a fire in the stove, using coal oil to make it burn faster. The fire caught the oil in the can, causing it to explode, enveloping her in a sheet of flame. There being no assistance at hand the child was burned to death in less than ten minutes from the time the can exploded. The house was saved with difficulty.

A Discarded Lover's Crime.

DETROIT, June 5.—Miss Johanne Coughlan, a school teacher in Richard township, was shot and perhaps fatally injured by John Shea, while sitting in her school room. Shea visited the lady and proposed marriage, which offer she declined. He then drew a revolver and fired. The affair created intense excitement, and 20 men turned out with shot guns to hunt him down. He was found in the house of a friend, arrested, and brought to gaol at Saginaw city.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

EXCELLENT RESULTS.

Dr. J. L. Willis, Eliot, Me., says: "Horsford's Acid Phosphate gives most excellent results."

Pimples and Blotches.

Call at John McKee's drug store and get a package of McGregor and Parke's Carbolic Cerate. It is composed of vaseline carbolic acid and cerate, and has never failed to remove pimples, blotches, ulcerated sores, rough skin it cures when all others fail. Try it.

A New Principle.

The principle upon which Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor acts is entirely new. It does not sink deep into the flesh, thereby producing soreness, but acts directly upon the external covering of the corn, separates it from the under layer, removes the direct pressure from the pars, and at once effects a radical cure, without any pain or discomfort. Let those who are suffering from corns, yet sceptical of treatment, try it, and by the completeness of the cure they will be ready to recommend Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor to others.

The Housewife.

A popular domestic journal for American homes, will be sent for one year free to every lady who will send at once the names and address of 10 married ladies, and 50 cents (no stamps taken). Best paper for either young or old housekeepers in existence. This offer is made only to secure names to whom to send sample copies, as we know every lady who once sees THE HOUSEWIFE will subscribe for it at once. Regular price $1 per year. Address, the HOUSEWIFE, Rochester, N. Y.

AFFECTIONS of the liver, bilious disorders, sick headache, etc., are thoroughly cured by Flint's Mandrake Pills. Sold in Peterborough by J. D. Tully at 25c.

Dr. Thomas Chalmers, one of the founders of the New York Academy of Medicine, died in that city on Wednesday.

SALLOW FACED GIRLS.—Why don't you improve your complexion? You can do so by using Golden Fruit Bitters and Pills. Sold by all druggists.

IF you have failed to be benefitted by other catarrh remedies, try Dr. Starr's Catarrh Conqueror it has received universal endorsement. J. D. Tully will supply you. Price 50 cents.

A SALVATION Army captain has been committed to gaol at Brampton for persistence in parading the streets in defiance of a by-law prohibiting it.

FOUND at last, a sure cure for corns, warts and bunions. Warranted. Dr. Starr's Corn Solvent, the wonderful corn renovator. Sold by J. D. Tully Druggist. Ask for it. Price 25 cents

AN application by the Belleville Woman's Christian Association to the County Council for a grant to aid in the erection of a home and hospital for the friendless has been favourably considered.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla is a highly concentrated extract of Sarsaparilla and other blood-purifying roots, combined with Iodide of Potassium and Iron. Its control over scrofulous diseases is unequalled by any other medicine.

IF Murray & Lanman's Florida Water the most debilitated and nervous can find relief. Used freely in the water of the bath, its effect is almost marvellous, so strengthening and bracing and withal so exquisitely agreeable.

There are lots of people going around grumbling, and half sick at the Stomach all the time; who might be well and happy if they only used Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters occasionally. It is a splendid Blood Purifier. All Druggists, 50 cents.

DURING the present year, up to May 31st, no fewer than 36,661 new settlers have arrived in Canada. The emigrants are reported to be unusually valuable additions to the population of the Dominion.

KILL THE BLUES, eat the best, sleep sound, keep away headache, keep your liver active, digest your food, make good blood, be cheerful all day by keeping a bottle of Zopesa in your room, and take a dose twice a week. Ask of J. D. Tully.

LAST year the Order of United Workmen distributed about $220,000 dollars among the widows and orphans of some of its members who died. The malice, bitterness, and misrepresentation attributed to societies of that class evidently exist only in the minds of their traducers.

IT IS SO PLEASANT.—It is so certain and easy in its action. It invigorates the nerve, brain, and muscle. Zopesa does these things simply by giving active digestion, and regulating the stomach and liver. Ask J. D. Tully.

WE HAVE a speedy and positive cure for Catarrh, Diptheria, Canker mouth and Headache, in Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. A nasal injector free with each bottle. Use it if you desire health and sweet breath. Price 50 cents. For sale by J. D. Tully

NOT another Pill shall go down my throat again, said a citizen, "when I can get such a prompt and pleasant cure for my Bilious attacks, as Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters. It renders the Blood Pure and Cool and makes a splended Spring Medicine. Large Bottles 50 cents.

THE SADDEST OF SAD SIGHTS.—The grey hairs of age being brought with sorrow to the grave, is now, becoming rarer every year as the use of Cingalese Hair Restorer becomes more general. By its use the scanty locks of age become thick and luxuriant as ever. Sold by J. D. Tully.

FRADULENT TRANSACTIONS.—There are many frauds perpetuated in medicine, and many advertised remedies worse than useless. Not so with Hagyard's Yellow Oil. It remains as ever the best internal and external medicine for all pain, soreness and injuries with which human flesh is afflicted.

THE SECRET OUT.—The secret of beauty has been at last revealed. Without good health, pure blood and a fair clear skin none can possess good looks. What is more repulsive than pimples, blotches and a sallow or pasty complexion? Burdock Blood Bitters reveal the fact that all can gain pure blood and freedom from the repulsive diseases of the skin that result from impurities.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning? The signal perhaps of the approach of that more terrible disease Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50 cts., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough it never fails. This explains why more than a million bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup or whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back, side or chest use Shiloh's porous plaster. Sold by J. D. Tully.

The Greatest Healing Compound

is prepared of carbolic acid, vaseline and cerate called McGregor & Parke's Carbolic Cerate. It will cure any sore, cut burn or bruise when all other preparations fail. Call at John McKee's drug store and get a package. Twenty-five cents is all it costs.

NO MORE NAUSEOUS PILLS!

A LONG-FELT WANT SUPPLIED.

Campbell's Cathartic Compound is adapted for the cure of Liver Complaints and Bilious Disorders, Acid Stomach, Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite, Sick Headache, Constipation or Costiveness, and all complaints arising from a disordered state of the stomach or bowels.

Regarding Pumps!

Over seventeen years ago I commenced the Manufacture of PUMPS in Peterborough, and I take this opportunity of thanking the inhabitants of the town and surrounding country for the very liberal patronage they have accorded me during that time. It has always been my aim to produce and introduce all good improvements in Pumps, and I now desire to call attention to my

Model Force and Lift Pump

which this cut represents. I believe it to be the BEST COMBINED PUMP IN THE WORLD. It differs from all others in having the sectional stock or head, with its many advantages, and its firm and durable means of holding the attachments. The intermittent or detachable packing is only used in actual forcing, and it is at all other times (say 95 per cent. of the service of the pump), unfreezable and unwearable.

THE HOSE COUPLING

is very convenient and effective. It can be adjusted in a few seconds, thus quickly changing an ordinary service pump into a Force Pump.

The great advantage to the purchaser is that he possesses a first-class Lift Pump and a good Force pump in one, for the same price as is often asked for an ordinary pump.

All orders promptly attended to, by mail or otherwise, and repairing done on the shortest notice.

We, the undersigned, having examined Mr. H. Owens' New Model Force Pump, take pleasure in stating that we consider it a great improvement on pumps formerly in use. Its our opinion it is one of the best pumps ever introduced to the public, being quickly turned into a pump for fire protection. It is powerful, durable, convenient and easy to work, and it gives us pleasure to recommend it as a first-class article in every way.

LOCAL NEWS

Bicycle Club.

The Bicycle Club will meet at the club rooms on Tuesday evening next, for a club run. By order of the First Lieutenant.

Personal.

At the meeting of the Ontario Medical Association a paper was read by Dr. Herbert Burnham on "Carbolic Acid in Purulent Affections of the Eye."

Concert.

A concert will be given on Wednesday, June 18, at St. John's School House, in aid of the Women's Foreign and Domestic Mission. We learn that the programme arranged is an excellent one, and the assistance of the best local talent has been promised.

The Probabilities.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, counting from one o'clock this morning, as reported from the Toronto observatory, are as follows:—Light to moderate winds, continued fair, warm weather, with a few local showers in southern Ontario.

Fire Brigade Band To-Night.

The above body of musicians will give one of their popular and delightful open air concerts on George street this evening, in front of the Opera House. They will play a choice and select programme, and no doubt will have a very large audience. They are also engaged to furnish the music at the ladies social at Mr. Wm. Hamilton's residence next week.

For good value in Summer Silks, go to Turnbulls. All the new shades in stock.

Well Pleased.

The Barrie Lacrosse Club appear to have been well pleased with their recent visit to Peterborough, even though they were defeated on the field. One of their members concludes an account in the Advance as follows:—

"It would be unjust to close without a word in praise of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club. They acted towards us in such a friendly and generous manner while there that we one and all sincerely say that we are perfectly satisfied with our trip, our playing, and last but most of all with the thoroughly kind treatment we received throughout."

Musical.

We are glad to learn that Mrs. Chambers, of this town, has been appointed teacher of vocal music in the Ontario Ladies' College, at Whitby, in the place of Mrs. Brapley, who has resigned on account of ill health. Mrs. Chambers' abilities as a musician, and especially as a vocalist are well-known here, and it will be generally acknowledged that the authorities of the Whitby College have made an excellent choice. Mrs. Chambers still remains in Peterborough, so thus we are not losing her.

New Organ.

The Young Men's Christian Association have placed a new organ in their rooms, which will doubtless be of great benefit in the musical part of their meetings. They desire to thank all those who have subscribed to the Organ Fund, and to Miss Stephens and Mr. Ed. Webb, for their trouble in obtaining subscriptions. They also acknowledge with thanks a donation sent by a lady through the post. They still need a few more subscriptions, and the secretary will be pleased to receive such.

Night Owls.

A party of about a dozen young men caused a loud disturbance, and awakened the people living in the vicinity of the corner of George and Dublin streets, shortly after midnight on Friday night. Their language used by them was very vulgar, and they fired evidently from pure mischief, eight or ten shots from revolvers. They also did some damage to fences, and threw stones at sheds and houses. A gentlemen who was aroused by their misconduct opened the door of his house, and the party proceeded up George street.

CRICKET MATCH.

Peterborough and Cobourg — The Home Club Wins by Over an Innings.

A cricket match was played on the Ashburnham cricket grounds on Friday between the Peterborough and Cobourg Clubs. The wickets were pitched at about eleven o'clock, and the home team was sent to the bat. Cooper and LeRoy took up positions before the wickets, but LeRoy, after scoring two by one good strike, was caught out by Wood, and followed by Stratton. Cooper, after scoring four, gave way before Wood's bowling, and R. B. Rogers grasped the willow. Stratton's first strike was a heavy one, making three, and he batted very carefully. Rogers fell before Hargraft's bowling, with two runs to his credit, and Rutherford took his place. Then there was a stand, and the score kept steadily rolling up. Stratton had made the good record of fifty-one runs before he was retired, and Rutherford increased the score by thirty runs before his wicket fell before one of Hayden's balls. H. B. Rogers was the next to make a double-figured score, namely, fifteen, and before the last wicket was down 132 runs had been tallied for the home team, in spite of the good bowling of Wood and the other bowlers.

Hudson and Kerr, of the Cobourg team, then went to the bat, but the latter was caught by Rutherford for one run, and Hudson was retired by LeRoy's bowling with four. White's wicket fell before Stratton's bowling with one run, but Hayden made a better stand. He batted carefully and scored 22 runs before a well-delivered ball from Rutherford gave him a rest. LeRoy and Stratton bowled well, and the fielding was good. No other double figures were made and the last wicket fell for 54 runs, leaving the home team 78 ahead in the first innings.

The visitors were again sent to the bat, but they failed to recover their disadvantage. Hayden again showed good batting, standing before the bowling of Rutherford and Cooper till he had made ten runs, and he was then caught out by Sanderson. Kerr also batted well, making a score of eleven, but was bowled out by Rutherford. No other double figured scores were made, and the tenth player retired when the score for the innings amounted to 47. This made a total score for Cobourg of 101, against Petercorough's 132, and the home team thus won by one innings and 31 runs.

The following is the score made by each team:—

The Peterborough club sends a strong team into the field this year, as was shown by this match, although several of the best players were then absent. They will shortly be strengthened by Norley, formerly of Port Hope, who will belong to the Peterborough club this year, and who is a good all-round player. It is to be regretted that more interest is not felt in this game, especially as the town has such a strong club, but we hope that the people will hereafter give the cricketers more encouragement by attending their matches in larger numbers.

Turnbull's is the right house to look for Corsets. He keeps the best makes in all sizes. See the line he is selling at 50c. a pair.

Bass' English Ale.

Another large shipment of Bass' Ale, October brewing, just arrived at W. Chamberlain's Restaurant. Imported direct.

The Field Battery.

The Field Battery will go into camp about June 30th at Kingston, where they will form part of an artillery brigade of four batteries. This will be a good opportunity for the men to get perfected in their drill, and they will no doubt be pleased to take advantage of it. The Peterborough detachment will meet at the drill shed on Monday night, and persons wishing to join are requested to attend.

Pencil Points.

—A blank at the Police Court this morning.

—A large attendance on the market this forenoon.

—Two weary wanderers were welcomed to the cells last night.

—The Saved Army will attack Baillieboro on Monday next.

—The Metropolitan (Ottawa) Lacrosse Club is practising hard for the match with the Peterboroughs, which is to take place at Brockville.

—The first and second "nines" of the Peterborough Base Ball Club will play a match to-night.

—Capt. Munt and other members of the Saved Army went to Lakefield on Friday evening. Lieut. Arbercombie commanded at the meeting here.

Lacrosse Club.

A meeting of the Lacrosse Club will be held on Monday evening next at the Little Windsor.

Bodega.

Fine Spanish wines, Ports and Sherries drawn from the wood, at William Chamberlain's Restaurant.

A Fine Beverage.

Among the Places of Interest.

Conspicuous among the places of interest which the rising city of Peterborough can boast of is the "Golden Lion" Dry Goods Store. Situated in the centre and on the best side of George street, and noted for formidably prominent signs, strangers can hardly fail to have their attention drawn to this the finest and most eligible business stand in the "Plate Glass City." It is within easy access to the principal hotels, banks and Post Office, and only one block away from the Market Square. There is something business-like about the place which cannot fail to leave an impression on passers-by and tempt customers inside. With large heavy plate glass show windows, and elegant goods to adorn them, and a massive golden lion sign over the door, Messrs. Fair, VanEvery & Co. are doubtless among the best known dry goods merchants in the Midland district.—Notes from a Traveller.

New Printed Muslins this week at Turnbull's, in good patterns and low prices.

Bill of Fare at Smith's Market for Saturday.

FISH.—White Fish, Trout, Maskinonge and Bass.

United Methodism.

BROCKVILLE, June 5.—The first session of the Montreal Conference of the Methodist Church, was commenced here this morning in the Wall street church. There was a very large attendance of delegates, the body of the church being completely filled. Rev. Dr. Carman, second General Superintendent of the United Church, presided at the preliminary exercises, and he was supported on the platform by a large number of the aged brethren in the ministry.

IN MEMORY OF OUR DARLING

FREDDIE ROWE M'CORMICK, WHO DIED AUGUST 4TH, 1878, AGED 4 YEARS.

I miss the glad call in the morning,
I miss the bright face at the door,
The mirth and the music at sunset,
The songs, I shall hear,—never more.

I miss the dear voice, and the laughter;
The twining arms—kisses so sweet;
The little bowed head at the table,
The patter of those little feet.

I thought to have watched thee, my darling,
Through childhood, and youth's happy day;
When evening's dark shadows come o'er me,
Have found thee my solace and stay.

But Jesus,—our Jesus, who loves us,
Hath taken thee, safe to thy rest;
I try to wait patient and hopeful,
For I know that He knoweth best.

But oft-times, I sigh for the morning,
That morning which knoweth no night;
When my soul mounts upward, and onward,
Away from earth's sorrow and blight.

Who knows? but my Freddie will meet me,
With his arms outstretched at the "gate,"
With the old glad shout come to greet me,
And lead me along through the street.

Me lead, through that glorious city,
With its star-paved and golden streets,
Amidst fadeless flowers, and fountains,
Lead me to the dear Saviour's feet.

I join in the rapturous anthem,
That they sing there, before the throne,
I hear glorious words of sweet welcome,
From my Lord, blessed words, "welcome home."

Ah! when I have bathed in that fountain,
And earth-mists, are washed from mine eyes;
And when I am robed and immortal,
I will know,—and be satisfied.

"MAY DEW"

The Great French Lotion for Beautifying the Face.

It conceals the evidence of age. One application will make the most stubbornly red and rough hands beautifully soft and white. Remember that "MAY DEW" is not a paint or powder that fills up the pores of the skin, and that is injurious to the skin, but a new and great discovery, a vegetable liquid, that causes the cheek to glow with health, the neck, arms and hands to rival the Lily in whiteness. Impossible to detect in the beauty it confers any artificial character. It cures Greasy Skin, Freckles, Wrinkles, Pimples, Black Heads, Crow's Feet, Blotches, Face Grubs, Sun Burn, Tan, Ringworms, Chapped Hands, Sore or Chapped Lips, Barber's Itch, Tetter, etc. It frees the pores, oil glands, and tubes from the injurious effects of powders and cosmetic washes. By its use all redness and roughness are prevented; it beautifies the skin, and will make it soft, smooth and white; imparting a delicious softness, producing a perfectly healthy, natural, and youthful appearance. The best face lotion that the world ever produced. We will send "A LARGE BOTTLE" to any address on receipt of price $1. When ordering mention this paper.

CANADIAN PARAGRAPHS

PORT HOPE.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.—On Friday evening an old man named Thos. Weatherup, 3rd Con., Hope, attempted to commit suicide by taking a dose of strychnine. Dr. Dale, Newtonville was called and administered remedies that counteracted the poison taken. The old man had threatened to take his life for some time past and had to be watched by his friends.—Guide.

BELLEVILLE.

SCHOOL BROKEN INTO.—The Roman Catholic Separate School was again broken into on Wednesday evening, but the damage done was slight.

A COW'S SUICIDE.—At eight o'clock on Thursday night, while the members of the Oka Lacrosse Club were engaged in a practice game on the cricket field, a cow, owned by Mrs. B. Dougherty, ran into the bay and laid down. Three of the boys noticed the occurrence, and went to her assistance. They raised her head made every effort to renew her vitality, but without avail. They then rolled her ashore and left her. The cow was a valuable one.—Intelligencer.

OMEMEE.

THE DAM.—The work of repairing the dam has been completed and a good job has been made of it.

ACCIDENT.—Mr. John McArthur, of Ops, met with a very severe accident on Wednesday of last week, while driving a team of colts to Lindsay. One of the colts getting frightened became unmanageable, and suddenly turning around upset the waggon, throwing Mr. McArthur violently to the ground, one wheel passing over his body. His arm and shoulder bones were broken, and he received internal injuries of a serious nature. At times since the accident his life has been despaired of, but at time of writing he is improving. No man of 70, lacking Mr. McArthur's energy and vitality could have survived such a shock.—Herald.

LINDSAY.

PERSONAL.—Mr. E. D. Orde takes his annual trip to Brandon and the west in a few days for a good time generally.

LORETTO CONVENT.—An arbitration between the insurance companies and the Loretto convent directors is to take place this week to adjust the loss incurred and the proper proportion of insurance to be paid. As soon as completed the rebuilding of the convent will begin at once.

NARROW ESCAPE.—On Saturday a party of railway conductors from Toronto embarked on the Midland railway to spend a day fishing &c., at a small place called Goodwood on that road. Everything passed off pleasantly until on the homeward trip when one of the party, known as "Josh" Stevens, was taking a short cut over Cow bay on a raft and was precipitated in the water. Only for the heroic efforts of Charles Mitchell, of the Midland railway, he would have met a watery grave.—Warden.

A HORSE SHOT.—On Wednesday Mr. M. Connell, of Emily, lost a valuable horse under peculiar circumstances. Mr. Connell was at work using the horse to draw out rail cuts to the road. The pathway was narrow. A man who was out shooting—whose name we did not learn—came up to talk to Connell and placed his gun against a stump by the path. The men walked to the road, unshipped the log, and as they were returning along the pathway the horse reached out and seized in his mouth the gun by the muzzle. The gun swung round and striking on the ground was discharged, the charge blowing the front of the horses head to pieces. He didn't know that it was loaded.—Post.

COBOURG.

FIRE.—Nearly midnight on Sunday fire destroyed an empty frame building on the old distillery property. It was a case of incendiarism, which are becoming a little too frequent lately.

A BUSY HIVE.—The saw mill at Harwood commenced this seasons operations on Monday of last week. A trip through the mill is a very pleasing one, and the rapidity with which the logs are converted into lumber is wonderful. There are about ninety hands employed, and the cut this summer will be about eleven million.

BROKE INTO A CAR.—On Thursday morning Chief of Police Rankin received word that a bonded car of the G.T.R. had been broken into by two tramps at Brighton, and requesting him to be present at the Cobourg station to arrest them. He, with his assistant, acted promptly on the information, and repaired to the station, where they arrested the depredators, taking them from the car into which they had been fastened by the conductor. The two culprits were youthful in appearance and belong to Toronto, to which place they were returning from Kingston.

DROWNING ACCIDENT.—Between one and two o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, while several young lads were bathing at the mouth of the factory creek, one of them named David Foote, about fifteen years of age, son of Alexander Foote, got in beyond his depth, and being unable to swim, was drowned. His companions were unable to render any assistance, as they could not swim either, and instead of calling for help from the neighbours living in the vicinity, as they should have done, and which might have saved the boy's life, they ran to the chief of police for aid, who repaired to the scene of the accident, and with a stone hook raised the body, which had lain in the water nearly an hour. Coroner Ewing, after hearing the facts of the case, deemed an inquest unnecessary. The sorrowing family have the fullest sympathy in their sudden and sad bereavement. Sentinel-Star.

BOBCAYGEON.

DRIVES.—The first drive of the year has arrived, and is passing over the slide. It contains about thirty-three thousand logs, and is under the command of Mr. Edward Dwyer. It is bound for Mr. Hazlitt's mill, and was taken out in the townships of Anson and around Minden. M. Boyd & Co. have a good drive to hand from the Burnt river, and more following. Frank Bell, a gentleman who has a reputation for fast driving, is now in Sturgeon Lake, with a large block for Mr. Ullyott, and is making a lively run for first home. The water has been good, but the weather has been cold for the men.

FISH.—Big fish stories are becoming positively monotonous. On Saturday Mr. Armour, head master of the schools, caught 90 bass. On Monday, Mr. Morgan Johns, of South Verulam, paddled down the lake to attend a meeting of the Council. He carelessly threw out a trolling line, and whilst deep in the contemplation of road jogs and statute labor, he was suddenly yanked up by the line. He pulled but there was no give; it must be a rock. Then it began to come, a little; must be a log or, horrible thought, it might be a drowned man. Then he got a glimpse of something and just at that instant he was not quite sure whether he was struck with a Missouri whirlwind, or with a thorough-bread cyclone. The water flew in all directions, the boat spun round, and the line zipped through his hand as if a torpedo were on the end of it. The log or corpse business had entirely vanished and after about ten minutes skillful play, Mr. Johns hauled in the longest maskalonge of the season. When brought to the Forest House it weighed 21 lbs. 5oz. Mr. Rawley, on Wednesday landed with one rod, 26 bass weighing 87 lbs. the two largest weighed 8¾ lbs. Mr. Jay Edgar saw a maskalonge in the canal, and letting down a hook and line, caught under him, and landed it. A party of Toronto gentlemen at the Rockland, have had splendid sport and Mr. Hunter and Mr. Taylor, of Toronto, at the Forest House, took a fine string from the canal. On Thursday morning, Mr. Taylor caught two maskalonge one 14 lbs., and the other 7 lbs. As some of our contemporaries have most unprofessionally cast reflections upon the truthfulness of our fish items, we may state that this paragraph is regularly sworn to by our Mr. Smiff, and attested by Lockmaster Kelly.—Independent.

Orange Grand Lodge.

LONDON, June 7.—At the meeting of the Orange Grand Lodge here it was announced that the number of the new Orange warrants issued during the past eleven months is twenty-one, distributed as follows: Manitoba, eight; Ontario west, eleven; Ontario east, one; and Nova Scotia, one. Six Orange Young Britain warrants have been issued, and one renewal of a Royal Scarlet dispensation. An application for a Provincial Grand Lodge warrant has been made by the Provincial Grand Lodge of Manitoba. The receipts for the year were $3,029 and the disbursements, $1,898. At the meeting of the Grand Lodge of Royal Black Chapter Knights of Ireland, some seventy or eighty delegates being present, officers were chosen as follows: J. T. Jones, Toronto, Grand Master; the Rev. Rural Dean Cooper, Inverary, Grand Chaplain; J. S. Williams, Grand Registrar; Jas. Brownlee, Grand Treasurer. Fredericton, N.B., will probably be the next place of meeting.

A Determined Young Woman.

Fanny Spence, from St. John's ward, Toronto, was having a howling time on Centre street on Thursday night when a constable arrested her. In the cells she discarded her clothing and attaching her stockings to the grating made a determined attempt to strangle herself. She was prevented by the timely appearance of station duty man McMurray, who afterwards locked her up in a close cell.—Telegram.

"Hub" Cough Cure, 25 Cents.

Prescription of a Boston physician, dispensed years by a Boston Druggist. One dose will cure any ordinary cough. It acts almost magically Ask J. D. Tully for a 25 cent bottle of Hub Cough Cure.

THEY ALL DO IT.—Everybody uses Teaberry for the Teeth and Breath, the newest, brightest, coolest little toilet gem extant. Try a sample.

THREE thousand bales of cotton were burned in a Liverpool warehouse lately.

Can't Be Beaten.

It is a fact that Nerviline cannot be surpassed by any combination for the relief of pain. The reason is a good one. Nerviline contains the best, most powerful, and the latest discovered remedies. It is a magic pain cure. Rheumatism, stiff neck, cramps, neuralgia, colic, in fact all pain, internal, external, and local, are subdued in a few minutes. Go at once to Ormond & Walsh's drug store and get a trial bottle. It will only cost you 10 cents, and you can at a small cost test the great pain cure, Polson's Nerviline. Large bottles only 25 cts.

Itching Piles—Symptoms and Cure.

These symptoms are moisture, like perspiration, intense itching, increased by scratching, very distressing, particularly at night, seems as if pin-worms were crawling above the parts affected. If allowed to continue very serious results may follow. "SWAYNE'S OINTMENT" is a pleasant, sure cure. Also for tetter, itch, salt rheum, scald head, erysipelas, barber's itch, blotches, all scaly, crusty skin diseases. Sent by mail for 50 cents; 3 boxes, $1.25 (in stamps) Address DR. SWAYNE & SON, Philadelphia, Pa. Sold by Druggists.

LONDON, June 7.—It is reported that Earl Granville has sent Minister West a note to be delivered to Secretary Frelinghuysen referring to the open collection in America of funds for dynamite outrages in England.

THE IRISH CONVENTION IN PARIS.

PARIS, June 7.—Rochefort's paper says several Irishmen have been warned to leave France in order to avoid early expulsion. The Irish convention called by James Stephens, head centre, will meet in Paris on the 12th July. Delegates from America, Ireland, and England are expected to attend.

FORTY LADIES NEARLY DROWNED.

GENEVA, June 7.—At the launching of a steamer on Lake Constance to-day a temporary wooden structure filled with spectators gave way, forty ladies, including the Princess of Thurn and Taxis, who christened the vessel, were precipitated into the lake. Great excitement ensued, but all were rescued without serious injury.

MESSENGERS FOR GORDON.

LONDON, June 8.—The Times says friends of Gordon have made arrangements to send messengers to Khartoum with letters and copies of reports of the debates in Parliament on the Soudan question and of the proceedings of various meetings at which the Government was urged to relieve him. Extracts from the London and provincial press will also be sent for the purpose of showing Gordon that a large section of the public favour military action to rescue him.

THE EGYPTIAN CONFERENCE.

LONDON, June 8.—Earl Granville and M. Waddington have agreed upon the basis of the conference in Egyptian affairs. They affirm the principle of a temporary occupation of Egypt by England, to which, however, no limit is fixed, and propose an international control of the powers to audit the whole system of revenue and expenses of Egypt. England recognizes the suzerain rights of the Porte throughout Egypt, including the Soudan, and France formally abandons all claim to a dual control.

SPANISH BLACK HAND ANARCHISTS.

MADRID, June 7.—The Ministers have decided that seven of the fifteen members of the Black Hand Anarchist Society condemned to death shall be executed at Jerez. The others will suffer life-long servitude.

THE KHARTOUM EXPEDITION.

LONDON, June 7.—The expedition to Khartoum will be on its way by July 28th. The Government has decided against the employment of Turkish troops in the Soudan, and all negotiations with the Port looking toward it will at once terminate.

A DISCOVERER'S PENALTY.

PARIS, June 6.—M. Pasteur has been worried to death since he announced his discovery of an antidote for hydrophobia by offers of subjects for experiments, a young lady being of the number, and by hundreds of thousands of prayers for relief by persons bitten by dogs in all parts of the world. His life is further embittered by a crusade against him by the anti-vivisectionists.

NIHILISM IN THE RUSSIAN ARMY.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 7.—Twelve artillery officers have been arrested at Odessa charged with Nihilism. Fifty male and female pupils in three High schools at Cischeneff have also been arrested on the same charge.

ANOTHER OF MONACO'S VICTIMS.

ROME, June 7.—A Swiss doctor, who had been ruined by gambling, committed suicide at Monaco to-day. This is the thirty-second suicide at Monaco this season.

OUR BANDS.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—I desire to call the attention of the music-loving community to the necessity of having a suitable place provided for the bands to play during the pleasant summer evenings. Both bands have signified their willingness to cater to the public, and we hope before next week arrives some influence will be brought to bear to have the Court House Park thrown open for the season.

There is another matter to which I would call attention. Surely with the enterprise which characterizes the people of Peterborough an electric lamp could be provided for the stand, which would enhance the beauty of the park, and would unquestionably be a great boon to the bandmen, who have always laboured under difficulties so far as light is concerned, and the public I am sure would not grumble at the slight expense incurred. Will not some of our councillors move in the matter and earn the gratitude of the music loving portion of our citizens, and of the bands by having the light put in and the park thrown open at the earliest possible date. An hour's recreation in the park is alike enjoyed by old and young, and to many invalids is like a new lease of life, With the hope that these suggestions will arouse action in the matter, I remain,

Yours sincerely,

J. FRASER,
Sec. P. F. B. Band.

Peterborough, June 9th, 1884.

OH! how tired and weak I feel I dont believe I will ever get through the Spring house-cleaning? Oh yes you will if you take a bottle or two of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters to purify your blood and tone up the system. In large bottles 50 cents.

Cured Free.

Any reader troubled with dyspepsia, costiveness, headache, liver complaint, etc., should call at John McKee's drug store and secure a free trial bottle of McGregor's Speedy Cure at once, which will convince you of the merits of the medicine. It cures permanently where all other medicines have failed. As a blood purifier it has no equal. Remember it costs nothing to try it. Regular size fifty cents and one dollar.

How to Make Candy.

This book gives full directions for making all kinds of plain and fancy candy. The receipts for making caramels, chocolate drops, French mixed and all other kinds of candies contained in this book are the same as used by the leading city confectioners. ### WHICH HORN TO CHOOSE.

THE Stratford Beacon comes to the defence of Mr. Blake, but we doubt whether the Reform leader will thank our contemporary for its damaging advocacy. The Beacon thinks that Blake should not be blamed because one of his numerous partners acted as counsel for the Section B. contractors. It alleges that Mr. Meredith defended a criminal; that Mr. Dalton McCarthy defended a criminal; that Sir J. A. Macdonald defended criminals; that Mr. Justice Cameron defended criminals; that Dr. McMichael was the partner of Mr. Justice Cameron who defended criminals, and that therefore Mr. Blake should not be blamed.

The cases are widely different. The gentlemen mentioned by our contemporary defended criminals in their legal capacity, as it was their duty to do, for a criminal has to be proved guilty by a fair trial in the interests of the public. On the other hand Mr. Blake and his friends assert that the Section B. contractors were criminals,—robbers and swindlers, and his partner did not defend them from the charge, but assisted them to swindle the people of Canada, according to Mr. Blake's view. Yet Mr. Blake remains partner in a firm, which, according to Mr. Blake's own account, has been actively aiding in swindling every Canadian. More than this, Mr. Blake is himself taking part of the money paid by men whom he himself calls robbers for assistance given to them in what he calls a robbery. Mr. Blake receives what he agrees with his firm is his fair share of the profits of all their business, including the gain from pressing on, not defending, what he himself characterizes as a fraud upon Canada.

If the claim presented by Mr. Blake's firm a a just one, and Mr. Blake and his friends are simply slandering the contractors for Section B. in order to make political capital against his successful political opponents, Mr. Blake is not sharing in the profits of a robbery, but he is no less dishonourable.

BLAINE'S NOMINATION.

THE choice made by the Republican party of the United States, of James Gillespie Blaine, of Maine, as their candidate for the Presidency, was somewhat of a surprise, for on two previous occasions, four and eight years ago, he had been at the top of the list of candidates on the first ballot, but in consequence of an obstinate deadlock with a rival, he had on these occasions to give way to the proverbial "dark horse." This time the Republicans have certainly made one improvement on their former proceedings, for they have selected perhaps the ablest and certainly the most prominent man of their party as their standard bearer, and not a man whose insignificance had prevented him from making powerful enemies.

Whether Blaine is likely to succeed in his ambition, and to lead his party to victory, it would be in vain now to speculate. It remains to be seen whether he can command the full party vote, in spite of his large majority at the convention. It was hardly concealed that with the colored delegates from the South his friends relied upon more potent arguments than oratory, and there was no pretence of concealment as to the "deal" by which Logan and his friends, threw their weight for Blaine, in consideration of his nomination for the Vice-Presidency.

Then, too, there is the same process to be carried out on the part of the Democratic party, which has not yet made its choice. As far as can be seen now, the chances of both parties are so nearly even, that New York State is likely to turn the balance whichever way it goes. If, then, the Democrats choose a strong candidate from that State, with a nominee for Vice-President who would strengthen them in the South, the West, or some other important section, they may well hope for success at last in this election, especially if none of their prominent men scare the majority of the nation from the party by any coquetting with free trade, a step that would be fatal.

These proceedings have a special interest for Canada, now that some of the Reform leaders or journalists are hinting at annexation and others at independence. In the one case we would share in all this turmoil, and in the other we would have to adopt a somewhat similar course. Without touching upon the question of loyalty, we are convinced that the vast majority of the people of this Dominion feel satisfied that they are better off—have less disturbance and less expense with an hereditary monarch, and a nominated viceroy, than with a national chief selected by such means. Not only do such conventions as that at Chicago cost a great expenditure of time and money, but even that is not the beginning of the process. The delegates themselves had to be chosen, and that this was not effected without considerable friction is manifest from the fact that there were many disputed elections to this body. The other great party has to go through a similar ordeal, and that is far from being the end. There is the main election of members of the electoral college, with canvassing, stump-speaking, gigantic election funds, and other "human devices," which surpass all our experience in our fiercest political contests. And even that is not all, for the electoral college itself has to pronounce between the candidates, with the possibility of a "count out," and of long-continued wranglings over the fairness of the proceedings.

Even placed on the ground of the expense alone, we are certain that an hereditary monarch, as in the United Kingdom, or a Viceroy, as in the Dominion of Canada, costs the people far less than an elected President, as in the United States. That either in the Mother Country or in Canada the people have far more direct and immediate control over their Government than is the case in the United States, is another great advantage that we possess.

CANADIAN INDEPENDENCE.

Hon. William McDougall's Views on the Subject.

The Free Press publishes the following interview recently held with the Hon. William McDougall:—

"Do you think that Canadian independence is likely to become a popular party cry in Canada at an early date?"

"I do not. The Canadian people for all practical purposes are independent now. When the Imperial Parliament passed the Union Act of 1867, without objection in either House, and gave power to the Parliament of Canada, the power and right as against all the world to make laws for the peace, order and good of the government of Canada, and as against the local legislatures, or rather inclusive of them to make laws upon "all matters" without limit or restriction, relating to "militia, military and naval service and defence," "navigation and shipping," "postal service," "currency and coinage," and "trade and commerce" generally, to say nothing of the other specified matters—specified only as regards the provinces—I think the Imperial Parliament, as far as it could, made Canada independent."

CANADA ENJOYS SPECIAL POWERS.

"Is not Canada still regarded as a colony and the laws she makes subject to disallowance?"

"Nominally, yes. But her case is sui generis. No other colony of England ever had, no colony now enjoys, so much independence. The tie that binds her is but a silken thread. I cannot recall, at any moment, any case of disallowance, since Confederation, of a law within the constitutional competency of our parliament, merely on the ground of a difference of opinion between the Imperial and Canadian authorities as to its expediency. Every year that passes increases our national stature and lessens the probability of motherly restraint or interference."

"But you still admit we are not a nation?"

"We are not yet compelled to take our place in the family of independent nations and assume the burdens, risks and duties of that position, but looking at our geographical position, and the origin and industrial pursuits of our widely scattered population, I cannot help thinking that our present form of nationality is the very best we could select if we had the option given us to-day."

DO THE YOUNG FAVOR INDEPENDENCE?

"What do you think of the agitation for independence, especially among the younger class of politicians?"

"I have seen no evidence of such agitation, except an occasional lucubration by some anonymous irresponsible newspaper correspondent, or 'speculative' politician out of office. And even as to these, it seemed to me that annexation was always what was meant, though Independence was the word used. What is sometimes called "commercial independence," the right of Canada to bargain with other countries as to the terms on which we and they shall interchange commodities, is not consistent with our present relations with the English Crown. I thought so, and so argued at the colonial office, as a Minister of the Crown; as chairman of the commission on Trade to the West Indes, Mexico, and Brazil; I said so as Independent member of Parliament in 1882 when I voted for Mr. Blake's commercial treaty resolutions; I am of the same opinion now as a private citizen. I doubt if there are many influential politicians in Canada either young or old who are prepared to cut the connection for the complete independence you speak of."

SIR RICHARD CRITICISED.

"What do you think about absurd statements which some of the Consertative editors pretended to hold up to the effect that Sir Richard Cartwright is aiming at the leadership of the Liberal party, and that his utterances concerning independence are for the purpose of capturing the young men?"

"My opinion on such questions—being out of politics, and not at present anxious to reenter that field—is hardly worth the space it would occupy if stated. Sir Richard is a Canadian, a Privy Councillor, (though not of the cabinet) a large property holder, a man skilled in one of the most important departments of the administration, an experienced parliamentarian, and a logical and fluent speaker; but he is not a leader of men, young or old. He may aim at the leadership of the Liberal party, but I doubt if he will ever win their confidence or lead them to victory. They have a very able leader now. He has some of Sir Richard's faults, and though constitutionally a Tory, he is by education and political training, a liberal. He has made great professional sacrifices to serve his party, and they would deserve to be kept in outer darkness for the remainder of their lives, if they deserted him for an ingrained Tory like Sir Richard. No sir, the "young men" of the party will not be caught by the speculative theories of the Opera House. Mr. Blake made a mistake of that kind once, and the result ought to have been a warning to Sir Richard. The "Parliament of the World" is too remote. My experience of the Canadian voter is that he speculates in a practical direction."

GOLDWIN SMITH ANALYZED.

"What do you think of Goldwin Smith's contradictory utterances on the subject of Canadian independence, annexation and Imperial federation, which are so freely commented on by the Canadian and American press?"

"I think they are the irresponsible utterances of a literary Bohemian, who is very well read in the world's history, writes remarkably good English, is never happy unless he can find some one to admonish or birch; and would reconstruct the universe, if his power were equal to his confidence in his ability to improve it; but he understands very little of the political history, habits, genius, wants, opinions or aspirations of the Canadian people. In the schoolmaster's role, he had succeeded pretty well; as a political teacher, his influence in Canada, so far as my observation extends, has not been a success. On the Irish question he has permitted his personal antipathies to run away with his judgment, and I fear, to pervert history, which is much to be regretted. Mr. Godkin, the able editor of the New York Nation, has demonstrated this in a very calm review of Mr. Smith's position on that question. You will find it in the N. Y. Tribune of the 1st inst."

A Very Special Report.

The Ottawa Free Press contains the following very interesting "special" telegram under the heading of "Death of Lady Lansdowne's Brother":—

"London, June 4.—[Special]—Lord Glaud John Hamilton, M.P. for Liverpool, and second son of the Duke of Abercorn is dead. He was a conservative in politics and formerly represented Londonderry. His sister is Lady Lansdowne, wife of the Governor General of Canada. Lord Glaud was 41 years of age."

This information would have been more valuable but for several trifling inaccuracies. Lady Lansdowne's brother is not dead; the deceased nobleman is not named "Glaud"; he was not named "John"; he was not M. P. for Liverpool; he was not the second son of the Duke of Abercorn; he did not formerly represent Londonderry; Lady Lansdowne was not his sister; and he was many years older than 41. With these small exceptions we believe the account is correct Who could have telegraphed such rubbish "specially" to our enterprising contemporary?

Fall of a Meteorite.

It is reported that the French Academy of Sciences has just received an interesting account of a meteorite which fell not long ago near Odessa. A bright serpentine trail of fire was seen one morning to pass over that town; and the editor of one of the papers, surmising that a meteoric mass might have fallen from the sky, offered a reward to any one who would bring it to him. A peasant, who had been terribly frightened by the stone falling close to him as he worked in the fields, and burying itself in the ground, answered this appeal. He had dug the stone out of the soil, and preserved it, keeping the matter quite secret from his neighbors, as he feared ridicule. This stone was found to be a shapeless mass weighing nearly eighteen pounds. The fall of another meteorite, which in its descent wounded a man, was also reported; but it had been broken into fragments and distributed among the peasants, who preserved them as talismans.

"Hütto, Tex., Sept. 28, 1882. ULCEROUS "At the age of two years one of SORES my children was terribly afflicted with ulcerous running sores on its face and neck. At the same time its eyes were swollen, much inflamed, and very sore. SORE EYES Physicians told us that a powerful alterative medicine must be employed. They united in recommending AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. A few doses produced a perceptible improvement, which, by an adherence to your directions, was continued to a complete and permanent cure. No evidence has since appeared of the existence of any scrofulous tendencies; and no treatment of any disorder was ever attended by more prompt or effectual results.

Yours truly, B. F. JOHNSON."

INFELICE.

By AUGUSTA J. EVANS WILSON

Author of "St. Elmo," "Beulah," "Micaria,"

CHAPTER XIII CONTINUED.

He leaned forward, eying her keenly.

"That you will do exactly——"

"As I please?" he interrupted:

"No, Sir—exactly right."

"That amounts to the same thing, does it not?"

She shook her head.

"Your impression is, that I will not please to do exactly right?"

"I have not said so, Sir."

"Your eyes are very brave, honest witnesses, and need no support from your lips. Suppose we enter into negotiations and compromise matters between Mrs. Palma and you? This troublesome dog is a pestiferous creature, which might possibly be tolerated in country clover fields; but is most woefully out of place in a Fifth Avenue house. Besides, you will soon be a young lady, and your beaux will leave you no leisure to pet him. You are fifteen?"

"Not yet; and if I were fifty it would make no difference. I don't want any beaux, Sir—but—I must have my Hero."

"Of course, all misses in their teens believe that their favourite is a hero."

"Mr. Palma—Hero is my dog's name."

He could detect a quiver in her slender nostril and understood the heightening arch of her lip.

"Oh! is it indeed? Well, no dog that ever barked is worth a household hurricane."

"You would [illegible] yourself away, sooner than that unlucky dog."

"I belong to my mother. But he belongs to me, and I never, never will part with him."

"Facta est alea!" muttered the lawyer, still smiling.

"Do you think you burden me?"

"I believe, Sir, that you are willing, for mother's sake, to do all you can for me, and I thank you very much; but I must not bring trouble or annoyance into your family. Can't you place me at some school? Mrs. Lindsay has a dear friend—the widow of a minister, living in New York—and perhaps she would take me to board in her house? I have a letter to her. Do help me to go away from here."

He turned quickly, muttering something that sounded very like a half-smothered oath, and took her little trembling hand, folding it gently between his soft warm palms.

"Little girl—be patient; and in time all things will be conquered. As long as I have a home, I intend to keep you; or until your mother sends for you. She trusts me fully, and you must try to do so, even though sometimes I may appear harsh, possibly unjust."

"Please, Mr. Palma! send me to a boarding-school; or take me back to the convent."

"Never?"

He spoke sternly, and his face suddenly hardened, while his fingers tightened over hers, like a glove of steel.

"I shall never be contented here."

"That remains to be seen."

"Mrs. Palma does not wish me to reside here."

"It is my house, and in future you will find no cause to doubt your welcome."

She chose neither to argue nor acquiesce, and slowly shook her head.

"Regina."

She merely lifted her eyes.

"I want you to be happy in my house."

"Thank you, sir."

"Don't speak in that sarcastic manner. It does not sound respectful to one's guardian."

She was growing paler, and all her old aversion to him was legible in her countenance.

"Let us be friends. Try to be a patient, cheerful girl."

"Patient—I will try. Cheerful—no—no—not here! How can I be happy in this house? Am I a brute, or a stone? Oh! I wish I could have died with my dear—dear Mr. Hargrove—that calm night when he went to rest for ever, while I sang?"

One by one the tears stole over her long lashes, and rolled swiftly down her cheeks.

"Will you tell me the circumstances of his death?"

"Please do not ask me now. It would bring back all the sad things that began when Mr. Lindsay left me. Everything was so bright until then—until he went away. Since then nothing but trouble—trouble."

A frown clouded the lawyer's brow, then, with a half smile, he asked:—

"Of the two ministers, whom did you love best? Mr. Hargrove or the young missionary?"

"I do not know, both were so noble, good and kind; and both are so very dear to me. Mr. Palma, please let go my hand; you hurt me."

"Pardon me! I forgot I held it."

He opened his hands, and looking down at the almost childish fingers, saw that his seal ring had pressed heavily upon, and reddened the soft palm.

"I did not intend to bruise you so painfully, but in some respects you are such a tender little thing, and I am only a harsh, selfish, strong man, and hurt you without knowing it. One word more, if you require anything that has not been supplied in your room, do not hesitate to ring your bell and order it. Try to feel at home."

"Thank you, sir."

She moved a few steps, and he added:

"Do not imagine that Hero is suffering all the torments painted in Dante's "Inferno," but go to sleep like a good child, and accept my assurance that he is resting quite comfortably. When I came home I took a light, went out and examined his kennel; found him liberally provided with food, water, bed—every accommodation that even your dog—which all New York can't buy—could possibly wish. Good night, little one. Don't dream that I am Blue Beard or Polyphemus."

"Good-night, Mr. Palma."

CHAPTER XV.

"Mrs. Orme, I am afraid you will overtax your strength. You seem to forget the doctor's caution."

"No, I am not in the least fatigued, and this soft fresh air and sunshine will benefit me more than all the medicine in your ugly vials. Mrs. Waul, recollect that I have been shut up for two months in a close room, and this change is really delicious."

"You have no idea how pale you look."

"Do I? No wonder, bleached as I have been, in a dark house. I daresay you are tired, and I insist that you sit yonder and rest yourself, while I stroll a little further. No—keep the shawl, throw it around your shoulders, which seem afflicted with a chronic chill. Here is a New York paper; feast on American news till I come back."

Upon a seat in the garden of the Tuileries, Mrs. Orme placed her grey-haired Duenna attendant, and gathering her black lace drapery around her, turned away into one of the broad walks that divided the flower-bordered lawns.

Thin, almost emaciated, she appeared far taller than when last she swept across the stage and having thrown back her veil, a startling and painful alteration was visible in the face—that had so completely captivated fastidious Paris.

Pallid as Mors, the cheeks had lost their symmetrical oval—were hollow, and under the sunken eyes clung dusky circles that made them appear unnaturally large and almost Dantesque in their mournful gleaming. Even the lips seemed shrunken—changed in their classic contour, and the ungloved hand that clasped the folds of lace across her bosom was wasted, wan, diaphanous.

That brilliant Parisian career, which had opened so auspiciously, closed summarily during the second week of her engagement in darkness that threatened to prove the unlifting shadow of death. The severe tax upon her emotional nature, the continued intense strain on her nerves, as night after night she played to crowded houses—shunning, as if it contained a basilisk, the sight of that memorable box, where she felt rather than saw that a pair of violet eyes steadily watched her—all this had conquered even her powerful will—her stern resolute purpose, and one fatal evening the long-tired woman was irretrievably vanquished.

The role was "Queen Katherine," and the first premonitory faintness rendered her voice uneven, as, kneeling before King Henry the unhappy wife uttered her appeal:

". . . . . Alas, Sir,—
In what have I offended you? What cause
Hath my behaviour given to your displeasure,
That thus you should proceed to put me off,
And take your good grace from me? Heaven witness,
I have been to you a true and humble wife."

As the play proceeded she was warned by increasing giddiness and a tremulousness that defied her efforts to control it; and she rushed on towards the close, fighting desperately with physical prostration.

Upon the last speech of the dying and dethroned wife she had safely entered, and a few more minutes would end her own fierce struggle with numbing faintness, and bring her succour in rest. But swiftly the blazing footlights began to dance like witches of Walpurgis night on Brocken heights—now they flickered—suddenly grew blue—then black—an icy darkness as of some ghoul-haunted crypt seized her—and while she threw out her hands with a strange groping motion, like a bird beating the air with dying wings, her own voice sounded far off—a mere fading echo:

"Farewell—farewell. Nay, Patience——"

She could only hear a low hum, as of myraids of buzzing bees; she realized that she must speak louder, and thus blind, shivering, reeling, she made her last brave rally:

". . . . Strew me o'er
With maiden flowers, that all the world may know
I was a chaste wife to my grave—embalm
Then lay me forth; although unqueened,—yet—
Yet—like—like"——

The trembling shadowy voice ceased; the lips moved to utter the few remaining words, but no sound came. The wide eyes stared blankly at the vast audience, where people held their breath, watching the ghastly livid pallor that actually settled upon the face of the dying Queen, and in another instant, the proud lovely head dropped like a lily, and she fell forward senseless.

As the curtain was rung hastily down, Mr. Laurance leaned from his box, and hurled upon the stage a large crown of white roses, which struck the shoulder of the prostrate figure, and shattering, scattered their snowy peals over the marble face and golden hair.

The enthusiastic acclaim of hundreds of voices announced the triumph of the magnificent acting; but after repeated calls and prolonged applause, during which she lay unconscious, the audience was briefly informed that Madame Orme was too seriously indisposed to appear again, and receive the tribute she had earned at such fearful cost.

Recovering slowly from the long swoon, she was carefully wrapped up, and led away, supported by the arms of Mr. Waul and his wife. As they lifted her into the carriage at the rear entrance of the theatre, she sank heavily back upon the cushions, failing to observe a manly form leaning against the neighboring lamp-post—or to recognize the handsome face where the gas shone full, lighting up the anxious blue eyes that followed her.

For several days she was too languid to move from her couch, where she persisted in reclining, supported by pillows, still struggling against the prostration that hourly increased, and at last the disease asserted itself, fever ensued, bringing unconsciousness and delirium.

Not the scorching violent type that rapidly consumes the vital forces, but a low tenacious fever that baffled all opposition, and steadily gained ground, creeping upon the nerve centre, and sapping the foundation of life.

For many weeks there seemed no hope of rescue, and two physicians distinguished by skill and success in their profession, finally admitted that they were powerless to cope with this typhoid serpent, whose tightening folds were gradually strangling her.

England and Egypt.

But England has interfered, and she has now Egypt on her hands. The native Government is a total wreck, and while England hesitates, and all the Powers are jealousy themselves up to their jealousy of her, or of each other, Egyptian society is sinking into anarchy and ruin. An onlooker can hardly help thinking that, having gone so far, it would be wisdom to go boldly on, to terminate the uncertainty and the confusion which it breeds, by openly assuming the Protectorate, say for a period of ten years, and to explain to France, with all possible courtesy, the absolute necessity of the step. The chances are ten to one that France, though she might grumble, would do nothing worse; she has the renewal of war with Germany before her, and she would scarcely care to provide her destined adversary with the greatest maritime power as an ally.—Bystander

The Murder of William Carr.

The inquest in the Carr murder case was resumed on Friday evening, before Coroner Johnston and jury in the Police Court building. Nothing which seemed likely to give a clue to the tragedy was obtained. Several witnesses were examined, but the main question as to who struck the fatal blow remained unanswered.

Pimples and Blotches.

Call at John McKee's drug store and get a package of McGregor and Parke's Carbolic Cerate. It is composed of vaseline carbolic acid and cerate, and has never failed to remove pimples, blotches, ulcerated sores, rough skin it cures when all others fail. Try it.

A New Principle.

The principle upon which Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor acts is entirely new. It does not sink deep into the flesh, thereby producing soreness, but acts directly upon the external covering of the corn, separates it from the under layer, removes the direct pressure from the parts, and at once effects a radical cure, without any pain or discomfort. Let those who are suffering from corns, yet sceptical of treatment, try it, and by the completeness of the cure they will be ready to recommend Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor to others.

The Housewife.

A popular domestic journal for American homes, will be sent for one year free to every lady who will send at once the names and address of 10 married ladies, and 50 cents (no stamps taken). Best paper for either young or old housekeepers in existence. This offer is made only to secure names to whom to send sample copies, as we know every lady who once sees THE HOUSEWIFE will subscribe for it at once. Regular price $1 per year. Address, the HOUSEWIFE, Rochester, N. Y.

"MAY DEW"

The Great French Lotion for Beautifying the Face.

It conceals the evidence of age. One application will make the most stubborn ly red and rough hands beautifully soft and white. Remember that "MAY DEW" is not a paint or powder that fills up the pores of the skin, and that is injurious to the skin, but a new and great discovery, a vegetable liquid, that causes the cheek to glow with health, the neck, arms and hands to rival the Lily in whiteness. Impossible to detect in the beauty it confers any artificial character. It cures Greasy Skin, Freckles, Wrinkles, Pimples, Black Heads, Crow's Feet, Blotches, Face Grubs, Sun Burn, Tan, Ringworms, Chapped Hands, Sore or Chapped Lips, Barber's Itch, Tetter, etc. It frees the pores, oil glands, and tubes from the injurious effects of powders and cosmetic washes. By its use all redness and roughness are prevented; it beautifies the skin, and will make it soft, smooth and white; imparting a delicious softness, producing a perfectly healthy, natural, and youthful appearance. The best face lotion that the world ever produced. We will send "A LARGE BOTTLE" to any address on receipt of price $1. When ordering mention this paper.

Quite Correct

The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, counting from one o'clock this morning, as reported from the Toronto observatory, are as follows:—Southerly shifting to notherly winds, fair to cloudy, decidedly warm weather with local thunderstorms and showers.

A Runaway.

A team of horses attached to an ice waggon ran away on George street this afternoon, south of Charlotte street. They ran north as far as the market, and the waggon striking on the high sidewalk threw one of them off its feet and stopped both. A broken whiffletree was the result.

Trotting Races.

The spring meeting at the Belleville driving park will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, June 24th, 25th and 26th. Trotting under the rules of the National Trotting Association. The purses aggregate $1,500, besides gold and silver medals to be competed for by bicyclists. The Intelligencer of Saturday says:

"An excursion is now being gotten up in Peterborough, for the purpose of enabling the citizens of that live town to witness the trotting meeting which opens on the Driving Park here on the 24th. It is expected that the attendance will be very large.

Narrow Minded Authorities.

The Lindsay Post of last week says:—

"The body of the unfortunate man, Cossen, who threw himself under the wheels of a locomotive on Thursday morning of last week, was taken from the track and placed temporarily in the baggage room at the old station. Then a dispute rose as to who should defray the funeral expenses—the municipality of Lindsay or the railway. After a delay of several hours, Mr. W. B. Ferguson, feeling that remonstrance would only provoke further delay, ordered the body to be buried at his own expense. We understand the practice has been for the town to provide for the burial of indigents or tramps, and it is to be regretted that a narrow and petty spirit has been displayed by some of the municipal authorities in this matter. The circumstance has been a cause of great annoyance to the railway authorities, and it was not worth while, for the small amount involved to display a feeling which the good sense of the community would, we are confident, condemn. The Council should reimburse Mr. Ferguson for the outlay he has incurred."

DROWNING ACCIDENT!

AN ITALIAN LOSSES HIS LIFE TRYING TO SAVE TWO DOLLARS.

He Enters the River Otonabee after the Bank Note and Perishes Before the Eye of His Brother—The Body Recovered.

On Saturday evening, between seven and eight o'clock, an Italian named Nichola Ferugia, was drowned in the Otonabee river, in the presence of his brother and one or two others, who were unable to save him.

The accident occurred at the Ontario and Quebec Bridge. Nichola, his brother and one or two others were crossing the bridge, and were talking about making some purchases that would assist them in spending Sunday enjoyably. Nichola took his purse, which contained about $50, out of his pocket, to separate one bill, with which he intended to pay for the purchase, from the remainder. As he did so, the wind took the note out of his hand and carried it into the river. They were then standing on the span of the bridge next the Ashburnham shore.

The men could see the bill on the water. Nichola, not wishing to see money that he had labored hard to earn pass from him so easily, tried to recover it. He ran to the bank of earth between the two spans of the bridge, and then down to the edge of the water. A point of gravel ran out into the water a short distance, and the Italian walked out on it. He reached out for the bill, but in doing so he stepped off the gravel and into a hole that was quite deep.

His countrymen on the bridge saw him sink in the water, and, although they shouted loudly for help, they were unable to render him any assistance themselves, as not one of the party could swim. Nichola rose to the top of the water two or three times, but appeared to make no effort to save himself. He, like those watching him, was unable to swim, and he sank again into the water and was drowned.

One of the Italians who saw the accident ran to the house in Ashburnham where a number of the sons of Italy live, and gave the alarm, which brought a number of them to the shore of the river. Other persons were also attracted by the shouts of the Italians, and a search at once began for the body. The brother of the unfortunate man was almost distracted with grief, and it was certainly a sad sight to see his brother thus perish before his eyes.

On Sunday morning, at about ten o'clock, the body was found within a foot or two of the place where the Italian was last seen. It was taken to the Italians' house, where he also had lived, and was placed in a coffin. It was kept there until to-day, and was then buried.

When found, the purse was still held by one hand, while in the other he held the two dollar bill which he had lost his life in trying to save.

The unfortunate man had a wife and two children in his native land. He was employed on the Ontario and Quebec railway, and had worked up to the evening on which he was drowned.

Pencil Points.

—This day 14 years ago Charles Dickens died.

—A heavy thunder shower shortly before noon, followed by a steady fall of rain.

—Three persons were baptised in the Baptist Church on Sunday evening by the Rev. A. H. Munro.

—The rain-guage must have shown some interesting figures this morning.

—Between noon on Saturday and this morning twenty-five stray animals were impounded. Who says the cow by-law is not enforced?

—The Saved Army meetings are still well attended. There was a full house at the meeting in the Opera House on Sunday evening.

—Two melancholy (or merry) moneyless meanderers lodged in the cells on Saturday night. One prisoner kept them company on each night.

—To-day's shower has been the first in two weeks, and there was but a single one in the week previous to these.

—The Lindsay reporters are carrying out a laudable resolve they recently made, as the following paragraph, inserted in parenthesis in the Post's report of the Town Council Meeting, shows:—"Ten o'clock had now struck. In consequence of a reportorial vow no speeches made after that hour are reported."

THE LATE MR. H. G. VENNOR.

Death of the Celebrated Weather Prophet, Geologist and Mineralogist.

We have just learned from a telegram received by his brother-in-law, Mr. J. H. Roper, of the Bank of Toronto, that Mr. Henry G. Vennor, of the Geological Survey, the celebrated weather prophet, died at Montreal on Sunday, and is to be burried on Tuesday. Mr. Vennor's name has been for some years widely known throughout the continent, and his prognostication of the coming season will be greatly missed. Mr. Roper will have much sympathy in these repeated losses, as this is the third death in the family within as many months, Mr. Vennor's brother having died in April and his father in May. A daughter of Mr. Roper's is also only convalescent after a severe illness.

POLICE COURT.

BOYS IN COURT.

MONDAY, June 9.—Five small boys answered to their names. They were charged by Constable Pidgeon with bathing in a public place. The boys were bathing in the creek on Sunday afternoon, near Mr. Hamilton's foundry, when Constable Pidgeon came upon them, and took down the names of eight of them. They were allowed to go with a caution.

LARCENY.

James Gorman was charged by O. Laplante with having stolen several articles of wearing apparel off a clothes line. He pleaded guilty, and said that he had been drinking, or he would not have done it. He sold the articles to some Italians who were camped about a mile from the town. A search warrant was made out to recover the goods, and Gorman was remanded until Tuesday morning.

Among the Places of Interest.

Conspicuous among the places of interest which the rising city of Peterborough can boast of is the "Golden Lion" Dry Goods Store. Situated in the centre and on the best side of George street, and noted for formidably prominent signs, strangers can hardly fail to have their attention drawn to this the finest and most eligible business stand in the "Plate Glass City." It is within easy access to the principal hotels, banks and Post Office, and only one block away from the Market Square. There is something business-like about the place which cannot fail to leave an impression on passers-by and tempt customers inside. With large heavy plate glass show windows, and elegant goods to adorn them, and a massive golden lion sign over the door, Messrs. Fair, VanEvery & Co. are doubtless among the best known dry goods merchants in the Midland district.—Notes from a Traveller.

SPORTING NOTES.

Repairs and improvements to Kingston, Ont., track are costing $2,000.

An archery, lawn tennis, and cricket club is being organized at Point St. Charles, Montreal.

A glove fight at New York lately between Charles Lange, champion heavy weight of Ohio, and Michael Dempsey for $500 a side was declared a draw after three rounds had been fought.

A number of Ontario horses leave this week for Montreal for the coming meeting there of the Quebec Turf Club. The Alexander stable sends Loyd Daly, Scalper, Baccarat, and Gilt Edge. Owens goes with Tally-no, Blanton, Minnie Meteor, and Defiance. Oakdale, Modjeska, Jim Ferris, and Rienzi also will probably run at the meeting.

A Note of Warning to Suffering Hunanity.

We feel that we would be wanting in the duty that we owe to humanity if we did not sound a note of warning in regard to the use of mercury and other poisonous minerals in the treatment of blood and skin diseases. If the reader could see the horrible suffering, the awful wrecks of human health and happiness, shown by our correspondence with those who have been dosed with these mineral poisons, he would shudder with horror. Arsenic, mercury, antimony, and iodide of potassium, are some of the remedies most ordinarily used for these diseases, and they are all poison. Do not take these poisons. They might dry up your disease for a few days, but it will surely return, and with it you will have mercurial rheumatism, which may bring you years of torture. Shaker Blood Syrup will invigorate you and build you up, and force all poison out through the pores of your skin, and cure you sound and well.

SHAKER BLOOD SYRUP

cures completely scrofula, syphilis, rheumatism, cancer, catarrh, and skin and blood diseases of every description. Sold everywhere, $1 a bottle, or six for $5.

Try MORGAN'S Blue Grass Condition Powders for Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Hogs, and Poultry. Best in use only 25 cents. Find Morgan's Drug Store.

PHOSPHATINE, a name which to every intelligent mind, professional or otherwise, is a key to its composition. No safer, purer, more palatable and more effective compound has ever been offered in cases of nervous exhaustion and pulmonary consumption. For sale by all druggists.

A Great Discovery

That is daily bringing joy to the homes of thousands by saving many of their dear ones from an early grave, truly is Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, hay fever, loss of voice, tickling in the throat, pain in side and chest, or any disease of the throat and lungs, a positive cure guaranteed. Trial bottles free at Taylor and McDonald's drug store. Large size $1.

A Card.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D., New York City.

Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint.

Is it not worth the small price of 75 cents to free yourself of every symptom of those distressing complaints? If you think so call at our store and get a bottle of Shiloh's vitalizer. Every bottle has a printed guarantee on it, use accordingly, and if it does you no good it will cost you nothing. Sold by J. D. Tully.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain and cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

BECAUSE—It is the Safest. The Mutual principle with a reserve basis, according to experience, has never failed.

BECAUSE—Our Money is kept at home, invested in Ontario.

BECAUSE—It receives larger interest on investments than foreign companies. Therefore, it can, and does, pay Larger Dividends to Policy Holders.

BECAUSE—It is the Peoples' Company. All the insured have an equal voice in selecting directors

BECAUSE—It has $102,000.00 deposited with the Dominion Government, and a large surplus besides, filling the Government standard of reserve.

BECAUSE—Its Premium income for 1883 was more than 10 times that of 1873.

BECAUSE—Its Death ratio has been less than any other Company in Canada, since its comencement.

BECAUSE—Its Policies have a definite cash, and paid up value attached to each, and are positively nonforfeitable excepting for fraud.

BECAUSE—Its claims were all paid last year on an average of ½ day after proofs were completed.

SAMUEL CURR'S MURDER.

The Inquest Continued—The Coroner's Charge—Verdict of Murder.

The inquest on the body of Samuel Curr was resumed on Monday night at the Police Court buildings before Coroner Johnson and a jury. Detective Reburn was the only witness examined; he was, however, the most important yet heard. A chief point elucidated was the fact that John Falvey's shirt was found stained with blood.

The corner, in summing up, reminded the jury of the altercation between Mrs. Jeffrey and Curr; of the peculiar conduct of the former after the affair; and of Falvey's excited state the removal of the body.

The jury then retired, and in about three-quarters of an hour returned the following verdict:—"That Hattie Jeffrey and John Falvey, on the 27th day of May, 1884, at Edward street, in the city of Toronto, did feloniously, wilfully, and of their malice aforethought kill and murder one Samuel Curr."

The prisoners and defendants other than Jeffrey and Falvey, together with the witnesses, were bound each in the sum of $200 to appear before the Criminal Assizes at its next sittting to give evidence for the prosecution.

Men arrived at Wadyhalfa from Dongola report Khartoun strongly fortified, and abundance of wheat there. The Nile is rising rapidly and the rebels, fearing the arrival of an army from Cairo, are about to retire to Kordofan.

Toronto, Canada, 1834—1884.

Speaking of the approaching semi-centennial celebration to be held in Toronto, the Scientific American coolly remarks:—Toronto is one of the few cities outside of the United States on our northern border which seem enough like ourselves in the go-aheadativeness, intelligence, and thrift of its inhabitants to really form an integral part of the Great Republic, instead of forming, as it does, a pleasant neighbor under a "foreign" flag. The city celebrates its semi-centennial from the 30th of June to the 5th of July next, and on one side of the card containing the elaborate programme are views of the "then" and "now"—one being a pleasantly located hamlet, with windmill and Indian canoe in the foreground, and the other a great and handsomely laid out city, with the evidences of a large lake commerce and prosperous industries. The jollification should be a hearty one.

The Murray Canal.

BRIGHTON, June 7.—Messrs. Silcox & Mowry, contractors for the Murray Canal, have three dredges working at the west end of the canal. Two of them are over half a mile up the cut and the third at the entrance. They have cut through the roadway and a floating bridge now takes the place of the old bank that was used as a crossing. Messrs. Silcox and Mowry have removed all their plant from the Presqu' Isle end to make room for dredges of Capt. Murry and Mr. Dunbar. Capt. Murry's dredge is working at the western end at present dredging for the piers. Some of Mr. Dunbar's men are here getting ready for the dredges which are expected in a few days.

An Alleged Conspiracy.

Vice-Chancellor Proudfoot, chairman of the commission appointed by the Ontario Legislature to investigate the charges accusing Messrs. Bunting, Meek, Wilkinson and Kirkland of having attempted to bribe certain members of the Legislature, will hold a preliminary public meeting for the purpose of opening the commission, and announcing the time of proceeding with the enquiry in Osgoode hall on Saturday next, at twelve o'clock noon.

KINGSTON.

FATAL PISTOL ACCIDENT.—A most melancholy fatal accident occurred here on Sunday morning about 8 o'clock. Two little boys, Peter and Thomas O'Neil, aged four and seven years, were playing in bed while the parents and other inmates of the house were downstairs. Peter suggested that they play policeman, when Thomas went to the coat pocket of his brother John and secured a revolver and went back to bed. Peter then said, "Now, I'm a robber, and when I go to run away, you fire at me." The little fellow had but moved when his brother raised the revolver after having cocked it and sent a bullet crashing through his brain. The child dropped and never spoke after, death taking place about noon.

A Novelist's Epitaph.

The late Charles Reade wrote his own epitaph, which is accordingly to be inscribed on his tombstone. Here is a copy of it:

Here lie,
By the Side of his Beloved Friend, the Mortal Remains of
CHARLES READE,
Dramatist, Novelist and Journalist.
His last Words to Mankind are on this Stone.
I hope for a resurrection, not from any power in nature, but from the will of the Lord God Omnipotent, who made nature and me. He created man out of nothing; which nature could not. He can restore man from the dust, which nature cannot. And I hope for holiness and happiness in a future life, not for anything I have said or done in this body, but from the merits and meditation of Jesus Christ. He has promised His intercession to all who seek it, and He will not break His word: that intercession, once granted, cannot be rejected; for He is God, and His merits infinite; a man's sins are but human and finite. "Him that cometh to me, I will in nowise cast out." "If any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the Righteous, and He is the propitiation for our sins."

Wall Street News.

NEW YORK, June 9.—At the opening of the stock market to-day the strength of the Gould stock gave tone to the market. The Vanderbilts wavered, and West Shore bonds were weak. Western Union was strong on good buying on the strength of favorable reports to be issued. The earnings from the best offices for the last week are said by President Green to have been very large, and much in excess of those for the corresponding week of last year. It is also expected, from statements made by officers of the company, that the next quarterly statement will be very favourable.—Mail.

Algoma Election Case.

The Court of Appeal delivered judgment on Monday morning on the motion recently made to restore the paragraphs to the petition in the Algoma case struck out by Mr. Justice Burton, charging corruption against the members of the Ontario Cabinet. The Court considered that the charges made could be investigated under other paragraphs of the petition, and therefore thought it unnecessary to interfere. An order was made extending the time for trial for three months.

SHAM INDEPENDENCE.

IT is rather amusing to see Sir Richard Cartwright posing as the champion of independence, when he himself is but the creature and plaything of circumstance. He left his old party because his insatiable vanity was wounded by one more able being preferred to him for a coveted post. He joined his new allies because his vanity was gratified by his being placed in a position which he showed himself so disgustingly unfitted to fill. Even his present seat in the House he only holds as the henchman of his party leader, who thrust him into the place of an other dependent, in the same spirit as the old borough monger, who threatened to seat his black footman if he chose.

He is not even able to form an idea for himself but must borrow it ready made; even his disastrous and illfated tariff policy, for which he is chiefly notorious, was but a servile imitation from a country, the tie with which he suggests repudiating. In theory it is but the musty dogma of closet philosophers, who thought they could induce the universe to join in reciprocal free exchanges. In practice it is but the device of selfish manufacturers in the North of England and South of Scotland, who having been built up by protection till they had secured the command of the world's markets, thought that by the delusive cry of "free-trade," they could secure cheaper food and so lower wages for their operatives. The Cobden, Brights et al, were noted "hard masters," and they took care that if the loaf was cheaper the saving in price should go into their own pockets, not those of their scantily paid "hands." This is the sham free-trade, but really a bad form of protection in disguise, that our knight of the two faced shield would have us imitate in our very different circumstances. But while he would copy the mother land slavishly in a policy that does not suit us, he would have us dissociate ourselves from the Empire of which we are proud to form an important part. And this because having borrowed the idea somewhere, he thinks that now having sunk to his natural level, any up setting of the present order of things might by some chance bring him nearer to the top.

WHAT A Q.C. MAY DO.

MR. S. H. Blake has been white washed. A little knot of lawyers, who, with one exception, represented not the profession, but the ultra Reformers, the Blakes and the Globe, have declared that the charges were "utterly groundless" after they had carefully prevented any grounds from being afforded by suggesting that no evidence need be given, as they could not compel it. The majority of the Committee of the Benchers of the Law Society of Ontario evidently care for less for the honor of the profession than for their political prejudice, but the facts are too well known for Mr. Blake to wipe off the stain. His own political friends have made no secret of the fact that in this town at the chancery sitttings, Mr. Blake volunteered unsolicited and needless services; that his firm endeavored to extort $50 under this pretence; and that the extortion was indignantly repudiated by a legal firm of his own political views. These Benchers have white washed their political friend, but they have given scoffers good reason for estimating very lightly the etiquette of the profession, which forgives in the case of one of its shining lights conduct of such a nature.

The Canadian Gold Reserve.

Bradstreet's, discussing the subject of "Canadian legal tenders" in connection with the recent Wall street difficulties and the shipment of gold to the United States, says:—"With 40 per cent. of the Canadian Bank reserves in legal tender notes it is obvious that in any crisis they must look to the Government for a supply of gold, and it is not creditable to the Government that on the first appearance of difficulty they have looked in vain. That the gold reserve of the Government ought to be increased does not permit of question. To make the legal tender a bullion note, gold to an equal amount being held against it, would destroy the privilege of the issue, but to the process of taking the gold from the banks by process of law, and giving them legal tenders in its place, there is a still stronger ground of objection. The crucial point in the Canadian legal tender system having declared itself, the Ministry should set about remedying the evil. A danger which announces itself on a slight provocation would be ruinous should a financial crisis, such as may be periodically looked for, occur."

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

COMMENDABLE PROMPTNESS.

The Dominion Government has acted with commendable promptness in dealing with the St. Lawrence canal tolls and with the wharfage dues on grain at this port.—Montreal Witness (Reform).

A MODERN BALAAM.

It would be wrong to forget what the country owes to Sir Charles Tupper.—Toronto Globe.

QUITE UNNECESSARY.

The Lindsay Post says the Mail and other Tory journals "have endeavoured in every possible way to blacken Mr. McKim's character." How foolish of the Mail and other Tory journals. They might as well try to make the inside of a tar barrel a darker color, by painting it with lampblack.—Trent Valley Advocate.

ONE BAD REASON.

The rumour that Speaker Kirkpatrick may be taken in the Dominion cabinet appears to be sufficient reason in the eyes of the Reform organ for a series of attacks on him. This is hardly the way to encourage young men to take a more active part in public life.—Toronto Telegram (Indep.).

MEANING OF "INDEPENDENCE".

Independence ultimately means annexation, with this difference, that in the insane attempt of a handful of people to maintain the integrity of a country as large as a continent we shall burden ourselves with taxation and debt, and be compelled to ultimately accept annexation at the hands of the United States as beggars, instead of on terms of equality as a prosperous people whose alliance would be an immediate gain to both countries.—Ottawa Free Press (Ref.).

ALL THINGS TO ALL MEN.

Grit papers complain that Ontario pays three-fifths of the Dominion taxation, while the smaller provinces escape comparatively free. Mr. Blake is shortly going to Manitoba to tell people there how highly they are taxed, and how that the Ontario people alone benefit by their contributions to the treasury.—Toronto Mail.

COMPELLED TO IMITATE.

Speaking of the reduction in Canal tolls the Ottawa Free Press argues that Canada, per force of circumstances, is compelled to imitate the policy of the United States in regard to the Erie canal, and grant total abolition. Our cotemporary then adds—"In this as well as other matters, we must take our cue from the United States. Canada cannot fail to be governed by the policy of her neighbors—as all lesser bodies in juxta-position to greater are governed more or less by the latter." If this reasoning is good the N.P. policy is the correct thing for Canada.—Newmarket Era, (Indep. Reform).

NOT ALWAYS THUS.

Nothing illustrates the decadence of the Globe as a power in politics more than its course on the Independence question. After taking over a week to consider the matter, it finally gave a pharaphase of Sir Cartwright's observations, and expressed its own in the sentence, "The Globe agrees with Sir Richard." It was not always thus. In the days of Geo. Brown it was the Globe that spoke first, and the Grit politicians had to agree with it. Mr. Brown would have cut his right hand off before he would have written a sentence initimating that the Globe received its views at second-hand.—Toronto News, (Ind. Reform).

A PETERBOROUGH CASE.

Mr. S. H. Blake Whitewashed by Zealous Political Allies.

The following is the result as reported by World of the charge of unprofessional conduct against Mr. S. H. Blake, Q.C. The evidence was not heard, that of the principal witness being withheld on the suggestion of the majority of the committee:—

Report of the Committee on Discipline:

The committee on discipline to whom the complaint of Mr. Macdonell against Mr. Blake was referred for consideration, beg to report to convocation that they requested these gentlemen to appear before them with their evidence, etc., that they appeared accordingly.

Your committee heard the evidence adduced, considered the matter and unanimously find that the complaint in question was utterly groundless and that no case of professional or other misconduct has been made out against Mr. Blake.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN HOSKIN, Chairman.

Osgoode Hall, June 6, 1884.

This report was adopted by convocation on Saturday, June 7.

J. H. ESTEN, Sec Law Society.

The facts upon which the charge was made appear to be these: At a recent sitting of the Court at Peterborough, Samuel H. Blake, Q.C., was there as counsel. In one of the trials Dumble and Poussette were the local lawyers retained and they had agreed to try the case without calling in outside counsel. Mr. Dumble, whom the World remembers as with clean shaven chin and sandy side-whiskers, got a little mixed, or thought he was going to lose the case, and called Mr. Blake to his assistance. Mr. Blake took a hand and addressed the court. His firm accordingly billed Mr. Dumble for $50. That gentleman replied that as he and the opposite lawyer had agreed not to employ counsel, and as his client would not stand it he requested Mr. Blake to withdraw the charge. Mr. Blake did so.

Upon this Mr. Macdonnell based his charge of "unprofessional and other misconduct," and had the distinguished philanthropic and ex-vice-chancellor before the discipline committee of the law society.

J. K. Kerr, Q.C., Mr. Blake's kinsman and partner, is a member of that committee and was present for a time at its first session, but informed the chairman that he intended taking no part in the hearing, and that he was merely there out of curiosity while waiting for a case in which he was retained to be called in an adjoining courtroom. Soon after he went out. Whether it was before or after this explanation that Mr. Macdonnell referred to Mr. Kerr's "indecency" in attending, the World does not know. The investigation, so it is said by some who heard it, was quite a treat; the impetuous young man of Glengarry had on his tartan waistcoat and conducted the charge with much gesticulation and motion; the legal and lay hierarch on the other hand was very cool, very cordial in his answers, and withal very cutting in some of them. The discipline committee enjoyed the performance. There was John Hoskin, Q.C., in the chair, James Maclennan, Q.C., also a Glengarry man, Adam Hudspeth, a florid, portly blonde Q.C. from Lindsay, and Larratt W. Smith, LL.D., all of whom nevertheless maintained a dignified front as they listened to and watched Lord Randolph Greenfield go for great Edward's brother. There was a report that the committee intended to compel an apology from Mr. Macdonnell, but there is no mention of it in the official report of the committee given above.

North-West Produce Exhibitions.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company have recently made attractive exhibits of Canadian North-western produce at Ayr and Glasgow, two leading Scotch county fairs, and at Wallingford and Exeter, two prominent shows in England. The exhibits at each of the shows have been of a novel character, and considerable interest has been excited among the farmers and others who have attended in large numbers.

LACROSSE IN TORONTO.

Disgraceful Proceedings at the Ontario-Toronto Match.

The principal feature of the lacrosse match between the Torontos and the Ontarios played in Toronto on Saturday was a series of regular hand-to-hand fights between different players: Mackenzie versus Walker; Walker versus O'Neil; Small knocked senseless; Garvin versus Clark, and so on—such were the chief events of the day.

The Torontos succeeded in winning by three games to nothing. Of the row the Globe says:—The Lacrosse Association cannot fail to take cognizance of the matter, and an official investigation will probably bring to light the whole truth.

Suppressing Salvationists.

BRAMPTON, June 6.—The usual monotonous noise of the Salvation Army was varied on Tuesday night by some twenty-five young men and boys marching ahead of the Army procession, creating pandemonium with long tin horns, dinner bells and other instruments of ear torture. The next day the Mayor issued a proclamation prohibiting any body of people from parading the streets with banners and drums, but notwithstanding this, the Army formed in procession the same evening, and with drums discordant, paraded the streets, singing their martial songs. Seven were arrested and tried by the Mayor, the captain being committed to jail. Last night the Army marched out stronger than ever, led by a woman.

Exports of Live Stock and Meat.

It will be seen from the following figures that the imports of live stock and fresh meat to England from the United States and Canada still continue on a large scale. The total shipments during the week ending May 16th, amounted to 2,431 cattle, 3446 quarters of beef, and 678 carcases of mutton, against the preceding week's total of 1,753 cattle, 5,612 quarters of beef, and 542 carcases of mutton.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

A GOOD THING.

Dr. Adam Miller, Chicago, Ill., says: "I have recommended Horsford's Acid Phosphat to my patients, and have received very favourable reports. It is one of the very few really valuable preparations now offered to the afflicted. In a practice of thirty-five years I have found a few good things, and this is one of them."

OH! how tired and weak I feel I dont believe I will ever get through the Spring house-cleaning? Oh yes you will if you take a bottle or two of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters to purify your blood and tone up the system. In large bottles 50 cents.

IN fresh cases of catarrh relief will be speedy and cures quickly follow the use of Dr. Starr's Catarrh Conqueror. In long standing chronic cases a cure can always be relied on by perseverance in its use a few weeks. Sold by J. D. Tully, druggist. Price 50 cents.

Another Victory.

A Startling important discovery was made when, after long and patient experiments, the combination of Nerviline was reached. A grand victory indeed, for the suffering have an ever ready, prompt, efficient, and cheap remedy at hand. Do you know that for 10 cents you can buy a trial bottle of Polson's Nerviline and test its great power over pain of every description? Polson's Nerviline cures chills, pain in the stomach, side and back, rheumatism; in fact all pain. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

It leads the list as a truly scientific preparation for all blood diseases. If there is a lurking taint of Scrofula about you,

SCROFULA AYER'S SARSAPARILLA will dislodge it and expel it from your system.

For constitutional or scrofulous Catarrh,

CATARRH AYER'S SARSAPARILLA is the true remedy. It has cured numberless cases. It will stop the nauseous catarrhal discharges, and remove the sickening odor of the breath, which are indications of scrofulous origin.

ULCEROUS SORES "At the age of two years one of my children was terribly afflicted with ulcerous running sores on its face and neck. At the same time its eyes were swollen, much inflamed, and very sore.

SORE EYES Physicians told us that a powerful alterative medicine must be employed. They united in recommending AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. A few doses produced a perceptible improvement, which, by an adherence to your directions, was continued to a complete and permanent cure. No evidence has since appeared of the existence of any scrofulous tendencies; and no treatment of any disorder was ever attended by more prompt or effectual results.

Yours truly, B. F. JOHNSON."

"MAY DEW"

The Great French Lotion for Beautifying the Face.

It conceals the evidence of age. One application will make the most stubbornly red and rough hands beautifully soft and white. Remember that "MAY DEW" is not a paint or powder that fills up the pores of the skin, and that is injurious to the skin, but a new and great discovery, a vegetable liquid, that causes the cheek to glow with health, the neck, arms and hands to rival the Lily in whiteness. Impossible to detect in the beauty it confers any artificial character. It cures Greasy Skin, Freckles, Wrinkles, Pimples, Black Heads, Crow's Feet, Blotches, Face Grubs, Sun Burn, Tan, Ringworms, Chapped Hands, Sore or Chapped Lips, Barber's Itch, Tetter, It frees the pores, oil glands, and tubes from the injurious effects of powders and cosmetic washes. By its use all redness and roughness are prevented; it beautifies the skin, and will make it soft, smooth and white; imparting a delicious softness, producing a perfectly healthy, natural, and youthful appearance. The best face lotion that the world ever produced. We will send "A LARGE BOTTLE" to any address on receipt of price $1. When ordering mention this paper.

THE HISTORY OF EMBROIDERY.

Semper, the German authority on art needle-work, makes embroidery the foundation and starting point of all art, and holds that decoration in architecture, painting, bass-relief, and sculpture all succeed and borrow from the designs formed by the loom and the needle. A theory, it appears to us, most plausible. On what arguments he founds his view it would not be difficult to conjecture. At all events raiment—and naturally its decoration, preceded all other necessaries of life with the exception only of food.

The earliest known style of decoration in needlework is that called by the French primitive. The Indian mocassin shows an example of it. It consists generally of straight lines, zigzags, dots, etc.

Decorating textile materials with the precious metals was early in vogue. Remains of this species of embroidery are found at Mycence, Ashantee, Babylon, Nineveh; it is mentioned by Herodotus (450, B.C.), by Moses in the description of the Tabernacle, and by David in his description of the "King's daughter."

Greek women, of course, used the needle as a decorative instrument, and Homer is very fond of telling us how beautifully some of the great ladies knew how to use it. Helen especially he praises highly.

Rome copied Greece in needlework, as in everything else in art. The foundation of the Byzantine Empire imported the "Romanesque" style into Europe. As might be expected, this contained much that was of Arabian origin. It still exists in Russia, following the Greek Church.

The next European phase was the Gothic—Arab and Moresque modified by northern influences. It matured into great beauty, its use for ecclesiastical purposes doubtless fostering its growth.

The Reformation affected strongly designs in needlework. During the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries these were decidedly secular, and were called Arabesque or grotesque.

In the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries Spain and Portugal came to the front for the beauty of their designs; they were especially gay.

Then followed France with her Louis-quatorze style, beautiful in its time, but short-lived.

Italy meanwhile imitated these fashions, but eliminated much that sinned on the side of being too elaborate.

Of the next reign, that of Louis XV.—the age of Watteau—all are acquainted. Many of its designs were well suited for tapestries and embroideries.

This was followed by the Revolution after which came the so-called classical severity of the Republic, which again gave way under the Empire.

At the present day it is difficult to say what is the most prominent feature. It is really a conglomerate of preceding styles. But we may, possibly, be uncouniously evolving one of our own.

MISOGYNY.

'Spiteful' is a word probably more frequently applied to the femine character than to the masculine. We venture to think there is abundant cause for a turn of the tables. True, English literature teems with the most exalted opinions on woman's character and influence, but here and there a crusty old bachelor or a disagreeable husband gives vent to some incisive sentiments. The dyspeptic Pope actually went so far as to publish such a line as

"Every woman is at heart a rake."

An old saying avers that

"A wicked woman and an evil,
Is some nine points worse than the devil."

Another, looking at the positive side of the question, asserts that

"If woman were little as she is good
A peas cod would make her a bonnet and hood."

Of this kind of railing perhaps the French saying that

"Foxes are all tail and women all tongue," is the most brutal.

A witty epigram on a mirror punningly tells us:

"I change, and so do women, too;
But I reflect, that women never do,"

Speaking of epigrams,

"Glasses and lasses are brittle ware,"

is perhaps one of the best amongst old English sayings.

The Italians have a proverb that is positively horrible in its bald assertion:

"Chi ha moglia
Ha doglia."

"Who has a wife
Has strife."

The most sweeping is undoubtedly

"There's no mischief done
But a woman's one."

But however numerous these hostile assertions, the most divine of gifts has never been denied to woman:

"Nae lass can be unkind."

CRICKET IN ENGLAND.

The latest arrivals of the English papers bring us accounts of the cricket played about the date of the Queen's birthday. Several highly interesting matches had just been concluded or were in process. The most important was that between the Marylebone Club and Ground and the Australians. The latter received a very severe defeat by an innings and 115 runs. The M.C.C. scoring was magnificent, despite the fact that there were two "duck's eggs"—these, by the way, were made by two out of the only four professionals on the team. Dr. W. G. Grace made 101; Mr. A. G. Steel, 134; and Barnes, 105, not out. The total of the M.C.C. innings was 481; the Australians scored 184 and 182. Mr. Spofforth's score of 37 in the second innings was a curious one, containing, as it did, six fours and three threes. This gentleman bowled 57 overs (20 maidens) for 98 runs, with four wickets. The London Times, in an editorial on the match, says:—

"The Australians appear to have been beaten on their merits. Curiously enough, they made in their second innings the same score, within two runs, as they made in their first. It may fairly, therefore, be said, that in each innings they made just about what they were worth, when pitted against their opponents. Apart from the decisive victory of the home team, the score sheet of this match is a curious one. The immense total of 481 in one innings—a rare achievement even in ordinary first-class matches, and unparalleled in matches with Australian elevens in England—included three separate scores of over a hundred. Dr. W. G. Grace seldom fails to vindicate his title of "Champion" when playing against the Australians. Mr. A. G. Steel's performance of 134 is the more singular that this is the first match of the season; but as a late member of Mr. Ivo Bligh's team, he is well used to the Australian bowling. The other "century" was that of Barnes, who was "not out." Mr. O'Brien, who made 72, has already tasted victory against the Australians in their match with Oxford, where he scored freely. No Australian bowler, it is unnecessary to say, was successful. Mr. Spofforth and Mr. Palmer, those magicians of the ball, failed to effect anything against first-rate batsmen favoured by a splendid wicket. The fielding of the Australians was as blameless as ever. The same cannot be said of the English players. That Dr. Grace should have missed two not difficult catches consecutively is perhaps hardly adequately explained by an injury to one hand. Mr. O'Brien's slip was condoned by a brilliant catch shortly before. Although the English fielding contrasted unfavourably with that of the other side, and will not add to our reputation in Australia, where Mr. Ivo Bligh's team left behind them somewhat of a name for missing catches—a result for which the dazzling atmosphere of the Antipodes may be partly to blame."

Lancashire was playing Derbyshire on the grounds of the latter at the time of despatch. The score stood:—Lanchshire 342, Derbyshire 302 with three wickets to fall.

An England eleven were also playing Cambridge University. The principal feature of this match was the brilliant batting of Bates, who in a score of 113 made 11 fours, eight threes, and nine twos.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

NERVOUSNESS.—There is really no case of nervousness that ever I met with cannot be either cured or alleviated by attention to diet, avoidance of stimulants, the daily use of bath, and friction with rough towels and flesh-brush; unlimited exercise in the open air, whether the weather be wet or dry, cold or hot, and pleasant society. Mixing with pleasant society is one of the very best means for the cure of nervousness. It takes one for the time being quite out of one's self, quite away from one's troubles and aches. It must, however never be exciting society, for this sends the blood to the head, and injures the foundation of nerve-power. What do you tell me? You never take stimulants to excess? I doubt it; for tea, if too much indulged in, is a dangerous stimulant, and so is coffee. A cup of milk that has been boiled and allowed to cool would often do far more good than tea. Tea-drinking grows on one, and assuredly, when it does so, it shatters the nerves as irremediably as does wine, or even spirits.—A Family Doctor.

GLYCERINE.—The name is derived from a Greek word signifying "sweet," and has reference to the taste. As oil consists of acids and glycerine, the latter is obtained by separating the oil—the same is true of fat—into its component parts. The uses of glycerine are becoming more and more extended and valuable. There is no application that is better than a few drops rubbed daily over the hands to keep them moist and smooth. The hands should be first moistened with water, as the glycerine otherwise absorbs moisture from the skin. Glycerine and carbolic acid—three ounces of the former to fifteen grains of the latter—are among the most effective applications for chapped hands, and for a scurfy skin. It may be used two or three times a day. Glycerine is also said to be exceedingly effective in some cases of piles. A gentleman who had suffered from them for years, and whose case appeared to defy medical treatment, was cured by taking it daily with his food. A dose would be from a half to a whole tablespoonful. Writers in the London Lancet strongly recommend it for acidity of stomach. Its use for this trouble was first discovered by a private gentleman who had long been a sufferer from it. Having read in the paper that glycerine kept milk from souring he said to himself, "Why won't it keep me?" He tried it with complete success, and was able thenceforth to take food from which he had been forced to abstain. It was subsequently employed by physicians with like results. It does not remove acidity; it only prevents its occurrence. Take from a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful immediateful after eating; or take it in the tea in place of sugar.—Youth's Companion.

FERN WINDOWS.—From a popular English work called "Fern Paradise" the following useful hints for window decoration are taken: "Let us see how the shady windows of a dwelling house may be made beautiful by the presence of ferns. We will begin at the basement. Here we shall find, as in thousands of London and other city houses, a window or windows looking out on what is popularly called the "area." Such windows are invariably immersed in shadow, and given up as they are to the domestics of the households, one may perhaps not unfrequently see, as one passes, the window-sill adorned by modest pots, containing geraniums, calceolarias, fuchsias, or the golden-green leaf and golden flowers of the sweet but modest musk plant. Rarely do we see ferns in such windows. But why should they not be there? Let them by all means be mixed with such flowers as will thrive in those windows. But when flowers need to be excluded, by reason of the uncongeniality of the situations, let the ferns at least remain. By the tasteful arrangement around and about such windows of virgin cork, with provision of "pockets" for ferns, or by the skillful use of cement and pieces of stone, or brick disguised as stone by sprinkling of the dry powder of cement—due provision being made for drainage—an "area" window might be made really charming. Or suppose the basement windows of a house are half below the garden or area level. In such cases there will be a space commonly called a well outside such windows, having usually three bricked sides, in addition to the window side. By putting a glass top or frame to such a space an admirable little fernhouse will be created, in which ferns will thrive and find excellent protection against winter frosts. With trowel and cement it will be easy, in a well like this, to establish a miniature fern paradise."

ELECTRICITY.

THE Royal Electric Company have now some 28 000 lights in operation throughout the United States and Canada.

HALIFAX streets were lit with electricity on Monday night, the 26th May, and the exhibit was highly satisfactory. Peterborough had three days the start of her.

AN Electric railway, a mile in length, is running at Brighton, Eng. A single car containing ten or twelve persons is run at a speed of 8 miles an hour, though it can be run faster if permitted. The car runs almost noiselessly, and is worked by a stationary engine, which sends a current through the metals.

To the uninitiated we would state for electric light purposes the wire is a pure copper, No. 6 size, with insulation of double braided cotton coated with whitelead, making it impervious to the weather and absolutely safe to handle, especially in connection with the automatic cut-outs.

A COMPREHENSIVE scheme of classification has been carefully elaborated by the International Electrical Exhibition Committee at Philadelphia, as well as a system of rules and regulations to govern the internal management of the exhibition; provisions have been made in the interest of intending foreign exhibitors, to relieve them of all trouble in respect to the passage of their exhibits through the custom house, and for the proper reception and care-taking of the same on their arrival; and arrangements have been made with a number of the leading transportation companies, to return free of charge, goods on which freight charges have been paid one way.—Canadian Electrical News.

Unless immediate satisfaction is accorded by the Bulgarian Government, the rupture of friendly relations is threatened by the Servian Premier.

FRADULENT TRANSACTIONS.—There are many frauds perpetuated in medicine, and many advertised remedies worse than useless. Not so with Hagyard's Yellow Oil. It remains as ever the best internal and external medicine for all pain, soreness and injuries with which human flesh is afflicted.

THE SECRET OUT.—The secret of beauty has been at last revealed. Without good health, pure blood and a fair clear skin none can possess good looks. What is more repulsive than pimples, blotches and a sallow or pasty complexion? Burdock Blood Bitters reveal the fact that all can gain pure blood and freedom from the repulsive diseases of the skin that result from impurities.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?—Scrofula is so called from the Latin scrofa, a pig, from the supposition that the disease came from eating swine's flesh. It is often inherited from parents, and leads to abscesses, ulcerous sores, debility, king's evil and consumption. The case of the Rev. Wm. Stout, of Wiarton, who suffered 23 years from scrofulous abcesses, is one of the most remarkable on record. Burdock Blood Bitters cured him after the best medical skill had failed.

Legal.

We are glad to learn that Mr. E. H. D. Hall has reconsidered has idea of leading Peterporough to take up his abode in Moosejaw N. W. T. and that he will continue the practice of his profession in the town as before.

Eye, Ear and Throat.

Dr. G. S. Ryerson will be unable to visit Peterborough on Saturday, June 14th, as previously announced, owing to professional duties. The date of his next visit will be duly announced in these columns.

New Market Scales.

A new scale for the market, for weighing hay and other heavy loads, has been purchased and is now being put up. It was purchased form the manufacturers, Messrs Guerney & Ware, Hamilton, and will weigh six tons, which is considerably over the capacity of the old scales.

The Battery.

Capt. Sanderson has received orders to prepare for going into camp at Kingston on June 25th. The Peterborough contingent will leave on the evening of tne 24th. Several recruits joined the battery on Monday evening, but there is room for more.

The Probabilities.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, counting from one o'clock this morning, as reported from the Toronto Observatory, are as follows:—North-east to north-west winds, clearing cooler weather preceded by a few showers in southern Ontario.

Silver Stars.

A Fruitless Excursion.

The assistant constables took a short journey on Monday afternoon to the camp of the Italians about a mile and a half west of the town on the Ontario & Quebec, to try to find some articles of wearing apparel stolen off a clothes line by James Gorman. Gorman said that he had sold the articles in that camp, but the greater number of the men were away at work when the constables went there. Those in the camp were innocent of any transaction regarding the clothes, and a search failed to bring the articles to view.

Oddfellows' Decoration Day.

The members of the local lodges of Oddfellows have set aside Friday, June 27th, as a day to be devoted to the beautiful ceremony of decorating the graves of deceased brethren. The Fire Brigade Band has been engaged for the occasion and will furnish appropriate music. As a large number of our citizens took a deep interest in the proceedings last year, we will give further particulars as soon as arrangements are fully completed. As the committee who have the matter in hand will no doubt find considerable difficulty in obtaining a suitable supply of flowers, we trust that those of our citizens who are fortunate enough to possess flower gardens will act liberally and give such donations of flowers as they can spare. Parties desirous of giving bouquets will please leave them at Long Bros.' on the forenoon of the 27th.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH ACT

A STRICT LAW WHICH IS TO BE ENFORCED IN PETERBOROUGH.

The Powers and Duties of the Board of Health—Medical Officers and Inspectors in Certain Cases.

The Public Health Act passed by the Provincial Legislature at its last session is a strict law. It is a long bill, and we summarize some of its provisions which will be instructive to our readers.

EPIDEMICS.

When the Province, or any place in it, is threatened with an epidemic, the Provincial Board of Health may issue regulations, which must be enforced by the Local Board.

ORGANIZATION OF LOCAL BOARDS.

The Local Boards of Health in townships or incorporated villages shall be composed of the Reeve, Clerk and three ratepayers, and in cities and towns of more than 4,000 inhabitants, of the Mayor and eight ratepayers.

EXPENSES MAY BE RECOVERED.

When the Local Board directs anything to be done by any person, and the person does not do it, the Board may have it done and recover the expense with costs by action or distress, or in the same manner as municipal taxes, but when the order of the Board involves an expenditure of more than $100, the person may appeal to the county judge.

Any costs or expenses recoverable from an owner of premises may be recovered from the occupier, who shall deduct th e amount from rent due, but this provision does not intertere with any agreement between an owner and a tenant.

NUISANCES.

It is the duty of the Board to cause an inspection of its district to be made from time to time for the detection of nuisances, and any person aggrieved may give the board information of a nuisance. A committee of the Board appointed to investigate a nuisance has the same power as justice of the peace to compel the attendance of witnesses and the giving of evidence. When the party responsible for a nuisance is not known or cannot be found, the Council may abate it at the expense of the municipality.

Any person establishing a noxious or offensive trade, or a business or manufacture that may become offensive, without the consent of the municipal council, will be liable to a penalty of $250; and any person carrying on such business after notice is give to desist, will be liable to a penalty of $10 a day.

WATER SUPPLY AND SEWERAGE.

The municipal council is required to submit plans relating to a proposed public water supply or system of sewerage to the Provincial Board of Health.

UNWHOLESOME MEAT.

The Medical Health Officer or Sanitary Inspectors are empowered to inspect all meat offered for sale or intended for food, and may seize and caused to be carried away any meat unfit for food. The person to whom such unwholesome meat belongs is liable to a penalty.

Any person who obstructs any health officer or assistant when carrying into execution the provisions of the act will be liable to a penalty of $25.

DISINFECTION.

When the Board is of of opinion that the cleansing or disinfecting of any house, or articles in it, is necessary, it is their duty to notify the owner or occupier, requiring him to do so; and if he fails to comply with the notice, he is liable to a penalty of from 25 cents to $2 for each day of default.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

In the case of small-pox or other dangerous diseases, it is the duty of the Board to erect or procure an hospital for the reception of the sick. When any householder knows that any person in his household has an infectious disease he shall within twenty-four hours give notice thereof to the Board or Health Officer, and he shall not permit any person suffering from such disease to be removed from his house without the consent of the Board or officer or attending physicians, nor shall any occupant of a house where there exists such disease change his or her place of residence without such permission. When any physician knows that any person whom he is called upon to visit is infected with any contagious disease, he shall within twenty-four hours give notice to the Board or Health Officer. Any person having access to anyone sick with any such disease, shall not mingle with the general public until such precautions as are prescribed by the Board or physician have been complied with. No person suffering from or recovering from a contagious disease shall ride in a conveyance without giving the owner notice, and the owner shall have the conveyance disinfected. The Board may order the destruction of bedding or clothes which have been exposed to infection, and houses or rooms occupied by sick persons must be disinfected before being let.

PENALTIES.

Any person violating the provisions of the act is liable to penalties, and such penalties shall be paid to the Treasurer of the municipality for the use of the Board.

A BY-LAW.

Schedule A, of the act is a By-law which is in force in every municipality until altered by the Municipal Council. The Council of Peterborough has not, as yet, altered it. A summary of some of its provisions is given.

MEDICAL HEALTH OFFICER.

It is the duty of the Medical Health Officer to assist and advise the Board, and to superintend the enforcements of the laws and regulations regarding health, and, if required by the School Trustees, to act as medical inspector of schools.

REFUSE.

Deposits or accumulations of manure or other refuse is forbidden on any lot, street, square, &c., or in any river, lake, stream, sewer, pond, &c. The Sanitary Inspectors are requied to keep a vigilant supervision over all premises and streets, and cause such accumulations to be removed. The Inspector or Health Officer has power to enter a house or building to inspect it. The Board may notify persons to put premises in proper sanitary condition, or, if they think necessary to quit the same.

SLAUGHTERHOUSES.

Slaughter houses must be distant not less than two hundred yards from any dwelling house, and seventy yards from any public street. No person shall keep a slaughter house within the municipality without permission from the Board, and all animals to be slaughtered and fresh meat exposed for sale, are subject to inspection.

DRINKING WATER.

It is the duty of the owner of every house to provide a sufficient quantity of wholesome drinking water, and any occupant of a house not satisfied may appeal to the Board. All wells must be cleaned out before July 1st in each year, and a well must be filled up if the Board so directs.

CESSPOOLS, ETC.

Details of the establishment of every cesspool, &c., must be approved of by the Medical Health Officer, and they shall be cleaned out before May 15th in each year and disinfected once a month between that and November 1st.

YARDS AND CELLARS.

All decaying animal or vegetable matter must be removed from cellars and yards before May 15th, and all garbage must be buried, or placed in a proper covered receptacle and removed as often as twice a week.

HOGS.

Between May 15th and November 1st, no hog shall be kept in the municipality, except in pens seventy feet from any house, with floors free from standing water, and regularly cleaned and disinfected.

LIVERY STABLES.

Between the above dates keepers of livery stables must keep their yards clean and not allow more than two waggon loads of manure to accumulate.

ERECTING BUILDINGS.

Directions are given as to the drainage of buildings to be erected, and every person who erects a building must, within two weeks of the completion thereof, deposit in the Registry office plans of the drainage and plumbing, and must in the same manner deposit plans of every alteration in the drainage and plumbing.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

The Medical Health Officer shall provide each medical practitioner with blank forms on which to report to him any case of any contagious disease, and also with blank forms on which to report the death or recovery of any person from such disease. The Health officer, within six hours after receiving notice of the existence of such a disease, shall have affixed near the entrance of the house a card at least nine inches wide and twelve long, stating that that the disease exists in the house, and stating the penalty for removing the card without the permission of the Board or its officers. No animal affected with contagious disease shall be brought or kept within the municipality without the permission of the Board.

PENALTIES.

The penalties for violation of the provisions of the By-law range from $5 to $50, and may be recovered by distress, or, in default of sufficient distress, the offender may be imprisoned.

POLICE COURT.

SENTENCED.

TUESDAY, June 11.—James Gorman, who yesterday pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny, was sentenced to one month in gaol.

DISMISSED.

M. Finn was charged by Margaret Bell with having assaulted her on Sunday evening. The complainant's evidence, however, was contradicted by the defendant and another witness, and the case was dismissed. Mr. C. W. Sawers appeared for the defendant.

OUTSIDE THE TOWN.

Mrs. E. Vout was charged by Mrs. Martha Saunders with having made use of grossly insulting language towards Mrs. Margaret Saunders. Mr. Sawers, who appeared for the defendant, submitted that the occurrence took place outside the town, and that it was not in a public place. Dismissed without costs.

FINED.

Mrs. Vout was also charged with using grossly insulting language towards Mrs. Margaret Saunders. This occurred on George street on Saturday, and although Mrs. Vout denied having used the language attributed to her, the weight of evidence was against her, and she was fined $4 without costs.

AN UNPLEASANT CASE.

Robert Campbell, of North Monaghan, charged his mother, Mrs. Mary Campbell, an old lady, with having used threatening language towards his wife, and wished to have her bound over to keep the peace. The Magistrate patiently listened for an hour to the complaint and counter-complaints, and finally bound Mrs. Campbell over to keep the peace, accepting her bonds.

SENT BACK.

Alexander Clark was charged with being a vagrant. He said that he had been sent to Peterborough from Bobcaygeon, and the Magistrate decided that the best thing that could be done with him would be to send him back to that village.

Dress and Mantle Making

Handbook to Canada.

Messrs. S. W. Silver & Co., are about to publish a Handbook to Canada, compiled by Mr. E. Hepple Hall.

A Crazy Boy Burns his Brother.

OTTAWA, June 7.—There lives eight miles from this city a man named Thorp, who with his wife came to town yesterday leaving their sons, of unsound mind at home. On returning they found the house in flames, and saw one of the boys, aged 17, perish by the fire started by his brother and himself.

An Ambiguous Assertion.

The St. Petersburg Zeitung declares, in referring to the feeling of uneasiness caused in Europe by Russias annexation of the Merv oasis, that Russia's policy in Central Asia is the same as in Europe. Her only endeavour is to define her frontier in the direction of Persia and Afghanistan, and to maintain her treaties.

Land Sales South of the C. P. R.

The following returns have been published of the land sales made south of the Canadian Pacific Railway belt, between the 5th of July, 1882, and 1st of January, 1884:—Ordinary sales, 8,513 acres, realizing in cash $26,462. Sales in lieu of homesteads and pre-emptions, 66,076 acres, realizing $75,358 in cash at time of sale. Land sales in June last year, 18,125 acres, for $47,057; one fourth cash. Sales by public auction, 8,152 acres, realizing $21,575; one-fourth being cash. The total acreage disposed of amounts to 90,866 acres, and the amount realized, $167,002.—Witness.

There are lots of people going around grumbling, and half sick at the Stomach all the time; who might be well and happy if they only used Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters occasionally. It is a splendid Blood Purifier. All Druggists, 50 cents.

PHOSPHATINE, a name which to every intelligent mind, professional or otherwise, is a key to its composition. No safer, purer, more palatable and more effective compound has ever been offered in cases of nervous exhaustion and pulmonary consumption. For sale by all druggists.

IMPORTANT CHANGES.—There are two periods in the life of every female when the system undergoes great changes. First, the change from childhood to womanhood; next, that of womanhood to old age. These are the critical changes of life, and the system should be nourished and regulated by that matchless tonic, Burdock Blood Bitters. It is invaluable to all diseases peculiar to females.

A Great Discovery

That is daily bringing joy to the homes of thousands by saving many of their dear ones from an early grave, truly is Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, hay fever, loss of voice, tickling in the throat, pain in side and chest, or any disease of the throat and lungs, a positive cure guaranteed. Trial bottles free at Taylor and McDonald's drug store. Large size $1.

MR. FRANCIS W. NEWMAN has a new work in preparation to be called "Christianity in its Cradle."

A Card.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D., New York City.

A New Principle.

The principle upon which Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor acts is entirely new. It does noes not sink deep into the flesh, thereby producing sorbness, but acts directly upon the external covering of the corn, separates it from the under layer, removes the direct pressure from the pars, and at once effects a radical cure, without any pain or discomfort. Let those who are suffering from corns, yet sceptical of treatment, try it, and by the completeness of the cure they will be ready to recommend Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor to others.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain and cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. Its value is incalculable It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the perscription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

Fair, VanEvery & Co.

are showing a new line of Hosiery and Gloves in best makes and exceedingly cheap.

L'Association Internationale.

LONDON, June 9.—The President of the International African Association writes that the association has received from the local chiefs exclusive rights both sovereign and private. In what manner the association will use these rights is recorded in the declaration made to the Government at Washington. The association will open the territory free to the commerce of all nations and will have no line of Custom-houses along the frontier. It will grant concessions to everybody regardless of nationality, providing the laws and regulations of the association are respected.

The C.P.R. and the Salmon Trade.

It has been several times predicted that one result of the completion of the Canadian Pacific Railway will be to open up a very large trade in fresh salmon between British Columbia and the eastern markets. The Canada Gazette learns from Canada that steps in this direction are already being taken. A gentleman engaged on a large scale in the fish trade in Detroit and Sandwich, and employing a large number of men in fishing operations in Ontario, is preparing to embark in the salmon trade in British Columbia, and hopes to commence shipping directly the through route is completed.—Witness

THERE are many people who think because they have suffered from a corn for years they must suffer on to the end of time. Dr. Starr's Corn Solvent will surely cure it. Sold by J. D Tully, druggist, for 25 cents.

TRY THE GOLDEN FRUIT BITTERS.—You will never regret it. The judicious use of the Golden Fruit Bitters and Pills will cure every case of indigestion, Billiousness, loss of appetite and all troubles of the liver and kidneys. So'd by all druggists.

Never Give Up.

If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility disordered blood, weak constitution, headache or any disease of a bilious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. # DISCLOSURES!

A HOME SCENE.

WIFE (to husband)—To-day, my dear, I made a wonderful discovery. I discovered Dolan & Co'y.

HUSBAND (drawlingly)—Some of your old beaux, I suppose.

WIFE—No, Dolan & Co'y, the Dry Goods and Clothing firm of the town—the best place ye I've found to buy at. When I looked over the stock of Hosiery, Gloves and Laces, my wonder grew! And when I learned the prices! You know dear, I am very emotional. I couldn't resist—really I couldn't. Don't scold. I embraced—

HUSBAND (horrified)—what, Dolan & Co'y.

WIFE (laughing)—No, the opportunity. I purchased these four pairs of GLOVES; beauties, ain't they? And these three pairs of HOSE took my fancy. Such handsome colorings and so fine.

HUSBAND (examing goods)—Impossible, at the prices you state, they are as good as those you've been paying much higher for in Toronto. Had'nt you better get me something in this line.

WIFE (advisedly)—I'll always buy GLOVES and HOSIERY at Dolan & Co'ys., and I'll remind my friends to deal there too.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF THE LATE GEORGE BURNHAM M.D.

HOMESTEAD.

1.—TENDERS will be received up to JULY the 15th, 1884, for the purchase of the lot recently occupied by the late Dr. Burnham, without any of the buildings thereon, namely, Lot number 1, east of George Street and north of London Street; and Lot number 1, west of Water Street and north of London Street. The block contains one acre more or less, and tenders will be received for the whole block or for either half acre separately. An excellent opportunity is offered for the securing of very valuable building sites, as these lots are almost the only available property close to the centre of the town.

COLLINS' FARM.

2.—TENDERS will be received till AUGUST 1st, 1884, for the purchase of the farm which has for many years been rented by Mr. Henry Collins and son, and comprises part of Lot number 9, in the twelfth concession of the Township of North Monaghan, containing 180 acres more or less, and being distant about one mile from the Town of Peterborough. This farm is composed of fine farm land, fronting on two roads, has an excellent Orchard of very choice varieties of fruit trees, and has a never-failing creek running through it. It also has a large new Brick House on it.

This sale offers a rare chance. No tender necessarily accepted for any of the above properties. Tenders to state price and also terms of payment, which will be made suitable to purchasers.

Address, "EDG. PEARSE, County Treasurer, Peterborough." d137w24

DISTRICT INTELLIGENCE

ENNISMORE.

From our own Correspondent.

WEATHER NOTES.—May has continued as good for seeding as the preceding one, although during the first week considerable rain fell. On 13 days rain fell to the depth of 2 inches and 73-100 of an inch. We had flurries of snow on two different days, reminding us of our by-gone winter. There were two extremes of temperature during the month; on the 21st at 3 o'clock p.m. the thermometer stood 92 degrees in the shade, and on the mornings of the 28 29 30th we had severe frost, doing a great deal of harm to early fruit, vegetables, barley, and other grains. On the latter morning, the 30th the thermometer dropped to 20 degrees below the freezing point. The mean temperature for the month was 50° and during the month we had only two thunder storms, each of little consequence but little rain falling. Three fierce gales also swept over us levelling trees and fences. On only one morning was there a slight fog, this is now very rare, scarcely ever visiting us.

CROPS.—It is merely speculation to say anything regarding our crops. However, one thing is apparent, if the present dry weather continues, our meadows will be light, especially timothy.

DUMMER.

From Our Own Correspondent.

COURT OF REVISION.—The Court of Revision met in Warsaw on Saturday, May 31st, 1884. All present took the statutory oath and organized. There were but two appeals: Richard F. Wilson to have lot 17 in 6th concession taken from N. R. Reil and placed to him, as he rented the place since assessment.—Change made. Hannah Hill, to have three head of cattle struck off. She was away when assessment was made, and her cattle were placed same as last year, which was three head too many.—$100 personal property struck off. After some minor changes the Clerk was instructed to certify to the roll, and the Court of Revision adjourned.

COUNCIL MEETING.—Minutes of the last meeting read and signed. James Tapp was appointed Pathmaster on side road between lots 5 and 6 on 12th concession. A road appropriation of $120 for each of the five road divisions was made. A by-law to allow George Peters to inclose and occupy part of the old town Hall lot until required by the Council was passed. The following orders were granted:—To James Robb, salary as assessor, $55; to Robert Tully, duplicate order for one mislaid, $3.15; to Hugh Dodds, burial expenses of late H. Tamblin, $31.00. The clerk was instructed to furnish a detailed account of the $55.85 paid by Council for keep and burial expenses of late H. Tamblin to John C. Armstrong, with a view of repayment of Council by him. Council adjourned to meet in Warsaw on 30th August next.

HARVEY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

COURT OF REVISION.—The Harvey Council met at the Town Hall, June 2nd. Members all present. Minutes read and confirmed. The Council after taking the oath prescribed, then formed a Court of Revision and entered upon the hearing of the several appeals. Joseph Finley, assessment confirmed. John Bertram, complaint overcharge on real property, assessment confirmed. Wm. Ventress requested West ½ of lot 24, concession 16, to be removed from his assessment and entered against John Kennedy as owner, request granted. J. P. Davis, complaint, mill property overcharged, and that he does not own 16 in 10th concession. Mill property reduced $500 and the said lot entered on Mr. Boyd's assessment, as they are the owners. The N. E. ¼ of lot 4 con. 17 omitted by assessor was added to W. B. Kelly's assessment. A. F. Manning and company, complaint is that they ought not to be assessed for stone quarry and plant or personal property; their assessment was confirmed by the Court. George Goodwin, complaint is for being assessed for lot quarry and plant or personal property at Buckhorn, assessment confirmed. John Elliott's assessment reduced $150. John Carnegie requested the court to remove Lot 4, con. 1st, from his assessment, as it is sold to the Crown for T. V. Canal purposes. The Court confirmed the assessment. The East ½ of lot 17, con. 16, was added to James Goodenough's assessment. The Roll as Revised was passed and the members resumed in Council. Accounts passed and orders signed for payment as follows:—

|---|---|
| J. G. Edwards & Co., Stone Hammer | $2.50 |
| John Elliott and Charles Griffin for cleaning Town Hall | 2.00 |
| James Richmond's Salary as assessor and postage, 1884 | 40.60 |
| Wm. Irwin's salary as collector 1883 | 69.00 |
| Wm. Bennett building a Bridge across Squaw River | 35.00 |

A grant of $500 was made for the roads and bridges, to be expended by the roads commissioners $212.50 in South Harvey, the sum of $75 in East Harvey, and the Treasurer instructed to accept orders from the road commissioners. The Council adjourned, to meet at the Clerk's Office, on the first Monday in August next.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

HOW REFORMERS FEEL.

Each of the Provinces seems to hate the Dominion, and some of them have such a devouring jealousy of each other that they seem as though any foreign relationship would please them better.—Montreal Witness (Ref.)

MANITOBA SATISFIED.

By yesterday's action the Government and the Legislature have given evidence that they are fully satisfied with the terms, if they are not to be regarded as final, and that they do not sympathize with the insane advice of those who characterized the Dominion's reply as an insult and shouted for secession.—Winnipeg Times.

A VERSATILE COUNSEL.

The Hon. David Mills has left for England. He will act with Mr. Mowat in conducting the Ontario Boundary case before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council. If Mr. Mills' views should prevail, our boundary line must be carried west to the Rockies. We mean the views he once held. What his present views are depends upon circumstances.—Sarnia Canadian.

INFORMER McKIM.

Mr. Robert McKim, M.P.P., after a vote of thanks to the other speakers had been twice moved but never seconded, was called upon. Mr. McKim no doubt felt insulted because he was not included in the double vote of thanks, for he would not enthuse worth a cent. He, the alleged hero of the great conspiracy case, the man who accepted one bribe and carried another to a fellow Grit, stood before a Guelph audience but not a word could he say in defence of his dastardly, reprehensible conduct.—Guelph Herald.

AN UNWELCOME GUEST.

The Globe has at last mustered up courage to notice Cartwright's references to Independence, and thinks the subject one which ought to be discussed. If George Brown could rise from his grave he would be an unwelcome guest at the Globe office just now.—Owen Sound Times

FEAR OF FREE TRADE.

If the people of the United States could believe their industrial interests safe in the hands of the Democrats, they would sweep the Republicans from power at the first opportunity. It is only fear of free trade that has kept a Republican President at Washington these twelve years.—Hamilton Spectator.

HOW FAR HE SAW.

We will not call their intentions in question; but must be pardoned if we dissent from the statement that the leaders of the so-called "Reform" or Liberal party are in any sense farseeing. Why, only last session Mr. Blake saw so little of that by which he was surrounded that he was deserted by all of his party save about thirty. He has not yet come to know what Canada is, nor to appreciate its people, thought he was born among them, and has lived amid them to advance maturity.—London Free Press.

COUNT THE COST.

"Canadian-Independence" means a great deal more than a great many wellmeaning people have the slightest conception of; and although we would readily accept it rather than annexation, yet the cost of a standing army and navy-staff of consulate officials and ambassadors with their retinue of attendants, and all the other outside attachments and paraphernalia necessarily connected with the position of independent nationality, aggregates figures of such magnitude as to almost startle ordinary minds out of propriety to contemplate.—Newmarket Era (Indep. Ref.)

THE REAL AUTHORS.

But scheming politicians with an eye regarding only their own personal advancement, zealously striving to make capital for Grit friends and oust Mr. Norquay from power so that Mr. Greenway might obtain office—these were the real authors of the agitation. They persuaded a few of the farmers to believe in their schemes and promises, and, aided by a motley collection of briefless lawyers, broken-down county merchants, incapable amateurs at farming, with a mouthy clergyman and a journalistic demagogue thrown in they held what was styled "a farmers' convention" in this city.—Winnipeg Times.

GOING TO THE DOGS.

At the Brant county farmers' picnic Messrs. Hardy and Paterson addressed the people. They introduced statistics to show that the province has been making rapid advancement during the past ten years, and is now in a flourishing condition. Messrs. Hardy and Paterson were correct—the country is only going to the dogs in the columns of Grit newspapers.—Hamilton Spectator.

A SUFFICIENT REASON.

An esteemed Grit contemporary taunts the Conservative press for having been "as silent as the grave on the appointment of J. J. Hawkins to the position of assistant inspector of colonization companies." On behalf of the Conservative press we admit the silence; but humbly submit that the fact that no such appointment has been made may in some measure, excuse our criminal neglect on the subject—Hamilton Spectator.

How to Make Candy.

This book gives full directions for making all kinds of plain and fancy candy. The receipts for making caramels, chocolate drops, French mixed and all other kinds of candies contained in this book are the same as used by the leading city confectioners. Any one can have these candies at home at less than one third the usual cost. Sent post paid for 50 cents (no stamps taken). Address, ROCHESTER PUBLISHING CO., 32, 33 & 33½ Osburn Block, Rochester, N.Y.

Itching Piles—Symptoms and Cure.

The symptoms are moisture, like perspiration, intense itching, increased by scratching, very distressing, particularly at night, seems as if pin-worms were crawling above the parts affected. If allowed to continue very serious results may follow. "SWAYNE'S OINTMENT" is a pleasant, sure cure. Also for tetter, itch, salt rheum, scald head, erysipelas, barber's itch, blotches, all scaly, crusty skin diseases. Sent by mail for 50 cents; 3 boxes, $1.25 (in stamps) Adpress DR. PARNELL ADVISES MODERATION.

DUBLIN, June 10.—Mr. Parnell has written to Mr. Timothy Harrington, Home Rule member for county Westmeath, congratulating the Nationalists upon their victory at Newry, and advising conciliation and restraint.

A SUSPICIOUS IRISH-AMERICAN.

DUBLIN, June 10.—A suspicious Irish-American named Murphy has been arrested at Castletown Brehaven, a seaport town of Ireland, in county Cork, on the west side of Bantry Bay. The police connect his appearance with the coming of the channel squadron at Bantry bay.

STELLMACHER CONVICTED.

VIENNA, June 10.—Stellmacher was convicted to-day of the murder of Detective Bloch in Vienna, and sentenced to death. During the trial Stellmacher was shown to have formerly been editor and manager of Herr Most's paper, Die Freiheit. The proceeds of murders and robberies were shared with the editors of the Pesth Anarchist papers Der Radical and Die Zukunft.

ENGLAND AND THE U.S.

LONDON, June 10.—In the Imperial House of Commons to-day the Under Foreign Secretary stated that representations touching the duty of friendly powers in regard to dynamiters had been addressed to the Government at Washington, but no reply was yet received.

A SOUTH POLAR EXPEDITION.

LONDON, June 10.—Baron Nordenskjold, the Swedish explorer, is coming to London to make an appeal for subscriptions to defray the expenses of an expedition to the south pole. The Baron estimates the expedition will cost two hundred thousand pounds. The Spanish Government has promised to pay part of the enterprise.

BERBER STILL SAFE,

CAIRO, June 10— Despatches from Suakin state that a messenger from Berber arrived there yesterday, bearing despatches dated June 3. The place has not fallen into the hands of the rebels as reported, nor has there been any fighting in which the strength of the garrison had been impaired. He reports that the messenger with letters and despatches from General Gordon who accompanied him from Berber was killed by the Bishareens on the third day of their journey. Before death he tried to swallow Gordon's letter unobserved. It was so bulky, however, that it stuck in his throat, and the Arabs seizing him succeeded in recovering it.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

Thirty-five thousand Dollars' Worth of Property Destroyed at Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, June 10.—A destructive fire broke out this morning in a small stable near the Lacrosse Hotel. The flames rapidly spread, everything being as dry as tinder, and a fresh breeze blowing. Notwithstanding the efforts of the firemen, the Lacrosse hotel building, in which was Mr. McGregor's fruit store, were destroyed, along with Emes' livery stable, Mrs. Wilson's residence and grocery, a Chinese laundry, and Bawif's warehouse. The fire occurred in the thickly-settled part of the city, in close proximity to the market square, Princess Opera-house, the police station and other modern structures, but fortunately the flames were confined to the buildings named. Loss estimated at $35,000; McGregor's loss being $1,500, Burridge $20,000, Murray $2,000, Ald. Bawif's $7,000, $5,000 being on stock, Emes' $300, Multhup hotel $3,000, Mrs. Wilson $1,000. Insurance $16,500, of which the City of London has $5,000 Citizens' $2,500, Manitoba Mutual $2,000, Lancashire $3,000, Guardian $1,500, Liverpool and London and Globe $1,500, Caledonian $1,000.—Mail.

Execution of Tompsett and Towder

PICTON, June 10.—Joseph Tompsett and George Lowder were hanged in the county gaol here this morning. The execution took place inside the gaol, and was witnessed by about two dozen, including the officials. Tompsett did not say a word, but stood firmly, hardly moving a muscle. Lowder said if they knew what they were doing they would not do it, and then began praying. He prayed for some minutes, using good language, but becoming more and more excited as he went on, until at length he broke down completely, his legs tottering so that he could hardly stand. As soon as he ceased the hangman swiftly adjusted the caps and took a position at the bolt. At a signal from the sheriff he drew the bolt, and the men shot through into the lower corridor. They swayed back and forth, their arms and legs twitched strongly for about four minutes and gradually grew weaker until eight minutes after they fell, when the motions ceased. Pulsations of the heart were perceptible until thirteen minutes after they fell, when the surgeon pronounced them dead. The arrangements for the execution were admirable. The hangman was cool and seemingly experienced. Neither of the unfortunate men admitted his guilt at any time. Lowder left a letter with his minister, with the request that it be published, in which he solemnly affirms his innocence. A black flag was hoisted from the flag-staff of the gaol immediately the execution took place, and the bell of St. Mary Magdalen church tolled for half an hour, fifteen minutes previous to and fifteen minutes after the execution. A large but orderly crowd surrounded the gaol, and were collected at favorable points for observation, watching the flag-staff over the gaol, waiting to see the black flag run up.

Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint.

Is it not worth the small price of 75 cents to free yourself of every symptom of those distressing complaints? If you think so call at our store and get a bottle of Shiloh's vitalizer. Every bottle has a printed guarantee on it, use accordingly, and if it does you no good it will cost you nothing. Sold by J. D. Tully.

Cured Free.

Any reader troubled with dyspepsia, costiveness, headache, liver complaint, etc., should call at John McKee's drug store and secure a free trial bottle of McGregor's Speedy Cure at once, which will convince you of the merits of the medicine. It cures permanently where all other medicines have failed. As a blood purifier it has no equal. Remember it costs nothing to try it. Regular size fifty cents and one dollar

Can't Be Beaten.

It is a fact that Nerviline cannot be surpassed by any combination for the relief of pain. The reason is a good one. Nerviline contains the best, most powerful, and the latest discovered remedies. It is a magic pain cure. Rheumatism, stiff neck, cramps, neuralgia, colic, in fact all pain, internal, external, and local, are subdued in a few minutes. Go at once to Ormond & Walsh's drug store and get a trial bottle. It will only cost you 10 cents, and you can at a small cost test the great pain cure, Polson's Nerviline. Large bottles only 25 cts.

COLONIZATION ROADS.

SOME of our Reform contemporaries are indulging in a little bragging over an intended expenditure this year of $120,000 on colonization roads, representing that it is great generosity on the part of our temporary rulers, and a great boon to the people that their own money should be thus expended for this purpose. As this is about the usual figure under the Mowat Administration for election years, when funds to secure votes are required, and as it is about half as much again as the usual amount in bye years, when there is no call for expenditure to influence the electors, this unusual outlay at first sight seems somewhat singular. There is no regular general election in view, and no immediate probability of such a contest. But on second thought it will be remembered that there is certainly an election at hand in Muskoka and probably in Algoma. Mr. Mowat, who seems to have neither the courage and manhood to resist evil nor to commit it in person, is now in England to carry out the Conservative policy forced upon him in the Boundary matter, and has once more left his bolder and less scrupulous colleagues in charge. Again we may expect to hear of departmental officers sent to purchase pumpkin and voters, newspapers and electors, to hire boats to miss the polls, to lay out construction roads to waterfalls or through village streets, to build bridges within a stone's throw of others, and other such devices for returning fraudulent representatives. Again we may expect to hear of telegrems to ministers too iniquitous to be sent except in cypher or to be preserved, expenditures which cannot be presented to the House or its Committees, and details obstinately hidden till years after the event. With a credit of $130,000 these adepts in corruption, though they may not construct many miles of colonization road, will no doubt be able to purchase a good many votes. If not they will have to try to seat their friends by an Act again, as in the case of Informer Dowling and others.

A MASTER OF FICTION.

As we have recently had reason to think that we may possibly have done some injustice to the Hon. Lucius Seth Huntington, we deem it only fair to that gentleman to reconsider the opinion that we had formed and expressed in regard to him. A later incident in his career gives some ground for the conclusion that his character has been misunderstood, and consequently his actions misinterpreted, so in honesty he should be given the benefit of the doubt between the two possible estimates of him.

The fact to which we refer is that the Hon. L. S. Huntington has just published a novel. We are informed that it is a very successful work, so good indeed for a first venture as to prove that he has a natural genius for fiction, and that by the peculiarities of his mental constitution he must be especially adapted for the art. We must confess, serious as the omission may be, that we have not read "Professor Conant," but in excuse we must plead that our leisure for indulging in such reading being limited, we have no more time than suffices for the perusal of the fictions that are to be found so plentifully in the columns of the Globe and other Reform journals. We are, however quite ready to believe that the new novel greatly excels, especially in its imaginative qualities, for we are so assured by those who should be experts in fiction.

This being the case, we feel that we may have erred in taking the previous performances of this gifted author too seriously, and measuring them by a standard not fairly applicable to them. It would not be right, for example, to exact from a modern Defoe or Cervantes proof of the accuracy of their accounts of a Robinson Crusoe or a Don Quixotte, as if they were grave historians. The work might be moulded in an historical form and yet might be intended simply as fiction.

It might thus have been only as an imaginative creation—as a masterpiece of fiction that the Hon. L. S. Huntington some years ago poured forth his "strange story," commonly known as the "Pacific Scandal." If it were to be judged as an historical work or as the evidence of a witness would be, it could only be characterized as a gross and wicked falsehood. His statement was, to put it briefly, that Sir John Macdonald and his colleagues had sold a charter for the Pacific Railway and a contract for its construction to Sir Hugh Allan and certain United States capitalists, for money supplied in part by these foreigners, in order with these funds to corrupt the electorate. The truth turned out to be that no charter or contract had been sold; that Sir Hugh Allan had only a thirteenth part of the control and influence of a Board of Directors consisting of carefully selected, thoroughly representative, impartial and influential gentlemen, of whom he did not even secure the chairmanship; that he spent far larger sums in opposition to the Ministry than in support of it; and that the foreigners interested, far from being favored, were infuriated by the firm refusal of the Cabinet to allow them any share in the projected company. Of course such inaccuracies might easily be taken for a villainous slander, but with the new light as to Mr. Huntington's intellectual bent, it may be that it was rather a wonderful work of fiction. He may have been trying the flight of his imagination, or, so strange are the eccentricities of genius, he may have been absolutely dominated by the invention of his own creative fancy. Some additional probability is given to this theory by the fact that when there was a prospect of this figment of a romancer's genius being brought in contact with a prosaic and matter of fact investigation, the gifted author absolutely shrank from the ordeal with all the sensitiveness so commonly connected with such an order of intellect. Under this supposition it is evident that Mr. Huntington may have been misconstrued and blamed without sufficient ground. Even the means by which some of his material was obtained, the stealing of private papers, the hiring of the treason of confidential clerks, and so forth, would have a less heinous aspect. Possibly Mr. Huntington may belong to the realistic school of fiction that delights in getting hold of some genuine documents and actual facts as to historical personages, and then interweaving them with fiction, till neither the events nor the actors in them could be recognised by the more prosaic Professor Dryasdust. His breaches of ordinary honesty would then be in a measure extenuated by the pressure of an overpowering, if perverted, type of genius, as in a similar school of painting we pity, even while we condemn, the artist who went the length of murdering his model that he might portray with grim fidelity the death agony.

So, too, in another episode of Mr. Huntington's checkered career, we had thought that his copper mine eccentricities were mere swindles, and that he disgorged part of his ill-gotten gains rather than face the disgrace that awaited him if he ventured into a law court. As, however, a master, or perhaps more correctly a victim of fiction, impelled an overpowering genius for invention, his flights on this subject also may have been the work of a romancer, a new El Dorado, a modern Synbad's valley.

It may be that history will hereafter inscribe the name of Lucius Smith Huntingdon as one who has done honour to the Dominion as an author of fictitious literature, instead of disgracing Canada as a dishonest politician and a fraudulent speculator. We know, indeed, that the Muse of History, if it holds a pen in one hand, wields a whitewash brush in the other.

STYLE OF PADDLING.

The following suggestive letter under the head of "Speed without Style' and bearing a well-known signature appears in the June number of the American Canoeist, the official organ of the A. C. A.:—

Editor Canoeist:—I, with others of our club, was at the Stoney Lake Camp of the A.C.A. of last year, and, of course, saw the sailing and paddling races.

It is with regard to a feature of the latter, that I would, in a brief paragraph or two, jog the attention of amateur canoemen generally.

In the paddling races speed seemed the object.

This was natural enough; but speed was made, it struck me, wholly at a sacrifice of style. It was the "get there" stroke—to borrow a rowing term—pure and only.

Now, why should this be so? In rowing, length, neatness and regularity of stroke, cleanliness of feather, and all the little details attended to count. More, it is generally admitted that the practice helps materially to bring up the rate at which the boat travels.

I would make the suggestion that at the next meeting of the A.C.A.—the Thousand Islands Camp—that a special race or two—paddling races—be placed on the programme with a view to encourage a more graceful and neat way of paddling.

How can this be done? By making style come as well as speed. In what way? Simply enough—by points.

Allow a maximum of say 20 points in all "for style", divided up under—I will use the expression for convenience sake—five heads.

Five points for straight steering.

Five points for regularity of stroke.

Five points for position, say absence of absurd swing of arms, head, rolling from side to side, etc.

Five points for freedom from splashing, trim of canoe, &c.

There you have it. If a rariety of "points" count in a "slugging" match, and if attention to these matches count in so called athletics, paddling can stand a judicious amount of coaching in the direction of "style".

I make these suggestions in good spirit, and with the impression that Canadian paddlers, perhaps, stand in greater need of training than their American cousins, who use the double bladed paddle very gracefully.

FRANK H. DOBBIN,
Secretary Lindsay (Canada) Canoe Club.

From Ottawa to the Rockies.

Mr. Collingwood Schrieber, Chief Engineer of the Government Railways, who returned from a tour of inspection of the Canadian Pacific Railway, eastern division, says the track is laid 130 miles west of Callender. A large force of men are at work, and he is quite satisfied that there will be uninterrupted rail communication between Ottawa and the Rocky Mountains by May next.

United States Trade

There were 182 failures reported during the past week in the United States against 148 in the preceding one. About 80 percent were of small traders, whose capital was less than $500. Special reports indicatin the volume of general trade at a number of centres shows a noticeable increase. This while not marked is conspicuous as being the first recorded since the check given to general commercial dealings by the curtailment of bank discounts.

2. Three-mile race.
3. One-mile race, for the championship of Canada.
4. Half-mile race, without hands.
5. Two-mile race, open.
6. One-mile tricycle race.
7. Two-mile race, roadsters, 40 lbs. or over, barring Ross, Westbrook, and Doolittle.
8. Five-mile race, for the championship of Canada.
9. One mile race, for championship of Toronto, open to resident Toronto wheelmen, for medal presented by Mr. T. H. Robinson.
10. Obstacle race.

The above races are only open to members of the C.W.A., except Nos. 3 and 8, which are open to any Canadian rider, and No. 5, which is open to a" amateurs.

Canadian Cheese.

In an interesting article in the Live Stock Journal upon the Scotch Dairy Farmers' Association, Professor Sheldron makes some flattering references to the recent improvements in cheese-making in Canada. He remarks that "not to Scotland nor even to Somerset, the birth place of the system, must we look for the improvements which have been wrought out in Cheddar cheese-making. To America, and more particularly to Canada, we must turn in our search for the later developments of which the system has been proved to be susceptible." "The Scotch farmers," he goes on to say, "feel, that their Cheddars compare unfavorably with the mellow and salvy cheese of Canada; so much of which is now being sent to the north-western markets to compete with the home-made Cheddars. One of the most successful cheese-maker is Mr. Harris, of Ontario, who is now employed by the Association to teach the later Cheddar method to the Scotch dairymen, and we may safely take it for granted that his teaching will have a very beneficial effect on the dairy husbandry of the north." It is earnestly to be wished, we will merely observe, that before long the same excellence may be claimed for Canadian butter.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

A GOOD THING.

Dr. Adam Miller, Chicago, Ill., says: "I have recommended Horsford's Acid Phosphat to my patients, and have received very favourable reports. It is one of the very few really valuable preparations now offered to the afflicted. In a practice of thirty-five years I have found a few good things, and this is one of them."

OLD ECHOES.

You wonder that my tears should flow
In listening to that simple strain;
That those unskilled sounds should fill
My soul with joy and pain—
How can you tell what thoughts it stirs
Within my herat again?

You wonder why that common phase,
So all unmeaning to your ear,
Should stay me in my merriest mood,
And thrill my soul to hear—
How can you tell what ancient charm
Has made me hold it dear?

You smile to see me turn and speak
With one whose converse you despise,
You do not see the dreams of old
That with his voice arise—
How can you tell what links have made
Him sacred in my eyes?

O, these are voices of the Past,
Links of a broken chain,
Wings that can bear me back to times
Which cannot come again,
Yet God forbid that I should lose
The echoes that remain.

CHAPTER XV.—CONTINUED.

At length most unexpectedly, when science laid down its weapons, to watch the close of the struggle—and nature the Divine Doctor quickly took up the gauge of battle—the tide of conflict turned. Slowly the numbed brain began to exert its force, the fluttering thread pulse grew calmer, and one day the dreamer awoke to the bitter consciousness of a renewal of all the galling burden of woes, which the tireless law of compensation had for these long weeks, mercifully loosed and lifted.

Although guarded with tender care by the faithful pair, who had followed her across the Atlantic, she convalesced almost imperceptibly and out of her busy life, two months fruitful alone in bodily pain, glided away to the silent gray of the past.

Dimly conscious that day and weeks were creeping by, uninproved, she retained in subsequent years only a dreamy reminiscence of the period dating from the moment when she essayed to utter the last words of Queen Katherine, words which ran zigzag, hither, and thither like an electric thread through the leaden cloud of her delirium, to the hour when, with returning strength, keen goading thrusts from the unsheathed dagger of memory, told her that the Sleeping Furies had once more been aroused on the threshold of the temple of her life.

Noticing some rare hothouse flowers in a vase upon the table near her bed, Mrs. Waul hastened to explain to the invalid that every other day during her illness, bouquets had been brought to their hotel by the servant of some American gentleman, who was anxious to receive constant tidings of Mrs. Orme's condition; adding that the physicians had forbidden her to keep the flowers in the sick-room, until all danger seemed passed. No card had been attached, no name given, and by the sufferer none was needed. Gazing at the superb heart's-ease whose white velvet petals were enamelled with scarlet, purple and gold, the mockery stung her keenly, and with a groan she turned away, hiding her face on the pillow. Heart's-ease from the man who had bruised, trampled, broken her heart? She instructed Mrs. Waul to decline receiving the bouquet when next the messenger came, and to request him to assure his master that Madame Orme was fully conscious once more, and wished the floral tribute discontinued.

During the tedious days of convalescence she contracted a cold that attacked her lungs, and and forboded congestion; and though yielding to medical treatment, it left her as souvenir, a troublesome cough.

Her physicians informed her that her whole nervous system had received a shock so severe, that only perfect and prolonged rest of mind, and freedom from all excitement, could restore its healthful tone. Interdicting sternly the thought of dramatic labour, for at least a year, they urged her to seek a quiet retreat in Italy, or Southern France, as her lungs had already become somewhat involved.

More than once she had been taken in a carriage through the Bois de Boulogne—but to-day for the first time since her recovery, she ventured on foot, in quest of renewed vigour from out-door air and exercise.

Wrapped in a mental cloud of painful speculation concerning her future career—a cloud unblessed as yet by silver lining, and unfringed with gold—she wandered aimlessly along the walk, taking no notice of passers-by, until she approached the water, where swans were performing their daily regatta evolutions for the amusement of those who generally came provided with crumbs or grain, wherewith to feed them.

The sound of a sob attracted Mrs. Orme's attention, and she paused to witness a scene that quickly aroused her sympathy.

A child's carriage had been pushed close to the margin of the basin, to enable the occupant to feast the swans with morsels of cake, and in leaning over to scatter the food, a little hat composed of lace, silk, and flowers, had fallen into the water. Near the carriage stood a boy apparently about ten years old, who, with a small walking-stick, was maliciously pushing the dainty millinery bubble as far beyond reach as possible.

In the carriage, and partly covered by a costly and brillisnt afghan, reclined a forlorn and truly pitiable creature, who seemed to have sunk down helplessly on the cushions. Although her age was seven years, the girl's face really appeared much older, and in its shrunken, sallow, pinched aspect indicated lifelong suffering.

The short thin dark hair was dry and harsh, lacking the silken gloss that belongs to childhood, and the complexion a sickly yellowish pallor. Her brilliant eyes were black, large, and prominent, and across her upper lip ran a diagonal scar, occasionally seen in those so afflicted as to require the merciful knife of a skilful surgeon to aid in shaping the mouth.

The unfortunate victim of physical deformity, increased by a fall which prevented the possibility of her ever being able to walk, nature had with unusual malignity stamped her with a feebleness of intellect that at times bordered almost on imbecility.

Temporarily deserted by her nurse, the poor little creature was crying bitterly over the fate of her hat. Walking up behind the boy, who was too much engrossed by his mischievous sports to observe her approach, Mr. Orme seized his arms.

"You wicked boy! How can you be so cruel as to torment that afflicted child?"

Taking his pretty mother-of-pearl-headed cane, she tried to touch the hat, but it was just beyond her reach, and resolved to rescue it, she fastened the cane to the handle of her parasol using her handkerchief to bind them together. Thus elongated it sufficed to draw the hat to the margin and raising it she shook out the water, and hung the dripping bit of finery upon one of the handles of the carriage.

"Give me my walking-stick," said the boy, whose pronunciation proclaimed him thoroughly English.

"No, sir. I intend to punish you for your cruelty. You tyrannized over that helpless little girl, because you were the strongest. I think I have more strength than you, and you shall feel how pleasant such conduct is."

Untying the cane, she raised it in the air, and threw it with all the force she could command into the middle of the water.

"Now, if you want it, wade in with your best boots and Sunday clothes to get it; and go home and tell your parents, if you have any, that you are a bad, rude, ugly-behaved boy. When you need your toy, think of that hat."

The cane had sunk instantly, and with a sullen scowl of rage at her, and a grimace at the occupant of the carriage, the boy walked sulkily away.

With her handkerchief, Mrs. Orme wiped off the water that adhered to the hat, squeezed and shook out the ribbons and laid it upon the afghan, in reach of the fingers that more nearly resembled claws that the digits of a human hand.

"Don't cry dear. It will soon dry now!"

The solemn black eyes still glistening with tears, stared up at her, and impelled by that peculiar pitying tenderness that hovers in the hearts of all mothers, Mrs. Orme bent down and gently smoothed the elfish locks around the sallow forehead.

"Has your nurse run away and left you? Don't be afraid; nothing shall trouble you. I will stay with you until she comes back."

"Hellene is gone to buy candy," said the dwarf, timidly.

"My dear, what is your name?"

"Maud Ames Laurance."

The stranger had compassionately taken one of the thin hands in her own, but throwing it from her as if it had been a serpent, she recoiled, involuntarily pushing the carriage from its resting place. It rolled a few steps and stopped, while she stood shuddering.

Her first impulse was to hurry away; the second was more feminine in its promptings, and conquered. Once more she approached the unfortunate child, and scrutinized her, with eyes that gradually kindled into a blaze.

She bore in no respect the faintest resemblance to her father, but Mrs. Orme fancied she traced the image of the large-featured bold-eyed mother; and as she contrasted this feeble deformed creature with the remembered face and figure of her own beautiful darling girl, a bitter but intensely triumphant laugh broke suddenly on the air.

"Maud Ames Laurance! A proud name truly—and royally you grace it! Ah, Nemesis! —Christianity would hunt you down as a pagan myth—but all honor—glory to you, incorruptible pitiless avenger! Accept my homage; repay my wrongs—and then demand in sacrificial tribute what you will—though it were my heart's best blood! Aha! will she lend lustre to the family name? Shall the splendour of her high-born aristocratic beauty gild the crime that gave her being? Yes, verily, it seems that after all, even for me the mills of the gods do not forget to grind. 'The time of their visitation will come, and that inevitably; for, it is always true, that if the fathers have eaten sour grapes, the children's teeth are set on edge.' Command my life-long allegiance, oh Queenly Nemesis!"

Looking down with exultant delight on the ugly deformity, who stared back wonderingly at her, Mrs. Orme's wan thin face grew radiant, the brown eyes dilated, glowed, and the blood leaped to her hollow cheeks, burning in two scarlet spots, but the invocation seemed literally answered, when she was suddenly conscious of a strange bubbling sensation, and over her parted laughing lips crept the crimson that fed her heart.

At this moment the child's nurse, a pretty, bright-eyed young coquette, hurried toward the group, accompanied by a companion of the same class; and as she approached and seized the handles of the carriage, Mrs. Orme turned away. The hemorrhage was not copious, but steady, and lowering her thick veil, she endeavored to staunch its flow. Her handkerchief, already damp from contact with the wet hat, soon became saturated, and she was obliged to substitute the end of her lace mantle.

Formosa.

The following letter from Dr. Mackay to the Secretary of the W. F. M. Society of Kingston will be read with interest:—

FORMOSA, Tamsui, Feb. 5, 1884.

A year has passed away since you kindly wrote to me. It seems like a week. Please think that I have been all alone and so busy that dearest ones get no letters from me. I am a miserable correspondent. Kindly judge from the heart more than from my letters. God is here—right here with us. On October 8th I began to build the Girls' School, and on January 19th I opened it in the presence of a large crowd. I examined, counted, weighed and measured every kind of material used, frames, doors, bricks, stones, lime, timber, &c. I drew the plan, and stood exposed to burning suns, under torrents of rain and sweeping winds, yes, stood with Mrs. Mackay, overlooking the work sometimes till midnight. Tell the ladies I tried to do my best, and if they blame me, so be it. It is the finest building in Formosa—so says everybody. Eleven chapels will soon be opened on the east coast. Work marching on. One old woman, a convert of eight years standing, was taken suddenly ill and lay in bed two hours only—oh what hours! calling out "Nothing but Jesus"—"Lord take me home quickly." Let angels spread their wings and fill immensity, with shouts of praise to Him who died to save sinners! And let Christian ladies in Kingston and throughout the Dominion catch the strain and swell it; roll it; shout it until no room be left in their hearts for coldness, deadness, &c., yes, until no need of letters to stir them up, the love—the love—the boundless love of Jesus constraineth us! Let the soul burn by the Divine Spirit pouring day and night into the heart. Farewell—kindest regards to all.—G. L. Mackey.—Presbyterian Record.

A Formidable Rival.

The English Timber Trades Journal, commenting on the statement of Mr. R. Giffen, of the Board of Trade in regard to agricultural and dairy produce says:—

"Good cheese is a paying commodity, although subjected to tremendous opposition from abroad, where great pains are taken, especially in Southern Europe, to produce an article more toothsome than our average English cheese, which our dairy establishments should seriously take to heart (and here incidentally we may mention that the British dairy farmer has a formidable opposition to contend with from Canada.

Recent statistics show that this industry in the Dominion is making remarkable progress, In 1866 the export of butter was 10,448,789 lb., valued at 2,009,000 dols.; and of cheese, 8,700 quintals, valued at 123,000 dols.; making a total value of 1,217,764 dols. In 1883 the total value of both exports was 8,157,000 dols., of which 1,705,817 dols. went to the account of butter and 6,451,870 dols. to that of cheese. It is also remarked that, whereas in 1871 there were in the Dominion 353 cheese factories, there are now more than double that number. But nobody begrudges to Canada an equal right to the British market with ourselves.

INVALUABLE TO EVERY LADY.

"MAY DEW"

The Great French Lotion for Beautifying the Face.

It conceals the evidence of age. One application will make the most stubbornly red and rough hands beautifully soft and white. Remember that "MAY DEW" is not a paint or powder that fills up the pores of the skin, and that is injurious to the skin, but a new and great discovery, a vegetable liquid, that causes the cheek to glow with health, the neck, arms and hands to rival the Lily in whiteness. Impossible to detect in the beauty it confers any artificial character. It cures Greasy Skin, Freckles, Wrinkles, Pimples, Black Heads, Crow's Feet, Blotches, Face Grubs, Sun Burn, Tan, Ringworms, Chapped Hands, Sore or Chapped Lips, Barber's Itch, Tetter, etc. It frees the pores, oil glands, and tubes from the injurious effects of powders and cosmetic washes. By its use all redness and roughness are prevented; it beautifies the skin, and will make it soft, smooth and white; imparting a delicious softness, producing a perfectly healthy, natural, and youthful appearance. The best face lotion that the world ever produced. We will send "A LARGE BOTTLE" to any address on receipt of price $1. When ordering mention this paper.

LOCAL NEWS

New and Attractive.

Everything new and attractive in Fair, Van Every & Co.'s millinery department. An inspection will repay you.

Cricket Match.

The cricket match between the Peterborough and Toronto clubs will take place on the Ashburnham crisket ground on Friday June 20th.

Masonic.

Mr. Charles Dobbler, of Port 'Hope, Grand Superintendant of Ontario District, R.A.M., paid an official visit to Corinthian Chapter at a special meeting held on Tuesday evening.

Garden Party and Sale of Fancy Work.

The mission Band of St. Paul's Church have made arrangements to hold the above, in the grounds of Wm. Hamilton on Friday evening, 12th inst, beginning at 7 o'clock. Admission ten cents. The band will be in attendance.

Concert.

A concert will be given on Wednesday, June 18, at St. John's School House, in aid of the Women's Foreign and Domestic Mission. We learn that the programme arranged is an excellent one, and the assistance of the best local talent has been promised.

The George Street Church.

A number of shade trees are being planted on the street around the grounds of the George Street Methodist Church. The crevices between the stones in the basement wall are being filled up, and other work of improvement is being done.

An Experiment.

An experiment in water tabling is being tried on George street. A cobble-stone pavement is being put in near the corner of Hunter street, in front of Messrs. McKee & Davidson's and Mr. Lebrun's, by Mr. R. S. Davidson, in order to test that means of carrying off the water and draining the streets.

A Speedy Clearance.

During the month of June, Messrs. Fairweather & Co., will offer their large stock of dry goods, millinery, house furnishings, &c., for sale at greatly reduced prices, in order to effect a speedy clearance of the whole stock. The entire stock will be sold without reserve, and the sale will therefore afford a good opportunity to purchase goods cheaply.

A Petrified Bone.

Mr. R. Q. Dench, of Lakefield, left a curiosity at Messrs. Ormond & Walsh's on Tuesday evening, in the form of a petrified bone. The curiosity was unearthed on Mr. Dench's farm, and was about two feet under the surface of the earth. It is eleven inches long, weighed four pounds, and was evidently the thigh bone of a hog or bear. The bone was thoroughly petrified.

Mr. Thos. White, M.P.

The London Free Press has the following well-deserved tribute to the abilities of an old resident of Peterborough and former editor of the REVIEW :—

"Mr. Thomas White has been visiting his constituents, talking with them on the issues of the day. He took up the recent utterances of Sir Richard Cartwright, exposing their fallacies and their falsities. Mr. White has often proved himself to be more than a match for the Knight who boasts that he can turn his shield to suit the temper of his audience. In fact, Sir Richard does not like Mr. White to follow him in debate. He looks considerably torn after coming through Mr. White's hands."

The Waterworks.

The waterworks main is being extended across Rubidge street, at the corner of Hunter street, and a hydrant is being put in on the west side of Rubidge street at this place. This extension is for the purpose of affording fire protection to St. Peter's Cathedral and the Bishop's residence, besides furnishing water for general use at the residence. The water will also be used in the work now going on in enlarging the Cathedral. The mains are also being extended on Simcoe street, and the water will be used in the gas house.

The most Recherche Styles, in Men's Furnishings, at the most moderate prices, can be found at Andrew McNeil's

NEW MIDLAND TIME TABLE.

Changes from February Time Card—To take Effect on Monday.

The new time table of the Midland Division of the Grand Trunk Railway, which will come into effect on Monday, June 16th, at the re-opening of the Missing Link, will cause some changes in the time of the arrival and departure of trains. Of course the opening of the Link will cause considerable difference from the present time, but the new table does not make much change in the time of the Toronto trains from that which prevailed under the table which took effect on the 18th of February last.

PETERBOROUGH TO TORONTO.

The morning train to Toronto and intermediate stations will leave here at 7.25 instead of 7.40, as in the February time card, and will arrive in Toronto at 11.45, instead of 12.15.

The afternoon train to Toronto will depart from here at 4.40 (no change), and will arrive at the capital at 9, instead of 9.15.

The mixed train for Toronto will leave this station at 11.30, instead of 11.40, and will arrive at Toronto at 6.10, instead of 7.

TORONTO TO PETERBOROUGH.

The morning train from Toronto will leave that city at 7, (no change) and arrive at Peterborough at 11.30, instead of 11.45.

The afternoon train will depart from the capital at 4.10, instead of 4, and will arrive here at 8.30, instead of 8.45.

The mixed train will leave, Toronto at 7.35, instead of 6, and will arrive at this station at 2.30, instead 3. This train reaches Lindsay at 12.50, and stops there for 25 minutes.

PETERBOROUGH AND BELLEVILLE.

The morning train for Belleville will leave Peterborough at 7.30, instead of 8, and will arrive at that city at 11.15, instead of 12.20.

The afternoon train will leave here at 1.30, instead of 2, and will reach Belleville at 5.30, instead of 5.40.

The morning train from Belleville will leave that city at 6.30, instead of 8, and will arrive here at 10.20, instead of 12.20.

The afternoon train will depart from Belleville at 6, (no change), and will arrive here at 9.50, instead of 9.40.

The change in the time of the arrival of the forenoon train at Peterborough will give those who come here from the east a long time to do business in the town, because, although the afternoon train will depart half an hour earlier than now, the morning train will arrive here two hours earlier.

LAKEFIELD.

The people of Lakefield will not receive much benefit from the change, as they will still have only one train a day each way.

The train will leave here at 11.45, instead of 12.25, and will arrive at Lakefield at 12.45, instead of 1.40. Returning, it will leave that village at 2.45, instead of 3.10, and will arrive here at 3.40, instead of 3.55.

Fresh Fish.

Trout, White Fish, Maskinonge, Black Bass and Finnan Haddies fresh at Carton Bros. grocery.

Beautiful Goods.

Beautiful Lawns, Guipure Embroideries, Parasols and Silk Umbrellas in endless variety at the "Golden Lion."

Bass' English Ale.

Another large shipment of Bass' Ale, October brewing, just arrived at W. Chamberlain's Restaurant. Imported direct.

A Fine Beverage.

Dowe's India Pale Ale, the best ale made in Canada, on draught at the Little Windsor Hotel, the proprietor of which is sole agent for Peterborough.

An Excursion from Toronto.

The Young People's Association of the Yorkville Methodist Church will run an excursion over the Ontario and Quebec Railway to, in the words of the pastor, the Rev. R. N. Burns, B.A., our "fair and beautiful town," on the 17th of July. Mr. Burns has written to Mr. A Clegg for information as to grounds for pic-nicing and amusements.

His Mother Cut his Hair.

You can always tell a boy whose mother cuts his hair by the way he stops in the street and wiggles his shoulders. When a fond mother has to cut her boy's hair, she is careful to guard against any annoyance and mess by laying a sheet on the carpet. It has never yet occurred to her to set him over a bare floor and put the sheet around his neck. Then she draws the front hair over his eyes, and leaves it there while she cuts that which is at the back. The hair which lies over his eyes appeares to be surcharged with electric needles, and that which is silently dropping down under his collar band appears to be on fire. She has unconsciously continued to push his head forward until his nose presses his breast, and is too busily engaged to notice the snuffling sound that is becoming alarmingly frequent. In the meantime he is seized with an irresistible desire to blow his nose, but recollects that his handkerchief is in the other room. Then a fly lights on his nose, and does it so unexpectedly that he involuntarily dodges, and catches the points of the shears it his left ear. At this he commences to cry and wish he was a man. But his mother doesn't notice him. She merely hits him on the other ear to inspire him with confidence, and goes on with the work. When she is through, she holds his jacket collar back from his neck, and with her mouth blows the short bits of hair from the top of his head down his back. He calls her attention to this fact, but she looks for a new place on his head and hits him there, and asks him why he didn't use his handkerchief. Then he takes his awfully disfigured head to the mirror and looks at it, and, young as he is, shudders as he thinks of what the boys in the street will say. And longs for time to come where he will be in a position to go a decent barbar and buy his clothes from ANDREW MCNEIL, Tailor and Clothier, George Street.

Dress and Mantle Making

Superior in Quality.

Rich Dress and Mantle Silks and Satins of superior quality and at irresistable prices at the "Golden Lion."

Bodega.

Fine Spanish wines, Ports and Sherries drawn from the wood, at William Chamberlain's Restaurant.

A Collision.

Two freight trains collided on the Midland Division of the Grand Trunk Railway on Tuesday afternoon near Brechin. The damage done, we understand, was slight.

The Probabilities.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, counting from one o'clock this morning, as reported from the Toronto Observatory, are as follows :—Moderate to fresh east and north winds, fair to cloudy weather, with a few light showers in south-western Ontario, higher temperature.

Organ Recital.

The date of Mr. Ewing's organ recital having been unavoidably postponed is now positively fixed for Wednesday, the 25th inst. All true lovers of music should hold themselves disengaged for that evening, as a rich programme will be presented. Herr Jacobsen, the celebrated violinist, has been engaged for the occasion.

Smith's Market—Friday.

SEA SALMON, TROUT,
WHITE FISH,
MASKINONGE,
and BASS.

Pencil Points.

—Cool and cloudy.

—Four Saved Army outposts were opened last week.

—Two toddling tourists were given a night's lodging in the police cells last night.

—Mr. R. White's livery stable has been connected with the telephone system.

—A session of the Police Court began at 4 o'clock. Two cases of larceny are being tried.

—There was a fair attendance on the market this morning. Prices remained at about the same figures.

—One prisoner was arrested last night charged with larceny, and another was arrested today on the same charge.

—Two young men went behind the Bank of Commerce on Tuesday evening to settle a dispute with their fists. A large crowd collected, but a messenger having been sent for the police the combatants left without enjoying the fight.

A Hallelujah Wedding.

The talk about the hallelujah wedding which was to take place in the Saved Army ranks was not without foundation, as two of the officers of the Army, Lieut. Pengelly, of Campbellford, and Lieut. Hattie Abercrombie, of this station, will be united in the bonds of matrimony on Tuesday evening next. The ceremony will be performed in the Opera House, and all who are desirous of witnessing it may do so by paying the small sum of 25 cents. There will be ceremony about everything connected with the marriage, it seems, even to the reception of presents by the bride, as the presents given to her will be received by the delegates, Messrs. G. B. Sproule, R. Weir, and W. G. Phillips. Placed on a table, covered over and not seen by any one until they are unveiled to the gaze of the audience. Much interest appears to be felt among the soldiers, and even those outside of the ranks, in the ceremony.

Female Electricians.

Two young ladies, who have a taste for scientific knowledge and are not afraid to make investigations in order to obtain it, on Tuesday evening went to have a view of the dynamo machine which furnishes the electricity for the electric light. The agent of the Royal explained to them, in his blandest manner, the principle on which it worked and at their request allowed one of the young ladies to make the connection and illuminate the town. However, when the young lady attempted to cause the sparks to blaze in the lamps, she succeeded only in producing a flash of lightning which frightened them not a little, but it was explained that her sparking experiments did not always result in that way, and she was allowed to try again. The second time she succeeded, and had the satisfaction of knowing that she had illuminated simultaneously the twenty-seven lights in different parts of the town. These young ladies deserve credit for their courage, especially if they had read the letters of a correspondent which contained those terrible warnings of the dangers of the electric light.

Never Give Up.

If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility disordered blood, weak constitution, headache or any disease of a bilious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Taylor and McDonald.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box For sale by Taylor & Macdonald.

Confirmation.

A confirmation service will be held in St. John's Church on Tuesday, July 8th, by the Rt. Rev. the Lord Bishop of Toronto.

Tontine Powder Explosion.

DENVER, Col., June 10.—A powder magazine containing 10,000 pounds of Tonite powder located three and a half miles east of this city, exploded this morning. A large number of plate fronts in the business portion of the city were wrecked. A farm house three hundred yards distant was demolished; the occupants miraculously escaped. Cause of the explosion unknown.

A Note of Warning to Suffering Hunanity.

We feel that we would be wanting in the duty that we owe to humanity if we did not sound a note of warning in regard to the use of mercury and other poisonous minerals in the treatment of blood and skin diseases. If the reader could see the horrible suffering, the awful wrecks of human health and happiness, shown by our correspondence with those who have been dosed with these mineral poisons, he would shudder with horror. Arsenic, mercury, antimony, and iodide of potassium, are some of the remedies most ordinarily used for these diseases, and they are all poison. Do not take these poisons. They might dry up your disease for a few days, but it will surely return, and with it you will have mercurial rheumatism, which may bring you years of torture. Shaker Blood Syrup will invigorate you and build you up, and force all poison out through the pores of your skin, and cure you sound and well.

SHAKER BLOOD SYRUP

cures completely scrofula, syphilis, rheumatism, cancer, catarrh, and skin and blood diseases of every description. Sold everywhere, $1 a bottle, or six for $5.

Try MORGAN'S Blue Grass Condition Powders for Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Hogs, and Poultry. Best in use only 25 cents. Find Morgan's Drug Store.

There are lots of people going around grumbling, and half sick at the Stomach all the time; who might be well and happy if they only used Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters occasionally. It is a splendid Blood Purifier. All Druggists, 50 cents.

PHOSPHATINE, a name which to every intelligent mind, professional or otherwise, is a key to its composition. No safer, purer, more palatable and more effective compound has ever been offered in cases of nervous exhaustion and pulmonary consumption. For sale by all druggists.

THERE are many people who think because they have suffered from a corn for years they must suffer on to the end of time. Dr. Starr's Corn Solvent will surely cure it. Sold by J. D Tully, druggist, for 25 cents.

TRY THE GOLDEN FRUIT BITTERS.—You will never regret it. The judicious use of the Golden Fruit Bitters and Pills will cure every case of indigestion, Billousness, loss of appetite and all troubles of the liver and kidneys. Sold by all druggists.

A Great Discovery

That is daily bringing joy to the homes of thousands by saving many of their dear ones from an early grave, truly is Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, hay fever, loss of voice, ticking in the throat, pain in side and chest, or any disease of the throat and lungs, a positive cure guaranteed. Trial bottles free at Taylor and McDonald's drug store. Large size $1.

A Card.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D., New York City.

A New Principle.

The principle upon which Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor acts is entirely new. It does noes not sink deep into the flesh, thereby producing soreness, but acts directly upon the external covering of the corn, separates it from the under layer, removes the direct pressure from the pars, and at once effects a radical cure, without any pain or discomfort. Let those who are suffering from corns, yet sceptical of treatment, try it, and by the completeness of the cure they will be ready to recommend Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor to others.

DISCLOSURES!

A HOME SCENE.

WIFE (to husband)—To-day, my dear, I made a wonderful discovery. I discovered Dolan & Co'y.

HUSBAND (drawlingly)—Some of your old beaux, I suppose.

WIFE—No, Dolan & Co'y, the Dry Goods and Clothing firm of the town—the best place yet I've found to buy at. When I looked over the stock of Hosiery, Gloves and Laces, my wonder grew! And when I learned the prices! You know dear, I am very emotional. I couldn't resist—really I couldn't. Don't scold. I embraced—

HUSBAND (horrified)—what, Dolan & Co'y.

WIFE (laughing)—No, the opportunity. I purchased these four pairs of GLOVES; beauties, ain't they? And these three pairs of HOSE took my fancy. Such handsome colorings and so fine.

HUSBAND (examing goods)—Impossible, at the prices you state, they are as good as those you've been paying much higher for in Toronto. Had'nt you better get me something in this line.

WIFE (advisedly)—I'll always buy GLOVES and HOSIERY at Dolan & Co'ys., and I'll remind my friends to deal there too.

EXCELLENT Building Sites FOR SALE.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF THE LATE GEORGE BURNHAM M.D.

HOMESTEAD.

1.—TENDERS will be received up to JULY the 15th, 1884, for the purchase of the lot recently occupied by the late Dr. Burnham, without any of the buildings thereon, namely, Lot number 1, east of George Street and north of London Street; and Lot number 1, west of Water Street and north of London Street. The block contains one acre more or less, and tenders will be received for the whole block or for either half acre separately. An excellent opportunity is offered for the securing of very valuable building sites, as these lots are almost the only available property close to the centre of the town.

COLLINS' FARM.

2.—TENDERS will be received till AUGUST 1st, 1884, for the purchase of the farm which has for many years been rented by Henry Collins and Son, and comprises part of Lot number 9, in the twelfth concession of the Township of North Monaghan, containing 180 acres more or less, and being distant about one mile from the Town of Peterborough. This farm is composed of fine farm land, fronting on two roads, has an excellent Orchard of very choice varieties of fruit trees, and has a never-failing creek running through it. It also has a large new Brick House on it.

This sale offers a rare chance. No tender necessarily accepted for any of the above properties. Tenders to state price and also terms of payment, which will be made suitable to purchasers.

THURSDAY, JUNE 12, 1884.

THE BARRIE LACROSSE CLUB.

We have been requested to publish the following letter addressed to the Editor of the Lindsay Canadian Post:—

SIR,—My remarks in your issue of the 30th ult. under the heading "Disgraceful Conduct" have struck home. An indiscreet friend of the "party of young gentlemen," as he is pleased to call them, has written the Peterborough papers a denial of my statements.

He seems to have hoped that by a bold effort he could wipe out the disgrace which the report of their gross misconduct has brought upon them. The denial—remarkable for brazen falsehood—could only be produced by one who was both blind and deaf or a person who was not there at all, but who was duped into attempting a defence. No man with any sense of decency and who knew the facts would be guilty of such a perversion. I saw and heard for myself. Three of my fellow-passengers, men of character and experience, who take a kindly interest in young men and their amusements saw and heard for themselves and will substantiate and emphasize every word I stated. Do the members of the Barrie lacrosse club need some reminders? If they conducted themselves properly why was it necessary for one of the party to try to check the vile utterances of some of his companions by whispering "there are ladies on the train?" Was it not suggested among themselves, when the singing of Salvation Army songs by such a company became painfully blasphemous, that if they could not sing other songs they sould desist? Did not several of the party follow the intoxicated youth when he wished to pass to the smoking car and hold him lest he should fall? Did not the same youth afterwards stagger along the aisle of the coach uttering filthy language? I know nothing of the conduct of these "young gentlemen" while in Peterborough, but their behaviour while at the Lindsay station and on the train to Lorneville between nine and eleven o'clock in the forenoon of 27th May was that of a completely demoralized party. Their would-be defender makes no distinction. In my former letter I said a number of the members, not intending to include all, because no exception could be taken to the conduct of several men who wore badges. These latter were doubtless only common persons, not dignified young gentlemen like their companions, who to quote their champion in the press, "will enjoy themselves to the fullest possible extent and be as cheerful as their good spirits and youthful vigor will allow," even though in doing so they disgust every one who comes within sight or hearing of them and bring dishonor upon themselves, their friends and the town which gives them a name. Your Correspondent.

—Fine weather.

—Two fortuneless foot-passengers rested in the cells last night.

—The June session of the Council of the County of Peterborough will commence on Tuesday next at 2 o'clock p.m.

—Mr. C. Brown has resigned the position of correspondent from this station to the Saved Army Trumpet and Mr. David Hartley was on Wednesday evening elected to fill the vacancy.

—Mr. John Waddell, Provincial Bailiff, arrived here on Wednesday, having in charge a lunatic brought from Lindsay, en route for Rockwood Asylum, Kingston. He proceeded on his journey in the afternoon, taking also two lunatics who were confined in the gaol here.

BELLEVILLE.

FIRES.—The floor of the Ontario office was set fire to on Tuesday night by a coal from the furnace. It was discovered and extinguished before any serious damage was done. Shortly after midnight a fire broke out in a frame stable on Campbell street, owned by N. B. Falkiner, and occupied by Hunter's livery. It rapidly extended to a frame store-house owned by R. Richardson, which contained a quantity of oilcloth. Both buildings were consumed. Messrs. Hunter losing several sleighs, two hacks, and a quantity of hay and grain. Total loss, $600. Mr. Dunnett lost about $600 worth of oilcloth. The losses are covered by insurance.

WALL STREET NEWS.

NEW YORK, June 10.—The stock market is very dull and speculative activity is slight. There are a few stocks which show a disposition to rise, but most of them are tending downward. Against this condition is the fact that the financial condition is better, which makes the general depression in values unaccountable.

To-day the market opened at about yesterday's close, but weakened on small deals. The announcement of the passing of West Shore into the hands of receivers was followed to-day by a further attempt to break the bonds of the road. The price fell to 30, but quickly reacted, and before the close of the first hour stood at the best figures yesterday. Erie seconds were heavily sold, but the attempt to break the price was not successful.—Mail

TORONTO.

GIRL'S HOME EXCURSION.—Through the kindness of the proprietors of Victoria Park, the inmates of the Girl's Home were treated to an excursion to the park on Monday afternoon. About seventy of the little ones enjoyed the sale down the lake on board the Gipsy, and on arriving at the park were treated to ice cream by the proprietors.

GRAND LODGE MEETINGS.—This is the month for Grand Lodge meetings. On Tuesday the annual session of three Grand Bodies were held in Ontario. The high court of Canadian Foresters opened in the Temperance Hall at two o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. The representatives of the Knight of Pythias and Canadian Oddfellows' Lodges in this city left on Monday for Windsor and Hamilton respectively to attend the meetings of their Grand Lodges to be held in those places.

TORONTO COFFEE HOUSE ASSOCIATION.—The The statement made by certain parties that the Toronto Coffee House Association is in difficulties proves to be without foundation. Mr. G. M. Rose, one of the directors, states that it has been a paying concern from the first, and that Col. Gzowski, before he left for England, expressed himself as satisfied regarding the financial position. It is true, however, that the late secretary, a man named Baker, appropriated something like $2,000 during his term of office. Baker, it appears, was in the habit of calling in stock and forgetting to credit it. It was a clumsy way of robbing his employers, and was of course soon detected. His uncle, who went security for him when he obtained the secretaryship, had to make good his defalcations.—Mail.

A Ferry Boat Swept Over the Falls.

HELEN, Mont., June 10.—On Sunday afternoon, while the ferry boat at Thompson's Falls was crossing the river the cable broke and the boat went over the falls three hundred yards below. Of thirteen men on board eleven were lost. All were strangers going to the mines, and their names are unknown. A number of pack horses were lost.

THE MAHDI.

LONDON, June 11.—El Mahdi has retreated from Kordofan to the almost inaccessible stronghold of Tel-el-Godir. His power has been greatly diminished by the enmity of the Chief of the Kabbabish tribe, whose brother he killed.

LEAGUE DONATIONS.

DUBLIN, June 11.—At a meeting of the Irish Land League in Dublin to-day donations to the amount of £1,000 were received from America. Mr. Healy, Liberal member of Parliament, in his address alluded to Mr. Trevelyan, Chief Secretary for Ireland, as an imbecile.

ATTEMPTED TRAIN-WRECKING.

LONDON, June 11.—Last night a large sleeper was fastened on the railway track leading to Brighton for the purpose of wrecking the Brighton mail. The train, however, did not leave the rails.

LOSS OF A TORPEDO.

LONDON, June 11.—Ugly rumours are afloat concerning the loss of a torpedo apparatus, worth £500, while in transit between London and Portsmouth.

RENEWED RIOTING AT BRUSSELS,

BRUSSELS, June 11.—Rioting broke out at Brussels again to-night with renewed violence. The mob demolished the shutters and windows of the Catholic library and tore down the Papal Arms. Five arrests have been made.

FRANCE AND THE CONFERENCE.

PARIS, June 11.—The Journal des Debats, commenting upon the agitation in England over the Egyptian question, declares that the maintenance or rupture of friendly relations between France and England is at stake.

THE PORTE AND THE CONFERENCE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 11.—The Porte declines to appoint a delegate to the Egyptian Conference unless the whole Egyptian question is submitted to the conference or previously settled between England and Turkey.

DENOUNCING DYNAMITERS,

DUBLIN, June 11.—The Dublin Freeman's Journal publishes a letter from John O'Leary, a Fenian now residing in Paris, in which he curses the new and horrible delusions of the dynamiters and Invincibles. He trusts it is but a passing craze, and warns the Irish people against supporting the dynamiters and Invencibles. He says if their policy is not abandoned at once it will cause Ireland to be ruined.

INTERNATIONAL MEASURES.

LONDON, June 11.—Representatives of the St. Petersburg police department will soon visit London to concert international measures against the dynamiters.

BRADLAUGH AND THE MASONS.

DUBLIN, June 11.—The Dublin Freeman's Journal says Bradlaugh wrote to the Prince of Wales, as a brother Mason, asking the Prince's support to an atheistical propaganda, which, he said, it was the duty of the English and Continental Masons to provide. The Prince of Wales was greatly annoyed at the reception of the letter, and sent it to Lord Carnarvon. It is believed that Lord Carnarvon will move in Grand Lodge for Bradalaugh's expulsion. Should Bradalaugh be expelled, other Atheists will secede from the Masons.

ANARCHIST TRIAL IN AUSTRIA.

VIENNA, June 11.—Twenty-three Anarchists were placed on trial to-day at Gratz charged with collecting money to procure explosives and and arms for Anarchists purposes. It was shown they held a meeting in April, 1883, and discussed attempts upon the Emperor Francis Joseph's life by using dynamite sent from America.

INFORMER McKIM.

THE Globe, still endeavouring to defend Informer McKim, his fellow decoys, and the members of the Ontario Administration who employed them on their dirty and immoral work, has found what it asserts to be a parallel case.

The story runs that a man named Bolton, being engaged to coin gold for a foreign prince, some desperadoes endeavoured to bribe his porter to assist them in robbing him. The porter warned Bolton, who, being prepared, repulsed the robbers, but not before they had avenged themselves by shooting the porter.

To make the parallel complete the porter should have gone crying, like Informer McKim, to the desperadoes, to beg them to enter into the conspiracy with him and reward him for his services. He should then have gone to Bolton and offered to turn informer for a bigger reward. Bolton should then, like Mr. Mowat and his colleagues, have agreed to forgive and reward the porter, but only on condition that he consented to go to an obnoxious neighbour to beg him to participate in the robbery, or at least to enduce him to be on the premises at the time, so that he might appear to be implicated in the affair.

With these slight changes the porter would have offered a parallel for Informer McKim, and Mr. Bolton for the Mowat administration. The innocent but obnoxious neighbour would represent some at least of those accused of bribery, and as to the robbers there is no reason to assume that they find a likeness in any of the accused, till there is far more trustworthy evidence against them, than that of the gang of informers and decoys who have testified so far to their own iniquity.

There is another flaw in this parallel. Informer McKim has not yet received his reward, except in the contempt of all honest men, who despise informers and decoys, and loathe the traffickers in blood money.

This parallel will not answer any better that the previous supposition of the Reform journals of a girl entrapping a seducer by running after him, like Informer McKim, to beg him to afford her the necessary grounds for giving evidence against him.

Now we await the opening of the critical third parallel.

IS IT UNPROFESSIONAL?

ALL the little Reform journals are crowing over the narrow escape of Mr. S. H. Blake, through the refusal of a political friend to give evidence, because if given it must have proved him guilty.

We do not undertake to say whether Mr. S. H. Blake was guilty of "improfessional conduct," for we do not profess to be judges of such matters, but if his conduct is not to be deemed unprofessional, we can only say:—"So much the worse for the profession." We have yet to hear any member of the Peterborough bar attempt to defend Mr. Blake, or do anything but condemn him, for the facts are too well known here, where this little episode in his history occurred. To suppose Mr. S. H. Blake innocent, is to assume in the first place that he was defrauded of his fee for services rendered, and in the second place that gross injustice was done to him by the loud and severe denunciations of him by a political friend, who knew the whole circumstances as being concerned in them. We cannot assume this, and therefore we can only come to the conclusion that Mr. Blake escaped the consequences of his conduct through the Benchers having no power or no inclination to compel the evidence of a zealous partisan. The very refusal to give evidence under such circumstances is decisive as to the nature of the transaction, as much as when a witness refuses to testify because if he answered he must criminate himself.

United States Wheat Crop.

CHICAGO, June 10.—Widely-extended crop reports received by the Farmers' Review show no material change in winter wheat since the last report, except that the general condition is not so good. The weather has been excellent for spring wheat. Farmers generally are delivering surplus stocks of corn and wheat freely.

THE LATE HENRY G. VENNOR, F.G.S.

His Death—A Resume of his Life—A Career of Usefulness.

After a long and troublesome sickness, Mr. H. G. Vennor, whose weather predictions have given him almost a world-wide reputation, died yesterday at his residence in this city. Mr. Vennor had been ill for a long time, and was confined to the house for several months previous to his death. Henry G. Vennor, F.G.S., was born in Montreal, December 30th, 1840, of English parents. He was educated at Philip's School and the high school, Montreal, and subsequently took the zoological and geological courses at McGill College, under Principal Dawson, taking the honor course in geology and mineralogy. During this period he made a large collection of the fossils and minerals of Montreal island. Several papers from his pen appeared during this time in the Canadian Naturalist and Geologist, and he afterward commenced a review of the Canadian feathered songsters in the British American Magazine. Mr. Vennor in 1860 entered commercial life, and remained in the wholesale warehouse of Messrs. Frothingham & Workman for five years, when he received an appointment to assist Sir W. E. Logan in a survey of the Manitoulin Islands. He wrote several letters to the Witness whilst so engaged. In 1866 he was associated with the first discovery of gold in the Madoc district, north of Belleville, but never looked with favor on the probability of working the mines with any degree of success. In this decision he was afterwards admitted to have been correct. He was elected a fellow of the Geological Society in 1870. He continued explorations in Eastern Ontario until 1875, gaining in 1872 further recognition of his services through his researches into the phosphate resources of the Ottawa country. In 1880 he resigned his post on the Survey, and up to his death continued to reside in Montreal. During all his labors the weather and its changes was a favourite study with him, and he kept a weather diary for many years. By the publication of a prediction in 1875, published in the Witness, which was verified exactly by the weather following, he rose almost immediately into notoriety and has since published a yearly almanac, which has circulated largely. The success of these almanacs were at first so marked that in 1882 he decided to supplement them with a weather journal, published monthly, and in the spring of the last named year appeared Vennor's Weather Bulletin, devoted to the weather and kindred topics. Mr. Vennor also published a valuable work on ornithology, entitled "Our Birds of Prey," published in 1875, the value of which has been universally acknowledged. He was a careful student, and although often incorrect in his predictions, made many correct prognostications. The troubles that led to his death were a severe internal disease and rheumatism, caught, as he recently told the writer, whilst camping out in one of his long geological expeditions.—Witness.

SHAKESPERIAN QUOTATION.

We have been requested to publish the following as throwing some light upon a subject discussed here last year:—

SIR,—What is the origin and meaning of the phrase, "To the manor born," and which is right in this connection: manner" or "manor."—SUBSCRIBER, Winnipeg, Man.

In one of the scenes in Shakespeare's tragedy of "Hamlet, Prince of Denmark," upon hearing a flourish of trumpets and a firing of guns, "Horatio" enquires of "Hamlet" the meaning of the noise, to which the latter replies that the king is having a carouse, and that

"The kettledrum and trumpet thus bray out
The triumph of his pledge."

"Horatio" asks the Prince if such is a custom, and "Hamlet" makes answer in the following words:—

"Ay, Marry, is't;
But to my mind—though I am native here
And to the manner born—it is a custom
More honor'd in the breach than the observance,"

by which he evidently means that though he has been accustomed to such scenes of revelry all his life, he does not in the least approve of them. The best editions of Shakespeare give the spelling manner, but the expression was probably a common legal phrase which had become corrupted in Shakespeare's day, but which was originally to the manor born, and applicable to all the serfs born on a feudal manor or estate, (adscripti glebæ), and bred to its particular customs and usages.—Weekly Witness, Aug. 22, 1883.

NOTE.—It is very easy to see how the corruption, or rather variation, arose. The same idea is really conveyed by either form of the proverbial expression, that the speaker being born on the manor is accustomed to its manners and customs, and hence the indifferent use of the two words.—ED. REVIEW.

The second column of the foregoing list of grain and flour shipped abroad represents between twenty-one and twenty-two millions of bushels, presumably of the harvest of 1883, as the first column contains the twenty-nine or thirty millions of 1882. The destination of all these cereals is fully given in the Trade and Navigation returns. Our American neighbors continue to be our greatest customers for barley, as indeed they are for oats and rye. But a fair proportion of the Canadian rye exports goes to Belgium and France, while Britain, Newfoundland and the West Indies take two-fifths of our exports of oats. But the quantity of Canadian barley finds its way elsewhere than across the Lakes is a mere trifle. Peas are sent mainly to Britain. Nineteen-twentieths of the flour was taken by that country and Newfoundland. Of Canadian wheat the States took 878,000 bushels; France, Belgium and Portugal 114,000 bushels; Great Britain close upon a million. Oatmeal is a product of which we sent abroad a quarter of a million worth, principally, as may be supposed, to Scotland. Hay, to the value of almost a million, to Britain and the Indies. For hops, tobacco leaf, maple sugar, the Americans and the English were the main customers. Potatoes were sent to the States, to Newfoundland and the West Indies. Other vegetables and unenumerated products of the field, were shipped for the most part across the Lakes. Nova Scotia obtained more money for fruit exports than Ontario—a fact which will probably be a surprise to Ontarians—and Quebec more than Ontario; although it does not follow that the fruit was all grown in Quebec. Some of it went to the West Indies and Newfoundland, but most of it went across the ocean and across the line 45°—Monetary Times.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

HIS FICTION GREW ON HIM.

The principal object in Mr. Huntingdon's novel seems to be a rebuke of the interference by the Catholic clergy in the political elections which occur in Quebec province; and an object which grew upon the author as he proceeded rather than being his original purpose.—Ottawa Free Press.

A CONCLUSION CAN BE DRAWN.

The Committee have no power to compel persons summoned before them to give evidence and Mr. Dumble, who was brought from Peterborough to give his evidence, refused to do so. Everyone can draw his own conclusion from the facts.—Belleville Intelligencer.

THOROUGHLY SOUND.

As regards the Liberals, it is for their leaders to define their programme. Of one thing we are certain, however: the great mass of the Liberals of Canada, especially that class of them represented by Mr. Mackenzie, who is more stable, and therefore more reliable, than Mr. Blake, are as sound on British connection as are the Conservatives.—Ottawa Citizen.

BLAKE'S PLOT BARELY FAILED.

The young Bleu members in Parliament today beat restlessly against the ties of their traditional Conservatism, and look to Mr. Edward Blake as one in whom they can impose every confidence, and though the break from Sir John did not come to a head in the last session of Parliament, it was much nearer taking place than the general public have the faintest conception.—Ottawa Free Press.

THE SECRET SOCIETIES.

Here is a case of evolution. When Mr. Blake lifted up his voice in denunciation of secret societies he said, "Secret societies are the fruitful mothers of bitterness, misrepresentation," and so forth. A few days later he amended his observation so as to make it read "Secret oath-bound societies are," etc. After further consideration he has ordered his party press to convey the impression that his words were "oath-bound political societies are," etc. Mr. Blake is trying to get a little farther away from his original statement every day. This is an acknowledgment of his error and of the malignity of his utterance in Parliament.—Toronto Mail.

PRICE OF COAL.

Canadian Free Traders aver that coal is dear in Canada because the duty is added to the price. They fail to say why coal should not pay duty as well as any other article. They say they want a revenue duty. Well, the duty on coal is a revenue duty, and still the revenue men find fault.

But the Free Traders in the United States find fault because coal is cheaper here than there, distance from the mines considered. The Philadelphia Record says:—

"Lehigh coal is retailed on the St. Lawrence river at $6.27 per ton of 2,240 pounds, while the people of this city are charged $6.50 for the same article. A few months ago a wholesale dealer in bituminous coal, while making a trip to the Thousand Islands, in the St. Lawrence river, was astonished to find that the retail dealers there were selling Lehigh stove coal for $5.60 per ton of 2,000 pounds. This would mean $6.27 for a "long" ton. And yet the coal sold at that point has to be hauled 300 miles further than that brought to this city."

The simple fact is that coal is fully as cheap in Canada as it is in the United States, distance from the mines alone being taken into account. The free traders know that perfectly well; but they try to make people believe the advance in price is due to the duty, when they know perfectly well that it is due to the increased demand at the mines.—Hamilton Spectator.

Touching Incident at a Fire.

Several correspondents send the following remarkable illustration of maternal devotion among animals, which occurred in connection with the burning of Lusby's Music Hall, London, on Sunday, January 20th, 1884. Mr. Crowder, one of the proprietors of the hall, possessed a favorite tabby and tortoise shell cat which was well known to the frequenters of the hall. The cat had a family of four kittens, which she was allowed to keep in a basket at the rear of the stage. Soon after the fire was discovered the cat was seen rushing about frantically. She several times attempted to make her way down the corridor in the direction of the stage, but each time was beaten back by the smoke. Presently she reappeared with one of the kittens at her mouth. This she laid carefully down at her master's feet in the same hall which the fire had not touched. Again she rushed through the smoke, and again reappeared with a kitten, and this manœuvre she repeated the third time. She was now apparently half-blinded and choked by the smoke she passed through, and it was thought that she would be content. But the cat seemed unable to rest while she knew that one of her kittens was still in danger, and giving a look at the little struggling group on the floor, and evading some one who tried to stop her, she once more dashed down the corridor towards the seething mass of flames, which, by this time had enveloped the stage and the lower end of the hall. Her return was anxiously awaited, but she did not come back. Afterwards, when examining the ruins, some of the firemen came across the charred and blackened remains of the mother and kitten, lying side by side where the fire had overtaken them. —Animal World.

INVALUABLE TO EVERY LADY.

"MAY DEW"

The Great French Lotion for Beautifying the Face.

It conceals the evidence of age. One application will make the most stubbornly red and rough hands beautifully soft and white. Remember that "MAY DEW" is not a paint or powder that fills up the pores of the skin, and that is injurious to the skin, but a new and great discovery, a vegetable liquid, that causes the cheek to glow with health, the neck, arms and hands to rival the Lily in whiteness. Impossible to detect in the beauty it confers any artificial character. It cures Greasy Skin, Freckles, Wrinkles, Pimples, Black Heads, Crow's Feet, Blotches, Face Grubs, Sun Burn, Tan, Ringworms, Chapped Hands, Sore or Chapped Lips, Barber's Itch, Tetter, etc. It frees the pores, oil glands, and tubes from the injurious effects of powders and cosmetic washes. By its use all redness and roughness are prevented; it beautifies the skin, and will make it soft, smooth and white; imparting a delicious softness, producing a perfectly healthy, natural, and youthful appearance. The best face lotion that the world ever produced. We will send "A LARGE BOTTLE" to any address on receipt of price $1. When ordering mention this paper.

Address all letters to the MAY DEW AGENCY, 167 Church Street, Toronto, Ont.

Parlor and Reception Room for Ladies.

HASTINGS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

WEATHER.—What a glorious change in temperature! a tumble from among the nineties down to 55° and 70° once more. The rain that falls on prince and peasant, at last has come, and all nature smiles once more.

LACROSSE.—The Lacrosse match came off here as advertised; and, as was to be expected, Peterborough was victorious in 3 straight games. The Trents have not had practice enough in catching and holding the ball, though they are able to make a vigorous defence at times they do not play to each other well; thus many good opportunities were lost. The match was over in about 45 minutes. The Peterboroughs and the Trents adjourned for supper to the Clarendon Hotel, where they enjoyed themselves thoroughly, every one being bon accord.

METHODIST S. S. PICNIC.—The Methodists held their annual picnic yesterday, and went up the lake in the Beaver. They got an outing and a spouting together, as "the fountains of the great deep" broke up; but they kept up their courage by singing "Pull for the Shore," and imagining themselves storm-tossed Galileans awaiting the spectre which was to quell the billows that were rolling a foot and a half high.

CORPORATION IMPROVEMENTS.—The Council is wisely laying out the people's money in long wanted street improvements, drains and new side-walks.

A TRAGEDY.—Our vicinity is being advertised in an unenviable way in Uncle Sam's domains just now, owing to a shooting affray which took place near Saginaw. The actors in the tragedy being formerly residents of Asphodel. It appears that John O'Shea, one evil day did make fierce love to Miss Caughlin, whose youth and beauty, he thought, were being wasted in her efforts to "teach the young idea how to shoot." John, thinking to show how quickly the art could be acquired without regular attendance at the temple of learning, set out with dire intent, love and jealousy in his heart contending for mastery. Arriving just at a time when the last scholar had bobbed his head, as in duty bound, in parting salutation to his preceptoress fair; and when the hum and shout of the liberated juveniles was becoming dreamy to the ear, John saw his fair Johanna sitting pensively at the desk, from which in gentle tones she ott exerted her still gentler sway. The villain with malice prepense surrounded her, poured out his tale of love, and bade her fly with him to Athens or else where. She with downcast eyes listened to his suit, a low murmur from pouting lips formed the answer. No! When swift as though a sharp report rings out in the silent school room followed by a cry of pain, and the senseless body of the defenceless girl lies weltering in gore, the miscreant had fired, the crural muscles are pierced, and the tragedy is enacted. The rejected one fled, with vengence swift and hot in his track, twenty of the male population of the place on hearing of the deed pursued the blood-thirsty one, captured him and landed him with more mercy than he had shown, safe within the walls of Saginaw city jail.

PLEASURE TRIP.—The Golden-Eye paid us a visit on Tuesday afternoon bringing a crowd of pleasure seekers from Bewdely to promenade the town. Three young men not heeding the warning whistle were left behind, though they made frantic efforts to overtake the big paddle-wheels in a punt.

LACROSSE.—The Trents Lacrosse Club go to Madoc to play on Friday, and gain more experience. They hope by hospitably treating the Madocs to be able to snatch a goal, and have taken a son of crispin with them for the purpose.

LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

ACCIDENT.—A young man named W. Trude, engaged with F. Waldron, butcher, nearly lost his thumb on Thursday last when killing an animal.

STREET WATERING.—A subscription list was passed among the business men of Queen street last week for the purpose of having the street watered. The sum of $75 was subscribed. The Council is expected to make it $100.

CROPS LOOKING WELL.—The rain yesterday has laid the dust and made crops look well.

SAVED ARMY.—The Saved Army had a field day on Friday evening last, in Mr. R. A. Strickland's grounds.

ROAD IMPROVED.—Mr. W. Preston is making a much needed improvement in the road coming into the village from the township of Smith between Mr. Phelan's corner and the corporation.

THE FIRST CAMPING PARTY.—A camping party from Port Hope passed through here on Monday morning, taking the Steamer Fairy for Stoney Lake. This is the first of the season.

THE DAMS.—Mr. Chas. Wynn has commenced to build the dam at Young's Point. He is arranging to commence the dam here and carry on the work at both places at the same time.

GOOD TIME.—Mr. T. Callaghan, manager for Messrs, Rathbun of Deseronto, arrived here last week with a drive containing 70,000 logs. He was less than ten days coming from the head of Stoney Lake.

THE STEAMERS.—The Steamers Fairy and Cruiser begin their regular passengers trip to points on Stoney Lake next week.

DESIRABLE PROPERTY.—A very desirable property, being the south part of lot 19, concession 7, Douro, is offered by Mr. W. W. Mitchell, Toronto for sale. It is in the boundary between Lakefield and Douro, and is therefore close to the railway station, post-office and telegraph office, and fronts on Lake Katchewannoe, making it a very fine situation. It contains 33 acres of good soil. Application may be made to Mr. W. H. Casement.

KEENE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

CHURCHES.—There are likely to be morning and evening services on Sundays in the Methodist Church before long. The stone work of the new Presbyterian church is about completed.

PERSONAL.—Our young friend Jno. McFee has become a benedict—Rev. Jno. Tozeland is attending conference at Toronto.

ATHLETIC.—The youth and even older persons of this village are taking a lively interest in sports at present. An eighth of a mile track has been laid out in the fair grounds and a number can run around it in thirty seconds and under. One person can go around three times in less than two minutes.

RATHER FAST.—There are about six or seven youngsters each about fourteen years old, who are getting rather fast. They were very busy last Saturday especially. We will say no more at present, but as their names are known if anything occurs again they can depend on an introduction to one of our J. P's. Boys take care!

BAND.—The second annual excursion of the V.B.B Keene will take place on Saturday next June 24. The boat will leave Keene wharf at 8.30 a.m. sharp for Gore's Landing, calling at Idyl-Wild and other points. The Committee have spared nothing to make it a success. Cold and hot water will be supplied at the Landing for those who wish to have a picnic and those who wish it can have dinner at the Hotel for 25c a head. Everyone should turn out and help the Band and also have a grand trip. Tickets 25 & 35c.

CRICKET IN ENGLAND.

This week's arrivals of the English papers gives us only a description of the first part of the great match between the Australians and eleven gentlemen of England.

Though played on the day after the Derby—May 29th, there was but a small number of spectators.

Several mishaps marred the game. There was, to begin with, a cold cheerless east wind blowing; Dr. W. G. Grace got an ugly blow on the hand which, the Standard says, "took the dash out of his hitting;" Spofforth too, was rendered hors du combat by a severe hit on the arm received from a ball being driven hard back to him when bowling.

The score at the time of despatch stood: Gentlemen of England, 277; Australians, 85 for five wickets. "Cock-score" for England was made by Mr. A. W. Ridley—68.

Of the Australians play the Evening Standard says:—The fielding of the Colonists was not so good as might have been expected, while their batting was in two or three instances very poor indeed. There was little fault to be found with the condition of the ground.

In Surrey vs. Derbyshire, one innings apiece had been played with the result that Derbyshire had to follow on. Score: Surrey, 215; Derbyshire, 88. There are thirteen professional playing in this match.

In Oxford University vs. Lancashire there are two features of interest: the batting of Mr. Kemp, and the bowling of Mr. Nicholls—both Oxford men. "Mr. Kemp went in at the fall of the third wicket, and was the last man out. His well-played and finely-hit 95 included one eight (four for an overthrow), eight fours, two threes, and nine twos. But for his batting, Oxford might have fared very badly."—(London Evening Standard.) Mr. Nicholl's feat consisted in gaining five wickets for 46 runs in 27 overs with 8 maidens against the severe batting of Lancashire. The scores of the first innings were Oxford 224, Lancashire 145—a follow on for the latter being saved by one run only.

ENGLAND.

THE confinement of the Duchess of Albany is not expected to take place before August.

THE Baptist Union have adopted a resolution in favour of the Deceased Wife's Sister's Bill.

IT is stated that three new theatres of a high class are projected, and are about to be built in London.

THE strike that prevals in lacemaking industry in Nottingham is, according to a correspondent, telling severely on the general prosperity of that town.

IT has been found necessary to extend the London temperance hospital. The foundation stone of an addition to the institution was laid by the Duke of Westminster.

LAST year there were 921 separate fatal accidents in British coal mines, as against 876 in the year 1882. The total loss of life is reported as 1054 for the year, and 1126 for the previous year.

IN London an omnibus driver named Dow has been sent to jail for 21 days, and his license suspended for two months, for wantonly driving into a procession of the Salvation Army.

THE Synod of the Presbyterian Church of England on April 29th assumed its siting at Liverpool. It was reported that since 1876 the congregations had increased from 258 to 279, and the membership from 50,500 to 58,400.

It is estimated that, on the whole, there are at present on the north-east coast of England 26,000 unemployed men and lads, ont of a total population of 750,000, and that the present tendency is towards an increase of this number.

GEORGE FORDHAM, the veteran jockey and the winner of the Derby of 1878, is completely broken down by the inroads of disease, said to have been caused by dissipation. It is extremely doubtful if he will ever be able to ride in another race.

A BEAUTIFUL memorial window has just been erected in Newburn church to the memory of the late William and Thomas Hadley, the one the inventor of the locomotive engine, who was born at Newburn, and the other his son, the practical founder of the Bishopric of Newcastle.

The Eno Case.

QUEBEC, June 10.—The Eno case came up again to-day before Judge Tessier, of the Queen's Bench, in response to the writs of habeas corpus and certiorari. Arguments having been made on both sides, the judge gave his dicision, maintaining the writ of habeas corpus and ordering the prisoner to be liberated.

Eno as soon as he was discharged was arrested by High Constable Bissonnette, of Montreal, on a warrant granted by Justice Monk, of Montreal, for forgery in the second and third degree according to United States law in anticipation and extraditiou. In expectation of this a writ of habeas corpus had been issued on which Eno was taken at once before Judge Tessier and Caron, before whom exception was taken to the issue of this writ without counsil on either side having been notified. At first Bissonnette was inclined to refuse to make his return to the warrant, but did so by order of Judge Caron, who at the request of Judge Tessier assumed charge of the case, remanding it until to-morrow at two o'clock.

North-West Freight Rates.

The New York correspondent of the Mail thinks that it is now more generally appreciated that the rates of freights throughout the North-West will be kept down by the competition of unprecedentedly low freights, via the lakes and the Erie canal, throughout the entire lines between New York and St. Paul or Chicago. The fact that the West Shore road has gone into the hands of a receiver is an acknowledgment of the great disappointment on the part of the projectors as to the amount of new business that could be worked up on the line, and shows that if the road in the hands of a receiver shall be able to pay interest at all, it must be by drawing more largely on the business of the New York Central than was thought probable a year ago, all of which points to the necessity for its purchase by the New York Central for the same reasons that the Lake Shore was compelled to buy the Nickel Plate.

The Egyptain Conference.

LONDON, June 10.—In the Commons to-day Mr, Gladstone stated that the rumors that Turkey had been asked to pacify the Soudan were unfounded, but negotiations were in progress looking to Turkey's occupation of certain Red Sea ports.

The Housewife.

A popular domestic journal for American homes, will be sent for one year free to every lady who will send at once the names and address of 10 married ladies, and 50 cents (no stamps taken). Best paper for either young or old housekeepers in existence. This offer is made only to secure names to whom to send sample copies, as we know every lady who once sees THE HOUSEWIFE will subscribe for it at once. Regular price $1 per year. Address, the HOUSEWIFE, Rochester, N. Y.

The Greatest Healing Compound

is prepared of carbolic acid, vaseline and cerate called McGregor & Parke's Carbolic Cerate. It will cure any sore, cut burn or bruise when all other prparations fail. Call at John McKee's drug store and get a package. Twenty-five cents is all it costs.

FROM ALL OVER.

SEVERAL cadets of the third class at Annapolis have been placed on the ship Santee charged with hazing.

MORGAN'S SARSAPARILLA is the best spring medicine. It purifies the blood and clears the system. Find MORGAN'S Drug Store.

IT is reported that the sentry patrolling at Windsor castle was fired at on Saturday night by two men.

PEARLS.—Get your mouth full by using "Teaberry," the new wonder for the teeth and Breath. Brush vigorously see directions.

USE MORGAN'S PILLS, purely vegetable, none better, very few as good. Only 25c. a box. Find MORGAN'S Drug Store.

A project among the old companies to revive the old allotment plan, which restricts production, is being discussed at Philadelphia, and it is not improbable it may be brought about.

THE sure effects of Ayer's Sarsaparilla are thorough and permanent. If there is a lurking taint of Scrofula about you, Ayer's Sarsaparilla will dislodge it and expel it from your system.

THE United States wheat yield is estimated at 141 million bushels of spring, and 375 million bushels of winter wheat, a total of 516 million bushels.

How to enjoy good food that would otherwise cause billous headache, disordered stomach, poisoned blood, etc., use Golden Fruit Bitters and Fruit Liver Pills.

A CHINESE physician, who came from Canton to New York for the purpose of practising among his fellow-countryman, has been admitted to follow his profession by the Health Commissioners.

FLINT'S Mandrake Pills do not produce sickness at the stomach, nausea or griping. They act directly on the liver. Sold in Peterborough by J. D. Tully, druggist. Price 25 cents.

GOOD THE YEAR ROUND.—At all seasons, when the system is foul and the digestive powers feeble or the liver and kidneys inactive Burdock Blood Bitters are required.

RESPECT OLD AGE.—An old favorite is the remedy known as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Thirty years reliable for cholera morbus, diarrhœa and summer complaints.

THE Bankers' and Merchants' and Postal Telegraph Companies have reduced rates to Baltimore, Washington and Philadelphia to 20 cents for fifteen words. Further reductions are promised.

THE best tooth powder is Flint's Saponaceous Tooth Powder. The peerless dentifice, for cleansing and whitening the teeth. It has no equal. Sold by J. D. Tully, druggist. Large size 25 cents.

SANFORD ROBESON, a coal black negro, and Emma Christman, a handsome white girl, went to East St. Louis on Monday and were married. The girl said it was a genuine love match.

KILL THE BLUES, eat the best, sleep sound, keep away headache, keep your liver active, digest your food, make good blood, be cheerful all day by keeping a bottle of Zopesa in your room, and take a dose twice a week. Ask of J. D. Tully.

NO SUCH WORD AS FAIL.—A failure to relieve or cure summer complaints can never be truthfully applied to Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. All dealers sell it.

GREAT NEGLIGENCE.—There is great neglect with most people to maintain a regular action of the bowels, which causes much disease. Burdock Blood Bitters cure constipation.

DIPTHERIA is spreading alarmingly in Montreal, with especially fatal results among children. The cause is attributed to the neglect of the civic authorities in enforcing the by-law concerning defective drainage.

IN Murray & Lanman's Florida Water the most debilitated and nervous can find relief. Used freely in the water of the bath, its effect is almost marvellous, so strengthening and bracing and withal so exquisitely agreeable.

A special cable to the Mail says Prince Bismarck is made very irate over the discovery that Holland has been recruiting Germans for the prosecution of her interminable war with Sumatra for the possession of Acheen. The Prince has addressed an angry note to the Dutch ambassador at Berlin.

A WHISKER dye must be convenient to use, easy to apply, impossible to rub off, elegant in appearance and cheap in price. Buckingham's Dye for the whiskers unites in itself all these merits. Try it.

WE HAVE a speedy and positive cure for Catarrh, Diptheria, Canker mouth and Headache, in Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. A nasal injector free with each bottle. Use it if you desire health and sweet breath. Price 50 cents. For sale by J. D. Tully.

MR. THOMPSON, M.P. for Newry, who witnessed the recent Orange and Green riot in that town, intends questioning the Government on the subject, and if the answers of Chief Secretary Trevelyan are not satisfactory to Lord Arthur Hill and the other Orange leaders, he will force a discussion on the whole subject.

IT IS SO PLEASANT.—It is so certain and easy in its action. It invigorates the nerve, brain, and muscle. Zopesa does these things simply by giving active digestion, and regulating the stomach and liver. Ask J. D. Tully.

Why go on day after day suffering with splitting headache when a bottle of Dr. Austin's Phosphatine will cure you? If you do not believe it ask your druggist for a circular, and read what those who have used it say about it. Price $1.

THE SADDEST OF SAD SIGHTS.—The grey hairs of age being brought, with sorrow to the grave, is now, becoming rarer every year as the use of Cingalese Hair Restorer becomes more general. By its use the scanty locks of age become thick and luxuriant as ever. Sold by J. D. Tully.

ENJOY THE DAY.—Life is short, don't mope in the morning nor lag at noon. Keep your Liver healthy, your digestion good with Zopesa, and you can meet work with a smile, and your head never aches, your appetite is good, you digestion strong.

UNKNOWN TO SCIENCE.—That preparation is undiscovered which can surpass Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry as a cure for cholera morbus, dysentery and Summer complaints.

NOT another Pill shall go down my throat again, said a citizen, "when I can get such a prompt and pleasant cure for my Billous attacks, as Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters. It renders the Blood Pure and Cool and makes a splended Spring Medicine. Large Bottles 50 cents.

Fluid Lightning.

Is the only instantaneous relief for neuralgia, headache, toothache, etc. Rubbing a few drops briskly is all that is needed. No taking nauseous medicine for weeks, but one minute's application removes all pain and will prove the great value of Fluid Lightning. Twenty-five cents per bottle at John McKee's drug store.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning? The signal perhaps of the approach of that more terrible disease Consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50 cts., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough It never fails. This explains why more than a million bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup or whooping cough at once. Mothers, do not be without it. For lame back side or chest use Shiloh's porous plaster. Sold by J. D. Tully.

To Dyspeptics.

The most common signs of Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, are an oppression at the stomach, nausea, flatulency, water-brash, heart-burn, vomiting, loss of appetite, and constipation. Dyspeptic patients suffer untold miseries, bodily and mental. They should stimulate the digestion, and secure regular daily action of the bowels, by the use of moderate doses of

Ayer's Pills.

After the bowels are regulated, one of these Pills, taken each day after dinner, is usually all that is required to complete the cure.

AYER'S PILLS are sugar-coated and purely vegetable—a pleasant, entirely safe, and reliable medicine for the cure of all disorders of the stomach and bowels. They are the best of all purgatives for family use.

THURSDAY, JUNE 12, 1884.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

The Organ Recital.

The organ recital, which is to be given by Mr. Chas. W. Ewing, assisted by the St. John's Church choir, on the 25th inst., in the church, promises to be unusually attractive. The services of Herr Jacobsen, the celebrated violinist, have been secured, and with the excellent anthems, superior vocal soloists, and last, but not least, the grand organ solos by Mr. Ewing, who, as an organist, is unsurpassed in the Dominion, surely the musical critics of Peterborough will be well satisfied. The prospectus, tickets and programmes will be issued at once.

A Parade Carriage.

The Fire Brigade have many times, when they joined in demonstrations, felt the want of a good parade reel in keeping up a good appearance. They have therefore decided to procure one, if the friends of the brigade will be as generous as they expect them to be. They intend to call on the citizens for aid in this matter, and with the aid thus received and the funds derived from the proceeds of demonstrations got up by themselves, they intend to procure a carriage that will be a credit to the brigade and the town. The boys, who voluntarily give their services in connection with the fire department, should certainly receive some encouragement, and this will be a fine opportunity to give it.

The Methodist Church.

The Rev. John Shaw is in Toronto attending the last session of the Toronto Conference of the Methodist Church of Canada. The Rev. Thos. Manning left this morning for the same purpose, and the Rev. Arthur Browning, of Campbellford, passed through here on Wednesday, also on his way to the conference. The united conference for this conference district will meet at Napanee next week.

The Rev. John Shaw having been in Peterborough three years, according to the rules of the church he leaves here this year. The Rev. I. Lovell, of Toronto, is put down to come here in his place in the first report of the Stationery Committee of the Toronto Conference, and in the same report Mr. Shaw is set down for Orangeville. This report, however, will be revised and may be changed. The Rev. T. Manning is returned to Peterborough, and the Rev. T. Dunlop is set down for Lakefield.

A Day of Enjoyment.

The people in town are always glad to get into a park and enjoy a day of picnicing, but they are not alone in this, for the people of the country are as fond of a day's pleasure, and need the rest as much or more. And any person who wishes to join in a day of sport—more fun than at any fair—should attend the Picnic at Chemong Lake Park on Thursday next. Our friends in the country can easily lay aside their work for one day to witness the sport, and it will pay them to do so, for they will get the worth of their money, and more, too. Just think for a minute of the bill of fare: running races of all kinds, jumping, putting light and heavy weights, tossing the caber, quoits, club swinging, the Irish jig, &c., &c. There will also be boat races, a kind of sport that never fails to awaken interest. And more than that, there will be a lacrosse match, a game that arouses not only interest but excitement. And that is not all, for there will be a base ball match between the boys of Peterborough and Lindsay. Any one of these events should be enough to fill the grounds with people, but when taken together, and in connection with the usual pleasures of a picnic, they should, and doubtless will, attract enough people to fill the park, village, and almost the lake. And there is still another attraction, for the Indian Brass Band from the Indian village will be present and will enliven the proceedings with their pleasing music. We expect to see a rush for the park on Thursday. The older folks should be on the grounds early, and not let the young folks monopolize the sports and fun.

New and Attractive.

Everything new and attractive in Fair, Van Every & Co.'s millinery department. An inspection will repay you.

The most Recherche Styles, in Men's Furnishings, at the most moderate prices, can be found at Andrew McNeil's.

Fresh Fish.

Trout, White Fish, Maskinonge, Black Bass and Finnan Haddies fresh at Carton Bros. grocery.

Bass' English Ale.

Another large shipment of Bass' Ale, October brewing, just arrived at W. Chamberlain's Restaurant. Imported direct.

A Fine Beverage.

Dowe's India Pale Ale, the best ale made in Canada, on draught at the Little Windsor Hotel, the proprietor of which is sole agent for Peterborough.

Personal.

Mr. E. C. Hill, who has been on a business tour west as far as Niagara, returning east through the American cities and via Rochester, arrived home at noon to-day.

The Probabilities.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, counting from one o'clock this morning, as reported from the Toronto Observatory, are as follows:—Moderate to fresh winds, mostly southerly, fair weather, higher temperature.

Town Trees.

Who has charge of the trees planted about the drill shed grounds? A gentleman passing yesterday stopped three boys from destroying them; they were deliberately hacking at them with a jack-knife and seemed indignant when spoken to. This is the third time the same gentleman has observed boys mutilating these trees. When will the Council think proper to put boxes round these trees?

A Reason for the Change.

It will be noticed by the new Midland time table that the evening Grand Junction train arrives here ten minutes later. This is caused by a delay of ten minutes at Campbellford, in order to allow the passengers time to procure lunch, as passengers coming from the east on the Grand Trunk will have no time to procure tea at Belleville and will arrive here at a late hour. This will be very convenient for the passengers.

Another Dynamo.

The Peterborough Eelectric Light Company have arranged with the Royal Company to put up a twenty-five light dynamo machine, in addition to the one already working. This machine will be shipped from Montreal to-day, and will be placed in position as soon as it arrives. The company has also decided to make a considerable reduction soon in the price of the lights, and according to the new scale two or more lamps will be given at a lower rate than one, which will be in favor of the introduction of the lights into large establishments. When the second dynamo machine is running, Peterborough will be the largest electric light station in the Dominion, with the exception of Toronto and Montreal, and the lights will be furnished cheaper than in any city in the Dominion, without exception. This is certainly creditable to the enterprise of our business men, as well as to the companies.

Recollections of Mrs. Moodie.

Mr. James Ewing Ritchie, the London journalist, known to many by the nom de plume "Christopher Crayon," who recently visited Peterborough and Lakefield, has returned to Toronto from a trip to the Rocky Mountains. The Globe of Wednesday publishes an account of an interview with him, which concludes as follows:—

"It was interesting to find that Mr. Ritchie has many recollections of the early life of the gifted Strickland family, two members of which, Mrs. Susannah Moodie and Mrs. Trail, have done much for Canadian literature. His own family and the Stricklands were on intimate terms, and it was with unusual pleasure that the other day on meeting Mrs. Moodie and Mrs. Trail, who are now living at Lakefield, Ont., they recalled the early recollections of Raven Hall, and the coast of Suffolk where their early days were spent. Mrs. Trail is over 80 years of age, and Mr. Ritchie was surprised to find that she yet retains her strength and is engaged in the preparation of a work on Canadian ferns. 'Why she has the same wonderfully clear complexion and beautiful face she had when a girl.' Mrs. Moodie, who is also about 80 years of age, is wearing nearly as well. Mr. Ritchie is contributing articles to the Christian World on his Canadian experiences. He will shortly return to England."

His Mother Cut his Hair.

You can always tell a boy whose mother cuts his hair by the way he stops in the street and wiggles his shoulders. When a fond mother has to cut her boy's hair, she is careful to guard against any annoyance and mess by laying a sheet on the carpet. It has never yet occurred to her to set him over a bare floor and put the sheet around his neck. Then she draws the front hair over his eyes, and leaves it there while she cuts that which is at the back. The hair which lies over his eyes appeares to be surcharged with electric needles, and that which is silently dropping down under his collar band appears to be on fire. She has unconsciously continued to push his head fotward until his nose presses his breast, and is too busily engaged to notice the snuffling sound that is becoming alarmingly frequent. In the meantime he is seized with an irresistible desire to blow his nose, but recollects that his handkerchief is in the other room. Then a fly lights on his nose, and does it so unexpectedly that he involuntarily dodges, and catches the points of the shears it his left ear. At this he commences to cry and wish he was a man. But his mother doesn't notice him. She merely hits him on the other ear to inspire him with confidence, and goes on with the work. When she is through, she holds his jacket collar back from his neck, and with her mouth blows the short bits of hair from the top of his head down his back. He calls her attention to this fact, but she looks for a new place on his head and hits him there, and asks him why he didn't use his handkerchief. Then he takes his awfully disfigured head to the mirror and looks at it, and, young as he is, shudders as he thinks of what the boys in the street will say. And longs for time to come where he will be in a position to go a decent barbar and buy his clothes from ANDREW MCNEIL, Tailor and Clothier, George Street.

POLICE COURT.

ABOUT A COAT.

WEDNESDAY, June 11.—At an afternoon session of the Court George Young was charged by Lafayette Carpenter with having stolen a coat from his house. Mr. C. W. Sawers appeared for the defendant. The evidence showed that Young and Carpenter had been bargaining about the coat, and one witness stated that Carpenter told Young to wear it. The case was dismissed.

ALSO DISMISSED.

A young girl was brought up on remand charged with having stolen a silver locket and chain. The case had been twice postponed at the instance of the prosecution, and no evidence being forthcoming, the case was dismissed.

ANOTHE LARCENY CHARGE.

Charles Creswell and his wife, Almira Creswell, were charged by Lafayette Carpenter with having stolen a quantity of wearing apparel and other articles. They pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by the Magistrate. Mr. G. Edmison appeared for the complaintant and Mr. W. H. Moore for the prisoners.

Mr. and Mrs. Creswell had been living in Carpenter's house, and the latter alleged that when leaving, which they did in his absence, they carried off articles belonging to him. He got out a search warrant to look for them, which resulted in the arrest of the prisoners.

When the case was called the constables came into the Court room with a large quantity of clothing, of almost all descriptions, jars, tin measures, an axe, brooms, a hoe, baskets, etc., which they had seized under the authority of the search warrant, at Creswell's house, and which Carpenter claimed.

Carpenter was sworn, and his examination lasted until the Court adjourned for the day.

COMMITTED.

THURSDAY, June 12.—The case of Chas. and Almira Creswell, who were charged with larceny, was continued to-day, and occupied the attention of the Court from nine until one o'clock. They were committed to stand their trial at the County Judge's Criminal Court

Another Fire at Brandon.

Two fires occurred at Brandon on Monday night, a vacant building owned by Capt. Wastie, formerly of Brandon, being fired at 1 o'clock. The flames were extinguished, but at 4 a.m. they again broke out, and the building was consumed.

Try MORGAN'S Blue Grass Condition Powders for Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Hogs, and Poultry. Best in use only 25 cents. Find Morgan's Drug Store.

There are lots of people going around grumbling, and half sick at the Stomach all the time; who might be well and happy if they only used Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters occasionally. It is a splendid Blood Purifier. All Druggists, 50 cents.

PHOSPHATINE, a name which to every intelligent mind, professional or otherwise, is a key to its composition. No safer, purer, more palatable and more effective compound has ever been offered in cases of nervous exhaustion and pulmonary consumption. For sale by all druggists.

Buckles's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box For sale by Taylor & Macdonald.

Never Give Up.

If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility disordered blood, weak constitution, headache or any disease of a bilious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Taylor and McDonald.

A New Principle.

The principle upon which Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor acts is entirely new. It does noes not sink deep into the flesh, thereby producing soreness, but acts directly upon the external covering of the corn, separates it from the under layer, removes the direct pressure from the pars, and at once effects a radical cure, without any pain or discomfort. Let those who are suffering from corns, yet sceptical of treatment, try it, and by the completeness of the cure they will be ready to recommend Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor to others.

THERE are many people who think because they have suffered from a corn for years they must suffer on to the end of time. Dr. Starr's Corn Solvent will surely cure it. Sold by J. D Tully, druggist, for 25 cents.

TRY THE GOLDEN FRUIT BITTERS.—You will never regret it. The judicious use of the Golden Fruit Bitters and Pills will cure every case of indigestion, Biliousness, loss of appetite and all troubles of the liver and kidneys. Sold by all druggists.

A Great Discovery

That is daily bringing joy to the homes of thousands by saving many of their dear ones from an early grave, truly is Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, hay fever, loss of voice, tickling in the throat, pain in side and chest, or any disease of the throat and lungs, a positive cure guaranteed. Trial bottles free at Taylor and McDonald's drug store. Large size $1.

A Card.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D., New York City.

DISCLOSURES!

A HOME SCENE.

WIFE (to husband)—To-day, my dear, I made a wonderful discovery. I discovered Dolan & Co'y.

HUSBAND (drawlingly)—Some of your old beaux, I suppose.

WIFE—No, Dolan & Co'y, the Dry Goods and Clothing firm of the town—the best place ye I've found to buy at. When I looked over the stock of Hosiery, Gloves and Laces, my wonder grew! And when I learned the prices! You know dear, I am very emotional. I couldn't resist—really I couldn't. Don't scold. I embraced—

HUSBAND (horrified)—what, Dolan & Co'y.

WIFE (laughing)—No, the opportunity. I purchased these four pairs of GLOVES; beauties, ain't they? And these three pairs of HOSE took my fancy. Such handsome colorings and so fine.

HUSBAND (examing goods)—Impossible, at the prices you state, they are as good as those you've been paying much higher for in Toronto. Had'nt you better get me something in this line.

WIFE (advisedly)—I'll always buy GLOVES and HOSIERY at Dolan & Co'ys., and I'll remind my friends to deal there too.

EXCELLENT Building Sites FOR SALE.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF THE LATE GEORGE BURNHAM M.D.

HOMESTEAD.

1.—TENDERS will be received up to JULY the 15th, 1884, for the purchase of the lot recently occupied by the late Dr. Burnham, without any of the buildings thereon, namely, Lot number 1, east of George Street and north of London Street; and Lot number 1, west of Water Street and north of London Street. The block contains one acre more or less, and tenders will be received for the whole block or for either half acre separately. An excellent opportunity is offered for the securing of very valuable building sites, as these lots are almost the only available property close to the centre of the town.

COLLINS' FARM.

2.—TENDERS will be received till AUGUST 1st, 1884, for the purchase of the farm which has for many years been rented by Henry Collins and Son, and comprises part of Lot number 9, in the twelfth concession of the Township of North Monaghan, containing 180 acres more or less, and being distant about one mile from the Town of Peterborough. This farm is composed of fine farm land, fronting on two roads, has an excellent Orchard of very choice varieties of fruit trees, and has a never-failing creek running through it. It also has a large new Brick House on it.

This sale offers a rare chance. No tender necessarily accepted for any of the above properties. Tenders to state price and also terms of payment, which will be made suitable to purchasers.

A Few Drops of Rain.

Between 11 and 1 o'clock on Tuesday nearly one and a half inches of rain fell—a greater amount than the total recorded during the preceding five weeks. The pupils of the Collegiate Institute were not permitted to adjourn for dinner at the usual hour, but received extra lessons until the rain ceased after 1 p.m. By this course the good health of the pupils was preserved. We regret to hear that some other children, who were allowed to go home during the storm, are now obliged to stay at home on account of illness thereby incurred.

Deserved Praise.

The Toronto Globe of to-day says that James Northey, the "Pro" at present attached to the Trinity College School Club, has accepted an engagement for the summer with the Peterborough Club. Great praise must be given to the Peterborough men for their energy in getting so good a man as Northey to coach them, and if the arrangement hereafter (as mooted) be carried out, viz., that the school take him for May and June, and the Peterborough Club for the rest of the season, cricket no doubt will flourish in the northern county, and their chief town will be able to put a formidable team in the field.

Pencil Points.

—Cool this morning.

—Two exchequerless explorers after an easy existence rested in the cells last night.

—A base ball match will be played on Saturday evening between the first and second nines of the Peterboroughs.

—It is expected that the Lakefield and Campbellford cricket clubs will play a match in the former village on Tuesday next.

—The Presbyterians of Norwood have arranged for an excursion to Toronto over the O. & Q. on or about July 1st.

—The anniversary of the opening of the Berlin Congress which settled the Russo-Turko Austro-Bulgarian and every other question, —The double scull race between Messrs. Kent and Fanning and Messrs. Cottingham and Hawkins will take place on the Little Lake this evening.

—We doubt whether the plenipotentiaries from the Egyptian conference—should there ever be such a thing—will receive the acclamations that did Lords Beaconsfield and Salisbury.

—Some of the electric lights have been removed from the exterior to the interior of some of the houses on George Street. There are those who think this an excellent change.

—A correspondent of the Port Hope Times refers to getting married as "crossing over Jordon." We presume, then, that he considers that the State of Matrimony is the happy land of Canaan.

Selling Paris Green.

Magistrate Denison, Toronto, on Wednesday fined John Staneland and Owen Meade, painters, $20 and costs each for selling Paris green in contravention of the pharmacy act of Ontario. J. K. Kerr, Q. COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

To the Editor of the Review.

DEAR SIR,—The salaries of the five teachers in the Collegiate Institute amounts to $2,000 from the town, in addition to the goverement grant and fees, and not $5,000 as stated by "Ratepayer." For what position in the Collegiate Institute is "Ratepayer," a "thorough" candidate?

Yours, &c.,

Peterborough, June 12th, 1884. X.

FRANKFORD PICNIC.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—I desire to occupy a small space in the columns of your good journal with reference to the following:—

A large poster is in circulation, containing the details of a proposed "picnic" to be held at Frankford on the 28th inst., and among said details I find, to my extreme astonishment, my humble name figuring as a candidate for a "cane," to be presented to the physician obtaining the greatest number of votes. I understand that some ladies of this town are canvassing for the purpose of securing the cane for me. I here wish to state in the most emphatic manner that my name was placed on that poster without my knowledge or consent, and the placing of it there, without the least intimation to me, I look upon as a piece of almost unparrelled impertinence.

I wish also to state very distinctly that I will not be a candidate for the said cane, and that I do not, nor will not, give consent, nor lend any countenance whatever to any such thing.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor,

I am,

Yours, etc.,

J. F. O'SHEA, M.D.

WINNIPEG NOTES.

WHEELS FOR THE C.P.R.—Twenty-five cars of iron wheels for the C.P.R. arrived last week.

COW THIEVES.—Cow thieves are operating in the city, and several milkmen have lost animals lately. Indians are blamed for the trouble.

CATTLE FREIGHT.—W. E. Belcher, of the C. P.R., has gone to Montana to endeavour to have the cattle dealers in that territory ship their stock to eastern markets over the C.P.R.

NAVVIES FOR THE C.P.R.—One hundred and twenty navvies arrived on June 8th from St. Paul. They left the following morning to work on construction at the Rockies.

A FAMOUS PASSENGER TRAIN.—The first passenger train over the C.P.R. east of Port Arthur left that town on Saturday morning, June 7th, for Nepigon. Among the passengers were many of the leading citizens of the town, including some fifty ladies and others, who went out to celebrate the occasion as being another link forged in the great transcontinental all-rail route.—Winnipeg Times.

THERE is a rumor afloat that the leading Nationalists of Ulster contemplate holding, in the near future, an important convention.

Mr. PATRICK MAHER, Mallyellen House, Goresbridge, has been appointed to the Commission of the peace for the county Carlow. Mr. Maher is a Roman Catholic and Nationalist.

MR. Patrick George Carvell, J. P., of Newry and London, will contest the borough of Newry in the Liberal interest at the next election in opposition to Mr. Thomson, Conservative, the sitting member. The Nationalists, however, state that they will not support Mr. Carvell unless he promises to become a follower of Parnell.

At a meeting of the committee of the Gowell National League, of May 11, Mr. John Barry, president, in the chair, a resolution, proposed by Mr. Moran and seconded by Mr. Laughlin, was unanimously adopted, condemning the conduct of a local land agent in serving tenants with writs for affording shelter to an evicted tenants, on a snowy day recently.

Electric Light in Mills.

From the way that electric lights are being put in the mills in the different districts, it cannot be inferred that the mill owners intend to run their saws at a slower gait this year than they formerly have. In the construction of these lights great progress has been made in the last two or three years. At first the tremor of the mill caused the light to flicker too much to be certain, but that difficulty has been overcome, and now, if properly adjusted, it is steady, and really makes the mill as light as day. Many of the mill men using it, with whom we have talked, would not dispense with it on any account. If night sawing must be done there cannot be too much light to see to do it well.—Northwestern Lumberman.

SIR RICHARD'S THREAT.

When Sir Richard Cartwright, after his temporary retirement from active political life, caused by his rejection by his old constituency, was found a seat by the Reform leader and again introduced to Parliamentary life, several independent and even Reform journals were surprised at the party leaders for again bringing him forward. These journals attributed their defeat in 1878 in a large measure to him and the policy he pursued as Minister of Finance in Mr. Mackenzie's administration, and could not understand why the party was again burdened with him. But the secret reason for that action may be found in a threat which Sir Richard pronounced in his speech in Toronto. Referring to the fact of his having left the Conservatives, and joined the Reformers, he said :—

"I can say, further, that I know of but one contingency under which it would be possible that I could recant or recall my choice, and that would be in case that at any future time I should find that my friends, the leaders of the Liberal party, had been betrayed into acts such as those their opponents were guilty of."

The only act of which Sir Richard complained when he left the Conservative party, was the appointment of Sir Francis Hincks to a portfolio which he desired for himself, and now he holds out the threat that, if the Reformers are ever guilty of a like act—if they should return to power and refuse to give him the Department of Finance—he will go into opposition and oppose those with whom he is now allied. It may have been a gentle hint of this kind, given to Mr. Blake by Sir Richard, when the latter saw Mr. Paterson acting as the Opposition financier, that caused the leader of the party to find him a "safe" constituency, and the fact that the constituency was found for him shows that the party leaders heed the threats of Sir Richard and will not dare to thwart his ambition, if they should again be returned to power. But what a humiliating position it places the lender in! And what a patrotic politician must be the man who leaves one party and threatens to revolt in another, if he is not allowed to hold a position for which he is utterly unfit!

We venture to think that Sir Richard will not strengthen his position among the Reformers by this threat, and it certainly will not add to the very little popularity he possesses in the country. He need not have been in such a hurry to show his teeth, however, for it will be some years yet before Mr. Blake will have an opportunity of either rewarding or slighting him.

A Curious Enterprise.

Southern Florida is being brought into competition with Ceylon, the Malabar and Coromandel coast of India, the tropical islands of the Pacific, the West Indies, and South America, where immense groves of cocoanut trees may be seen. An extensive plantation of cocoanut trees has been started in Dade county, along the southwestern coast of Florida by an enteprising capitalist of New Jersey. One hundred thousand plants have been set out on a tract of about 1,000 acres at a cost of nearly $40,000, and next year the number will be largely augmented. The plants were placed in holes three feet deep and from 20 to 30 feet apart. It requires six years for the trees to begin to yield returns, but it is estimated that in ten years the grove will pay ten per cent. on a valuation of $2,000,000.

Italy and the U. S. Art Tax.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Italian Deputies on Wednesday said if the bill placing foreigners on the same footing as Americans in regard to the duties on the introduction into America of works of art should not be considered by Congress by the 21st, as demanded by Italy, he would take measures to obtain compensation, as he considered the treatment of Italian subjects unfair and at variance with the treaty of commerce between the countries.

Bismarck's Plans.

Truth asserts that Bismarck has arranged the betrothal of Prince Frederick William, hereditary Grand Duke of Baden, and Princess Hilda of Nassau, with a view to the reconciliation of the Duke of Nassau with Prussia, and the establishment of the family of Nassau in succession to the Dutch throne, in case the Prince of Orange, Crown Prince of Holland, dies.

MUNICIPAL RAILWAL BONUSES.

Petition by Victoria County Council for Repayment to the Municipalities.

Lindsay, June 11.—At the session of the Victoria County Council to-day a resolution of considerable public importance was brought up by Col. Deacon, Reeve of Lindsay, seconded by Mr. McArthur, Reeve of Fenelon Falls, and unanimously adopted. The resolution appoints a special committee, composed of Messrs. Adam Walker, McEachren, McArthur, Fell, Fairbairn, Daniel, Bailer, of Emily, and the mover, to draft a petition to the Minister of Railways and Canals praying that the Government may, before the next session of Parliament, prepare a scheme by which the municipalities in the province of Ontario which have aided by way of bonuses the several lines of railway recently declared to be in the interests of the Dominion generally may have the whole or reasonable portions of such bonuses recouped in a manner similar to that by which the lower provinces have been recouped. The committee are instructed to report if possible during the present session, and it not practicable at the December session of this council. Resolutions regarding a new iron bridge at Omemee and a scheme of good roads were adopted.—Mail.

THE TOWN'S REFUSE.

Practical Methods for the Safe Disposal of Sewage.

Parkes, the most eminent authority on sanitary questions, has said "it is highly probable that to barbarous and inefficient modes of removing the excreta of men and animals we must partly trace the great prevalence of disease in the middle ages, and there is no doubt that many of the diseases now prevailing in our large towns are due to the same cause."

The above quotation has been used in this journal as a sort of text on a previous occasion. There is so much truth in it and it involves so much relating to prevailing disease that it can hardly be too often brought to public notice. A very large proportion of the diseases which affect humanity arise either from a retention in the body of used-up waste matters which ought to have been thrown off by the excretory organs, or from these same waste matters or the vital or chemical products of their decomposition finding their way again into the body, and chiefly along with the air or water consumed. There is no subject coming within the scope of sanitary science which is of greater practical importance than this one of the proper disposal of excremental matters, especially in towns or cities.

The object of this brief paper is to bring to the notice of municipal authorities of towns or cities a practical method by which all excrement may be safely disposed of.

In only a few of the cities and towns in Canada has the water carriage system yet been introduced, and in these few it is but partial in its application, only a portion of the houses, as in Toronto, having connection with it. Furthermore, unless a city can obtain an abundant supply of water, is so situated on elevated ground as to command a good fall for a free outflow and to a large free running stream or lake, or uses the sewage on a sewage farm, has a well-planned and perfectly constructed system of sewers, and perfectly executed plumbing work, it is better without the water carriage system. But we will leave this part of the subject for further consideration on a future occasion.

In most of the cities and towns in Canada coal is now being used for fuel in nearly every house, and the method above referred to may be almost completely summed up and explained in the following few words :—Mix all the household excreta and the coal ashes together, and the whole in this state may be removed at intervals more or less frequent without any inconvenience what-ever from disagreeable smell, and the mixture would constitute a valuable manure, especially for heavy clay soils. Special, elaborately constructed closets for the use of ashes, however desirable for convenience sake are not at all essential. Boxes, tubs, barrels, anything of this sort, would answer quite as good a purpose, to say the least, as the miserable, filthy out-closets now commonly in use.

If every vestige of the old-fashioned pit—the filthy relics of a barbarous age for the collection of the vilest filth and the development and propagation of the most fatal diseases, were completely removed at once or at an early day, and any temporary moveable receptacle provided for the ashes and all household excrement, this would not amount to so many cart loads daily, even in a city like Toronto, but that the neighboring farmers would most likely be glad to cart it away for the use of it as a manure. If not, the carting of it away at the expense of the municipality would be less than the cost of separate removal in the usual way. Gradually, as circumstances permitted, the householders could provide themselves with conveniently arranged ash closets, or connect with the sewers.

What city, town, or even village, will set the example of carrying such a plan into practice? Parkdale adopted a similar one two or three years ago, and it is there contrary to law to use a vault.—Sanitary Journal.

COBOURG.

Sentenced.—The two lads arrested for breaking into a bonded car on the G. T. on Wednesday night were tried before the Police Magistrate on Satnrday morning, when they were sentenced each to six months in the Central.

Cricket.—A cricket match was played on the new athletic grounds on Saturday between the Juniors of Port Hope and the Atlantas of this place. The game was hotly contested, but the home team came out victorious with an innings and 25 runs to the good. The return match is to be played some day next week at Port Hope.

Blood Poisoning.—Mr. John A. McIntosh, traveller for the the Toronto Brewing aed Malting Company, who was assaulted in Brighton some six weeks ago by a butcher, when he had his finger bitten, has had the injured member amputated, owing to blood poisoning setting in, the bone and flesh having become entirely diseased. The operation was performed by Drs. J. E. Kennedy and J. McConnell, and hopes are entertained that the disease may be checked, but the patient's recovery will be slow at best. The trial of his assailant was to have taken plsce at the county court here this week, but it is impossible for Mr. McIntosh to attend, the County Crown Attorney having been notified to that effect by Dr. McConnell.—Sentinel-Star.

CAMPBELLFORD.

Sudden Death.—On Friday last the son of Mr. Wm. Petty who resides in Percy township about two miles from Warkworth, was called away "in the twinkling of an eye" to face the reality of another world. The young man was home from college during the vacation visiting his relatives, and about noon he was standing in front of the house death seized him, and without any warning he was hurried away. The deceased was a student at the High School in Campbellford a few years ago, and at the time of his death he had completed three years of his course in medicine, intending to become a physician. He was 27 years of age.—Herald.

BELMONT.

Death From a Cut.—Mr. Richard Wilson, of Belmont township, a former resident of Seymour, died at his home on Wednesday of last week. Some weeks ago Mr. Wilson cut the instep of his foot with an axe, and was unable to work. The wound was bandaged for a few days, but after that time it was found necessary to secure the treatment of a physician. He dressed the cut and tied a bandage around the leg, but it did not seem to help the injury, and blood drops oozed from the leg above the knee. Mr. Wilson grew worse, and finally swooned away on Wednesday and died a few hours afterwards.—Campbellford Herald.

A Hard Working Mill.

The Au Sable Salt and Lumber Company's mill at Au Sable is doing a better business this year than ever before, notwithstanding the record it has made in former years as the John C. Graw mill. Its average cut per week is 1,000,000 feet, and one day last week it astonished everybody by cutting 250,000 feet. The mill has an ample stock of logs and will make, if its customary good luck abides with it, a notable successful season in 1884.

A Note of Warning to Suffering Hunanity.

We feel that we would be wanting in the duty that we owe to humanity if we did not sound a note of warning in regard to the use of mercury and other poisonous minerals in the treatment of blood and skin diseases. If the reader could see the horrible suffering, the awful wrecks of human health and happiness, shown by our correspondence with those who have been dosed with these mineral poisons, he would shudder with horror. Arsenic, mercury, antimony, and iodide of potassium, are some of the remedies most ordinarily used for these diseases, and they are all poison. Do not take these poisons. They might dry up your disease for a few days, but it will surely return, and with it you wil have mercurial rheumatism, which may bring you years of torture. Shaker Blood Syrup will invigorate you and build you up, and force all poison out through the pores of your skin, and cure you sound and well.

SHAKER BLOOD SYRUP

cures completely scrofula, syphilis, rheumatism, cancer, catarrh, and skin and blood diseases of every description. Sold everywhere, $1 a bottle, or six for $5.

Take Your Prescriptions and recipes to MORGAN'S Drug Store and have them accurately compounded to your satisfaction. Find MORGAN'S Drug Store. Telephone Connection.

Oh! how tired and weak I feel I dont believe I will ever get through the Spring house-cleaning? Oh yes you will if you take a bottle or two of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters to purify your blood and tone up the system. In large bottles 50 cents.

The Greatest Healing Compound

is prepared of carbolic acid, vaseline and cerate called McGregor & Parke's Carbolic Cerate. It will cure any sore, cut burn or bruise when all other prparations fail. Call at John McKee's drug store and get a package. Twenty-five cents is all it costs.

Fluid Lightning

Is the only instantaneous relief for neuralgia, headache, toothache, etc. Rubbing a few drops briskly is all that is needed. No taking nauseous medicine for weeks, but one minute's application removes all pain and will prove the great value of Fluid Lightning. Twenty-five cents per bottle at John McKee's drug store.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box For sale by Taylor & Macdonald.

Another Victory.

A Startling important discovery was made when, after long and patient experiments, the combination of Nerviline was reached. A grand victory indeed, for the suffering have an ever ready, prompt, efficient, and cheap remedy at hand. Do you know that for 10 cents you can buy a trial bottle of Polson's Nerviline and test its great power over pain of every description? Polson's Nerviline cures chills, pain in the stomach, side and back, rheumatism; in fact all pain. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

The Woman's Physician.

A common sense medical work for ladies only. Fully answers all questions which modesty prevents asking a male physician. Gives causes and symptoms of all diseases of the sex, with positive cure for each in plain language, written by ladies who have made these diseases a life study A plain talk in delicate language which every woman, young and old, should read. It is recommended by many eminent lady physicians as a safe guide for the sex. Handsomely bound and illustrated. Sent postpaid for $1.00. CHAPTER XV.—CONTINUED.

Fortunately Mrs. Waul, impatently watching for her return, caught a glimpse of the yet distant figure and hastened to meet her.

"Are you crying? What is the matter?"

"My lungs are bleeding; lend me a handkerchief. Try and find a carriage."

"What caused it? Something must have happened.'

"Don't worry me now. Only help me to get home.'

Screened both by veils and parasols, the two had almost gained the street, when they met a trio of gentlemen.

One asked, in unmistakable New England English:

"Laurance, where is your father?"

And a voice which had once epitomized for Minnie Merle the "music of the spheres," answered in mellow tones:

"He has been in London, but goes over soon to Italy."

Mrs. Waul felt a trembling hand laid on her arm, and turned anxiously to her companion.

"Give me time. My strength fails me. I can't walk so fast."

The excitement of an hour had overthrown the slow work of weeks, and after many days the physicians peremptorily ordered her away from Paris.

"Home! Let us go home. You have not been yourself since we reached this city. In New York you will get strong."

As Mrs. Waul spoke, she stroked one of the invalid's thin hands, that hung listlessly over the side of the sofa.

"I think Phœbe is right. America would cure you," added the grey-haired man, whose heart was yearning for his native land.

Her sands of life seemed ebbing fast, the end might not be distant; who could tell? Why not go back—give up the chase for the empty shadow of a name—gather her baby to her bosom, and die; finding under an humble cenotaph the peace that this world denied her?

Impatiently, the old man and his wife watched her countenance, confident that the decision would not long be delayed, trusting that the result would be a compliance with their wishes. But hope began to fade as they noticed the gradual compression of her pale sorrowful mouth—the slow gathering of the brows that met in a heavy frown—the tightening of the clenched fingers—the greyish shadow that settled down on the face where renunciation was very legibly written. The temptation had been fierce, but she put it aside, after bitter struggles to hush the wail of maternal longing; and before she spoke, the two friends looked at each other and sighed.

Lifting her marble eyelids that seemed so heavy with their sweeping brown lashes, the invalid raised herself on one elbow, and said, mournfully:

"Not yet—oh! not yet. I cannot give up the fight without one more struggle even if it should prove that of death to me I must not return to America until I win what I came for, I will not. But my friends—for such I consider you, such you have proved—I will not selfishly prolong your exile; will not exact the sacrifice of your dearest wishes. Go back home at once, and enjoy in peace the old age that deserves to be so happy. I am going to Italy, hoping to regain my health—possibly to die; but still I shall go. How long I may be detained, I kown not, but meanwhile you shall return to those you love."

"Idle words—all idle words; not worth the waste of your breath. Phœbe and I are home sick—we we do not deny it, and we are sorry you can't see things we do; but since that night when I stumbled over you in the snow, and carried you to my own hearth—you have been to Phœbe and me—as the child we lost; and unless you are ready to go home with us, we stay here. You know we never will forsake you, especially now. Hush—don't speak, Phœbe. Come away wife, she is crying like a tired child. I never saw her give way like that before. It will do her good. Every tear softens the spasms that wring her poor heart, when she think of her baby. In crossing the ocean she she said that every wave seemed to her a grave, in which she was burying her blue-eyed baby. Let her alone to-day, keep out of her sight. To-morrow we will arrange to quit Paris, I hope for ever."

CHAPTER XVI.

Mrs. Palma, if you are at leisure, I should like to see you for a moment."

"Certainly, Miss Orme, come in."

Mrs. Palma looked up for an instant only, from the blue sash which she was embroidering with silver.

"Is your discourse confidential? If so, I shall certainly retire, and leave you and Mamma to tender communings, and an interchange of souls," said Olga, who reclined on a lounge in her mother's room, and slowly turned the leaves of a volume of Balzac.

"Not at all confidential. Mrs. Palma, I have reason to believe that my piano practising has long annoyed you."

"Upon what do you base your supposition? During the year I have not found fault with you, have I?"

"Hattie told me that you often complained that you could no longer enjoy your morning nap, because the sound of the piano disturbed you; and I wish to change the hour."

"It is very true that when I am out frequently until two and three o'clock, with Olga, it is not particularly refreshing to be aroused at seven by scales and exercises. People who live as contanually in society as we do, must have a little rest."

"Pray Mamma, do not forget your Bible injection; 'render unto Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's,' and to the music, the matters that belong to its own divine art. Until Regina came among us, that melodious siren in the front parlour had a chronic lock-jaw from want of use.

"At what time of day did you practice when you were a young girl?" asked Regina, appealing to the figure now coiled on the lounge.

"At none—thank fortune! Regard me as a genuine rara avis—a fashionable young lady with no more aptitude for the 'concord of sweet sounds, than for the abstractions of Hegel or Differential Calculus. My talent is not for the musical tones of Pythagoras."

"I should be truly glad to learn in what direction it tends," said her mother, rather seriously.

Up rose the head with its tawny crown, and there was evident emphasis in the ringing voice, and in the fiery glance that darted from her laughing hazel eyes.

"Cruel Mamma! Because Euterpe did not preside when I was lucklessly ushered into this dancing gift bubble that we call the world, were all good gifts denied me? The fairies ordained that I should paint—should soar like Appelles, Angelo, and Da Vinci into the empyrean of pure classic art, but no sooner did I dabble in pigment, and plume my slender artistic pinfeathers, than the granite hands of Palma pride seized the ambitious ephemeron, cut off the sprouting wings, and bade me paint only my lips and cheeks, if dabble in paint I must. Come here, St. John, and let me rub your fur the wrong way. The world will do it roughly, if you survive tender kittenhood, and it is merciful to initiate you early, and by degrees."

She took up a young black cat, that was curled comfortably on the skirt of her dress, and stroking him softly, resumed her book.

Mrs. Palma compressed her lips, knitted her heavy brows, and turned the silk sash to the light, to observe the effect of the silver snowdrops she was embroidering.

(To be Continued.)

FARM AND GARDEN.

PRICE OF HOGS.—Hogs in the Chicago markets are from $1 to $2 per cwt. lower than last spring at this time.

YOUNG PIGS.—Young pigs deserve a chance at the fresh pasture of early spring. Clover is perhaps better for them than other pasturage.

BOSTON GARDEN.—In the Public Garden of Boston this spring there are 50,000 pansies, 15,000 daisies, 500 forget-me-nots, 1,500 Canterbury bells, and 4,000 tulips.

TO ORNAMENT FLOWER POTS.—Many people use a mixture of red lead, or some red ochre, to clean and brighten the outside of their flowerpots.

THE DAIRY.—The true standard by which to test the value of dairy cows is, without doubt, the amount of milk or butter they give during the year.

MANURE FOR STRAWBERRIES.—Dried blood on strawberry land, applied between the rows, 400 per acre, increased a Kansas crop one-third, prolonged the period of ripening, and the fruit held its size. Results were much better than with common manure.

THE CANADA THISTLE.—To exterminate the Canada thistle thoroughly, cut it close to the ground at the time that it is in full bloom. As the plants do not all flower at the same time it will be necessary to go over the ground a number of times.

TO SERVE STRAWBERRIES.—Strawberries, if gritty, should be rinsed and drained, then hulled, and not sweetened till served. Large, selected strawberries may be served with the stems on. Pass sugar with them, that those who prefer may roll them in it.

FARM PROPERTY.—The farmers of the United States are worth $10,197,000,000, while all other real estate, including the dwellings and warehouses of the city, the capital employed in the business and the water power besides, is but $9,881.000,000.

PROFITABLE FARMING.—The greatest drawback to profitable farming in this country, and especially in the Western States, is the lack of good cultivation. It is better to raise one hundred bushels of corn to an acre than fifty bushels.

ENSILAGE FED COWS.—At a recent meeting of the British Chemical Society Mr. Vincent stated that cows which were fed on ensilage furnished on an average two gallons of milk per diem more than those which received ordinary food.

HATCHING TURKEYS.—Turkeys may be hatched from April to July, but those hatched in April or May attain the greatest size. After the chickens are hatched they should not be disturbed for twenty-four hours.

YOUNG STRAWBERRY PLANTS.—Growing strawberry plants need a generous supply of water. From the day when the first blossoms appear, until the well-developed fruit is ready to be plucked, the soil where strawberry vines stand should be kept very moist.

REVIVING FRUIT TREES.—Mr. S. D. Pratt writes to the American Institute Farmers' Club about the care of fruit trees as follows: "Remembering Prof. Liebig's theory that when a vegetable is burned the part which came from the air in the process of it growth returns to the atmosphere, and the part which ceme from the ground is reduced to ashes, I came to the conclusion that ashes would be beneficial when applied to the roots of the trees. They were standing in the soil strongly inclined to clay, with a turf around them that had not been removed for several years. After pruning them properly, removing every indication of worms, etc., and washing the body and branches with soapsuds, I began operations below, first removing the turf two feet around the tree, then with a garden pick the ground was loosened from six to twelve inches in depth, taking care not to injure the larger roots. Twenty or thirty quarts of loose dirt were removed, leaving a large cavity, shaped like a saucer; with the tree standing in the centre. About one pint of unbleached ashes was sprinkled about the tree, and upon this chip manure was placed, nearly filling the cavity. Another pint of ashes was sprinkled upon the fertilizer, which was gently pressed down, and the hole covered with the loose dirt taken from the cavity, leaving the suface nearly as it was, excepting the turf. A young orchard was treated in a similar way. The effect was wonderful. Plum trees that were going to the bad revived. Peach trees that had presented small and shrivelled leaves threw out luxuriant foliage, and cherry trees gave fruit larger and fairer than before."

Meteorological Influence of Forests.

A forest does cause rain to fall, or at least it does not, as does the open plain, prevent rain from falling. This meteological influence of the forest is due lo the moist condition of the air above the forests, which tends to saturate any clouds moving through this area, thus facilitating precipitation, whilst the heated air over the plain tends to increase the relative capacity of an air column for moisture, therefore decreasing the chance for discharge.—Forestry Bulletin.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate.

A GOOD THING.

Dr. Adam Miller, Chicago, Ill., says: "I have recommended Horsford's Acid Phosphat to my patients, and have received very favourable reports. It is one of the very few really valuable preparations now offered to the afflicted. In a practice of thirty-five years I have found a few good things, and this is one of them."

Can't Be Beaten.

It is a fact that Nerviline cannot be surpassed by any combination for the relief of pain. The reason is a good one. Nerviline contains the best, most powerful, and the latest discovered remedies. It is a magic pain cure. Rheumatism, stiff neck, cramps, neuralgia, colic, in fact all pain, internal, external, and local, are subdued in a few minutes. Go at once to Ormond & Walsh's drug store and get a trial bottle. It will only cost you 10 cents, and you can at a small cost test the great pain cure, Polson's Nerviline. Large bottles only 25cts.

Itching Piles—Symptoms and Cure.

The symptoms are moistare, like perspiration, intense itching, increased by scratching, very distressing, particularly at night, seems as if pin-worms were crawling above the parts affected. If allowed to continue very serious results may follow. "SWAYNE'S OINTMENT" is a pleasant, sure cure. Also for tetter, itch, salt rheum, scald head, erysipelas, barber's itch, blotches, all scaly, crusty skin diseases. Sent by mail for 50 cents; 3 boxes, $1.25 (in stamps) Adpress DR. INVALUABLE TO EVERY LADY.
"MAY DEW"
The Great French Lotion for Beautifying the Face.

It conceals the evidence of age. One application will make the most stubboraly red and rough hands beautifully soft and white. Remember that "MAY DEW" is not a paint or powder that fills up the pores of the skin, and that is injurious to the skin, but a new and great discovery, a vegetable liquid, that causes the cheek to glow with health, the neck, arms and hands to rival the Lily in whiteness. Impossible to detect in the beauty it confers any artificial character. It cures Greasy Skin, Freckles, Wrinkles, Pimples, Black Heads, Crow's Feet, Blotches, Face Grubs, Sun Burn, Tan, Ringworms, Chapped Hands, Sore or Chapped Lips, Barber's Itch, Tetter, etc. It frees the pores, oil glands, and tubes from the injurious effects of powders and cosmetic washes. By its use all redness and roughness are prevented; it beautifies the skin, and will make it soft, smooth and white; imparting a delicious softness, producing a perfectly healthy, natural, and youthful appearance. The best face lotion that the world ever produced. We will send "A LARGE BOTTLE" to any address on receipt of price $1. When ordering mention this paper.

Daily Evening Review

FBIDAY, JUNE 13, 1884.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

This is the Night.

Be sure and remember the Garden Party and Sale at Mr. Wm. Hamilton's residence this evening—a most enjoyable time may be expected.

Mechanics' Institute.

Mr. George Peters has been appointed librarian of the Peterborough Mechanics' Institute to fill the vacancy that will occur at the end of the month.

An Excursion.

The Masonic Fraternity of Peterborough have arranged to celebrate the festival of St. John the Baptist, June 24th, by an excursion to Idyl Wild on the steamer Golden Eye.

Ashburnham Council.

At a meeting of the Ashburnham village Council on Thursday evening, June 12th, the following gentlemen were elected members of the Board of Health for the village:—Mr. John Burnham, reeve, Mr. John Wood, clerk, Messrs. H. T. Strickland, John Smith and John Wright. Dr. Clark was appointed medical health office, and Constable Craig sanitary inspector. A by-law to prohibit cattle from running at large was also passed through its several stages, and Constable Craig was appointed to enforce this new law.

Base Ball at Lindsay.

The Silver Star Base Ball Club played a match at Lindsay with the club of that town on Thursday afternoon. Unfortunately, John Callaghan, the Star's catcher, received an injury to his hand before the game was commenced, and soon after it began another blow injured a finger and his hand to such an extent that he had to go from behind the bat and take a place in the field. The play was very good, and kept even until the fifth innings, when the Lindsay players made the large score of 15. When the match was concluded the Lindsay club had just that number of runs (15) ahead, and thus won the match. The Stars felt that they were at a disadvantage on account of the injury the catcher received, but for a new club they did not do badly, this being their first match. They speak highly of the members of the Lindsay club, and look forward to a pleasant return match, when they hope to be more successful.

Ontario and Quebec Notes.

The Norwood Register says that about fifty Italians, employed on the O. & Q. near Crow River, struck for higher wages on Tuesday. In all probability their requests will be acceded to.

The same paper says that Mr. Todd, the newly appointed road-master, is "rushing things" on this section of the Ontario and Quebec Railway. The three locomotives employed in ballasting are performing "wonders" under his management.

A despatch from Tweed, dated June 11th, says:—

"A man engaged on a ballast train on the Ontario and Quebec Railway met with a horrible death near here yesterday by being cut in two by the cars, between which he fell backwards. The engineer saw him fall and he at once 'plugged' the engine and ran to his assistance, but it was too late. Two cars passed over him, severing the legs from the upper part of the body. This is the second fatal accident that has occurred in this section on the O. & Q. road within a week."

She Spoke to Him.

An amusing incident occurred on the steamer Norseman the other morning, while she was crossing from Rochester to Port Hope. A young lady (from Lindsay, of course), who had been very ill during the night voyage was sitting near the stove when a man, rather rough-looking, laid his hand on her shoulder and said, "I would like to speak to you a moment.." The young lady jumped up, and having glanced at him turned away in indignation. "I want to speak to you a moment," again said the stranger. "Well, I don't want to speak to you," angrily returned the convalescent victim of sea-sickness, and she crossed to the other side of the room. "I belong to the boat," explained the man, "and wish to speak to you." "Oh, you belong to the boat," said the young lady; "you may speak to me if you belong to the boat." "You were very ill last night," said the stranger, "would you like a cup of tea?" The young lady blushed up under her bangs to the roots of her hair, and at first refused the proffered beverage, but finally accepted. She will hold her indignation in check next time she crosses Lake Ontario on the Norseman.

The "Golden Lion."

The grand centre of attraction, every department full to the ceilihg.

Bass' English Ale.

Another large shipment of Bass' Ale, October brewing, just arrived at W. Chamberlain's Restaurant. Imported direct.

Violin Lessons.

Prof. J. A. Doucet, late of Boston, is prepared to give lessons on the violin. Terms on application at D. Smart's music store.

Preparing to Enlarge.

The Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Company are cutting down the knoll and levelling the ground in the rear of their boiler shop, preparing to build an addition to it.

Billheads and Statements.

As the half-year draws near the REVIEW office is specially prepared to execute orders for Billheads and Statements of all kinds. Printing done in the very latest styles of letterpress, on good paper, and in any style of ruling desired. The workmanship is unexcelled.

Personal.

The Rev. Alex. Bell has departed this morning on a visit to the Old Country. He will pay a visit to England, Ireland and Scotland, and will be in Belfast to attend the session of the Pan-Presbyterian Assembly.

The Rev. E. H. Dewart, D.D., has been elected President of the Toronto Conference of the Methodist Church of Canada.

Canadian Foresters.

The Right worthy High Court of the Canadian Order of Foresters, which has been sitting lately in Toronto, brought its labours to a close on Tuesday afternoon. Peterborough has been honored in the person of James Kennedy, who, we learn, was elected to the post of Right Worthy Junior Woodward. The Court will meet in our town on the second Tuesday in June next year.

Minister's Stations.

The final draft of stations adopted at the Bible Christian Conference made the following appointments for the Peterborough and Victoria districts:—Peterborough, W. Joliffe, J. W. Butcher, superannuated; Little Britain, W. C. Beer, R. Mallett, B.A.; Lakefield, R. Allin; Fenelon, M. Metherell; Lindsay, W. Limbert; Manvers and Cartwright, E. A. Tonkin, W Down; Ashburnham, S. J. Thompson; Superintendent, W. Joliffe.

Auction Sale of Oil Paintings.

I have received a fine consignment of genuine Oil Paintings, which I will offer by public auction in the store one door east of the Oriental Hotel, Hunter street, commencing at 8 o'clock on Saturday evening, June 14th, and will be continued until all are sold. These paintings are consigned to absolute sale, and are now on exhibition at the store above named.—CHARLES STAPLETON, auctioneer.

Funeral of the Late Mr. Vennor.

The remains of the late H. G. Vennor, F. G. S., were laid to rest in the Mount Royal Cemetary, Montreal, on Tuesday afternoon, June 10th. The Rev. Dr. Stevenson, who conducted the service, remarked that it was but six weeks in all since three members of the family had been brought to that church and afterward committed to the dust. Amongst the names of those who followed the hearse we notice that of Mr. J. H. Roper.

A Fatal Collision.

On Wednesday afternoon, between five and six o'clock, two construction trains collided on the Ontario and Quebec Railway between Myrtle and Burketon. The trains were both going at good speed, in order to make a grade, when they collided. A man who is unknown, who was looking for work was in a flat car and was killed instantly. He was terribly cut up and mangled. One engine was considerably damaged.

His Mother Cut his Hair.

You can always tell a boy whose mother cuts his hair by the way he stops in the street and wiggles his shoulders. When a fond mother has to cut her boy's hair, she is careful to guard against any annoyance and mess by laying a sheet on the carpet. It has never yet occurred to her to set him over a bare floor and put the sheet around his neck. Then she draws the front hair over his eyes, and leaves it there while she cuts that which is at the back. The hair which lies over his eyes appeares to be surcharged with electric needles, and that which is silently dropping down under his collar band appears to be on fire. She has unconsciously continued to push his head forward until his nose presses his breast, and is too busily engaged to notice the snuffling sound that is becoming alarmingly frequent. In the meantime he is seized with an irresistible desire to blow his nose, but recollects that his handkerchief is in the other room. Then a fly lights on his nose, and does it so unexpectedly that he involuntarily dodges, and catches the point of the shears it his left ear. At this he commences to cry and wish he was a man. But his mother doesn't notice him. She merely hits him on the other ear to inspire him with confidence, and goes on with the work. When she is through, she holds his jacket collar back from his neck, and with her mouth blows the short bits of hair from the top of his head down his back. He calls her attention to this fact, but she looks for a new place on his head and hits him there, and asks him why he didn't use his handkerchief. Then he takes his awfully disfigured head to the mirror and looks at it, and, young as he is, shudders as he thinks of what the boys in the street will say. And longs for time to come where he will be in a position to go a decent barbar and buy his clothes from ANDREW MCNEIL, Tailor and Clothier, George Street.

A Great Discovery

That is daily bringing joy to the homes of thousands by saving many of their dear ones from an early grave, truly is Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, hay fever, loss of voice, tickling in the throat, pain in side and chest, or any disease of the throat and lungs, a positive cure guaranteed. Major-General Middleton.

MONTREAL, June 11.—Major-General Middleton, the new commander of the Canadian militia will arrive before the end of the month. General Middleton brings out with him as aide-de-camp Lieutenant Henry Elison Wise of the Cameronians or Scottish rifles. Lieut. Wise is a son of Mr. Wise, the well-known lumber merchant of Ottawa. He graduated at the Royal military college, Kingston, in 1880, and in August of that year, having obtained one of the commissions in the imperial service, offered as scholarships, was appointed to the Camerons.

MORGAN'S SARSAPARILLA is the best spring medicine. It purifies the blood and clears the system. Find MORGAN'S Drug Store.

There are lots of people going around grumbling, and half sick at the Stomach all the time; who might be well and happy if they only used Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters occasionally. It is a splendid Blood Purifier. All Druggists, 50 cents.

PHOSPHATINE, a name which to every intelligent mind, professional or otherwise, is a key to its composition. No safer, purer, more palatable and more effective compound has ever been offered in cases of nervous exhaustion and pulmonary consumption. For sale by all druggists.

Never Give Up.

If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility disordered blood, weak constitution, headache or any disease of a bilious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Taylor and McDonald.

A New Principle.

The principle upon which Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor acts is entirely new. It does noes not sink deep into the flesh, thereby producing soreness, but acts directly upon the external covering of the corn, separates it from the under layer, removes the direct pressure from the pars, and at once effects a radical cure, without any pain or discomfort. Let those who are suffering from corns, yet sceptical of treatment, try it, and by the completeness of the cure they will be ready to recommend Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor to others.

Hurrah, for England!

DISCLOSURES!

A HOME SCENE.

WIFE (to husband)—To-day, my dear, I made a wonderful discovery. I discovered Dolan & Co'y.

HUSBAND (drawlingly)—Some of your old beaux, I suppose.

WIFE—No, Dolan & Co'y, the Dry Goods and Clothing firm of the town—the best place ye I've found to buy at. When I looked over the stock of Hosiery, Gloves and Laces, my wonder grew! And when I learned the prices! You know dear, I am very emotional. I couldn't resist—really I couldn't. Don't scold. I embraced—

HUSBAND (horrified)—what, Dolan & Co'y.

WIFE (laughing)—No, the opportunity. I purchased these four pairs of GLOVES; beauties, ain't they? And these three pairs of HOSE took my fancy. Such handsome colorings and so fine.

HUSBAND (examing goods)—Impossible, at the prices you state, they are as good as those you've been paying much higher for in Toronto. Had'nt you better get me something in this line.

WIFE (advisedly)—I'll always buy GLOVES and HOSIERY at Dolan & Co'ys., and I'll remind my friends to deal there too.

MISS JENKINS.

To Dyspeptics.

The most common signs of Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, are an oppression at the stomach, nausea, flatulency, water-brash, heart-burn, vomiting, loss of appetite, and constipation. Dyspeptic patients suffer untold miseries, bodily and mental. They should stimulate the digestion, and secure regular daily action of the bowels, by the use of moderate doses of

Ayer's Pills.

After the bowels are regulated, one of these Pills, taken each day after dinner, is usually all that is required to complete the cure.

AYER'S PILLS are sugar-coated and purely vegetable—a pleasant, entirely safe, and reliable medicine for the cure of all disorders of the stomach and bowels. They are the best of all purgatives for family use.

Building Sites

FOR SALE.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF THE LATE GEORGE BURNHAM M.D.

HOMESTEAD.

1.—TENDERS will be received up to JULY the 15th, 1884, for the purchase of the lot recently occupied by the late Dr. Burnham, without any of the buildings thereon, namely, Lot number 1, east of George Street and north of London Street; and Lot number 1, west of Water Street and north of London Street. The block contains one acre more or less, and tenders will be received for the whole block or for either half acre separately. An excellent opportunity is offered for the securing of very valuable building sites, as these lots are almost the only available property close to the centre of the town.

COLLINS' FARM.

2.—TENDERS will be received till AUGUST 1st, 1884, for the purchase of the farm which has for many years been rented by Henry Collins and Son, and comprises part of Lot number 9, in the twelfth concession of the Township of North Monaghan, containing 180 acres more or less, and being distant about one mile from the Town of Peterborough. This farm is composed of fine farm land, fronting on two roads, has an excellent Orchard of very choice varieties of fruit trees, and has a never-failing creek running through it. It also has a large new Brick House on it.

This sale offers a rare chance. No tender necessarily accepted for any of the above properties. Tenders to state price and also terms of payment, which will be made suitable to purchasers.

Concert.

A concert will be given on Wednesday, June 18, at St. John's School House, in aid of the Women's Foreign and Domestic Mission. We learn that the programme arranged is an excellent one, and the assistance of the best local talent has been promised.

Concert.

We understand that the Ladies' Aid Society of the George Street Methodist Church intend treating the public of Peterborough to an "Old Folk's Concert," similar to the one held by the Metropolitan Church, Toronto. There will be a strawberry festival in connection with it.

By-Law Quashed.

Judgment was given on Friday by Mr. Justice Rose in the Queen's Bench Division of the High Court of Justice of Ontario quashing on a number of grounds with costs the by-law of the Town Council of Peterborough for closing up Wolfe street.

The Probabilities.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, counting from one o'clock this morning, as reported from the Toronto Observatory, are as follows:—Fresh winds, mostly east and north, continued fine weather, slightly higher temperature, fair and warmer Sunday.

Ontario's Health.

We take from the official bulletin of the health of Ontario for the week ending Saturday, May 31st, the following:

It will be observed by reference to the report, that the weather of the week made a great and extreme transition from the warm weather which had preceded it. Northerly winds with unusual lack of humidity for the season prevailed. Though the change did not persist very long, still it exercised noticeable influences on some forms of disease. The increasing comparative prevalence of Anæmia shows the constancy of the law which was apparently established in last year's reports. Along with the advance of Anæmia, is to be observed the high prevalence of Intermittent Fever. Its appearance in District IV, as a disease of considerable prevalence is most unusual and worthy of attention. Whooping cough, amongst contagious zymotics, maintains the high prevalence it has shown for months past. Mumps follows much the same course. Diphtheria, though not appearing amongst the twenty most prevalent diseases, is nevertheless present in localities to considerable amount.

Although no new cases of Small-pox are reported from any District, still its existence in a few instances shows the necessity for taking vaccination precautions in all unprotected persons.

The ratio of diseases in the district in which Peterborough is included is as follows:

|---|---|
| Mumps | 17 |
| Anæmia | 9.2 |
| Fever, Ieter | 9.2 |
| Consumption | 7.5 |
| Bronchitis | .7 |
| Neuralgia | .5 |

The bulletin in future is to be issued monthly instead of weekly.

To arrive this week at Turnbull's, some beautiful summer Dress Goods in the new shades bought away down below regular prices. They will be sold cheap.

ENGLAND AND THE SOUDAN.

THE BERBER MASSACRE.

LONDON, June 11.—In the House of Commons to-day the Under Foreign Secretary said the reported massacre at Berber was difficult to believe. He thought the news emananted from an emissary of the Mahdi.

ZEBEHR PASHA'S PROPOSAL.

In a memorandum sent to the British Government Zebehr Pasha engages to obtain the submission of Mahdi within five weeks on condition that he (Zebehr Pasha) be created Viceroy of the Soudan without paying tribute to Egypt, the Khedive to become the Suzerain of the Soudan. Zebehr Pasha also engages to bring General Gordon and his suit to Cairo, stop the slave trade, hold Khartoum and the rest of the Soudan open to European commerce, and allow the free exercise of all religions.

COWARDICE OF EGYPTIAN OFFICERS.

A Suakin despatch says the English sergeants in the Egyptian army there have resigned, owing to the cowardice of Egyptian officers and men during the recent rebel attacks. The rebels made another attack last evening, when the men-of-war and the forts replied.

TRIUMPHS OF OCEAN TRAVEL.

Side by side yesterday, in the same lip, were moored two great ocean steamers—the famous "Alaska," of the Guion line, and the certain to be famous "America," of the National line. The former for a long time seemed utterly unapproachable for speed; the latter has beaten her best record at the first trial. Hundreds gathered during the day to wonder and admire this new prodigy of naval architecture, and all were struck by the astonishing contrast in their outlines. The 'Alaska" long and narrow, like a cleft wedge, lay level with the water. The "America," broad and short, with a beautiful clipper bow, lay with stern low and stem high in air. She looked like a huge steam yacht. The idea of the "Alaska" was to cleave a swift passage through the waves; that of the "America" is to ride triumphantly over them. Both apparently are successful ones.

The "America's" opening voyage was a triumphant vindication of the prophecies which had been made for her. She has accomplished the fastest maiden voyage of any of the fast steamers, and bids fair to do much better when her engines have lost their newness. In the run from Liverpool to Queenstown she made the unprecedented time of twelve hours and fifty minutes, the distance being 240 miles. She left Queenston at thirty-five minutes past ten a.m. on Thursday last, and at noon of the following day had reached 477 miles. The next day's run was 420, the next 400, the next 432, the next 450, and the next 428, and the final run of 190 miles to Sandy Hook was made between noon and fifteen minutes past ten. The exact running time was six days, fifteen hours and forty-one minutes. The man on the bridge was steady old Commodore Grace, whose genial yet weather beaten face has not been seen in this port for a long time, as he has been employed in superintending the fitting out of the steamer.

There is nothing ladies are so particular about as the fit of their mantle or dolman. Those leaving their orders at Turnbull's are sure to be suited.

Exportation of Cattle.

The Allan steamship Corean arrived at Glasgow from Quebec on Tuesday, and landed her live stock shipment of 422 oxen and 527 sheep in good order, with the exception of four oxen and four sheep which died on the passage.

Rise in the Value of Pine Lands.

Wisconsin pine lands are wonderfully appreciated. A tract of 6,000 acres in Lincoln county, with timber to the amount of 100,000,000 feet, were purchased a few years ago for $11,000, then resold a year since for $60,000, and again recently for $100,000.

Camp of Instruction.

The Militia Department has arranged for the holding of a camp of instruction at Kingston on the 24th inst. to be composed of the Kingston, Gananoque, and Dundas batteries and a detachment from "B" battery, equal to the strength of one battery, also the 4th provisional regiment of cavalry.

A Friend in Need.

LONDON, June 11.—Capt. Hall, of the Salvation Army, was liberated from prison to-day, Mr. Wm. Gooderham, of Toronto, having telegraped to her counsel here that he would remit the fine and costs. The London people feel that they have struck a bonanza, and the police and the magistrate will keep right along fining the contraveners of the by-law.

A Warning to Boys.

Lizzie Belle Stevens, of Livermore, Me., the girl who was frightened by finding a snake in a box of shavings, has died of the fright. She lay in a delirium for ten weeks, raving about the snake most of the time, and then typhoid fever set in. She was thirteen years old. The snake was put in the box by a smart youth "to scare the girls."

IRISH REVOLUTIONISTS IN PARIS.

PARIS, June 13.—Great efforts are being made to amalgamate the Invincibles with the dynamite sections of the Irish revolutionary party. Two agents sent to remove informer McDermott have returned to Paris. They visited most of the capitals of Europe but failed to find the object of their search, McDermott being in hiding in London under the protection of the police.

THE BELGIAN ELECTIONS.

BRUSSELS, June 13.—The excitement resulting from the Liberal defeat has not yet passed away. The streets last night were thronged with turbulent crowds, but the police succeeded in dispersing them without the occurrence of riotous demonstrations. There is a lull in the storm to-day, but further rioting is expected on Sunday when the Corpus Christi procession takes place. It is probable the senate, where the Liberals still have a small majority, will be dissolved. The anti-clericals will soon meet to form a common platform against the Catholics.

The building was ruined. It was owned by a stock company, in which the railroads centreing here are the principal stockholders. Several palace cars and a quantity of baggage were destroyed. Loss $200,000.

The Montreal Marriage Aid Association.

HAMILTON, Ont., June 12.—Considerable surprise is manifested at the arrests this morning of Jno. M. Webber, secretary-treasurer of the Mutual Marriage Aid Association, by chief of Police McKinnon, of Belleville, at the suit of several Belleville and Napanee parties who had paid in large sums of money, aggregating several thousands of dollars, without obtaining any value in return. The case was brought up in the Police Court this morning, and the prisoners charged with obtaining money under false pretences. Mr. John Creerar, County Crown Attorney, prosecuted. The magistrate adjourned the case till to-morrow morning, and the prisoners were remanded to jail.

A Social Scandal.

GREENSBURG, Pa., June 12.—The people of Westmoreland county are agitated over a scandal which they are comparing to the Dukes case. Edward Kenley some time ago paid attentions to Mrs. St. Clair, a divorced woman, and sister of the wife ex-Governor Latta. Recently Kenley has been circulating disgraceful stories about the lady and her mother, and has written some infamous letters. On Wenesday night Louis McLelland the lady's brother, met Kenley in a drug store, knocked him down, and cowhided him severely, both were arrested. Kenley threatens to carry out his threats. The affair creates a great sensation.

PICNIC FOR POLICY.

Mr. Edward Blake, the leader of the Reform party, has had his picnic and the expectant world is none the wiser. The Reformers are still in want of a policy, and their country journals, enlightened neither by their titular leader nor by their leading organ, are still at a loss what line to take. His newly restored lieutenant, sitting in the House as Mr. Blake's nominee and by his good pleasure, ventured to suggest "Independence," to see how that idea would take with the people, but the reception of that suggestion has been so chilling that Mr. Blake carefully avoided the subject.

Mr. Blake, indeed, contributed not one new idea, or new light upon an old idea. He objected to gerrymandering, but did not explain why he acquiesced in Mr. Mowat's iniquitous measure for securing a party advantage by adding unnecessarily to the number of Provincial members, by disfranchising a small Conservative constituency but preserving a Reform seat, by cutting even townships into strips to put them in separate ridings, and by making one constituency out of parts of five or six, disturbing the boundaries of some dozens of ridings. Mr. Blake also described his strong objection to the Government linking together our Provinces and opening up our Territories by the unprecedentedly rapid construction of the C.P.R, instead of adopting his plan of building slowly as his scanty settlement proceeded, and being dependent upon foreign routes for access to our own territories. But he dwelt longest and most drearily upon the subject of which he knows least, our fiscal policy, and uttered his old absurdities against the N.P. Mr. Blake is no doubt a very able lawyer and advocate, and has a great faculty for arguing on different sides of a question, as may suit his immediate purpose at the moment, but he gets out of his depth directly he ventures to discuss fiscal matters, for which he has no aptitude. The burden of his lament was an assumed injustice to the poor man. The fallacy lying at the root of his contention is Mr. Blake's erroneous idea that a man is taxed even when he does not pay a duty that is imposed. His fiscal policy is to tax the working man—yes, and the working woman, too—by making them pay a duty upon their tea and coffee, which not being grown in this country are raised in price by the amount of the duty. His fiscal policy is also to favour the importation of manufactured articles, so that our working men would lose the wages for making them, and our agriculturists would lose the better local market for their smaller produce, from which they now derive so large a proportion of the profits of their farms. Under the National Policy the working man can obtain all he requires without paying a cent of taxes, for he can purchase Canadian manufactures on which no duty is paid, and can get them both cheaper and better than before. The great increase of customs revenue is on articles of luxury, which can well bear taxation.

Denunciations of their own weapon of gerrymandering, opposition to the rapid construction of our great Canadian highway, and mistaken criticism of our National Policy, will hardly make a platform upon which Mr. Blake and his followers can march back to power. The Reformers have still nothing to reform, and their leader is still looking for a policy.

Agriculture and Arts Association.

The Secretary of the Provincial Agriculture and Arts Association is busily engaged in making preparations for the next annual exhibition, which is to be held at Ottawa on September 22nd to 27th. The prize lists and posters are being printed, and the former will be ready for distribution at the latter part of next week. The papers for the agricultural examinations which are to be held at the same time as the Education Department examinations have been printed, and were forwarded to that department to be sent out with the other papers. There will be about forty candidates. Quite a number of farms have been entered for the medals given by the association for the best farms in group 5, which comprises a number of counties in Eastern Ontario. The judges will begin work in the latter part of this month.

CO-OPERATION AMONG FARMERS.

The following observations from the National Live Stock Journal are particularly appropriate at this season of the year, and even more applicable to Ontario farmers than those of the Western States. To attain the best success in farming it is necessary that capital as well as labour should be economized. The following is what the Journal has to say on this matter:

"The small farmer is strongly tempted to buy machinery quite disproportioned to his number of acres. The profit of machinery consists in its use, and however great the saving of labour in the use of the machine, it saves nothing but is an expense when idle. The small farmer, therefore, cannot afford to buy expensive machines, because he cannot use them enough to pay the loss in value and interest. But if small farmers will associate themselves together, they may co-operate and purchase a full set of all the expensive machines, each one contributing according to his proportion of land. These machines can do the work for a certain number of acres—say 600 to 800 acres. For example, the self-binder, one of the most expensive machines used upon the farm; this can cut 200 to 300 acres of grain in a season, and would be able to cut all in due season, beginning with the earliest sown and ending with the latest. This is as much grain as would generally be raised on that amount of land.

These farms should, of course, join each other in as compact a body as practicable, so that the machines would be as convenient for us as if they were all one farm. This association might consist of the owners of four farms, or even eight farms. The fifty-acre farmer could enter the association upon equal or proportionate terms. There would seem to be no difficulty in making it equitable to all, and each one would have all the advantages of machinery of the most favored large farmers. The excuse for selling small farms often is, that it costs more to work them, because they must be worked without the advantages of the most approved machinery. This co-operation would cure all this."

KILLED WITH AN AXE.

Ottawa, June 12.—Information was received here this morning that a murder had been committed at Chesterville, a village in the township of Finch, county of Stormont, and about 46 miles from the city. Mrs. Barney McCadden, aged sixty while returning home between seven and eight o'clock last evening from John McCadden's (her son's), two and one-half miles distant, was attacked by one Thomas Aggart with an axe and killed. The murderer is a young farmer, 23 years old, who lived alone. He of was a nervous and somewhat superstitious temperament, and boys and young men of the neighbourhood were in the habit of annoying him by frequenting his house as "ghosts." Aggart became so exasperated that he resolved to punish his persecutors, and last night secreted himself by the roadside armed with an axe. Poor Mrs. McCadden it seems came along with a shawl over her head, and Aggart believing it to be one of his tormentors, at once attacked the woman, inflicting three blows with the axe, any one of which would, it is said, have been sufficient to have caused death. Aggart at once went to a neighbor's house and requested all present to come and see the "ghost" that he had killed. The woman was dead when picked up. Aggart was at once arrested.

This afternoon the Coroner held an inquest. It was shown in evidence that the prisoner had said he had repeatedly heard noises and attributed them to ghosts, and on the evening of the murder he heard the noises again. On going out he saw the deceased, and struck her with his axe and killed her. The father of the prisoner testified that he had heard unaccountable noises in his son's house.

The verdict of the jury is that Mrs. McCadden came to her death on the evening of 11th of June, 1884, in the township of Finch, from blows of an axe in the hands of Thomas Aggart. Aggart was committed to Cornwall for trial. The prisoner had previously borne a good character, and was looked upon as a quiet and inoffensive young man.

Disappears on His Wedding Day.

Glen Cove, L.I., June 12.—There is great indignation here over the disappearance yesterday of Edward Lincoln, son of the editor of the Gazette. He was to be married to Ida Montford, the daughter of a respected citizen, at her parent's residence. A large number of guests had assembled, the bride was ready, and the minister present, but the groom failed to appear. It was afterwards learned that Lincoln had borrowed enough money to leave the village. Miss Montford became hysterical and lies prostrated. On Sunday Carrie Hall was to have been married to George Croft. She pleaded illness, and on Monday left Glencove, and has not been seen since. It is not known whether there was collusion between Lincoln and Miss Hall. Mr. Montford has gone in search of Lincoln, threatening to horsewhip him.

An Elaborate Bicycle Track.

Details of the proposed 'cycle track in England, between London and Brighton, are at hand. It seems that a stock company has been formed for the purpose of constructing such a track under a special charter from Parliament. The track will be about forty-five miles long, starting a few miles out of London and running to Brighton. It will be eighteen feet wide, paved with asphalte, and of easy gradients. It is estimated to cost an average of £7,000 per mile, or £315,000 in all. The road from Brighton to London is the favourite one for south country 'cyclists, thousands of wheelmen going and returning within a day during the season. It is estimated that a fee of five shillings a day would be very readily paid by 300 'cyclists a day during eight months of the year for excursion tickets from London to Brighton and back, besides hundreds of smaller fees for intermediate distances.

Anti-Scott Act Campaign.

Clinton, June 12.—A meeting of the Licensed Victuallers of the county of Huron assembled in the Town Hall, Clinton, to-day to the number of about 80. The leading hotel-keepers and dealers of the county were present. Committees were formed in the different municipalities of the county for the purpose of thoroughly canvassing the county. The association have made arrangements for successfully combatting the Scott Act whenever submitted.

A Ladies' (!) Walking Match.

Atlanta, June 12.—A walking match, given under the auspices of the faculty of the Eclectic College, took place here last night. The participants were four prominent young ladies. The time of the match was two hours, and the best score made ten miles and twelve laps. The hall was crowded with gamblers and the whole affair was disgraceful. Much indignation is expressed against the faculty.

Killed by a Toronto Detective.

Orillia, June 13.—A man named David Hamilton, who lives at Sheriff's Corners, near Lindsay, was shot and killed here early this morning, by a Toronto private detective while in discharge of his duty.

FARM AND GARDEN.

THE IMPORTANCE OF JUDICIOUS FEEDING.

We are often amused at the efforts of those who seek to account for the improvement of a particular breed. Their field of investigation includes wise selections and couplings of specimens of the same breed, and perhaps a cross from a remarkably perfect animal of another allied breed—the changes are rung on all the nice points of breeding, dwelling upon all the minute particulars—but the food which has developed all these fine animals is not considered worthy of any mention. This is like the play of Hamlet with Hamlet left out. Food and environment are the principal causes of variation in animals. Why is the American-improved Merino about fifty per cent. heavier, and of much finer form, than the Spanish Merino, from which it sprang? Is this owing to the masterly skill of American breeders in selection, or is it based upon the generous diet these sheep have found upon our shores? American Merinos outweigh, outshear, and outshine any of the breed in Europe. It is our masterly feeding that has done it, and not our masterly selections. We do not undervalue selections in breeding. Skill here is of great importance, but all the selections possible will not produce the finest animal without an equal skill in feeding.

What has produced the wonderful yields of butter from our Jersey cows, and the unheard-of yield of the same product from one Holstein cow? The ancestors of these Jersey cows or any other Jersey cows were never known to produce three-fifths of these yields on their favoured, native Island. Was it selections merely that produced these yields? Find a man who produces exceptionally fine animals of any breed and you will find a man who knows how to select the food to grow them.

If you domesticate deer, feed them for a few generations upon the same food as sheep, they will lose the wild flavour of their flesh and approximate in taste to mutton, their limbs will lose the sinewy appearance of the wild state, their bodies straighten the top and bottom lines, and round out in full-fed beauty. There will be almost a complete transformation. Is this selection, or food and surroundings?

A friend of ours, who always took prizes upon his Cotswold sheep, had a herdsman whom he said was half sheep himself, who could sympathize with all their wants, knew just what, how much, and when to feed them, so that every animal seemed to round out into lines of beauty under his hand. Having a brother visiting him, who had lately bought a farm to gratify his rural tastes, on retirement from active business he was greatly pleased with these Cotswold sheep, and expressed his desire to breed them. Our friend, therefore, made him a present of a half-dozen ewes, but tried to impress him with the philosophy that works such beautiful fleshy forms. "Remember," he said to his brother, "these sheep represent skillful feeding; the usual pick and live system of farmers with flocks of grade Merinos will starve them into unlovely forms, and if they survive you would not think it possible that they could be these sheep degenerated." He replied, that he had a good sheep man and he would instruct him. Result: In six months three were dead and the other three worse—mere caricatures of themselves. His "good sheep man", said these sheep were a humbug, and could not live like any sheep he ever saw; that fifty would ruin any farmer in the State?

He produced a variation the wrong way? Now when these sheep had learned to live on this low system af feeding, and had been bred on the same line, would the historian seek to show that the change was the result of selection? If feeding produces the degeneration, why should it not be credited with improvement? There is not one of the great breeders whose history takes any notice of his skill as a feeder. Is it not about time this great question of growing animals should be considered, and instruction given on the details of alimentation, instead of iterating and reiterating year in and year out, the guesses and surmises of what points this great breeder or that used in his selection of animals to couple.

It seems to be taken for granted that every farmer knows how to feed, but so far is this from being true, that more could be found today who have studied somewhat the principles of breeding, than could be found of those who had made any study whatever of the different qualities and proper combinations of food to grow the animals after they are bred. This knowledge, which, it is taken for granted, is common possession of the agricultural mind, is so rare, that only a small fraction of those who feed are successful. It was this same foolishness that underlaid the pedigree craze of a few years ago, but better sense is now manifested, and merit must accompany the pedigree. To develop the merit of any animal or breed, requires skill in feeding, and this compels a study of alimentation.—National Live Stock Journal.

Utilizing Bones.—Among the waste materials on the farm there are few, if any, that are richer in one of the most important elements of plant food than bones, when made soluble in water. Just how to do this in the cheapest and at the same time the best manner, is a question that is frequently answered by the farmer, and is so often asked by those who have no practical knowledge of the matter that the farmer is frequently misled, and spends so much time to no purpose that he becomes discouraged, and sells the waste bones of the farm at a very low price, or neglects altogether to pick them up.

The simplest and cheapest way to reduce bones to make them available for plant food, is to burn them; but to do this a great loss of valuable plant food, as it consumes all of the nitrogen; yet the ash is very rich in phosphate, being about 80 per cent. It also contains potash. All of the substances are indispensable to vegetable growth. The process of burning bones is so simple that some contend that when only small quantities are to be reduced it is the best way, even though the nitrogen be lost. It would certainly be better to burn them than to sell them for half a cent or even a cent a pound. It is very poor policy for the farmer to sell the bones from the farm; in fact, when he can buy at less than a cent a pound, he had better buy what he can, though he have to resort to burning them to make them available for plant food; but as this is a wasteful process, the ashes should be resorted to when they can be readily obtained. In some portions of the State small establishments have been erected to steam and grind bones. By extracting the grease and gelatine the bones are easily ground; this leaves in the bone about one-half of the nitrogen, the other half may be saved by composting the liquid with dry muck. Some of the owners of these mills are willing to steam and grind bones for a fair consideration. When these mills can be found within a reasonable distance, this is the best way to get a small or even a large lot of bones worked up into plant food.—Massachusetts Ploughman.

THE DYING WIFE.

Raise my pillows, husband, dearest,
Faint and fainter comes my breath,
And those shadows stealing slowly
Must, I know, be those of death.
Sit down close beside me, dearest,
Let me clasp your warm, strong hand—
Yours that ever has sustained me
To the borders of the land.

For your God and mine—our Father—
Thence shall ever lead me on,
Where upon a throne eternal,
Sits His loved and only Son;
I've had visions and been dreaming
O'er the past of joy and pain—
Year by year I've wandered backward
Till I've seemed a child again.

Dreams of girlhood and the moment
When I stood your wife and bride
How my heart thrilled with love's triumph
In that hour of woman's pride!
Dreams of thee and all the earth-chords
Firmly twin'd about my heart—
Oh! the bitter, burning anguish,
When I knew we first must part!

But it passed, and God has promised
All thy footsteps to attend;
He that's more than friend or brother—
He'll be with you to the end.
There's no shadow o'er the portal
Leading to my heavenly home—
Christ has promised life immortal,
And it's He who bids me come.

When life's trials wait around thee
And its chilling billows swell,
Thou'll thank Heaven that I am spared them,
Thou will feel that all is well.
Clasp my hand still closer, dearest,
This the last night of my life,
For to-morrow I shall never Answer when you call me "wife."

CHAPTER XVI.—CONTINUED.

During her residence under the same roof, Regina had become accustomed to these verbal tournaments between mother and daughter, and having been kept in ignorance of the ground of Olga's grievance, she could not understand allusions that were made in her presence, and which never failed to irritate Mrs. Palma.

Desirous of diverting the conversation from a topics that threatened renewed tilts she said, timidly:

"You do not in the least assist me, with reference to my music. Would you object to having a hired piano in the house? I could have it placed in my room, and then my practising in the middle of the day, or in the evening, would never be interfered with, and you could have your morning nap."

"Indeed, Miss. Orme—a very good suggestion; a capital idea. I will speak to Erle about it, to-night."

Regina absolutely coloured at the shadowy compliment.

"Will it be necessary to trouble Mr. Palma with the matter? He is always so busy, and, besides, you know much better than a gentleman, what——"

"I know nothing better than Erle Palma, where it concerns his menage, or the expenses incident to its control."

"But out of my allowance I will pay the rent and he need know nothing of the matter."

"Of course that quite alters the case; and if you propose to pay the rent, there is no reason why he should be consulted."

"Then will you please select a piano, and order it to be sent up to-day or to-morrow? An upright could be most conveniently carried upstairs."

"Certainly, if you wish it. We shall be on Broadway this afternoon, and I will attend to the matter."

"Thank you, Mrs. Palma."

"Regina Orme! what an embryo diplomatist, what an incipent Talleyrand. Kaunitz—Bismarck you are! Mamma is as invulnerable to all human weaknesses as one of the suits of armour hanging in the Tower of London, and during my extended and rather intimate acquantance with her, I have never discovered but one foible incident to the flesh—love of her morning nap! You have adroitly struck Achilles in the heel. Now, if you were only a man, how admirably you would suit the Hon. Erle Palma, as Deputy——"

"He prefers to appoint his deputies, without suggestions from others, and regrets he can find no vacant niche for you," answered Mr. Palma, from the threshold of the door.

"Will you come in, Earl? Do you wish to see me?"

Mrs. Palma always looked ill at ease when Olga and her step-brother exchanged words, and Regina had long observed that the entrance of the latter was generally the signal of departure for the former.

"I came in search of Regina, but chancing to hear the piano question discussed, permit me to say that I prefer to take the matter in my own hands. I will provide what ever may be deemed requisite, so that this young lady's Rothschild's allowance may continue to flow uninterruptedly into the coffers of confections and flower-dealers."

Regina's mother had sent from Europe a tasteful wardrobe, which, when unpacked, Mrs. Palma pronounced perfect.

With many conjectures concerning the import of Mr. Palma's supervision of her toilette, Regina obeyed his instructions, and, fearful of trespassing on his patience, hurried down to the library.

With one arm behind him, and the hand of the other holding a half-smoked cigar, he was walking meditatively up and down the polished floor, that reflected his tall shadow.

"Where do you suppose you are going?"

"I have no idea."

"Why do you not inquire?"

"Because you will not tell me till you choose; and I know that questions always annoy you."

"Come in. You linger at the door, as if this were the den of a lion at a menagerie, instead of a room to which you have been cordially invited several times. I am not voracious—have had my luncheon. You are quite ready?"

"Quite ready——"

She was slowly walking down the long room, and suddenly caught sight of something that seemed to take away her breath.

The clock on the mantel had been removed to the desk, and in its place was a large portrait, neither square nor yet exactly kit-cat, but in proportion more nearly resembling the latter. In imitation of Da Vinci's celebrated picture in the Louvre, the background represented a stretch of arid rocky landscape, unrelieved by foliage, and against it rose in pose and general outline, the counterpart of La Joconde.

The dress and drapery were of black velvet, utterly bare of ornament, and out of the canvas looked a face of marvellous, yet mysteriously mournful beauty.

As Regina looked up at it, she stopped, then ran to the hearth, and stood with her eyes riveted to the canvas, her lips parted and quivering.

Watching her, Mr. Palma came to her side, and asked:

"Whom can it be?"

Evidently she did not hear him. Her whole heart and soul appeared centred in the picture, but as she gazed, her own eloquent face grew whiter—she drew her breath quickly, and tears rolled over her cheeks, as she lifted her arms towards the painting.

"Mother! my beautiful sad-eyed mother!"

Sobs shook her frame, and she pressed towards the mantelpiece till the skirt of her dress swept dangerously close to the fire. Mr. Palma drew her back, and said, quietly:

"For an uncultivated young rustic, I must say your appreciation of fine painting is rather surprising. Few city girls would have paid such a tearful tribute of heartfelt admiration to my pretty 'Mona Lisa.'"

Without removing her fascinated eyes, she asked:

"When did it come?"

"I have had it several days. I presume you know that it is a copy of Da Vinci's celebrated picture, upon which he worked four years, and which now hangs in the gallery of the Louvre at Paris?"

She merely shook her head.

"In France it is called 'La Joconde,' but I prefer the softer 'Mona Lisa' for my treasure."

"Is it not mine? She must have sent it to me."

"She? Are you dreaming? Mona Lisa has been dead three hundred years?"

"Mr. Palma—it is my mother. No other face ever looked like that; no other eyes except those in the Mater Dolorosa resemble these beautiful sad brown eyes, that rained their tears upon my head. Do you think a child ever mistook another for her own mother? Can the face I first learned to know and to love—the lovely—Oh? how lovely face that bent over my cradle ever—ever be forgotten? If I never saw her again in this world, could I fail to recognize her in heaven? My own mother!"

"Obstinate, infatuated little ignoramus! Read and be convinced."

He opened and held before her a volume of engravings of the pictures and statues in the Louvre, and turning to the Leonardo Da Vinci's, moved his finger slowely beneath the title.

Her eyes fell upon "La Joconde," then wandered back to the portrait over the fire-place, and through her tears, broke a radiant smile.

"Yes, sir, I perfectly understand. Your engraving is of Da Vinci's painting, and, of course, I suppose it is very fine, through the face is not pretty; but up yonder!—that is mother? My mother—who kissed and cried over me, and hugged me so close to my heart. Oh! Your Da Vinci never even dreamed of, much less painted, anything half so heavenly as my darling mother's face!"

Years ago, at the initial steps of his professional career, he had set before him one glittering goal—the Chief-Justiceship. In preparing for the long race that stretched ahead of him—seeing only the Judicial crown that sparkled afar off, he had laid aside his tender sensibilities, his warmest impulses of affection and generousity as so many subtle fetters, so much unprofitable luggage, so much useless weight to retard and burden him.

"Is it indeed so striking and unmistakable a likeness? After all, the instincts of nature are stronger than the canons of art. Your mother is an exceedingly beautiful woman; but little girl, let me tell you, that you are not in the least like her."

"I know that sad fact, and it often grieves me."

"You must certainly resemble your father, for I never saw mother and child so entirely dissimilar."

He saw the glow of embarrassment, of acute pain, tinging her throat and cheeks, and wondered how much of the past had been committed to her keeping; how far she had been an inmate of confidence.

"Is not the portrait for me! Mother wrote that she intended sending me something which she hoped I would value more than all the pretty clothes, and it must be this—her own beautiful, previous face."

"Yes, it is yours, but I presume you will be satisfied to allow it to hang where it is. The light is singularly good."

"No, sir, I want it."

"Well, you have it, where you can see it at any time."

"But I wish to keep it—all to myself—in my room—where it will be the last thing I see at night—the first thing in the morning—my sunrise."

"How unpardonably selfish you are. Would you deprive me of the pleasure of admiring a fine work of art, merely to shut it in, converting yourself into a pagan, and the portrait into an idol."

"But, Mr. Palma, you never loved any one or anything so very dearly, that it seemed holy in your eyes; much too sacred for others to look at."

"Certainly not. I am pleased to say that is a mild stage of lunacy with which I have yet never been threatened. Idolatry is a phase of human weakness I have been unable to tolerate."

MOISTURE AND VEGETATION.

In his notes on the glaciers of Alaska, Mr. Thos. Meehan, of Philadelphia, states that he observed on the tops of what are known as "totem poles," in some of the Indian villages, trees of a large size growing apparently in good condition. These totem poles are thick logs of hemlock or spruce, set up before the doors of Indian lodges, carved all over with queer characters representing living creatures of every description, and which are supposed to be genealogies, or to tell of some famous event in the family history. They are not erected by the Indians now, and it is difficult to get any connected accounts of what they really tell. At the old village of Kaigan there are numbers of poles erected, with no carving at all on them, while many are wholly covered, and these all had one or more trees of abeis sitkensis (sitka spruce) growing on them. One of these trees must have been about twenty years old, and was half as tall as the pole on which it was growing. The pole may have been twenty feet high. The roots of the spruces had descended the whole length of the poles, and gone into the ground from which the larger trees now derived their nourishment. In one case the roots had grown so large as to split the thick pole on one side from the bottom to the top, and here this root projected along the whole length to the ground, about two inches beyond the outer circumference of the pole. Only in an atmosphere surcharged with moisture could a seed sprout on the top of a pole twenty feet from the ground, and continue for years to grow almost, or quite as well, as if it were in the ground. We may understand by incidents like these how tree-life endures so long in this part of Alaska, and why rocky acclivities, on which no vegetation at all could exist in the dry climate of the Eastern States, are here clothed with a luxuriant fresh growth so thick that is almost impossible to make a journey through it.—Lumber World.

THE SADDEST OF SAD SIGHTS.—The grey hairs of age being brought with sorrow to the grave, is now, becoming rarer every year as the use of Cingalese Hair Restorer becomes more general. By its use the scanty locks of age become thick and luxuriant as ever. Sold by J. D. Tully.

"MAY DEW"
The Great French Lotion for Beautifying the Face.

It conceals the evidence of age. One application will make the most stubbornly red and rough hands beautifully soft and white. Remember that "MAY DEW" is not a paint or powder that fills up the pores of the skin, and that is injurious to the skin, but a new and great discovery, a vegetable liquid, that causes the cheek to glow with health, the neck, arms and hands to rival the Lily in whiteness. Impossible to detect in the beauty it confers any artificial character. It cures Greasy Skin, Freckles, Wrinkles, Pimples, Black Heads, Crow's Feet, Blotches, Face Grubs, Sun Burn, Tan, Ringworms, Chapped Hands, Sore or Chapped Lips, Barber's Itch, Tetter, etc. It frees the pores, oil glands, and tubes from the injurious effects of powders and cosmetic washes. By its use all redness and roughness are prevented; it beautifies the skin, and will make it soft, smooth and white; imparting a delicious softness, producing a perfectly healthy, natural, and youthful appearance. The best face lotion that the world ever produced. We will send "A LARGE BOTTLE" to any address on receipt of price $1. When ordering mention this paper.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

The Court House Park.

Two gentlemen—Messrs. Andrew McNeil and E. Brown—have arranged with the electric light company to have a light placed in the Court House Park. It will been burning two evenings in each week, namely, on Tuesday and Friday evenings, and the bands intend to give two open air concerts in the Park each week, that is, one band on Tuesday and the other on Friday evening. This is a good arrangement, and the gentlemen mentioned and the bands deserve credit for it.

Annual Conference of the Y.M.C.A.

The fourteenth annual conference of the Y. M.C.A. of the United States and Canada began in the David Morrice Hall, McTavish street, Montreal, at three o'clock, on Wednesday. Devotional exercises from 3 to 3.30 were conducted by T. J. Wilkie, of Brooklyn, N.Y. Immediately after these, each secretary rose in his seat, calling out his name, stating his location and time of service. We notice the name of George E. Williams, secretary of the Peterborough branch, as present.

A Boat Race.

On Friday evening a double scull race for two gold medals, was rowed on the Little Lake by Messrs. W. Kent and Jas. Fanning, and Messrs. M. Cottingham and J. Hawkins. Mr. John McClelland was chosen referee, and Mr. John Brydon acted as starter. The contestants got a good start, both boats commencing the race even. They had a good race down the course, and kept pretty even until the turning buoys were reached. Kent and Fanning turned a little ahead, but on the return pull they increased their lead and came in ahead. The other oarsmen, seeing that they were defeated, stopped pulling before the winning post was passed they being then about five lengths in the rear.

For good value in Summer Silks, go to Turnbulls. All the new shades in stock.

Garden Party.

The garden party at Mr. Wm. Hamilton's last evening, in aid of St. Paul's Church Mission Band, was a success in every respect. The evening was very beautiful, being a little cool. The picturesque grounds were in perfect trim and looked lovely when lighted with torches and chinese lanterns. The music of the Fire Brigade Band was good and seemed to be thoroughly enjoyed by the large company assembled, as strolled about the grounds or sat in groups or pairs in cosy corners thoughtfully provided for the purpose. The children, whose fete it was, were in their element as they served at the various tables or sold thier button hole bouquets about the grounds and looked as pretty as the flowers themselves in their neat aprons and caps. The refreshment booths seemed to do thriving business. We are glad to learn that the financial results were most satisfactory to those concerned.

Zoological Curiosities.

Last night a party of local sportsmen returned from the wilds of Burleigh. If we may judge by the number of fish and fish stories they brought back we should envy them their luck. Upon the arrival of the fishermen a reporter of the REVIEW swooped down upon them in his search for news. He noticed with surprise that the fishermen, instead of trying his credulity with fishing stories assumed a mysterious and "noli me tangere" air. When the fishermen, with great care, lifted a large box from the conveyance, our reporter, after dispensing a few of his "two for five" cigars, learned the startling intelligence that we have a monstrosity in our midst. The box contained a live specimen of the Testudo Maximus genus, this being the largest of the Canadian turtle family. It was captured by the Indian Chief Lafayette Harpenter Uloose, during one of his trapping tours through the marshes of the far north. Its measurement by Jim Dolan's tape line is a little under two feet three inches by three feet in length. Uloose professes his ability to trace the turtle's direct descent from the Æsopian animal that distanced the hare. however, we would take this latter assertion, cum grano. The fishermen also brought down a box of live wild hares, Lepus Martius. These rare little animals, together with the turtle, will be on free exhibition this evening in the show window of one of our George street merchants. Don't miss seeing them.

THE MISSING LINK!

A TOUR OF INSPECTION OVER THE FOURTEEN MILES.

The Sink Hole at Lily Lake Crossed on a Huge Raft—Immense Quantity of Material Used in Construction.

That portion of the Midland Division of the Grand Trunk Railway between Peterborough and Omemee—known as the Missing Link—will be again opened for business on Monday, and no doubt our readers would like to know something of what work has been done on the line since it was closed in the latter part of last March.

On Friday afternoon the Division Engineer, Mr. Machlin, and Mr. Cheer, the Road Master, went over the line on a special train (a hand car), and a reporter of the REVIEW accompanied them. A pumper is not a bad sort of thing to ride on, if you don't do any pumping, and have not too many obstructions on the track to portage it around. However, a ride on one affords a good opportunity to view the line, and a train of cars could not have been easily lifted past the construction trains.

Before going far evidences of work done were visible, in the form of new ballast, the track lifted, and so on. The chief point of interest, however, was reached about four miles from the town, and that was the now famous Lily Lake. Last spring—the last week in March—the water rose five feet above the track at this place. Soon the track began to sink, and at one place there was about ten feet of water over the road bed. Trains, of course, could not run over it, and work was begun on it at once to raise the track and to prevent the recurrence of such an event.

This work is now completed, and the trains cross Lily Lake on a huge raft, so to speak. Trees were placed in the hole, and on the soft earth on each side of it, piled in cross tiers; brush was thrown on, and lumber was piled on top of that, also in cross tiers.

This "raft" extends about 1,800 feet through the swamp and is thirty feet wide. A large amount of timber and lumber was used in building it. Of lumber there were nearly a million and a quarter feet used, brought from Georgian Bay and Sturgeon Bay. Of trees about 2,100 were brought from Georgian Bay and the swamp at the lake was stripped of all the trees that could be used for the purpose. Besides this a tremendous quantity of brush, and a very large quantity of gravel was used in constructing the road bed.

The foundation for the road bed, of timber and lumber, is from three to nine feet deep, and at the sink hole, where the creek formerly crossed the track, it is about twenty-five feet deep. This work has raised the track about three feet higher than it was formerly, all the way across the swamp.

This work is thought to be sufficient to keep the rails from sinking, but additional work will be done to prevent a flood from again occurring. The canal which was constructed on the south side of the track, will be deepened, and on the east side of the swamp, where there is now a culvert, a bridge with a thirty feet opening will be put in. This will carry off a large quantity of water at the time of a freshet. It is thought that the deepened canal and the bridge will lower the water two feet, and the track having been raised three feet, the difference will be five feet.

The evidences of work done on the track seen soon after leaving the town were noticed all the way to Omemee. A construction train has been working steadily for six weeks, and the improvement in the line is great. A ballast pit was purchased by the company about four miles this side of Omemee, and a tremendous quantity of ballast has been taken out of the hill and distributed along the line.

The cuts alone the line have also been widened, especially the large one known as Tully's cut. The high bank forming the approach to the bridge at this place has also been widened and a new top has been put on it. At Doube's cut similar work has been done, both in the cut and on the approaches to the large bridge.

A neat little house is being erected near Doube's bridge for the section foreman, and it is now almost completed.

At Omemee the bridge has been repaired, the rods tightened, &c. The crossing at Sturgeon street will be widened, a culvert put in, and other work done there. Mr. Machlin also inspected the ground at this crossing with a view to finding the best place to erect a platform for the accommodation of passengers, the station being so far from the village.

On the return trip the officials, having inspected the work done, gave their attention to work that was required. Many crossings were pointed out that will be widened and otherwise improved, and places where a little work would make smoother running were noted. A large force of men will be kept employed on the line all the summer doing necessary work of this kind.

Those who pass over this line now will notice a considerable improvement in it, and by next October it will be a fine piece of road.

As the half-year draws near the REVIEW office is specially prepared to execute orders for Billheads and Statements of all kinds. Printing done in the very latest styles of letterpress, on good paper, and in any style of ruling desired. The workmanship is unexcelled.

Auction Sale of Oil Paintings.

I have received a fine consignment of genuine Oil Paintings, which I will offer by public auction in the store one door east of the Oriental Hotel, Hunter street, commencing at 8 o'clock on Saturday evening, June 14th, and will be continued until all are sold. These paintings are consigned to absolute sale, and are now on exhibition at the store above named.—CHARLES STAPLETON, auctioneer.

Pencil Points.

—One tramp in the cells last night.

—And one case in the Police Court this morning.

—There was a large attendance on the market this forenoon.

—Lieut. D. N. Dewey, of Harwood, attended the Saved Army meeting here on Friday evening.

—The Rev. Wm. Andrews, of Victoria University, Cobourg, and the Rev. Mr. Balfour will supply the Methodist pulpits to-morrow.

—The Ennismore picnic, next Thursday, was one of the principal topics of conversation on the market to-day.

—Now that an electric light will be placed in the park, all that is required to delight the citizens is to have the park opened. A deputation should wait on the County Council on Tuesday a deputation of weight, so that their request would not be lightly treated.

GREAT NEGLIGENCE.—There is great neglect with most people to maintain a regular action of the bowels, which causes much disease. Burdock Blood Bitters cure constipation.

There are lots of people going around grumbling, and half sick at the Stomach all the time; who might be well and happy if they only used Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters occasionally. It is a splendid Blood Purifier. All Druggists, 50 cents.

PHOSPHATINE, a name which to every intelligent mind, professional or otherwise, is a key to its composition. No safer, purer, more palatable and more effective compound has ever been offered in cases of nervous exhaustion and pulmonary consumption. For sale by all druggists.

Never Give Up.

If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility disordered blood, weak constitution, headache or any disease of a bilious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Taylor and McDonald.

A New Principle.

The principle upon which Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor acts is entirely new. It does noes not sink deep into the flesh, thereby producing soreness, but acts directly upon the external covering of the corn, separates it from the under layer, removes the direct pressure from the pars, and at once effects a radical cure, without any pain or discomfort. Let those who are suffering from corns, yet sceptical of treatment, try it, and by the completeness of the cure they will be ready to recommend Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor to others.

A Great Discovery

That is daily bringing joy to the homes of thousands by saving many of their dear ones from an early grave, truly is Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, hay fever, loss of voice, tickling in the throat, pain in side and chest, or any disease of the throat and lungs, a positive cure guaranteed. Trial bottles free at Taylor and McDonald's drug store. Large size $1.

To Dyspeptics.

The most common signs of Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, are an oppression at the stomach, nausea, flatulency, water-brash, heart-burn, vomiting, loss of appetite, and constipation. Dyspeptic patients suffer untold miseries, bodily and mental. They should stimulate the digestion, and secure regular daily action of the bowels, by the use of moderate doses of

Ayer's Pills.

After the bowels are regulated, one of these Pills, taken each day after dinner, is usually all that is required to complete the cure.

AYER'S PILLS are sugar-coated and purely vegetable—a pleasant, entirely safe, and reliable medicine for the cure of all disorders of the stomach and bowels. They are the best of all purgatives for family use.

VALUABLE FARM

AND

EXCELLENT

Building Sites

FOR SALE.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF THE LATE GEORGE BURNHAM M.D.

HOMESTEAD.

TENDERS will be received up to JULY the 15th, 1884, for the purchase of the lot recently occupied by the late Dr. Burnham, without any of the buildings thereon, namely, Lot number 1, east of George Street and north of London Street; and Lot number 1, west of Water Street and north of London Street. The block contains one acre more or less, and tenders will be received for the whole block or for either half acre separately. An excellent opportunity is offered for the securing of very valuable building sites, as these lots are almost the only available property close to the centre of the town.

COLLINS' FARM.

—TENDERS will be received till AUGUST 1st, 1884, for the purchase of the farm which has for many years been rented by Henry Collins and Son, and comprises part of Lot number 9, in the twelfth concession of the Township of North Monaghan, containing 180 acres more or less, and being distant about one mile from the Town of Peterborough. This farm is composed of fine farm land, fronting on two roads, has an excellent Orchard of very choice varieties of fruit trees, and has a never-failing creek running through it. It also has a large new Brick House on it.

This sale offers a rare chance. No tender necessarily accepted for any of the above properties. Tenders to state price and also terms of payment, which will be made suitable to purchasers.

Unhealthy.

The Chairman of the Board of Health, the Medical Health Officer and the Inspectors visited the police cells this morning. The conclusion they came to was that the sanitary condition of the cells, was far from perfect, and the matter will most probably be brought before the Board.

U. S. Political Items.

NEW YORK, June 12.—General Butler is preparing a letter for publication. It is probable that he will accept the Greenback nomination.

Tilden's letter of withdrawal has created excitement in the Democratic ranks.

English believes that McDonald's chances are in the ascendant.

Washington Democrats are now turning a favourable eye on Cleveland.

Bayard's stock has been going up since it has been understood that Tilden would withdraw.

Randall is not regarded as a presidential possibility, and Payne is not much talked of as yet.—Telegram.

Canal vs. Lake Freights.

The anxiety of fordwarders and shippers by the St. Lawrence route does not exceed, apparently, that of the freight men by American channels. Still when people talk about the present rates of freight being unprecedented, they should look back a little. A table printed in the Buffalo Commercial, which we produce, shows the average by lake and canal for twelve years past:

| | LAKE | | CANAL | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Wheat. Cents. | Corn. Cents. | Wheat. Cents. | Corn. Cents. |
| 1884 | 2.2 | 2.0 | 3.8 | 3.4 |
| 1883 | 2.9 | 2.6 | 5.0 | 4.5 |
| 1882 | 2.2 | 2.0 | 4.8 | 4.5 |
| 1881 | 4.7 | 4.2 | 5.3 | 4.8 |
| 1880 | 5.0 | 4.3 | 6.9 | 5.5 |
| 1879 | 3.1 | 2.8 | 4.7 | 4.2 |
| 1878 | 2.5 | 2.2 | 5.8 | 5.2 |
| 1877 | 3.5 | 2.9 | 5.8 | 5.0 |
| 1876 | 3.0 | 2.7 | 6.7 | 4.8 |
| 1875 | 3.9 | 3.6 | 7.4 | 6.6 |
| 1874 | 4.5 | 4.0 | 11.8 | 10.8 |
| 1873 | 7.4 | 6.5 | 11.8 | 10.6 |

In 1878 the average lake freight on wheat from Chicago to Buffalo was as low as 2½ cents per bushel, and in 1882 it was as low as now, viz., 2.2 cents. On corn, the rates were as low by lake in 1882 as now, and it is true that, by canal, they have never been so low, th eseason of 1879, as the table shows making the closest approach. —Monetary Times.

THE need of merit for promoting personal aesthetics is due to J. C. Ayer & Co., whose incomparable Hair Vigor is a universal beautifier of the hair. Harmless, effective, agreeable, it has taken rank among the indispensible articles of the toilet. To scanty locks it gives luxuriance; and withered hair it clothes with the hue of youth.

THE VERDICT OF HALF THE WORLD.—The entire western Hemisphere pronounce Murray & Lanman's Florida Water the most delicious perfume for the boudoir, the ball room and the bath, that chemistry has yet succeeded in extracting from living flowers.

GLADSTONE'S RESIGNATION.

LONDON, June 15.—Sir Charles Dilke's newspaper, the Weekly Despatch, says Mr. Gladstone, in frankly conversing with one of his warmest supporters, declared he expected to be out of office in a few weeks. The Despatch urges Mr. Gladstone, if defeated on his Egyptian policy, not to resign, but to carry the Franchise bill to the House of Lords, then dissolve Parliament and appeal to the country on the general policy of the Government.

BLACK HANDS EXECUTED.

MADRID, June 14.—Seven men were executed to-day at Jerez, in Spain, by the garotte, for Black Hand Socialist outrages. The sentence of five others has been commuted to imprisonment for life, one has become insane, and one, who turned informer, has committed suicide.

THE FALL OF BERBER.

LONDON, June 14.—An Arab has arrived at Korosko who claims to be the sole survivor of the Berber garrison. He says he was present when the rebels attacked Berber on May 23rd. The garrison defended the town for two hours of severe fighting, but the rebels were too strong, and forced their way into the city, where they immediately massacred 1,500 men of the garrison and 2,000 of the male population. Women and children were spared. The story is believed by Major Kitchener and a son of the Governor of Berber.

MONETARY CONVENTION.

BERNE, June 15.—The Swiss Government couple with its notice of the termination of the Latin Monetary Convention an intimation of a desire for a revision and a renewal of the convention. If the new convention is concluded, it will continue the suspension of the coinage of legal tender silver money, but will regulate the circulation of the silver money of each state in contracting countries.

MORE BOER TROUBLES.

LONDON, June 14.—A Durban despatch says the Boers and Usutus have attacked and routed Usibepu.

A POLITICAL CRISIS.

LONDON, June 15.—The seriousness of the English political situation, especially since the confirmation of the terrible news from Berber, may be inferred from the fact that Mr. Gladstone spent a great part of last evening in personal efforts to reach by telegraph every one of his supporters in the House at present abroad and induce them to return to London at once for the purpose of being present at this week's threatened stormy debates.

PAPAL CONSISTORY POSTPONED.

ROME, June 15.—The papal consistory has been postponed until November, when the Pope will appoint ten cardinals.

AFFAIRS IN BRUSSELS.

BRUSSELS, June 14.—The religious authorities of Brussels have decided that there shall be no Corpus Christi procession to-morrow. It is feared it would lead to a renewal of the riots.

THREATENING EARL SPENCER.

DUBLIN, June 15.—At a monster meeting of Orangemen held at Belfast yesterday threatening resolutions were adopted against Earl Spencer, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, should he carry out his intention of visiting Ireland.

THE KHARTOUM EXPEDITION.

LONDON, June 15.—The War Office and the Admiralty continue to make active preparations for an expedition to Khartoum. The Admiralty has applied to the steamship companies for the names and tonnage of vessels which could be used for transport service in August. Drafts of Engineers, officers and men for transport and commissarial service are being hurried off for Egypt. Most of them are going to Suakin. The approaches to that port are being prepared for a large number of transports. The King of Abyssinia has undertaken to provide 30,000 men to aid the English. Admiral Hewitt promised that a large sum of money would be placed at the King's disposal to defray expenses.

THE EGYPTIAN CONFERENCE.

VIENNA, June 14.—It is stated that the Cabinets of Vienna, Berlin, Rome, and St. Petersburg have agreed to an interchange of views concerning the basis proposed in Earl Granville's note for an Egyptian Conference, before they sign any acceptance of the invitation to take part in it. This will retard the date of the meeting.

THE IMPERIALISTS.

PARIS, June 15.—M. Paul de Cassagnac has written a letter to the Imperialist Committee asking a renewal of the mandate making him president of the Committees. He refers to the deliverance, material and moral, of Prince Victor, as an accomplished fact, and says it was due to the Prince's energy and tact. M. Cassagnac convokes the Committees to meet June 21, for the purpose of arranging a party programme, with Prince Victor as the recognized head.

MOODY'S CONGREGATION.

LONDON, June 15.—Moody preached at first service in the Temple Gardens to-day. Among those present were General Lord Wolseley and many other officers of the army, Earl and Countess of Aberdeen, Duke of Abercorn, the Earl of Jersey, several members of the Rothschild family, and a number of members of Parliament.

KRAPOTKINE'S RELEASE.

PARIS, June 14.—Prince Krapotkine's liberation from Clairvaux prison on July 14 is assured. The Princess is permitted free entrance to her husband's cell and passes the whole day assisting him in his literary work.

[The Prince is well known as a scientific writer, as also for his contributions to the Nineteenth Century on the subject of Russian prisons. Socialistic views are the cause of his trouble.]

THE BLENHEIM PICTURES.

LONDON, June 15.—The Duke of Marlborough has sent to the treasury another final offer of the Blenheim pictures.—Mail. [Eleven of the finest—priceless prices of art, many of them—were offered at £350,000, but this was refused by the treasury. The Times, editorially, urged the government to do its utmost to procure at least the three best out of the eleven, viz: Raphael's "Madonna Ansidei," Ruben's portrait of himself and family; and Van Dyck's portrait of Charles I. It also recommends a thorough reconsideration of the Government's refusal. Possibly it is on account of this pressure being brought to bear upon them that the members of the Government are open to a fresh bargain. It is to be hoped that at least the portrait of Charles I. will be secured for the nation, for, apart from its historical value, it possesses other associations, having been presented to the first Duke of Marlborough by the City of Brussels. Besides which there are but five of this painter's works in the National Gallery.]

DISTRICT INTELLIGENCE

MILLBROOK.

ACCIDENT.—On Thursday evening, after the fire department had got through their drill, at McIvor's pond, as the hose-reel was returning, Mr. George Swain got tripped, and the reel ran over his ancle, causing very severe bruises. He was taken into the Dominion Hotel, and Dr Ough was called in and dressed the wound. The effect was, keeping him from his work for some time. He is able to be out on crutches.—Messenger.

COBOURG.

INSPECTOR OF SCHOOLS.—An exciting contest came to a close at Cobourg on Wednesday. The office of Inspector of Schools for Durham was vacant. The candidates were Messrs. W. E. Tilley, of Lindsay, and S. Hughes, of Toronto. It was agreed that the members from Durham and the township of South Monaghan should be a committee to report on the candidates, and that their report should be accepted by the Northumberland councillors. On the first ballot the vote was even, but on the second one member changed to Mr. Tilley's side, thus giving him a majority of two.

BELLEVILLE.

THE RACES.—Entries for the races at the Belleville Driving Park close on the 19th. A large numbers of entries of first class horses has already been made.

LOAN BY THE COUNCIL.—The Executive Committee on Friday night passed a by-law authorizing the borrowing of $20,000 for present use.

SENSIBLE.—A chimney blaze at Mr. Donald Urquhart's residence called out the brigade between ten and eleven o'clock on Saturday morning, but their services were not required. Ten minutes elapsed from the time the alarm bell rang, till No. 1 engine left the station, which ought to show the necessity of keeping the horses near at hand, instead of having them at work in the outskirts of the city. A fire on Front street, says the Ontario, would have got sufficient headway to have destroyed thousands of dollars worth of property before No. 1 engine could throw any water, simply for the reason that the horses were perhaps two miles from the station when the alarm was given.

PORT HOPE.

ALL NIGHT ON THE WATER.—A couple of young lovers went out on Thursday night in a large row-boat for a little pleasure on the lake. The wind was blowing off land and they drifted out into the lake. The whole town on Friday forenoon was in a state of excitement as to their fate. About noon a despatch was received from Newtonville, stating they were both safe and sound at that burg.

CRICKET.—It is with much pleasure that we hear that James Norley, the professional at the College, has accepted a lucrative engagement with the Peterborough club for the months of July, August and September. Although he thus goes to Peterborough for a part of the summer, still he will not desert the College Boys entirely, for an arrangement is to be made by which he will "coach" the boys for two months and the Peterborough club for two months next year, and it is to be hoped, for many seasons after 1885 also. Norley's tuiton has been of great value to the boys. Every member of the eleven bats in good style and the youngsters are also beginning to feel the worth of having one who knows how to superintend their play. We wish Mr. Norley the very best luck and success with his new club, and hope we shall hear of him making large scores and bowling down lots of wickets.—Guide.

BOBCAYGEON.

LOGS.—Another block of logs containing about 15,000 passed through on Wednesday and Thursday. The 'drive' is under the command of Mr. Frank Bell. The logs make a fine average and are a good quality. They were taken out of the township of Anson by Mr. Ullyott, and will be converted into lumber at the Harwood Mills, Rice Lake. Some of the logs are exceptionally large, one of them measuring a trifle over four feet in diameter.

SHINGLES AND WOOD.—Mr. Wm. Bick's Shingle Mill made a good run during May, having cut 660,000, or an average of 26,000 per day, from one single hand machine. Mr. Bick, so it is understood, has made a sale of the season's cut at a good figure, and expects to turn out from three to four million. The Carding Mill that is in connection is now busily engaged and doing good work, having been refitted with new cards. The quality of wool brought is in larger than last year, but the price continues low, 15 to 16c. a pound. This price is for coarse wools, fine wools bringing from 28 to 30c. The great bulk of the wool that is grown in this district is coarse, very coarse, and it would pay the farmers handsomely to give more attention to their flocks. Fine grades, such as the South-down should be bred, and the income would be greatly increased.—Independent.

"Hub" Cough Cure, 25 Cents.

Prescription of a Boston physician, dispensed years by a Boston Druggist. One dose will cure any ordinary cough. It acts almost magically. Ask J. D. Tully for a 25 cent bottle of Hub Cough Cure.

A Card.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D., New York City.

Pimples and Blotches.

Call at John McKee's drug store and get a package of McGregor and Parke's Carbolic Cerate. It is composed of vaseline carbolic acid and cerate, and has never failed to remove pimples, blotches, ulcerated sores, rough skin It cures when all others fail. Try it.

How to Make Candy.

This book gives full directions for making all kinds of plain and fancy candy. The receipts for making caramels, chocolate drops, French mixed and all other kinds of candies contained in this book are the same as used by the leading city confectioners. Any one can have these candies at home at less than one third the usual cost. Sent post paid for 50 cents (no stamps taken). Address, ROCHESTER PUBLISHING CO., 32, 33 & 33½ Osburn Block, Rochester, N.Y.

Cured Free.

Any reader troubled with dyspepsia, costiveness, headache, liver complaint, etc., should call at John McKee's drug store and secure a free trial bottle of McGregor's Speedy Cure at once, which will convince you of the merits of the medicine. It cures permanently where all other medicines have failed. As a blood purifier it has no equal. Remember it costs nothing to try it. Regular size fifty cents and one dollar.

INCREASING OUR WEALTH.

THE Ottawa Free Press is not willing to allow us to claim it as an ally because it pointed out that the wealth of the natives of India would increase through their manufacturing at home, and that consequently their power to purchase food must increase. Our contemporary says:—

"That a country is the better off, for diversity of employment and resources, none but the insane will deny. That a country is the better off for seeking to obtain that diversity of employment when the natural resources of the country are incapable of making it remunerative, none but the insane will contend."

We certainly believe that they are greatly mistaken who deny that a country is the better off for diversity of employment and resources, but we would not go so far as the Free Press by terming them absolutely insane, remembering as we do, that Mr. Mackenzie, late Reform leader, Sir Richard Cartwright, the Reform Finance Minister, and other leaders of the party, that the Globe and other Reform journals, have vilified the manufacturers of Canada, and have persistently recommended Canadians to stick to farming, lumbering, mining and so forth, and to allow other people to manufacture for them. It is true that Mr. Blake coquetted for a time with protection, but he never carried the Reform party with him as a body, and he seems again to have changed his mind, as he has made a vacancy once more to seat Sir R. Cartwright in the House of Commons. On the other hand if the natural resources of a country will not at once make some industry remunerative, it does not show insanity to aid it by wise measures, especially if it is necessary to ensure success to combat such assistance afforded to their manufacturers by other nations.

The Free Press further says:—

"The Conservatives maintain that it is possible by artificial means to build up manufacturies under adverse natural circumstances and the Liberals deny it."

If these words are to be taken literally we must admit that we, with other Conservatives, think it possible by artificial means to build up manufacturies under adverse natural circumstances. In fact we know that it is possible, for it has been done. For instance, the enormous cotton trade of Great Britain was thus built up, in spite of the adverse natural circumstances of imported raw material and dear labour. The United States had the great natural advantage of growing at home the best cotton in the world. India, with an inferior raw material had the natural advantage of an inexhaustible supply of the cheapest labour, docile and apt for such work. Yet the cotton industry of Great Britain was successfully built up by artificial means till it was strong enough to run alone. To take another instance, in the United States the manufacture of iron and steel has been built up by artificial means, in spite of the adverse natural circumstances of not having first-class ore and coal in close juxtaposition, so that much ore had to be imported or carried long distances, and also in spite of having to contend with old established industries and trained workmen. Yet their protective tariff has absolutely cheapened iron and steel. Many similar examples could be given.

The "Liberals" may deny that it is possible by artificial means to build up manufactories under adverse natural circumstances, but they are wong in so doing, and their mistake arises from their relying upon closet theories instead of solid facts.

If the Free Press merely means that it is not advisable to build up manufactories by artificial means, when adverse natural circumstances handicap them too heavily to allow them to succeed without assistance, we must again dissent from our contemporary. The experience of others shows that such assistance has had the most satisfactory results. We believe in what is aptly named a National Policy, not in either protection or free trade, right or wrong, without regard to circumstances. Thus we have free imports of raw materials not produced in Canada, protective duties on what we want to manufacture, and reciprocity, as provided by our statutes, in natural produce. As circumstances change and new wants arise, our tariff can be modified to suit them. As to the precise details of our tariff, the expediency in each case of fostering any particular industry, the question of whether it is advisable to do so, even at the cost, if necessary, of some temporary inconvenience, and the probability of the aided industry being established on a good footing by such aid, these must be considered upon their merits in each case. There is room here for honest difference of opinion, without any suspicion of insanity, and we are quite willing to concede to the Free Press, as we claim for ourselves, the right to form its own judgment. We must protest, however, against the practice of shutting the eyes to the facts of history, and endeavoring to conduct practical affairs in accordance with the mere theories of doctrinaires in their closets.

It is a free trade fallacy to suppose that because trade, if left to inself, will seek and find its own channels, it should be allowed to do so. Water, too, will seek its own channels and find its own level, and it would be quite as reasonable to argue that we should allow it to do so; that we should not embank a river, dam a reservoir, or dig a canal.

WHITEWASHED BLAKE.

The Lindsay Post objects to our assertion that the Committee of the Benchers of the Ontario Law Society whitewashed Mr. S. H. Blake. If our contemporary cares to make enquiries among the Reform members of the Peterborough Bar, it will he found that we had good grounds for our assertion. Mr. Blake was not convicted of his misconduct because the evidence was not given; and the evidence was not given because it would have convicted Mr. Blake. However, we suppose that every profession must fix its own professional standard.

THE ORILLIA SHOOTING AFFRAY.

ORILLIA, June 13.—The Inquest on the body of David Hamilton, who was shot by Private Detective Cosse was opened before Coroner Ramsay on the day the affair took place. Messrs. McCoah and Kean appeared for the officer, Mr. King for the girl, and Mr. Decatur for Tollman. The evidence of Wilson Tollman, who was Hamilton's companion, and the two inmates of the house of ill-fame, where the shooting occurred, was taken. According to Tollman Cosse and Constable Cotton came to the house and ordered the whole party to accompany them to gaol. No reason was given for so doing, and he (Tollman) did not believe them to be officers of the law. On their refusing to go Cosse drew his revolver, and as he swung it around it went off and deceased fell. The detective produced no papers or badge of office.

The women corroberated the testimony of this witness, who was at first considerably under the influence of the liquor, but afterwards sobered up sufficiently to tell a connected story.

Chief Constable Wise gave evidence as to his employment of Cosse. He lent him the revolver. He had been instructed by the Mayor to employ Cotton, and Cosse also if necessary. He had instructions from Mr. Quinn to raid the house.

The inquest was then adjourned until Saturday morning.

SQUABBLE BETWEEN COSSE AND A JURYMAN.

The investigation into the shooting case was enlivened this morniny by a war of words between the accused and a juryman, ex-Constable Moffat. Cosse was sure he had seen Moffat during the American war, while Moffat was equally certain he never had. The row was finally quieted, and the examination of Constable Sparling was proceeded with. This officer said that although he was chief constable of Orillia, he had not been consulted as to the arrests. The whole matter was settled between Wise, Mulcahy and Kean. Witness said that according to his knowledge of the law no one had a right to go into the house and make an arrest without the authority of a warrant. At this stage the coroner asked and was granted an adjournment, in order to consult the jury.

A VERDICT OF MANSLAUGHTER.

The jury to-night after nearly two hours' deliberation, brought in a verdict accusing Detective Cosse of manslaughter. He will be sent to Barrie gaol to-morrow for trial. Both the girls were liberated.

Big Grain Town on the Lakes.

"The change in the mode of transportation on the lakes within a few years, and one great feature in the cause for the cheaper cost," says the Chicago Times, "are well indicated by two towa of croft now in the barbor, one having just arrived from below the coal and the other just about to sail with grain. Up to a comparatively few years ago, low barges were unknown in these waters, and grain, coal iron ore, etc., were carried in vessels measuring (the largest of them) six hundred tons. Rates then were from 10 cents to 12 cents per bushel on grain, Chicago to Buffalo, and correspondingly high on coal from Buffalo here. On the lakes now are great steamers, measuring two thousand tons each, which tow from two to three monster barges. When the barge system was first introduced on the stormy lakes doubts and fears were expressed. It has been demonstrated, however, that that system is a success. The barges are all staunch, first-class vessels, provided with masts and sails and full crews, and if the steamer has to let go of them in a storm, they are abundantly able to take care of themselves. It is this barge system that is driving full rigged sail craft (depending solely on the wind) from the lakes, because the barges can carry so cheaply that sail craft cannot compete with them."

A Murderer Lynched.

LYNCHBURG, Va. June 11.—In Russell county a few days ago two of Harvey Osborne's little boys were picking strawberries in a field, when a large negro boy joined them. The older white boy left the field, when the negro ordered the other to leave. He refused, when the negro placed a pistol to his stomach and fired, the ball passing out near the spine. The negro dragged his victim to a sink hole, but the child was still alive and cried aloud. Becoming frightened the negro fled, but soon went to the house and informed the mother that her child had shot himself. The mother ran to her dying child, who lived long enough to reveal the crime. The negro was gaoled, but was taken out by citizens and lynched.

Sunday School Convention.

The International Sunday School Convention of the United States and British Provinces began its session in Louisville on Wednesday morning. Over twelve hundred delegates were present. Hon. Thos. W. Bicknell, of Massachusetts, was elected president, and one vice-president was appointed from each State. The report showed 103,000 Sunday schools, 8,056,000 scholars, 1,089,000 teachers in the United States and provinces.

CAMPING NOTES.

The Diary of a Camping Party on the Back Lakes.

The following notes were found floating in the river to-day in the neighborhood of the Auburn Mills. They are supposed to belong to some of the "boys" camping out on the lakes. For obvious reasons the names are omitted:—

TUESDAY NIGHT.—Got here all right anyhow. Fine place for camping and having a good time. I see George has got our stores opened and the others are crowding around. Must go and see why they are so anxious looking and drawing their hands across their mouths. Have seen. It was our little store of medicine. It was quite safe and good. I notice that those pesky mosquitoes don't trouble me so much now. Can it be that they don't—don't like the smell of our medicine. Must experiment somewhat on this subject during my stay here.

WEDNESDAY MORNING.—Had a great racket last night. Wakened up about 2 a. m. by some one shouting out, "Who threw that boot?" and then I saw M—— sitting up and rubbing his nose tenderly and glaring around. He said that he was wakened by something hitting him on the nose, and some one say, "See that, mon; I can dae it ilka time." Some one was dreaming he was pitching quoits. Got to sleep again, but was soon wakened by Bill growling about those darned mosquitoes. Heard him slap himself several times and gave a triumphant chuckle and say, "Now, I've got you." Saw him light a match and look at his fallen enemy. He turned ghastly pale and gasped out, "Jewhitaker! what a brute. I'm going home to-morrow." He roused us all up and showed us the monster of a mosquito he had killed. Poor Bill! We found it to be one of those "devil's darning needles," over one inch in length. He begged us not to give him away. Had some good sport fishing, &c. Look out for some pretty tall yarns about fish when we come home.

THURSDAY.—I slept soundly last night, mosquitoes did not trouble me. I went lying next to the medicine chest, I don't like the medicine, but I find it keeps the mosquitoes away, that's what I take it for. Had some splendid sport this morning. We all went in for a swim. A began diving when all at once he gave a yell and called for help, he said something had seized hold of him and he could not get away from it. He was badly scared. The truth was I set a line during the night, hoping to catch some fish for breakfast and he got caught on one of the hooks, we cut it out all right, but I notice that he takes his meals standing now. M——went to try to canoe this afternoon, he got into it nicely, and had just said "How does that catch you," when he suddenly discovered something more interesting at the bottom of the lake, and without waiting to make any explanation went head-first overboard. He says the lake is much deeper than he supposed and rather mois(e)t. He had a parrot and monkey time with the misquitoes and blackflies until his clothes were dry.

FRIDAY.—The "Boys" have discovered that I am keeping a record of their doings and have threatened to destroy all notes if they get hold of them, but I would sooner throw them into the lake than allow them to read my private notes, besides it would let them all know my little secret about how I keep the mosquitoes away. Three of the "boys" are away concocting a big yarn about the fish they caught. Here they come. They must not find me writing or they will——

There the diary abruptly closes, it is supposed that the writer had to throw it into the lake, or that he lost it. Whichever way it was he will find that it is not lost, but only gone before, telling its own tale of the way the boys spent their weeks camping on the lakes.

The New Ocean Steamer

Outside of the mere matter of speed the "America" is one of the most superbly appointed steamers afloat. Her extraordinary with of deck gives her plenty of room to lavish the "fixins," and no expense has been spared in the line of luxurious accomodations. The great saloon, with the beautiful glass dome, is a wonderful piece of workmanship, and cannot be seen without enthusiasm. Numerous large-sized deck state-rooms in the upper part of the ship will tickle the fancy of those tourists to whom money is no object. In the matter of light and ventilation the "America" has learned some lessons from the "Austral," and crries the same exura-sized pots. In short the "America" is an improvement upon the "Aurania," which came from the hands of the same artists, and she is bound to make a stir in the world of the great Atlantic ferry.—*N. Y. CHAPTER XVI.—CONTINUED.

A short silence followed, during which his thoughts wandered far from the precints of that quiet room.

"Mr. Palma, will you please give me that picture?"

"It is yours, of course, but conditionally. It must remain where it now hangs; first, because I wish it; secondly, because your mother prefers (for good reasons) that it should not be known just yet as her portrait, and if it should be removed to your bed-chamber, the members of the household would probably gossip. In a long letter received this week your mother directs that your portrait shall be painted in a certain position, and wishes you to wear the suit you have on. The carriage is ready, and I will take you at once to the artist. Put on your hat."

During the drive he was abstracted, now and then consulting a paper of memoranda carried in the inside breast-pocket of his coat.

Once introduced into the elegant studio of Mr. Harcourt, in Tenth Street, Regina found much to interest and charm her, while her guardian arranged the preliminaries, and settled the details of the picture. Then he removed the hat and cloak, and placed her in the comfortable seat already prepared.

The artist went into an adjoining room, and a moment after Hero bounded in, expressing, by a succession of barks, his almost frantic delight at the reunion with his mistress. Since her removal to New York she saw him so rarely that the pleasure was mingled with pain, and now with her arms round his neck, and her face hidden in his thick white hair, she cried softly, unable to keep back the tears.

"Come, Regina, sit up. Make Hero lie on that pile of cushions, which will enable you to rest one hand easily on his head. Crying! Mr. Harcourt paints no such weeping demoiselles. Dry your eyes and take down your hair. Your mother wishes it flowing, as when she saw you last."

While she unbraided the thick coil, and shook out the shining folds, trying to adjust them smoothly, the lawyer stood patiently beside her; and once his soft white hand rested on her forehead, as he stroked back a rippling tress that encroached upon her temple.

The dress of pearly cashmere was cut in the style usually denominated "infant waist," and fully exposed the dazzling whiteness and dimpling roundness of the neck and shoulders; while the short puffed sleeves showed admirably the fine modelling of the arms.

Walking away to the easel, Mr. Palma looked back, and critically contemplated the effect; and he acknowledged it was the fairest picture his fastidious eyes had ever rested on.

He put one hand inside his vest, and stood regarding the girl with mingled feelings of pride in "Erle Palma's ward," and an increasing interest in the reticent, calm eyed child, which had first dawned when he watched her asleep in the railway car. It was no easy matter to stir his leaden sympathies, save in some selfish ramification; but once warmed and set in motion they proved a current difficult to stem.

In a low voice the artist said, as he selected one brushes from a neighboring stand:

"How old is she? Her features have a singularly infantile delicacy and softness, but the eyes and lips seem to belong to a much older person."

"Regina, have you not entered upon your sixteenth year?"

"Yes, sir."

"I believe, Mr. Palma, it is the loveliest living face I ever saw. It is so pecaliar, so intensely—what shall I say—prophet-eyed."

"Yes, I believe that is the right word. When she looks steadily at me, she often reminds me of a Sybil."

"But is this her usual, every-day expression?"

"Rather sadder than customary, I think?"

He went back to the group, and standing in front of his ward looked gravely down in her upturned face.

"Could you contrive to appear a little less solemn?"

She forced a smile, but he made an impatient gesture.

"Oh—don't. Anything would be better than that dire conflict between the expression of your mouth and that of your eyes. Have you any hermetically sealed pleasant thoughts hidden behind that smooth brow, that you could be prevailed upon to call up for a few moments, just long enough to cast a glimmer of sunshine over your face? I think you once indignantly denied ever indulging in the folly of possessing a sweetheart, but perhaps you have really entertained more affaires de cœur than you choose to confide to such a grim iron guardian as yours? Possibly you may cherish cheerful memories of the kind-hearted young missionary whose chances of hastening to heaven, per Sepoy passport, via Delhi route—seems at times to distress you? Does he ever write to you?"

"His mother has written to me twice since she reached India, and once enclosed a note from him; but although she said he had written, and I hoped for a letter, none has come."

He noted the quick flutter of her lips, and the shadow that crept into her eyes.

"Then he went away with the expectation that you would correspond with him?"

"Yes, sir."

"He is quite a bold, audacious young fellow, and you are a very disrespectful, imprudent, disobedient young ward, to enter into such an arrangement without my consent and permission. Suppose I forbid all communication?"

"I think, sir, you would scarcely be so unreasonable and unjust, and if you were, I should not obey you. I would appeal to my mother. Mr. Hargrove, dear good Mr. Hargrove, was my guardian when Mr. Lindsay went away, and he did not object to the promise I made concerning a correspondence."

The starry sparkle which, during the last twelve months, he had learned meant the signal of mutiny, flushed up in her eyes.

"Take care! when iron gloves are recklessly thrown down, serious mischief sometimes ensues. My laws are rarely Draconian, until reason has been exhausted; but nature endowed me with a miserly share of patience, and I do not think it entirely politic in you to challenge me. Here is a document that has an intensely Hindustanee appearance, and is, as you see, at my mercy. Where it has been since it left Calcutta last June I know not. That Padre Sahib penned it, I indulge no doubt. Pray sit still. So the sunshine has come to your countenance at last, and all the way from India! Verily, happiness is the best cosmetic, and hope the brightest illuminator—even more successful than Bengal lights."

He held up a letter, post-marked Calcutta, and coldly watched the glow that overspread her face, as her gaze eagerly followed the motion of his hand.

"I have not touched the seal, but as your guardian, it is proper that I should be made acquainted with the contents. When you have devoured it, I presume you will yield to the promptings of respect due to my position and wishes. When I assume guardianship of any person or thing, I invariably exert all the authority, exact all the obedience, and claim all the privileges and perquisites to which the responsibility entitles me."

He placed the letter on the cushion where Hero nestled, and turning to the artist, added:

"I leave Miss Orme in your care, Mr. Harcourt, and shall send Mr. Roscoe to remain during the sitting, and take her home. Paint her just as she is now. Good morning."

MEDICAL AND SCIENTIFIC.

RETIRING ROOMS FOR WOMEN.—The Pall Mall Gazette and the Lancet have been urging the necessity of providing these accomodations in cities. "The importance of the relief afforded," says the Lancet, "is even greater in the case of women than of men. We do not hesitate to affirm that very great and grievous evils have resulted from the neglect to provide the conveniences required. It could not be otherwise; and no one who bestows a serious thought on the subject can fail to see that the omission has been a complete oversight. * * To the railway companies belongs the greatest credit for carefulness in this matter, and we cannot but think that for what they have done they deserve the gratitude of the public."

THE VIRTUES OF BUTTERMILK.—The people know, says a writer a country gentleman, the value of buttermilk. A proper and constant use of buttermilk will entirely cure the constant craving for stimulants to which many persons, from long use, have habituated themselves. Have it handy, and when the appetite says whisky or other stimulant, drink half a tumbler of buttermilk, the craving will be satisfied, and the stomach will be much benefited and strengthened, instead of weakened. There are many good effects from the free use of buttermilk. It alone will often cure sour stomach, and permanently. The lactic acid needed by many persons is supplied by buttermilk much more largely than by any other known food or beverage. One vital and important use of buttermilk is the prevention of ossification of the valves of the heart, from which in this country, so many persons die, especially old persons. There are many other peculiar so-called heart diseases which lactic acid, it partaken of freely, prevents. The so-called fluttering or palpitation of the heart, consequent upon a disordered, dyspeptic stomach, can be entirely removed by a free use of buttermilk.

HIGH PRESSURE EDUCATION: ITS EFFECTS.—We have before us one of the most interesting papers we have seen by Dr. Robert Edes, of Boston, on "High Pressure Education: its Effects." Dr. Edes shows that of many ways of breaking down and exhausting the nervous system teaching is one. Of ninteen patients in the Adams Nervous Asylum, nine had been teachers. Of ten of these patients, whose cases may be fairly named "nervous exhaustion," seven had been teachers. In several of Dr. Ede's cases it is evident that the patients had been delicate from early life, and in others that health had been impared by attacks of fever or by extra work; but making allowance for these qualifications, it remains apparent that the work of teaching is very trying to some natures, and —pace those whom aintain the mental and moral egality of the sexes—he does not flinch from suggestions that women are not so capable of bearing the work as men. "We must suppose," he says, "for the earlier cases at least, either a very different way of attacking the task." He thinks the girl teacher is urged by some strange impelling force to excel in teaching, as one of the few callings on which, in comparison with youths, she can rely. His great recommendations are that education should be really "education—a drawing out and developing, of the 'knowledge-box'" should be considered; that moderate and carefully regulated bodily exercise should be taken; better demands on teachers; fewer scholars; and the opening up of other employments which shall be considered respectable for women.—Lancet (London Eng.).

United States Crops.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Returns to the Department of Agriculture show that the general average condition of cotton is 87 against 86 in June last year. There is an increase of 4 per cent. in the area planted. The increase in the area of spring wheat appears to be nearly 9,000 acres, or 9 per cent. The condition of spring wheat averages 101 per cent., being up to the standard in nearly every district. The condition of winter wheat continues high; the average is 93 agaigst 94 a month ago. The increase in the area of oats is 4 per cent.; average condition, 98. The general average of rye is 97. The barley average has fallen to 98.

Another Bank Eatlure.

CHARLETON, W. Va., June 12.—The door of the State Bank of West Virginia in this city were closed this morning. Liabilities $119,000; assets reported at 115,000. The principal losers are poor people who had small sums deposited. Many ugly rumours are afloat on the street. The bank has been considered weak for some time. Citizens, however, continued to deposit with it. It received deposits yesterday up to three o'clock. The State of West Virginia had $8,000 deposited. Excitement runs high, and but little business has been done here to-day. Then there was a slight run on the Kanawha Valley Bank this morning, but it soon ceased.

The Presidential Campaign.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The Commercial's Washington correspondent says one of the most prominent Democrats in Congress informed him that there was no longer any intention of forcing Tilden to accept the Democratic nomination, but that he would be nominated by acclamation. There was no doubt that the Democrats are advised that Tilden will be extremely gratified to have the party again honor him with the nomination, but he will in a strong letter decline to become the standard-bearer, and give the party some advice. Tilden's intimate friends say in the most positive manner that if the party will follow the advice the nomination of Cleveland will follow Tilden's declination.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successfu Cough Medicine we have ever sold. A few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of Consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10c., 50c. and $1 00. If your lungs are sore, chest or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by J. D. Tully.

The Woman's Physician.

A common sense medical work for ladies only. Fully answers all questions which modesty prevents asking a male physician. Gives causes and symptoms of all diseases of the sex, with positive cure for each in plain language, written by ladies who have made these diseases a life study. A plain talk in delicate language which every woman, young and old, should read. It is recommended by many eminent lady physicians as a safe guide for the sex. Handsomely bound and illustrated. Sent postpaid for $1.00. Address the ROCHESTER PUBLISHING Co., 32, 33 & 33½ Osburn Block, Rochester, N.Y.

A Note of Warning to Suffering Hunanity.

We feel that we would be wanting in the duty that we owe to humanity if we did not sound a note of warning in regard to the use of mercury and other poisonous minerals in the treatment of blood and skin diseases. If the reader could see the horrible suffering, the awful wrecks of human health and happiness, shown by our correspondence with those who have been dosed with these mineral poisons, he would shudder with horror. Arsenic, mercury, antimony, and iodide of potassium, are some of the remedies most ordinarily used for these diseases, and they are all poison. Do not take these poisons. They might dry up your disease for a few days, but it will surely return, and with it you wil have mercurial rheumatism, which may bring you years of torture. Shaker Blood Syrup will invigorate you and build you up, and force all poison out through the pores of your skin, and cure you sound and well.

SHAKER BLOOD SYRUP

cures completely scrofula, syphilis, rheumatism, cancer, catarrh, and skin and blood diseases of every description. Sold everywhere $1 a bottle, or six for $5.

"MAY DEW"
The Great French Lotion for Beautifying the Face.

It conceals the evidence of age. One application will make the most stubborn sly red and rough hands beautifully soft and white. Remember that "MAY DEW" is not a paint or powder that fills up the pores of the skin, and that is injurious to the skin, but a new and great discovery, a vegetable liquid, that causes the cheek to glow with health, the neck, arms and hands to rival the Lily in whiteness. Impossible to detect in the beauty it confers any artificial character. It cures Greasy Skin, Freckles, Wrinkles, Pimples, Black Heads, Crow's Feet, Blotches, Face Grubs, Sun Burn, Tan, Ringworms, Chapped Hands, Sore or Chapped Lips, Barber's Itch, Tetter, etc. It frees the pores, oil glands, and tubes from the injurious effects of powders and cosmetic washes. By its use all redness and roughness are prevented; it beautifies the skin, and will make it soft, smooth and white; imparting a delicious softness, producing a perfectly healthy, natural, and youthful appearance. The best face lotion that the world ever produced. We will send "A LARGE BOTTLE" to any address on receipt of price $1. When ordering mention this paper.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

New Watering Cart.

The new watering cart made its appearance on the streets this morning. The two carts were at work, each on its own district.

Fortunate.

Daniel Lang, a young man who has been working at the carpentering trade in Peterborough, is said to have fallen heir to fortune of £15,000, by the death of a relative in Scotland. He intends to return to Scotland.

A New Time Table.

The new time table on the Midland Division of the Grand Trunk Railway took effect this morning. A good commencement was made under it, as the trains arrived punctually in time.

St. John's Church.

The Rev. Phillip Harding, Apsley, assisted at the morning service in St. John's Church on Sunday, and in the evening, preached a very practical sermon. There were large congregations on both occasions.

Victory for the Victorias.

The "Maple Leaf" and "Victorias" Lacrosse Clubs played a lively game on the Ashburnham Cricket ground on Saturday last, which resulted in an easy victory for the "Victorias" in three straight games. Good for the south-end boys.

Little but Good.

We have to thank the Ottawa Free Press for a very complimentary reference to the REVIEW Our metropolitan contemporary says :—

"The Peterborough (DAILY) REVIEW, which though the smallest, is on the whole the best written Conservative paper published in Ontario, keenly jumps at a paragraph contained in our recent editorial discussing "India's competition in wheat growing," and seeks to score a point for protection and the N.P."

Aquatic.

Mr. Ed. Brown publishes a challenge in the Belleville papers in which he offers to back Mr J. Mercer against Mr. Frank McGuir, of Belleville, in a rowing race from one to five miles, in lapstreak skiffs, for from $200 to $1,000 a side, the race to be rowed on any course in Canada. This challenge arose out of some talk between the two carsmen.

Secure Them Now.

Those who desire to attend the pic-nic at Chemong Lake Park on Thursday (and we suppose all intend to do so who can at all), should secure a conveyance at once to take them out. It would be folly to wait until the day and then look for a livery rig. Buses will run from the principal hotels. A free dinner will be served on the grounds at 12 o'clock noon by the ladies of the Eanismore congregation, and refreshments may be obtained on the grounds during the day. Make up your mind at once to attend.

A Sunday Fire.

At about half-past eight o'clock on Sunday morning the fire alarm was sounded, as smoke was seen issuing from the True Blue's hall and the telephone office. The firemen turned out promptly, and soon had water playing into the premises. The rooms were full of smoke, so for a time it was impossible to tell where the fire was. However, little damage was done by the fire, only a small piece of the floor of the third story being burnt. The fire was caused by a burning chimney, from which the floor was ignited. Considerable damage was done by the water in the Blue's hall, the telephone office, and Mr. E. B. Edward's law office. The building was owned by Mr. James Stevenson and was insured.

A Summer Resort.

Mr. Fauchee's summer hotel at Hale's Bridge will be opened for the accommodation of the public on Tuesday next. It has been thoroughly overhauled and fitted up to meet the requirements and administer to the comfort of those who visit it. A bar 17 feet 6 in. long, with a solid walnut top, and the fittings in the bar-room in rear of the counter were put in by Mr. D. Belleghem. Mr. Belleghem received the order for them on Wednesday and on Saturday morning they were put in, which was prompt work. The house has been entirely refurnished the furniture being supplied from Mr. M. McFadden's establishment. The hotel is only a few yards from a pretty grove, and is situated close to the river. It has a fine situation.

Fair, VanEvery & Co.

are showing a new line of Hosiery and Gloves in best [illegible] es and exceedingly cheap.

P. B. C.

A meeting of the Peterborough Boating Club will be held in the boat house at 8 o'clock this evening.

A Fine Beverage.

Dowe's India Pale Ale, the best ale made in Canada, on draught at the Little Windsor Hotel, the proprietor of which is sole agent for Peterborough.

An Accident.

Mr. George Tanner, who had been working in St, Catharines, returned home on Saturday night minus one finger, which he lost by an accident in a factory. The other fingers of his hand was also injured by a shaper.

The Battery.

The Peterborough contingent of the Durham Field Battery will, in accordance with later orders, leave Peterborough for camp on the evening of Monday next, June 23rd. They will remain in Port Hope that night, and will proceed to the camp at Kingston next morning.

The Probabilities.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, counting from one o'clock this morning, as reported from the Toronto Observatory, are as follows :—Moderate south-east and south winds, fair warm weather; showers to-morrow.

Personal.

In a second report of the Stationing Committee of the Toronto Conference the Rev. John Shaw is put down for Orillia for the coming year.

The Rev. W. Andrews, of Victoria University, occupied the pulpit in the Charlotte Street Church on Sunday morning, and in the George Street church in the evening.

The Rev. N. Clarke, of Lakefield, occupied the pulpit of St. Andrew's Church on Sunday.

A Philanthropic Man.

As previously announced in this paper, the Fire Brigade are contemplating the purchase of a new and handsome hose reel for processions and demonstrations, and to this end are soliciting assistance from their friends and others who may feel disposed to contribute. Mr. H. Calcutt, who has always taken a great interest in the Fire Brigade and their fine band, has come to the front "like a solid man," and very graciously bestowed on the Brigade the use of his large steamer, the Golden-Eye, for the whole of Dominion Day gratis. This last act of Mr. Calcutt is worthy of commendation, and no doubt the members of the Brigade will ever remember the generosity and public spirit displayed by him on this occasion. Accordingly, there will be not less than three excursions run during the day under the auspices of the Fire Brigade. They will be accompanied by their band, which will remain on board the boat for the three trips. The boat will run as far as Mr. A. D. Faucher's new summer resort, about nine miles from town, and no doubt a great number of our citizens will take advantage of the cheap trip for a day's outing. Posters, tickets, etc., will be issued immediately after the meeting of the Fire Brigade, which will be on Tuesday evening, when full particulars will be announced.

Dr. Jeffers' Retirement.

The Rev. W. Jeffers, D.D., father of Mr. J. Frith Jeffers, of Peterborough, one of the best known Methodist ministers in Canada, this year retires from active work. At the Toronto Conference last week the following resolution, moved by the Rev. E. R. Young, and seconded by the Rev. Dr. Cochrane, was unanimously adopted :—

"That it is with sincere regret and heartfelt sorrow that we learn that the Rev. Dr. Jeffers finds it necessary, after nearly half a century spent in the itinerancy, through failing health and advanced years to retire from the effective ministerial work. Our regret is deeper from the knowledge of the fact that in parting with Dr. Jeffers from the regular work we are parting with no ordinary man. He early came to the front both in his pulpit ministrations and as a Conference debater. He preached the Word with power. For more than 40 years his name has been a household word in Methodism. He possessed in a high degree the confidence of his brethren—filled the highest positions in the gift of the Church, from editor of the official organ of the Church to that of President of the Toronto Conference. Our confidence and esteem accompany our venerable brother into private life, and we pray that Divine Providence may grant him many happy days, and that he may have strength at least occasionally to employ his great talents in publishing the message of salvation from both the pulpit and the press; that Dr. Jeffers be respectfully and earnestly requested to favor the Church with a volume of sermons and lectures."

Pencil Points.

—New time table on the Midland to-day.

—A blank at the Police Court this morning.

—The County Council meets at 2 o'clock to-morrow.

—The moon entered upon its last quarter at half past two this afternoon.

—The Peterborough Cavalry Troop does not go into camp this year.

—Corporations are said to have no souls, but they are very sensitive about the pocket.

—Two needy nomads were quartered in the police cells on Saturday night and one last night.

—The Boers are again giving trouble. Now look out for a host of puns about Boers, bores and boors.

—A base ball match on Saturday evening, between the first and second nines of the Peterboroughs, was won by the first nine. The club includes some good players.

—A three hundred yard race took place in Port Hope on Saturday between Hambly, of that town, and Stone, an American runner. Hambly won the race.

—A man who started at 7.30 on Saturday evening to drive to a place just outside of the boundary of the town, did not return until after midnight. His family became anxious about him, and several gentlemen started to look for him. He was not lost, however; only made a mistake about when he was to go.

MORGAN'S SARSAPARILLA is the best spring medicine. It purifies the blood and clears the system. Find MORGAN'S Drug Store.

There are lots of people going around grumbling, and half sick at the Stomach all the time; who might be well and happy if they only used Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters occasionally. It is a splendid Blood Purifier. All Druggists, 50 cents.

PHOSPHATINE, a name which to every intelligent mind, professional or otherwise, is a key to its composition. No safer, purer, more palatable and more effective compound has ever been offered in cases of nervous exhaustion and pulmonary consumption. For sale by all druggists.

THE OLD WAY.—A horrible butchery, the practice of paring corns and warts with a knife or razor. The new way is to call on your druggist for a bottle of Dr. Starr's Corn Solvent which will remove them without pain in 3 to 6 days. Brush attached to cork of each bottle for applying. Sold by J. D. Tully, druggist, 25c.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box For sale by Taylor & Macdonald.

Answer this Question.

Why do so many people we see around us seem to prefer to suffer and be made miserable by Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Coming up of the Food, Yellow Skin, when for 75c. we will sell them Shiloh's Vitalizer, guaranteed to cure them. Sold by J. D. Tully.

A Great Discovery

That is daily bringing joy to the homes of thousands by saving many of their dear ones from an early grave, truly is Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, hay fever, loss of voice, tickling in the throat, pain in side and chest, or any disease of the throat and lungs, a positive cure guaranteed. Trial bottles free at Taylor and McDonald's drug store. Large size $1.

Never Give Up.

If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility disordered blood, weak constitution, headache or any disease of a bilious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Taylor and McDonald.

A New Principle.

The principle upon which Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor acts is entirely new. It does not sink deep into the flesh, thereby producing soreness, but acts directly upon the external covering of the corn, separates it from the under layer, removes the direct pressure from the pars, and at once effects a radical cure, without any pain or discomfort. Let those who are suffering from corns, yet sceptical of treatment, try it, and by the completeness of the cure they will be ready to recommend Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor to others.

Building Sites

FOR SALE.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF THE LATE GEORGE BURNHAM M.D.

HOMESTEAD.

1.—TENDERS will be received up to JULY the 15th, 1884, for the purchase of the lot recently occupied by the late Dr. Burnham, without any of the buildings thereon, namely, Lot number 1, east of George Street and north of London Street; and Lot number 1, west of Water Street and north of London Street. The block contains one acre more or less, and tenders will be received for the whole block or for either half acre separately. An excellent opportunity is offered for the securing of very valuable building sites, as these lots are almost the only available property close to the centre of the town.

COLLINS' FARM.

2.—TENDERS will be received till AUGUST 1st, 1884, for the purchase of the farm which has for many years been rented by Henry Collins and Son, and comprises part of Lot number 9, in the twelfth concession of the Township of North Monaghan, containing 180 acres more or less, and being distant about one mile from the Town of Peterborough. This farm is composed of fine farm land, fronting on two roads, has an excellent Orchard of very choice varieties of fruit trees, and has a never-failing creek running through it. It also has a large new Brick House on it.

KEENE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

DEATH.—Another of Mr. P. Comrie's children—the third one, died on Saturday and was buried on Sunday. The rest of the family are improving, so says report.

FROGS.—The season is about over; close on to 2,000 having been shipped to New York from Keene alone.

SAVED ARMY.—The Harwood branch of the above army held a field day at Hjawatha on Sunday last. The steamers Dora and Beaver, with scows, brought over large numbers from the south shore and crowds drove from all parts of Otonabee to the service which was held from 2.30 p.m. until about 5 p.m. It is estimated that there were close upon 1,000 persons present. The services were as usual characterized by great earnestness and zeal. The detachment, with their friends, left for a point near Harwood where services were held in the evening. All Keene is wondering when they will attack this place, and if they will do much. We understand, however, that they will be at Allandale and Hiawatha, and also that as we in Keene are better than else where, our town will be later on. The Harwood contingent are to have a grand picnic on Friday next at Idyl-Wild. The steamer Beaver leaves Keene at 7.30 a.m., return tickets only 25 cents.

PERSONAL.—Rev. Mr. Tozeland being at conference Mr. Thos. Dixon of Winnipeg preached in Keene on Sunday last.

ROAD.—Work is about finished in Otonabee.

ORANGE.—A large meeting of the Keene Orange lodge was held on Tuesday evening last.

BAND EXCURSION.—The Victoria Brass Band of Keene held their second annual excursion on Saturday last. The steamer Beaver and scow left Keene at 9 a.m. with about 160 on board, calling at Hiawatha for a few more. The day was all that could be wished for, and after about two hours at Gore's Landing, where the party had dinner, the boat left for Fothergill's Point, where a short stop was made, and also another at Idyl Wild, finally arriving in Keene at about 8.30 p.m. A first-class quadrille band was on board and dancing and courting were the chief enjoyments of the trip. The committee composed of Messrs. B. M. Wylie, Wm. Wedlock, and H. J. English deserve great credit for the complete arrangements and to the satisfactory manner in which everything was carried out. The annual excursions of the V. B. Band are now an established event, and parties expect a good time, and they have it. We wish the Band every success. Now that we have a band here let us keep it up by helping it in every way. Mr. Jas. McIntyre will be happy to receive any money to help it along. A band is a fine thing to have in a place, but it can't be kept up without money.

WEDDING.—On Wednesday June 11th the residence of Mr. Telford in Ennismore was the scene of a happy event when his daughter Miss Mary Anne Telford was married by the Rev. A. E. De St. Dalmas, to Mr. Joseph Lowe, of Emily. A large number of friends and aquaintences assembled to enjoy the happy occasion. The presents to the bride were numerous, costly and well selected, being both useful and ornamental. With many wishes and long life and happiness to the newly married couple, the company separated only when approaching day spread its crimson mantle over the eastern horizon.

The "Richardson" Mine Again to the Front—Legitimate Business.

A few days ago, through the courtesy of Mr. R. T. Gray, we had the pleasure of inspecting a few samples taken from the celebrated Richardson gold mine, near Eldorado, by workmen who had been engaged there for some day previously. The specimens were picked up at random after a shot had been fired, and almost every piece of ore looked at contained large and well defined "shows" of free gold—besides giving other satisfactory evidence that the precious metal exists there in abundant quantities. Mr. Gray, who probably knows more about the capacities of this mine than any one else, is confident that something big in gold mining will yet be seen at the Richardson mine. He forwarded the samples to Messrs. Brown and Kelso, of Belleville, the present owners of the mine, both of whom at once made it a visit, and expressed their satisfaction at the prospect. The old-time "gold excitement" may never be witnessed around these parts again, but we confidently expect a more profitable and legitimate business to be established in connection with these mines in the near future.—North Hastings Review

Y.M.C.A. Conference.

The Y.M.C.A. secretaries now meeting at Montreal, discussed at their fourth session the subject of evening classes for secular instruction. A decidedly liberal tone apparently pervades their discussions.

Large Land Sales.

Between the 1st of January and the end of May this year, the Union Pacific Railway sold 1,456,000 acres of land for $3,542,000. This land had been considered barren, and was mostly purchased by cattle ranchers.

Not Alas! for Us.

It is said by the following simple method almost instant relief of earache is afforded:—Put five drops of chloroform on a little cotton or wool in the bowl of a clay pipe, then blow the vapor through the stem into the aching ear.—Med. Record.

Two Freight Trains Collide.

HAMILTON, June 15.—One freight train dashed into the rear of another about a mile from Hamilton early this morning. A pilot engine, together with one of the freight engines, and four cars were more or less damaged. The line not cleared till one o'clock. No lives lost.

France and Morocco.

PARIS, June 15.—A despatch from Trngier says eight French men-of-war and two large torpedo boats have arrived there. This has produced great consternation. The Sultan has forbidden the passage inland of 2,000 rifles, which are now detained at the Tangier Custom-house. The Moors are greatly incensed against the Sheriff of Wazan, who is believed to be inciting rebellion.

Lord Spencer's Irish Policy.

The New York Tribune's despatch says the rioting at Newry last Sunday, though not serious, threatens unpleasant consequences. Lord Spencer's new policy of opening Ulster to the Parnellites, the Conservatives say, has had the result which they foretold, that of alienating the Ulster Loyalists and of failing to conciliate the Nationalists. Lord Spencer's intended journey to Belfast has been perhaps, postponed on account of irritation created among people devoted to the Union.

The Picton Executions.

PICTON, June 14.—Dr. Ingersoll, the coroner, and his jury, Dr. Morden, the gaol physician, and Dr. H. B. Evans, all witnesses of the execution of Lowder and Tompsett, have signed a letter to the sheriff flatly contradicting the charge of bungling made by correspondents of some papers. Many of those gentlemen have witnessed previous executions, some of the physicians have been present at numbers of executions in the Old Country, and all state they never saw better arrangements, and give it as their opinion that insensibility took place instantly, the drop being over six feet.

Railway Accident.

PHILADELPHIA, June 14.—A train from Atlantic City, on the Camden & Atlantic Railway, ran into another at Lakeside this morning. The following are reported killed:—West Palmer, engineer; George Baxter, engineer: W. Vaughn, baggageman; Albert Smith, conductor; Scott Wylie, mail agent; Nicholas Barber, fireman. Many persons are injured. The accident was the result of a collision near Ashland between the 7 a.m. express from Atlantic and a train of a few cars bearing the excursion party of the second Presbyterian Church of Camden to Lakeside Park. A despatch was forwarded by the Superintendent to the operator at Ashland station directing the accommodation train to lie on the siding there until after the excursion had passed. It is not known whether the conductor and the engineer of the accomodation disregarded the order and kept on. The trains came together with terrible force in a curve a mile west of Ashland. Both engines and tenders were demolished.

UNFAIR STREET WATERING.

To the Editor of the Review.

SIR,—I should like to ask the Chairman of the Fire, Water and Gas Committee if he is aware that that portion of Hunter street between George and Water streets, is not watered as regularly as is the rest of the business portion of the town? I know Mr. Rutherford looks after his committee work, and I don't think he would tolerate any neglect of this kind if he was aware of it. Last week there were days that the water cart never passed our portion of the street, especially the latter part of the week, and yesterday it was only watered once. There appears to be some wrangling already between the two water cart drivers about the amount of territory each one should cover, so I think the chairman should define their work without further delay, and let the street be properly watered. Surely when we have to pay the tax we should have fair play and lots of water. Last summer we had no water during half the season.

The Street Inspector's attention is also called to the quantity of rough loose stone lying on this section of Hunter street, which seems to have been neglected all spring.

Yours, etc.,
HUNTER STREET MERCHANT.

A NEW REFORM PLANK.

THE Reformers with nothing to reform, the party in search of a policy, is at last making some progress. Sir R. Cartwright has pronounced in favour of "Independence," and though his suggestion has not yet been authoritatively adopted, this delay has not prevented the sending up of another pilot balloon to try the drift of public opinion. This contribution is by the Fenelon Falls Gazette, a staunch Reform journal, and its suggestion is "Our Land for Natives Only." We will give our contemporary's own words. It says:—

"First we want legislation to prevent foreigners (even British foreigners) from obtaining any more of our public lands; and then—for Parliament can do anything—lay such a tremendous tax on that which they have already secured that they will be glad to sell it to the first native willing and able to purchase."

We would venture to suggest to this leader of the Reform party that he will find some difficulties in the way of carrying out his project. We need say nothing as to the morality or expediency of the plan, for those who could adopt it would neither have the moral nor mental qualifications to perceive its objectionableness. We may venture to remark that Parliament cannot do anything—like everything human its powers are limited. For instance, it cannot deal with the public lands of the old Provinces of our Confederation, for they are within the jurisdiction of our Provincial Legislatures. We doubt whether even Ontario would be willing to refuse all natives of Great Britain a settlement on its lands, and to turn out those already settled; it would make a serious gap in our community, and would require a long term for the natural increase to fill up our waste lands, valueless till occupied. And fancy British Columbia dependent upon its birth rate to utilize its wide territory. Parliament could deal with Manitoban lands, but that is not likely to be a permanent arrangement, and whether Parliament or the Provincial Legislature took the step, what possible use could the natives of Manitoba (not Indians because they have been bought out) make of the enormous estate which they would have to divide amongst such a handful?

It seems to us that the Fenelon Falls Gazette has not been more successful in finding an attractive policy for its craving party than was the Knight of the Two-Faced Shield.

ROYAL COMMISSIONS.

THE commissioners appointed to investigate the alleged bribery of members of the Ontario Legislature, viz., Mr. Justice Proudfoot and County Judges Scott and Senkler, met on Saturday to make arrangements for holding their enquiry, the first sitting being fixed for July 14th. The names of the witnesses to be examined are to be sent in ten days before that date. Mr. S. H. Blake, Q.C. and Master of Professional Morality, and Mr. Wm. Johnston, represented the Mowat Administration.

The Reformers seem to look upon Royal Commissioners in much the same way as they do upon Senators, that is, as all right if appointed by themselves, and as being utterly worthless if appointed by their political opponents. It will be remembered that when a Royal Commission was appointed to investigate the first romance of Mr. Lucius Seth Huntington, the celebrated author of works of fiction, there was a howl of angry derision raised by the Reformers, its appointment was declared to be an outrage, and when called upon to give evidence the great novelist ran away, his example being followed by the thieves, blackmailers and purchased confidential clerks, who had furnished the materials for his work of imagination.

So, too, a Royal Commission has been issued by the Conservative Administration of Quebec for the investigation of certain charges of corrupt dealings between a former Conservative leader, the present Reform leader and others. The result is the same, the Reform journals are complaining bitterly of the appointment of the Commission.

Now, however, that Mr. Mowat and his colleagues have issued a Royal Commission, the Reformers seem to think that it is all right, though the same matter is already before our law courts, and those appointing the Commissioners are accused by their own informers and decoys of having conspired to induce the bribery. Whether, however, this new fondness for Royal Commissions will prove lasting remains to be seen on July 14th. Perhaps the Reform witnesses will prove as pusilanimous at Toronto as at Ottawa, and Mr. Mowat and others, who, when unsworn, could slander their betters, may not venture to repeat their falsehoods upon oath. We are especially curious to see whether Mr. Mowat will dare to produce his friend Lynch, whom he alone was able to describe, and of whom he seems to know more than anyone else does. We do not expect it, for probably the acquaintance is mutual, and Lynch may know too much of Mr. Mowat and his devices for his presence to be safe.

NORTHWEST NOTES.

MARKET REVENUE.—The revenue from the Winnipeg market during May was $69.30, 693 loads were weighed.

NEW FLOURING MILL.—A gang of men left the Portage recently for O'Appelle to erect a flouring mill.

THE SASKATCHEWAN.—The Saskatchewan is reported to be rising and boats are expected at Prince Albert daily.

OAK PLANK.—The tender of Foley Bro. for 100,000 feet of oak plank at $28.50 per thousand has been accepted by the council.

THE OGILVIE ELEVATOR.—Several cars of lumber and piles have been sent out to Morris for the new Ogilvie elevator and work has been commenced on the structure.

LUMBER.—Four hundred thousand feet of oak lumber have been floated down the Red River from Morris to Winnipeg since the breaking up of the ice. The logs came from Minnesotá and were cut at Morris.

NEW YORKERS IN THE NORTHWEST.—Two young farmers from Waterloo in the State of N.Y., have taken up a tract of land in the York Farmers' Colony, and are bringing oxen, waggons and general outfit to commence farming. They pay for everything in $20 American gold pieces, and say that they will be joined by many of their friends from New York State next year, who will buy odd-numbered sections.

IMPORTS.—The city of Winnipeg imported goods to the value of $607,644 in May 1883, while during the same month of this year the importations reached only $252,867. This state of affairs would seem to indicate a policy of retrenchment on the part of Winnipeg merchants. The May inland revenue returns of the same city amounted to $11,578.58, of this sum over $6,000 is set down for spirits.—Monetary Times.

C. P. R. LAND.—Capt. Wastie, C. P. R. land agent at Brandon, states that the office at Brandon has been closed, most of the C. P. R. lands in that vicinity having been disposed of. A railroad contractor, Allen Young, purchased 2,000 acres in the vicinity of Griswold a few days ago, and has already put sixteen teems to work improving the land. Capt. Wastie says there has been a great demand for land this spring.

BUILDING.—Contractors are busily engaged rushing the material to be used in the several buildings under constructions from the C.P.R. yards to the works while the roads are in their present good condition. It would be better for the travelling public, however, if the rocks which occasionally fall from the wagons were removed, as several have been left in the centre of Main street over night, proving very dangerous to light rigs going at a high rate of speed.—Winnipeg Times.

NEW STOCK ROUTE.—The Canadian Pacific Railway Co. has arranged a through line from St. Paul with the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railway. The cattle are taken to Maple Creek and Calgary, Northwestern Territory. There is a saving of distence of 203 miles over the present route to Helena. There are prospects of large quantities of cattle being taken to the Northwest Territory, near the Montana line, where grazing is excellent. The Canadian Government is giving much encouragement to stock-raising by making free duty on settler's stock.

DIOCESE OF ASSINIBOIA.—Canon Anson, Bishop Designate of Assiniboia, is expected to arrive shortly, accompanied by four clergy. Thers are only two clergymen in the diocese at present. A great part of the immigration so far this year are going into this diocese. The Bishop Designate has started an excellent plan in England by forming a Financial Aid Association, composed of associates and lay correspondents. All papers, including the prayer of the Association, will be forwarded for use and circulation. It is specially desired that subscribers may be found to guarantee £5 a year for five years. The secretary of the fund is the Rev. J. S. Holden, Ashton Rectory, Derby.

STOPPING A SURVEY.—Mr. Kirk, C. E., went out to survey the Indian reserve in the Riding Mountain district last week, says the Minnedosa Tribune, and on commencing work a party of about twenty Indians attempted to stop him forcibly from doing so. Mr. Kirk called on Reeve Tully for assistance. Mr. Tully got together a number of the settlers and proceeded to the spot, intending to swear the men in as special constables in case of need. He then explained to the Indians the law with regard to the matter, and the penalties they would render themselves liable to, so they concluded to let thn survey party go on without any further molestation, standing on a little hill a short distance off sullenly watching the proceedings.

RAISING A LAKE.—The work of railway construction in the vicinity of Dog Lake is progressing rapidly. Dog Lake is about 50 miles inland from Lake Superior, and is some 30 miles by 20 miles in extent. In order to make the water deep enough for the navigation of small steam craft, which are used in connection with the work around the shore, a huge dam was put in at Stoney Portage, with the result that it is now over six feet higher than its normal state. The work is chiefly rock in this neighborhood, but between the small lakes, which constitute a chain of considerable importance, vast stretches of sand and muskeg are to be found. Messrs. McDougall and McLennan have two miles of work in this neighborhood, which it is expected will be completed by about the beginning of August next.—Winnipeg Times.

THE WALL STREET FRAUDS.

NEW YORK, June 13.—James D. Fish was indicted to-day by the United States grand jury for violation of the banking laws which refer to the misappropriation of the funds of a national bank by a bank official.

A suit has been begun by Leopold Levy, assignee of Maritz Bauer, against Ulysses Grant, Jr., to recover $1,000 paid on a contract for the purchase of property in this city which, it is alleged, defendent afterward fraudulently conveyed without consideration to Jerome B. Chaffee and Sarah Cudliff. The defence is a general denial. The property is said to be worth about $45,000.

An attachment was granted against the property of John C. Eno to-day in a suit brought by the Second National Bank to recover $3,185,000, which amount, it is alleged, Eno misappropriated. It is said he has considerable property within the State.

LADIES' JOURNAL

Bible Competition No. 7.

Closing September 11th,

OPEN TO THE WORLD

GREAT CLUB OFFER.

The Leading Rewards are Lot 50 x 150 at Toronto Junction, Pianos, Organs, Sewing Machines, Gold and Silver Watches, Silver Tea Sets, &c.

The proprietor of the Ladies' Journal now announces a magnificent list of rewards for correct answers to Bible questions. It is surprising how little is known of the Bible. The questions are not so difficult this time as last, and we should be glad if there was a hearty response so as to encourage the proprietor of the Journal to persevere in his good work. It was announced in the June issue of the Ladies' Journal that the competition which closed last month would be the last for the present, but it has been decided to try one more.

All money must be sent by post office or express. No information will be given to any one more than is stated here. So send on answers, and don't waste time writing. Do not send postage stamps unless six cents is added for the discount. Remit by postoffice order, scrip or small coin.

THE BIBLE QUESTIONS:

1.—Mention the case of a man who was sorry for losing what he had borrowed?

2.—Mention the names of a king, a counsellor, and a scoundrel who committed suicide?

3.—Where is mention made in the Bible of a man who had on each hand six fingers and on each foot six toes?

Now, any one having a knowledge of the Scriptures ought to be able promptly to answer these questions with a little study, and so secure some one of those rewards. Bear in mind every one competing must send FIFTY CENTS with their answers for which the Ladies' Journal will be sent one year to any address. If you answer each of the questions correctly and your answers are in time you are sure to secure one of these costly rewards.

This list of consolation rewards will be given to the last one hundred and fifty-seven persons who send correct answers to the Bible questions given above. But bear in mind, your letter must bear the postmark where mailed of 11th September, the closing day of this competition. Fifteen days will be allowed after closing day for letters from distant points to reach the Ladies' Journal office. But you can, of course, send in any time between now and the 11th of September, and your letter will take its place at the publication office in the order it arrives there. All letters are carefully numbered as they arrive, and there can be no mistake. If your answers are correct, and they reach there in time, you will surely get some reward in addition to the Ladies' Journal, which alone is big value for the half dollar. If you don't get anything but the Journal you will be well pleased with your investment, as it consists of 20 pages of fashions illustrated, short and serial stories, poetry, newest music, household hints, etc., etc.; in fact, just the paper to suit every lady.

By subscribing in a club with your neighbors you will secure some considerable advantage—that is, there must be at least thirty of a club, and all who send correct answers to the Bible questions may have their choice of a handsome ring, heavily gold-plated ladies' gold brooch, which retails at about one dollar and a half, or a triple-plated butter knife. Either of these you may wish will be sent postage paid. You will thus secure to a certainty one or other of these two presents, and in addition will have as good an opportunity of gaining some one of the other large rewards in lists given above just as well as though you had sent in singly. This is simply an inducement to get up clubs. We are sure our readers could not do better than to try their skill in hunting up these questions and competing for these rewards. Everything will be carried out exactly as promised.

Prizes in last competition went all over Canada and to many parts of the United States.

Address, Editor LADIES' JOURNAL, Toronto, Canada.

THE Pall Mall Gazette created a sensation in London on Monday by the publication of what purported to be the full text of the Anglo-French agreement on the Egyptian question.

RESPECT OLD AGE.—An old favorite is the remedy known as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. Thirty years reliable for cholera morbus, diarrhœa and summer complaints.

DOWN IN DIXIE.—The wife of Mr. J. Kennedy, dealer in drugs in Dixie, was cured of a chronic cough by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. The best throat and lung healer known.

OH! how tired and weak I feel I dont believe I will ever get through the Spring house-cleaning? Oh yes you will if you take a bottle or two of Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters to purify your blood and tone up the system. In large bottles 50 cents.

THE OLD WAY.—A horrible butchery, the practice of paring corns and warts with a knife or razor. The new way is to call on your druggist for a bottle of Dr. Starr's Corn Solvent which will remove them without pain in 3 to 6 days. Brush attached to cork of each bottle for applying. Sold by J. D. Tully, druggist 25c.

A Cure for Cuts, Sores, etc.

Another Victory.

A Startling important discovery was made when, after long and patient experiments, the combination of Nerviline was reached. A grand victory indeed, for the suffering have an ever ready, prompt, efficient, and cheap remedy at hand. Do you know that for 10 cents you can buy a trial bottle of Polson's Nerviline and test its great power over pain of every description? Polson's Nerviline cures chills, pain in the stomach, side and back, rheumatism; in fact all pain. Sold by Osmond & Walsh.

James Brayley, Hamilton, says:—"I read the testimonials for McGregor's Speedy Cure and found that I had not to go to New York, Philadelphia, Louisiana or Texas to find living witnesses of its value, we had plenty of persons right here to prove its merits. I got a bottle and it helped me right away. I was as bad with bilious fever and indigestion as I think one could be, I have taken three bottles and am nearly well and can eat any kind of food without it hurting me. I may say that I am better than I ever expected to be." Free trial bottles at John McKee's drug store.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain and cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

OUR AUTONOMY GUARANTEED.

It is the protection and assistance of Great Brtain which is the guarantee of our autonomy, The advocates of independence may scout this idea but it embodies the truth.—Ottawa Free Press (Ref.).

TRY FAIRNESS YOURSELF.

The Peterborough REVIEW accords much praise and credit to Mr. Mowat for going to England to argue the boundary question before the privy council "and for his painstaking industry in preparing the case."—Lindsay Post (Ref.).

"REFORM" FALSEHOOD.

Some of the western Grit papers are again attacking Mr. Carling for being absent from the capital and attending to the brewery. As a matter of fact Mr. Carling is here and has not been away from here ten days in six months. He is merely a stock-holder in the brewery.—Mail Ottawa Correspondent.

GIVE BEER AND WINES A CHANCE.

In these [Bystander] papers it has always been maintained that to compel the human race all at once, to give up stimulants of every kind is impracticable, even if it is desirable; that ardent spirits, especially when they contain a large proportion of fusel oil, are the poison, and that to stop the production and importation of these, except for medical and scientific purposes, and under control of government, would, of all legislative remedies, be the surest and the best.—Bystander in the Week.

GIVING SATISFACTION.

The farm laborers who have come to Canada this year are giving satisfaction. Many farmers are so anxious for help that they registered their applications to Mr. Macpherson for them. The number of arrivals during May at the agency has been very large. There is a great demand, too, for domestic servant girls. They are readily taken and trained to Canadian customs.—Kingston Whig (Reform).

DECLINING MARTYRDOM.

Hon. Mr. Pipes appears to have declined to sacrifice himself on the party altar in Cumberland, and the liberals have wisely concluded to abandon the field. Mr. Townsend, the conservative candidate, will therefore be elected to succeed Sir Charles Tupper by acclamation. And so the liberal reaction goes on.—Montreal Gazette.

DID NOT FORGET.

When the apostle Paul was preaching the gospel to the real heathens of his day he never forgot that he was a gentleman as well as a christian.—Toronto World.

NEXT TO GODLINESS.

There are few towns of any importance in England that have not public baths and in the principal cities of modern Europe the public baths have been made to excel those of antiquity in usefulness if not in magnificence. Venice long ago appropriated $150,000 for the erection of public baths. We are convinced that the construction of baths on a liberal scale in Montreal would pay exceedingly well all the year round if the water could be obtained at a reasonable rate.—Montreal Star.

THE NEWMARKET PICNIC.

The Grit picnic at Newmarket was a tame and uninteresting affair. Neither Mr. Blake, the great gun of the foccasion, nor any of the lesser party lights said a single word on the question of Independence. There were no new ideas broached, no policy laid down, no fresh arguments in support of Gritism advanced. The speeches were the merest rehash of the utterances of the campaign, utterly devoid of interest.—Toronto News (Indep).

OUR PROVINCIAL DEBT.

The annuities fraud is the basis of a provincial debt, and there is no sense in the people blinding themselves to this fact. To this pass has the reckless extravagance of the Mowat government finally brought the people, and it is full time the people understood the true condition of our provincial finances. The government cannot justify borrowing money when it is not needed, and the fact that borrowing has been resorted to, under the thin guise of annuities, is an admission that our financial position has been steadily and persistently falsified.—St. Catharines Journal.

A CLEVER WOMAN.

A Widow of Thirty-five Shows a Decided Eye for the Main Chance.

KINGSTON, June 15.—Barriefield, a small village on the east side of the Cataraqui River, and on the brow of the hill behind Fort Henry, was the scene of an elopement sensation yesterday. John Ryan is an old man of 70, who had been married twice, but who was a lonely widower, matrimonially inclined, when a young woman a few months ago arrived from Limerick. She engaged as a domestic where he lived, and in fact began the courting. His home was a comfortable one, and when the old man, in a tender moment (she aged 35 and a widow) proposed, she accepted. She was, however, after her wedding admired by another one, one George Smith, who made her acquaintance in crossing the ocean, and who joined the battery. Of late they saw each other frequently, and on Thursday completed the plans for flight. On the following day Mrs. Ryan, after the departure of her husband for his work, came to the city, purchased a trunk and portmanteau and a suit of clothing for Smith. The clothing she took to the rifle range where Smith was secreted; the trunk and portmanteau to the house, filling them with considerable of the old man's property. She also took some $90 belonging to him, and then a cab which she had engaged, calling, she started for Gananoque, picking Smith up on the way. At Gananoque they took the boat for the American side, and thus they disappeared.—Globe.

Important Changes in the G.T.R.

Important changes are about to be made in the internal management of the Grand Trunk Railway, part of which have been caused by the resignation of Mr. S. R. Callaway, General Manager of the Chicago and Grand Trunk. From a gentleman whose information of railway matters is always reliable, and who had just returned from Montreal, it was learned that all the lines belonging to the Grand Trunk west of the Detroit and St. Clair Rivers, are to be amalgamated. These lines are the Chicago & Grand Trunk, the Detroit, Grand Haven & Milwaukee, Flint & Pere Marquette, which will all be combined under the management of Mr. W. J. Spicer, at present General Superintendent of the Grand Trunk proper. The Great Western and Grand Trunk proper between Toronto and Suspension Bridge and the Detroit and St. Clair Rivers will be united under one general superintendent with assistant superintendents under him. It is not yet decided where the headquarters of this division will be established, but as Toronto is the only point whence the two main lines can be reached directly, it will probably have the preference. It is probable Mr. Chas. Stiff, Superintendent of the Great Western Division, will have charge of this division. East of Toronto will be another division under the charge of another general superintendent, whose headquarters will be at Montreal. The whole system, east of the Detroit and St. Clair rivers, will be divided into six sub-divisions under the charge of an assistant-superintendent, who will report to the general superintendent of his division.

LINDSAY.

THE UXBRIDGE TOURNAMENT.—The Lindsay fire company reports a pleasant time in Uxbridge on Thursday but say the tournament was only a partial success. They were awarded first prize for neatness in dress and general appearance.

WOOLEN MILLS.—There appears to be a busy time round the Lindsay woolen mill, judging from a recent visit. Every machine is moving along at its best and the amount of wool used up is astonishing. Mr. Covenay informs us the mill has been very busy since the start this spring and will have all it can do for a long time yet in addition to all the manufacturing. The farmers come in great numbers to have carding, etc., done, keeping at least two machines going all the time as fast as steam can make them. Mr. Wallace is now buying great quantities of wool and wants a great deal more to keep him going for the next twelve months. Farmers having any for sale or requiring carding done for themselves should visit the Lindsay mill. They will see something interesting and will also get the best prices in the market.—Warder.

FISHING.—While Mrs. C. G. Cody of Lindsay was visiting at Gore's Landing on Rice Lake a few days ago she went trolling for maskilonge and bass and succeeded in catching three bass of unusual size and seven very large maskilonge in one afternoon.

RIVER NOTES.—The new steamer built by Burke Bros. has been launched. The engine and boiler have been placed in the hull, and work is going on fitting up the upper works and putting in the paddle wheels. The new "Maple Leaf," as the propeller will be named is finished planking and will be ready for caulking in a day or two. The craft is a splendid model and should make ten miles an hour easily.

REBUILDING THE CONVENT.—On Saturday of last week a settlement was arrived at between the representatives of the insurance companies and the trustees of Loretto convent by which the amount awarded to cover losses was fixed at $17,066. On Tuesday morning a large force of laborers was set to work removing the debris from the interior of the building. This will probably take until the end of the week to complete. The work of rebuilding will be gone on with at once under the direction of Mr. W. Duffus, in charge for the trustees. It is expected that matters will be sufficiently advanced that the building may be closed in during fine weather, and that the finishing of the interior can be carried on during the fall and as speedily as possible.

SERIOUS ASSAULT.—On Sunday a prominent resident of the east ward was assaulted and badly beaten, and kicked about the head and body. On Monday information was laid against Henry O'Leary, Paddy Bain and M. Carlin as having been the parties concerned in the outrage. O'Leary was arrested and subsequently bailed out of limbo. Bain skipped out of town, but was arrested while getting off the boat from Bobcaygeon on Tuesday night and taken to gaol, where he is now held. Carlin disappeared and left town to evade arrest. The examination of Bain before the magistrate will take place this morning at ten o'clock in the police court room. From those who have conversed with the party so brutally assaulted we learn that a boy in his employ was driving a couple of cows to the pound on Sunday night the lad was attacked by Carlin, who began beating him. On going to the boy's rescue O'Leary and Bain interfered and assisted Carlin in pounding and abusing the rescuer. If the statements regarding the assault are correct the perpetrators deserve to be severely dealt with. It is a little singular that Carlin escaped, and the measures taken for his arrest are causing some comment. The speedy recovery of the assaulted party is to be earnestly hoped for.—Post.

OMEMEE.

ACCIDENT.—While working on a barn near Millbrook, on Tuesday Mr. Geo, McWilliams met with a painful accident by cutting his right foot with an adze, and about twenty minutes after a chisel fell and cut three of his fingers on the right hand.

A CANOE UPSET.—On Tuesday evening Mr. W. M. Barley, who has been staying with Mr. Jno. Young for some days, went out with Walter Young in a canoe to fish on the mill pond. On returning they ran against a snag near the channel and were upset into the water. Mr. Barley caught a stump and held on till Walter swam ashore and gave the alarm. Mr. S. Grandy took his canoe and hastened to the river, went out and secured the victim and landed him safely on shore, wet, but otherwise uninjured.

THE BRIDGE.—On Wednesday forenoon the Road and Bridge Committee of the County Council, composed of the following gentlemen, Fell, Fairbairn, Adams, Broad, Col. Deacon and Dr. Norris, visited this village on a tour of inspection, and we are pleasad to state that after due deliberation they were all unanimous on the subject of a new bridge over Pigeon river being a necessity, as they were convinced in a few minutes that the present structure is in a dilapidated and dangerous condition. At the meeting in Lindsay, in the afternoon it was decided to have an iron bridge built. There will be two stone abutments and a span of 60 feet of iron. Work of building will be commenced in September next.—Herald.

FENELON FALLS.

GETTING READY.—Preparations for building are being made on Mr. Jordan's lot at the corner of Colborne and Francis streets, and on Dr. Wilson's at the coroner of Colborne and Bond, men with teams and scrapers being hard at work excavating the foundations. Mr. Jordan intends to put up a two-story block about forty by fifty feet, to contain two double stores and a single one, and it is, we hear, to be built by days' work instead of by contract. Dr. Wilson's building is to be a handsome two-story brick residence, with surgery attached, to cost about $2,000. and the contract has been let to Mr. John Kennedy, of Bobcaygeon.

A BAD FALL.—On Friday of last week Mrs. Ellis, mother of Mr. John A. Ellis, mounted to the top of a bureau for the purpose of fastening a curtain above one of the windows of her residence on Francis street, and in turning around to speak to a person who entered the room, she missed her footing and fell down on to a chair, one of her elbows going through the cane seat. She was very badly hurt, especially on the left hip, and one or more ribs were broken, but owing to her fleshiness there was some difficulty in arriving at a certainty as to the exact extent of her injuries. She is, however, we are glad to hear, getting along nicely, and will, no doubt, be able to get about again in the course of a few weeks.—Gazette.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

as a cough remedy.

"While with Churchill's army, just before the battle of Vicksburg, I contracted a severe cold, which terminated in a dangerous cough. I found no relief till on our march we came to a country store, where, on asking for some remedy, I was urged to try AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

"I did so, and was rapidly cured. Since then I have kept the PECTORAL constantly by me, for family use, and I have found it to be an invaluable remedy for throat and lung diseases. J. W. WHITLEY."

Thousands of testimonials certify to the prompt cure of all bronchial and lung affections, by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. Being very palatable, the youngest children take it readily.

INVALUABLE TO EVERY LADY.
"MAY DEW"
The Great French Lotion for Beautifying the Face.

It conceals the evidence of age. One application will make the most stubboraly red and rough hands beautifully soft and white. Remember that "MAY DEW" is not a paint or powder that fills up the pores of the skin, and that is injurious to the skin, but a new and great discovery, a vegetable liquid, that causes the cheek to glow with health, the neck, arms and hands to rival the Lily in whiteness. Impossible to detect in the beauty it confers any artificial character. It cures Greasy Skin, Freckles, Wrinkles, Pimples, Black Heads, Crow's Feet, Blotches, Face Grubs, Sun Burn, Tan, Ringworms, Chapped Hands, Sore or Chapped Lips, Barber's Itch, Tetter, etc. It frees the pores, oil glands, and tubes from the injurious effects of powders and cosmetic washes. By its use all redness and roughness are prevented; it beautifies the skin, and will make it soft, smooth and white; imparting a delicious softness, producing a perfectly healthy, natural, and youthful appearance. The best face lotion that the world ever produced. We will send "A LARGE BOTTLE" to any address on receipt of price $1. When ordering mention this paper.

Daily Evening Review

TUESDAY, JUNE 17, 1884.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

L.O.L.

The semi-annual meeting of the Peterborough District Loyal Orange Lodge will be held at Nassau Mills this evening.

The Regatta.

At a meeting of the Peterborough Boating Club held on Monday evening, it was decided to postpone the regatta, which was to have been held on Thursday evening, until Friday evening, on account of the Ennismore pic-nic.

The Probabilities.

The weather probabilities for this district for the following twenty-four hours, counting from one o'clock this morning, as reported from the Toronto Observatory, are as follows:—Light to moderate east and south winds, fair very warm weather, with a few local showers to-night in western Ontario.

The Moonlight Excursion.

Parties having received invitations for the private moonlight excursion to-morrow evening 17th June will please bear in mind that it promises to be a decided success. Music will be provided by the Peterborough Assembly Club. Refreshments served by Mr. H. Long. Golden Eye leaves the wharf at 8 o'clock sharp.

A Run Over and Run Off.

A train on the Ontario and Quebec Railway struck a cow on the track, about three miles west of the town, on Monday afternoon. The animal was thrown some distance, and the engine and tender passed over it, but two empty flat cars were trown off the track. The injury to the cow was, of course fatal, but the damage to the train and track was not great.

Accidents at School.

On Monday afternoon two accidents occurred at the Central School to two of the pupils. Gordon Millar, son of Mr. Melville Millar, was running, while at play, with a stick in his mouth, when he fell upon the stick. It cut his mouth inside severely, but we are pleased to learn that the injury was not of a serious nature. A son of Mr. Wm. Ross was the other victim. He received a blow on the head from a stone, which inflicted a nasty cut, but in this case, also, we understand the injury was not serious.

Sons of England.

At the quarterly meeting of Lansdowne Lodge held last night there was appointed a committee, whose duties are to inquire into the circumstances of English immigrants requiring assistance to help them in their search for employment and give them such other aid as may lay in the power of the society—thus endeavoring in a small way to do the work that was formerly done by the relief committee of the St. George's Society. Lansdowne Lodge continues to prosper in a high degree, no less than fifteen new members having been initiated during the quarter just ended.

A Slight Accident.

Bicycling is, no doubt, a very pleasant and exhilarating exercise, yet bicyclists appear to be liable to all sorts of unpleasant accidents. The other day a young man ran his 'cycle with such force against a wall that it was almost knocked out of shape, and he was shaken not a little. On Monday evening another, who was spinning along on Hunter street, ran against an awning rod, which caught him on the bridge of the nose. It was worse than a clothes line, by a great deal, bringing him suddenly off the 'cycle inflicting a cut where the blow was received. Bicylists should be very careful—and carry accident policies.

The Prize.

The prize to be competed for at the base ball match at the pic-nic at Chemong Lake Park on Thursday is on exhibition in Messrs. Sailsbury & Co's. window. It is a Spaulding League ball—one of the best. But all who attend this pic-nic will feel as much satisfied as if they had won a prize, because the programme is one that cannot fail to be entertaining. The following committee on sports is a guarantee of their success:—Messrs. T. Cavanagh, Jos. Daly, D. Kenneally, J. Clancy, J. Moloney, Reeve of Douro, W. Sullivan, Jos. Young and Thos. Cahill. The Indian Brass Band will furnish music for the occasion.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL.

THE JUNE SESSION OF THE MUNICIPALITY REPRESENTATIVES,

The Address from the Warden. Mr. John Lang—References to Legislation—County Bridges—G. J. R. Suit etc.

The County Council assembled in the Council Chamber at 2.30 o'clock this afternoon, Mr. John Lang, Warden, in the chair.

There were present:—Messrs. John Lang, Reeve of Otonabee (Warden), M. Sanderson, Reeve, and T. E. Fitzgerald, Deputy Reeve, of Smith, G. Stewart, Deputy Reeve of Otonabee, Joseph Forster, Reeve of North Monaghan, John Brown Reeve of of Belmont; W. H. Stephenson, Reeve of Norwood; A. R. Kidd, Reeve of Dummer; M. Mansfield, Reeve of Galway; M. Crough, Reeve of Ennismore; Jas. Hicks, Reeve of Harvey; Jas. Stephenson, Deputy-Reeve of Asphodel; John Burnham, Reeve of Ashburnham, John Moloney, Reeve of Douro, and Jas. McCliggott, Deputy-Reeve of Douro.

THE WARDEN'S ADDRESS.

The WARDEN then read the following speech from the throne to the members of the Council:

GENTLEMEN,—It is with extreme regret that I have to announce that since our last meeting it has pleased Providence to the late representative of Harvey, George Oliver, Esq., whom I feel sure you will miss, as he was highly esteemed by the members of the Council.

REMOVE FROM AMONGST US

And also on the 16th day of May it pleased our Great Creator to remove from amongst us our old and respected friend, Henry Collins, Esq., late Warden of this County and Reeve of North Monaghan, which municipality he so ably represented for the last twelve years, and whose absence I am sure will be felt by every member of the Council.

LEGISLATION.

Shortly after we adjourned in January last I was notified by Mr. Blezard, M. P. P., that a deputation from the County of Victoria had waited upon the Ontario Government for the purpose of getting the Municipal Act amended relating to a bridge on the county boundary lines, and he thought that probably some of us would have to go up to watch the interests of the County. I at once advised him that if there was likely to be any action taken in the matter to instruct our County Clerk to notify me and I would go up and take two or three of my colleagues with me to help him and Mr. Carnegie to defeat their object. In a short time our clerk was telegraphed to by our representatives and he immediately sent the same to me, but owing to sickness in my family it was impossible for me to leave home, so I asked our clerk to request Messrs. Sanderson, Collins and Moloney to go at once, as the municipal committee of the Legislature were to meet the day following. They complied at once with my request and went to Toronto, and were the means of having the bills thrown out altogether, the particulars of which they will be able to lay before you at this session, which I am sure will be satisfactory to you all.

BRIDGES.

Nassau bridge:—When the contractors got through I purposed calling the Committee together to inspect the work, but Mr. Sanderson was in Kansas and Mr. Collins was sick in bed, so Mr. Moloney, Mr. Belcher and myself went up and inspected it and pronounced it a first-class job, and according to our judgment reflected great credit on the contractors, both Mr. Wynn and the Toronto Bridge Company.

Locks bridge: When the bridge company sent their men down from Toronto to put up the swing, on examination by their foreman it was found that the abutment that the swing rested upon was not substantial enough. He called Mr. Belcher's atttention to it and upon examination it was found to be filled up with loose stones and clay, so Mr Belcher caused about six feet to be be taken off the top and replaced with Ashler rock, work which I, in company with Mr. Belcher, examined when finished, just when they were beginning to put the swing together, and pronounced it a first-class piece of workmanship. We again examined it on the 17th day of May, when the swing was about finished. The men were laying the flooring. They closed and opened the swing to let us see how nicely it worked. It seemed to swing very freely and easily, and is a very fine looking structure, and a credit to both town and county.

GRAND JUNCTION.

I suppose most of you are aware that the Midland and Grand Junction Company have paid all former costs on the suit between E. O. Bickford and the County, and have started proceedings anew against the County of Peterborough. Mr. Edwards, acting under an old resolution instructing the Warden to defend the same, went to Toronto and retained Mr. Bethune on behalf of the County, which I considered correct, although not directed particularly by myself, and he will be able to lay the facts before you at this session as far as the case has gone.

EQUALIZATION.

The equalization of the assessment roll is a very important duty you are called upon to discharge at this the June session, and I hope it will receive your careful consideration, so that each municipality may bear their fair share of the county rate.

There are other matters that will come before you, and I am sure they will receive the consideration that their nature and importance require.

JOHN LANG,
Warden.

Mr. KIDD moved, seconded by Mr. MANSFIELD,—That Messrs. Burnham, W. H. Stephenson, Sanderson, Moloney and the mover and seconder, be a committee on the Warden's address.

THE STANDING COMMITTEE.

On motion of Mr. SANDERSON, seconded by Mr. FITZGERALD,—Messrs. W. H. Stephenson, Forster and Hicks were appointed on the standing committees of which their predecessors respectively were members.

The Council adjourned until 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning.

AN UNRESEVED SALE

The piano to be used at the concert in St. John's Church to-morrow evening, under the auspices of the Women's Foreign and Domestic Missionary Society, is from the celebrated manufactory of Heintzman & Co., and is kindly loaned by Mr. E. J. Hartley, the local agent.

Saved Army Notes.

The Rev. E. F. Torrance, M.A., has consented to conduct a Bible reading in the Saved Army hall on Monday evening. On last (Monday) evening the subject was the passover springling of the blood of the lamb.

Capt. Munt said on Monday night, that, although he might not see his way clear to remain in Peterborough, the Army would not leave here. He made this explanation because some appeared to think from a remark he made on the previous evening that the Army thought of leaving, which he said was a mistake.

The Army will hold a pic-nic at Idyl Wild on Friday. The gathering will include people from Peterborough, Cobourg, Harwood, &c. The Golden Eye will leave her wharf here at 7 o'clock.

The hallelujah wedding takes place in the Opera House this evening—but we presume that this reminder is hardly necessary.

Gen. Lindsay, Capt. Willis and wife and other officers will be present at the wedding.

Fair, VanEvery & Co.

LORD Wolseley, speaking at a banquet in London on May the 24th, said none but an old soldier like himself could realise the extent to which the Volunteer movement had popularised the army. He hoped the Volunteers, like the Militia, would soon be a part of the regular defensive forces of the country.

A Card.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. Answer this Question.

Why do so many people we see around us seem to prefer to suffer and be made miserable by Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Coming up of the Food, Yellow Skin, when for 75c. we will sell them Shiloh's Vitalizer, guaranteed to cure them. Sold by J. D. Tully.

A New Principle.

The principle upon which Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor acts is entirely new. It does noes not sink deep into the flesh, thereby producing soreness, but acts directly upon the external covering of the corn, separates it from the under layer, removes the direct pressure from the pars, and at once effects a radical cure, without any pain or discomfort. Let those who are suffering from corns, yet sceptical of treatment, try it, and by the completeness of the cure they will be ready to recommend Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor to others.

Never Give Up.

If you are suffering with low and depressed spirits, loss of appetite, general debility disordered blood, weak constitution, headache or any disease of a bilious nature, by all means procure a bottle of Electric Bitters. You will be surprised to see the rapid improvement that will follow; you will be inspired with new life; strength and activity will return; pain and misery will cease, and henceforth you will rejoice in the praise of Electric Bitters. Sold at fifty cents a bottle by Taylor and McDonald.

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF THE LATE GEORGE BURNHAM M.D.

HOMESTEAD.

1.—TENDERS will be received up to JULY the 15th, 1884, for the purchase of the lot recently occupied by the late Dr. Burnham, without any of the buildings thereon, namely, Lot number 1, east of George Street and north of London Street; and Lot number 1, west of Water Street and north of London Street. The block contains one acre more or less, and tenders will be received for the whole block or for either half acre separately. An excellent opportunity is offered for the securing of very valuable building sites, as these lots are almost the only available property close to the centre of the town.

COLLINS' FARM.

2.—TENDERS will be received till AUGUST 1st, 1884, for the purchase of the farm which has for many years been rented by Henry Collins and Son, and comprises part of Lot number 9, in the twelfth concession of the Township of North Monaghan, containing 180 acres more or less, and being distant about one mile from the Town of Peterborough. This farm is composed of fine farm land, fronting on two roads, has an excellent Orchard of very choice varieties of fruit trees, and has a never-failing creek running through it. It also has a large new Brick House on it.

This sale offers a rare chance. No tender necessarily accepted for any of the above properties. Tenders to state price and also terms of payment, which will be made suitable to purchasers.

COUNTY COUNCIL.

A Short Session this Morning—Report of the Warden's Address.

The County Council resumed at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning, the Warden in the chair.

The following were present, in addition to those who were present on the previous day:—Mr. R. A. Strickland, Reeve of Lakefield, and Mr. J. Walsh, Reeve of Asphodel.

THE WARDEN'S ADDRESS.

Mr. BURNHAM read the following report of the Committee appointed to consider the Warden's address:—

The special Committee on the Warden's address beg to report as follows:—

1. Your Committee concur in the sentiments expressed by the Warden in his address in regard to the lamented deaths of Mr. Geo. Oliver and Mr. Henry Collins, late members of this Council, and recommend that a committee be appointed to draft resolutions of condolence to their respective families.

2. Your committee fully approve of the action of the Warden in opposing the proposed legislature in regard to bridges on county boundary lines, and congratulate the Council that owing to their prompt action and the successful endeavors of our representatives, all objectionable features of the bill were removed.

3. Your committee are pleased to learn that the Locks and Nassau bridges have been so creditably completed, and beg to assert that experence has justified the wisdom of this Council in building such structures of a solid, permanent and substantial nature.

4. Your committee beg to endorse the action of the Warden and Mr. Edwards in reference to the Grand Junction Railway suit, and recommend that the suit be vigorously resisted.

All of which is respectfully submitted,

JOHN BURNHAM, Chairman.

Peterborough, June 18th, 1884.

The report was, on motion, adopted.

The Council adjourned to give the committees an opportunity to meet.

MILLBROOK.

From Our Own Correspondent.

STRUCK WITH A LACROSSE BALL.—On Tuesday evening, at the Royal Templars of Temperance Picnic, in Meadd's Grove, Miss Goheen, of the Saved Army, was struck in the eye by a lacrosse ball, and severely injured. During the night she became insensible, remaining so till the morning. Dr. Ough is in attendance.

SERIOUS RUNAWAY.—This morning Mr. Thos. Hutchinson's team ran away from the railroad crossing on the Gravel, throwing the lad who was driving under the wheels. A leg and an arm were broken and other severe injuries received. We hear that Dr. Burnham was called in and is unable to say what will be the consequences of the injuries received.

—The City Band will, weather permitting give an open air concert at the corner of George and Brock streets this evening.

Capt. Munt will, so the Trumpet states, lead the Saved Army in an attack upon the ramparts of sin in Montreal shortly.

—Canoeists are bestirring themselves preparing for the A.C.A. camp at the Thousand Islands. "Camp 34" will meet at the Little Windsor on Friday evening, to make arrangements for the outing.

EXECUTION OF PHIPPS.

The Wife Murderer Pays the Extreme Penalty of the Law.

SANDWICH, Ont., June 7.—At 11.10 Phipps, supported by Rev. Mr. Gray and Turnkey Iler, preceded by Sheriff Iler, ascended the scaffold, followed by members of the Y.M.C.A. Phipps, on the scaffold, thanked the people who had been working hard to get him reprieved, and the gaol officials for their very kind treatment, also the Rev. Mr. Gray, who had been with him daily. After these remarks he walked on the trap escorted by the officials, when the rope was adjusted and prayers offered up for the doomed man. The cap was then placed on his head, his feet pinioned, and at 11.18 the signal was given, and the body of Phipps was swung into eternity. He dropped about seven and a half feet, and death was instantaneous, as he never moved a muscle. The body was left hanging about twenty-five minutes, and was then cut down and given over to Mrs. Robert Clark, of Detroit, Mich., who desired to take charge of the remains, by permission of the Lieutenant-Governor.

Military Examinations.

The entrance examinations for the Royal Military College, Kingston, began at the brigade office, Old Fort, Toronto, on Tuesday. There were only two candidates.

Dongola and Korosko in Danger.

CAIRO, June 16.—The rebels are within a week's march of Dongola and Korosko. The feast of Ramadan gives a month's delay, after which nothing can prevent the rebels from seizing any point south of Assiout, which is within twelve hours' march of Cairo.

The Governor of Berber.

LONDON, June 16.—Advices from Berber state that Hussein Pasha Khalifa, governor of Berber, fell wounded, and would have been killed had not a son of Hassan Pasha, brother of Mohammed, rushed to the rescue and held the rebel flag over him until the fight was finished. Hassan and Mohammed had been in the rebel camp some time dressed as dervishes.

The Land Act in Ireland.

LONDON, June 16.—In the House of Lords this evening, the Duke of Argyll moved for returns showing the working of the Land Act in Ireland. He believed the act defeated the intention of its framers and placed a pernicious power in the hands of the lawless and discontented. Earl Derby, Colonial Secretary, regarded the act as a disagreeable necessity, and deprecated the Duke of Argyll's strictures.

The Dynamiters.

LONDON, June 16.—In the Commons to day, Lord Fitzmaurice, Under-Foreign Secretary, said that the correspondence with the United States Government on the subject of dynamiters, subsequent to that already laid before Parliament, was resumed on May 10th, 1882, and had been continued since. He could not enter into details at present, nor give the dates of the later despatches.

Emperor William Intimidated.

BERLIN, June 16.—A woman has been arrested at Elberfeld having her possession four boxes of explosive material, which it was intended to explode at Wiesbaden. The discovery has prevented Emperer's intended visit to that place. It is stated that the woman came from America. She is described as being tall and stout, and having a deep toned voice. She was tracked from Bremen to Elberfeld. The railway officials had strict orders to examine all travellers' baggage during the Emperor recent visit to Ems.

The British and United States National Debt

There is an interesting comparison in the following figures:—The British national debt in 1872 was £789,198,847, and in 1882 it amounted to £763,045,940, being a reduction of £26,152,897. The public debt of the United States in 1872 was $2,253,251,328 and in 1882 it amounted to $1,918,312,094, being a reduction of $333,938,334. From these figures it appears that the United States paid off $208,258,314 more of her debt than Great Britain did of hers in the corresponding ten years.—Syracuse Journal.

Phipps' Last Hours.

DETROIT, June 16.—Luke Phipps slept but little in his cell last night, and to-day, for the first time since his sentence, he shows signs of weakening. He ate a light breakfast, and during the forenoon walked back and forth in the corridor, occasionally sitting down on a bench and burying his face in his hands. His assertion that he would go on the scaffold without a murmur will not, it is thought by those who are with him, be fulfilled. Rev. Mr. Gray says he would not be surprised to see Phipps break down entirely to-night.

The scaffold is finished and everything ready to proceed with the execution to-morrow at the appointed hour. A large force of special guards have been detailed to preserve order, and one of the gaol officials says that, barring any unforeseen accident, the hanging will be a "complete success." Many applications are being made for tickets, but the sheriff has already is sued permits to as many persons as can be accommodated.

PREPARING FOR THE ELECTION.

LONDON, June 17.—The Conservative agents have instructed the local electoral agents throughout the provinces to prepare for the general election, which they say is imminent in a few weeks.

EARL SPENCER LEFT FOR BELFAST.

LONDON, June 17.—Earl Spencer, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, has started for Belfast, where to-morrow he will lay the foundation stone of the public library and unveil the portrait of her Majesty.

LATER.—Earl Spencer arrived at Belfast this evening, and was received with great enthusiasm.

THE CUBAN INSURRECTION.

MADRID, June 16.—In the Senate to-day Count Rascon called attention to the condition of affairs in Cuba and advocated the administrative, commercial and political autonomy of the island. The Minister for the Colonies said that the situation in Cuba was not so desperate as described. The Government was doing everything possible to improve it.

THE BELGIAN TROUBLE.

BRUSSELS, June 17.—There was a great tumult last night at Hal, a small town nine miles SSW of Brussels, in front of the residence of the Liberal senator. The gendarms dispersed the peasants. The Catholics now have a majority of 34 in the Chamber.

GORDON FORTIFYING HIS POSITION

CAIRO, June 17.—It is said that General Gordon has evacuated the Government palace at Khartoum and taken possession of the Catholic mission house, and entrenched the grounds, which contain three wells and hundreds of date and orance trees.

THE TAGLIONI MEMOIRS.

LONDON, June 16.—The Taglioni memoirs are in press. [To the present generation, inasmuch as the species of dancing in which Mme. Taglioni was facile princeps does not now exist—these memoirs may not perhaps be as intrinsically interesting as would be to the majority of readers those of a more modern celebrity. Extrinsically, however, by their portrayal of the tastes of a bygone age, these memoirs will doubtless contain an inherent fascination which will lead to an extensive sale. The highly interesting notices, too, which appeared in the press on the death of Mme. Taglioni, have without doubt done much to whet the appetite of the public, and have evoked a desire to learn as much as possible of this supremely graceful and almost ideal dansuse.]

CONSTRUCTING A JETTY AT SUAKIN

LONDON, June 17.—The Twenty-Sixth Royal Engineers, who have been ordered to Suakin, will construct a jetty there to facilitate the landing of the material for the railway which is to be built five miles inland. Workmen have been sent from London to construct the railway.

THE BENNETT-MACKAY CABLE.

LONDON, June 17.—It is expected that the Bennett-Mackay cable will be in operation by the end of July.

[This new cable between Ireland and Nova Scotia and thence to America is undoubtedly the best that has ever been made, representing the accumulated experience gained in the construction of all previous ocean cables. It was manufactured by the Messrs. Siemens at their works near London. Upward of 2,500 men are employed in the establishment, and 1,700 of these were employed on the present cables, for there are two of them, to extend side by side from Ireland to Nova Scotia, whence one goes to Rockport, Mass., and the other round Cape Cod to Fire Island, N. Y., and thence to New York. The aggregate length of the two is over six thousand miles. The shore ends are two and one-half inches in diameter, while the cable proper is but one inch in diameter. The conductor is formed of thirteen wires, consisting of twelve small wires coiled around a central wire one-tenth of an inch in diameter. The insulating material is gutta-percha, between which and the armour there is a cushion of jute.]

ORANGE MEETING AT BELFAST.

DUBLIN, June 17.—At a mass meeting of Orangemen at Belfast Lord Arthur Hill was presented with a testimonial. Lord Claude Hamilton presided. Several members of the Houses of Lords and Commons addressed the meeting. Resolutions were passed declaring that the law-abiding classes of the province of Ulster were determined to lawfully combat disloyal agitators, who, protected by the Government, propagate crime, sedition and outrage, involving peril to the Queen's authority, danger to her loyal subjects, and injury to the best interests of the country, and asking the Conservative leaders to call the attention of Parliament to Earl Spencer's recent letter to Lord Arthur Hill. It was further resolved that a deputation, headed by Lord Arthur Hill, should present a protest to Earl Spencer, declaring that this meeting regards with bitter feeling the language used by the Irish Executive in his proclamation rendering, as it has, the position of the loyalists more anxious and difficult, and trusting that Earl Spencer will now recognize the propriety of their attitude, otherwise the responsibility will rest with the Government. The meeting was turbulent, but dispersed in an orderly manner.

How to Make Candy.

This book gives full directions for making all kinds of plain and fancy candy. The receipts for making caramels, chocolate drops, French mixed and all other kinds of candies contained in this book are the same as used by the leading city confectioners. Any one can have these candies at home at less than one-third the usual cost. Sent post paid for 50 cents (no stamps taken). Address, ROCHESTER PUBLISHING CO., 32, 33 & 33½ Osburn Block, Rochester, N.Y.

Answer this Question.

Why do so many people we see around us seem to prefer to suffer and be made miserable by Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Coming up of the Food, Yellow Skin, when for 75c. we will sell them Shiloh's Vitalizer, guaranteed to cure them. Sold by J. D. Tully.

A New Principle.

The principle upon which Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor acts is entirely new. It does noes not sink deep into the flesh, thereby producing soreness, but acts directly upon the external covering of the corn, separates it from the under layer, removes the direct pressure from the pars, and at once effects a radical cure, without any pain or discomfort. Let those who are suffering from corns, yet sceptical of treatment, try it, and by the completeness of the cure they will be ready to recommend Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor to others.

THE COE LAND GRAB.

THE local papers are publishing glowing accounts of the first shipments of iron ore from the mines in North Hastings. We are asked to rejoice that the mining company intends to ship this season more than 100,000 tons of ore from Coe Hill alone, besides large quantities from other mines. All this is going to smelting furnaces in the States, and it is very noticeable that the party celebrating the opening of this traffic was composed in a great measure of capitalists engaged in the iron trade on the other side of the line. Now it is a question worthy of grave consideration whether it is expedient for the country to promote this style of transaction. Is it wise to encourage the export of this valuable raw material in order to import it again in a more or less highly manufactured state, leaving the profit of manufacturing with our neighbours, and paying the cost of the double freightage? It may be that we have such an abundance of ore that we can well spare some of it, even on such disadvantageous terms, but it must be remembered that ore does not grow and that such enormous inroads upon our mines must in time diminish them seriously while we derive the smallest possible benefit from the transaction. It is true that some small sums of money dribble into the nearly depleted Provincial treasury from these alienated mines, but as a community Ontario is deriving very little benefit in exchange for this valuable portion of our assets thus sacrificed. Certainly it does not seem to be a financial operation that the Provincial Administration should encourage and promote, even at the expense of other grave inconveniences.

But there is another aspect of the case that is also worth considering. If Mr. Coe and his allies are making such gigantic preparations for shipping this ore to the smelting furnaces of Pittsburg, Cleveland, &c., why do they require and why are they allowed to reserve from settlement hundreds of thousands of acres of fine agricultural land with its valuable timber? Foolish and unjustifiable as have been the proceedings of our Crown Lands Department in this matter, these might be some excuse, however inadequate for them, if the result was to keep this ore at home and give the country the profit of manufacturing it. As it is this huge monopoly seems to be inexcusable.

The obstruction to settlement not only in in North Hastings, but also in the eastern townships of the County of Peterborough, is a very serious matter, and so is the grave injustice that is being done to the municipalities interested. We are informed, and if any injustice is done to Mr. Pardee it is his own fault for refusing to comply with the orders of the Legislature to give full information on the subject, that the municipalities as well as intending settlers are being systematically defrauded. The plan seems to be as follows:—Mr. Coe and his allies make application for enormous tracts of timbered land. The application is not at once granted but is allowed to lie on file. Some intending settler applies for a lot of good arable land which he thinks would make him an excellent farm but he is told that he must look elsewhere as there is a prior applicant, the dormant Coe application being them brought forward and acted upon. The result is that the municipality is defrauded of the taxes upon the land thus being secretly held for Mr. Coe in order that he may evade payment. The intending settler is defrauded of his time, trouble and expenses in looking after a lot which is apparently open for settlement, but has really been withdrawn by this private arrangement, the knowledge of which is purposely withheld from those who are entitled to be informed of it.

In face of the impertinent and dishonest refusal of Mr. Pardee to give the information ordered by the Legislature, and which it would be his duty to supply even without such orders, it is impossible to say whether this is the exact mode of proceeding. His refusal to give the dates of applications, among other information ordered, goes far to corroborate the information we have received, as it can only be intended to conceal some such trickery.

One County Council is now in session, and we strongly advice the Councillors, especially the Reeves of the Townships more immediately interested, to endeavour to obtain some light upon this subject, as it cannot be got from Mr. Pardee. If our information is correct our county is being deprived of increased population by intending settlers being thus discouraged, and some of our townships are being robbed of taxes which Mr. Coe and his allies should have to pay, but which they are being allowed to keep in their own pockets, while struggling settlers have to make up the deficiency.

THE WHITEWASHING ACT.

A Legal Opinion on the Legislature—Usurpation of Judicial Functions.

The political history of this Act, chapter 5, we have nothing to do with. We refer to it merely for the purpose of pointing out the extent to which the Legislature has gone in meddling with pending actions. Walton v. Apjohn, ante p. 182, is expressly excepted from its operations, but all other pending actions are practically disposed of by the act. The modesty of the legislators did not prevent them from inserting a clause giving the plaintiffs the right to discontinue their actions, and tax costs against the defendants contrary to the general rule, thus tacitly admitting that the actions were just, and that the defendants were justly liable to costs. The British North America Act provides that the Legislatures may make laws, not that they may make judgments or decrees. But interference with a pending decision, directing its course, and making a final disposition of it, is not making a law. It is a plain usurpation of judicial functions. Municipal law is defined by Sir Wm. Blackstone in well-known words. It is "a rule of civil conduct prescribed by the Supreme power in a State. * * And first, it is a rule; not a transient sudden order from a superior to or concerning a particular person; but something permanent, uniform and universal. Therefore, a particular Act of the Legislature to confiscate the goods of Titius, or to attaint him of high treason, does not enter into the idea of a municipal law; for the operation of this Act is spent upon Titius only, and has no relation to the community in general; it is rather a sentence than a law. But an Act to declare that the crime of which Titius is accused shall be deemed high treason; this has permanency, uniformity and universality, and therefore is properly a rule."

In the United States, where, as we know, the Legislatures act under written constitutions, the importance of confining them to their legitimate functions has been recognized. Thus, in Wade on Retroactive Laws, sec. 157, it is said, "In Lane v. Nelson, 79 Pa. St. 407, decided by a court which has always recognized the power of the Legislature to pass retrospective laws when they were neither ex post facto nor violative of contracts, the following language is used by Mr. Justice Paxon in delivering the opinion: 'It is settled by a current authority that the Legislature cannot, by an ordinary edict, take the property of one man and give it to another; and that when it had been attempted to take by a judicial proceeding, as a sheriff's sale, which is void for want of jurisdiction, it is not in the power of the Legislature to infuse life into that which is dead.' And again, in the same connection:—'To exercise judicial powers is not within the scope of legislative functions; and where vested rights are divested by acts of this character, they will, and ought to be, judged inoperative, null and void." We do not forget the opinion of our Court of Appeal which held that the Legislature could make or alter a man's will after his death; nor the dictum of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, that the Legislatures when acting within their sphere are supreme. So far their lordships of the Privy Council have refused to define the sphere of the Legislatures, but have confined themselves to deciding each case as it arises. What their sphere may be is therefore still problematical. If the Legislature chose to dispose of each case as it arose, no doubt that would be just as lawful as disposing of an occasional case like those under review. But to do so would constitute themselves judges, to erect themselves into the judiciary of the Province, a power that they most certainly do not possess. Probably the cases are too well settled to permit of a judicial determination of this point in Ontario; and we cannot hope for any assistance from the Privy Council until the point is actually raised before that court.—Canadian Law Times.

THE FALL OF BERBER.

In the Commons Lord Fitzmaurice said the Government had received a despatch from Cairo, from which there was a reason to believe the messengers who reported the fall of Berber were unreliable. He added, however, that General Stephenson, the commander of the English forces in Egypt, and General Sir E. Wood, now believe that Berber has fallen.

A BASE OF OPERATIONS ON THE RED SEA.

The English have occupied the village of Shiekh Osman, near Aden, and are extending the fortifications and forming an arsenal, which will be capable as a base of extensive operations on the Red Sea coast.

PREPARED TO RELIEVE KASSALA.

The Governor of Kassala has telegraphed that the result of Admiral Hewitt's mission to King John of Abyssinia has been successful. the latter has undertaken to relieve Kassala, and the Galabar tribe has assembled at Adowas for that purpose.

The U. E. Loyalists.

ADOLPHUSTOWN, June 16.—The United Empire Loyalists celebration promises to be a great success. As a preliniary to the proceedings, the corner stone of the Methodist Church, in the 2nd concession, was laid on Saturday by Mrs. Allison, mother of Mr. Allison, M.P. She is upward of 86 years of age. Yesterday the usual quietude of the front was much changed by the presence of the 15th battalion, which reached here from Belleville yesterday morning at day break. The battalion, under the command of Col. Lazier, is camped near by the place of celebration on the shores of the bay, and the red coats give an additional amount of beauty to the scene.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

THE PICNIC KEY.

The speeches were all pitched in the picnic key. There was nothing in them but the old charges against Tory corruption and bad government.—Ottawa Sun (Indep.).

GREAT IN FICTION.

Hon. L. S. Huntington has written a book and therein has taken revenge upon his old enemy. He should not forget, however, that the wisest man once said: "Oh that mine enemy would write a book."—Ottawa Sun (Indep.).

A FRAUDULENT ADVERTISER.

The London Advertiser sensationalizes this morning over an alleged exodus of 75 mechanics from St. Thomas to the States. The exodus is imaginary and the Tiger should immediately kiln-dry some of its green reporters.—St. Thomas Journal.

PLENTY OF MATERIAL.

The Reform press still continues the interesting but unprofitable manufacture of new Dominion Cabinets. One thing is quite clear from their remarks. The Conservative party is wealthy in able men, and our Grit friends have no difficulty in suppiying us with a new ministry at least once a week. But, suppose we tried to form a possible Cabinet from the Reform ranks! What a disheartning failure would be the result.—Barrie Northern Advance.

WILL HE EXPLAIN?

"We wonder if Mr. Blake will explain why he stated that Kansas was a better country than the North west, when he visits Manitoba next fall."—Portage La Prarie Tribune.

THE ONTARIO DEBT.

We know now that more money from some quarter is a necessity of the Mowat government. They cannot get along on their current revenues, and now, to pay the liabilities incurred by granting aid to the railways out of the supposed surplus, they have to borrow, upon a petty "annuity" dodge, the effect of which is to put the Province into more debt for an account which everyone imagined to have been duly discharged.—London Free Press.

GLOBE ACTIVITY.

The only activity shown in the Globe, or about that institution, is in the direction of getting rid of the "old Brown staff." There was a soldity about the opinion of the Browns and about everything connected with them that reflected the vigor of their intellects and the strength of their opinions. But since the Browns went out there has been unceasing work, on the part of those who succeded, at throwing out of the window the opinions and methods of the former Globe.—Toronto World (Indep.)

Lacrosse.

BELFAST, June 14.—The international game of lacrosse played here yesterday afternoon between the champion American, and the north of Ireland teams, proved to be the most closely contested and spirited game of the series that has yet been played. The game was finally won by the American team after an exciting struggle of nearly four hones, by a score of 3 goals to 2. An unusually large crowd of spectators were present, and a most cordial welcome was extended the American visitars.
